PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/25/2014	Discussion with Sandra following up from last call. I reviewed the new Medicare plans with coverage for Butrans and asked her how she is doing getting patients down on their IR opioids? Sandra said she is pretty direct and said that she tells patients that it is the office policy and are following the state recommendations for opioid use. I asked her to use more Butrans while tapering down patients from IR opioids especially tramadol and vicoden patients and showed her the Kathy profile. Sandra said she is trying and the Medicare plans will help because cost is really an issue for many of her patients. I asked if OxyContin is a product she would use when tapering down patients from IR oxycodone? She said she is considering it. I gave her the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and told her about the 1:1 conversion and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/25/2014	Spoke to Greg the pharmacist if he has been seeing more Butrans as the office continues to taper patients down off IR opioids? Gregg said he has not. Greg said he may see some more and said he thinks their decision is a good one but they are losing patients and employees. I asked him about stocking of Butrans and asked him to please keep all doses in stock. Greg said they move mostly 5 and 10mcg and some 20mcg but have not seen the 15mcg. OxyContin conversion and titration guide to Greg and he said he only dispenses Percocet and oxycodone plan. I asked him if oxycontin makes sense for those patients? Greg said he understands but said I probably won't see any from their office.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	4/25/2014	I asked nancy dr Hershberger's nurse if he has outpatients that have been taking Percocet for at least 6 months? Nancy said she thinks he does. I discussed with her the option of OxyContin for those patients especially those who need dose adjustments. Nancy said I should ask him those questions. I told her I have and nothing has come of it. Nancy said he's a creature of habit. I told dr the oxycodone insight and asked him if he thinks it's a problem? Dr said in most cases it is and said he knows he should be converting some folks. I asked him what he's waiting for? Dr said he doesn't know and will try. I once again told dr that he used Butrans a couple of times and he has told me it's been successful. I asked him what's holding him back from that? Dr said he will try to find more patients. Left him with the Scott profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	4/25/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures who require around the clock analgesia. Said Ok, very rarely prescribes opioids in her outpatient clinic but will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	4/25/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia who are not adequately controlled on present therapy, Said Ok, will consider, not treating or seeing many patients anymore
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	4/25/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will consider, treating more pain due to her picking up Dr. Hilton's patients, Book lunch appt to discuss further
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/25/2014	Good discussion with dr Souzalinitski and staff including new RN Mel. Discussed Butrans opioid experience trial, use in special populations, and new managed care coverage for Medicare. Mel asked many questions about Butrans starting doses, conversions, AE's and application sites. Dr said Butrans has been a blessing for him and his patients because he doesn't want anyone in pain around the clock on IR opioids. Dr asked about additional doses because he wants more than the 20mcg dose. I told dr I am not aware of it and when that may happen. Discussed FDA draft guidance insight and discussed tiers for OxyContin. Dr said he will use it but said he would rather use Butrans for his Percocet patients. Dr said most patients he starts are on either 5 or 10mcg dose and a few on 15mcg but said they have been hard to find. I discussed e back order and that it is available to order from pharmacies now at worst case scenario would be 24 hours before patient can get it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/25/2014	Asked Sandra as I saw her behind the front counter for a minute. Was talking with her and dr Yang walked up. I asked dr Yang how the tapering down of IR opioids to ER opioids is doing? Dr said it's going ok. I told him that Butrans and OxyContin are perfect ER opioids as the process progresses. Dr said he doesn't see himself using OxyContin but will use Butrans when patients get under 30mg of morphine daily dose. I told him I'm glad he sees a place for Butrans and asked him why not OxyContin especially the patients already on oxycodone? Dr said he doesn't have time to discuss it but he understands my point. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/28/2014	Spoke to dr and his office manager/nurse sarah regarding FDA insight and his thoughts on it. He said he isn't concerned cause he doesn't write much opioids. We talked about the scheduling of OxyContin and Butrans and we talked about the last time he wrote OxyContin. Dr said he doesn't write much extended release products. Reviewed the ten mg option dosed every 12 hours. I asked at what point would he change the delivery system from short acting to extended release. He said not too often. I asked him to explain. He said he will write two to three every 6 hours and after that he refers out. I asked what's the point of adding a third pill a day? He said for better pain control, I said when? He said through out the day. I said so you are trying to give them enough pills so they can have coverage though out the day? Dr said yes. I said isn't that what an extended release product does? He said yes. Dr said he doesn't like to titrate cause treating pain is subjective and hard to get right. Reviewed Butrans. How to start, when he can titrate and max dose. Dr said he isn't sold yet on Butrans yet. He wanted comparisons to other products, saboxone was mentioned. I stated there are no comparisons. Discussed half life of Butrans. The transdermal patch dosing, placement. And reviewed the naive study, dr said the pain results seemed impressive. I asked if it was impressive enough to try and write Butrans Nd the dr said he still needs time to think about it. I asked for a follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/28/2014	Asked the doctor the last time he write for an extended release opioid? Dr said he writes OxyContin. Reviewed the ten mg starting dose fp every 12 hours and asked him if he would consider the option after Percocet if they were appropriate. Dr asked about managed care. Highlighted Butrans for caresource patient. Dreview of dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	4/28/2014	Led with Insight #16, Discussed OxyContin as the first ER Opioid with FDA approved Tier 1 and # labeling that describes abuse Deterrent Characteristics, Said Ok Reviewed Butrans for those patients not controlled on present therapy who require around the clock analgesia. Discussed Butrans Experience program, Said he will consider for appropriate patients that can tolerate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Spoke to Missy the ma and Jenny the RN about the doctors and how they treat pain. Jenny said that dr Bermuda and dr maybe both treat patients above acute pain but once patients need more than Percocet they refer to pain management. I asked if dr Bermuda has ever used a patch for pain? Jenny said they both like the option of a patch. I explained Butrans dosing, indication, conversions and patient types. Jenny said it might be a good product for them because they have used patches. Missy said that the office will be getting a new NP and MD in May and Lunches on Tues/Thurs will begin in June.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Discussed FDA draft guidance insight and tiers for OxyContin. Discussed Maggie profile for OxyContin and Kathy for Butrans. Becky said that she knows and the doctors know that there are many patients that should be converted to ER opioids but it just doesn't happen as much as it should. Becky told me that she is the one that sees patients in for follow ups for dr Oyakawa and is the one who does his refills. I asked Becky why she is not reassessing them as possibly OxyContin or Butrans candidates? She said she doesn't know why but said that overestimate next 6 months she will do that and discuss those patients with dr Oyakawa to convert to long acting. I told her that's great and I will follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Spoke with Sue and Jessica about stocking and ordering of Butrans 15mcg. Jessica said they have one 15 on the shelf and may not order until they dispense the one on the shelf. She said she thinks its been on the shelf for a while. Discussed new Medicare D wins and reviewed OxyContin dosing, and conversions. I asked her if they see a good amount of IR oxycodone or Percocet? Jessica said they see way too much and said she wishes patients would be converted to OxyContin. She said these patients are always saying how much pain they are in. She wished me luck getting these doctors to convert.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	4/28/2014	Asked if she was able to write schedule 2 products like OxyContin and she said no. Reviewed FDA insight and she said she is trying not to write any opioids that require chronic treatment. I asked her how long does she treat someone for osteoarthritis arthritis? She said ongoing. I asked if she has a preferred product for their pain, she said Tramadol or a little norco. She also stated she didn't have a lot of elderly patients in her practice. She said most of her patients are under 65. Reviewed dosing with Butrans and the Tramadol insight. Wanda the np could not see Butrans fitting in her practice nor OxyContin, per Wanda.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Spoke with dr Meli's nurse at lunch and asked to get 60 seconds with him about OxyContin and Butrans. Kathy walked me to his office. I asked dr when he is currently converting patients to OxyContin from Percocet or oxycodone plain? Dr said he doesn't have many patients on oxycodone but said that he has no problem starting OxyContin. I showed dr the conversions and told him he can start even an opioid naive patient on OxyContin 10mg q12 or those at 20mg Percocet. I asked dr if he has patients like that. Dr said maybe one or two. I asked if he would assess them for OxyContin? Dr said ok. Reviewed Scott profile for Butrans and asked if he has patients like him? Dr said yes. Dr asked about conversions. Discussed conversions and showed patch application sites. Reviewed schedule 3,7 day transdermal system.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	4/28/2014	Asked the pharmacist if he has seen any Butrans come thru and he said yes but didn't say who. Reviewed the patch placement and titration. Also talked about the FDA insight and OxyContin page 15 of visual aid. CHUDAKOB's query on 04/28/2014You placed OxyContin in the first position, yet led with Butrans. With the majority of your calls on OxyContin, why lead with Butrans in the pharmacy?BARTOLI's response on 04/29/2014Valid point. OxyContin should be the lead. The drop down should reflect Butrans and then OxyContin. Shall I leave it or change it?CHUDAKOB added notes on 04/30/2014You have to leave it at it was already communicated.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Discussed FDA draft guidance insight and tiers for OxyContin. Discussed oxycodone I sit as well and asked dr to review the Maggie profile and tell me if she would do anything different? Dr said she doesn't have a ought experience with OxyContin yet but said it makes sense to start OxyContin sooner on in treatment than the profile shows. Reviewed conversions and titration. Discussed Kathy profile for Butrans and asked her to identify patients with similar profile. She said it makes sense and will try it out.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Told dr that he needs to be reassessing his patients who are currently taking more than 3 pills a day for pain. I asked dr if 3 pills is a reasonable number that a typically considered pain around the clock? Dr said usually yes. I showed him the Scott profile and reviewed it. I asked him if he would do anything different than prescribe Butrans? Dr said he has to remind himself about using Butrans at that point because he forgets. Dr asked about insurance coverage and where he should focus. I discussed the plans that he deals with in his office and discussed the new Medicare and wins. Dr said those plans UHC aarp and Caremark are big for him. I asked him to focus on tramadol patients who he's ready to refill or titrate as Butrans candidates. Reviewed OxyContin dosing and Maggie profile. Dr said he will try to use it more and convert patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	4/28/2014	Visited Pain dept.(Fellows) OxyContin/Butrans initiation/Titration, program invite

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/28/2014	I asked dr at the window at what point does he convert Percocet patients to OxyContin? Dr said it depends and told me he uses OxyContin. I told him that's great but I feel like you may be missing opportunities for conversions when a patient has either been on IR oxycodone for 3+ months or ready for a dose adjustment. Dr said again that he uses it. I told him to use it more and handed him a conversion and titration guide. I also told him about using Butrans now for more of his Medicare D patients due to UHC aarp and Caremark silverscript coverage. Dr said ok. I spoke to Marsha about new Butrans coverage.

	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/28/2014	Led off discussion with the FDA draft guidance insight and follow it up by discussing tiers for OxyContin. Dr had no comment. Discussed Maggie profile for OxyContin and asked him if he would have treated the patient differently? Dr said once the patient gets to 40mg of oxycodone would send to pain management. I asked if he allows patients to get to that amount of IR? Dr said no and specific to her profile he would have stated OxyContin at either 5mg q6 or 10mg q6. I told dr that's good to hear and to find patients are are currently in a similar profile. Dr said he will and knows he's trying. Discussed Kathy profile for Butrans and asked for him to find patient similar to Kathy. Dr said he recently write a Butrans for a patient on vicoden. I asked for future prescriptions when he comes upon patients on tramadol or vicoden.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	4/29/2014	I asked dr if Butrans was covered 100% for all his insurance plans how that would affect his prescribing of the product? Dr said obviously he would be able to use it more. I told him that Butrans is now covered on about 90% without restriction on his patients insurance plans and that for Medicare, UHC aarp and Caremark silverscript accounts for about 41% of all his Medicare business and they are now covered. Dr said that is a significant difference for Medicare and Shar said that AARP is big in their office along with BWC and Caresource. I explained the Medicare wins and asked for him to reevaluate those patients for Butrans. Dr said with all the opioid options he has, Butrans is at the top. Dr said OxyContin is different for him but said it does work. I asked him for continued business in his Medicare population.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/29/2014	Discussed FDA insight. Dr said he will still write for OxyContin but not very often. It's surprising that they have zero Butrans in stock, and have yet to dispense. Left Butrans NDC code brochure, 1 patient guide & new pharmacy brochure on buprenorphine prescribing laws. They do dispense OxyContin. Discussed OxyContin controlled release, every 12 hour dosing; 7 strengths. Discussed & left protect your pharmacy brochure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	4/29/2014	Reviewed managed care work both products and went over which schedule OxyContin and Butrans was listed under.<CHUDAKOB's query on 05/15/2014-Who did you speak with on this non-HCP call? If you get access are you going to discuss access as you next call objective states?<BARTOLI's response on 05/16/2014-Tracey...the office manager. I'm trying to get back to see the doctor so that I can follow up with previous discussions and talk about hesitations regarding Butrans. Dr said that although he doesn't treat a lot of chronic pain, he does have a few and that Butrans may be an option. I'd like to remind on Initiation guide.<CHUDAKOB added notes on 05/19/2014-That is a much better next call objective than access. Thank you!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	4/30/2014	Led with Insight 16, briefly discussed abuse deterrent characteristics and the FDA approved Tier 1 and 3 labeling. Dr. said she wants to discontinue prescribing everything, but will consider for appropriate patients. Reminded of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/30/2014	Spoke to Jamie the ma regarding managed care coverage. She said they still treat a lot of pain patients but dr has referred many out. Highlighted commercial plan coverage. Saw the doctor, I said...something to think about tomorrow when you see that patient that is complaining that their current pain medication isn't controlling their pain. If appropriate, OxyContin dosed every 12 hours. Dr...Butrans when c-3 dosed weekly. 5mcg is the lowest dose of Butrans as the ten is the lowest dose of OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Reviewed Insight 16 and discussed OxyContin as a FDA approved Tier 1/3 with Abuse deterrent characteristics, Reminded of 7 tablet strengths every 12hours, Said he will continue to find appropriate patients, in addition reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings Cards and Initiation/Titration, Diane agree to help in reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	4/30/2014	I asked her about her schedule 2 license. She said she doesn't have it so she cane write it. Gave her the FDA insight and reminded on OxyContin being the first to have it in labeling per page 15 of detail aid. I asked why is it so out of the question to ask an appropriate patient to take an opioid every 12 hours? She laughed and said schedule two are thought to be more addicting. Reviewed the Percocet to OxyContin of visual aid. And she said she would think about it. As for Butrans, talked about med d and caresource coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	cleveland	OH	44135	4/30/2014	Left OxyContin coupons, Butrans program invite and spoke to the scheduling person regarding access and food policy. She said no food.n
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/30/2014	I asked dr if he has a threshold of vicoden and Percocet to indicate when he moves to the ER opioid? Dr said not really and said he just wants to try and get his patients on ER opioids and get them off short acting because it just doesn't make sense. I told dr that both OxyContin and Butrans are options that meet that need and asked dr if he will continue to find patients to on very to OxyContin and those for Butrans would be ones who are on either tramadol or vicoden. Dr said ok. I told him about the Butrans UHC aarp and Caremark coverages. Dr said that is great news and said it makes him feel more comfortable with using it for his older patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44135	4/30/2014	Spoke to the medical person up front and left a variety of coupons and literature for the doctors.m
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/30/2014	Quick hello over the counter and I asked him to please tell me about a patient he has recently converted to OxyContin from Percocet. Dr said he tries as much as he can to convert patients and said many of them are leary at first but said most quickly realize it works. I told dr that's great and I asked him what works means? Dr said they get pain relief. I asked dr for more OxyContin business and to also use Butrans when patients on tramadol or vicoden don't meet expectations.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Dr. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans PI's along with Initiation/Titration guides, no further info requested at this time, will keep contact info for future reference. His main focus is in academia drug development

PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	4/30/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Asked her to check savings cards for expiration dates. Found that Dr Moufawad's Butrans and OxyContin cards had expired. Let 1 pack Butrans cards, formulary grids for both products, OxyContin savings card flashcard, Butrans initiation titration guide. Med Asst confirmed Dr. is at Richmond Hts. EVERY Friday.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Visited Seidman Onc/Pain (Sahgal, Hayek, Alin, Dowlati) OxyContin/Butrans savings Cards, Initiation/Titration guides. Appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Quick review of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours, Savings Cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, couldn't talk, said to email next month appt requests,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Reviewed w/ Marge OxyContin every 12 hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will recommend if appropriate, Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	fairview park	OH	44111	4/30/2014	Discussed stocking and many but not all strengths of both OxyContin and Butrans were available and could get it. We talked about dosing OxyContin every 12 hours and coupons available to patients that are commercially insured. Talked about Butrans and where to place the patch. I asked about competitor pricing, but he wouldn't tell me. Highlighted steady state, dosing and supplementation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/30/2014	Talked with Terrah, reminded of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Asked for appt. Will discuss with Dr. who is now conducting blocks 1 day a week at Ahuja
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/30/2014	Dr was not in office, ran to hospital. Discussed managed care and if she remembered any problem insurance plans I should no about. She said no. Talked with office manager about Butrans dinner program for dr orra but she said he could attend today. She asked me about Butrans managed care and dosing. So it was addressed and OxyContin's every 12 hour dosing. When I asked why she asked, she said she hear it was dosed every 8 hours for OxyContin. So I repeated the dosing schedule, reminded her it was an extended release not immediate release product. Let formulary grids behind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	4/30/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok no further contact needed at this point, refers to Dr. Goforth Hospic/Palliative Care Team
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	4/30/2014	Brought in coffee to the office and got to discuss Butrans and Oxycontin with the staff and the doctor. Erica is the office manager and head ma. I asked her about the managed care she sees the most, she aid they have mostly commercial and some caresource. I asked her if she does any handing out of coupons, educating the patients on anything. She said not really that the doctor does all of that. I covered managed care with the staff of ma's while waiting for the doctor, they said they refer pain patients out. When the doctor came in, I invited to a Butrans program but he said he doesn't attend. I asked what was holding him back lately from writing it for patients. He said managed care and not treating chronic patients. I said understood. I asked him why it was a riskier proposition to consider an extended release products dosed every 12 hours over a short acting product dosed every 6 hours or atc. Dr said schedule two products are more dangerous. We talked about abuse potential for Butrans and OxyContin. But also talked about the patients he trusts and that are in pain and treating them in house if possible. I said if you could manage their pain would you? He said yes. I asked for him to think about the patient on a Tramadol that is on a few pills taken a few times a day and are still not controlled would you consider adding more Tramadol, he said maybe. I said would you at that point consider an extended release delivery system like Butrans or OxyContin if appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/30/2014	Quick call with Greg about dr yang and the BEP kits. Explained the kits to him and Greg said he knows that's what some of dr yangs patients need. Greg said he has had an increase in a few new prescriptions from him. I reviewed the Kathy profile and told him that's one of my messages and asked if it makes sense that I speak to him about IT? Greg said there is more vicothen than any other IR opioid that gets dispensed and it's a good
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/30/2014	Joyce the office manager was able to give me a minute to discuss the BEP program with dr yang. I told dr that the current situation he is in with his patients by getting them off IR opioids and use ER opioids where necessary is right up he alley of Butrans and there is some real opportunity. I explained the opportunity to track select patients who are new to Butrans who he believes would find value in completing surveys on their progress with Butrans. Spoke to dr about the monetary incentive his patients have in an Amex gift cards. Dr said he likes it and thank me for selecting him. I asked for new Butrans prescriptions and told him I hope OxyContin will find a place in his office for the patients already on oxycodone. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	5/1/2014	Led with Insight 16 followed by reviewing OxyContin as the first FDA approved Tier 1 and 3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, not seeing many new patients, nothing new learned. Appts are being booked thru Shawn-Main office admin
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Reviews managed care with nurses and reminded them about coupons for oxycontin and Butrans. Talked to the doctor about the pa. Profile and med d silver scripts and aarp. Also highlighted OxyContin every 12 hour dosing as another option if a patient was over 40 mg of oxycodone already because that would not be an appropriate patient to start on Butrans. Dr agreed. Dr said she was referring more out. I said its about e patients you decided to treat for their recurrent pain month after month and giving them an option. Asked her to keep Butrans and OxyContin in mind this week when her patients return and are not satisfied with current treatment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	I asked the new doctor if she had hesitations writing OxyContin that is a schedule 2 dosed every 12 hours for appropriate patients. She said she will not usually write opioids. I asked how she treats patiens with pain, she said she will do non opioids or give them to dr dsilva. I asked if she had her license to write scheduled medications. She said no. Reviewed schedule 3, like Butrans with multiple refills yet still an opioid. And OxyContin, an opioid with monthly refills. She said she isn't comfortable writing them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44308	5/1/2014	MSL email communication with Ms. Tonni and Dr. Friebert to provide OTR enrollment updates and obtain update on pre-screening activity.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Spoke to Danielle, again said no access but I gave her some OxyContin managed care and highlighted coupon program for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Dr wasn't in but spoke to Virginia and Jen the office managers and nurses regarding the experience program. Dr said last visit these ppl were in charge of remembering to hand it out so I reviewed managed care coverage and OxyContin coverage. Left Pam profile of Butrans and savings card leave behind for doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Dr said he doesn't write much opioids and he feels they are so additive that he prefer not to get them started. Showed Butrans plasma page...I asked if this meant anything to him. He said yes...for those few patients that need an extended release product he will pick Butrans. I asked how he handles supplemental or titration. Dr said he will tell them they can supplement with NSAID. I said true. You also have options to titrate up to 20mcg. You can write as little as 2 weeks or as much as a month and refills are 5 times with in a 6 month period of time. Dr said he would see them back every few months. Dr believes his patients are compliant because he educated them on how to take their medications. I said are you satisfied with the tools you are using or are you looking to change things up? He said he doesn't have anything written down but has the questions in his head. I asked why he doesn't write OxyContin? He said schedule 2 products are being looked at by dea. I said why just schedule 2's. He said they Re more dangerous which is why he will stick with schedule 3. Touched on coupons and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/1/2014	Visited Onc. Dept. (Estfan, Goforth, Faiman, Advani) Reviewed OxyContin savings cards along with Butrans Initiation/Titration guides. Requested appt. with Faiman and Goforth

PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	5/1/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin pages 14 and 15, box warning and limitations of use. W is happy that Butrans is now on silver script.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	5/1/2014	Led with Insight 16 followed by reviewing OxyContin as the first FDA approved Tier 1 and 3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider Butrans when sending to Pain Mgmt in addition Med. Dir. hasnt changed position on ER opioids, referred to Shawn for future appts. No additional Butrans info needed at this time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Just highlighted every 12 hour dosing for OxyContin or on e a week doing for Butrans, I said there are options and we offer savings cards to reduce the copays for commercially insured.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/1/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12 hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will consider, refers to Dr. Harry G. No savings card needed, no further info
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Spoke to dr kabbarra. I asked if it was mAnaged care holding him back from finding more Butrans patients. He said yes. I highlighted the too plans in his office and reviewed Butrans coverage. Also covered caresource, workers comp and part d. I offered him the experience program w Butrans and told him I had no problems with not giving it to hi. If he isn't going to use it. Dr said he would use it. I told him it will arrive next week and asked him to set aside that objection for a few months. Dr told me he "loves Butrans". I said quite frankly dr kabbarra, someone like you has the potential to write twice what your writing. I told him I thNk something else is holding him back and I don't think it's managed care. Dr tried to tell me all the reasons why I was wrong. Gave him a Butrans poster and said it says Butrans but it could earlier say OxyContin cause those lower pack pain pathologies are a candidrE for either Butrans or OxyContin if they needed an opioid for an extended period of time. He said of course.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/1/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those LorTab failures who require around the clock analgesia, Said he always looking for appropriate new starts, Also discussed Insight 16 and OxyContin as the first ER with FDA approved Tier 1/3 labeling that discusses abuse deterrent characteristics, Said he remains cautious in prescribing CII's but will keep in mind

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Talked about OxyContin being dosed every 12 hours and butrans dosed every week and asked how he thought about those options for patients. He said its fine. I said why would someone dose a short acting 4 times a day? He said he wasn't sure I asked if norco was that cheaper? He said it was cheap, but wouldn't look it up. Reviewed the coupons with him but he didn't want to take any.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/1/2014	Attended lunch with dr. Pandnt, resident also worked under dr. Kabbarra and he is going into anesthesiology, discusses FDA Insight. Also reviews OxyContin dosing of every 12 hours and scheduling. Talked Butrans. He asked about steady state and supplemental. Dr asked about formulary coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westland	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Reviewe FDA insight and talked about OxyContin's dosing. I asked how he usually will dose a short acting product and he said a few pills a day. I said but when? He said bid. I said have you ever gone to three a day? He said of course. I asked hi. Why wouldn't an extended release product be considered at that point? Dr said he doesn't like to write schedule two products because they are being looked at more. We talked about tailor the dose of OxyContin and coupons avail le, discussed Butrans, scheduling. Dr said he was familiar with Butrans but he thought managed care was not very good. We discuss the coverage for Butransthen he said it must have gotten better. We talked about limitations and fair balance. Covered dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Discussed OxyContin dosing, scheduling and the starting dose of 10mg of OxyContin. Reviewed opioid. Alive study, dosing and patch location. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Some to Kyle the pharmacist about OxyContin dosing, asked about scripts come through and she said yes. Talked about Butrans patch placement and coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Left formulary grids And told the doctor about the Butrans med d coverGe and cResource. I asked dr if a patient on Tramadol came into the office if that person would be a likely candidate for Butrans in his opioid. He said yes and told me how much he likes Butrans. I told him that I wish he could find an appropriate place for it more often.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Left formulary grids and highlighted the coupon program for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin dosing and starting dose. Reviewed tailor approach he to start principals. Introduces Butrans to the dr, explained the scheduling, refills, managed care and patch location. Reviewed titration and discussed fair balance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Introduced self to the doctor, he was in the large group practice. He participated in the conversation of many doctors around the table. However his specialty is no tone that is indicated for our products. This limitation and indication was provided, as was fair balance.

	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Reviewed dosing atc with opioids. Dr said he will write most short acting opioids. two pills every 8 hours. I asked if he thought that patient had pain throughout the day and he said maybe. Dr asked why should I write OxyContin every 12 hours when I can write a cheaper medication every 8 hours. I said there are no studies to compare one way vs another. I asked him how often he sees patient back and he said every three months. Dr said he would write OxyContin if appropriate but he thought most of his patients didn't have chronic pain and he refers severe pain out. I said dr let's talk about the starting dose of OxyContin, reviewed the dosing. We talked about tailoring the dose with OxyContin, managed care coverAge. Dr said he doesn't want to see patient back every month cause he doesn't have that time. We talked about Butrans. Other than what I told him last time, dr didn't know much about the product. Dr talked about caresource. I mentioned managed care, also told him that to not write Butrans because of a misperception that the product won't be covered would be doing a disservice. I asked him why he would write Butrans. Dr thought for a minute...he said because it's dosed weekly and schedule 3. I said there was no write or wrong answer, that I was curious. I said....I was hoping to hear because it works for up patients, but since you have no experience you don't have the confidence what it can do. we reviewed the opioid naive patient. Dr said he would consider it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmstead	OH	44070	5/5/2014	Discussed FDA insight, and dosing for OxyContin. Reviewed Butrans, Initiation guide, covered the naive study and dosing and patch placement. Dr was mostly interested in the number of refills that could be given to both my products. He also asked about managed care. Fair balance was given for limitations and abuse potential
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/5/2014	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans with the dr. Her first day at wsp westlake office. She participated in the conversation w dr gotis. Discussed OxyContin. Dosing every 12 hours and the FDA insight. Asked about single entity and the starting dose of ten mg. also talked about another extended release option called Butrans. Highlighted the molecule and dosing. Managed care and patch placement.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/6/2014	Dr told me today that he was having issues with his first prescription of Zohydro. Dr said he wrote a 15mg and the patient cannot find it anywhere. Dr said he write it because the patient had tolerability issues with all other meds and was coming off of oxycodone. I asked why he didn't write oxycodone. Dr said he did and said it did to work for the patient. Dr said he's already done with Zohydro because no one stocks it and wholesalers don't even have it. I asked dr to please write more OxyContin and to take advantage of all 7 doses. Dr said that he finds he needs to convince his patients on IR oxycodone to switch to OxyContin. Dr said he had a patient last week that he put on OxyContin recently and the patient asked him why he wasn't on it a long time ago. I told dr I wanted him to try Butrans again. Dr said we will discuss next time. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	5/6/2014	Quick hello and dr said that he started on the grant information he was provided for the cancer bike ride. I told him that's great to know and I hope it works out. Dr said he had a patient in this morning on Butrans who he titrated from 5mcg to 10mcg. Dr said that the patient came off of vicoden 2 pills a day but has spinal stenosis and still in pain. I asked dr to keep me posted on he patients progress and asked for continued business from tramadol and vicoden. I reminded dr that he has OxyContin as a good option for his patients who need an adjustment on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/6/2014	Dr asked me if I had anything new and I told him I did with Butrans. I asked him if insurance coverage is a factor in what medicine he recommends for his patients? Dr said its really important because if he prescribes a branded medicine that is $40 and a generic is only $4, the patient either isn't going to take the branded or tell him in his office they can't afford it. I told dr that the Medicare coverage for Butrans just got a lot better. I told him that his top two plans for Medicare and AARP and Caremark silverscript. Dr said they are important. I explained the coverages and asked him if it will open up more opportunity to write more Butrans for that segment of his patient population? Dr said yes or course and told me to tell the new girl up front Melissa. I asked him if he has patients currently taking oxycodone? Dr said he does. I showed him the conversion and titration guide and asked if it makes sense to convert patients to q12 oxycodone especially for patients that have been on the IR oxycodone for 6+ months? Dr said it does and has a few patients in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/6/2014	Spoke to Ray about OxyContin and Butrans and spoke about patient types specific to each. I asked Ray if he sees Percocet or oxycodone plain being refilled month after month? Ray said he dispenses a lot of Percocet. I showed him the conversion guide and asked him if he would ever speak with a patient about the opinion of a q12 oxycodone? Ray said he can do that. I asked about Butrans and if he is seeing more prescriptions for it? Ray said he has a few more since I was in last. Ray said most from pain management. I reviewed new insurance coverages with Medicare and Scott profile. Ray said he has all 4 doses on the shelf.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/7/2014	I asked dr if the two patients a few weeks ago got their Butrans filled? Dr said he thinks they did because they didn't call back or come back to see him. I asked dr to please consider patients like Kathy and reviewed profile. I asked dr if he has patients like her and he said he did. I asked for continued business. Dr said he thinks Butrans is a good option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	5/7/2014	I- Butrans managed care. OxyContin managed care W- issues with issues
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/7/2014	Discussion in hallway about OxyContin and asked him if he has any issues with using OxyContin for a patient uncontrolled on Percocet? Dr said he tries not to write OxyContin. I asked him if he is writing Percocet though? Dr said yes. I asked him why he will write the IR oxycodone but not the ER oxycodone? Dr avoided the question and started talking about how a patient was trying to scam him for testosterone. I asked him to just think about it. Dr said he discussed the option of Butrans with a patient taking 4- 5 mg Percocet a day and was complaining of pain. Dr said the patient didn't want to take a patch. I asked dr why he didn't just tell the patient that a change was necessary because of the pain level? Dr said he should have been more direct with the patient. I asked dr to use Butrans in the tramadol and vicoden patients and leave IR oxycodone patients who are uncontrolled as OxyContin candidates. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/7/2014	Led off conversation with dr about how he decides which product to use when he has a patient on 20mg of oxycodone? Dr said it depends on a lot of circumstances but said his use of OxyContin is typically reserved for patients already on IR oxycodone but said that he does use Butrans for patients on 1-2 Percocet a day as well. Dr told me that he finds Butrans as a very versatile product and finds that it works for so many different patients from those on tramadol all the way to Percocet. I asked for continued business and discussed the BEP program and discussed the new Medicare insurance wins for Butrans. Dr said he will use the kits and continues to see very positive results with both Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	5/7/2014	Quick front window. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/7/2014	I asked dr if she has written Percocet recently? Dr said yes. I asked dr why its easier to write and refill Percocet than to write q12 oxycontin? Dr said its all the same. I asked dr what she means by that and she said she has to do what the boss says and it's not not use ER oxycodone. Dr said she had to go and left the conversation. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	5/7/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Discussed the Indications for Butrans, and using Butrans as first opioid or after PRN Tramadol/codeine with 5 mcg/hr start dose; discussed OxyContin as first opioid with 10 mg, every 12 hours start dose. PPLPMDL0020000001	East Cleveland	OH	44112	5/7/2014	Reviewed with LaToya RPh OxyContin Tier 1/3 FDA labeling along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings Cards and formulary status, Said at this CCF location very little pain is prescribed (H. Smith, Brown, Brateanu) Will recommend to clinicians if appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/7/2014	Discussed with dr his patient selection for Butrans. I asked dr how many patients need ER or IR opioids after a procedure? Dr said none of them. Dr said if patients need more than what the injections provide he schedules them with ascot Miller the surgeon. I told dr that I am trying to expand his use of Butrans to the 45-65 age patient range. Dr said those patients typically are not appropriate for long term opioid therapy but said there may. Be a few that would fit his criteria for ER opioid management. Dr said he continues to use OxyContin and asked him if he still Ned's prn medicines for breakthrough? Dr said he does. I asked if he needs it with all other ER opioids? Dr said some yes but does not for Exalgo because it is a QD medicines. I asked for continued use of both. Dr said he spoke to his other two colleagues about using Butrans for the BWC patients and discussed state I- Butrans dosing and clinical trials. OxyContin managed care W- having trouble with managed care cost
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	5/7/2014	Dr told Barry and I that a patient that had been on Butrans for a few months recently presented with itching and irritation from the patch. Patient wanted to discontinue. Discussed with dr about not allowing one AE inhibit future prescribing. Dr said it won't and realizes that some patients it may not work well for. I discussed using Butrans earlier on in treatment and use in a patient like Scott. Dr said ok and said it makes sense. Asked dr to continue thinking about OxyContin and asked him to use it in patients who are already on oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, FDA approved Tier 1/3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent characteristics, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients. PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	5/8/2014	Dr said she needed my advice for a starting dose for a patient taking 4- 50mg tramadol a day and wants more. I showed dr the conversion guide and told her its recommended that the any patient taking under 300mg a day a tramadol should be started on the 5 mcg. I told dr its still up to her but the only two starting doses are the 5 mcg and 20mcg. Dr said ok. Dr said its a commercial patient and is sure it will go through fine. I told dr that's great she is identifying more patients appropriate for Butrans. Reminded her that OxyContin is a product suited for patients already on oxycodone and need a dose adjustment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/8/2014	I asked holly about recent dispensing of OxyContin or Butrans. Holly said they have not had any new patients on OxyContin but did say she is seeing prescriptions from dr Wynne and Abby Barr recently. I asked what for and she said vicoden and Percocet. I told her I'm working hard on them to use the ER options OxyContin and Butrans for those patients who need dose adjustments. Holly said they have all OxyContin on the shelf and the 5 and 10mcg for Butrans and it expires at the end of the year. I reminded holly of the patients appropriate for OxyContin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/8/2014

	Akron	OH	44312	5/8/2014	Hello at window and gave him a quick oxycodone insight. I told him the reason I gave him this statistic is because Im guessing he also has patients on Percocet for 3 months or longer. Dr said a few. I showed him the conversion guide and told him that those patients over three months who continue to complain of being in pain are appropriate for he same molecule but in a 1/ hour delivery system. Dr said ok. I asked dr if he would try converting one patient. Dr said he will look into it. Reviewed Butrans conversions with Scott profile and asked him to just identify one patient like Scott.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/8/2014	I asked the doctor if there was one thing you liked about OxyContin what would it be. Dr said the reformation. I left him with something to keep in mind tomorrow....about dosing and scheduling of products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	5/8/2014	Chuck Calalesina (Acosta) and I met with Carrie. They just put in the Colace 100mg 60's and Senokot-5 30's. Will be returning the Senokot-5 10's. Reviewed promotional program and discussed upcoming promotions. Also mail-rebate availability. They want Senokot samples for the Fest, a church program where they have a tent set up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/8/2014	Dr came up to reception window and asked me my products. I told him OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said he's used OxyContin but not much and didn't know about Butrans. I told him I would like a minute to discuss and he told me to schedule a lunch. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/8/2014	I asked dr if Medicare D plans are important to his business? Dr said yes. I asked him what percentage of coverage for Medicare would be good enough to write a branded medicine? Dr said he couldn't even guess. I told him that his Medicare business is very large part of his business and Caremark Silverscript and aarp are now covered. Dr said that's good and said that of the 5 prescriptions he has 4 if them are the same patient and that patient has silverscript. I asked if a lower cost to the patient is a good thing? Dr said of course! I asked for continued and expanded business in patients like Scott and Kathy and asked him if he would be willing to convert a IR oxycodone patient to OxyContin when a dose adjustment is necessary? Dr said possibly but he would probably refer. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/8/2014	Dr was behind front counter when I approached. Gave him the oxycodone insight and asked him to just identify one patient that already is on IR oxycodone who has refilled 3 or more times and to convert them to ER oxycodone. Dr said ok and hopes that it would be covered as good as Percocet is. I told him branded will rarely if ever be as cheap as generic but coverage is very good. Told dr that the coverage for Butrans for Medicare has gotten very good recently. Told him about aarp and Caremark and hoped it would give him more opportunity w/ his patient base? Dr said maybe and thanked me for the info.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	5/8/2014	Visited Anes/Pain Dept.(Dalbir,Abraham,) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, Formulary Grids

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/8/2014	Dr told me that he has had to switch 3 patients from Butrans because the patients have called in after trying to use the copay cards. Dr said the patients said that they were told the cards were not valid. I told dr that I just gave him new cards a few weeks ago and don't expire until next year. Dr showed me the cards and are I told dr they are valid. I asked dr if the patients may have been Medicare or Medicaid? Dr said he doesn't write Butrans for that patient group because there are too many PA's and its a pain in the butt. I told dr the cards he has are valid and asked which pharmacies they went to? Dr said he doesn't know. I introduced the BEP kit and dr said he didn't want it. Dr said its too much work on his end. Dr said he just needs to know its working and its tolerable. I reminded dr of the efficacy and safety profiles. I asked dr for continued business and to consider OxyContin for his Percocet patients. Dr said he won't write it. Nothing Else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	5/8/2014	Showed ADF slides and FPI updates.No compliance officer, but that Melenie and Tom handle any issues related to the pharmacy concerns. Marc&#8217;s headquarters sends an updated OARS report weekly to their stores for them to be able to know if the patient is getting medications from multiple sources. Their pharmacists are required to check this with each prescription. They do not have any other formal policies regarding opioid dispensing. Tom and Melenie stated that it has been difficult working with McKesson, their primary wholesaler, on exceeding opioid thresholds. McKesson sends them a very long form to fill out and after filling it out providing good reasons why a particular pharmacy is dispensing more opioid than normal in a particular month, McKesson has not been making any exceptions. Melenie said this is very frustrating, as it causes access problems for patients who need the product. She said she is currently dealing with a situation where a store can&#8217;t fill a morphine script for a chronic cancer pain due to the store hitting the monthly threshold. Melenie also stated that the tablets ordered numbers McKesson is using are totally different than the numbers they have, so stores are getting shut off for the rest of the month when they are actually a couple percent below their normal quantities of use.Marc&#8217;s uses ANDA as their back-up wholesaler and Tom said they will usually go to them for their needs if a store is unable to get any more product for the month from McKesson
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/8/2014	Spoke to dr about dosing OxyContin every 12 hours and Butrans dosed once a week. I asked her if she had a preference between the two options. She said she likes Butrans because its schedule three and it's not a pill.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/8/2014	Reviewed a use potential,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	5/9/2014	I asked dr if he has refilled a Percocet prescription in the last month? Dr said probably but doesn't have many. I asked him if the patient has been on it for 3+ months? Dr said he didn't know. I told hi. That if a Percocet patient has been on it for 3+months the patient may be appropriate for the q12 oxycodone. Dr said ok. I asked him if it makes sense to change the delivery system of a product he's already writing? Dr said he understands what I'm saying b but said he can't commit himself and his patient to long term opioid therapy. I told dr it seems like he's already doing that but just in a short acting opioid. Dr had no response. Reminded dr of the option of the Schdule 3 7 day Butrans for those failing tramadol. Dr said ok and walked away.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	5/9/2014	I asked dr what around the clock pain means to him? Dr said its usually when a patient is taking more than 3 pills a day or at least something every day of the week for pain. I asked if he has any patients like that who are currently taking IR opioids? Dr said of course. I asked dr for those who are taking them around the clock to evaluate them for an ER opioid and asked him if it makes sense to convert patients from Percocet 20mg to OxyContin 10mg when a dose adjustment is necessary? Dr said ok. Told dr that he needs to get some Butrans clinical experience under his belt and asked him for tramadol conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/9/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans savings cards with Tech. Relayed Dr.Detweiler interest in Butrans/OxyContin, said she will relay to Rph
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	5/9/2014	Spoke with dr and Cindy about OxyContin FDA draft guidance . Spoke about tiers for OxyContin and explained them. Dr said he likes OxyContin and said he's glad the FDA is starting to look more into helping to make more abuse deterrent opioids. I asked dr for continued OxyContin prescriptions for those patients he has on Percocet around the clock. Gave new copay cards and asked dr if he would identify patients for Butrans and reviewed both Scott and Kathy profiles. Dr said he will try. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	5/9/2014	Spoke with Beth the pharmacist about OxyContin prescriptions. Beth said she has not seen much recently and is seeing a lot more Percocet. Beth said there are patients who continue to be titrated on Percocet. I explained conversions and Beth said I have a hard job to do because no one wants to write oxycotin and the insurance companies don't want to pay for it. Beth said she is seeing more PA's for it recently and most must go on MS Contin or methadone first. Discussed Butrans and conversions. Beth said they have not filled any in a long while and had to send back the boxes they had on the shelf.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/9/2014	Visited Pain Mgmt (Nickels) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	5/9/2014	Quick hello in his office. I showed dr the conversion and titration guide for OxyContin and asked him if he has patients on Percocet for 3+ moths? Dr said sure. I asked him what it means to him to be in pain around the clock? Dr said when patients take more than three pills a day. Dr said he knows he could switch a few patients to OxyContin but said he's already told me he doesn't feel comfortable doing it. Dr said he's not ore ring few if any new Percocet et prescriptions. I asked dr to take the existing patients who are still in pain and convert them. Dr said ok. Reviewed Kathy profile and asked him to just try it again. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	5/9/2014	I showed dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and pointed out the conversions from Percocet to OxyContin. I asked dr why he thinks its ok to refill and prescribe Percocet and not so easy to prescribe q12 OxyContin? Dr said its like he told me last time, patients would rather take multiple pills in the day. Dr said its the psychological component. I asked dr if he's ok with that? Dr said not rawly but its too hard to get them converted. I told dr I understand but told him he needs to set the expectations with his patients about what he believes are the options for the patients for ER opioids. Dr agreed. I reminded dr to use Butrans for those existing Norco patients that need a dose adjustment or refill and reviewed the Kathy profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/9/2014	Dr came to window and told him that the next time he is ready to refill Percocet to take a minute to see if they would be appropriate for the same molecule in a 12 hour delivery system? Dr said he knows about it and will try. I told him about the new Medicare coverage for Butrans and asked for him to just TRY IT!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/12/2014	Followed up with dr on the BEP program kits and asked him if he has any questions? Dr asked if he can give them to anyone. I told him yes as long as its a new patient. Told him its only for private commercial patients. Dr asked me to review the new Medicare plans again. Reviewed Caremark and AARP plans and status. I asked for continued use of Butrans and the kits. Asked him to please keep OxyContin in mind when patients are falling Opened with the oxycodone insight and asked what he thought about it. NP said he doesn't write much chronic pain and that he wouldn't know but he thought that number was pretty high. I asked him if had any hesitations to write Oxycontin if appropriate. He said no, but said it wasn't his first choice. I asked what was? NP talked about LYrica and other nSAIDS that he uses for neuropathic pain first. I reminded him that Opioids are intended for Somatic Pain. Gave fair balance. np said he write more butrans than oxycotin because its less dosages and its schedule 3. covered initation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/12/2014	Dr said his biggest hesitation with writing Butran is getting it thru managed care. I highlighted a few plans like caresource, med d plans with coverage.Also talked about Oxycontin dosing and incorporated the managed care discussion between both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	5/12/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans with Margie Tech. No savings cards needed, will relay info to staff Rph
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	5/12/2014	Discussed what he believes to be atc pain. Drs said by three pills a day it could be atc. I asked what was his hesitation for writing an extended release product at that point like OxyContin or Butrans if the patient was appropriate. Dr said he doesn't write OxyContin. When I asked why he said it was schedule two and if they need to be seen monthly he prefers them to be seeing by a pain specialist. Reviewed initiation of Butrans and schedule 3. Dr said he only writes a few months at a time for a scheduled narcotic. Talked about dosing, steady state, and fair balance. Gave coupons and highlighted managed care, although dr said he doesn't pay attention to what his patients have. Dr said he doesn't have a lot of patients, appropriate for Butrans. I said do you have ten. He said....I said 5? He said maybe. I said just start with one appropriate patient, get experience with Butrans Talked about dosing OxyContin and highlighted dosing. I asked if he ever sees OxyContin written differently and what would he do if he did. Pharmacist said nothing. I asked if he ever dispensed Butrans, he said no. Reviewed the dosing and initiation guide, gave fair balance for both products. Reviewed the strengths of Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	5/12/2014	The doctor said he has a few patients on Oxycontin. I asked about how they were doing and what lead to the oxycotin choice. Dr saihey are controlled, they are older with non surgery option for their chronic pain. I asked when was the last time he initiation an oxycotin script. dr said its been a while and that he usually refills what is already prescribed. We talked about the 7 doses and the 10mgs strenth. Dr said his biggest hesitation is that oxycotin is a schedule 2 and he tried to avoid starting schedule 2 products. Talked about butrans, he never heard of it before. Discussed the molecule, dosin g and intation guide. Covered fair balanced. Dr asked about rash. I showed him the core visual aid adverse reaction page and kept quiet. When he was done we talked about the naive study. Dr said he never uses assesment tools because he refers most of the chonc pain patients out. I gave the tramadol insight. I said do you see some a year? He said oh yes. Went thru the scott profile. Covered the coupons and talked med d coverage. Dr said even though he sees very little pain bpatients he would keep it in PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake Fairlawn	OH	44145	5/12/2014	I asked the doctor if it made sense to convert someoent from percocet to oxycontin if they met the indication. she said yes. I asked her to keep that in mind this week. Highlighted the butrans starting dose and dosing.

		OH	44333	5/12/2014	Quick hello at counter and told him about the oxycodone insight. Dr said its obvious that many physicians don't use ER opioids and keep them on products like Percocet. I told dr that OxyContin is a product he can continue to use when a Percocet patient is in around the clock pain. I asked dr what around the clock means to him? Dr said usually when a patient has spinal stenosis, OA or chronic low back pain. I told dr I'm glad to hear him say that. Dr said he continue to find uses for OxyContin because it works. I told dr to please continue and to use Butrans because it also works. I told dr that in the clinical trials it showed at least a 30% reduction in pain score. Dr said he knows it works and likes it. I asked for continued use.

PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44333	5/12/2014	Jessica the pharmacist said a patient was in last week and said his Butrans 10mcg would not stick to him? Jessica said she got approval through the patients insurance for another 10mcg patch and said the patch was sticking fine. Jessica said that she is going to get the lot number from the patient when he comes back in. I discussed proper skin prep for Butrans and disposal. Jessica said she reviewed that with the patient. Reviewed new managed care coverage for Medicare and dosing and titration. I reviewed OxyContin dosing and titration and asked her if she is having any issues getting it covered? Jessica said she's not seen any but she said typically the office gets the PA approved. She said she does have many patients that will need to trial MS Contin or ER morphine first.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/12/2014	Quick conversation as Sandra had to go to a meeting. Reviewed Bup 3015 and focused on inclusion and exclusion criteria. I asked Sandra to please reassess her patients on IR opioids for 90+ days and to use Butrans for those that meet the indication. Sandra said she is trying and will look for more. I reviewed the OxyContin conversion and titration guide. Sandra said she won't write it and either will others because of past history. I asked her if she uses other schedule 2 ER opioids? She said they do. I asked her why those and not OxyContin? She said she just knows they won't write it. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	5/12/2014	Discussed fda insight. Dr said he was happy to hear the fda is helping. We talked about atc pain and reviewed initiation for oxycontin and butrans. Dr said atc to him means 3 or 4 pills a day and every day. He said that is what he considers chronic. We talked about his hesitations for starting someone on oxycontin or butrans at that point. Dr said he doesn't like those types of products. I said what did he mean. he said schedule two is just to difficult to write anymore. I said has someone told you not to write them? he said d ohio gov doesn't want primary care treating chronic pain. I we spent a little time going over what he doesn't like about schedule 2 products. Dr said he didn't like the restrictions for seeing npatients back every month and he said they are a pain to treat. I said but isn't your schedule 3 pain patient similar he said no cause he doesn't see them every month. I said so is it the product or the scheduling. he said the scheduling of the pproduct. We talked about Butrans and he forgot it was schedule 3. Dr said his patients like taking pills. I said you haven't written butrans yet, how do you know they won't like Butrans. He said true. Focused on the naive study, results and the initiation guide. Dr said he has tramadol and norco opiatents that meet the criteria per our indication and fit the initiation starting dose. dr said 5mcg was where most his patients fell. Covered fair balance and titration. dr said he would think about it more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake Akron	OH	44145	5/12/2014	Highlighted two extended release options oxycontin and butrans. mentioned one thing to think about this week....if someone is already on oxycodone, percocet and they are not controlled oxycontin dosed every 12 hours if appropriate could be a good options.
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44333	5/12/2014	Caught dr at front counter and asked him if he has patients on Percocet? Dr said yes. I showed him the conversion Gide for OxyContin and told him if he has patients on Percocet for more than 3 months and need a dose adjustment, th conversion to OxyContin may be appropriate. Dr said he tries to but cost and prior authorizations make it hard. I told him I understand and asked him if there is a insurance koan that gives him trouble? D said all of them do. I reviewed the formulary grid and told him I didn't want him to miss opportunities for convert to OxyContin. Dr said he needs more Butrans copy cards. I asked him to reevaluate his patients on tramadol and Norco for Butrans opportunities. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Akron	OH	44113	5/12/2014	Reminded of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Formulary status, savings cards along with OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours, Said Ok . Asked to set up appt , said maybe next time I can see if Dr. will set up time
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44333	5/12/2014	Told Stephanie at counter about hydrocodone insight. I asked her when she thinks its a time to move a patient to an ER opioid? Stephanie said she is not starting too many patients because she is usually doing follow up appointments. I asked her why even in a follow up appointment why she wouldn't find the opportunity to initiate an ER opioid when a patients is failing IR opioids? She said that the doctors want to start the ER opioids. She said she does most of the refills. I asked for Butrans and OxyContin? She said some but most is short acting. I asked if she believes that if a patient is on Percocet and failing if it makes sense of start an ER opioid like OxyContin? She said it does. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/12/2014	Dr said that he's been having much more success getting Butrans approved since I was in last for lunch. I asked dr which plans and he just said both Medicare and private insurance. I reviewed the Bup 3015 trial and focused dr on hydrocodone and oxycodone patients selected for the trial. I asked dr at what point he is convert patients to ER opioids? Dr said he tries to when they reach 40mg a day. I asked dr why he waits so long? Dr said he's not. I asked him how long his patients are on IR opioids before they get to 40mg because I told him I'm sure they've been on them for a minimum of 6 months. Sad said that's about right and he tries but its really hard and patients refuse to switch. I told dr he needs to set expectations earlier on in treatment about pain around the clock and the options available. Dr said ok and didn't want to continue conversation. I reminded him about his Percocet patients can also be kept on the same molecule but in a 12 hour delivery.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake Rocky River	OH	44145	5/13/2014	I asked the doctor if he had a chance to think about our discussion last week regarding the place for extended release products appropriate for butrans or/and oxycontin. Dr said he treats some pain and he will think about it. Left him reprint of naive study for butrans and conversion guide for oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44116	5/13/2014	Mentioned to the nurse about oxycontin and butrans...dosing and appropriate patient type. Talked about coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	5/13/2014	Dr walked into the office and I was the only person in the waiting room. I introduced myself and asked him if he considers oxycontin dosed every 12 hours to be a part of products of choice for his appropriate pain patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Dr said he doesn't have many chronic pain patients but has patients on it in the past.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	5/13/2014	OxyContin reminder every 12 hours, 7 tablet strengths, formulary grids, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok no time to discuss Butrans with patients but will continue to find appropriate patients for OxyContin

PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44107	5/13/2014	Discussed OxyCodone insight and asked him why would someone want to move someone to an extended release product. Dr didn't respond. Reminded on Butrans dosing and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/13/2014	Discussed the naive study during open label and pain results. The dr said he doesn't remember how to write Butrans. Reviewed Initiation guide focusing on the conversion from Tramadol and hydrocodone. Highlighted schedule 3, refills and offered fair balance. Discussed OxyContin dosing and the half life of OxyContin and delivery system. Hi lighted managed care for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44107	5/13/2014	Attempted to open with insight today regarding the oxycodone insight. The doctor said she didn't have time to talk today. Gave her oxycontin and Butrans literatuere. asked her to check out butrans studies and the overall pain results demonstrated.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake Akron	OH	44145	5/13/2014	Highlighted the extended release deliver system of both oxycontin and butrans and highlighted the discount cards for each product
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44310	5/13/2014	Dr said he completed the grant information online for his cancer bike ride in July. Dr asked about Med 80 Guidelines. Dr said he was sent something on his email about it. I showed him the approved piece on Med 80 and dr said he's good with it. Char and dr said their patients on Butrans are doing really well. Dr said he just titrated a patient from Butrans 10mcg to 20mcg. I asked about why he didn't move to the 15mcg and he said he didn't want to mess with the paring finding it in the pharmacy. I told him the wholesalers cardinal and McKesson have it in stock so the most a patient would wait would be 24 hours. Dr said he understands but said he has no issues moving to 20mcg. I asked dr to please keep OxyContin in mind when he has a patient on Percocet who is complaining of being in pain.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood Lakewood	OH	44107	5/14/2014	Dr didn't have much time for lunch today. Thanked me for time and I provided him with the dosing of both products and the scheduling options. Fair balance provided
PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44107	5/14/2014	Talked about what he believes to be atc dosing. Dr said at least 3x a day or more. Dr said he would not wait till someone was on 4x a day dosing of Percocet before moving to a long acting product. Dr said after 2 Percocet if they need more coverage he will write OxyContin. Discussed dosing and fair balance. The dr said he is trying to write under 80mg of morphine equivalent and anything over he will send to pain management. I asked why...he said the ccf has been sending them letters not to treat patients who are on those several. I asked for a copy but he couldn't come up with it. Talked about the opioid naive dose and the variety of doses that OxyContin has available as options. Covered managed care. As for Butrans, I works with the nurses and she told me the majority of their pain patients were on care-source. Therefore, I started with that plan. tramadol patient. Reviewed opioid naive study. Discussed fair balance. Dr said he would start using Butrans more. I told him I was going to follow up and asked what's the best thing I can remind him about. He said managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	5/14/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours, Core vis. ad discussing Tier 1/3 labeling along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, no new info learned

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	5/14/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths, every 12 hours, Core Visual age Tier 1/3 FDA labeling describing abuse deterrent properties, Also reminded of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he has a few patients in nursing home on Butrans and doing well. Will continue to consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	5/14/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Also discussed OxyContin Core Vis. aid page Tier 1/3 abuse deterrent properties, Said Ok will continue to consider for appropriate patients, Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/14/2014	I asked dr how many times a day she thinks she is refilling products like Norco and Percocet? Dr said all day long! I asked her why then she isn't taking advantage of the ER opioid products like OxyContin and Butrans for those patients who aren't getting enough analgesia or having tolerability issues? Dr said she's not going to change a medicine just because! I told her that's not what I'm asking. I asked her to use OxyContin or Butrans for those patients who have pain around the clock. I asked her what that means to her and she said anyone taking 90 pills or more. I told her then to identify those patients as candidates for OxyContin or Butrans. OxyContin for patients uncontrolled on Percocet and Butrans for those on tramadol or vicoden. Dr said she is thinking about it all the time but almost all of those patients are on Medicaid! I told her about Caresource PA with Butrans and she said she forgot about it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	5/14/2014	I asked dr if he likes to write and or refill hydrocodone products like Norco? Dr said of course not. He hates doing it. I told him then he must use Butrans for those patients on hydrocodone products that either can't tolerate it or have a lack of efficacy and they meet the indication for Butrans. Dr said he knows he should be doing it and said he just had a patient that called in that wanted her vicoden refilled and is taking 20mg a day for a long time. Dr said he thinks that's a good candidate. I reviewed the Kathy profile and the conversions from hydrocodone. Dr said he's going to call the patient back and to come in to discuss Butrans. I reviewed insurance coverage and new Medicare plans. I also told him that the same goes for OxyContin. I asked him to write it when he's ready to refill Percocet and patient wants more. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/14/2014	Saw Daniele and dropped of literature and discussed managed care information
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	5/14/2014	Spoke to Erica the office manager about seeing the doctor today but she said they were closing early cause he was leaving for vacation and won't be back till next week. I told her I would follow up next week and bring some yogurt for the doctor. Erica's aid that that would be great. Highlighted Butrans savings vs cards today and focused in weekly dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/14/2014	Discussed what he defines to be at dosing with an opioid. Dr said at least three doses a day regularly. Dr said he doesn't use much OxyContin. I had him explain why, he said his patients don't have severe pain. We talked about somatic pain that he treats in the office. Osteoarthritis was his biggest he said. I asked how he treats them currently with pain medications. Dr said he uses Tramadol and mentioned a few cox 2 products. I focused on the Scott profile...since the doctor earlier already said atc pain was at three or more pills. I created a spot for Butrans after tramadol and at the point that atc opioid is needed per indication. We reviewed the inclusion criteria of naive study. And reviewed the results of the study as reason why Butrans could be an option. Dr said the results were impressive. Gave the Tramadol insight. I asked the doctor to think about Butrans being a fit someplace in His practice. Dr said he can see Butrans being used and that he would hve to think about the pAtients he has that may be appropriate. Covered fair balance and managed care. Reviewed Initiation guide. Dr said I could return for a follow up. And I worked with Linda his nurse to remind her that he said it. Also discussed product with Linda the ma.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	5/14/2014	Told dr at window that he should be using the OxyContin 10mg for his patients not tolerating or have lack of efficacy on Percocet 20mg. I asked him if he could identify just one patient that fit a this criteria? Dr said ok and said he doesn't use much lower doses. I asked why and he said they need to be started on higher doses. I asked why he's titrating IR opioids then moving to ER? Dr said he does switch them to ER when he knows the time is right. Told him to please try Butrans again and to identify a tramadol patient who has pain around the clock. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/14/2014	Discussed OxyContin FDA draft letter insight and tiers for OxyContin. Dr said he wanted to review them and ready over All 4 tiers. Dr said he is really liking OxyContin and is finding it very successful in the right patient. I asked dr what the right patient is and he would not be specific. I asked him if a patient is taking 30 mg of Norco is not getting enough analgesia what he does? Dr said he would start on OxyContin 10mg q12. I asked him how he decides this? Dr said its just patient specific. Dr said he uses Butrans for his patients that only need low to moderate doses of an opioid and pain isn't severe. I told dr what the indication is and he said that just where he is using it now. I told him about the approximate conversions. I asked dr if he's ok titrating a patient to Butrans 20mcg? Dr said he has no issues with it. I asked for continued business on each product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	5/14/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Savings cards along with OxyContin every 12 hours, 7 tablet strengths, Said she will consider with the help of Renee (PA's), overall considering not to prescribe/treat any pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/14/2014	Dr told me that he has written 3 OxyContin this week. I asked him to give me the specifics and he told me one was a new start for a patient already taking 4 Percocet a day. Dr said he started on 10mg and said he will probably titrate. I told him he can titrate every 1-2 days. Dr said that the others were refills but had also titrated both. I asked him to continue using OxyContin where appropriate. Discussed Butrans 10mcg as his primary starting dose as he told me he moves through doses pretty quick and finds that the 15mcg works really well and the few patients he has moved to it love it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	5/14/2014	Dr said she was 5 patients behind today and didn't have much time to talk. I discussed with her the need to use Butrans for a patient like Scott and Kathy. I asked her if she thinks its a good option and asked her what's holding her back? Dr said she's just now building up her practice and it will come. I asked her if she has any reservations in using it or questions? Dr said no. I asked for more business. OxyContin conversions and titrations.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/14/2014	I told dr I wanted to follow up on the conversation we has last week regarding her using of opioids. Especially OxyContin. I told her I understand and and empathize with her situation in the office about using opioids. Dr said she appreciates it and said she has patient in just today who she sent to pain management and patient said he didn't want to go because he thinks "they are all zombies." I asked her what she thinks and she said the patient wants surgery for his back but said he needed something for the pain in the mean time. I asked her what she gave him and she said he had been on Percocet before so she gave him a Rx for it. I told her that if the patient has been in pain for an extended period of time which is sounds why she didn't prescribe the same thing but in a 12 hour delivery system that's a single entity opioid? She said it doesn't matter. I told her it does matter! Asked her to at least write Butrans for those failing or can't tolerate tramadol or Norco.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44105	5/14/2014	Quick OxyContin review, 7 tablet strengths every 12hours, Core Visual aid page Tier 1/3 FDA labeling discussing abuse deterrent properties along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will consider, no time discuss, email request (Gaby Elkhoury-Med. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	5/14/2014	Rod told me he has sold 2 oxycontin and 1 Butrans this week already. Rod said that he filled the Butrans for dr Vucetic and OxyContin came from Petrus. Rod said he needed more OxyContin copy cards and is good on Butrans. I asked which doses he stocks and he said all OxyContin and 5 and 20mcg for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	5/14/2014	I asked dr what it might mean to a patient who is on Percocet and is complaining about being in pain or can't tolerate it to be given the same molecule but in a 12 hour delivery system? Dr said it could mean a lot. I asked her what around the clock pain means to her? She said more than 3 pills. I showed her the conversions from Percocet and asked her to identify those that meet the criteria we discussed. Dr said it makes sense. Discussed the same scenario for a tramadol patient and showed her the conversions and asked her to identify just one patient to start. Dr said ok. Discussed copy cards for each.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga falls	OH	44223	5/15/2014	Quick hello at window and asked her where she is finding OxyContin most useful? Kim said she is usually either refilling it or adjusting doses. Kim said that she likes OxyContin and her patients like only having to take it twice a day. I reminded her to continue to use Butrans for those needing dose adjustments on tramadol or vicoden.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	Spoke to Pam regarding the oxydcontin patient esses kits and the dosing and scheduling of the product. highlighted butrans initiation guide and focused in on dosing with butrans and s cheduling. She said she would pass the information along to the doctors.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Hts	OH	44143	5/15/2014	Quick window. Had packet of info together, with marketing pieces, conversion guides, both products. Marjorie placed on counter. I mentioned OxyContin and Butrans as options for pain severe enough to require daily, ATC, opioid and Dr Staneskus states he has no interest in long acting opioids, and stated he doesn't want any of the info I was leaving him. He will not write in future.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/15/2014	(In same building as husband Gabriel Stanescu, so went down and dropped out packet of info.) For future, found out from med asst Denise, they do lunches on Mon & Thurs when all 3 doctors in. Quick window, asked Dr. to review info on both ER opioids, OxyContin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/15/2014	Spoke with dr Narouze and Kim Kainerc is the hospital. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	5/15/2014	(same building as Gabriel Stanescu) Left information with Denise. Lunches for pharma reps are Mon and Thur when all 3 hcpis in (including Sara Eapen, Pediatrics and Internal Medicine) Left packet of information - let Denise know I have ER opioids, one oral OxyContin and one patch - Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/15/2014	I asked dr which IR opioid he sees the most when patients are referred to his practice? Dr said either hydrocodone or oxycodone. I told him about the hydrocodone insight and asked him if he finds those patient types good candidates for Butrans? dr said it depends on the patient. I showed him the Kathy profile and reviewed. Dr said he likes Butrans and will keep using it. Reviewed the oxycontin conversion and titration guide and asked for OxyContin when patients are uncontrolled on Percocet and they are candidates for an ER opioid. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	5/15/2014	Lunch. Total office call. Any med assts that handle prior auth's - reminder of OxyContin broad commercial/Med D coverage. Butrans, Aetna preferred status, UHC AARP and Caremark/Silverscripts Med D. Proactively discussed July 1 change for prior auth with UHC commercial, also shared all with Dr. Salama. Discussed OxyContin FDA dried labeling with Dr. Salama. Also discussed lowest effective dose and 10 mg starting dose "every 12 hours." He listened yet, I could tell he was not engaged. He stated he does not want to use OxyContin moving forward. I responded I respect that, let's move on to Butrans. (He and med assts shared with me he's also being using laser technique for pain, especially arthritis of joints: elbow, knee, back, etc.) He will continue to use Butrans when appropriate, as his patients continue to do well on Butrans. Asked him to keep Med D patients in mind for Butrans this week, due to better Med D coverage. He agreed he would do that. Discussed renal and hepatic impaired patients in FPI for Butrans, remember 4 strengths available.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/15/2014	Visited Ortho/Neuro (Orr,Osorio,Halabi) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides

	Barberton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	I asked the doctor what were his hesitations for writing oxycontin these days? The doctor said he doesn't write that product because he feels it gets people addicted. Gave fair balance on abuse potential and covered the limitations. Talked about dosing Oxycontin every 12 hours for the appropriate patient. Asked him why wouldn't he convert a patient from short acting oxycodone (like percocet) to Oxycontin being the same molecule if the patient needed the coverage etc? Dr said he tends not to write it. Asked how he doses tramadol currently: Dr said sometimes three sometimes four. I asked if an extended release product could be an option for some of those patients that were appropriate per our indication and the doctor said yes. In working with the staff prior to the dr coming back they verified that a large number of their patients were caresource (I also noticed a billboard on the road across from their office advertising caresource). They also have a silver script and aarp and many other med d plans. I focused on caresource patients, the coverage with butrans. Dr has written the patch technology of duragesic in the past he said. I said so you are comfortable with writing patches for patches? He said yes. Reviewed the initiation guide and the dosing. Dr said most of his patients for tramadol fall under the 300mgs a day, therefore we focused on the starting dose of 5mcg. Covered titrating and offered fair balance. Dr said he will look for a patient to try butran
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	I asked the doctor if he will start focusing in on the percocet patient needing atc coverage to convert them to Oxycontin. Reviewed dosing and strengths. Dr said he has no problem doing that. Focus on Butrans was converting tramadol patients or norco patients to Butrans before they are on the short acting products several times a day. Dr asked about managed care. I asked what issues he is having with rejections. Dr said he was getting some but didn't know who or what plan. Lisa the previous nurse who handled the pa and such are no longer at the office and their is a new rn jen doing the paperwork now. I reminded him about the commercial insured patients and the experience program for butrans. Caresour.ce/pa. Dr said he likes butrans because of the dosing. I said you should also like it cause of the pain relief results in the naive study was at least a 30Percent pain reduction. Dr said 30 percent seems low. I said at least 30 percent. I said do you except 90 or 100% pain relief when you gave our your last opioid? He said not really. Dr said he only measures the success if the patients don't complain needing more increases cause he doesn't like to titrate. I told him id return in a few week and asked him to collect any rejection letters.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	5/15/2014	Quick hallway. Asked Dr Balaji to consider 2 ER option for patients suffering from pain: OxyContin with opioid naive/starting dose of 10 mg dosed "every 12 hours" or Butrans transdermal patch with 5 mcg hr opioid naive/starting dose, worn every 7 days. Asked to review info I left, which includes Butrans Aetna flashcard and OxyContin savings sell sheet.
	Barberton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	Saw dr thru window. I asked him if he has given any more thought to trying oxycontin dosed every 12 hours or butrans dosed weekly for those appropriate pain patients. Dr said he doesn't write much for pain, but hasn't seen the right patient type. I said I can understand that, focused on the somatic pain patient under 300mg of tramadol for example you can start at 5mcg of butrans dosed weekly or if you had someone already on percocet you could convert to every 12 hour dosing if they were needing atc pain coverage. He said he will think about it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	Reminded the doctor about the extended release options for that person who required pain coverage at regular intervals throughout the day/night atc. Oxycontin every 12 hours schedule 3 and butrans schedule 3 dosed weekly. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/15/2014	Quick reminder of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/15/2014	Reminded the doctor about the dosing of butrans and his aarp/silver script coverage for med d patients. Highlighted that oxycontin dosed every 12 hours as another option for schedule 3 with many doses available for a patients treatment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44120	5/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours, Approved Tier 1/3 labeling describing abuse-deterrent characteristics, Said ok, not prescribing CII's, Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia who are failing on present therapy, likes delivery system, reiterated that Butrans has the same abuse potential as other opioids, Asked for that 1 patient

In addition reviewed Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will consider.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	5/16/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours along with Butrans for those Patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider for appropriate patients that have coverage,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	5/16/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12 hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, refers to Pain Mgmt, but will consider for appropriate patients, schedule in-service thru Sherry
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/16/2014	Reviewed the dosing of Oxycontin and the 7 doses available to patients. Highlighted the Butrans experience program, dr said he will give it out with an explanation to the patients. I told him I'd follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/16/2014	I asked dr if he liked writing and refilling tramadol and vicoden? Dr said no and said he truly thinks its the worst part of his day. I gave him the Nancy profile and reviewed it with him. I told him he's missing opportunities for Butrans. I asked him what his definition of around the clock pain is? Dr said 90 pills or more a month. I asked him to identify patients that fit that criteria and when they need a dose adjustment or tell you they can't tolerate it to give them Butrans. Dr said ok. Dr said he knows he needs to be using more and will. Discussed copay cards and new Medicare wins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/16/2014	Dr said he would write OxyContin if appropriate. Talked about dosing and coupons. I asked why he hasn't written Butrans yet. He said the cost. I said what do you mean and he said why would he write a branded price when a patient can get their medication for cents on hydrocodone. I said are you telling me you only write generics. He said most of the time he does. Reviewed managed care coupons and he said it was costing the nation a lot of money to write branded especially for caresource and med d patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/16/2014	Dr aside doesn't write schedule two products. Talked about experience kit and told her that her last few patients completed their survey and got their card. She said it was great to hear. I reminded her that it helps to tell them it's there and the information is showed the card, showed her a visual. Reviewed dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/16/2014	Quick call over lunch and discussed dr refilling his products like tramadol and hydrocodone. Dr admitted to refilling and writing these each week. Discussed with him two profiles Scott and nancy and told him that he is missing opportunities for Butrans. Discussed how he can use Butrans which is the same schedule as vicoden and provide refills. Discussed formulary and asked dr for more clinical use. Dr said he will do it to be use because the patients he has on it do well..
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/16/2014	I asked dr why he has put a stigma on OxyContin? Dr said he really hasn't but he agrees with dr month in that he doesn't like writing schedule 2 opioids and those are meant for the specialists. I asked him if he's writing or refilling Percocet? Dr said yes. I explained the delivery system of OxyContin and asked him to convert patients who are already on oxycodone but still in pain around the clock. Dr said ok. Discussed Butrans patient type selections and reviewed Kathy profile. I asked dr if he has a few patients that meet her criteria. Dr said he does and said he will continue to look and try to get back into using Butrans. Dr said last time insurance was an issue. I reviewed commercial plans and medicare.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/16/2014	Quick hello while I was speaking to Janet. Dr said he's out of Butrans copay cards and almost out of OxyContin. I went back to the office, left cards and asked dr if he's using OxyContin 10mg for patients? Dr said he uses most of it in the hospital and finds it easy to convert patients in rooms who are already on Percocet. Dr said he doesn't think he uses more of one dose than another. I asked for continued business. I also told him to continue identifying patients for Butrans like those on tramadol or vicoden. Dr said he really likes Butrans and those are the patients he is using it on. Gave him the new Medicare coverage for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/16/2014	I told dr simply put, I am guessing he continues to have patients every day who get their IR opioids refilled and may be appropriate for Butrans. DR agreed and said he wrote it recently for a Norco patient and the patient said they are very happy. I asked for continued business and told him about the new Medicare coverage. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and titration guide and told him it works! Dr agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/16/2014	provided overview of Butrans and asked him if he writes tramadol or vicoden. Dr said all day! I asked him why he does it? Dr said that its just something that he and many others do even though they don't want to. I told him Butrans may be a solution for him and his patients. Explained Kathy and Scott profiles. Dr asked if its abuseable? I told him that Butrans is an opioid and can be abused or misused like any other opioid. Dr said he likes the dosing structure and said he can see how it would be a good option. Dr asked about conversions so I reviewed the conversion scale. Discussed use of meds for breakthrough and titration. Reviewed copay cards and insurance. Dr said he will find a few patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	5/16/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin every 12 hours, Said Ok, PA's are a challenge, Dr. Ruben has a patient waiting for approval/ is out on medical leave
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	5/16/2014	Met with med asst Lori. Went over formulary grids for OxyContin and Butrans. Left both grids, discussed Aetna flashcard, BWC, Med D update for Butrans. Shared non branded items with her including OARRS flashcard and urine screen CD flashcard. Secured lunch June 23.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/16/2014	Good discussion with dr month in and Taylor in their office. Discussed OxyContin use in the patients in his practice. Dr talked about how he has maybe one or two patients but tries not to use schedule 2 opioids. I asked when he thinks OxyContin would be appropriate? Dr said for severe pain. I showed him the visaid and discussed patient types and disease states. Dr said he understands and said he has a much better feeling of Butrans. Discussed use of Butrans and asked him to just identify more patients for it. Dr said he's getting busier so there will be more opportunity. Discussed conversions and AE profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	5/16/2014	Saw heather at front counter and I asked her despite her previous experience with OxyContin in a pain office if she believes it has a specific purpose? Heather said it does and patient selection is very important when its written. I asked her who she believes is a good candidate then? Heather said cancer pain and when a patient has tried other medicines are were not providing relief or tolerated. I asked if she sees patients on Percocet who are still in pain? She said not many. I told her if and when she does to convert to OxyContin. Heather said ok. I told her to also use Butrans as an option when patients fail tramadol or Norco. Heather said she's more apt to use it than OxyContin. I told her that's fine because both products have very good efficacy and AE profiles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	5/19/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder, every 12 hours, 1st ER FDA Tier 1/3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent properties along with Butrans for those patient not adequately controlled on present med. Requiring around the clock analgesia. Said, sending most patients to pain Mgmt but will consider if appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	5/19/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12 hours, Formulary coverage along with Butrans for those patients around the clock analgesia. Said ok, and will continue to present for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/19/2014	Lunch w practice; she was too busy to take lunch break, so went upstairs for hallway call. Discussed Butrans appropriate patients - opioid naive. or after pm Tramadol or Codeine; when patients need ATC opioid for long term therapy. Reviewed previous discussion where she's comfortable writing Butrans in her Med D population; yet she could never get approved. Updated her on Butrans UHC AARP & Caremark Silverscripts Med D. Let her know I'd keep Diane & Susie updated on formulary changes. Met with Susie who handles BWC claims.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/19/2014	Quick hello at front counter and told him to please continue to use OxyContin especially for those already on oxycodone who need a dose adjustment. Dr said ok. I asked him if he would use 10mcg for those patients on Percocet 20mg and he may be ready to write that next pill. Dr said ok. I asked him if he will also write more Butrans for those Norco patients ready for a dose adjustment? Dr said he's trying and may have one he's going to see this afternoon. I reminded her about copay cards and to ensure to use them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	5/19/2014	Lunch. Dr Prada attended lunch with my other 3 tiered HCPs at this location. Asked if she visits nursing homes? She responded no. It was my intent to find out if she'd consider an ER opioid outside of her practice/urgent care setting. Discussed OxyContin & Butrans as ER opioids for pain, of which she has no interest. She always refers to pain specialty.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/19/2014	Dr Reed sick, so asked to see Dr Roda. Met with RN Katie & office mgr at window. Dr Roda behind, as she's seeing Dr Reed patients as well. Discussed OxyContin FPI update, left 3 FPIs. Discussed Butrans updated indication. Updated on Aetna, UHC AARP MED & Caremark Silverscripts MED D , left Butrans access brochure for all HCPCS.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/19/2014	Dr called and said he only had one Butrans copay card left. Discussed his use of the cards and BEP kits. Dr said he will be using the kits for sure. I asked for continued business and reminded him of the new Medicare plan coverage. I also told him that OxyContin should also continue to be a product he can use when his patients on Percocet ask for more. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	5/19/2014	I asked dr to tell me about a couple of examples of the types of patients who present in pain to his office? Dr said he treats a lot of acute pain and some chronic pain. I told dr that when we talk about the two opioids I have like OxyContin and Butrans, we need to focus on patients who have around the clock pain. I asked dr if he has patients who complain of pain all day long? Dr said yes. I showed him the page in the OxyContin visaid the type of pain like OA, cancer pain and low back pain. I asked if he treats those conditions? Dr said yes. I showed him the 10mg OxyContin page and asked him for business for those already on oxycodone for the disease states we discussed. Dr said ok. Showed him the conversions and asked him if he will convert more patients? Dr said ok. Told him the patient type selection is also important with Butrans. Discussed Scott profile and discussed in depth. I asked for patients like Scott for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	5/19/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Tier 1/3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent characteristics,Savings Cards, said she is very comfortable with OxyContin along with colleagues, Discussed Butrans, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/Titration, Patient info booklets along with Savings cards, said ok will consider, likes delivery system, reiterated Butrans has the same abuse potential as other opioids. Rotates between research and clinic
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/19/2014	Spoke with the pharmacist Gary about OxyContin and showed him the conversion and titration guide. I asked him if he dispenses it and if he has a lot of patients coming in to refill their Percocet? Gary said he dispenses it but sees many more Percocet. Gary said the 12 hour oxycodone makes more sense for many people. I showed him from the conversions where it would be appropriate and like Gary said to convert patients when they are in pain around the clock. Gary said they dispense most of 10, 20 and 50 mg tabs and have it all in stock. Discussed Butrans dosing, conversions and Kathy profile. Gary said he forgot it is a schedule 3 and the patch is good for a week. I asked him if it makes sense and he said it does and they have one patient on 10mcg and its the only dose they stock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	5/19/2014	Spoke with dawn the doctors nurse about OxyContin and Butrans. Dawn said she spoke to dr about our conversation and said she is interested in Butrans. I reviewed both the Scott and Kathy profiles and asked if the dr knows where to use it? Dawn said she will make sure to discuss the profiles with her. I gave dean the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and showed her how a patient on Percocet can be converted to q12 OxyContin. Left copay cards.

I asked him how many IR opioid tablets would a patient be on for him to consider converting to ER opioid? Dr responded after 2 Percocet. Discussed OxyContin dosed every 12 hours for those patients who need ATC opioid. Discussed Butrans after Tramadol. Showed core vis aid with 10 mcg hr dose as appropriate for Tramadol conversion. Asked him to consider Butrans fir BWC - and followed up with Rosie (suite 104) as she handles large % of BWC & prior auths for practice. Reminded him about Butrans trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	5/19/2014	Led conversation with FDA draft guidance insight and followed it up with the tiers for OxyContin. Dr said he feels comfortable with OxyContin and said it has a specific place. I asked him what that place is? Dr said when his patients on Percocet or oxycodone plain want more for increasing pain. I told dr that when we talked last time. He admitted he needs to use more of the lower doses of OxyContin. I showed him the 10mg page from the MVA and the. Showed him the conversations. I also told him that the last time we spoke that he said around the clock pain to hi is a patient needing 90 pills a month or more. I told him that when a patient is on 20mg of Percocet that's about 120 pills a month and that patient is a good candidate for OxyContin. Dr agreed and said he will convert sooner. Discussed Butrans and told him he needs to have specific patient identification for it just like OxyContin. Discussed e Scott and Kathy profiles. Dr said he used Butrans last week. I asked him to tell me about it. Dr said the patient was on Percocet and didn't want OxyContin. Dr said he started on 10mcg Butrans and the patient has UHC community plan. I told him its a PA and he said its getting done as we speak and should be approved. I asked for continued use and told him that roughly 70% of his Medicare plans are from UHC aarp and Caremark silverscript. Dr said he likes that a lot and will get him to use more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	5/19/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, formulary status along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he hasnt forgotten, just not seeing many patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/20/2014	Asked Dr Chteingart to consider OxyContin, at lowest effective dose after Tramadol. Showed conversion in core vis aid. She asked if she can give Tramadol with OxyContin, as her patients always require "rescue IR med". Suggested she provide oxycodone as same molecule. Dr states she will keep in mind OxyContin every 12 hours conversion. Left conversion guide. ( 1 for Dr Egresshvil) who just left. Showed Scott profile & asked her to consider Butrans after Tramadol for appropriate patients. Showed 10 mcg hr start for opioid experienced patients. Dr stated she's worried about Butrans Med D coverage. Followed up with Butrans preferred status on UHC AARP MED D & Caremark Silverscripts Med D.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	5/20/2014	Denny and I met to plan for our call with Ron Wheeler at DDM and then we made the call together. We filled out the information for the upcoming August promotion. Discussed 2014 promotions with Ron
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/20/2014	I asked dr how he decides who he is going to convert to OxyContin? Dr said patients who he is willing to treat who need a long acting opioid? I asked him if he is typically converting from Percocet? Dr said mostly yes. I asked him to use OxyContin for his patients who need a dose adjustment on Percocet and are in pain around the clock. Dr said that's usually what he does. Reviewed Kathy profile and asked him to use Butrans clinically.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	5/20/2014	Met w med asst front window. Dr is ONLY HCP in untill Friday-it's best to stop back Fri. Left laminated pain scales. Med asst said they are so helpful, asked me to leave a few extra. Left dr Pam profile for Butrans, initiation guide. Left OxyContin conversion guide & savings sell sheet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/20/2014	Spoke to Lori about butrans experience program, she said she would remind Brian the NP of the information. Dr came to window. Quick hello and told him i was back again to give his pain patients more extended release options if appropriate. Gave him the leave behind information.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/05/2014-Lisa, it doesn't look like there was a product mention of either product to the physician. Am I correct on this? Leaving behind info, doesn't constitute a product discussion unless it followed some product discussion.BARTOLI's response on 06/06/2014> highlighted the extended release products and said by name the product. Didn't get into a deep conversation because the doctor came to the window to drop off a chart and was heading back into a room. Dr told me to make sure had cousins. I reminded him they were right in front of him on the ck out counter.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/08/2014-OK. Be sure you are capturing what was said about the products, even if it was
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/20/2014	Quick hello at counter and asked him if he has any patient taking tramadol for 3+ months? Dr said probably. I showed him the Scott profile and asked him if he classifies pain around the clock as a patient taking a medicine for 3+ months? Dr said typically yes. I reviewed his profile and asked hi. If it makes sense to use Butrans? Dr said he has grid a couple of times and it was denied. I asked where and he couldn't remember. I asked hi if it was flat out denied or a PA was necessary? Dr said he doesn't remember. I asked him to use Butrans again. Reminded him about where and when to use OxyContin by use of the conversion guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/20/2014	Pharm Mgr Warren states all his Butrans stock expired - Hillcrest Pain Mgt stopped writing all of a sudden. Left Butrans pharmacist guide. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/20/2014	I showed dr the Scott profile and told him I wanted him to use Butrans for patients like Scott who have aarp or Caremark Silverscript. I explained plan coverages and told him that the Medicare population needs branded products are are priced lower. Dr agreed. I asked him if he would write it for 55% of his medicare population which these two plans encompass? Dr said ok. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and asked him to convert Percocet patients who need dose adjustments.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/20/2014	Spoke with Matt the pharmacist about conversions from Percocet to OxyContin and what I'm discussing with my customers. I asked Matt if he would even tell patients who have continued to get refills on Percocet or titrated doses to ask their Doctor about ER oxycodone. Matt said he will. Matt said he's out of copay cards. Discussed the Kathy profile and copay cards. Discussed the new Caremark and AARP Medicare coverages. Matt said they see a lot of silverscript. I asked if he would make a not as to how much the patient paid for Butrans. Matt said he will and said it should help Butrans a lot with better Medicare coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	5/20/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Formulary status, Savings cards, said she has a few patients in mind that are not controlled on present therapy,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/20/2014	Quick message at front counter and asked him if he has patients currently on IR oxycodone who after 3 months might be appropriate for ER oxycodone? Dr said sure a few of them. I asked him how he decides and he said on a case by case basis. Have him the conversion and titration guide. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/20/2014	Led with insight about tramadol and discussed 41% on hydrocodone medications. I asked dr what she typically does for her patients when 90 days on a IR opioid confront her in her exam room? Dr said every patient is different and said she does what she can to treat pain but doesn't have an issue using ER opioids where appropriate. I reviewed Butrans and dr said she is using it in her nursing home patients. Dr said she uses it for her patients who have dementia but need something for pain. Dr said the 5mgc works really well. I outlined the Scott and Kathy profiles. Dr said most of the patients are coming off those medications and the patients really like it. Dr said she is having a hard time getting it covered on Medicare and Medicaid. Discussed Medicare coverage with new plans and Care resource PA for Medicaid. Dr said those help a lot. I told her about using opioids and non opioid analgesics for breakthrough pain and used the Bup 3015 inclusion and exclusion criteria and use of supplemental analgesia. I asked dr to use it in her own practice for patients in pain around the clock on IR opioids. Dr agreed to use in her practice. Explained use of OxyContin in patients on Percocet and reviewed doses and titration. Dr Wallace said she uses it sparingly because she will send her patients to pain management for OxyContin. Window call Reviewed OxyContin Q12h/7 tablet strengths along with Butrans 7day transdermal for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said OK will keep it in mind, leave Savings card, Reviewed with Michael- Front recep. Reviewed savings cards info,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44118	5/20/2014	Percocet insight. Asked dr to re assess his Percocet patients to see if they may be more appropriate for an ATC product like OxyContin, at lowest effective dose. Discussed him trying the 10 mg & 15 mg, before directly going to 20 mg. dr stateshe wants to use OxyContin but he's had trouble getting patients. In addition, many plans want him to try morphine first. We discussed on patient case who triedmorphine, for 2 weeks, it didn't work & dr will try a prior auth. Discussed BWC for OxyContin. Left conversion guide, discussed Percocet conversion. Butrans discussed after prn Tramadol. Discussed BWC -left formulary grid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	5/20/2014

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/20/2014	Discussed Oxycontin and Butrans and the dosing of each. Dr said he will begin to write butrans and we talked about the caresource patients. Dr said he didn't have hesitations to write butrans, he said he forgets what the doses are. Dr said he has been cutting down on the amount of Oxycontin. I said why? Dr said he is trying to write less. I said if someone was appropriate and needed an atc pain medication, why wouldn't you consider the 10mg of Oxycontin. Drn said he has very few patients on the lower doses, I asked why not? he said he thinks of Oxycontin for the more severe patient types. We discussed the various patient types that the producy may be appropriate for according to the core visual aid. Covered fair balance.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/05/2014Looks like you are making some progress with lower dose OxyContin. Keep reinforcing the point of low dose OxyContin for around-the-clock pain. Looks like you created some good constructive tension.
	Westlake	OH	44145	5/20/2014	Spoke to Lisa Drs nurse. Lisa told me the doctor doesn't do lunches but she will give the information I told her about regarding oxycontin and butrans. Mentioned the savings program for both product and the dosing of Butrans. Lisa said theyhave many patients like we discussed today and she thought Butrans might have a fit in their appropriate patietns per our indications. Gave fiar balance.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/05/2014Lisa. Did you speak with the physician? If not, this should have been a non-HCP call.BARTOL's response on 06/06/2014No I did not, I thought I selected non hcp. I spoke to his nurse. My mistake.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/08/2014OK. Thanks for the clarification. Please double check before you hit submit. Thanks!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/20/2014	Explained all key selling messages about Butrans and OxyContin. Dr said she didn't wish to discuss products today. I asked why and she didn't discuss. Nothing else learned.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/20/2014	I asked dr what he is doing with his patients that are on Percocet or oxycodone plain who he thinks are not appropriate for OxyContin? Dr said he doesn't have too many. I asked him then if that's the case, are most moved to OxyContin? D said many of the, do go on OxyContin or another ER opioid. I asked him to convert patients on IR oxycodone to OxyContin and use the same molecule and just a different delivery system. I asked dr if he has any continuing patients on Norco? Dr said not many. I told him I want him to make room for Butrans. Dr said his patients are beyond Butrans. I asked him what the average dose his patients on IR opioids are on? Dr said when patients come to him they are usually on at least 40mg of oxycodone or even high doses of methadone. I asked about looking to those who he believes are not appropriate for OxyContin. Dr said probably not.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/21/2014	Reviewed the FDA insight. Dr said he was aware that oxycontin had been reformulated. Asked him if he could see how one would convert from percocet to oxycontin given they met the indication. Dr said yes. Talked about the 7 doses and the 10mg which is for opioid naive patients. Gave the doctor an opioid experience study. Highlighted pain results and reviewed dosing. Covered fair balance on both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	5/21/2014	Spoke with Rod the pharmacist about the patient of dr Pitts who is coming in to get OxyContin. Discussed with him that the patient has an outdated copy card but will be honored. Discussed as the card will be honored at the new $70 and $30 copay. Rod said he has the new cards and will just use his. Discussed doses of Butrans and asked him if he's dispensing more? Dr said he is and its coming mostly from pain management.
	Westlake	OH	44145	5/21/2014	Spoke to Sue the RN and Jeaneatte the ma and the office manager Julie a while upfront. They were informing me of the changes to the office and I was filling them in on the managed care coverage of both our products. Dr came to the window, started talking managed care coverage. I highlighted the med d coverage, caresource coverage and commercial coverage. I said take managed care out of the picture right now. How do you educate a resident who is making a round with you about Butrans and here it might be a fit for patients. Dr said for those who don't want to take pills or those who are hydrocodone atc already. We talked about the number of residents that come thru his office and how little training they get on pain management. I brought up the summer butrans program that I'm trying to organize and asked him if he would recommend to his residents to come.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/21/2014	left butrans study and oxycontin commercial insurance leave behinds behind for the doctor. I left a office poster. Daniel the nurse said I was back again. she told me that the doctor still hasn't put up the last poster. I told her this posted was different and it was more detailed- showed her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/21/2014	Spoke with Glenn about new Medicare coverage with Butrans and current Medicare coverage with OxyContin. Glenn said he's seen a few of the aarp and there were no issues with it going through. I reminded him about OxyContin coverage with commercial and asked which plans are most important? Glenn said none and really more important than others but they do see a lot of SummaCare. I explained coverage with both products and asked him to please send me any denial letters if he gets any.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	5/21/2014	I began discussing OxyContin and dr told me he feels much more comfortable using a product like Butrans. I asked him how he knows because he hasn't used it yet! Dr said he thinks because its a schedule 3 that its more likely.. I asked him what he's waiting for because he should have used it by now. Dr said he needs to find the right patient. Asked him what that is and he told me probably vicoden. I reviewed conversions and asked for him for business and the best way to know how well it works is to use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	5/21/2014	Showed dr the OxyContin 10mg page and told him that I bet he has some patients currently on Percocet 20mg who would be appropriate for OxyContin q12. Dr said ok and thanks. I asked him if he would convert some patients. Dr asked me if I still have Butrans. Dr said he started a patient this morning on Butrans 10mcg. Dr said the patient is on Norco 30mg. I told dr he started appropriately and told him he can titrate every 72 hours and use IR products for breakthrough pain. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans with Carol (Initiation/Titration) Savings Cards

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/21/2014	First time meeting dr and discussed OxyContin and Butrans. I reviewed pages from MVA and asked dr about his clinical experience. Dr said he only has one or two people on it and said it works. I discussed him using it for patients already on oxycodone and discussed conversions and titrations. Dr said thanks for the information. Introduced Butrans which he had not previously seen or heard of. Discussed all key selling points and conversions and use of supplemental analgesia. Dr asked about using it in place of his patients on tramadol. Dr said it sounds like a great product. Discussed efficacy and safety. Dr said he will look to use it. Dr asked about insurance coverage. Reviewed formulary grid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/21/2014	Dr said he has a patient coming in later in the week who he will be trying to treat for cancer. Dr said its a young female about 40 yrs old. Dr said she is currently on vicoden and can't tolerate it. Dr said the patient is very sensitive to pain medicines and said he's going to try Butrans 5mcg patch to see if she will tolerate it. I told dr if so, she will most likely need to titrate up. Dr agreed and said he will keep me posted. I asked dr to continue finding patients for OxyContin and reviewed the Maggie profile. Dr said he would of started OxyContin sooner but also would have done more intervention and physical therapy. Asked for continued business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	5/21/2014	I asked dr why it's ok to write and refill Percocet but its difficult for her to write oxycontin? Dr said its the name OxyContin. Dr said she knows patients may be good candidates for it but said she wants pain management to do that. I asked her when she refers to pain management? Dr said it depends but usually when she knows she can't treat them anymore or they are high potential for abuse. I asked her to continue to think about ways she can incorporate it lie, those like Maggie and reviewed profile. I told her I needed to address her issues in writing Butrans because most if her patients are medicad and won't pay for it. I reviewed Caresource and UHC community plan PA's. I asked her if she has aarp and Caremark silverscript patients? Dr said yes many of them. I reviewed plans and asked her if those coverages would be enough to get her to write Butrans? Dr said she didn't know of those coverages. Dr said she actually write a Butrans Monday for a community pain patient and is waiting on the PA to go through. I asked for her continued business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/21/2014	Bonni the office manager and I were talking about butrans dosing and managed care coverage. Doctor came into her office where I was to sayhello. I asked him if he found any appropriate patients this week to start oxycontin or butrans? he said no. I reminded him of the dosing with oxycontin every 12 hours and butmas once a week. He said ok thank you and walked away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/21/2014	Discussed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings cards,utilization with in dept. along with OxyContin 7tablets every 12hours, savings cards

Discussed new cards and changes to dr and Liz. I asked dr what he is converting from and he said Percocet. Dr said he is starting on 20mg. I reminded him to write it q12h.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/21/2014	Christy the office manager had a waiting room filled with people. We talked about the savings cards for both products and the trial with butrans. She told me to call the Iorain office to see if I can get an apt at the westlake office and to tell them she said to call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/22/2014	New Doctor. His Wife is a Geriatric Doctor not in my territory. Dr said Oxycontin make sence but he doesn't write schedule 2 products because he doesn't see severe pain patients who are chronic. I reviewed the indication and limiations of use with the doctor. Dr said he would keep it in mind. Longer discussion on Butrans. Focused on the med d patient types and the doctor said he has a lot of these patinets. Opened the fpi and we reviewed areas 12.3 and the elderly, renal patient types. The doctor took pictures of the Butrans leave behind withthe name on it and sent it to his wife while I was there and said she needs to know about this product. I don't call on that territory but will find out who does so they can follow up with this doctor. Dr said he will definitely use Butrans when he finds the right patient type. Asked the doctor for a follow up and the dr said I could but had to talk to christy. I spoke to christy and she said she would see what she could do.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/22/2014	Fda insight and reviewed some areas of page 15 of the core oxycontin visual aid. Talked about dosing and his thoughts on writing it for appropriate patients. Dr said if it was appropriate he would write it for his patients. I asked if he writing anything latley. Dr said no. I asked when the last time he wrote Oxycontin was...he said he couldn't remember. I gave the Oxycodone insight and the dr said he couldn't relate. Dr said those percentages seemed high. We discussed ATC pain, dr agreed that atc pain should be treated with a long acting medications. I asked if he ever has patients like this...he said seldom. Dr said he will refer out if the patient needs an extended release options. I asked him what if it was a schedule 3 extended release options. Dr said said there is none. I brought up Butrans. Gave fair balance. Highlighted the initiation guide and dosing of butrans. Dr asked about the molecule. Covered this and the delivery system. Highlighted a few area of the fpi...elderly, renal and hepatic patients with Butrans. Dr asked me if patients could supplement with this product and I referred to the Opioid naive study and showed him the exact working from the marketing piece. I asked the doctor if he felt some of his patient could use this product as an appropriate option. He said maybe. Reminded him of coupons and asked for a follow up apt which he polited to Chrsy his head nurse. Discussed getting back sooner than three month and she said she would try when I came.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/22/2014	Spoke to the doctor about Butrans dosing and appropriate patient types. Covered dosing, scheduling and reviewed initiation guide. Highlighted Oxycontin dosing and covered coupons of both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	5/22/2014	Lunch. (waited 2 hours) Delivered Percocet insight. Dr Brobbey states that would be a long time to leave patient on Short acting; yet he is leary of writing ER opioids due to the responsibility such as pain contracts, running OARRS, etc. He would be more comfortable writing OxyContin in nursing home. Discussed lowest effective dose in appropriate patients. Discussed START principles, 10, 15, 20 mg/lower doses and "every 12 hours" dosing schedule. Butrans is still fairly new concept for Dr. Brobbey. Discussed Butrans after Tramadol. Discussed BUP 3024, adverse events, QTC prolongation and avoiding external heat sources. Showed Dr how to write, discussed scheduling & opportunity to fax/call in Butrans with refill. Dr will keep in mind after Tramadol moving forward. Asked for a few trusted patients for each product. Left updated FPIs both products. left laminated pain scale

	Euclid	OH	44119	5/22/2014	Waited for Paul to finish up for day, he stated he could talk with me on way down to vehicle, which he did. Percocet insight discussed, asked Paul to re assess patients and consider OxyContin in appropriate patients tomorrow and next week after the holiday. Discussed the importance of handing out savings to each commercially insured patient. Discussed Butrans after Tramadol. Before he writes his next refill for Tramadol, if patient is taking 3-4 Tramadol daily, please re assess and consider an ER opioid, such as Butrans transdermal, for daily, ATC pain. He will keep in mind.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/05/2014Jenny, please re-read this call. This is an example of a detail. You provided all the information. It appears to have been a one-way conversation. It is great to see you led off with the insight. Keep this up! When you discussed the oxycodone/APAP insight, what did you ask him as an impact question? How did he respond? It is the interaction that the insight creates that can help move your sales forward. Do you see what I am talking about?BALLE's response on 06/06/2014Yes -CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/08/2014Great. Once you can start having two sided conversations, you will have taken the first step to increasing sales. Keep working at it Jenny.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/22/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, that are failing on present Norco therapy. Dr. Said he will consider for appropriate patients. OxyContin reminder Q12h, Said he hasn't changed position on CII?
	Euclid	OH	44119	5/22/2014	Called ahead to OM Kim to ask if I can bring snack, she approved. Note: however, when I asked Dr Winder to sign sheet, he stated he doesn't want donut/bottled water & will not sign(girls in office did partake) Met with OM Kim & she states in future, she will confirm snack items with Dr. Re visited last discussion and reinforced request for conversion to OxyContin, after oxycodone or Percocet, in appropriate patients with "every 12 hours" dosing schedule (recited indication verbatim). Dr remembered the 2 clinical studies we discussed last time, comparing OxyContin to placebo, and that 10 mg is reasonable start dose for opioid naive, debilitated elderly, and opioid naive females. Then discussed Butrans as transdermal option, after Tramadol. Asked for business next week when he returns from long weekend. He will keep in mind. Total office call, met with med asst Stacey to discuss products, non branded PAP items such as Protect your meds @ home brochures & checked supply of savings cards for both products.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/05/2014You could have saved two line of writing by leaving out the first two sentences. They do not pertain to the call, although it was good to see you doing this to get into the office.
	Norton	OH	44203	5/22/2014	Asked him if he had hesitations to write an extended release opioid dosed every 12 hours. He said no. I asked him if he could do it then for the appropriate patient types. he said sure. Covered fair balance and talked about butrand dosing and reminded him of the caresource coverage. Dr said "got it".
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/22/2014	Saw dr walking in to office to do charting before she sees her patients. I showed her the OxyContin conversion guide and asked her when a patient on Percocet needs a dose adjustment to convert to OxyContin. I asked her if she has any reservations doing that? Dr said not really and said she knows she can be doing that more because it makes sense. I told her I'm Glad it makes sense and to start with just one patient. I reviewed the slide guide Butrans and told her to focus on patients on tramadol. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	5/22/2014	Discussed OxyContin utilization.Savings Obtained Key clinicians (Davis,Patel,Goforth,Pam Gamier, Krisa Dobbs,Tracy Lucas Armida Parala, Mary Ellen Mauk,Carol Pickens, Amy Heal, Meredith Shelly,Also, discussed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia
	Euclid	OH	44119	5/22/2014	Call on pain management floor. Met with Carla, head nurse. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans as ER opioid options for their patients with pain severe enough to require a daily, ATC opioid, long term opioid, such as OxyContin or Butrans. Reminded her of savings available. Discussed PAP non branded items for patients including PAP journals, which she really likes. Left protect your meds at home brochures, Cornerstone Caregiver Guides and a few laminated pain scales.
	Euclid	OH	44119	5/22/2014	Met with med asst @ front desk. New protocol for new bldg/suite: 1x month "sample" appointment: 1x QTR LUNCH appt. For now, Med Asst Angie handling savings cards, samples. Dr. Katz (and Dr. Shenk) NOT accepting samples, cards. Discussed my 2 options for patients whose pain severe enough to require daily, ATC, opioid therapy for long term. (left packets of info for all hcps including PA-C Judy Adamich) Left Kathy patient profile Butrans, OxyContin conversion guides.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/22/2014	Visited Hospice/Palliative dept. (Goforth, Davis) left OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides,
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/22/2014	Quick hello at window and asked her to continue using Butrans for those patients on IR opioids either over 3 months or are ready for a titration. I reminded her about the new Medicare coverages aarp and Caremark. Darlene said those plans will make it much easier on her when approving Butrans on Medicare. Dr said she has started a few new patients recently and are doing well. Reminded her to also consider OxyContin for those patients already on oxycodone. Dr said she feels good about Butrans. Nothing else learned.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Kim asked if there is anything. New with OxyContin or Butrans. I told her about the FDA draft guidance insight and tiers for it. Kim said she has no issues in using it and finds its easy to convert patients for percocet. I asked her at what point she tends to convert. Kim said as early as possibly and tries even at 20mg but said most patients coming into seeing her are above that amount so the process tends to be longer. Discussed dr conversions, titration and insurance leverage. Discussed new insurance plans for Butrans. Kim said the Medicare plans are a big win for us because the practice has a lot of those patients along with Medicaid and BWC.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Reviewed patient profiles and asked for continued business.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Lunch with the Center for Pain Management in Cuyahoga Falls. Discussed OxyContin FDA draft guidance, OxyContin patient types, conversions, 10mg page from MVA and insurance. Dr said he likes to use it but is having a hard time getting it covered. Dr said he converted a patient today on Percocet he converted to OxyContin but the patient has the UHC community plan and had to pay $80 for it. Dr said the patient paid it because it works so well. Discussed Butrans Bup 3015, patient types, new Medicare insurance coverages, and discussion of efficacy results from clinical use. Dr said his patient really like it and continue to get great results. Dr said most will start on 5mcg then will titrate until desired effect is reached.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Reviewed the BEP program again to Jake and asked him how he truly feels about using them? Jake said it makes sense because he has patients that need a little more Han holding and that he wants to keep a closer track of. Jake said he has been having much more success getting it approved because of Tara who does all the PAs and insurance issues. Jake said it works very well clinically and has no issues titrating up to the 20mcg patch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	5/22/2014	Reviewed patient types and Bup 3015. Discussed FDA draft guidance letter and oxucitmin tiers. Conversions and patient type Maggie. Jake said he uses but feels better with Butrans. Nothing else learned.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Visited Pain Mgmt Dept. (Nickels) Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Left Initiation/Titration for Internal Med. (Wardaga, Ravakhah, Palaparty, Eghobamien) Began talking about OxyContin use in his patients not only in the hospital but those in his clinic. Dr said he is currently rotating opioids and has found Butrans to be very effective in his patients failing all IR opioids including Percocet. Dr said OxyContin is great for patients over 20mg of Percocet but 20mg and under he has found great efficacy and tolerability of Butrans. I discussed Bup 3015 and asked him if his patients on Butrans need something for breakthrough pain? Dr said he doesn't give them the option. Dr said if a patient has to have something he will recommend Tylenol. Reviewed new insurance plans with Medicare, BWC and Caresource PA and UHC Community plan PA. Dr said he will continue to use both products.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/22/2014	Saw dr as she was walking in for the day. Dr said she is having good luck with Butrans in the last few weeks. I asked her to tell me about one of them. Dr said the most recent was a Medicare patient who was taking vicoden for a long time and it just wasn't working well enough. Dr said she thought Butrans would be a good choice since the patient was in chronic pain. I told her that's great news and to continue using and to not forget the tramadol patient. I reminded her that OxyContin is also a good option for those on Percocet who need a dose adjustment. Dr said ok. Discussed plans with Darlene for Medicare.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/22/2014	Spike with Amy the pharmacist and discussed OxyContin and asked her if she sees patients refilling products like Percocet? Amy said all the time including vicoden and Norco. I showed her the OxyContin conversion guide and discussed dosing. I reviewed the Kathy profile and asked her if she ever tells patients to speak with their dr about other methods of pain relief? Amy said she does but does not mention specific products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44123	5/22/2014	Met with pharmacist Kyle. Discussed OxyContin Tier 1, 3 labeling. Dosing should be "every 12 hours." Left OxyContin pharmacist guide. Discussed Butrans as transdermal option for customers. Kyle says they do have a few patients on Butrans currently. Discussed educational aspect of Butrans patient guide (left 2) & asked Kyle to place on shelf with product, which he will do.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/22/2014	A window reminder of two extended release options to treat your atc pain...oxycontin dosed every 12 hours and Butrans schedule 3 dosed weekly.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/22/2014	Dr asked me about insurance coverage additions for Butrans because he has had patients paying upward of $60 for it. I asked dr about the patients and plans. Dr said he's not sure but said a couple had anthem Bc/bb and it was denied. Dr said he got it approved but was too expensive. I discussed the trial offer and copay cards and told him to ensure his patients get them. Reviewed patient types, new insurance plans and asked for continued business. Dr said he really likes it. Discussed FDA draft guidance with oxycontin, conversions and asked if he would use it for a patient failing or has tolerability issues on Percocet? Dr said he'd use Butrans if he could because he likes it so much.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/22/2014	I told dr if he has a patient taking tramadol around the clock and is still in pain, he should move to Butrans as long as the patient meets e indication. I asked if he would classify around the clock pain as 3 or more pills a day? Dr said that sounds about right and said he is finding out that Butrans is a good option for the tramadol patient. Dr said the problem is that he doesn't have many patients that see him on opioids. I told dr that's ok because its all about specific patient type selection. Reminded dr about his use of OxyContin for those already on oxycodone. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	5/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin formulary Med D (Silver Srips, UHC/AARP along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. BWC coverage. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	5/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Savings Card with Linda(tech) No new info learned
	Unlontown	OH	44685	5/23/2014	I asked dr how he feels about converting his Percocet patients who tell him they are still in pain? Dr said he doesn't have any issues with using OxyContin but said that he needs to be very selective with those patients. I told dr I agree that he OxyContin is for patients who meet the indication. I asked dr for business and told him his tramadol and vicoden patients are good candidates for Butrans and handed him the Scott profile. Dr said ok.
	Akron	OH	44312	5/23/2014	Carla took me to see dr to discuss the BEP program again. I showed dr and Carla the Scott profile and asked if it makes saner to start Butrans? Dr said it dos and he has started Butrans on a couple of patients on ultram. I reviewed the BEP kits with both of them and asked for his commitment to get them out. Dr said the $50 for the patient will certainly help.
	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/23/2014	Dr said he would hang up the butrans poster that I gave him. We talked about the somatic pain patients can have which can lead to a chronic condition and meeting the indication for both Oxycontin and Butrans. Dr. agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	5/23/2014	Reminded him of the caresource coverage with Butrans and the converting those percocet patients to Oxycontin if they were atc and appropriate for the product. I asked dr what clinical reasoning is there for maintaining a patient on an IR opioid like Percocet who is in pain around the clock? I told dr that typically around the clock pain is when patients are taking at least 3 pills a day and still in pain. Dr said he agreed. Dr said that he's not big on ER opioids. I asked why he's not at least giving his patients the option when their currently therapy isn't working? Dr said OxyContin isn't really a product he likes to use. I told him Percocet and OxyContin both have oxycodone and its the delivery system and single entity opioid of OxyContin that may be appropriate for some. Dr said ok and took the conversion guide. I also gave him the Butrans slide guide and asked for him to use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	5/23/2014	Talked to Tracy the office manager regarding going to partners in pain and using resources at that sight for their office/doctors. Reminded her what my products are indicated for and the dosing along with its scheduling.
	Garfield Hts.	OH	44125	5/23/2014	Window call. Quick OxyContin review 7 tablet strengths every 12hours, Savings cards along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it in mind, call if need further info,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	5/23/2014	Discussed with Michelle every 12 hour dosing, said she will remind
	Green	OH	44232	5/23/2014	Visited Ortho/Pain mmngt depts. (Abraham, Samuel, Dalbir, Feighan) OxyContin and Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, Savings cards
	Green	OH	44232	5/23/2014	Spoke with Jenna the pharmacist and told her it was important for her to know the types of patients who are suited for OxyContin and Butrans. Quickly reviewed the Tom profile for OxyContin. Jenna said they are seeing lots of patients who are having their vicoden and Percocet refilled every month and many of them are being titrated up as well. I discussed the Kathy profile for Butrans and asked her if it makes sense for that type of patient to be appropriate for Butrans. Jenna said it does and thanked me for discussing certain types of patients. Jenna said she just filled a Butrans script this morning. I asked her from who and she said she can't remember but it was from a family practice. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans copay cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/23/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder, 7 tablet strengths every 12hrs along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia who are failing on present therapy. Said Ok, questioned ins. coverage, PA, Reviewed formulary grid and MED D coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001

	Mogadore	OH	44260	5/23/2014	Dr asked me why he can't get OxyContin covered anymore? I asked for what plan(s)? Dr said mostly Medicare. I told him after 18years its still pretty well covered and asked if they are being denied or PA? Dr said its all the same because it causes him more work. I told him I'm sorry and if he believes its the right medication, the PA should be completed. Dr said ok. I told dr I needed a couple of minutes to discuss the BEP kits. Dr said he didn't have time and to wait until out lunch next month. I told dr that fine but to please write Butrans for patients who are taking 3 or more IR opioids a day and tell you they are still in pain. Dr laughed and said ok but it's not that easy. I asked why and he said many patients don't want to take a patch. I asked him what he does then if the IR isn't working? Dr said everyone is different. I told him I agree but why are they all still getting IR opioids? Dr said we will discuss next time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	5/23/2014	Quick OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia said he will keep in mind, would like to refer pain mgmnt, asked how that is going? said patients typically end back with him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	5/23/2014	Revived OxyContin as 1st ER opioid FDA approved Tier 1/3 that describes abuse deterrent properties, Q12h, 7 dosing strengths, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	5/23/2014	Said he will consider, asked to discuss with physicians, said he will.Asked if he had a patient in mind today, said he'll with check schedule
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2014	Quick hello at window and told him he needs to provide analgesic options for his patients who are in pain on IR opioids like Oxycontin or Butrans. Dr said they are both branded and too expensive. I asked dr how he knows since he doesn't use them? Dr said they are branded. I told him he's assuming too much and limiting his patients from options that could be the analgesic solution for them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	5/27/2014	Spoke to Pam the MA regarding managed care for Butrand and Oxycontin. Discussed dosing and asked if she knew about any recent scrips he has written and she said she doesnt know. She said they all rotate taking calls for prior authorizations. Left Oxycontin and Butrans marketing pieces behind for the doctor to review.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Quick hello at front counter. Introduced myself and asked dr where he is using OxyContin? Dr said he doesn't use it much because after a procedure, he typically only gives out 2-4 weeks of IR opioids like vicoden or Percocet. Dr said he only wants to give patients enough until they get to their family dr or specialist. I asked when he finds it appropriate for prescribe ocycontin? Dr said he would only prescribe it when a patient comes back for another procedure and the pain lasts longer. I reminded dr about the conversions and oxycontin reformation. I asked dr if his use of Butrans has been positive? Dr said he's only written a couple of times and once for another dr as a refill. I gave dr all key selling messages and asked if it may be appropriate? Dr said maybe. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/27/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12h,7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Said she will continue to find appropriate patients, said to book appt with Kristie Admin. for June appt to further discuss

PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	5/27/2014	Quick hallway, caught dr as I was leaving their resroom. Asked dr for 2 patient types - prn percocet patients for conversion to oxycontin; and Butrans after Tramadol. Updated Med Asst on Butrans Med D wins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	5/27/2014	Dr. Balaji not in today. Left information on both OxyContin and Butrans with med assts. Left OxyContin conversion guide. Updated on Butrans preferred Med D status.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2014	Discussed the FDA INSIGHT. The doctor said it was a good idea to do it. I asked her if she ever treats someone for Chronic pain. she said no. Dr is a gastroenterologist. We talked about Butrans moledule and transdermal system. Dr said that would be better for her patients but she still doesn't treat chronic pain. Reviewed the indication and gave fair balance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2014	Reminded the doctor about two extended release options- Butrans and Oxycontin. Dr asked if Oxycontin was generic. I clarified. Reminded him of his med part d coverage for Butrans and covered dosing and starting doss using the initiation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/27/2014	Followed up from last conversation in hallway. I told her about the Percocet insight and asked her if she has Percocet who may be ready for a dose adjustment? Dr said maybe. I told her the reason I asked this is because patients that are in pain around the clock which is usually those taking 90 pills or more a month are classified as patients in pain around the clock. Dr agreed. Showed the conversions and asked if she would use OxyContin in those situations? Dr said ok. I told her that last time she said she wanted to write more however Medicare isn't paying for it. I showed her h formulary grid and said her top 2 commercial plans are medical mutual and anthem. Told her about coverage. Told her about her top 2 Medicare plans and explained the coverage. I asked dr when a patient is denied or has a PA to please let me know and I will research it for her. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/27/2014	Reviewed Butrans profile Scott quickly and asked for business. Led appointment with dr hill discussing oxycodone insight and FDA draft guidance. Dr said he just doesn't feel comfortable using it and said he may not have patients for it anyway. I discussed patients he may currently have on Percocet or oxycodone plain who may be taking 3 or more a day. Used MVA and conversions for discussion and drilling down a patient type. Dr said he's been have some success with Butrans and likes that its a week long patch which is a schedule 3 opioid. Dr asked about AE's with Butrans. I showed him the AE's from Bup 3015 over 5%. Dr said the reason he's used it is because his patients on IR opioids complain of constipation and said the ones he put on Butrans don't complain about it anymore. Dr said everything else looks pretty typical of an opioid. I reviewed the importance of specific patient type selection and reviewed both Scott and Kathy. Finished with insurance coverage for both products and copy cards.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014Cliff, This call note says Dr. Hill but it is on Dr. McRoberts.REICHCL's response on 06/17/2014had both of them together at a lunch appointment. Error on my part. This call note is on dr McRoberts, NOT dr Hill.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/17/2014Ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Thanks for the clarification.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2014	Spoke to Kelly the MA regarding Oxycontin dosing and Butrans dosing. They have caresource and med d patients so i focused on those plans with coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	5/27/2014	Lunch. Percocet insight. Doctor stated that's a long time, what is that, like 8 or 9 months? I replied - more like 10 ms. Is is fair to say some patients may have long term pain and need re assessed? Yes stated doctor. Discussed types of pain conditions he could use OxyContin for such as osteoarthritis. Is is reasonable for me to request you re assess your Percocet patients and consider conversion to OxyContin is patient's pain requires daily, atc, opioid? Dr asked how he should write? If he writes OxyContin - will pharmacy switch over to oxycodone? I responded they should not because no generic OxyContin. Also presented pg 15 of core vis aid regarding FDA Tier 1 & 3 labeling. Butrans presented next as 7 day transdermal option. Dr. is familiar with Fentanyl he states. Responded with verbatim indication for Butrans. Discussed patient such as Pam for Butrans. Then presented Butrans Med D formulary status. Asked Dr. to concentrate on patients on those plans for Butrans conversion after PRN Tramadol. summarized call and asked for business this week. Dr agreed he would keep in mind for specific patients discussed. Left 2014 FPI for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/27/2014	Visited Tausig (Faiman,Dobbs, Gutsell etc) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration along with appt request.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	5/27/2014	Quick hello at window and told him I wanted to follow up on the most recent patient he titrated from 10 to 20mg Butrans? Dr said the patient is a bigger guy and figured he needed the 20mcg and he was also in more pain than he thought 15mcg would offer. I told dr its his clinical decision and asked him to focus on existing patients who may need a dose adjustment on their IR opioid. Dr said ok. Asked dr to continue to think of patients who may be appropriate for Butrans and showed chi the Scott profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	5/27/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin dosing and titration.W has had good success with Butrans in the past few weeks.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/27/2014	Led off with oxycodone insight and asked dr if he has any patients who have been on Percocet for 3+ months? Dr said he's sure he has a few. I used the MVA and went through pages 4-12. Told him about the FDA draft guidance and asked him if it makes sense to reassess his patients who have been on oxycodone for 3+ months? Dr said he will try and said he knows it doesn't make sense but its just easier to refill the short acting products. I asked dr what pain around the clock means to him? Dr said 90-100 pills a month. I asked him he has any of those patients? Dr said yes. I asked why its ok to refill IR oxycodone but so hard to write ER oxycodone? Dr said its explaining it to the patients and the issue of change. His patients Don't like change. I told him to at least give his patients the option of 12hour oxycodone. Dr said ok. Reviewed Butrans indication, dosing, patients types, titration and Bup 3015. I asked dr if he would find just one or two patients to start? Dr said he will try.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014Sounds like this is a doctor issue that he is making a patient issue. What do you think?REICHCL's response on 06/17/2014Agreed.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 06/17/2014
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2014	Reviewed FDA insight and Oxycontin lable information on page 15 of core visual aid. Talked about who he thought was appropriate p atients. Doctor said he feels his patients are compliant, yet he did say he could see Butrans being used in the older patient population because of the dosing schedule. I went into the opioid naive study. Dr thought the patients were going to do well because they were opioid naive. He also said the higher you dose a product a patient was sure to get pain relief. Dr thought the pain results of the study was average. Dr asked why Butrans can be dose for a week with other pain patches can only be dosed a few days. I told him i couldnt not compare cause we had no head to head studies. However, I pointed out the molecule and its half life and steady state. Talked about titration-using the opioid naive study visual aid. covered managed care. Dr said he hasn't seen a patient yet. I asked him about his percocet patients. he said he had some. I asked him if it makes sense if they needed atc pain coverage to convert them to oxycontin and he said yes. Gave fair balance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/27/2014	Spoke with Cassie the pharmacy tech about OxyContin and Butrans. I asked Cassie if she sees patients coming in month after month to refill Percocet or oxycodone plain? Cassie said they do and its way too often. I showed her the conversions from Percocet and asked her if she would be ok telling patients to ask their dr about a ER oxycodone? Cassie said she does that already and said patients want to take pills all day because its th psychological effect. I told her I understand and asked her if she has any questions about OxyContin? Cassie said no and they have all doses in stock. I showed her the Kathy Butrans profile and reviewed it. I asked her if the patient selection makes sense and she said yes. Cassie said they have all doses except for the 15mcg. Reviewed copy cards for both products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	5/28/2014	Spoke with dr leone about OxyContin conversions from Percocet and identifying patients currently on tramadol or vicoden as candidates for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/28/2014	Spoke to Candy, dRs wife and r of the office. Reminded them about what Butrans is and the dosing. Candy said she didn't get involved with the products that are selected for the patients, nor does she hand out coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	5/28/2014	I asked the doctor if she can remember the last time a patient asked for OxyContin? Dr said she can't remember. I asked her what her patients ask for? Dr said Percocet? I asked her if patients ever complain to her about not tolerating IR opioids? Dr said she has and it was just last week! I asked her to tell me about it. Dr said a patient came in last week complaining of constipation on vicoden. Dr said she thought of Butrans because its a patch and doesn't go through the gut. Dr said she started on the 5mcg patch and can't wait to hear from the patient for feedback. I reviewed the Bup 3015 clinical results/efficacy showing at least 30% pain score reduction. I asked if she would like to see that clinically? Dr said for sure. Dr said she will continue to ask patients how they are tolerating their Percocet as possibilities for OxyContin. Reviewed AE's for each product and asked for more
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	5/28/2014	Spoke to dr briefly at front counter and asked him if he would reassess his patients continuing on Percocet for tolerable conversion to OxyContin? Dr said he is doing that for the most part and said that some just don't want to change no matter what. I told him I understand and asked him to maybe focus on patients that express their interest for another form of delivery of oxycodone. Dr said ok. Reminded dr of the Butrans patient type Scott and asked him if he has patients continuing on tramadol? Dr said he does and will try to find someone.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/28/2014	Quick OxyContin review Q12h along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok leave info/savings card and will contact if further info needed
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	5/28/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans with Troy, Initiation/Titration, savings cards now new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/28/2014	Talked about dosing extended release Oxycontin every 12 hours for the appropriate patient. And Butrans dosing weekly- according to FPI. Gave Fair Balance. Asked how she see's scripts written and the pharmacist kyle said usually every 12 hours for oxycontin. Talked about titration with oxycontin and Butrans- gave fair balance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/28/2014	Quick hello in hallway and asked him how and when he feels titration up or down on OxyContin is appropriate? Dr said its all patient specific. I asked him to pick a patient and tell me. Dr said he does titrate down when he has confirmed a patients pain level has reduced. Dr said he has no issues titrating up and does so when patients complain of increased pain and intervention hasn't worked. I told him thanks for the information and to continue finding places for OxyContin. Reviewed Butrans Medicare D an coverage and told him since he finds Butrans to be effective in his older patients the new Medicare D plans will help him. Dr agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	5/28/2014	I asked Elise how her patients are doing on OxyContin and if she feels ok titrating up or down? Elise said she had a patient today on 30mg of OxyContin and 4 Percocet a day. Elise said that the patient feels they are not working and suggested to taper off opioids all together. Elise said she is going to try it and said she thinks the patient will quickly notice that the medicine is helping a lot. I told Elise that if the patient feels he needs to go back on opioids than maybe Butrans is an option. Elise agreed but said the patient is currently on high doses of opioids and Butrans may not work. I told her it may if he tapers off the oxycodone. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/28/2014	Quick discussion in hallway. I asked dr if he is feeling more comfortable prescribing OxyContin to patients who need a dose adjustment on their Percocet? Dr said he is and said he would rather his patients be on the 12 hour oxycodone as long as they are not in acute pain. Showed dr the conversion guide and asked for continued use. Told dr to please assess patients for the appropriateness of Butrans when they need an adjustment on tramadol or vicoden and meet the indication. Left him with the initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/28/2014	Dr said that before I walked in he converted a patient from 40mg to OxyContin 20bid. I told him to please write it as q12h to clear up any confusion and told him to tell his patients that the recommended dose times are 8 am and 8 pm for full 12 hour use. Dr agreed and said its not his first opioid of choice but it serves its purpose for patients failing Percocet. I reviewed conversions and managed care and asked for continued business. Discussed Butrans and asked him to continue to try to expand his use t patients younger than Medicare age.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/28/2014	The office manager Christy told me the doctor is too busy to speak to me regarding my products. Gave her Butrans posters and highlighted some of the somatic lower back pain as shown on the spine poster. Talked about these types of identifiable pain in our Butrans studies. I reminded her on dosing of Butrans and covered a few managed care wins with Butrans and Oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/29/2014	Dr came to window and asked me what was new. I said I was wonder why he hasn't written and new oxycontin or butrans for appropriate patients and I was beginning to get concerned that there was a problem that I needed to uncover and address. He said no no just coverage is the problem. I highlighted a few major plans for each product. Gave fair balance of products and reviewed dosing for each. I asked him how comfortable is he titrating butrans. Dr repeated the dosing options back to me.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014Lisa, when your conversation centers around why he has not written a product, this makes 4 about you. PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/29/2014	Said there are a few single entity extended release options to think about today. Oxycontin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans dosed weekly schedule 3. Fair balance. Dr said ok thank you.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	5/29/2014	Quick OxyContin review Q12h, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok confirmed appt for further discussion
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	5/29/2014	I told dr that because she write OxyContin and Percocet she should feel comfortable converting appropriate patients to OxyContin. I asked her if there is any hesitation in doing so? Dr said not really but said some patients don't require an ER opioid like OxyContin. I asked her to give me an example and she said if a patient needs something for a short period of time due to acute pain. I told dr I agree and reviewed OxyContin indication. I asked dr to reassess patients for possible OxyContin candidates. Dr said ok. Asked dr to just TRY Butrans. I showed her the Scott profile and asked her if it makes sense to use Butrans? Dr said it does and said she knows she needs to just use it. I asked her to just pull the trigger and use it!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	5/29/2014	I asked dr if she's had any activity with Butrans recently? Dr said not much but is writing and refilling a lot of OxyContin for dr Balter. I asked if she's writing new prescriptions? Dr said a few yes. I asked what IR opioids the patients had been on prior and she said usually its Percocet. I asked her to continue using for the appropriate patients. I asked her to use more Butrans when those on Norco ask for more or can't tolerate it. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/29/2014	Saw dr thru window and he said hello to me by name. He asked what was knew and I covered the butrans med part d wins and highlighted the coverage since last time he focus on my products getting rejected. I asked him if his patients had any problems with the weekly dosing? He laughed and said no. I said what was funny. He said how hard can it be to change a patch every week. I said how hard then is it to remember to write more butrans? He said he would try to remember more often to write it. I reminded him of the oxycontin savings cards and that the dosing every 12hours might be an option for the appropriate patient type. He agreed.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014When he said "what's new?", this was a perfect opportunity to lead with an insight. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12h along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia said ok will consider for appropriate patients, no further info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	5/29/2014	Reminded of OxyContin formulary status, every 12hours, 7 day transdermal, Tramadol failures that require around the clock analgesia, Said he continues to prescribe OxyContin for appropriate patients, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/29/2014	The nurses upfront told me they didnt know Dr. Horwoods schedule in lakewood because it changes. I spoke to KIM his MA and she said that he is mostly in Westlake, but does go to lakewood. I left a variety of marking materials and reviewed our savings program for both products and covered dosing. The nurse said the doctor writes oxycontin but not Butrans. I covered the dosing and schedule 3 and refills of Butrans with her- she told me she would pass the information over to the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	5/29/2014	Dr said she doesn't like to write OxyContin. I said why? She said its schedule 2 and she doesn't have time for that. I asked what does she do if someone needed an extended release product, she said refer out. I asked if she ever doses short acting schedule three products atc. She said she has. I highlighted Butrans and the dosing, scheduling of Butrans. She asked about patch placement, which we discussed along with fair balance.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014What kind of extra time does she perceive it takes to write and follow-up a CII as opposed to a CIII?BARTOLI's response on 06/16/2014I see her tomorrow so I will continue our conversation.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/17/2014That will be an interesting conversation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/29/2014	highlighted the deliver system of OxyContin and Butrans and dosing. Reminded about the butrans coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/29/2014	Spoke with Glenn about Butrans new plans again for Medicare D. He told me that Sable today had one he wrote for that had Caremark silverscript. He said there was no issues or PA to go through for it. I asked him if he knows the price and he said he didn't because the patient filled it in a retail pharmacy off campus. Discussed OxyContin plan coverages and doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/29/2014	Dr Roxana not in today. Met with her regular med asst Theresa. Discussed both products and verbatim indication. Discussed OxyContin scheduling, dosing, types of patients with conditions causing pain such as osteoarthritis and dosing every 12 hours. Left OxyContin conversion guide.Discussed Butrans verbatim indication, scheduling, 4 strengths. Discussed and showed Butrans initiation/titration guide. Also showed patient tear sheets which are in sample closet with trial/savings. Left laminated PAP pain scales, Left 4 strengths brochure for Dr. Roxana. Theresa says the practice has many Russian patients. The scales will help with communication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	5/29/2014	Caught dr while setting up lunch with Judy. I asked him if he's still getting efficacy from OxyContin as he expects? Dr said he is and said to usually his go to Long acting opioid. I told dr I'm glad to hear it and asked him to please reassess his patients already on oxycodone like Percocet patients who might be appropriate for OxyContin. Dr said he tries to do that as much as he can. I told him that Butrans should be right up his alley when patients on vicoden or Norco tell him they need more or something else. Gave him the conversion guide. Dr said he forgets about it and said thanks for the info.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	5/29/2014	Discussed OxyContin dosing, dr said he wrote OxyContin and asked about if it was generic yet. I said no. I asked him who wasn't appropriate OxyContin patient typeof his pain patients and he described the older patient types. When I asked why not the over 18 patient types he said he just doesn't think a younger patient is appropriate. Talked about Butrans and dosing. Covered managed care with bet he ma and office manager and the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	5/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12h, FDA approved Tier 1/3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent properties, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/29/2014	Talked about ATC and what he felt that means. Then we covered dosing of both OxyContin and Butrans. The pharmacist said he see's scripts of oxycontin but didn't tell me from who but did say it was written every 12 hours q12h. He didn't know what they were converted from just they were regulars every month. Gave fair balance. Talked about Butrans, patch locations and savings coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga falls	OH	44223	5/29/2014	Saw Kim while I was speaking with Glenn. Kim said she heard me talking about the Caremark silverscript plan and had forgotten about it. I asked her if she has a lot of patients w/ that Medicare plan? Kim said she has many including those on various other Medicare plans. I asked her to continue writing Butrans for those who are appropriate for a 7 day transdermal patch. Reminded her to continue to also think OxyContin when patients present in pain on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/29/2014	Quick OxyContin review Q12h along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok , no furhter info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/29/2014	discussed The meaning of ATC. Dr said it was at lea st three or more pills a day scheduled. I asked him if it was reasonable to write butrans, per our indication after the tramadol patient type that meets this appropriate usage. Dr said yes. I asked what hesitations he had for not writing Oxycontin, he said he doesn't like to write the schedule 2 because they are more dangerous and abuseable. Provided fair balance. I asked the doctor if he checked ors. Dr said yes and he explained what he looked for. Asked him how much scheduled 2 products would he write for in a given month of Oxycontin and he said very little maybe 60 but not even this much. We covered the Percocet patient that meets the ATC patient type we defined earlier and asked him why it was a risky proposition to have Oxycontin as an option [schedule 2]when he is dosing ATC percocet that is also schedule 2? Dr said Oxycontin made sense and then he brought up coverage with managed care. We reviewed caresources and butrans coverage and med d coverage. Highlighted a few Oxycontin Commercial plans.Reviewed every 12 hour dosing with Oxycontin and Butrans dosing. Dr asked me about the half life and about supplemental during the first few days of steady state which I addressed. Reviewed the pain results from the opioid naieve patient study. Dr said he would give it a try again [butrans] and he would think about Oxycontin.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014Lisa, it looks like you tried to logic him into OxyContin, but did not provide him a product attribute. For example "Dr. OxyContin is a q12h medication. It is an extended-release delivery system of the same molecule you are prescribing. Why does a patient have to earn an extended-release delivery of the same molecule you are already prescribing?" Does this make sense?BARTOLI's response on 06/16/2014Yes it does, will make sure those areas are tied into presentations.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/17/2014The key product attributes are the value an HCP is looking for to prescribe a product.

	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/29/2014	While waiting for Dr Vilinsky, spoke with ass Keanna and Theresa. Discussed my products, their verbatim indications, scheduling, doses, black box warning. Discussed commercial/med d plans where both Butrans/OxyContin preferred. Dr. Vilinsky reported one male patient, over age 65, experience leg swelling while on Butrans. He asked me not to report, as patient has other conditions that may be causing/adding to leg swelling. I opened up and left him Butrans 2104 FPI. Recited from section 6.1 under Table 4, that 3% of patients treated with Butrans did experience peripheral edema. Dr says he will keep an eye on patient and let me know his progress. Patient is getting pain relief. Discussed 4 strengths, Butrans avoiding first pass liver metabolism since product enters systemic circulation. Discussed patient guides which are on shelf with savings in sample closet. Also discussed OxyContin as an oral option for his patients with daily, ATC pain. Left conversion guide. Left PAP laminated pain scales. Theresa (med asst) states that Dr. Vilinsky has a lot of Russian patients, so the scales will help w communication. CHUDAKOB's query on 06/12/2014/Did you explain that we track these and why? PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/30/2014	Reviewed with Mike Rph OxyContin Q12h/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	5/30/2014	Lunch conversation and told dr I was going to get to the main points, ask for business and then be done! I led off with oxycodone insight and showed him the conversions from Percocet. I told dr that he told me in the past that when he thinks of ER opioids he is committing himself and the patient on long term opioid treatment. I asked dr what the difference is from that and continuing to refill Percocet month after month for a long period of time? Dr said he agrees with me but dr said he guesses it just is the psychological things with him. I showed him the 10mg page and asked him to initiate early. Discussed the nancy profile on hydrocodone and read through it with him. I discussed the 4 reasons from this piece for converting an appropriate patient to Butrans. Dr said he will look into the AE profile of his patients on vicoden as candidates. I asked dr to do that and I will follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/30/2014	Discussed Butrans dosing and patient type. Dr said he thinks of Butrans for patients that complain their. Or I isn't working. Dr said atc is three or more short acting products scheduled. I asked if he was comfortable writing Butrans or OxyContin for those appropriate patients that meet our indication. Dr said yes. Talked about the Tramadol insight. Reviewed pain results of naive study and covered fairbalance for both products. Talked about OxyContin being dosed every 12 hours, dr said he will convert from Percocet if the patient needed chronic pain medication and appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/30/2014	Dr told me that she got the Butrans patient PA approved. I told dr that's great and asked her to continue looking for similar candidates along with those who have commercial insurance. Showed her a trial and copy card and told her to use them. Dr said she just can't find the patients when feels comfortable starting on OxyContin. I asked why Percocet is ok but OxyContin isn't?. She said she doesn't know but can't write it much because Bonyo doesn't want to have anyone in the office write it. I told her I understand and to please pass it by him when he knows a patient is right for the product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/30/2014	Dr was done with patients doing paper work. Discussed dosing with both OxyContin and Butrans, gave fair balance and reminded on coupons
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/30/2014	Spoke with Sue about anything new from Butrans or OxyContin. Sue said they dispensed both an OxyContin and Butrans today. I asked from which drs and she said the OxyContin was Petrus and the Butrans was from Found.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	5/30/2014	I told her thanks for the information and checked stocking. Nothing. Else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001					I asked dr when he is going to retire? Dr said in one month. I told him that this is the time to start a patient on OxyContin or Butrans and to convert patients you know are in pain around the clock on an ER opioid. Dr said that drs like him are really being looked at by the government and doesn't want to use high powered opioids. I told him I don't know what he means by high powered and asked him why he continues to write and refill vicoden and Percocet but won't write OxyContin or Butrans? Dr said he might use Butrans and asked about dosing, conversions and insurance. I explained dosing and conversions with the Kathy profile and asked him what's holding him back? Reviewed insurance and dr said he will remember it and will use it and to give him 2 weeks.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/30/2014	Reminded of OxyContin formulary status along with Butrans, Initiation/Titration, said ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001					Window call and asked dr what he thinks he will do when a patient on Percocet meets the 90 pills a month? Dr said he will either think OxyContin main or Butrans. I told dr I'm glad that's the way he's thinking and told him that he said he would try to use OxyContin earlier and use the 10mg dose. I told dr not to wait until the patient gets up to higher doses or Percocet before he decides to convert. Dr agreed and said ok. I showed hi. The Kathy profile and asked him to use his first clinically and asked him when his first patient comes back for follow up? Dr said in about 2 weeks. I told him to titrate if necessary and can use opioid and non opioid analgesics for Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans initiation/titration guides said ok will schedule appt to further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	5/30/2014	Led off discussion about oxycodone insight and asked dr about her true feelings about patients opioid use. Dr said that she will not give more than 1-2 pills a day of any IR opioid. Dr said if they need more she sends them to pain management. Asked her if she knows she can use both OxyContin and Butrans as a first time opioid if NSAIDs are failed? Dr said she does but will not prescribe ER opioids and not much IR either. Dr said most of her patients are 20-30years old and do have pain but must be acute. Dr said she has a couple of older patients and may find the need for Butrans. Discussed nancy profile and reasons for converting patients to Butrans when
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/30/2014	Quick hello at check out desk. I told him that OxyContin is a very good product for the right patient and gave him the indication. I asked him where and when he is using it primarily? Dr said as often as he can because he said he has too many patients with chronic pain on short acting products like Percocet. Dr said it's a good conversions and a smooth one. I told dr that's great to hear and to keep wiring. I told hi. That Butrans is he also a product that it an ER product that can be used for the patient wanting more tramadol or vicoden and he needs a ER product that's a transdermal patch. Dr agreed and said thanks.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Quick review of OxyContin Q12h, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures who require around the clock analgesia that she is sending to Pain mgmt. Said OK, not prescribing Clis

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/2/2014	The drs ma Daniele is starting to recognize me and my products with out me having to tell her what I have. I tried to see if she remembered my name but she didn't. I left some literature as I highlighted the dosing and delivery system of both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	6/2/2014	Saw dr at front counter. Handed him the OxyContin conversion guide and Butrans nancy profile. I told him to convert Percocet patients to OxyContin and vicoden and Norco patients to Butrans when they present in pain on those medicines and meet the indications. Dr said ok. Reminded him about the med D wins for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	6/2/2014	Note: (Landa replaced Tracy who's going to nursing school - Tracy no longer w practice) Discussed my product indications, scheduling and dosing strengths to Landa. First OxyContin, then Butrans. Also updated on trial/savings cards available for their patients (commercial) and updated Landa on Med D status for both products. Left Kathy patient profile, FPI's both products for Dr. DeJoseph.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/2/2014	I asked dr how he decides which patient is right for which ER opioid? Dr said he can tell me that most of his patients go on OxyContin because they are coming from Percocet and its an easy switch. I showed hi. The conversion guide and asked him to make that decision to convert once a patient reaches 3 months of he IR. Dr said he tries but its tough because of cost and some patients just don't want to change medicines or take OxyContin. I told him I understand and to continue finding placement for it. Reviewed Kathy profile quickly for Butrans and asked him if it makes sense? Dr said it does and then I told him about Mediciare D wins with aarp
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	6/2/2014	Met w RN at front window. Asked to see Dr Tomm. She states there's no way I will be able to talk w either HCP on a Monday. Discussed updates to formulary status for OxyContin, left FPI. Discussed updates to Butrans formulary status, left FPI. Left Kathy patient profile for both HCP's.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/2/2014	Spoke to Dana in office with office manager. Reviewed Kathy profile and told her to reassess patients for IR opioids like hydrocodone for 3 months or more for an ER opioid like Butrans. Dana said that's usually when she converts. I asked her if she has any tramadol patients that would fit a similar criteria? She said she does and is trying. Reminded her about when to convert a patient to OxyContin and showed her the conversion guide. Dana said she leaves most OxyContin up to the physicians. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	6/2/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration along with OxyContin every 12hours and the FDA labeling on Tier 1/3 that describes abuse deterrent properties, Said she will consider Butrans, no Clis and is prescribing very little pain meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/2/2014	Spoke with Jim the pharmacist about OxyContin and showed him the conversion and titration guide. I asked him if when patients are on Percocet for 90 plus days and still complaining of pain, if it makes sense to convert to OxyContin? Jim said it does and said he sees a lot of patients refilling their short acting products month after month. I asked him if he would be willing to ask the patient to speak with their dr about another ER option? Jim said he already does. He said he fills OxyContin but not much. I asked him about Butrans and if he has dispensed any recently. Jim said the last time was in March and it was for 5mgc and he has it on the shelf. He said maybe 5 times since the beginning of the year. I showed him the nancy profile and then explained the conversions. I asked if he wanted any copy cards? He said no. I told him his patients with private insurance should have a card but if they don't they can go to Bonyo's.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Confirmed lunch for tomorrow with dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and told him to look it over before our conversation on OxyContin and Butrans tomorrow. I told dr if it makes sense to convert a IR oxycodone patient in pain and meets the indication to OxyContin? Dr said it does and will discuss tomorrow.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/2/2014	Visited IM/PMR depts OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with appts requests

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/2/2014	Signed up for Dinner this month and saw dr behind counter. Told dr to look over conversion and titration guide to help identify patients to convert to OxyContin. I gave him the nancy profile and said if he's not going to write it for patients falling Norco than to refer to pain management like he told me last time. Dr said there are a few patients he thinks may be good for it. Told him about UHC aarp and Caremark silverscript wins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	6/2/2014	Front window. While waiting for Dr. D, met with med asst s Lori and Helen. Discussed OxyContin Essentials kit: for new patients, commercial/cash pay (they try to avoid cash pay patients) and OxyContin preferred formulary, Medicaid with prior auth, BWC status. Discussed Butrans preferred formulary, Medicaid w prior auth, BWC and Med D formulary status. Reminded Dr DeMicco he agreed to re assess Percocet patients who may need a daily, atc, long term opioid - discussed earlier to conversion to OxyContin -every 12 hours. Asked him to keep in mind this week; and Butrans transdermal option, which bypasses first pass liver metabolism.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/2/2014	Quick intro. reviewed OxyContin Q12h along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, left savings cards and email request to further discuss

Updated on commercial/med d status, left OxyContin and FPI and formulary grid. Discussed updates to Butrans FPI, including the addition to black box warning of neo natal opioid withdrawal syndrome. Updated formulary/Med D status. Left FPI and Kathy Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/2/2014	I gave dr the oxycodone insight and asked him based on out last discussion why it's ok for him to write and refill IR opioids and have patients be on them for an extended period of time but OxyContin is off limits? What's the difference? Dr said I have a good point and said he just needs to think of OxyContin differently. I agreed and told him to just use it where appropriate. Told dr that Butrans can also be an option for those patients who are in pain on tramadol or vicoden and need a dose adjustment. I asked dr to just take a second to assess the patients pathology of pain and use Butrans if he believes they are in pain around the clock. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/2/2014	Quick discussion in hallway. I asked dr to think of OxyContin as a product he can convert patients already on oxycodone to a 12 hour delivery system. Dr said ok and he's trying. Dr said he wrote for another Butrans prescription and feels pretty good about it. I asked why and he said because he's finally seeing positive results and good words from his patients on it. I told him to keep writing and to find similar patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/3/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Patients requiring around the clock analgesia that have failed on present therapy along with OxyContin Q12h, 7 tablet strengths, Said Ok is always looking to prescribe Butrans for appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/3/2014	Reviewed with Tech OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration along with Butrans patient info booklet, Will relay to Rph-Joe,
	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	6/3/2014	Lunch. Discussed updates to verbatim indication for Butrans and addition of neo natal opioid withdrawal syndrome to Black Box Warning. Discussed Section 2.2 Titration & Maintenance of Therapy, ability for him to use 2 5 mcg/hr patches or 2 10 mcg/hr patches; however, two 15 or 20 mcg hr patches CANNOT be used, because they will exceed the max daily dose of 20 mcg/hr. He was happy to hear this information and that he can speak to that when delivery educational programs on Butrans. Left Butrans FPI. Oxycontin dr states he had been writing more OxyContin because it has been easier to titrate; we discussed conversion/titration guide/START and another conversion from percocet and oxycodone earlier in appropriate patients with daily, atc, long term pain. (verbatim indication presented) Discussed no change in dosing required for renal or mild or moderate hepatically impaired patients. Asked for business moving forward, both products. reminder 15 mcg hr is option, 4 strengths, dosing flexibility.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	6/3/2014	Spoke with the technician Sara about OxyContin dosing, conversions from Percocet and reviewed conversion and titration guide. Sara said she sometimes sees it written as TID but for only the patients that have continued on that dosing regimen. I told her its only to be dosed q12. Discussed Butrans dosing, conversions and nancy profile. Sara said they have patients on the 5mcg dose. I told her about appropriate patient selection and Schedule 3.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, formulary status, along with Butrans, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/Titration, formulary status along with Savings cards, Inquired about CCF formulary, Said she will consider for appropriate patients, CCF PAL MED team is using alot of IV Buprenorphine in hospital
	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/3/2014	Quick message over counter and asked her if she has had any Butrans activity recently? Abby said nothing recent. I asked why and she said she will be but she is still getting to know the patients and gaining her own patient base. She said its tough to change medicines when the patient is one of another provider in the practice. I told her I understand and told her to use it for patients like nancy who are on hydrocodone and still in pain. I told her about the new Medicare coverage plans and she said that's great to know. She wanted me to remind her of all the coverages for Medicare and Medicaid. I asked her to also convert patients from Percocet to OxyContin when they may need a dose adjustment. Abby said she has no issues doing that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/3/2014	Waved to dr across hall. He said "you are back". I reminded him of the products being promoted along with the coupons available for his extended release pain patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/3/2014	Talked about the dosing and the savings program for both OxyContin and Butrans. Highlighted his caresource patients for Butrans.
	Akron	OH	44313	6/3/2014	Led off with oxycodone insight and asked dr if he currently has patients that meet this statistic? Dr said a few but wants to review Butrans. I told dr that I need him to think OxyContin as well and showed him the conversions from Percocet. Dr said he will try. Discussed nancy profile, conversions, appropriate starting dose and criteria for Butrans patients. I asked dr if he has patients like nancy? Dr said too many. I told him to pull the trigger and use Butrans for those patients who need a dose adjustment or can't tolerate it. Dr said he has some patients who don't want more pills and said they would be good for it as well. Dr asked about the patch coming off or peeling at corners. I told dr about proper skin prep and to apply it to a nearly hairless site which is clean and dry. Dr said ok. I asked him if he is going to start new patients and he said he will. Reviewed new Medicare plans and others. Told him that aarp and Caremark med D plans account for almost 85% of his Medicare business and he needs to write it for those patients. Dr agreed they are good candidates.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/3/2014	short discussion over lunch and told him youse OxyContin for the right patient and reviewed Maggie profile and showed him the conversions. Dr said ok and he just needs to remember using it. Discussed Butrans and nancy profile and asked him if he has patients currently on tramadol or hydrocodone that are in around the clock pain? Dr said all doctors do including himself. I are viewed the profile and conversions. Dr said he thinks its a great option and will remember to sue it when he's about to refill hydrocodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/3/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin every 12 hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia. Savings Cards Said Ok, no time to talk, leave info with Receptionist.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	6/3/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Let her know I'm leaving OxyContin, Butrans FPI's which have been upated recently. Left conversion titration guide for both products. Left Kathy patient profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/3/2014	Asked the doctor if a patient was on an oxycodone short acting if they needed atc opioid if he would convert them to OxyContin. Dr said no because OxyContin is still too expensive for most patients. We reviewed his commercial plans and using the coupons for his patients. Reviewed fair balance and limitations of use. Talked about Butrans dosing, titration and coupons available to commercial insured patients.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/3/2014	Good discussion about OxyContin today. Placed the conversion and titration guide in front of him and asked him to convert more patients that are on Percocet and are candidates for q12 dosing. Dr said he usually does that but finds that when converting from Percocet he needs to increase the dose of OxyContin because patients get analgesia from the Tylenol. I asked him to explain. Dr said if he's will have to go up one dose. If the patient is taking 40mg of Percocet, he might need to go to 60mg of OxyContin to make up for the lack of Tylenol. I told dr I understand but whatever dose he goes with he needs to dose it q12. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	6/3/2014	As dr walked past front desk area, told him I'm leaving OxyContin and Butrans FPIs for his review, changes to Black Box Warning. Also left FPIs and savings cards - which I told her should be given to all patients commercially insured or cash pay.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/3/2014	Attempted to discuss the OxyContin FDA draft guidance insight and dr told me he didn't have time for a discussion. Dr asked if I had one thing to tell him. I told him to convert patients from Percocet who need a dose adjustment to q12 OxyContin. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/3/2014	Spoke to the dr about OxyContin every 12 hour dosing and asked what kind of a 12 hour dosing for atc pain fits i to his practice. Dr said he doesn't write much opioids. He said it even the pain doctors are writing OxyContin any more. I asked why. He said they want to do injection blocks. Reviewed the savings program mentioned Butrans schedule 3 option for atc pain dosed weekly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	6/3/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12 hours, 7 tablet strengths, formulary coverage along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/3/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12 hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, no new info learned- font color=blueCHUDAKOB added notes on 06/12/2014- font=Mark, I am not sure who this is, but it sound like you made a new contact. Now, your challenge will be to provide her with the key product attributes that make her question why treating pain in 4-6 hr increments has another option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Reminder messages on your calls (based on your call notes) will most likely not produce sales growth.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Was speaking with Bonnie the office manager about Butrans and the experience kitten the doctor came into her office to day hello. Quick reminder of the delivery system and dosing schedule of both OxyContin and Butrans. Highlighted a few med d plans for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	6/4/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder Every 12hours along with formulary status and savings cards, Also reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said It will keep it in mind no further info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/4/2014	Told dr in hallway about using OxyContin and asked him if he finds himself in a situation with patients on Percocet who have been on it for at least 3 months? Dr said maybe two or three. I asked him to think of using OxyContin for those patients who present in pain or can't tolerate Percocet. Reviewed Kathy profile with dr and asked him if he would at least provide the option and overview of Butrans for appropriate patient? Dr said he
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44105	6/4/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Titration, 7 tablet strengths, Savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said he will consider for appropriate patients,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	6/4/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA approved Tier 1/3 labeling that describes abuse deterrent properties, Savings Cards, formulary status along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, formulary status, Savings cards Said ok will consider for appropriate patients, Asked for 1 patient, said he has 1 in mind,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Discussed the FDA insight. Reviewed any hesitations writing an oxycodone molecule for the appropriate patient. He said no, he said that dr buckek will start schedule two patients and he will continue their medication, change it, etc. the np will review medication changes together before Initiation in most cases he told me. His biggest problem is managed care he said with my products. We reviewed. We talked about the limitations of use for both products. It asked if he treats patients who are none acute with a short acting medication for atc pain. The doctor said hardly ever that he will convert someone to an extended release product. He said managed care dictates what he can or can not write usually. I told him what was going on with his new start Butrans patients and that I was concerned that something has changed from preventing him from writing Butrans I the appropriate patient. He said just managed care. He said he likes Butrans and think its right for the appropriate patient type. We talked the conversion. Guide, touched on opioid naive pain scores and reviewed fair balance. We talked about Butrans being schedule 3, I asked him if having a schedule 3 extended release option has made a difference in his practice. Dr said since he imitations with schedule 3 products him self and not schedule 2 products as a np, he said has found it a good option. Reviewed the experience program with him and all staff members. Worked with Lori the office manager on managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/4/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, formulary status and savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok will continue to find appropriate patients, Asked Diane for
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/4/2014	I asked Elise about her patient we discussed last time that was coming off oxycodone? Elise said the patient is doing fine and said the patient is dedicated to get off medicine. Elise said she done find good success with OxyContin and Butrans and like them both. Reviewed Kathy profile for Butrans, Maggie for oxycodan And asked her to find patient with similar profiles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	6/4/2014	I asked dr what is the primary type of pain he treats? Dr said he didn't have time to discuss right now. I told him that's ok and I understand. Told him to use OxyContin for patients already on oxycodone who need a dose adjustment and those on tramadol in the same situation for Butrans. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	6/4/2014	Visited pharm. requested George RPH- not able to talk, inquired about formulary. Dave B in patient pharmacy. OxyContin/Butrans utilization if any comes from Nickels
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Asked dr what he was doing with his osteoarthritis pain patient. Dr said he uses most non opioid. Dr said he does not like to write hydrocodone. Dr said Butrans makes a fit for patient. I reminded in fair balance and talked about dosing and titration. Hi lighted managed care. Dr did not want to talk about schedule two products. I did bring up the 12 hour dosing option of OxyContin but doctor changed the subject.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Spoke to the dr about atc pain. Dr agreed that Butrans and OxyContin are appropriate choices chronic pain patients who meet indication. Dr said that he will convert from Percocet to OxyContin if the patient needs atc pain. Dr said Butrans makes sense but was confused in managed care coverage. We talked about caresource, me do, IANs and a few commercial plans for Butrans. Focused on commercial plans for OxyContin. Reviewed intac guide of Butrans, dr said he was familiar with Butrans. We talked about titration and supplemental using the core visual aid as back up reference. Highlighted the oxycotin fpi in section 12.3 on the comparison of oxycodone to OxyContin. Dr was aware. Dr said he usually leaves the pits visits to Brian the np. Dr will Initiation patients. Reviewed the experience program. Gave fair balance. Talked about the warnings of respiratory depression and dose adjustments for elderly with OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	6/4/2014	Spoke to Lisa about ordering of OxyContin doses and explained them from the conversion and titration guide. I asked her if they see Percocet being refilled month after month? Lisa said yes all the time. She said that they have many patients on all types of short acting narcotics who just continue to have it refilled. I showed her the conversions for OxyContin and Butrans and told her its my biggest challenge. She said that I need to get to the family physicians because they are the ones who just tend to refill all the time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/4/2014	Quick hallway. Asked dr to consider Butrans for the male patient he just checked out who was sent home with a Tramadol script. When someone comes in, like this patient, and complains of daily, atc, pain - I hope you will consider if Butrans might be a more appropriate option with 7 days of buprenorphine release. 4 strengths to individualize dose. Updated on FPI including info contained in Black Box Warning on Neo Natal opioid withdrawal syndrome and section 2.2 - discussed titration and maintenance and ability to use two patches of 5 or 10 mcg/hr now; not to exceed max dose of 20 mcg/hr. That's great stated Dr. Then discussed Med D plans - when I stated avoid Humana and Wellpoint Med D - he says not to worry he has very few patients on either of those plans. Asked for business moving forward. He will keep in mind- font color=blueCHUDAKOB's query on 06/17/2014- font=Jenny, read this statement "I hope you will consider if Butrans might be a more appropriate option". Why would Butrans be a more appropriate option? Again, we cannot combine a Sug and 10ug patch. We have no indication for that - font color=greenBALLIE's response on 06/20/2014- font=My error, I should have been more clear and not write in "short hand" - I reviewed and read last paragraph, section 2.2 with doctor and showed him options when titrating Butrans - all within our FPI - I have never discussed anything NOT contained within the Butrans FPI. - font color=blueCHUDAKOB added notes on

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/4/2014	Quick hallway. Reminded Sarah of Butrans efficacy and pain reduction discussed last visit. Also shared "great news" - Section 2.2 of Butrans FPI regarding the ability to use two 5 mcg/hr or two 10 mcg/hr patches during titration/maintenance. Sarah was pleased with this information. Discussed her Med D patient population and Butrans preferred Med D status. Discussed avoiding Humana and Wellpoint Med D as neither of my products on formulary. Discussed update to Butrans FPI in Black Box Warning, neo natal opioid withdrawal syndrome/updated on same Black Box Info for OxyContin. OxyContin discussed when she has a Percocet or oxycodone patient with daily, atc, pain, who are not controlled on IR opioid - consider converting to OxyContin which provides 12 hours of oxycodone release in each tablet.CHUDAKOB's query on 06/17/2014jenny, words like more appropriate are comparative and we cannot make comparisons. What do we have to suggest that Butrans is a more appropriate option because it is every 7 day dosing?BALLIE's response on 06/20/2014-did not intend my call to sound like Butrans was "more appropriate" due to dosing schedule; however, I did discuss flexible dosing, with 4 strengths, and 1 patch worn every 7 days/4 patches per month. Again my "short hand" call notes need to be tweaked to be more reflective of accurate account of what was discussed; I will work on this moving forward.CHUDAKOB added notes on 06/21/2014Thank you. The key words are "accurate account"
PPLPMDL0020000001	Copley	OH	44321	6/4/2014	I showed dr the nancy profile for Butrans and reviewed it. I asked him if it makes answer for that patient to initiate Butrans? Dr said yes. I asked dr if he has patients with a similar profile? Dr said he does but it will cost them too much money to get Butrans. I asked him how he knows that and what is too much? Dr said its expensive and will consider it for his private insurance patients. I told him that's fine then and to use it there. Showed him the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and told him the only place I want him to use it is for patients already on oxycodone and need a dose adjustment and complaining of being in pain. Dr said ok. Nothing else
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	6/4/2014	Visited IM dept.(Dr. Kev.) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with formulary status
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	6/4/2014	I told dr about the oxycodone insight and asked him if he could identify just one patient already on IR oxycodone plain or Percocet who may be appropriate for q12 OxyContin? Dr said he will try. Dr said he has a Butrans patient he started who has a PA. I asked dr which plan and he couldn't remember. I asked him if the PA was approved, denied or pending? Dr said it is pending. I reviewed BWC, Caresource PA, UH Community plan, and new Medicare plans. I told him that almost 70% of his Medicare business comes from UHC aarp and Caremark Silverscript. Dr said that's good and said he didn't know about Caresource. I said that I have told him a number of times and to make a note of it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	The orth surgeon and discussed when he might use an extended release opioid and he said seldom. We talked about when a patients pain turned into a long term condition and they might be a candidate per our indication. Highlighted the Percocet patient and the option of OxyContin. Being dosed every 12 hours. Reviewed Butrans dosing and Initiation guide. Highlighted the coupons and a few selected managed care plans like medical mural and Caremark.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	6/4/2014	Saw Dr.in hospital Quick OxyContin reminder (every 12hours, formulary status along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok, Asked if I could make appt.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/4/2014	Quick hallway. Discussed patients who have been on IR Percocet and are at 2-3 IR pills daily, not controlled, and whom are now experiencing around the clock pain. Would 12 hours of oxycodone release be appropriate for these patients? This can be achieved by conversion to OxyContin. And, BWC, Medicaid with prior auth, Preferred status on most major Medicare D plans expect Humana and Wellpoint = so improved access for patients. Asked for business this week for both products for patients with daily, atc pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001				6/4/2014	Dr told me that he write two Butrans prescriptions today and one OxyContin. I asked him if they were refills or new patients? Dr said all new patients. Dr said both Butrans parents were taking hydrocodone and complaining of being in pain and not surgical candidates. Dr said the OxyContin patient was a new patient and wants more Percocet. Dr said that he finds that he needs to start the dose higher than what the normal conversion is. Dr said if the patient needs a 10mg OxyContin he will automatically start on 20mg so he won't have to give Percocet for breakthrough and get the full 12 hours. I told dr I understand and he said he doesn't use any 15 or 30mg doses. He will typically use 10, 20 and 40mg. I discussed the Maggie profile and the nancy profile for OxyContin and Butrans respectfully.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/4/2014	Christy the office manager had a booked waiting room, standing room Only and said for me to come back. I highlighted the delivery system of both products and the savings coupons
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	6/5/2014	Reviewed oxycodone insight and asked him how long he usually has patients in short acting products before turning to an extended release option. Dr said all depends on the patient. I asked him if a patient needed atc pain therapy if he thought OxyContin or Butrans were appropriate options. Dr said short acting products are cheaper for the patient. I highlighted a few areas of managed care and talked about the coupons for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	6/5/2014	Reviewed w/Joshua Rph OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia,Said Ok requested OxyContin Savings card
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/5/2014	Showed dr the nancy profile and the reasons for converting appropriate patients to Butrans. I asked dr to please continue finding patient appropriate. Dr said he is hearing good things from his patients on it. Dr said he is always trying to find ways to get his patients off multiple pills and said the week long patch is a good option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/5/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are not controlled on present therapy,Said Ok as always continuing to find appropriate patients, Said she has had a few PA issues, but couldnt recall particulars, asked to make a note for future reference

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	6/5/2014	Dr DeMicco leaves by 12 n on Thursdays now to go to Painesville office. Met with med asst at front desk. Updated her on changes to OxyContin and Butrans FPI, including addition to black box warning. Discussed appropriate patients for either product would be those with daily, around the clock pain, long term. Left FPIs, she will review w dr DeMicco in am, and have him call me w any questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/5/2014	I asked dr if he has a patient on 20mg of Percocet if they would be a good candidate for OxyContin? Dr said we discussed this the other day and said he does think they are good for OxyContin and said he's just doing opioid rotation. Dr said sometimes its good to mix it up and use different opioids because they all tend to work just a little differently. Dr said he has been getting good results with Butrans and is using it for his patients even on Percocet. I asked hi to just continue doing what he's doing and reminded him of the med D plans for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/5/2014	Met with head nurse on Pain Management Floor (Carla). Updated on both OxyContin and Butrans: revised FPI's, managed care status, savings cards; non branded items such as PAP journals.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/5/2014	Discussed the new OxyContin copay cards with Pat. Told him the old cards are valid for now but honored at the new up to $70 off. Patrick said they fill a fair amount and most comes from pain management. Reviewed Butrans copay cards, and patient type nancy review. Pat discussed a PA that came through for it yesterday and was filled out and approved. I asked for who and he said dr Azem in the falls.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/5/2014	Hallway. Met with nurse mgr Carla, left packet of information for Dr. Saeed. She will communicate all with Dr. Saeed and leave packet on his desk. Left a few PAP pain journals, left a few Butrans patient guides. Discussed both OxyContin and Butrans FPI's and new updates, including revised indication, addition to Black Box Warning; and section 2.2 for Butrans. Discussed BWC Ohio, Medicaid with prior auth, commercial formulary status for both OxyContin and Butrans. Discussed Paul Gawry issue with pharmacies not accepting Butrans trial/savings. Asked Carla to keep track and call me with any similar issues; so I can research and help them resolve.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/5/2014	Spoke with Glenn and dr Ali in the office today. I asked Glenn how things are going with OxyContin and Butrans with prior authorizations? Glenn said they haven't had any issues and have had a few patients get covered for Butrans on silverscript. I asked him if he knows how much the patient paid? Glenn said he doesn't but just knows there were no issues. Reminded him of plan coverages.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	6/5/2014	Lunch. Reviewed specific patient types for OxyContin. Patients with osteoarthritis back pain, who he determines have a daily, atc, need for ER opioid. Select 1 or 2 trusted patients for a trial, before referring to pain specialist. Initiating OxyContin for 14 days is also an option; commercial/cash pay can redeem savings every 14 days with 14-day script. Same molecule, ER delivery system. Does this sound reasonable? Yes, replied Dr. Butrans, also available for patients you determine have daily, atc pain. Asked Dr to think about patient like Scott who's on 4 Tramadol daily, pain not well controlled. This is the type of patient for whom I'd like you to trial Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/5/2014	Discussed updates to both product FPI's, scheduling, dosing. Asked for business the rest of this week and next week; regarding the patient types we discussed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablet strengths, formulary status along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider, feels patients are adequately controlled, referred to
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/5/2014	Visited Ortho Dept (Billfield,Stearns,Joy) OxyContin/Butrans initiation/titration along with formulary info
PPLPMDL0020000001				6/5/2014	Hallway. Repeated Percocet insight. Summarized our last call; and asked again, when he finds a percocet patient on 3-4 tablets daily, whose pain still uncontrolled, consider conversion to OxyContin, which will provide his patients with 12 hours of oxycodone delivery. Reminder of savings cards for cash/commercial patients. Butrans, Paul states he has had "push back" lately from more than one pharmacy NOT accepting the Butrans trial/savings card. I asked what pharmacy, he couldn't remember. I told him, in the future, call me right away and I will do some research and try to help resolve the issue. I told him I'd discuss w nurse mgr Carla and ask she call me as similar situations arise. Discussed updates to FPI, including black box warning, section 2.2 titration and maintenance. Asked for business today, remainder of week and next week - when patient (s) need daily, atc, ER opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	6/5/2014	Lunch. Although Cara doesn't have DEA license and has no interest in managing pain patients in near future. she likes to be presented updates on my products. Reviewed OxyContin, then Butrans verbatim indications, appropriate patients, opioid naive dose of 10 mg every 12 hours. Butrans, updated on verbatim indication, scheduling, strengths, and Section 2.2. in FPI on titration and maintenance. Discussed formulary access and savings for Lunch. PA-C Liz does NOT have her DEA license yet. She's unsure if she wants to manage pain meds in future. Updated on indication, scheduling, strengths, doses and opioid naive dose of 10 mg every 12 hours release of oxycodone. Discussed formulary status and savings for OxyContin. Discussed Butrans indication, scheduling, strengths, section 2.2 of FPI regarding titration and maintenance. Updated on formulary status, trial and savings.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/5/2014	Told dr about the oxycodone insight and told him he needs an option for those patients who complain about being in pain. Gave him the OxyContin confession and titration guide and asked if it makes sense in that situation to prescribe q12 OxyContin? Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans PI's, Initiation/Titration, no further info requested at this time, will keep contact info for future reference.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/5/2014	Lori the receptionist for dr Azems office told me she thinks they have another patient for Butrans. Lori said the patient has failed vicoden and then was placed on ER morphine and cam in earlier in the week complaining about not being able to tolerate it. Lori said that she gave the patient a Butrans patient information guide and spoke with dr about it. Dr said the patient seems like a good candidate. Dr came up to window and said she heard us talking about it and said she was impressed with Lori being proactive in thinking about Butrans. Dr said she agrees the patient is a good candidate. Lori said the patient has Medicare D and anthem secondary. I told dr I will follow up and reminded her about OxyContin as a good option for those on oxycodone who are either failing due to intolerability or efficacy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/5/2014	Led off discussion with dr about the oxycodone insight and identifying patients appropriate for the q12 oxycodone. I asked dr if he currently has patients who are on products like Percocet who have been on it for more than three months and taking at least 3 pills a day? Dr said many. I asked him what makes him diced to move to OxyContin? Dr said he will usually give patients the choice of moving up a dose of the IR or ER oxycodone. I asked him why he even gives them the option? Dr said he usually won't go more than 4-5 pills of any opioid but will sometimes go from 5mg Percocet to 7.5mg. I asked why not just convert to oxycodone? Dr said he probably should be doing more tof that. I asked why a patient in around the clock pain is kept on a 4-6 hour opioid? Dr said the q12 seems like its the right medicine. Dr said he sometimes doesn't do a 1:1 conversion from Percocet because if the patient is taking 20mg of Percocet and its not working he may start OxyContin at 15mg or 20mg instead of 10mg. Reviewed Butrans nancy profile and asked him if it makes sense to use Butrans at that point. Dr said it does and he has the conversion guide I gave him. Dr said he tries to remember but just can't. I asked dr to just remember the criteria for when a patient may be appropriate. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/5/2014	Led off with discussion about insights oxycodone and hydrocodone. I asked dr when he has a patient uncontrolled on oxycodone like Percocet or they can't tolerate it what does he do? Dr said he usually won't go over 4 pills a day. I asked him how he decides when to move to an ER option or refer. Dr said the same thing as dr Bachtel and said if its a patient he trusts and knows he will treat with an ER opioid. Otherwise he will refer out. I showed hi. The conversions from the MVA and told him the only difference is the delivery system of oxycodone. Dr told me it makes sense and will think about it more because he knows it has abuse deterrent characteristics. Reviewed the nancy profile and told him about patients appropriate for Butrans. I asked dr why he hasn't used it and if it makes sense? Dr said it does he just forgets about it. I gave him the conversion Slide guide and asked if he would keep it with him. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/5/2014	Short discussion about criteria for using OxyContin and Butrans. Reviewed Maggie profile and asked him if it makes sense to use OxyContin? Dr said it does and said he would have even used it earlier and started around 20-30mg dose. I told dr that's good to hear and showed conversion. I asked him if he can think of a few patients that would also be appropriate for the q12 oxycodone? Dr said he will try to find some. Discussed Butrans nancy profile and asked him what limitations does he see in using it more for patients with a similar profile to nancy? D said he will try to find a place because he does like patches. I asked him to remember tramadol and hydrocodone patients who he is considering a dose adjustment. Dr said ok. Discussed copay cards for both products and insurance coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/5/2014	(Tech Dana moved to FL) met with tech Julie. Left & discussed updates to black box warning OxyContin & Butrans FPLs. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	6/6/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, was behind, Booked appt for next week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/6/2014	Confirmed CII non Rx, said he will not RX any narcotics , Reminded of OxyContin along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia , Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/6/2014	Quick discussion in his office today. I asked dr if he has patients that are continuing on products like Percocet of hydrocodone? Dr said a few yes. I asked if they are taking them for acute or intermittent pain? Dr said no. They are all chronic. I asked why then are they being continued on short acting products? Dr said some are cost related and others have refused to go on ER products. I told dr that if cost is not a factor,he should set the expectation to the patients about the necessity to be on some type of ER opioid like OxyContin as long as they meet the indication. Dr agreed. I asked for more prescribing and to look for patients needing a dose adjustment on products like hydrocodone and to use Butrans. Reviewed conversions and asked him if he is at all apprehensive in using it? Dr said no. I asked then for him to write in the appropriate patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/6/2014	I told dr since he is retiring at the end of the month next week is the last opportunity he has to convert patients to OxyContin or Butrans. Dr asked why. I told him he won't have an opportunity to follow up with the patient after next week. Dr said ok. Reviewed conversions of OxyContin and asked why he can't find at least one patient that meets the criteria we have discussed? Dr said he will. I showed him the nancy profile and read over the reasons for appropriate patients to be converted to Butrans. Dr asked about dosing again and asked about cost to Medicare patients? I reviewed the new file card and dr said he's impressed. I asked dr if there is any reason why he won't start a Butrans patient? Dr said he will remember to do it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/6/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary review, Initiation/Titration along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said he continues to find appropriate patients for Butrans, doesn't RX many CII's but will keep in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/6/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	6/6/2014	Reminded of OxyContin Q12 every 12, 7 tablet along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/6/2014	Dr said he only had a second. I showed him the OxyContin 10mg page and asked him to identify patients on lower doses of Percocet who are in pain or can't tolerate it and convert them to OxyContin. Dr said ok. Asked him if he knows if the Butrans prescription he wrote recently was pushed through based on a PA needed? Dr said he thinks so but is not sure. Dr told me to check with the office manager. Office manager was in a meeting.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/6/2014	Told dr to stay focused on patients who tell him they want more IR opioids because of increasing pain. Have him the Butrans nancy profile and asked him to review. Dr said ok nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/6/2014	I asked dr if he has used any of his BEP kits? Dr said he doesn't remember what they are. I showed him one of the kits and reminded him. Dr said he has not used them yet. I reminded dr about them and who they are intended for and the up to 550 Amex card. Dr said ok. Asked dr to identify patients who asked for more IR opioid and are still in pain.. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/6/2014	Told dr he needs to be converting patients in pain around the clock taking an IR opioid like Percocet to OxyContin. I showed him the conversions and he told me that again its too expensive. I told him its too bad that cost is such a big issue for him. D said it is. I told him he must not have ANY patients with private prescription insurance. No comment from dr. Reminded him to use more Butrans for tramadol patients needing a dose adjustment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/6/2014	Discussed act dosing and the doctor said he has patients taking short acting products act that meet the indication for both Butrans and OxyContin. I asked what his hesitation was writing an extended del release product. Dr said managed care and that OxyContin was schedule two. I said what about schedule, he said its more abuseable. I went thru limitations of use and fair balance of abuse potential and respiratory depression. Talked about every 12 hour dosing and the 7 strengths. Dr said he was not yet comfortable writing Butrans. We talked about the opioid. Is e patient. Dosing titration. Covered managed care. Dr said he promise dr o write it but he still needs to get comfortable with the dosing and the managed care coverage. Dr said patients won't take medications that are more ten ten dollars. I focused on commercial plans and our savings cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	6/6/2014	No said she doesn't have any interest in writing g OxyContin. I asked why. She said she hunk's those drugs are dangerous. I said what drugs opioids? She said yes. Said so you don't write any hydrocodone or oxycodone products. She said she write them but seldom. She said that dr stokes will start a patient and she may do the refills. We talked about the fair balance of abuse potential and limitations of use. Talked about Butrans dosing and limitation guide. Talked about the molecule being single entity, talked about no dose reduction for elderly or renal impaired patients. Np would not commit to writing Butrans or OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/6/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said He continues to see dr.'s patients do well on Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/6/2014	Began discussion with asking dr if he currently has patients coninuing on short acting products that are refilled each month for pain? Dr said he does. I asked him if any of those patients are in pain around the clock pain and how would you explain what around the clock pain is? Dr said around the clock pain is when the patient wakes up at night in pain and the pain firsts activities of daily living. I asked dr if he would ever put a total daily dose of opioid on what around the clock pain is? Dr said he would not. I told dr for us to focus on those patients he just described. Dr said he would classify them as chronic. Examined that he has two viable options for ER opioids when a patient as he explained asks for more opioids due to increasing pain and they are OxyContin and Butrans. Showed dr the conversions of Percocet to OxyContin and told him that OxyContin is oxycodone in a 12 hour delivery system and its a single entity opioid. Dr agreed and said he will try to convert more patients. Described Butrans for patients naive to opioids, need more tramadol or hydrocodone. Discussed nancy profile in depth and explained new MediCare coverage. Dr said he thinks its a great option and said he had a patient yesterday that wanted more tramadol and gave the patient tramadol ER because he didn't want to give more pills and said it would have been a good Butrans candidate. I agreed and just asked him to use it clinically in similar situations.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/9/2014	Reviewed with Jag Rph) OxyContin Q12h along with Butrans for those appropriate patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok also left Butrans Patient info booklets to distribute appropriately, Said he will.

PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	6/9/2014	Reviewed both reasons for conversion to Butrans and OxyContin. Used the nancy profile to discuss the reason to initiate Butrans for an appropriate patient. Focused dr on lack of efficacy of current product, tolerability of current product, patients with difficulty swallowing, and once a week dosing. Dr said he really liked those points and will remember. Discussed nancy profile and asked for business. Discussed that 75% of his Medicare business comes from UHC aarp and silverscript. Reviewed plans from new file card. Discussed Caresource PA as he stated he's seeing more. Discussed his ability to reevaluate patients continuing on Percocet and the appropriateness to converting them in a 1:1 ratio.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	6/9/2014	Asked doctor how he thought about OxyContin as an opti for those appropriate patients. Dr said he thinks for the right patient is a good choice. I highlighted the managed care and coupons. Talked about the experience program for Butrans and highlighted the dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	6/9/2014	Spoke with Tom Lamb and discussed OxyContin doses and appropriate patients. Explained new copay cards and difference with old ones. Tom said they continue to see prescriptions and most patients they see are Medicare. Discussed Medicare plan coverage. I told Tom that the last time I spoke with Jason he said they have about 4-6 patients on Butrans. Tom said that's about right. I showed him the new Medicare flashcard and explained coverages. Tom said hopefully that will increase prescriptions in that population due to lower costs.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/9/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans formulary grid and Initiation/Titration, Said Ok will continue to find appropriate patients for Butrans, reiterated no change on CII's.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/9/2014	Amanda drs MA got me to see dr at front counter. I told dr that I wanted him to focus on reevaluating his patients continuing on Percocet for possible OxyContin conversion. Dr said ok. I told him that I wanted to stress the Butrans Medicare D coverage and discussed plans. I asked hi. If that will make an impact on his ability to prescribe? Dr said it should. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/9/2014	I showed dr the OxyContin conversion guide and told him to reassess patients already on oxycodone like Percocet and convert them when they need a dose adjustment. Dr said ok. I asked hi. If he's doing that? Dr said he is. Spoke with Marsha and she told me he has many patients continuing on Percocet who she thinks may be good for OxyContin. I asked her to please impress that on him and reviewed conversions with her. Gave him the nancy profile for Butrans and told him to also convert those patients on hydrocodone who are still in pain and convert them to Butrans. Nothing else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/9/2014	Told dr at window that I would like him to continue to reevaluate each of his Percocet patients for their appropriateness for q12 oxycodone. I showed him the conversions from Percocet and asked if he will continue? Dr said he will and said that they now have a pain management group affiliated with AGMC. I told him I hard about it. Dr said he's going to try and refer more chronic pain patients to the pain management group. I asked if he feels comfortable enough converting Percocet patients to OxyContin? Dr said it depends on the patient but will do some. I reminded dr about using Butrans for those that fail tramadol and Hydrocodone due to efficacy or safety.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Heights	OH	44118	6/9/2014	Window call OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, refers to pain mgmnt, Will keep contact info, no further contact requested at this Quick review of OxyContin formulary grids along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he continues to prescribe OxyContin for appropriate patients but hasnt prescribed Butrans, asked why? said not sure, no time, No further info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	6/10/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12 hours with FDA labelling Tier 1/3 that discusses abuse deterrent properties, for appropriate patients, Along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia. Formulary grids, Initiation/Titration. Said she will consider because she is not having success in sending patients to pain mgmnt. Reiterated both products have the same abuse potential as other CII's and CIII's. Asked if she had a patient in mind this afternoon, she responded that maybe not today but later in the week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	6/10/2014	Last minute lunch appointment and discussed drs current patients on Butrans, Scott profile and reasons for conversion for appropriate patients to Butrans. Medicare D insurance coverage, and patient information sheets. Dr said his patients are doing very well with Butrans and said he has recently titrated a patient from 5mcg to 10mcg. Shar said that she likes the new patient information sheets and was just looking of them yesterday. Dr said that he tends to forget about patients who can't tolerate their current short acting narcotic and will remember that. I asked dr for continued use of Butrans. Discussed OxyContin FDA draft guidance insight and tiers for OxyContin. Dr said he has patients continuing on it and is glad to know the FDA is working hard to help companies make abuse deterrent products. I asked dr to look for patients already on Percocet who may be appropriate for the q12 dosing of oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2014	Saw dr at window. Told the doctor I was looking to out a Butrans program together for the westlake area on a Wednesday and I would remind when once I've solidified the details. I asked if he had any hesitations writing a every 12 hour extended release opioid this month. Dr said no. I reenforced his choices to use OxyContin for the appropriate patient type and reminded him to use the coupons. Bonnie he office manager asked about details of managed care. I highlighted a few and discussed coupons of experience program in more detail. She said the dr does hand out the coupons. I asked if the front check out ever double checks when they leave and she said no.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2014	Nurse got me back to see the doctor in the hallway. Discussed the importance of identifying that appropriate pain patient for OxyContin and/or Butrans, highlighted Initiation dosing. And abuse potential. He asked about managed care and if you could supplement with short acting products along with Butrans. I confirmed that answer for both products. Dr said he would keep the information in mind. I suggested he come to a future program, he said it would depend on the day of the week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia. Savings cards, Part D formulary status, said he has a few patients doing well, and will continue to find appropriate patients. Said to book appt to further discuss. Terrah will be back on Mon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/10/2014	Discussed dosing of OxyContin and if anything was holding him back from writing it this month in his appropriate patients and asked if there was anything I could do to address any issues or concerns. Dr said he has patients on OxyContin but nominee new in a while. I asked how is he treating patients that need a longer delivery system? Dr said he has been referring out. I highlighted two extended release options and dosing for both OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said hasn't found the right person for Butrans yet. Reviewed the Scott profile and I highlighted the caresource managed care coverage. Dr left for the hospital and didn't stay. Highlighted med d coverage such as aarp and silver scripts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/10/2014	Told dr the insight about tramadol and reviewed the Scott profile. Discussed the reasons for converting an appropriate patient to Butrans from the Scott profile. I asked dr what the preference for once a week dosing might mean to a patient of his in pain on tramadol? Dr said he understands why Butrans would be a good option. I reminded dr again of the new Medicare plan coverage for Butrans and then reviewed it along with Caresource PA criteria with his new secretary Melissa and mrs Vora. I asked dr to also take another look at his patients he is refilling on Percocet and the patients that may be available for q12 dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44107	6/10/2014	Ccf location that does not allow reps to see the doctor and will only take coup s and literature for the doctor. Spoke to the ma at the window and highlighted the product am their scheduling and dosing schedule.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/10/2014	Met w office coordinator Gina, who completes all prior auths for practice. She asked for more OxyContin cards, as she had patient last week that Gina inherited from Dr. Dewes. He lives in Garfield Hts. His Pharmacy: Giant Eagle. Let her know that's not in my territory; but I'm happy to drop off in Garfield Hts.. She stated she would mail card to male patient. She had to complete prior auth for this patient who is covered on CVS Caremark. Told her in future, I don't mind dropping cards off to specific pharmacy. Presented packet of info, including Butrans, OxyContin cards for Dr. Dewes, FPIs, Butrans Med D grid, etc. Left Butrans Med D grid/FPI for all HCP's in practice. Denise really likes the OxyContin patient essentials kits, so I left with Dr. Laham. She will keep a few in her drawer for OxyContin new starts. We went through all 3 items in essentials kit. She was appreciative of Butrans Med D grid, states a grid like this is very helpful to her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2014	Candy drs wife and rn was upfront. After small talk I highlighted Butrans as scheduling and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2014	Saw Daniel. Highlighted managed care with both products and dosing. Reviewed coupons

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/10/2014	Told dr that I want him to keep a few things in mind about Butrans when he's in a room with a patient complaining of being in pain around the clock. Reviewed the Scott profile and the 4 reasons why a patient may be appropriate for conversion to Butrans. Dr said he will think about those things and said he had a patient die last week and said he thought they may have been on Butrans. Dr looked it up on his computer and said the patient was NOT on Butrans. Asked dr for continued use of the product and look for the right criteria for an appropriate candidate. Told dr since he has told me previously that he has patients continuing on Percocet. I asked for conversion to OxyContin where appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans PI/ Initiation/Titration guides. Dr. said he will keep info and contact if further info requested

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	6/10/2014	Met with med asst at front desk. Discussed both my products as options for daily, atc, pain. Discussed OxyContin scheduling and every 12 hr dosing. Discussed formulary status & patient savings. Discussed Butrans scheduling, 4 strengths, trial, savings card and. 1x week or 4x month transdermal delivery.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/10/2014	Spoke with dr Azem and Darlene about the patient who just received Butrans last week after failing two products. Dr said the patient was able to get Butrans the same day and had no issues with cost or PA. Dr said she has been very pleased with how easily her patients are able to get Butrans. I reviewed the new aarp and Caremark silverscript plans with flashcard and Darlene it will make her job much easier knowing that these plans are now preferred. Reminded dr that OxyContin is a good choice for patients already on oxycodone who need a dose adjustment. Dr said ok but doesn't have many patients on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	6/10/2014	Discussed dosing options with both OxyContin and Butrans. Highlighted the scheduling and abuse potential risks. Asked what happens if a patient tries to fill an OxyContin or Butrans and has insurance card. He said he might have the. Return the next day to check Ors if they are a new patient. Discussed patch placement of Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/10/2014	Dr said no one wants to be given OxyContin because of the name stigma. Dr said it was still a very good pain medication and dr asked me how it was re formulated. I gave him the reformulation and updated label marketing piece. We talked mostly about what it means to have atc pain. Dr agreed that he should consider Butrans as a first line opioid for atc pain. I talked fair balance abuse potential. And talked about the dose reductions for the elderly and renal impaired patient via the OxyContin fpi. Talked about single entity and what types of patients he has that would use an opioid that was single entity. We talked about Butrans caresource coverage and dosing.dr said he will refer to dr douaud at the ccf and dr chan at ccf. Dr said he will keep our products in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/10/2014	Dr told me she wanted the 10 second version. I told her to write more OxyContin for her continuing Percocet patients who may need a dose adjustment and Butrans for those who are failing tramadol or Norco due to efficacy or tolerability. I showed her the placebo Butrans patch and asked for her to try it. Dr said ok and well done.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/10/2014	I began conversation by giving him the oxycodone insight. I then asked him if he can remember when the last time a patient asked him for OxyContin? Dr said he can't remember. I asked him what his patients do ask for when it comes to pain. Dr said he doesn't see too many patients for chronic pain but he hears about vicoden and Percocet. I asked him why it's ok for patients to get Percocet but not OxyContin? Dr said it's probably the name for him and his patients. Reviewed tiers for OxyContin and FDA draft guidance insight. I asked him to consider just one patient to convert from Percocet. Dr said ok. Told him to not forget about Butrans the schedule 3 7 day transdermal patch. Dr said he will. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	6/10/2014	Quick 10 seconds as dr krishnan leaving for day. I want to leave you with this question and will follow up next time: how to you define around the clock pain? and does Butrans make sense when you determine a patient is presenting with ATC pain? Ok says dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	6/10/2014	Quick hallway. Med D Baby Boomers insight. Wow, that's a lot of people replied Dr. Laham. Exactly, and your patients will need access to certain branded products; especially ER opioids. Showed Butrans Med D grid: great information stated Dr.Laham. Asked Dr today and through the week, keep Butrans top of mind with 65 and over population - before Tramadol or after Tramadol. Discussed OxyContin for patients who can't tolerate a transdermal, you've got OxyContin which is every 12 hour release of Oxycodone; same Med D access as Butrans. Avoid: Wellpoint, Humana, Coventry/Advantra Rx. Dr states it's important to him to know where we aren't covered as well. Makes things easier for him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	6/10/2014	Spoke with Denise and Catherine about OxyContin prescriptions they are seeing from the hospital and outside of pain management. Catherine said they stock all 7 doses and tend to see most from dr Ali and sable. I discussed conversions and patients appropriate for the q12 dosing of oxycodone. Denise said that she is continuing To see Butrans from Chonko. I askd if they are new and she said she filled a new one last week. I discussed the new Medicare coverage for Butrans and the Cathy profile. Catherine said they have all doses of Butrans and are seeing more prescriptions recently.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	6/10/2014	Lunch. Total office call. Discussed Percocet patients on 2-4 Percocet prn. Asked dr to re assess those patients, and consider OxyContin delivery of oxycodone every 12 hrs. If patients want to add aap - they can do so. One of his med assts asked for OxyContin cards, as they were all out, make patient coming back in to pick up. Told them next time they can call me & I'd be happy to drop at patients pharmacy. Updated on Medicaid, BWC, Commercial, Med D. Dr will keep in mind & agreed to keep closer eye on Percocet refills. Butrans, discussed Scott profile. Dr brought up AE at this time, told him I would need to report. Several patients complaining of skin irritation, rash at Butrans sites. Discussed since every patient is different, for those patients that tolerate Butrans, will he today & this week, continue to use Butrans after Tramadol? Yes responded dr - I love Butrans he stated. Updated med assts on Butrans formulary status. Left Butrans Med D Grid. Made med assts aware of July UHC prior auth requirement for all oral opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/10/2014	Spoke with Glenn in the pain management center and discussed the OxyContin prescriptions from Ali and sable. Glenn said they are the two along with Kim kaineck who are using it the most. I asked if he is doing as many PAs for it as Butrans? Glenn said they do a fair amount because insurance doesn't want to pay for branded ER opioids. Glenn said the get most through insurance and that Tara helps him a lot with that. I asked if he has had any denials for Butrans recently and if he has any for me? Glenn said they have had good success recently and doesn't nizo he has any because Tara is able to get most through. I discussed the new Medicare coverage for Butrans and Glenn said they are seeing a few go through without a problem.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/11/2014	Discussion in his office about taking the extra second while in an exam room to identify a patient for OxyContin and Butrans. I asked dr if he knows what to look for from a patient that would make them suitable for either OxyContin or Butrans? Dr said he knows. I asked him what they are? Dr said OxyContin for Percocet patients needing a long acting opioid, Butrans for patients taking or wanting more than 3 pills a day. I told dr to focus on patients like Scott and reviewed the profile. Dr said he will do it.

Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Will be speaking in Las Vegas in Sept on Buprenorphine, Inquired about Butrans CCF formulary status
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Formulary/Savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will continue to support for appropriate patients, He will be leaving Tausig Palliative Med Team and be heading the Ctr of Neurological Ctr of Pain. Asked to follow up with appt request when transitioned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44118	6/11/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings Cards and Formulary grids, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/11/2014	Dr told me she didn't have time to talk so I asked her to just please write an OxyContin prescription and to remember to start Butrans when she knows the patient is in pain around the clock and told her we have discussed what that means to her. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans with Dept. (Goforth, Peralia, Faiman, Savings Cards and Formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/11/2014	spoke to virgina the RN in charge for Dr. Raslan. She said its hard to see the doctor, so wouldn't let me. we talked about butrans and its scheduling, also talked about the oxycodone molecule and delivery system of Oxycontin. She told me to see if maybe when he is in lakewood once a month that i can come in the morning to bring a snack of some sort.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/11/2014	Reminded on that percocet patient who is currently on short acting but needs the option for atc pain coverage and meets the indication for Oxycontin. Discussed using the coupons for commercial insured. Reminded of the caresource coverage for Butrans and the dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/11/2014	Talked about the molecule of Oxycontin and asked him if a patient were on percocet but needed an extended release product if Oxycontin was the next choice. Dr said yes yet he said managed care wants them to write other things before Oxycontin. Highlighted commercial plans for both Oxycontin and Butrans. I asked why he was so hesitant to write butrans. He said he just doesn't want to write another new opioid. I said I understood and that its really about the right patient and the right option for them. I said to keep in mind- Butrans is schedule 3 and dosed weekly started at 5mg or 10mcg depending what they were on before. he said ok and walked away.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/11/2014	Told dr that I want him to take an extra second with his parents complaining of pain around the clock to find out if OxyContin or Butrans would be a variable option. Dr said he's trying and knows he needs to nick of Butrans for his patients on ultram and OxyContin for those he's not willing to refer to pain management. I told him to focus on patients whom are already on an IR opioid like Percocet. Dr said ok. I gave him the Scott profile and the OxyContin conversion guide.
	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/11/2014	Breakfast. Although Dr. is cardiovascular dr, he states he writes for pain once in a while. He asked if he can still write on his own or if he needs to refer patient to pain specialist. I replied as long as he continues with his DEA license to write scheduled products, he's ok. There are other things he must incorporate such as OARRS, urine screens, etc. I left and discussed Med 80 guidelines and OARRS flashcard. Also discussed around the clock pain, lowest effective dose and OxyContin every 12 hours dosing and Butrans, buprenorphine, 1x week transdermal, 7 days of buprenorphine release. CIII. 8 application sites, 20 mcg hr max dose. Black box warning discussed both products. Dr thanked me for information and stated very helpful to him moving forward.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/11/2014	Spoke with Dale the pharmacist and Sean the tech. Discussed Butrans and the Scott profile. I asked dale about his knowledge and dispensing of the product. Sean told me that they had a prescription in on Monday who needed to have the 10mcg filled and they didn't have it in stock. Sean said the ordered it and got 4 boxes of the 10mcg in yesterday. I asked if the patient has picked it up yet and dale said he has not. I explained the conversion guide for Butrans and appropriate starting dose and titration. Dale asked about using opioids for breakthrough. I explained the use of opioids and non opioid analgesics for breakthrough pain. Discussed OxyContin doses and asked about dispensing. Dale said most are from pain management but do not see many new prescriptions. Finished by reviewing copy cards for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	6/11/2014	Reminded John RPH of OxyContin/Butrans, Initiation/Titration, formulary grids and savings Cards, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/11/2014	Breakfast. Asked Dr what her definition of ATC pain is? She replied when patients continue to complain and request refills at each visit? Discussed re assessing those patients on IR opioids such as Percocet, who keep complaining. If we provided an ER opioid such as OxyContin every 12 hours, earlier, might that help prevent continued complaining from patients? Does this make sense? Yes, I see what your'e saying stated doctor. Discussed START principles. If patients request an IR opioid or non opioid for "breakthrough" pain, that's at your discretion. Showed how to write, when she titrates in order - dose increase is 25-50%. Reminded of $70 cards. She asked about Medicaid? Medicaid with prior auth discussed. Also BWC, Med D, Commercial. Butrans - discussed Pam profile as a patient who would be appropriate for 5 mcg hr Butrans or 10 mg OxyContin. Discussed clinical trials for elderly both products. Dr asked: what do I screen for? I responded buprenorphine and left her urine screen flashcard. Showed Butrans demo patch. She appreciated information. Kept checking in, does this make sense? Dr asked about skin irritation, replied with data from clinical trials for Butrans. She was satisfied with data. Showed section 2.2 of Butrans FPI, can call/fax into patients. this could save you and staff time. Dr agreed. Left urine screen card, OARRS flashcard and Med D updates with Debbie who completes 90% of the practice prior auths.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/11/2014	Breakfast. (note: Dr leaving 6/24 for about 1 month out of country) Found out that her definition of ATC is same as dr Chteingardt. It's not based on Number of IR opioids a patient is taking; it's the constant complaining and asking for refills. To help resolve this, asked her to consider conversion to different delivery system, same molecule, just dosed every 12 hours with OxyContin. this made sense to her she says. Discussed START principles and Pam profile. This is patient who could be started on OxyContin 10 mg or Butrans which we will discuss next. Discussed clinical studies for Med D or patients over age 65. Transitioned to Butrans. Pam is someone who is opioid naive and would be started at 5 mcg hr. Patients like Pam in our clinical trials, were able to tolerate, and be titrated on Butrans if necessary. Discussed renal and hepatic dosing per FPI. Discussed screening for buprenorphine. Updated on Med D status. Discussed UHC Commercial prior auth requirement starting July 1 with Debbie, who handles 90% of the prior auth s for their practice. Asked Dr to keep both my products in mind for patients with ATC pain. She will keep in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/11/2014	Discussed the patient type currently on Percocet and the conversion to Oxycontin every 12 hours. Gave fair balance of abuse potential. highlighted the coupons for Oxycontin and Butrans. Talked about dosing Butrans and using coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/11/2014	Discussed how they handle opioids being dispensed at their location. Pharmacist said they usually will check on a new patient but not if its a refill patient. Hilighted abuse potential of Oxycontin and Butrans. Reviewed dosing and scheduling.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/11/2014	reminded of the 12 hour dosing with Oxycontin, but if he felt they would do better and were appropriate for a product dosed weekly he has the option of Butrans and both products have coupons for commercial insured
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/11/2014	Spoke with both dr Fouad and Dr Wynne in stow about UHC PA effective July for all ER opioids. Dr Fouad said its already difficult and this just makes it more frustrating. I told him that I'm telling him so he can tell his patients so they are not surprised when the time comes. I asked dr to continue to identify the patients who are appropriate for conversion to OxyContin like those who are already on oxycodone. I asked him to not g against the grain with another molecule for a schedule 2 opioid. Dr said he really likes what OxyContin offers. I asked him to tell me a couple of things that he likes? Dr said it works, its tolerable, its abuse deterrent and likes the dosing. I told hi. That's great to hear. Reminded him to also continue identifying the patients on tramadol or Norco who need a dose adjustment and give them Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/11/2014	Quick call and asked dr identify patients under Medicare age for Butrans who come to him continuing on Norco who plain about being in pain around the clock and who are NOT candidates for injection or another type of intervention. Dr said he has one on Monday who was 55 and failing Norco. Dr said he started on Butrans 10mcg. Asked dr to also continue using OxyContin for those already on the molecule and would be appropriate for the q12 dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/11/2014	Told dr about the UHC pa coming in July for all ER opioids. Dr said that stinks and hopes that many of their patients don't have to go through that. Dr said that the stow office doses all their own prior authorizations now and its going to make things even more difficult. I told her I understand and told her to reach out if she has questions. Reminded her to identify the right patients for OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said she has had to take on many of dr Balters patients and is writing a lot of OxyContin. Dr said she needs to keep Butrans in mind. Told her to look for Norco patients who complain of pain and gave her the Medicare D formulary grid.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/13/2014	Spoke with Glenn the staff pharmacist and Tara about the UHC PA effective July 1. Discussed why UHC is requiring it and it excludes Butrans. Explained Optum Rx as PBM and they can get the pa form there. Glenn said they use cover my meds and they can get it there. Glenn said its good that it excludes Butrans and asked why? I told him I didn't know and he said they will switch there patients to Butrans. He laughed and Tara said thanks for letting them know especially for OxyContin. I told them its for ALL ER/LA opioids and they will only need to complete it once for a year.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/13/2014	Quick review of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said ok now new info learned, Asked Judy RN for lunch appt cancellations,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/13/2014	Caught dr in hallway after speaking with Glenn. I told him I just want to make sure he is continuing to have success with finding candidates for Butrans and OxyContin? Dr said he likes Butrans and doesn't use much OxyContin. I asked dr to please look for patients needing a dose adjustment on Norco for Butrans and an adjustment on Percocet for OxyContin. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	6/13/2014	Spoke with dr about using OxyContin just once for a patient already on oxycodone. I told dr about the oxycodone insight and asked if he could identify just one patient whom he wouldn't refer to pain management and would meet the indication for q12 dosing? Dr said he will try. I asked dr to at least try Butrans because he said he would and that was a month ago. Dr said ok and said he will try it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	6/16/2014	I showed dr the Scott profile for Butrans and told him to remember 2 things about appropriate patient selection. One is to use Butrans when efficacy with their current medications like tramadol and Percocet provide insufficient analgesia and two for those same patients who can't tolerate those medicines. I told dr if he sticks to those two things it will help him identify the right patients. I asked him to also not hesitate to use OxyContin for those already on oxycodone like Percocet. Dr said ok and thanked me for the reminders.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	6/16/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours,formulary grids along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, UHC/AARP and Silverscripts formulary status, Said Ok, Asked for that 1 appropriate patient. 	Akron	OH	44312	6/16/2014	Led off discussion about the OxyContin insight and asked him if he has any of those patients in his practice? Dr said he does and set up a hypothetical patient in to see him wanting OxyContin. I asked dr when the last time he had a patient asking for OxyContin? Dr said he's not sure. I told him I'm guessing its been a long time. Dr agreed. I asked him why it's ok to write and refill IR oxycodone but not the ER oxycodone? Dr said because when he writes ER products all it does is crate problems. I asked if he has problems with patients continuing to get IR products? Dr said some yes. I told dr he's going to have to get over IR vs ER and he has to at least provide the ER oxycodone option for patients needing dose adjustment on the IR oxycodone. Dr said ok. Discussed Butrans appropriate patient types, Scott profile along with Kathy profile. I asked dr what his hang up is with Butrans? Dr said he doesn't have one. I asked him why he's not writing it because he admitted having patients like Scott and Kathy? Dr said ok and he will try. Discussed new Medicare and coverage and how important the Medicare business is to his practice.

	Akron	OH	44333	6/16/2014	Quick hello in hallway while talking with Linda about UHC PA. Dana said she write a Butrans prescription recently and said the patient was happy to hear about a pain medicine that's not a pill. Dana said that it was an older patient that didn't want more pills and had bad low back. I told Dana that's good news and I'm glad she chose Butrans. I asked for continued prescribing and asked her to also remember to use OxyContin when a patient is in pain on Percocet. Dana said thanks and she will.

	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/16/2014	I asked Kathy who is dr Mell's secretary to speak with dr for a second. Kathy said he has a minute before his next patient. I handed dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and asked him what his thoughts are on who is appropriate for OxyContin. Dr said while looking at the conversions from Percocet that it makes the most sense to start there. I told him I'm glad to hear that and asked him if he can think of any patients on his schedule this week that may not b controlled or can't tolerate the Percocet? Dr said possibly and he will look. I handed him the Scott profile for Butrans and told him that to a product that may be appropriate for patients like Scott and reviewed profile. Dr said he has used it once. I asked if the patient is still on it? Dr said he thinks so. I asked him if he will write more for patients like Scott? Dr said he will keep it on his desk to help him remember it.CHUDAKOB added notes on 07/04/2014You can't see him if you don't ask! You did! Nice job!!!

	Akron	OH	44312	6/16/2014	Led off discussion with dr about the oxycodone insight and asked him if he's concerned with that statistic? Dr said he is concerned because he sees it in his practice. Dr said he had a patient just this morning demand IV dialuadid and said its right to be given what she desires. Dr said he told her no way and the patient said she will go somewhere else. Dr said he hoed she did because he doesn't like treating chronic pain because the patients are crazy. I told him to initiate ER opioids sooner in patients that are appropriate. Told dr they are appropriate when they meets the indication and are failing their current therapy and been non it for at least three months. Dr said he agrees and said OxyContin is off the table for him but will work hard to write more Butrans. Discussed Butrans patient types, dosing,when to initiate and why,titration and use of products for breakthrough pain. Dr said he will try to look for a few ultram patients and has a couple in mind that we motivated and on the starlight and narrow and trusts them, Quick hit thru window, reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, Butrans formulary Part D update along with Patient info booklets, Said Ok will keep it in mind. Left appt request with Audrey to further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	6/16/2014	I told dr that I wanted to follow up quickly from our discussion over lunch last week. I asked him if he has patients on OxyContin currently? Dr said he does. I asked him if their pain is controlled? Dr said they are but some use Percocet for breakthrough. I asked if the patients know to dose it at 8am and 8pm? Dr sad he thinks so. I asked him if he would identify just one patient this week on Percocet who would meet the indication for OxyContin? Dr said ok. Told dr to keep two things in mind for Butrans. Lack of efficacy on products like tramadol or Norco and intolerance on those products. Dr asked if he can use Butrans for his Percocet failures? I told him he can and showed him the conversions but asked why he wouldn't just convert those to OxyContin? Dr said he just wants the option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	6/16/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he is sending patients to Pain mgmnt if ER are needed, Practice is declining but will keep in mind
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/16/2014	Led off discussion with oxycodone insight and asked him if it concerns him? Dr said it does. Asked him to please set expectations with his patients on how the management of their pain is going to be early on as a patient. I told dr that if he doesn't at least offer an ER option and make them understand how it might be appropriate than he will continue to have the same complaints about his patients in chronic pain which is they are a pain! Dr agreed he needs to do that and some do complain of cost and it may not be an option. I agreed that it may not fit everyone's financial needs. Dr said he has had varying success with OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said he feels more comfortable using Butrans because its a patch and the dosing is low. Dr said he knows its tough to get a patient into pain management and it make take up to 3-4 months. Dr said he will try to look for patients like Scott and Kathy ore often and try to convert patients on Percocet to OxyContin not in if necessary due to efficacy or pill count. I asked dr to continue prescribing.

	Akron	OH	44310	6/17/2014	Spoke with dr about continuing to identify patients for Butrans like Scott and Kathy. Reviewed profiles with him. Dr said its crazy in some cases to get branded opioids approved through insurance and said he had a patient on Exalgo for about a year and insurance said they won't approve it anymore and wanted him to give the patient dialuadid. Discussed the UHC commercial plan PA with Shar and dr and that it excluded Butrans. Dr said its ok because he just tends to refill a few patients on OxyContin and doesn't write new. I asked him to convert the appropriate patients to OxyContin from IR oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/17/2014	Gave the doctor the EX primary care insight. Dr said she just doesn't see much chronic pain. I said i bet those doctors thought the same thing huh, she smiled. I said doctor i bet i could come up with ten doctors this year that would be appropriate for either oxycotin or butrans. But i really just want you to focus on one. The right one. Dr said she tried to write butrans a while back on med d plans but they got rejected and she got discouraged and stopped trying to write it. I said that can be frustrating. I said but how many times a day do you write for something that gets rejected. She said often. I said you can't let one or two times of writing something stop you from writing it all together. I said you wrote for what purpose. The doctor said she wanted to give someone weekly dosing. I said ok you like the dosing of Butrans and you thought that you patient might too. So try it again. Provided a high overview of the aarp and silver scripts coverage, caresource and the coupons for commercial patients. covered dosing and starting dose. Reminded of the oupons for commercial insured.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/08/2014is this what you really said? 	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/17/2014	Using the George Oxycontin profile discussed the type of patient he thinks of Oxycontin? Dr said the patients that need a twice a day medication dosed every 12 hours. I said thats great. I asked him if he has patients on the opioid naive dose 10mg and he said he does. He also Told me he has utilized many of the different doses and he find the product to work very well. We discussed the molecule and the delivery system. Dr said he hasn't written a new script in a long time because he doesn't have any chronic pain patients any more. I said i bet we could come up with a few appropriate patient types today, dr said what do you mean. I said lets talk what you consider to be atc dosing a day. Dr said at least three pills a day. I said whats the purpose of dosing at three different increments during thay instead of taking all three at one time. Dr said the short acting products don't last very long but they need the pain relif during the day. I said what about the night? He said of course. I said if you dose 3 x a day and schedule it, aren't you missing 12hours? He said yes. I said wouldn't an extended release product like Butrans or OxyContin be appropriate in this case, as long as its not an acute situation and the pain is severe enough to require an opioid in the first place. Discussed Butrans dosing and conversion guide. Gave fair balance to

I asked pricing information on generic percocet and asked if they saw many scripts for the product. they said not too many but wouldn't tell me who. they also didn't tell me exact price but said it was cheap around ten dollars or so. Talked about the molecule and talked about OxyContin and the dosing and single entity. Also highlighted where to place the butrans patch and the coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/17/2014	Spoke to Carol the nurse and she told me that the doctor don't write much of my types of products and she doubts the doctor will have time to see me, ever. I highlighted the dosing and delivery system of both oxycotin and butrans. I even ponted out butrans schedule 3. the nurse told me to leave information and the dr would call if they wanted to know more about it.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/17/2014	Spoke to dr about his use of OxyContin and discussed his patients currently taking it and continuing on IR oxycodone. Dr told me that his patients on IR oxycodone will usually be ok on it and he sees no reason to convert them because it won't be covered and will cost too much and they will need IR oxycodone for breakthrough anyway. I attempted to discuss the facts with him and he refused to agree with anything I had to say. I asked dr to continue to open his mind to the option of Butrans for his Norco patients who are in pain around the clock.

	Stow	OH	44224	6/17/2014	Spoke with dr about the patients he had been starting on Butrans. Dr said he is trying to start it on many more but a lot of them don't want a patch. I asked him what he's doing instead? Dr said he's trying other ER opioids. I told him the importance of setting the expectations early with the patient and telling them what is going to be done to help them manage their pain. Dr agreed and said if he writes the Rx and they don't want it they won't ever fill it. Dr said he's trying and getting better at discussing Butrans with his patients. I told him maybe the patient information guide will help and his BEP kits. Dr still has not used any. Discussed Butrans and managed care coverage with Laura who is now in charge of insurance since the pharmacy was closed down. Discussed commercial,BWC, Caresource and Medicare D coverage. Discussed the UHC PA coming in July. Gave him a poster for his new office of Butrans. I asked him if he ever writes oxycotin for pain? He said not really. Dr doesn't what to get into chronic medications he said. I said but your osteoarthritis patients are in pain...month after month right. He said yes. I said so why treat them with a short acting medication every 6 hours when you can give them another option of dosing every 12 hours or even weekly with Butrans. The doctor said he doesn't like schedule 2 products because they are not as safe. We reviewed abuse potential. I did tell him all opioids are a risk benefit thought process when you are giving them out monthly plus atc right, he said yes. I said do you think your patients would have problems with weekly dosing? he said no. I said well how come you think they will with a 12hour dosing and not with a every 6 hour dosing. Dr smiled and said...he just doesn't like to write oxycotin. I said ahhhh, so its the name? He said his patients won't be happy to get it. I said maybe...or maybe not. how do you know if you don't even offer it as an option. I gave the doctor the opioid experince study and reviewed some key information like inclusion criteria. Dr asked about using it for fibermagia. I said opioids work best on somatic pain and i said i couldn't make a recommendation to him. I highlighted the somatic pain that the patients had in the study. Reviewed the pain resuls and covered iniation guide and titration and supplemental with Butrans.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/06/2014Lisa, when a physician asks about treating a disease state, the best answer is a re-stating of the indication, where there is no disease state mention. Dr said oh that's interesting- highlighted two extended release options oxycontin and butrans and their dosing. Asked him next time a percocet patients is in need of pain therapy ATC- can you remember Oxycontin? He said sure. Reminded him of the experience coupons for Butrans but the dr said he hasn't written it in a while. I said why? He said he just hasn't seen a chronic patient for it. Reviewed the inclusion criteria of the product from the naive study for Butrans. Asked the doctor how many times a day is ATC? Dr said sometimes three or four. I said so when someone is taking tramadol or norco two times a day and then need more pills scheduled like q8, then you are telling me that's a butrans patient? He said no- when a patient is already three a day. I corrected him that earlier he told me that ATC pain meant taking a medication three or 4x times a day (q6 or q8), the Dr paused and said huh he never really thought about it like that for an opioid. I asked if it make sense to treat butrans in a patient with ATC pain? He said yes. I said they have recurrent pain everyb month right? He said yes. I said so you can't use butrans acutly or for PRN. He said right. I said then you might find a few more spots for butrans tomorrow. Dr said maybe so.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/08/2014What is EX release?BARTOL's response on 07/09/2014Extended release- insight number 14. PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/17/2014	Lunch. opened with the primary care insight asked her what she felt about the number of pcps's starting and extended release opioid product? Dr said it sounded reasonable, yet she said she doesn't treat chronic pain. I said how come and where do they go? Dr said she doesn't have time to treat them every month because they are a "pain to deal with". I said so you don't like writing schedule 2 products because they require monthly visits? She said yes. She said she works part time and she doesn't want her time invested in pain patients. I said so do you write scheduled 3 product then? she said yes. I started talking about the pain patient taking nsids ATC. I said have you ever done that? she said yes often. I said you probably have written a ultram/tramadol product at some time too then. she said yes. I said so say you have this tramadol patient taking two different times of the day, is that possible. she said yes. I said how do you determin when that patient needs ATC therapy? she said will increase the dose or possibly increase how many times a day they take it. I said aren't you making the short acting product work like an extended release product at that point, why not just write butrans? We reviewed starting doses and the guide. Also reviewed why she would move to increasing short acting products instead of another option like extended release butrans that schedule 3. Reviewed initiation guide,patch placement and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	6/17/2014	Quick Reminder of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Asked if he saw any of those 10 patients? not yet will keep it in mind, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/17/2014	Met with OM front window. Discussed improved formulary coverage for both OxyContin and Butrans. She stated she just had to complete a prior auth for female patient, for Butrans 10 mcg hr, for UHC patient, with prescription coverage on: Optima RX plan. Asked if it went through? She hasn't heard back yet.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/06/2014What can you do on the next call let her know you looked into the coverage for a UHC patient with Optum RX PBM? Maybe you already have, but if not, might show her you did some research.BALLIE's response on 07/08/2014Ok that's good idea as far as doing additional research on that plan and informing her of what I've found. Thank you.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 07/10/2014
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/17/2014	Quick window. Asked when she goes to refill her next Percocet, please consider if patient has daily, atc pain, would they benefit from product dosed every 12 hours like OxyContin? that's a thought replied Dr. Roda. Also, improved Med D coverage for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/17/2014	I asked dr how he determines who is a candidate for an ER opioid? Dr told me when they can't tolerate the short acting or its not working? I asked dr what about patients who ask for more short acting? How much is too much? Dr said he tries not to go over 4 pills a day. I asked why 4 pills? Dr said that's just what he does. I told him to think more about his patients taking a 4-6 hr product for around the clock pain. I showed him the Butrans conversion guide and asked him to think more Butrans. Dr said ok. I told dr to also think OxyContin when his patients need a longer delivery system for oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	discussed his thoughts on what atc dosing means and the word chronic. The doctor said if someone is taking at least three or more pills a day it's atc. Dr said acute was 2 weeks aprox. I made reference to our butrans inclusion criteria that our pateints had pain for at least three months. Dr said that even though some patients may need three pills a day they aren't always a candidate for an extended release proeduct. I said why? He said maybe they won't need to take the third dose. We focused on the appropriate patient types per our indication for OxyContin and Butrans. (I asked about how many patients are under 40mg total daily dose of hydrocodone or oxycodone. The dr said all of them. DR said at least half require atc long term pain treatment. I said you realize you just said that almost all your ATC patients are candidates for Butrans. He said I guess they are. I said so I guess its pretty reasonable to ask you to focus on using Butrans more. He said yes, it makes sense as long as managed care is there. We discussed managed care. gave him the experinec kit for butrans and reviewed it. Talked also about Oxycontin and the dosing every 12 hours. I asked him if it was hard for his patients to take their medication every 12 hours instead of every 4 to 6 hours? He said not really. I said what hesitations do you have for choosing Oxycontin for the appropriate patient types. He said just coverage- reviewed this information
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	Dr said he has at least half of his patients are under 40mg hydrocodone or oxycodone. When I asked him how many of those need atc medications he said 20 percent. We focused in on those patients currently on hydrocodone or those that are on tramadol for Butrans. Reviewed iniation guide and titration. Reviewed oxycontin dosing, the FDA insight and the patients he feels is appropriate for Oxycontin. Dr said he has no problems writing oxycontin for appropriate patients but he doesn't see them. I asked him how he treats atC pain if not with Oxycontin over the last few months? Dr said Fentanyl and methadone. Dr said he would write my products for the appropriate patient type next time he see's one.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/18/2014	Dr said she would like to place a couple of patients on OxyContin and will check with dr Bonyo when he gets back about starting them. Dr said both patients have been taking escalating doses of Percocet and said it just makes sense to give them the ER oxycodone. I agreed and made sure she discusses with dr Bonyo that its the same molecule oxycodone in both products and OxyContin is a single entity ER oxycodone. Dr said she knows and will let me know. Asked dr for more Butrans patient identification and reviewed the Scott and nancy profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	6/18/2014	Spoke with Dr Leone about OxyContin use and converting patients. Dr told me that he converted a Percocet patient earlier on in he week to OxyContin. Discussed Butrans with dr and a couple of residents explaining specific patient identification, dosing, conversions and patch description.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	6/18/2014	Told dr that he needs to begin converting patients to OxyContin when they meet the indication and are on as low a dose as 20mg of Percocet a day. Dr said he's trying but cost is making it difficult. I told him to use the patient copy cards for commercial patients and focus on commercial coverage. I asked dr and Tina who does the prior authorizations about the pending g pa for Butrans from last visit. Tina looked it up and called at the point as I was there. Tina said it is a buckeye patients and its been denied and gave criteria to be met first. She told me how backwards the criteria and dr will not do it. I agreed he shouldn't. I told dr to focus on Caresource and UHC community plan and told dr about the Caresource pa and they need to be completed and it should not be difficult.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	6/18/2014	Discussed Butrans patient types and when to look for candidates and why. I reviewed the opioid experienced trial and focused on inclusion and exclusion criteria. Dr said he really likes Butrans but just about every time he goes to write it there is a PA necessary. I asked him for an example and he said he just had one with UHC. I asked him if he completed the pa and he said no because it takes too much time. I told him if he cares about what his patients are getting for pain then he MUST get the PA done! Reviewed new Medicare coverage and dr said that is really going to help his practice and was very happy. I introduced the BEP program to him and he said he didn't want them because he already had the copy cards and that's all he needed. I attempted to convince hi. But he refused to take the kits. Closed with OxyContin and asked hi. To simply convert a patient to OxyContin from Percocet when it is appropriate and they meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/18/2014	Dr just came in for the day and caught her before her first patient and asked her to use Butrans and or OxyContin this week for patients she is about to refill their short acting opioid on. I told her to focus on specific patients that complain of being in pain every day and ask for more or want the same dose even though its not controlling their pain. Dr said that she will try and said she refilled a Butrans onMonday and the patient is happy with it. I asked about the dose and she said she has moved to 10mcg and it seems to fit we'll.I asked for continued prescribing on both Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	6/18/2014	Good discussion at AGMC with dr and two residents. Dr Leone said that he converted a Percocet patient earlier this week to OxyContin. I asked about the dose and he said the patient was taking 40mg a day or Percocet he started on 40 of OxyContin and hopes he can even reduce the dose in the future. I discussed how he can take more patients from Percocet or oxycodone plain and convert them when he knows they are taking the IR every day for pain. Discussed his opportunity for Butrans and explained to him and the residents that it may be more suitable for some patients with lower extremity pain to use Butrans because of its application on the upper torso. Described the schedule 3,7 day patch and indication. Discussed the conversions and patch description along with patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	Spoke to the nurse upfront on butrans and oxycontin dosing and updated managed care information. I asked her to pass the information back to the doctor which she agreed to.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/18/2014	I asked Elise ant patients she has seen this week and if she had any patients continuing on IR opioids like Percocet? Elise said she had one this week that she did move to OxyContin because it was chronic low back pain. I told her that's excellent and to continue looking for that patient type. Discussed Butrans patient types and told her to focus on Norco patients who need a dose adjustment. Use Butrans and discussed starting doses and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/18/2014	Visited Ctr.Dept. Left OxyContin and Butrans Initiation/Titration guides for Dr.'s Baker,Campbell,P.Campbell,Dhillon, Dietz,Corrigan,Geho,Gemachu,Leake Westfall and Zabak. Butrans Savings cards, Met with Katie A. Dept Admin. Coordinator, requested her assistance in regards to in-service.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration,Savings Cards said Ok, she will take info with her to new practice in Wisconsin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/18/2014	Quick Butrans review 7 Day transdermal, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said Ok, referred to Katie Admin for appt. Inservice request
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	pharmacist said she does see scripts come thru for oxycontin and butrans. I asked if patients on Butrans ask questions on how to use it. She said no. I highlighted the patch placement and how to discard butrans. Reviewed dosing of oxycontin and the appropriate patient type.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/18/2014	Quick OxyContin review every 12hours.Savings Cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia (Med D coverage)Savings cards Said Ok will consider, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	6/18/2014	I asked Theresa what her philosophy is on treating pain as an NP? She told me that she will not use a patch like Butrans or fentanyl because of the abuse potential. I told her it wounds like she is saying that a patch is a patch and I told her that's not the way to think. I asked her how much she remembers about Butrans that we have discussed? Theresa said she won't use a patch. I asked her if she writes or refills one or more of the following short acting opioids...tramadol, hydrocodone or Percocet? She said she does. I asked her if she thinks any of those have abuse potential? She said yes but they are for short term. I asked if she has had patients on any of those for more than 3 months? She said probably. I asked her to explain short term then. Theresa said maybe she needs to learn more about Butrans. I told her that's why I was there. She said she will read up on it on her own. I told her to read up on Butrans from the information I have to provide to ensure she gets the appropriate information. Have her the Scott profile along with the FPI included and the conversion guide. Reminded her OxyContin information is important to read up on.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	The family practice office does not see reps. I spoke to the nurse and she said the drs were to busy but I could tell her my informaitoin. I highlighted oxycontin and butrans delivery system, scheduling and dosing. Gave her to pass to the doctors the naive study for Butrans along with the conversion guide for oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	6/18/2014	Ld off conversation with oxycodone insight and asked him his thoughts. Joe said that he can understand why patient continue on IR opioids. I asked why and he said that IR opioids are generic and cheaper than branded as well as patients just wanting what they get from the short acting analgesics. I asked him if he has patients continuing to take products like Percocet or Norco.? Joe said he did. I asked him why his patients who may be in around the clock pain are treated in 4-6 hour increments? Joe said he really doesn't have many. I discussed OxyContin and Butrans key selling messages along with managed care and asked him where to place each product. Joe said Butrans makes sense and may try it out.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/18/2014	Met with Malak Pharm. Mgr., discussed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling discussing Abuse deterrent properties along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D coverage, Said he will relay info to prescribers when appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/18/2014	Gave her the primary care insight. Dr just smiled. I asked her to think about treating atc pain in the approparie patient type with a product option like Butrans dosed weekly or Oxycontin dosed every 12 hours. Dr said she doesn't see chronic pain patients anymore. I said ok...but ya never know what tomorrow brings.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/18/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, savings carda and formulary status, Said Ok, treats very little pain, Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will consider, asked about in-service opportunity, Said to check with Anne/Michaela
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	6/18/2014	Spoke with Kyle the pharmacist and asked him about patients he currently has on products like Norco and Percocet. Kyle said that he probably sees more short acting narcotics than anyone in the area because he sees so many Medicaid and Medicare patients. I explained my job to speak with the internists and family practitioners about using q4 or q6 short acting products for around the clock pain. I showed him the information on specific patient type identification for each product. I asked if he is seeing or filling Butrans since the addition of new Medicare plans and explained them? Kyle said he sees them in the Copley store but none at his location. Kyle said there are too many doctors that will not complete prior authorizations for their patients when trying to prescribe branded medicines like Butrans and OxyContin. I asked him to please tell the patients to speak with their doctors about ER options for pain. Kyle said he does a lot.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/18/2014	Dr Vucetic told me that he recently converted a patient from IR oxycodone 40mg to OxyContin 40mg q12. Dr said the print wanted longer control and when the patient went on OxyContin he experienced severe constipation which he did not have on Percocet. Dr said he switched the patient back and he is fine with no constipation. I told dr that's strange but constipation is a AE of OxyContin. I asked him if that has ever happened before and he told me that's a rare case. I asked for continued conversions where appropriate. Discussed Butrans patient selection and to write more. Dr told me as the finalization of AGMC in July takes place they will be accepting many more managed care plans. Dr said he needs a better idea of where it is covered and not covered. I told him about Medicare plans again and asked him to focus on that segment of his practice along with those 50-64yrs that meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	6/19/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12 hours for appropriate patients, Said she will consider, Will continue to with Gen.assistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/19/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on Norco requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/19/2014	Reviewed OxyContin for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, savings cards along with Butrans for those Norco failures, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients, OTC
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/19/2014	Spoke with Derek a new pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin. I asked him how familiar he is with Butrans and he said they have a couple of handfuls of patients on it. I asked which doses he dispenses the most and derek said the 10and 20mcg. Derek said most of the prescriptions come from pain management. Derek said they also have 5mcg on the shelf. I reviewed the conversions, appropriate starting doses. Derek said he's had some patients asking about patches staying on and disposal. I reviewed information from FPI and proper skin prep. Derek said he looked up the FPI and told the patients about those things but said he didn't know about the disposal units. Discussed OxyContin and he said they fill that too and have all doses in stock. Derek said he will continue to fill and usually they are the same patients each month.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	6/19/2014	Caught dr in hallway and asked her when she typically decides to prescribe a long acting opioid for pain? Dr said she doesn't do enough to really give a good opinion but said when her patients need more control for long term pain. I asked her what an example of long term pain is and she said taking something every day for pain. I asked her when a patient is on a product like Percocet and has long term pain would it make sense to convert to OxyContin? Dr said sometimes unless cost is an issue. Dr said we can pick up next time. I reminded her about Butrans schedule 3, 7 day patch for moderate to severe pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	6/19/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans savings card info along with formulary grid, said she will review with Rph. nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga falls	OH	44223	6/19/2014	Caught Kim and her nurse in the hallway of the office and told him to please continue looking at patients she can convert to he ER oxycodone from the IR oxycodone and if she has any difficulties with it? Kim said everything is going well but sometimes she has to convince the patient that they need to take less pills or a patch as an option. I reminded her about Percocet to OxyContin and tramadol and Norco to Butrans when they meet the indications. I reminded her about the new Medicare coverage for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	6/19/2014	Spoke with Marianne who completes most of their prior auths. Discussed UHC commercial prior auth details (start 7/1/14) - she stated she did her first one yesterday. Let her know transdermals, including Butrans, are not included in Prior Auth. Quick hello to Dr. Salama. Please consider Butrans today, tomorrow, for patients like Scott, taking 3-4 Tramadol daily. 4 strengths for dosing flexibility. Ok stated dr - (note: when offered OTC samples, Marianne states he doesn't hand them out).
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/19/2014	Spoke with Dr Azem and Lori about the most recent Butrans prescription. Dr said the patient came back after 4-5 days and said Butrans is not working well enough. Dr said she out the patient back in his Percocet and knew I wouldn't be happy. I told dr that I'm not happy because she didn't give the patient enough time to experience Butrans and its fullest potential. I also asked why she didn't titrate? Dr said the patient was in severe pain and just started him back on his Percocet. I told dr I wished she would have told the patient to take more time than 4-5 days before judging its efficacy. Dr agreed and said ok. Told dr to please keep that in mind next time and to also titrate OxyContin and use all 7 doses available if necessary.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	6/19/2014	Total office call: spoke with med assts Lori and ? (young, dark brown hair) and OM Norma. Discussed OxyContin conversion from oxycodone and Percocet. Discussed fact that patients already on oxycodone molecule, just a different delivery system. Left 1 conversion/titration guide, discussed lowest effective dose; left updated Ppi. Butrans, for opioid naive or after Tramadol. Left Scott profile. Left initiation/titration guide, updated FPI. Let med assts and Norma know, all transdermals, including Butrans; excluded from UHC new prior auth requirement. Norma can;t stand prior auths and she keeps having to complete more and more!! Quick hello to Dr DeMicco - when you go to write your next OxyCodone or Percocet - please think - is that patient more appropriate on an ER opioid when they present with daily, atc, long term pain. That's a good point responded Dr. will follow up next week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/19/2014	Quick hello at front counter and told her that I wanted her to begin identifying patients that she has continued to refill Percocet for and convert them to OxyContin if they meet the indication. Dr said ok but said that she wants to do more but patients won't switch. I told her she needs to set the expectation earlier on in treatment about your goals for their treatment if it should be for an extended period of time. Dr said ok. Handed her the Butrans initiation and titration guide and asked her to get on board with Butrans and identify patients who are failing products Mike Norco from efficacy or tolerability.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/19/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans info, Initiation/Titration guides, no further info requested, will keep contact info for further info.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	6/19/2014	Visited Seidman, Requested appts, OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/19/2014	I asked dr how he decides who he is going to treat with an ER opioid like OxyContin and who he refers to pain management? Dr said if the patient isn't a surgical candidate or he has had the patient in his practice for many years he will treat with opioids. Dr said if he's skeptical about the patients abuse potential or has a condition that is deserving of a specialist he will refer. I asked dr when he knows he's going to treat with an ER opioid, oxycontin and Butrans are two very good options. Gave him a piece on each and asked him for continued prescribing. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	6/19/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours, formulary,savings cards, along with Butrans for those patients are failing on present therapy. Med D formulary.OTC Said he has a few patients in mind, Discussed with OM Maria, formulary, savings card, said she will help in reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/19/2014	I told dr that I know he had told me a few times before that he only uses Butrans for patients with private insurance because he doesn't have time for prior authorizations and insurance issues in general. I showed him the new Medicare D grid and told him that for the plans listed the risk of anything causing him to take more time is very very low. I told him average costs for aarp and silverscript and asked him if that's acceptable? Dr said he thinks so. He said he might try it but don't bank on it! I told him I have faith in him that he will and told him to stick with the plans on the grid for the path of least resistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	6/20/2014	Reviewed with Hakeem Rph, OxyContin and Butrans Med D formulary status,Savings cards, Said Ok,will relay info to clinicians if appropriate, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Stow	OH	44224	6/20/2014	Spoke with dr about her properly identifying patients for Butrans and OxyContin. I asked her how often she is confronted with a situation of a patient wanting higher doses IR a refill on the same dose of tramadol or Norco? Dial laughed and said multiple times a day. I told her about the tramadol insight and told her she must make the determination to treat with an ER opioid like Butrans when she knows the patient is in around the clock pain. Dial said she knows and should be writing it more because she likes that its a schedule 3 and its a patch. Dial said she wants to have another option other than another pill. I told her to move to Butrans and reviewed the Scott profile discussing appropriate starting dose, titration and patch application and skin prep. Dial asked about AE's. Discussed the opioid exercised trial and reviewed AE's from trial. I asked if anything. Stood out and she said nothing at all and said she will be using it more. I discussed OxyContin and why she would move to it for a patient already on IR oxycodone. Dial said there is already a lot of it going out. I told her that's good if the patients are appropriate for it and explained what that means.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	6/20/2014	Window call, reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will keep in mind for appropriate patients,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/20/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Norco failures requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said Ok, will continue to find appropriate patients for Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Stow	OH	44224	6/20/2014	Kelsey said that I came on a good week because she said its been narcotic week! I asked what they have filled most and she said Percocet and Norco along with some OxyContin and Butrans sprinkled in for good measure. Kelsey said patients from summit pain who used to get their prescriptions at the offices pharmacy are coming in trying to get their prescriptions early. Kelsey said the providers are writing them new prescriptions knowing they shouldn't get them filled yet. I spoke about OxyContin and Butrans as options available for those patients continuing to get their IR filled and are still in pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/20/2014	Lunch. Baby Boomer Med D age insight. Asked dr what % of his practice is over age 65, covered on Medicare D. He responded at least 60%. You will write branded meds when appropriate, Yes? Yes he responded. And how to you define around the clock pain? When patients have pain 24/7. Discussed conditions that may be causing those patients pain as they age including osteoarthritis etc Discussed using lowest effective dose of either OxyContin or Butrans in those patients, like Pam here. Im showing you this profile because she is over age 65, covered on Medicare, and needs access to branded medications. when this type of patient walks in today or next week, I'd like you to consider either of my ER opioids - as they both have improved Med D access, best available co-pay. Both with dosing flexibility. Does this sound reasonable? yes? Reminder BWC should go through smoothly for Dr two and a half hours behind as usual and only had a couple of minutes. I have dr the oxycodone insight and told him not to contribute to the situation and convert patients to OxyContin from oxycodone when they are on it for 3 months or longer. Dr said he is doing that as much as he can but its tough to get covered. Dr could remember plans or specifics. I asked dr if he is finding that he can individualize the dose with OxyContin 7 srtrengths and if he's titrating every 1-2 days when necessary? Dr said he is and with the 15, 30 and 60mg doses it makes it much better to do so with small increases in dose. Discussed Butrans and dr said he write it this week for a 75 yr old woman who's insurance denied. Dr couldn't remember plan or specifics. I spoke with Jamie the office manager and she did not know of any denial for Butrans and said it must have happened in Fairwan or Green and to check in those offices.

	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/20/2014	Lunch. (Dr states he doesn't need any info on formulary/med d status, as he doesn't care. He will write drug he feels is best for patient, if it's not covered, he will switch). Tramadol insight. Dr states now he has to use DEA to write Tramadol in the fall. When you're reviewing possible scheduled products for your patients, consider Butrans. Discussed clinical data in over age 65, which is large part of his patient base - 70% or so he says. Butrans was tolerated in elderly, and titration also tolerated in those who needed to be titrated to one of 3 doses at time of study. Reminder: now 4 strengths, max dose 20 mcg/hr/ Pain reduction scores, are those important? dr stated of course. Summarized call, Attributes of butrans including no dose adjustment needed for renal mild or moderate hepatic impaired. Discuss around the clock pain which he defines as all day/all night. You have Butrans and also OxyContin dosed every 12 hours. I'm providing you with two choices when making that decision for trusted patients. Asked for business today and next week, when patients present with daily, atc, pain - Butrans before or after Tramadol; OxyContin after Percocet or oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	6/20/2014	Goal: opened with Baby Boomer over age 65 insight. Dr states that's a lot of people turning 65. Asked dr if some of those patients over age 65, would be expected to be placed on branded product? He responded yes. Lead to Pam profile, and stated this patient, covered under Medicare D would be appropriate for either OxyContin 10 mg start or Butrans 5 mcg/hr start. We have improved Med D status for both products. Ok great responded Dr. Met with LPN Jean. Presented both product verbatim indications, discussed daily, atc, pain and both are options for patients with atc pain. Discussed formulary status for both products. Left Med D grid for Butrans, FPI both products, Pam profile, 2 Butrans patient guides.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/20/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, no new info learned, Asked Dale for assistance, said he will remind
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	6/20/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Dr Deloseph on vacation, back MON 6/24. Discussed both products, verbatim indication, scheduling, Black Box Warning, single entity opioids, flexible dosing, improved Medicare D access.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	6/20/2014	Met with both med asst and Dr. Flagg. Dr Flagg is not starting any new patients on IR or ER opioids. He is referring all patients to Dr. Patrick McIntyre Pain Specialist, at Ahuja Medical, Beachwood, Oh. Jen reported an AE event with product containing oxycodone. Patient died at ER - was on several meds, one of them being Percocet (oxycodone 7.5 mg, Acetaminophen 3.25) 120 tablets given every 30 days by Dr. Flagg. Female, age 42, died at ER in hospital on Tuesday 6/17/14. Let Jen know I will report AE, as we track all. Also Jen had to complete prior auth, which she had never had to do before, for a female patient, who has been on the following therapy for years: female, age 63, Anthem BCBS coverage: OxyContin 40 mg TID. I stated that's off label. OxyContin dosing schedule is q12h or every 12 hours. In addition, patient given two tablets of 5 mg oxycodone, so 10 mg daily x 4= 40 mg or oxycodone. I instructed Jen (Dr not with us now) to speak with Dr Flagg about this patient and the "off label" dosing. Discussed lowest effective dose for OxyContin. Dr. Flagg will continue to manage pain med s for
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	6/20/2014	EXISTING patients only. Reviewed OxyContin strengths, dosing every 12 hours, savings card and Black Box Warning in FPI. Butrans is a "new" agent for him, so Butrans will not be initiated by doctor in future. Left Butrans FPI, Lunch. Tramadol insight. Why not just go to Butrans first? Because Tramadol is easier to get through and cheaper she responded. I would like to quickly address your cost concern and then get to attributes of both my products. Discussed access for commercial/cash pay quickly, Med D. OxyContin savings card; Butrans trial/savings. Let's put cost aside. Discussed Butrans clinical data, proven efficacy safety - at least 30% reduction in pain. OxyContin proven safety/efficacy. Both products offer dosing flexibility. Different delivery systems discussed. Both improved Med D status. Addressed her ongoing concern for access for her age 65 & over patients. when she determines a trusted patient has daily, atc pain: she has two choices. One oral product, one transdermal product, both with improved Med D coverage. Today and next week, consider Butrans before or after Tramadol; and consider OxyContin after Percocet/oxycodone - you already know patients can tolerate oxycodone molecule/just changing delivery system. Sound reasonable ? Yes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	6/20/2014	Lunch. Baby boomer med d insight. used Pam profile. Pam, age 71, would be an appropriate candidate to start at 10 mg OxyContin, or 5 mcg/hr of Butrans. I'm sure you have patients like Pam walking into your practice every day, right? Yes replied dr. some of them you will decide that a branded products is best choice, right? Yes responded doctor. The two products I have to offer your patients with daily, atc pain; now have improved Medicare D coverage. I'm just asking you to try. Discussed geriatric patients studied in OxyContin FPI and Geriatric patients studied in Butrans (visual aid/clinical) For patients like Pam, please consider today and next week, when you determine that 1. they have atc pain, long term 2. trusted patient 3. flexible dosing with my products 4. improved Medicare D access for them. Sound good? Yes I will consider replied dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44105	6/20/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours. FDA labeling discussing abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/20/2014	Wanted to follow up with conversation last time and asked dr other than converting patients from IR oxycodone to OxyContin what about hydrocodone patients that may be around 40mg a day? Dr said its a tougher conversion compared to oxycodone because typically patients on that much hydrocodone wither need to be tapered down or are candidates for intervention. I asked dr if he happens to have a patient that is justifying a certain level or opioid based on pathology and are not a candidate for intervention? Dr said a few possibly. I asked for him to convert. Asked dr to write more Butrans for patients that have been on 3-4 prn meds a day. Dr Said hello to the nurses, smalled talked. Asked about their job and how they handle coupons. Nurses said the doctor does all of this, i asked who checks the expired coupons and reminded her to check the coupons. Talked about butrans savings cards- that it was a transdermal patch and the scheduling, the staff said they knew of oxycontin--highlighted managed care and dosing. Briefly asked them why would someone dose a person every 4 to 6 hours month after month and not give them an extended release product? They couldn't answer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/23/2014	Quick OxyContin every 12hours for appropriate patients, savings cards, Said Ok will keep in mind as she enters into clinical practice, no further info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/23/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths,Recognized by the FDA as having Abuse-deterrent properties along with Butrans 7 day matrix transdermal delivery system, said ok for OxyContin but on the Butrans feels patients like and are adequately controlled on present therapy, but will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/23/2014	Reminded of OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling of abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will consider for appropriate patients, Followed up on request to do inservice next month.Said he will research
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/23/2014	Asked to see Sabrina up front and she walked by. Got a second to review the Kathy profile for Butrans and told her about the hydrocodone insight. Sabrina told me that she does think its a good option and she started seeing patients a couple of weeks ago after training. I asked her if she would look for patients that fit a similar profile? She said she would. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/23/2014	primary care insight. Dr asked me to repeat the percentages. Dr said he doesn't treat chronic pain like those primary care. I asked if he treats any pain. he said yes but acute. I said id like to talk about your patient that might be taking a few opioids a day and refills every month. Do you have those? He said yes some. I said like how many...he said maybe ten. I said what happens when that patient needs more pain control do u increase their hydrocodone or oxycodone? He said sometimes. I said that sometimes patient is a candidate for oxycontin. If you feel your patient needs an opiod atc and long term then its a schedule 2 options isn't it. He said maybe. I said or you can try writing butrans with weekly dosing. He said butrans what is that. I highlighted the molecule delivery and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/23/2014	Told dr at window about the oxycodone insight and told him I don't want him adding to the statistic and to use low dose OxyContin when he is confronted by a patient complaining of pain around the clock on Percocet. Dr said he knows and is trying to start OxyContin sooner. Gave him the nancy profile and asked him to continue to look for patients in pain on products like tramadol or Norco who meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/23/2014	window. I said something to think about this week- is that tramadol patient uncontrolled on 2 doses a day and is back for another option. Can you make that option butrans if appropriate. He said sure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/23/2014	Elise told me ther patients are doing well on Butrans and said she had a patient come in for a follow up today on Butrans for a month and said he loves it. Elise said the patient doesn't have to take any pills any more. I asked the patients age and reason for treatment. Elise said he has chronic low back pain and some stenosis. She said she started him on 10mcg and doesn't think she will need to titrate. Discussed titration and conversions and reminded her to convert patients on IR oxycodone to OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/23/2014	primary care insight. Asked him how many specialists he thought were starting atc pain patients on an extended release product? He said probably more than primary care. Discussed the types of patients that may require a long term pain treatment for his kinds of patients. Dr said those patients would usually require an extended release choice. I asked him if he selects oxycontin or Butrans for those types of patients. He said it depends but usually oxycontin. We talked about the the dosing of every 12 hour and i asked him how he or his patients like weekly dosing for patients like butrans? Dr said the patient who are on butrans like it and thepatients on oxycontin like that too. I said i guess your recommendations play a big role huh. He said yes. We talked about managed care- which dawn brought up (the manager)- we reviewed this.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/23/2014	Visited Walker Bldg, Pain mgmnt (Crawford,Leizman,Knaus,Raymond ) Initiation/Titration guides, savings cards and formulary grids, Requested appts and inservice for dept
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/23/2014	Talked about dosing of both oxycontin and butrans. highlighted titration and coupon availability. Talked about atc dosing and why someone would dose a patient several times a day and not offer an extened release product at some point. No response given. reviewed refills with butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/23/2014	Spoke with Mike the pharmacist and asked him if he's familiar with all 7 doses of OxyContin? Mike said he is and they fill a good amount of it. I asked him which doses tend to be dispensed the most and he said 10, 20,40 and said they have had more 80mg dispensing in last last month. I asked if most is. Moving from pain management and Mike said it is. Showed him The conversions and titration. Discussed Butrans dosing, conversions and reviewed nancy profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	6/23/2014	Told dr the OxyContin oxycodone insight and then asked her if she finds patients in her practice could possibly be taking IR opioids like Percocet and be in daily pain and not tell her about it? Dr said that's a good question. Dr said she would like to think her patients are being honest with her and said she supposes that there may be some who don't want to ruffle feathers even though their short acting may not be working very well. I asked her if she would offer the q12 delivery if oxycodone to her patients if they meet the indication? Dr said she would. I told her its been about 3 weeks since she told me that she started a patient on Butrans 5 mcg and i wanted to follow up and see how things were going for the patient? Dr said the patient is doing well and she gave the patient a refill on the Butrans 5mcg. I told dr that's great and to make sure the patient is titrated if there is ever a need for more analgesia. I asked her to continue to identify patients similar to this recent one. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/23/2014	Visited (OncID, PMR) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	6/23/2014	Had out the OxyContin 10mg page and asked him to identify patients that he feels would be appropriate for low dose q12 OxyContin. Dr said ok. Left him the conversion and titration guide. Told him I'm leaving a profile for a patient on hydrocodone who is still in pain around the clock and be appropriate for Butrans. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/23/2014	Dr told me that he had a patient in this morning who was taking 40mg or Norco and 2, 5 mg Percocet a day and was not a candidate for intervention. Dr said he out the patient on OxyContin 30mg and said it should do the job but said the patient might need IR oxycodone for breakthrough. I told dr that's great news and breakthrough medicines might be necessary but told dr to titrate the dose if pain persists as well. Dr said he may need to go to 40mg OxyContin but doesn't want to go over that daily amount. I reviewed dosing and told him he can titrate every 1-2 days. Told dr to continue identifying patients on ultram or NSAIDs who meet the indication for Butrans. Nothing. Else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/23/2014	He waved thru window. I said someone appropriate with ATC pain might be interested in the every 12 hour dosing of oxycontin or even weekly dosing with Butrans. SAID OK THANK YOU AND WALKED AWAY.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/23/2014	Talked about dosing with oxycontin and butrans. highlighted supplemental with both products. gave fair balance regarding possible respiratory depression and potential abuse. Showed the demo of the butrans patch and how to discard the patch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	6/23/2014	Lunch. Dr DeMicco says Dr Morley is down to every other Mon now. He's not in today in Euclid, in fact. Dr states that Lori fought really hard for a BWC patient recently for OxyContin. After patient failed morphine step edit, BWC still wouldn't approve. Lori/BWC went back and forth, and finally Lori got approved. I thanked her for her efforts, she states she doesn't mind as long as patient is appreciative. Dr DeMicco says they only write scheduled opioids during time that patient is on Physical Therapy. Since he is not board certified in pain management personally, he's concerned about writing & having "more than 50%" of his patients on ER opioids. So upon completion of PT, he refers patients out to pain specialty for long term opioid therapy. He states Euclid accepts ZERO commercial insurance. they are trying to limit Medicaid acceptance. We discussed re assessing patients in his care, who he determines have daily, atc pain; and for whom an ER opioid such as OxyContin or Butrans would be appropriate. Asked for business today and this week for OxyContin after percocet, oxycodone, discussed "every 12 hour dosing" and Butrans after 3-4 Tramadol daily, in patients like Scott.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	6/23/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder for Mei, every 12hours, savings cards and formulary status, Said she will keep in mind, nothing learned, Asked Anne about a NP in-service, will follow up

	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Gave the primary care insight. The pa said she sees most of the patients post hospital stays at the office or in the hospital rooms. She said that the doctor usually orders OxyContin in the hospital for appropriate pain patients needing therapy and she will managed there progress at visits. She said she doesn't write schedule 2 products but will write schedule 3 products. However she said she makes her recommendation to the dr before any scripts are written. We discussed the atc pain patient and what that may look like in her option or the drs. Pa said she did't see any problem with dosing a short acting products atc because its cheaper. I said what if you were able to use a savings card that knocked the price Down quite a bit and also allowed for weekly dosing instead of every 6 hour dosing with the immediate release products? She said vikodin is cheap but maybe for the right patient. I said who is that? She wasn't sure. We reviewed dosing for Butrans and the inclusion criteria of nave study. Highlighted the no first pass and the no dose adjustment for renal impaired patients. Covered managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	6/26/2014	Lunch with dr and discussed most recent patient coming from vicoden 7.5/325 to Butrans and the patient coming back after 4-5 days complaining of Butrans not working and requesting his vicoden back. Dr told me that the patient has severe gout and is morbidly obese and came to her on no pain medicine. Dr said she started on ER morphine and the patient couldn't tolerate it. Patient came back and was given hydrocodone. I asked why she didn't think of Butrans then? Dr said she can't remember but said because of the gout and skin issues she didn't think the patch was most appropriate. Dr said she didn't think the patient came back after only 5 days and said she thinks it was longer. Dr said she started on 10mcg and said the patient was adamant about not keeping the patch. Dr said she would have titrated to 15mcg if the patient wants so against it. Discussed when to titrate and reviewed BP 3015. Discussed new indication and asked for continued identification of patients in around the clock daily pain. Dr said she has a couple of patients who can't get Butrans on buckeye. Discussed process with managed Medicaid and new Medicare coverage. Asked for her to think OxyContin for those patients already on the oxycodone molecule and showed her the conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it in mind, Mary has been reminding him
PPLPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	6/26/2014	Spoke with Cindy,Denise and Jenn about new indications and what goes of patients they are seeing for pain. Denise said they continue to get patients taking IR opioids for long periods of time and get refilled month after month. I reviewed the OxyContin conversions and how treating long term pain in 4-6 hr increments. Cindy said that is exactly what doctors so because its easy and many don't want to write ER medicines. Discussed Butrans indication, conversions and continuing to identify the right patients for Butrans who meet the indication but arr on IR opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	6/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,savings cards,formulary along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said she will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	6/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12h, savings cards, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings cards, Said he will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Dr said oh yes OxyContin, he mentioned he likes the product but sees more acute cases. I highlighted the patients that turn from acute to long term pain patients, dr said he would use OxyContin for them. I mentioned Butrans weekly dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Hampton	OH	45349	6/26/2014	Staff was at office but HCP was not in. Left info on Oxycontin and Butrans. HCP will be out until July 7th.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Spoke to Angela the ma about Butrans and the caresource coverage. I asked if she knew why the dr wasn't writing Butrans latley, she didn't know. Talked about the Butrans experience kit. Reminded her I had OxyContin. Left marketing matials behind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	6/26/2014	I asked dr what he typically doses when hydrocodone doesn't meet the needs of the patient because of efficacy or tolerability? Dr said he might use Percocet or something else to help with pain. I asked what he expecting to get out of Percocet that vicoden isn't? Dr said more pain relief. I asked if it works? Dr said most of the time. I told dr then there are some who don't get additional analgesia. Dr said yes. I asked why he wouldn't use an ER option like OxyContin or Butrans prior to moving to another IR opioid if the patient is continually in pain? Dr said he understands my point and does use OxyContin. I told dr he should be using it more often and before he adjusts the dose or IR medicines. Dr said ok. Showed dr the Butrans placebo patch and asked him to use it more frequently for those on tramadol who ask for more. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	6/26/2014	Spoke to ma and gave her the updates on Butrans such as dosing and where it might be appropriate, discussed schedule three product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/26/2014	Told dr that he needs to know about the new indications for ER opioids like OxyContin and Butrans. Read him the old indication for Butrans and then the new. I asked dr his thoughts. Dr said he thinks the indication makes more sense and like the part about pain severe enough. I told dr that I want him to think about patients that are currently on tramadol who meet this new indication who are in pain severe enough to require daily, around the clock, long term opioid. I asked him if he would identify one patient a week that meets this indication and are currently taking a IR opioid? Dr said he will and asked if I knew tramadol is moving to a schedule 4? I told dr I did and asked him his opinion and he said it should have happened a long time ago. I told him to identify some of those tramadol patients for Butrans and Percocet patients for OxyContin and showed him the conversions.<font color=
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/26/2014	Discussed new indications for OxyContin and Butrans with Kylie the pharmacist. I showed him the old indication and he said it makes more sense to have it as the new one. Kyle said there are way too many patients that are continuing to take short acting narcotics for around the clock pain. I told him I agreed and told him About the hydrocodone insight. I showed him the conversions from Percocet to OxyContin and asked him if he fills Percocet regularly? Kyle said he does along with Norco and tramadol. I discussed the 7 doses, titration,and patient types. Discussed he same with Butrans and Kyle said he thinks they have 4 patients on it and have all doses on shelf. Discussed new Medicare plans for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/26/2014	Visited Ortho Dept. (Bliffeld, Stulberg,Stearns) OxyContin/Butrans Savings cards, Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/26/2014	Introduction to dr for first time. I asked dr what his philosophy is in treating patients with pain? Dr said he has no issues treating acute pain but said that he doesn't want to treat chronic long term pain and said he refers to pain management. I asked dr how he defines long term treatment? Dr said when a patient needs an ER opioid. I asked dr when that is and he said he just doesn't treat pain. I asked him if he treats with products like tramadol or vicoden? Dr said sometimes but doesn't make a habit out of it. I told him he needs to choose products like OxyContin and Butrans that can provide an extended release of opioids. Dr said he didn't know about Butrans and I explained all key selling principles. Dr said we will discuss next time because he said he's interested in learning more but didn't have time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	6/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12h, FDA labeling describing abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep in mind, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Discussed atc pain. Dr described atc pain being sometimes three pills a day or more. Dr said he has been doing evaluations on his over 65 patients and he has been tampering them down in strength or taking one pill off their schedule during the day. I asked how many pills they take, he said 4 some times 5 a day. I said why would you dose that way? Dr said habit. Dr said in light of the Ohio changes he is trying to write less pills prn patient. We talked about the atc patient and dosing OxyContin every 12 hours. Dr said he has no problem writing it. We talked about the strengths and tailoring the dose to the right patient by being able to adjust the dose every 1 to 2 days. Also highlighted the molecule of OxyContin. Was the same as Percocet yet with a different delivery system. Dr said Butrans managed care was his hesitation. Covered and introduced experience kits. Talked about the once a week dosing. I asked him if this dosing was so ethng patients could get used to instead of dosing every 6 hours atc. Dr said he thinks they can. Focused on how to start Butrans. Covered abuse potential.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	6/26/2014	Reviewed with Tiffany Rph OxyContin Q12hours,savings cards along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures,savings cards, Said she sees very little IR or ER products being dispensed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Dr have you ever thought about why prescribers dose opioids in 4 to 6 hour increments when they could go for a every 12 hour option like OxyContin or weekly dosing like Butrans? Dr said its an option and asked about managed care. Highlighted broad coverage reminded of coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling describing abuse deterrent characteristics, said his position on treating pain hasn't changed, Discussed Butrans for those Tramadol failures you are sending to Pain Mgmt. said he will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2014	Gave the primary care insight. Dr said she doesn't select extended release opioids after NSAID. She said she always tried either Tramadol or hydrocodone first just to see if the pain can me covered acutely first and prn a few times a day. We talked about when that prn patient needs a scheduled product three times a days. I asked if that was atc to her and she said yes. I said an opportunity to think about is an extended release product like OxyContin or Butrans for a long term patient needing atc therapy. Reviewed dosing of OxyContin and also highlighted how long the product OxyContin has been on the market treating long term pain patients. Talked about Butrans being Schedule three. She said it didn't make a difference if it was two or three. Dr said she sees them back every month the patients on long term opioids. We talked about dosing, how ling to wear the patch and steady state. Reviewed managed care, she asked about caresource. Gave fair balance. The possibility of abuse potential with my products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	6/26/2014	Quick hello at window in Hudson. I told him that I wanted him in the next couple of days to identify a patient for OxyContin like someone who is in pain on Percocet and then one who needs a dose adjustment on tramadol and is taking it every day to control pain. Dr said he's had success with Butrans recently but tries not to use much OxyContin and doesn't have many patients on Percocet. I asked him then to determine why Butrans is working on patients he has on it and mimic that criteria with other patients. Dr said ok. Left info.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	6/27/2014	Np said she does not have experience writing oxycontin. Reviewed the dosing and the scheduline and asked her if she writes percocet, she said no. Gave her the fpi and we sat and discussed the section 12.3 of the molecule oxycodone and the half life of oxycodone and oxycontin half life. I asked her is somatic pain pain. She said yes. I reviewed updated indication and i asked how it differs from other opioids she writes. She said it didn't by much. I asked so why doesn't she want to a dose an appropriate pain patient who needs atc therapy with an every 12 hour single entity product instead of dosing it every 4 hours like the short acting products. She didn't have an answer but told me she will consult with the dcotrs before writing a schedule two product usually. NP told me she writes butrans for her neuropathic pain patients. I hilighted that opioids work best on somatic pain but she was the expert. NP said after lyric fails she will write butrans because they have chronic pain and she the patients don't have to take their medication every day just once a week. I said what other patients do you have that may like the 7 day treatment option for act pain. She said she hasn't used much other places. We talked about the med d patients overy 65 years of age. I highlighted our coverage and asked if the dosing schedule was an option for her or the caregivers helping them. She said she never thought about that population. We reviewed the no dose adjustment for the elderly.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/27/2014	Walked in office as dr was walking out for the day and he asked me what's new. I told him about the OxyContin and Butrans indications and said I wanted to know his thoughts and then give him something to think about. Dr said the indications make sense and said it should be up to the physician to decide if the pain is severe enough. I told him thanks for the info and asked him to think about patients that require daily, around the clock opioid treatment who are currently taking IR opioids that are inadequate. I told him I hope OxyContin and Butrans are the options he considers first. Dr said he will and said he continues to want to move more and more patients to ER opioids anyway.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/27/2014	Final call on office before retirement and asked him if he has initiated anyone on OxyContin or Butrans as we have discussed for almost 2 years? Dr said he has not. I told him I'm sorry his patients that may have been appropriate weren't even given the option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	6/27/2014	Visited Pain Mgmt (Abraham,Dalbir) IM(Kohler,Bogar,Morocco) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	6/27/2014	Dr didn't have a lot of time today but we talked about the every 12 hour dosing and being about the tailor the dose with the no ceiling and 7 different doses. Highlighted the starting doses of Butrans and weekly dosing. Reminded of the experience kits.

	westlake	OH	44145	6/27/2014	Dr said he felt comfortable writing oxycontin for patients with ATC pain, he said he thought it still was a good choice for some patients. We reviewed the single entity, 7 doses and I asked if this would be helpful to make a tailored option for some patients. he said yes. Dr said he starts each patient on the 5mcg of Butrans. Reviewed the initiation guide but the doctor said he will treat them always with the lowest dose first. Talked about titration and steady state. Dr asked about supplementation with other nsaid or immediate release products. Reviewed various areas of FPI and reviewed the opioid naive study. Dr said it was a buprenorphine molecule and was unsure as to why he would add these products when you can't with naloxone. I offered to have the company provide him with more insight on that answer but dr said no. I asked the doctor if he every would consider using butrans after Tramadol with a patient that has atc pain. he said no. I asked why. Dr said because his not a full opioid and that maybe bid of a immediate release product would work for patient before going to an extended release product. We talked about Butrans and Oxycontin managed care coverage. The office has a great deal of carcasure, workers comp med d and commercial. Highlighted the experience kits. Spoke to the lady who does the sample tracking and handing out. She hands out the samples that the doctors request. I highlighted the experience coupons to grab first for butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44011	6/27/2014	Gave the FDA insight- dr said too many opioids are witting in the usa. Discussed all opioids can be abused and referred him to the fpi for specific detail. Dr said he has used Oxycontin for years. I asked him what was the medical rational for dosing someone in 4 to 6 increments around the clock and not giving someone the option for an every 12 hour opioid product. Dr said there isnt much, but he did say some patients may not always need that much opioid in their system. I said how do you know if someone needs every 12 hour dosing like Oxycontin to a patient you just mentioned. Dr said certain disorders, dr named it but I didn't understand what he said. I said so that's not all of them. he said no. Dr said he will write oxycontin either after hydrocodone or percocet when the patient is taking 4 or 5 a day. I said 4 or 5 a day of a short acting product? He said yes. I said let me give you a few options to consider today that are extended release and dosed either weekly or every 12 hours. I asked the doctor is it was out of the question to think about oxycontin as their first atc opioid? Dr said no it wasn't. I reviewed the doses for a tailoring the dose to the patients need. highlighted the 12.3 section of the fpi where talked about oxycondone and oxycontin molecule, along with single entity. Dr said Butrans has little experience with after tramadol for atc pain. Dr asked if it was dosed every 5 days. I told him every 7 days. Reviewed titration doses and supplemental
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/27/2014	Reviewed Butrans Med D formulary grid, Initiation/Titration, along with OxyContin Q12h for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, had a few Butrans patients this week, doing good, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/27/2014	Reviewed FDA insight. Discussed atc. Dr said he agrees OxyContin makes sense after Percocet. Talked about titration every 1 to 2 days. Talked about the range of strengths available. Dr said he has little experience with Butrans. But has used it after hydrocodone. Asked him what the last patient was removed from before going on Butrans and how many times. He said 4 times a day of hydrocodone. I asked how the patients experience was and he said it was a fight to get the patients to wear a patch. I suggested making Butrans the patients first atc option after Tramadol or hydrocodone. Dr said he will move from Tramadol to hydrocodone before he thinks about Butrans. Talked about no first pass and the dosing of Butrans. Asked him to think if he had just one patient that might like the option. Covered managed care
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	6/27/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/27/2014	Speaking with Karla the RN in office about new indication for Butrans and dr said he heard my voice. I discussed the new indication with him and asked him what he thinks? Dr said it sounds good and doesn't think it will change much. Dr said that his butrans patients are doing well and he is continuing to look for new patients. I told dr that's good to hear. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/27/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Q12, along with for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he continues to support on the floor in hospital and will remind Dr. Shen as well
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/27/2014	Spoke to Sue and Jessica about the new indications for OxyContin and Butrans. I read them the indication for OxyContin and asked her what she thought. Jessica said she thinks its much better and might allow for the doctor to make a better decision who is best for an ER opioid. I told Jessica I agreed and told her about how the indications for OxyContin and Butrans fit into the discussion about treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Jessica said they see way too many patients continuing on short acting narcotics and have pain every day that may never go away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	6/27/2014	Spoke to Tracey the office manager. Discussed Butrans and updated savings plans and coupons. Attempted to see the dr but they were too busy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/27/2014	I asked dr if he believes that OxyContin works? Dr said it does but can't use it because its either too expensive or its not even covered on insurance. I told dr it wounds like he has patients with insurance? Dr said its too expensive for them as well. I told dr he needs to be less concerned with cost and more concerned on what's best for his patients. Dr said he's done talking to me today. Told him I'm leaving a conversion chart for Butrans on
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	6/30/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said he will continue to find appropriate patients. No change on apt policy

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/30/2014	Led with the OxyContin insight and told him that there is a new indication and I wanted to get his thoughts. Read the indication and dr said it sounds good and said he would feel much more comfortable using the patch. I asked him which patch? And he took the initiation and conversion guide and said Butrans patch. I told him that's great but why not OxyContin? Dr said he feels more comfortable using a schedule 3 product that's not an oral medicine. I told him then to look for patients needing a dose adjustment on tramadol or Norco. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/30/2014	Reviewed w/ Malak, OxyContin/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings Cards, Said Ok, nothing new learned

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/30/2014	Told dr new OxyContin indication and asked him how he defines around the clock pain. Dr said when patients need medicine every day. I told him I assume he has patients on IR opioids who need multiple pills every day. I told him if he's treating around the clock pain in 4-6 increments he needs to use ER opioids like OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said ok and we can finish next time. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/30/2014	Front window w Denise (savings cards/prior auths/patient guides). Left Butrans FPI and new patient tear sheets. Showed Denise where changes are within patient guides, should Dr Dews or any of HCP's have questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/30/2014	Discussed OxyContin improved Med D access; then Butrans improved Med D access. Left initiation/titration guide (Butrans) for Dr. Dews. Denise states Frank NOW has his DEA so he's writing his own RX now. (need to add to tier target list) He's working w Dr Dews today (Gina F, CNP, at Hospital this week) Quick hello at window, introduction as rep for two ER opioids - OxyContin dosed every 12 hours, Butrans - 1x week buprenorphine patch. Left OxyContin reformulation folder, FPI. Left Butrans initiation titration guide, FPI, patient tear sheets. Non Branded: left OARS flashcard, Med 80 guidelines.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Hts	OH	44143	6/30/2014	Hallway. Pam profile. Discussed patient profile, discussed as option for OxyContin and in this case, since opioid naive, start 10 mg every 12 hours. Can titrate in 1-2 days to 15 mg if needed. Improved Med D access discussed. Then discussed Pam as also appropriate for Butrans 1 x week patch. A patient like Pam who failed on aspirin and has bleeding ulcer. Discussed no first pass liver metabolism, no dosing adjustment necessary for renal and mild or moderate hepatic impaired. He asked what's name of product again? I replied butrans. I will stop back next week to follow up. Please review Pam profile, FPI. Dr stated ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	6/30/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he feels patients are controlled on present therapy, challenged on those patients that he does send to pain mgmnt, said he will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	6/30/2014	Lunch. Baby Boomer insight presented. Then Pam profile. Dr states he has several patients on 1-3 Tramadol daily who are doing fine. Why should he switch them to patch? Responded that I'm not asking for those patients, I'm asking for the patients who are failing on Tramadol, who are at 3-4 Tramadol daily. Went through Pam profile. Focused on bleeding ulcer due to continued aspirin therapy. Dr perceives OxyContin to having better Med D coverage than Butrans. In addition, he can't keep track of all plans, he just writes what he thinks is appropriate and hope it is covered. Discussed improved Med D coverage for his patients, and that means best available co pay for Med D patients. Also discussed Pam profile, as someone also a good candidate for OxyContin - lowest effective dose, start at 10 mg every 12 hours in opioid naive. Asked For Pam patient, today or this week; consider both of my ER products for daily atc long term pain. Ok, he will.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/30/2014	Led off with oxycondone insight and told him that the reason I'm telling him this is because there are too many patients being treated with around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Dr agreed and said he has both types of patients though. I asked dr to explain and he said he does have patients continuing on Norco and Percocet and then those that are moved to ER opioids quickly. Dr said the patients on IR opioids are either in intermittent pain or are difficult patients who are never happy and have tried ER opioids and refuse to stay on them. I told him as long as he reassesses those continuing IR patients for ER opioids I'm ok with that. Dr said he does and said some patients who he will take to 3 IR opioids are never happy anyway and won't go over 3 maybe 4 pills. I reviewed new indication for oxycontin and Butrans. Dr said he likes it and actually remembered the old indications. Dr said the way the new indications read is exactly how he treats. I told him to continue writing Butrans an OxyContin and reviewed the Medicare coverage with Butrans. Dr said things are going well with Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	6/30/2014	Told dr about the oxycondone insight. Asked dr if it makes sense to him to treat pain around the clock in 4-6 hour increments? Dr said it depends who the patient is and what he's treating them for and said their practice refers to western reserve pain at the hospital for any one needing medicine every day to treat chronic pain. I told him I understand and asked him to look for patients currently taking products like Percocet and needing more than 3 pills to convert to OxyContin q12 as the same molecule just a different delivery system. Dr said he knows and just doesn't want to write it. I asked him if Butrans is an option and its a schedule 3 7 day patch? Dr said possibly and remembers talking to me about it before. Took the initiation and conversions guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/30/2014	First met with med asst Theresa. Reviewed patient tear sheets and asked her to make sure to give to every Butrans patient when leaving office. Also left her FPI and Formulary Grid. Discussed improved Med D status & specific plans. Was allowed back to Dr Vilinsky office. Med D Baby Boomer insight. Dr was surprised at US Census Bureau data. Discussed what this means to his practice, an influx of age 65 who need access to branded meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/30/2014	Discussed Pam profile and access to Butrans, butrans dosing, showed patch/disposal unit demo. Discussed Pam as also appropriate for 10 mg every 12 hours OxyContin start. Asked for patients like Pam today, this week. Dr Met with pharmacist Shirisha. (spelling?) Discussed changes to both OxyContin, then Butrans FPIs. Discussed scheduling, dosing for both products. Discussed addition of neo natal opioid withdrawal syndrome to both product black box warnings. Discussed Butrans patient guide and changes within.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/1/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Titration, Med D formulary status along with OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths that are not controlled on present therapy, Said she will continue to advocate and prescribe for appropriate patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/1/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling that describes abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those Norco patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. Said he will consider to find appropriate patients Reminded of OTC
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	7/1/2014	Reviewed w/Raj RPH OxyContin/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, See Butrans from Nickels, Torres, No new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2014	Spoke to the pharm d at the hospital and asked what the protocol was for getting Butrans on formulary. She told me to contact dr Patel or the medical pharmacy director mike. Pharmacist told me there is a non formulary form and that dr Patel could tell me the rest of the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2014	Discussed how he uses OxyContin and the doctor said he rarely uses opioids. Talked about the patient that might need at opioid treatment, dr said he uses Percocet sometimes. We discussed OxyContin dosing and the 12.3 fpi where it states the molecule, half life. Also reviewed the 7 doses. Dr said he treats mainly over 60 years of age and not just osteoarthritis. Talked about Butrans. He has a patient on Tramadol uncontrolled that can't tolerate NSAIDs and he asked about writing Butrans. The patient has carcasure, reviewed the I formation. Talked about what start up patient looks like. Reviewed half life and supplemental for break through. Reviewed

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/1/2014	Told dr about new indications for Butrans and OxyContin. Dr said it won't make a difference on how he prescribes because he isn't happy treating around the clock pain with short acting products. I told dr that's good to hear and asked him to continue using Butrans for those patients who he gets as referrals who are in pain around the clock and are inadequate. Asked for those on Percocet to convert to OxyContin and use the indication to determine who is most appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2014	Talked about the patient taking two or more doses a day and when does he think the medication is atc. Said at least three doses. Is aid you have patients likes these don't you he said yes. I said have you considered moving to OxyContin sooner when the pain is atc. Drs aid he should try to remember that more often. Reviewed the dosing of every 12 hours and not bid the dr was aware. Reviewe Butrans experience kit.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/1/2014	I asked dr if he believes that patients being treated in 4-6 hour increments who have pain around the clock may not be the best method of treatment? Dr said he agrees that patients who require something for pain as a narcotic multiple times daily should be moved to an ER opioid. I told him about the OxyContin indication and asked him to please reevaluate his patients continuing on IR opioids for conversion to OxyContin as long as they meet the indication. Dr said we have discussed it before and tries to get most of his patients on ER opioids but cost and approval for ER opioids limits his ability. I told him I understand and told him I'm sure not ALL of those patients on IR opioids fit that description. Dr said ok and went into a room.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/2/2014	I asked dr how she would define around the clock pain? Dr said when a patient is taking multiple pills per day. I asked what multiple pills per day means and dr said 3 or more a day. I read the OxyContin indication to her and asked her if patients taking 3 pills a day based on her response meet the indication of OxyContin or Butrans? Dr said she understands and said that she likes the new indication and its worded well. Dr said that she still may have issue writing OxyContin based on the office protocol but will look for Butrans patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Dr came to lunch for a few short minutes. Reviewed all key attributes and new indication for Butrans with dr. Dr said he uses Butrans for cancer pain. I asked him how its working and he said very well. I asked him the dose and he said he titrates to 20mcg and has the patients taking medicines for breakthrough with it. I asked dr what around the clock pain means to him? Dr said when patients want more pills than he's willing to give. I asked him specifically what that means and he said more than 3-4 pills a day or 90 a month. I told him those patients may be Butrans candidates and they don't have to be for cancer pain. I reviewed the in lesion criteria from Bup 3015 and asked him for more business from the patients on IR opioids. Dr asked if SummaCare is covering Butrans and I told him yes including aarp, and Silverscript. Dr said he's sold then and will use it more!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Spoke with tech Amanda about OxyContin and Butrans key attributes and asked her if she knows about the new indications? Explained the key selling attributes for OxyContin and Butrans and she said that they have seen more recently and 15mcg dose needed to be ordered. I told her that's great and discussed appropriate patient types. Reviewed Butrans dosing and titration and okay cards. Pharmacy has all does in stock and dispenses most
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/2/2014	Reviewed w/Ebony OxyContin and Butrans message of treating pain around the clock pain, Said she will relay info to RPH, no savings cards needed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Led with the tramadol insight and told dr about the new Butrans indication. Dr said he remembers Butrans and hasn't used it yet. I asked dr why not? Dr said that he has just forgotten about it and he's not opposed to using it. I started from the beginning and discussed all Butrans key attributes. I asked dr what arms the clock pain means to him? Dr said when patients need to take multiple pills a day to get pain relief. I asked if that means three or more? Dr said yes. I told him that I'm guessing that he has patient continuing on IR opioids like tramadol who are taking it 3 or more times a day and being refilled on it? Dr said I'm probably right. I told dr those patients may be appropriate for Butrans if they meet the indication or can't tolerate the IR or not getting adequate analgesia. Dr said he understands. I asked dr if he will use it for patients currently 3 or more IR opioids a day and meet the indication? Dr said he will then reviewed insurance coverage and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/2/2014	Discussed new indication for OxyContin and Butrans and she said it won't make a difference with how she prescribes. I told her that's good to hear but asked her to focus on patients who are in pain around the clock. Elise said she agrees and said anyone who needs more than 3-4 prns a day she will think Butrans or OxyContin and reserves OxyContin for those who are already on IR oxycodone. Elise said she does and will continue. Nothing else
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	7/2/2014	Dr asked me what's new and I told hi a new indication for OxyContin and Butrans. I handed him the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and read it to him. Dr said ok. I told him I want him to please determine what daily around the clock pain means this week and write OxyContin IR Butrans for patients that meet the indication. Dr said ok. Told him I want him to think of what it means to him and to keep patients already on oxycodone for conversion to OxyContin and tramadol and Norco for Butrans. Discussed indication to Tina the drs main MA and responsible for PAS. Nothing else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	7/2/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin dosing, titration and managed care.W-excited about Butrans' new formulary coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Led with tramadol insight and went into new Butrans indication. I asked dr to break it down for me and tell me what around the clock means to him relating to pain? Dr said when patients need multiple pills per day to control pain. I told dr that the problem is that I'm guessing many patients continuing on IR opioids like tramadol in reality meet the indication for Butrans and ER opioids in general. Dr said he agrees and said he tends to forget an Butrans and knows he has many more patients that he choice start on Butrans. Dr asked if BWC is paying for it and I told him they are. Dr said that makes a difference and said he will use it more. I reviewed dosing, titration and multiple patch use as well as copy cards. I asked him for more business from Medicare and BWC.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Led off with tramadol insight and went into indication for Butrans. I asked dr what pain around the clock means to him and he said the same as Laszlo which is multiple pills a day to get analgesia. Dr said he likes the indication and said he was glad I was there because he has forgotten about Butrans. I told him I know he's had success in the past and why that is not propelling him to use it more frequently? Dr said he doesn't know other than that he's been very busy. I reviewed patient type selection, dosing, titration, multiple patches and managed care. Dr said he will get back to using it and said the new Medicare coverage will help significantly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	7/2/2014	I - OxyContin dosing, titration and managed care. Butrans indication, dosing, titration, managed care and co-pay cards.W-he said he tried to write Butrans for two patients today and that it was too expensive.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/2/2014	Desk call, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider, Once again Aurora confirmed he is not prescribing any new Opioids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/2/2014	Desk call,Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will consider, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	7/2/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will consider, hasnt had much success in sending those patients to PMgmt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	7/2/2014	Asked why someone would dose someone in 4 to 6 hour increments several times a day when they could go for an extended release option of either every 12 hour dosing with OxyContin or weekly dosing of Butrans.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/13/2014/Again, good question, but I'm sure there much have been some discussion, right?BARTOLI's response on 07/14/2014/Actually, not. The pharmacist shook his head and said it was the doctors call. I didn't get much more information or conversation further cause there was patients and he asked me to come back.CHUDAKOB added notes on 07/14/2014/My suggestion might be to not lead with a question as this can seem like they are being grilled, especially when they are very busy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/2/2014	Led off discussion with dr about the tramadol insight and then went right into the new indication for Butrans. Dr said he thinks its well written and agrees with it and it will not change how he prescribes ER opioids especially Butrans. I told him I wanted to break the indication down and asked him what pain around the clock means to him? Dr said he won't write more than three(3) pills a day of any IR opioid and said he really only writes tramadol anyway. Dr said once a patient needs more than three pills he likes to go to Butrans. Dr said the only problem is that many patients don't do well with a patch or refuse to wear it. Dr Higley did say though that he will continue to use it when patients need more than 3 tramadol a day and try it in as many patients as he can. Discussed use of multiple patches and asked dr for continued support.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/2/2014	Dr said he doesn't treat with much oxycontin. I said why not. Dr said he doesn't have patients that need long term treatment of pain medications. I said dr have you ever written an oxycodone product. he said yes. I said that molecule is the same molecule of oxycontin expect oxycontin is sinlge entiry and has a control release delivery system over 12 hours. If you have a patient on an oxycodone product say taking more than 2 doses a day and they are not controlled...if you feel they need an atc opioid think oxycontin- review of burrans dosing andmanged care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/2/2014	Opened with the opioid naive insight. Talked about that one patient that might be appropriate for an extended release option and a dosing scheduled either weekly like Butrans or every 12 hours like Oxycontin. I said why dose someone in 4 to 6 hour increments atc-with an immediate release opioid when they have the option of dosing it with 2 pills a day every 12 hour or in weekly dosing. Dr said she doesn't have many pain patients any more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/2/2014	Quick OxyContin review every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/2/2014	Spoke to dr regarding how he treats patients with ATC therapy with extended release products. I said think about your immediate release patient taking more than 3 doses a day. I said is this isn't person considered ATC, he said yes. I said think about either Butrans weekly dosing as their ATC option after their immediate release product isn't providing adequet analgesia. I asked if this sounded reasonable. He said yes. I talked about Butrans weekly dosing and the experience kits left behind. Reminded him of the patient similarly already on an oxycodone molecule and not being treated adequetly and turning to Oxycontin as an option of dosing every 12 hours. I reviewed it was the same molecule, different delivery system and single entity.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/2/2014	The told me that he heard of the new indications for ER opioids. I discussed the Butrans and OxyContin indications and asked him if it will change the way he prescribes? Dr said it will not. Dr said he recently had to discontinue Butrans in a patient who had a rash with Butrans who had been on it for some time. I asked dr if this is happening more often in the last couple of months and dr said yes it is. I asked dr if he believes its the patch or the sensitivity of the patients skin? Dr said he's not sure but maybe a little of both. I asked dr to please consider Butrans for his patients where Norco is inadequate and OxyContin for when Percocet is inadequate. Dr said does this sounds reasonable- for your patients not adequately controlled on more than 2 doses a day of immediate release opioids. Before reaching for a third dose...if you believe them to be an ATC patient think about dosing them Oxycontin every 12 hours or even butrans weekly dosing option.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/13/2014/Lisa, this is a question you asked, but I do not see a response. Did you just walk in and ask this question and leave?BARTOLI's response on 07/14/2014/Dr said he doesn't like to write too many immediate release doses for chronic pain patients.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 07/16/2014/
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/3/2014	Discussed new Butrans indication with dr and asked him what his thoughts are? Dr said he guesses its ok but it won't make him write more or less narcotics. Dr said he has used Butrans on a few occasions with good success. Dr said its a great alternative to pills and likes that it a schedule 3 and lasts for 7 days. I told dr to take similar profiled patients to the ones on Butrans already and start new ones. I reviewed patient types, conversions and titration. Dr said he will continue writing and will look for new patients. Discussed the option of OxyContin and how the indication can also help him identify appropriate patients requiring daily, around the clock opioid
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Will follow up with formulary request after returning on the 15th
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/3/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/3/2014	Spoke with glaiana the Pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin and asked her if she has noticed an influx of patients filling prescriptions from summit pain? Dr said he would write OxyContin if appropriate. But was still hesitant of Butrans because its a newer drug. Discussed patients under 40 Mgs total daily dose of hydrocodone or under Tramadol, dr said he has these. I said if they were being treated with a few doses a day and were not satisfied with their pain relief would you change up their treatment. He said yes. I said is more than three doses of an opioid atc, he said yes. I said they are appropriate for Butrans, not acute patients. Highlighted the naive pain results and the dosing. Reviewed the discontinuation rate. I said how do these numbers sound to you? He said fine. I reminded him of managed care and asked him if that was taken out of the picture would he still write it. Dr said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	7/3/2014	Highlighted one patient to try it on that might appreciate the weekly dosing. Highlighted managed care. Reminded him of OxyContin dosing and the molecule w delivery system.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/3/2014

	Hudson	OH	44236	7/3/2014	Discussed the oxycodone insight and hydrocodone insight. I asked dr what around the clock pain mans and she said her first patient is in 5 minutes and said that she will not write OxyContin because she will not write any schedule 2 narcotics but said she has a patient she is considering for Butrans. Dr said the patient is taking 5/325 Norco q6 and continues to be in pain and said she doesn't want to give more pills. I explained to her about initiating on the 10mcg dose and discussed titration and discussion of Butrans key attributes she can convey with the patient. Dr said ok and will let me know.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/3/2014	Visited Pain/dept. (Abraham,Samuel,Dalbir) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/3/2014	Speaking with Laura who works with Barb on prior authorizations about the new Butrans indication spoke with dr Geiger about the indication. Dr said he really likes it and hope it will help to justify ER opioid use. I told dr that's good to hear and asked him to identify patients who need to take opioids on a daily basis and around the clock. Dr agreed and said he wanted a copy of. Butrans initiation and titration guide. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	7/3/2014	Talked about OxyContin dosing and titration. Reviewed Butrans dosing and patch placement.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/3/2014	Led off conversation with dr the tramadol and hydrocodone insight and asked him if he thinks treating daily, around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments make sense? Dr said it doesn't and said but there are many things that get in the way of converting patients to ER opioids. Dr said there aren't many patients that are motivated to change or ask to change to ER opioids because they like the way IR opioids make them feel. Drs also said that patients use the cost excuse as to why they want to start on their IR opioid because ER costs too much. Dr said the discussion in the exam room is far different than I think the way it is. Dr said its a consistent struggle to get parings on the most appropriate medicines. I talked to dr an setting the expectation early on in treatment with narcotics and your koan for their treatment in the future. Dr agreed. I discussed Butrans indication and told him to focus on patients requiring daily, around the clock pain. Dr said around the clock is 3 or more pills a day. I told dr to identify who those patients are and assess them for the appropriateness for Butrans or OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	7/3/2014	Reviewed dosing and titration of both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/3/2014	Dr back from vacation and asked what's new at window. I asked to come back to also speak with Darlene I discuss new Butrans and OxyContin indications. Read the Indications and asked dr what she thinks? Dr said it sounds good and said she has used a little more Butrans and is having been results. I told her to focus on patients that meet the specifics of the indication which is dally, around the clock. Dr said ok. Told her to not forget OxyContin as well and use it for those who Percocet is inadequate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/3/2014	Think about for a moment your patient taking more than 2 doses of an immediate release opioid and not controlled. If you decided to change their treatment option- OxyContin every 12 hour dosing if your patients are on oxycodone. Or Butrans weekly dosing for patients under 40 mg of hydrocodone. Would you have any hesitations doing this? Dr said what is managed care like...I asked what plan? He said in general. I reviewed managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/3/2014	Why dose someone at in 4 to 6 hr increments when they have the option of OxyContin very 12 hours or Butrans every week? Dr said he will remember.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	7/3/2014	Talked about the pain insight and the Butrans naive study results. Talked about patiens Nader 80 mg morphine equivalent appropriate to start Butrans. Weekly dosing , patch rotation and managed care. Dr said more than 2 doses a day is atc. I asked if it was reasonable to ask that her oxycodone patients that are appropriate like discussed who are not well controlled if they could be given the option of OxyContin 10mg. She said if appropriate. Reviewed doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/3/2014	I want to point out an option for your atc pain patients who are currently taken 2 or more doses a day and are their. Medication needs to be adjusted. One option is OxyContin which is dosed every 12 hours- and our lowest starting dose is 10mg. Another is Butrans, a pain patch dosed weekly and initiated on patients under 80 mg morphine equivalent at either 5mcg or 10mcg. Dr said ok he will think about it and walked away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/3/2014	Discussed new indications for Butrans and Oxycontin. Glenn said he likes how it worded and said it may help with prior authorizations. I told Glenn if he thinks so that's great to hear. Glenn said he continue to get prior authorizations for Butrans. I asked him if its just Butrans and Glenn said no. Every ER opioid theses days requires one Glenn said. I asked if he's getting the, approved and he said most yes. I asked him if the same problem occurs with OxyContin? Glenn said yes more than ever. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok. Asked Gwen for assistance, said she mainly deals with Diabetes, but will assist when appropriate. Discussed the oxycodone and hydrocodone insights and told him that too many apricots are being treated for around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Dr agreed and said that doctors including himself are to blame for that. I told dr I'm surprised to hear that coming from him but I agree! I told him that the expectation for the treatment of pain must be set to the patient early on in treatment. Dr said he agrees and said its just not that easy. Dr said patients are stubborn and manipulative and said he doesn't want to even treat any pain other than acute. I told him that with products like OxyContin and Butrans the specific patient selection is vital. I told him that each requires patients that are motivated to change from IR opioids, can be trusted,and meet the indication. I told him about the new OxyContin and Butrans indications. Dr said ok but said he still won't write OxyContin much and said he will try to start someone on Butrans. I asked him if he has patients that are taking more than three prn pills a day for pain? Dr said lots of them. I asked him what's keeping him from converting them to ER opioids? Dr said he just doesn't want to use them. I told dr he's already treating them for around the clock pain but just in IR opioid form and I don't get it. Dr said he can't explain it but will try for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	7/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings Cards, formulary grid, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Asked John for assistance in reminding Dr. Said he will.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Talked to the nurse illada regarding her day and job duties. She told me that the office has changed alot and they all rotate spots each day. Jackie is Drs usually nurse and she handles all his authorization. She said the doctor requests the coupons usually and the nurses usually don't give out coupons just the doctors. I talked about oxycontin control release opioid for appropriate patietns with long term pain. showed her the types of pain from the visual aid that oxycontin may be appropriate for...lower back pain, cancer pain. Talked about the patient needing an adjustment in their treatment and oxycontin dosed every 12 hours and butrans dosed weekly. Left fpi's and gave initiation guides for the doctors.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	7/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said she will consider for appropriate, Reviewed Formulary status, savings cards, Initiation/Titration, Said she had 1 patient in mind, asked for Renee help on reminding and follow up on utilization
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Said hello to the doctor- told him to keep an eye out for those appropriate patients what need a control release opioid option like butrans or oxycontin. Highlighted the coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	7/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, formulary status, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Said he continues to find appropriate patients, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	7/7/2014	I told dr the oxycodone insight and told him about the new indication. I asked dr to identify patients who he continues to refill their IR opioids for and to ask himself what pain around the clock means and to write OxyContin for those patients. I asked him to write more Butrans and to ask the same things for Butrans and to keep the indication in mind when deciding to refill he short acting. Dr said he knows he should be using more ER opioids but said he just doesn't think its for him to decide. Dr said we will resume next time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/7/2014	Opened with primary care insight. dr said he thinks extended release products are good when used appropriately by the primary care doctors. Dr said he tends to write more generic products. I asked what generic extended release product does he use...any oxycodone? Dr said seldomly. I talked about the oxycodone molecule referencing section 12.3 of the fpi. Dr said he was aware it was the same molecule. We reviewed single entity and control release. Highlighted the 7 doses, showed the visual aid as reference. I said if you find your patient needing a change in therapy and they need an atc opioid product. Oxycontin- reviewed coupons and Butrans weekly option with saving card options for patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	7/7/2014	I told dr I have something new and its the indications for ER opioids. I read him the OxyContin indication and asked him what he thinks of it? Dr said it makes sense and said he likes how it says pain severe enough. I told him that's good to know and asked him what pain around the clock means? Dr said we talked about this already and he said when. A patient is taking multiple pills a day. I asked him for a number and he said three to four. I told him to assess patients who meet that criteria and convert them to an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/7/2014	I told dr that I'm guessing he treats pain in some fashion. Dr said he does. I asked him if he treats patients who have pain around the clock? Dr said he's not sure what that means. I told dr that typically pain around the clock means that patients require analgesics on a daily basis and have pain for an extended period of time. Dr said he does. I asked him if he currently has patients on Percocet or tramadol. Dr said he does. I told him when those patients analgesics do not provide adequate analgesia or can't tolerate them to move to an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said ok. I asked dr if he would convert a patient to OxyContin if a patient on Percocet met any of those criteria? Dr said he would fell more comfortable with Butrans. I asked why and he said because its a schedule 3 and its a patch. I told him that's good to know but why not OxyContin if they are already on oxycodone? Dr said he doesn't know and said he had to get to his last patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/7/2014	At front counter discussing new OxyContin and Butrans indications with Marsha Fox and dr came up to the window and asked what's new. I read hi. The OxyContin indication and asked him what around the clock means to him? Dr said a patient that needs something every day for pain. I asked him if he could put a number of times a day on it? Dr said he's not sure and we can discuss next time. I told him to think about that term for OxyContin and Butrans and when it would make him move to an ER opioid. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/7/2014	Spoke with nancy the lead technician about OxyContin and Butrans. She said she didn't know much any Butrans but said they do fill OxyContin. I asked her how frequently she sees new prescription of OxyContin and if she dispenses Percocet? Nancy said they have a new OxyContin every now and again and said most are refills. She said they see most short acting opioids than anything else. I explained the conversions and titration of OxyContin and then discussed the Butrans key attributes. Nancy said Butrans sounds like a great product. Discussed copay cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	klye the pharmacist said she was aware of the dosing of both oxycontin and butrans . Talked about the titration options with both products. Reviewed butrans and the patch location sights. Talked about not returning to the original application sight for 21 days per the studies. Also talked about what patients can use for break thru medications.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	7/7/2014	Visited PMR,JM,FP depts, OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, formulary grids, Appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	7/7/2014	Dr said he remembers that I have OxyContin and Butrans and said that he does not like to write for ER opioids especially in Ohio. Dr said that he refers out to pain management for most patients. I asked dr at what point that is? Dr said he will continue treatment for his long standing patients who he knows and trusts . I asked dr if any of those patients are on IR opioids? Dr said some. I asked if they have acute or prn pain and dr said no. I asked why he isn't converting them to ER opioids if they don't have acute or prn pain? Dr said I have a good point and asked me to give him more information on Butrans. Reviewed key attributes, specific patient selection,conversions, and dr asked about Medicare coverage. Reviewed med D grid and dr said he's impressed. I asked dr if he will use it and he said he would and wanted to keep the conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Talked to laura the ma about oxycontin and butrans appropriate types of patients who may need a control release medication either once a week dosing (like butrans patch) or every 12 hour dosing like OxyContin. Left managed care grids and fpi's.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Gave the extended release insight. Reviewed if he has patients already on an oxycodone molecule and require a dose adjustment to more than 2 a day couldn't that patient be a candidate for an atc product like oxycontin? He said maybe. Its the same molecule, yet oxycontin is single entity and is dosed every 12 hours instead of every 4 to 6 hours. If patients prefer less medication than every 12 hours like Oxycontin for the ATc, patients may also be a candidate for Butrans dosed weekly if they are appropriate and are under 80mg morphine equivalent. Starting off at either 5mcg or 10mcg depending on the what they were on previously. Highlighted the experience kit with LORI and h himself.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/7/2014	Met dr for first time and asked he about her experience. Dr said she trained at akron general and went through a pain management rotation. I led things off by talking about he tramadol and hydrocodone insights and asked her her thoughts. Dr said she was trained in school to convert to ER opioids when the pain isn't acute or prn. Dr said she can't understand why doctors don't do it. Dr said that she figures IR opioids are cheaper and its easier for them to write refills instead of branded ER opioids. Talked about the solutions with OxyContin and Butrans for ER options, product attributes for each and specific patient type selection for OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said she understands OxyContin and said the Butrans information was very helpful. I asked her to use it on the right patient at the right time and allow the product to speak for itself. Dr agreed she would try. Discussed managed care for oxycontin and Butrans and copay cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001

	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Saw dr thru window. I asked the doctor if he doubts the managed care coverage with Butrans? He said no, but he does have problems once and a while. I said if managed care were thrown out the window and you could get anything you wanted would you write more Butrans for patients under 80mg morphine equivalent? He said yes. I said well...reviewed the major plans, caresource and med d plans big to his office. I said are most of the patients you are converting to Butrans coming from tramadol or a hydrocodone product. he said hydrocodone. I said here's something to think about- if you have a patient taking 2 or more immediate release products and they still aren't controlled...why add more immediate release product dosed every 4 to 6 hours when you can offer the butrans patch at weekly control release dosing...even oxycotin is dosed every 12 hours. Dr said yes he thinks that is a good spot for Butrans. Spoke to Kelly the office manager and Jeanette about prior authorizations and their role in the office. They handle some of this and the RN in the back (name forgot) handles alot. I asked to see her but she was busy with the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44120	7/7/2014	Reviewed with Tech Cindy OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will relay info to Ebony RPH
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/7/2014	Opened with primary Care insight- I asked the doctors when a patient needs a change in therapy and are on more than two immediate release products- what is your hesitation for writing an atc product like OxyContin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans dosed weekly? Dr. Ludwig said price and Dr. Powers said she doesn't write schedule 2 products. Dr powers said she just started someone on 5mcg of Butrans and used the Experience kit. I asked what product did they fail that they needed a change in therapy. Dr. powers said they were taking hydrocodone 3 times a day. Reviewed the strenths availalbe and reminded her of the patch rotation not going to the same sight for 21days.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	I wanted to see how you think a control release product dosed either weekly like butrans or every 12 hours like oxycotin might be an option for patients requiring atc pain therapy. Do you think you have one patient that may prefer a dosing scheduled like this rather than being dosed in 4 to 6 hour increments several times during the day? Dr said maybe a few. I said great. If you are going to make a change anyway for them...consider Butrans 5 or 10mcg starting dose or Oxycontin's lowest dose is 10mg every 12 hours.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2014	Waved thru the window. Dr said Butrans right. I said actually I was going to remind you that if your patients are not currently controlled and you decide to make a change for them...if they are taking oxycodone more than twice a day- why not consider a control release product like Oxycontin dosed every 12 hours or even butrans dosed weekly if they are appropriate. He said ok thank you and walked away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	7/7/2014	Quick review of Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/8/2014	Reviewed with Cindy Tech, OxyContin/Butrans savings cards,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/8/2014	Spoke to Tracey, she told me that today wasn't a good day for the doctor and i asked if she could pass any information over to the doctor she said dhe would. Reviewed the oxycontin dosing with 7 strenths, lowest dose is 10mg dosed every 12 hours. also talked about Butrans- for the patient needind daily atc opioid pain medication dosed weekly. reviewed experience program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,Formulary status, Savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will continue to support for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/8/2014	Said hello to dr and told him I needed a quick second t tell him something new. Dr said quickly so I told him about the new indications for OxyContin and Butrans. Told him how they differ from the old ones and asked him to please identify patients that meet the indications and convert them to either OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	7/8/2014	Spoke with pharmacist Nikki who said she remembers talking with me back in March. Nikki said she hasn't seen Butrans prescriptions in a while and said they dispense more Percocet than anything else. I asked her if she is getting prescriptions from pain management? Nikki said yes and that who is writing most of the immediate release products. I spoke with her about conversions from Percocet to OxyContin and reviewed the new indication. Nikki said she likes how it sounds and fits ER products well and said as long as doctors write appropriately. I told her I agree and reviewed Butrans key attributes. Nikki said they only have the 5 mcg in stock. She said they do have one copy card on the shelf with the 5mcg.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/8/2014	I asked dr what's stopping him from converting patients taking Percocet daily and around the clock to OxyContin? Dr said his patients won't take it. I asked why and dr said its got too much baggage and he knows he should be trying with his patients harder but its too difficult. I asked for him to find just one patient who is motivated to change and dr said he would. I showed dr the Butrans MVA page with the doses and new indication. I read him the indication and asked him to focus on a patient who needs a dose adjustment on tramadol or can't tolerate it. Dr said ok. I asked dr what his hesitation is with writing Butrans? Dr said mainly cost. I asked him if he knows what Butrans costs? Dr said its a branded medicine so its definitely more expensive than a generic. I told him not necessarily. Told him about the plan coverages, copy cards and average copays. I asked him if that's competitive with a generic? Dr said it wounds good and he will consider it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/8/2014	Left packet of info at nurses station. Since Carla RN not available (training new nurses) - could not access Dr. Saeed. PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/8/2014	spoke to the nurse and she said it was very hard to see the doctor. Reviewed oxycotin and butrans dosing and savings program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	7/8/2014	I told dr that he has told me before that he has patients on tramadol who are taking 3 or more of them a day. Dr said he does. I asked if they are currently being treated for acute or prn pain? Dr said some but not all. I asked why he's not converting them to Butrans then? Dr said he doesn't know but said he should be considering it. Dr asked about Medicare and Medicaid coverage. Discussed plans and Caresource PA. I reviewed the indication and told him to look for patients on tramadol who meet it and write Butrans. Dr said ok. I reviewed OxyContin dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	7/8/2014	Lunch. Baby Boomer Med D insight. Dr & CNP Cara surprised at # of patients turning 65 in USA. Lead to Pam profile, Discussed Pam as opioid naive patient, covered on Medicare D. Discussed types of pain such as osteoarthritis that may cause patients to present with daily, act, long term pain. First option is CII OxyContin, single entity, can titrate up OR down in 1-2 days. Discussed adverse events and that they were similar in both elderly and younger subjects in clinical trials. Discussed cut dose to 1/3 to 1/2 for elderly debilitated. Med Asst came into lunch room asking Dr. Brobbey to sign RX. I stated, I hope that's for OxyContin or Butrans. He told me that it was OxyContin 10 mg start. I asked him to tell me about the patient: he responded: for 80 yr old female, multiple myeloma - spinal fractures - I thanked him for confidence in OxyContin and we discussed clinical data in OxyContin FPI. If patient needs to be titrated, he can do so in 1-2 days and titrate to 15 mg every 12 hours. Transitioned to Pam profile, and possible Butrans start. Discussed opioid naive like Pam or patient on 2-3-4 Tramadol daily. Before writing your next Tramadol refill this week, consider Butrans CIII 1x week patch. I asked Dr. if he has any issues with buprenorphine molecule? He does not - he "just hasn't found the right patient yet." He asked where Butrans is covered? I replied with commercial/Med D status. He was satisfied with response. Asked him to write both OxyContin, Butrans for patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	7/8/2014	Med asst gave dr demico my business card. Dr DeMiccio came out and asked me to sit in his office he was going into patient room and he'd be right in. We discussed attributes of OxyContin including signal entity opioid, every 12 hour dosing, side effects similar for elderly & younger subjects in clinical trials. Using FPI discussing dosing for special populations including renal, hepatic, females, elderly debilitated at 1/3 to 1/2 normal dose. Ability to titrate up or down in 1-2 days. Butrans, CIII, 1x week burprenorphine patch, no first pass liver metabolism, 4 strenths for dosing flexibility, 8 application sites, titrate every 72 hours; then discussed and paged through Butrans patient tear sheets. Asked him to hand out to all new Butrans starts. Asked med asst/OM who normally would hand out patient education/they responded Dr DeMiccio. They don't have any system set up at check out up front. Asked for business this week, for both OxyContin/Butrans when patients present with daily, act, long term pain. Dr agreed he would write.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/8/2014	Quick hallway call. Med D Baby Boomer insight. Paul was surprised at the data. Then discussed patient like Pam, who's covered on Med D. She could be appropriated OxyContin or Butrans patient at start dose of either product. OxyContin, CII, single entity opioid, titration up or down possible in 1-2 days. Improved Med D coverage. Butrans, CIII, 1x patch, no first pass liver metabolism, 8 possible application sites, 4 strenths for dosing flexibility. Improved Med D access. Please keep patients like Pam in mind this week, for either OxyContin or Butrans. Left Butrans updated tear sheets. PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	7/9/2014	Told dr I needed to talk to him about something new and important with Butrans. Dr said he only for a second and I told him about the new Butrans indication and how important it is to his prescribing of opioids. I told dr to focus on the words daily around the clock treatment. Dr said he does like that wording and said it won't change the way he prescribes opioids. I told him I hope it gets him to think more about patients that are being treated around the clock with IR opioids and to move to Butrans or OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/9/2014	Talked about the dosing of both oxycontin d Butrans with Laura the ma upfront.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/9/2014	Spoke with Gary about new indications for OxyContin and Butrans. Reviewed them with him and asked him his thoughts. Gary said it sounds good and said he likes the term around the clock. I asked him what he thinks it means and he said someone who needs something all day. I told him that's good to hear and gave him the hydrocodone insight. Gary said its disturbing and that they fill a lot of short acting prescriptions. Discussed OxyContin conversions and dosing as well as copy cards. Butrans dosing, conversions and patient types. Gary said they do see some prescriptions from dr Cain and some from dr Buis but that's about it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/9/2014	Opened with insight 14. Dr said she has done before. I asked her if she considered more than 2 doses a day to be an atc candidate. She said maybe. I said something to think about for your atc patients that may want a different delivery system. Oxycontin is dosed every 12 hours and Butrans dosed weekly. Dr said she started someone on Butrans. She said she started the, on 5mcg. I talked about titration and doses available.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/9/2014	Spoke with dr about identifying patients that are not candidates for intervention and patients that meet the clinical protocol of being on 3-4 prns a day. I explained the patients he needs to be treating with Butrans and to ensure he titrates to the maximum dose and his ability now in using multiple patches and used MVA to review this. Dr said he knows and does titrate to max dose and rarely uses the 5 mcg and finds the 15mcg works very well. I told dr I noticed he is out of OxyContin copy cards. Dr looked and said he does remember using the last ones recently. I asked where and he said for patients that he converted from oxycodone. I told him to continue converting due to inadequate analgesia or tolerability. Dr agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	7/9/2014	Spoke with Alexa, reviewed OxyContin Initiation/Titration guides, Savings cards, said she will relay info,Regan Demshar is NP on vacation
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/9/2014	Yelled out to Dr as he was walking past front window. For your patients with daily, atc pain, I have 2 options: OxyContin dosed every 12 hours and Butrans patch, worn every 7 days. Ok replied dr. walked back into patient room. Left with med asst, Butrans FPI Initiation guide/OxyContin FPI conversion guide, OxyContin savings card sell sheet. (left same for Penny O'Brien CNP; she's not in yet, may be in within an hour)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/9/2014	Window. Two things to think about for your pain patients....they aren't controlled on their current therapy and taking 2 or more doses a day...if they require a change in therapy OxyContin dosed every 12 hours and Butrans dosed weekly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/9/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablets along with butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, is very familiar and would like to further discuss, Scheduled appt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/9/2014	Told dr I needed to discuss the new indication for OxyContin and Butrans with him. Reviewed indication and told him to focus on the words daily and around the clock pain. Dr said ok and likes the way it's worded. I told him that I know he has patients who are currently being treated with around the clock pain on a daily basis and that those patients are meeting the indication for ER opioids like OxyContin or Butrans. Dr agreed and said that he is going to try and speak with a few patients who he knows should be on an extended release product. I asked him to focus on patients already on oxycodone for OxyContin and Norco for Butrans. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/9/2014	Caught Dr. Petroff @ front window. Let him know I have 2 products for daily, atc, long term pain: OxyContin, Butrans. Asked him to read info & hope to follow up soon at lunch. Met with med asst at front. Asked to schedule lunch. She stated I must speak with Peg, who's on vacation until NEXT Tues. She will be in Tues, Wed and Fri of NEXT WEEK. CALL AND SCHEDULE.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/9/2014	Gave insight 14. Asked the doctor what was the last time he prescribed like that? Dr said he can't remember ever doing something like that. I said if someone was being treated with a NSAID several times a day and the patient needed a change in therapy...why couldn't you give them an option like OxyContin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans dosed weekly. He said you could but its not done like that. I said ok. But u recognize it could be done that way and he said yes. I said so tell me what you would do next for a patient like that. He said he would give them Tramadol or maybe an immediate release product. I said but how many times a day with this atc pain patient. He said two or three times a day as needed. I said how do they know when to take the pills and spread them out with those kids of products. He said they figure it out. So when this patient comes back and isn't well controlled on more than 2 doses of an immediate release product, can you write either OxyContin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans dosed weekly? He said maybe. I talked about the 12.3 section of the fpi and the oxycodone molecule and comparison. I also highlighted and showed the visual of the 7 strengths of OxyContin. Talked about Butrans indication and appropriate for those under 80 mg morphine equivalent. Asked dr how many pain patients are under this and he said all of them. Reviewed opioid naive pain scores and managed care
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/9/2014	Spoke with dr in his office and asked him it it makes sense for patients to be treated with short acting opioids for daily around the clock pain? Dr said it doesn't but said it always going to be that way because of how patients and dr relationships are. Dr said there is only do much a physician can do for a patient who continues to argue about their analgesics. I asked dr why it's the patients decision on what they get? Dr said its really not but a compromise has to be made. Dr said he will continue to use OxyContin and will try to use more when converting from Percocet. Dr said as far as Butrans goes he said he believes it works and its covered pretty well but said he just can't remember to use it. I told him to remember this conversation and think of tramadol and Norco patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/9/2014	Short discussion in doctors office about the new indications for OxyContin and Butrans. I told dr that he needs to take a stand against his patients that continue to ask for IR opioids and take them around the clock on a daily basis and to do it earlier not later. Dr said he is trying with Butrans and is just finding that patients really like the analgesia but for some reason don't continue it after a month or two. I asked dr why that is and dr wells said he suspects they like the way the pills make them feel compared to the patch. I told dr that he should not be giving their pills back if they meet the indication for an ER opioid. Dr said ok and he will continue to try and get patients converted earlier.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/9/2014	Dr said hello, I said if you have a patient this afternoon looking for a different pain option and they are appropriate for atc long term treatment....oxycontin is does every 12 hours and Butrans weekly. She said ok and walked
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/10/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling that discusses abuse deterrent characteristics, Savings cards, why treat patients in around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/Titration Said Ok will consider, usually sends patients to pain mgmnt. not having success, will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/10/2014	Opened with insight 14 and asked the doctor when was the last time he did something like these prescribers. Dr said never. I asked why. Dr the. Clarified that the patients were atc appropriate for an extended release product. Dr said then he could do that but doesn't. Dr said he does try to write extended release products when patients are appropriate. I asked him how many doses is at in his opioids. Dr said 3 or more doses a day. We talked about the patient on 2 doses and uncontrolled and the dr has to make a change to the patients pain medication. Dr agreed that oxycontin would be a good option. Dr said he hasn't writte. Much OxyContin.i asked why. He said he doesn't have many patients chronic pain. Reviewed the fpi 12.3 section where it compares OxyContin to oxycodone. Dr said he wasn't aware it was the same. Showed the visual aid section and the doctor shook his head yes. Talked about the lowest dose of 10mg dosed every 12 hours. Talked about weekly dosing of Butrans and its scheduling. Talked about med d plans coverage and talked about the Initiation guide. Highlighted attributes such as no first pass and the excretion thru the bowels and highlighted the no dose adjustment for the elderly. Dr said he will write the products if he sees an appropriate patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/10/2014	Taked to Daniel the ma and highlighted the products that I had and updated formulary grids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/10/2014	Discussed insight 14. Dr said he doesn't like opioids. We talked about existing established patients he has already been treating for months. I highlighted the visual aid of the types of pain from the OxyContin visual aid. Dr said he does see a lot of lower back pain like stenosis. I asked him if a patient were uncontrolled and already on 2 or more immediate release products would you still treat you existing patient? He said yes. I asked him to consider among his choice a product at can be dosed every 12 hours like OxyContin or even weekly dosing like Butrans. We reviewed OxyContin 7 strengths and titration can be done every 1 to 2 days. Talked about Butrans dosing and Initiation guide. Reviewed scheduling and med d coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	7/10/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Left packet of info for Dr. Natesan (off today) that includes OxyContin savings sell sheet, FPI, conversion guide and Butrans FPI, titration guide, patient tear sheet. Discussed my products as ER scheduled opioids to treat patients that present with daily, atc, long term pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/10/2014	Dr. reviewed OxyContin/Butrans PI's and Initiation/Titration guides, said in present role Chairman of Pain dept . No further info requested, but will keep contact info for further reference.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	7/10/2014	Lunch. Total office call. Met with all medical assistants, including Carrie (new/training). Discussed both my products, scheduling, dosing, strengths. Showed both Butrans initiation guide, updates to Skin Sites and maintenance. Left pack of Butrans tear sheets in check out room. showed, left OxyContin conversion guide, discussed 10 mg as being appropriate start dose for opioid naive, ability to titrate in 1-2 days to 15 mg if needed. Discussed counseling patients to take one tablet at 8 am, 1 at 8 pm. Baby Boomer insight, what this means for your practice even more over age 65 patients to treat. More patients covered on Med D, needing access to branded meds. Discussed ER opioids for daily, atc, long term pain. Dr says he really likes Butrans and writes, but often still not covered on many plans. I let him know I will continue to update med assts on formulary status. I then transitioned to OxyContin. Before I could speak, dr said I know all about the reformulation,etc. I stated that's not what I want to discuss. I went into product attributes, lowest effective dose for trusted patients. One of the med assts (Amanda) said to dr. you don't want to write because OxyContin has street value, right? Yes replied dr. I asked dr and amanda, when was the last time you had patient come in and ask for RX of OxyContin. Dr. says I can't think of a time. Reviewed product attributes: efficacy since 1996, half life 4.5 hours, can titrate in 1-2 days, pH independent, single entity, etc.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	7/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with PI's. No new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	7/10/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours, FDA labeling that discusses abuse deterrent characteristics, Savings cards, why treat patients in around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/Titration Said Ok will consider, feels patients for the most part are controlled, Asked for those patients that are not, said he will consider.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	7/10/2014	I- Butrans clinical trials. OxyContin dosing and titration. W- having success with Butrans this week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	7/10/2014	Quick hallway. I asked dr to think about a patient like Pam, opioid naive, covered on Medicare D. She would be appropriate at starting dose of either OxyContin 10 mg ever 12 hours start OR 5 mcg hr start of Butrans patch, worn every 7 days. Please consider based on efficacy, safety and tolerability we have discussed on previous calls. Ok I will consider replied Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/10/2014	Pharmacist was busy. Highlighted the dosing of OxyContin and pointed out the opioid naive dose of 10mg dosed every 12 hours. Reviewed Butrans patch placements Initiation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted	OH	44138	7/10/2014	Dr came back to say hello and get coffee. I told him about insight 14...dr said he doesn't treat chronic pain so that number didn't apply to him. I said here's 2 things to think about for your existing pain patients uncontrolled in their current medication . If they are appropriate for a control release product we have two options to consider OxyContin. Dosed every 12 hours with 7 different doses to choose from and also a schedule 3 weekly dosing product called Butrans. Dr said thank you and walked away with his coffee.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia.said ok no new info learned

	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/10/2014	Opened with insight 14. I asked the doctor what was the last time he started someone like that. Dr replied never and that he never would. I asked why not. Dr said he will never go from NSAID to OxyContin. I said are u saying because its schedule 2 or its oxycontin? Dr said because It's an extended release product. Dr said he has been referring out any patient requiring atc treatment with opioids. Dr sized he agrees tha a patient may be appropriate for an extended release product like OxyContin but he said he doesn't want to prescribe those products any more. After reviewing what his idea of atc pain is, dr said he treats with immediate release products. I reviewed the 12.3 section of the fpi where out compares oxycodone to OxyContin 10mg dosed every 12 hours, I showed him the visual aid. I said why dose someone in 4 to 6 increments for atc pain when you have the option of OxyContin. I highlighted the 10mg dose for the opioid naive dose. We talked about the over 65 patient population in chronic pain. I showed him from the fpi how many elderly patients were studied and the doses available. I bridged to Butrans elderly profile highlighted the med coverage. Specifically aarp and carmark. Covered careourse too. Dr said he was impressed by the coverage. Discussed ano dose adjustment for the elderly and reviewed Initiation.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	7/15/2014	Dr came in and asked he just wrote a script for OxyContin. The dr explained the patient was on 20mg for a while and was ready to be tapered down, so he put him on the 10mg of oxycontin. I said that's great to hear. The 10mg was something i was going to highlight today and i asked whim why he chose the 10mg and not the 15mg as i showed him the 7 doses from the core visual aid. The doctor stopped and said he totally forgot about the 15mg otherwise he probably would have done that. I showed the visual aid with the actual size and the dr asked about the reformulation, which i covered and used the core visual aid to demonstrate. I also included the fda insight. I went over some aspects of the 10mg such as why it is an option for opioid naive patient- showed the 12.3 section of the fpi where it states the comparison of oxycodone and oxycontin. The doctor says he uses oxycodone for break thru medications along with Oxycontin. I focused on the reassessment if a patient were in need of titration and when it can be done according to our labeling (every 1 to 2 days). Touched on Managed Care and the types of appropriate patient types Oxycontin may be appropriate for...highlighted the single entry attribute. I highlighted butrans scheduling and managed care, the doctor said today was a busy day and to come back. I scheduled a follow up apt for Thursday to discuss butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin, abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, formulary along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok and will continue to prescribe to appropriate patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/15/2014	Met with med asst at front window. Had packet of info for both Dr.Reed (and CNP Karen Steffey) Let her know, i'm leaving updated info for OxyContin and Butrans, both for daily, atc, long term pain. Left Oxycontin conversion guides, Butrans initiation guides, 2 Butrans patient guides. Let staff know change to page 7, figure B.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/15/2014	Quick window, when migraine meds aren't enough for pain, i hope you will consider OxyContin or Butrans, depending on needs of patient, first line opioid therapy. Left packet of info for Dr. Roda to read: Butrans initiation guide, 1 Butrans patient guide, OxyContin conversion guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	7/15/2014	Spoke to erica the office manager and nurse, she said the doctor took the day off today but will be back later in the week. We talked about my coffee breaks in the morning and i asked her if he has enjoyed that, she said yes. She said they don't do lunches so its a nice break. I asked her if she thought oxycontin or Butrans was a product she thought he would rely on for his patients if need be. she said he doesn't write much pain medications unless its for a few days. I covered managed care for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/15/2014	Visited dept.(Faiman,Perala) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Savings cards along with confirmation of Fellows Monthly conf.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	7/15/2014	Lunch. Since this office is 100% BWC pay, med assts and PT wanted to know if our company offers any assistance with prior auth's, as they are not happy about the number/frequency of prior auths. I responded that no we do not at this time. Percocet insight. Dr D says it's whether or not his staff gets prior auth through, and many patients, stay on what dr. morley originally placed them on. Discussed product attributes for OxyContin including single entity opioid, steady state 24-36 hour, half life 4.5 hours, titration up or down in 1-2 days. then transitioned to butrans product attributes: buprenorphine release every 7 days, patients only have to remember 1x week, 4 strengths, 8 possible application sites. Went through each page of patient guide w dr d. Told him it's very important to hand out to all new starts. He will keep in his office & try to remember to hand out. I asked him to "fight" for my products if he feels OxyContin, Butrans are best, and instruct his staff to complete prior auth, even if they're complaining about doing so!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/15/2014	Quick window. Patient reduction pain score BUP 3024, opioid naive tolerated, able to be titrated up to max dose of 20 mcg hr in just a few weeks. Left new patient guide, initiation guide. OxyContin, also for atc, daily, long term pain. Discussed attributes including: single entity opioid, proven efficacy since 1996, steady state 24-36 hr, can titrate up or down in 1-2 days, Asked his med ast Julie and Dr. together, what age group does he see most or is it mix? Both he & Julie agree a mix. This way I know to update on Medicaid, Medicare and commercial plans. Improved Medicare D access mentioned, both products, prior auth with Medicaid. Dr says all is well, is there any reason he would NOT select either Butrans or OxyContin for his patients? No, he will continue for the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Reiterated Med.Ctr position, but will consider , asked for those patients she still is treating around the clock pain in 4-6h increments, OxyContin Q12h, said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	7/15/2014	Met with med asst and PA-C Liz at front desk. Asked to see dr brobhey, he's signing some papers then leaving for hospital, not a good day to come up front. Discussed OxyContin, then Butrans, as ER options daily, atc, long term pain. OxyContin is every 12 hrs release of oxycodone, 1 tablet at 8 am, 1 tablet 8 pm: Butrans is pain patch worn every 7 days, patients get 4 patches every month. Left new patient guide for both Dr. and Liz PA-C to review, Pam profile and Butrans initiation guide for Dr. Brobhey.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2014	Waved thru the window, he asked if he could sign something. I said actually i like you to instead think about your uncontrolled non acute painpatients. if they need a change to an atc opioid therapy oxycontin is dosed every 12 hours and butrans dosed weekly. He said ok thanks and walked away. Laura the nurse scheduled me an apt to see the doctor for a lunch and told me he does read the literature i leave behind. I talked about Butrans and its scheduling. I told her i was afraid the information he had time tohear today isn't enough to get him started on writing butrans. she said she will tell him to review the dosing again.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2014	opened with the extended release insight and asked him when is the last time he did something like this. the doctor said he doesnt like to write opioids. I said dr i hope you don't have to, but if the pain is severe enough and all other options prove to be inadequate and you need an atc daily long term option....then your probably would wouldn't you. he said yes. I said what if your current pain patient is no longer actue pain and requires a dose adjustment....could oxycontin be given an opportunity then? He said maybe. I gave a few attributews such as 7 doses and that the 10mg of oxycontin is an opioid naive dose...dosed every 12 hours instead of every 4 to 6 hours like those immediate release opioids. Dr said he will think about it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2014	Nurse took me back to his station- dr asked if anything was new and i said yes. I gave him the extendeded release insight and asked him if this is something he too feels comfortable doing. The doctor said he usually will not turn to an chronic medication after nsaid. I said if someone was taking several immediate release opioid doses a day at what point makes them ready for a control release? He said it depends how long they have been on the previous medication. I said lets say at least three months on an immediate release product and they are not controlled and they need a dose adjustment of some kind for their non acute pain. Dr said then he would consider a control release product. I said i have two options for you to think about today for those uncontrolled patients. First oxycontin that can be dosed every 12 hours and we have an opioid naive dose of 10mg. Another options Butrans, its a weekly dosing option. schedule 3 and our starting dose is 5mcg for opioid naive patients. I asked how these sounded to him? He said good. I said when i come back i'll go over some pain results for butrans- he Dr didn't take a break for lunch, but stopped to say hello. I told her id like her to think about two patient types today. A. her existing pain patients with uncontrolled pain. And B. those patients taking 2 or more immediate release opioids. I told when the opportunity presents itself to make a change in therapy for these types of patients...instead of dosing atc with an immediate release opioid. You have another option of Oxycontin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans c3 dosed weekly. Dr said thank you and apologized for not taking more time at lunch.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/16/2014	Lunch. Med Asst Sara, says all the girls up at check in/check out also do prior auths, and share with med assts that room patients with HCPs. There are so many, they have to complete first thing in am when phones are shut off, and last thing in evening when phones turned off or they would never get done. Due to increased volume of patients, practice has added 2 new med assts: Holly and Michelle. Reminded Dr Ashraf, he comminicated to me that 60-70% of patient base is over 65. Baby Boomer insight. This means over 65 population will keep growing = more patients on Medicare D. First let's discuss patient type: Pam profile. Discussed that patient like Pam is appropriate for start dose of 5 mcg hr for Butrans OR 10 mg OxyContin. Discussed product attributes for each product including dosing flexibility. Dr Ashraf, says for past few months, no issues he can think of with OxyContin not being covered. Asked for patient like Pam, today or this week, who has daily, atc, long term pain; please write OxyContin or Butrans, and if you feel either of my products are the best choice for your patient, please ask your med assts to complete prior auth. Is that reasonable? Yes, replied Dr. Ashraf.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/16/2014	Spoke to Sarah the head nurse and office manager about Butrans and OxyContin. Reviewed Butrans starting dose. PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/16/2014	Lunch. Discussed "atc" pain, that means 24/7 to dr krishnan. Baby Boomer Med D insight, then Pam profile. Asked for a few trusted patients like Pam, to trial Butrans & OxyContin. Discussed conditions for the majority of his patients over 65. Lower back pain, osteoarthritis. Rather than provide an ir opioid with q4-6h dosing and discharge patients on prn rx, Provide an ER option for your patients. Discussed product attributes for Butrans including no first pass liver metabolism and opioid naive dose of 5 mcg hr. Discussed product attributes for OxyContin such as first ER opioid to have FDA approved Tier 1, 3 abuse deterrent properties labeling, steady state 24-36 hours, can titrate up or down if needed in 1-2days. Asked for a few trusted patients, to treat here in office, for both products, does that sound reasonable? Yes replied Dr. For those patients that you will send for pain specialty referral, if you place on either product while your patient waits to get in for appt, you will refer on products pain specialty is using and familiar with. Showed patient guide/Butrans. Discussed proper application disposal. Discussed improved Medicare D status.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	7/16/2014	Reviewed Butrans 7 day transdermal, CII, Initiation/Titration along with Formulary status(Med D), Said she will relay info and request appt with Dept

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/16/2014	Lunch. Asked dr mukunda to consider writing OxyContin or Butrans before he refers patient out to pain management. Even if he writes for a few weeks, or 30-day RX for Butrans, at least patient will have some relief while waiting to get into pain specialty. Reviewed product attributes each product, Pam profile. Left Butrans FPI, titration guide/FPI and 1 patient guide. Left OxyContin FPI.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	7/16/2014	Hallway detail. Percocet insight. Dr. says majority of his patients can't afford branded meds. Discussed savings/access for both OxyContin and Butrans. OxyContin savings can be redeemed by cash/commercially covered patients and $30 co pay for any of our 7 strengths. Also discussed improved Med D access. Got back to product efficacy, attributes. OxyContin: proven efficacy since 1996, 24-36 hour steady state, ability to titrate dose up or down in 1-2days. Butrans, CII, buprenorphine, patients only have to worry about changing their patch 1x a week. Butrans efficacious/tolerated in opioid naive, BUP 3024 clinical study. 4 strengths, 8 possible application sites.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/16/2014	Asked for business today and remainder of this week, for patients presenting with persistent pain. sound reasonable? yes replied Dr. Park. Lunch. Baby Boomer insight. What this means is that you will be increasing your 65+ patient base over next several years. Pam profile. This patient appropriate for 10 mg start dose of OxyContin. Discussed OxyContin product attributes including half like 4-5 hours, steady state 24-36 hrs, so you can titrate in 1-2 days to next strength of 15 mg, and patient doesn't have to wait 30 days for titration. 7 strengths to individualize dose. Improved Medicare D access. Butrans, Patient like Pam appropriate for 5 mcg hr start dose of Butrans. CII, 1x week buprenorphine patch, matrix delivery technology. 4 strengths. Elderly able to tolerate & be titrated to max dose in clinical trials (BUP 3024) No first pass liver metabolism (systemic circulation), no dose adjustment necessary for renal, mild & moderate hepatic impaired, 8 possible application sites, showed how to write. Can call/fax in with refills. Asked for patient like Pam, this week, consider a trial of either OxyContin or butrans, for atc pain. Sound reasonable? Yes Kristy replied.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/16/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said Ok will consider, asked for appt to further discussion on main campus,Will follow up with Friday AM appt.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/16/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said he refers to Pain mgmnt for chronic conditions. Met Dave his PA as well. no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/16/2014	Met with OM Peggy Jakob. She came out into waiting room to talk with me. She states theyve recently transitioned to EMR & it's slowed all HCP's down. They are all really frustrated, not enough hours in the day, she is no longer scheduling lunches as the HCPs just don't have time to come over to conference room. she says try back 04 (October) and maybe things will have improved. Left Peggy OxyContin and Butrans FPI, Butrans patient guide. She asked about both products and asked me to keep in touch. I presented verbatim product indications, dosing, scheduling. Left info for Dr. Petroff: butrans initiation guide, OxyContin savings sell sheet. (left same for Drs.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	7/16/2014	Dr said after two doses of a short acting tablet it would be appropriate per indication to use an extended release opioid. Dr said he would use OxyContin for an extended release opioid. Dr. Said he had trouble getting Butrans covered on caresource, I said I would work with sarah the ma to confirm what was happening. I confirmed w her that it was not caresource that there patients did not have a problem. Getting the Butrans thru it was Uhc with Butrans. Sarah said she would talk to the doctor about the correction to his misperception if coverage. Review managed care with office staff and doctors.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/17/2014	I asked the dr to think about something this week...asked him to think about that norco patient on 2 or more doses not acute with pain and if they need a change in therapy cause they are not controlled to think about OxyContin.the dr said Butrans right. I told him I was actually trying to highlight OxyContin. Today and the dr said he already knows about OxyContin but hasn't used Butrans yet. I said why not....he said he hasn't found the patient to want it. And walked away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/17/2014	I said to the dr...we already reviewed Butrans weekly dosing and the coupons but I want to review who the appropriate patient type is. Dr said he is trying to get a script for a patient approved right now. He reviewed its a female Medicare part d with health partners. It needs a pa.I was unfamiliar with this but told him I'd try to find so sing out. Reviewed what they were in previously and the dr said 7.5 4 times a day of hydrocodone. I showed him the Initiation grid. Reviewed patch rotation and steady state of the product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	7/17/2014	Quick hello at window and told her I have one statement for Butrans and OxyContin to make. I told her that patients had at least a 30% reduction in pain score for Butrans in the clinical trials and the conversion from Percocet to OxyContin is a 1:1 conversions and I would like her to reassess those Percocet patients as candidates for OxyContin. Dr said ok and thanks for the information. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/17/2014	Dr was on his way into the office but not there yet. Spoke to Shirley reminded her of the coupons. And gave her the updated managed care grids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/17/2014	Quick hallway, I missed Carla Van Pelt again, but spoke with one of the other nurses at check in desk. Left updated Butrans patient guides for pain floor,green how to protect your meds brochures. Had Pam profile out, showed Paul, this is type of patient I want you to think about the remainder of this week - opioid naive, over age 65, osteoarthritis, did not tolerate aspirin or NSAIDs,meets indication for Butrans. If Butrans not appropriate, you could try 10 mg of OxyContin to start. Paul had to run after that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/17/2014	Spoke with Zoe the pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin. Zoe said she is very familiar with both and said they dispense a lot and have all doses in stock. I reviewed the dosing,indication, titration and specific patient type selection. Zoe said her patients seem to really like it and said she had no questions about it. Spoke to her about patient selection for OxyContin and discussed the Percocet patient and the conversions when it is deemed inadequate due to efficacy or tolerability.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/17/2014	I asked dr what his thoughts are on patients whom are being treated in 4-6 hour increments for pain around the clock? Dr said that's a long answer but did say that pain patients can be very difficult to treat because pain is so subjective. Dr said that he doesn't like writing any pain medicines because that's not his speciality. I asked dr if he has patients continuing on Percocet on a daily around the clock basis? Dr said he does have some yes. I asked him if those patients are being treated for acute or prn pain? Dr said a few are but most take it on a daily basis. I told dr to to do focus on patients in pain around the clock and meet the indication and reviewed it. I showed him the conversions and asked for business and if it makes senses. Dr said it does and will try. Gave him the Butrans initiation and titration guide and told him to focus on tramadol and Hydrocodone patients who are not having their analgesia or tolerability needs met.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/17/2014	Dr started off conversation and said that of the few patients he has on Butrans he is actually impressed on how well it works and tolerated. I told dr that's great to hear and to tell me more about what product the patients were moved from? Dr said he knows one patient was hydrocodone. Dr said it just wasn't managing the patients pain well enough and mentioned it to the patient and got it started. Dr said patients are a little apprehensive at first and then find out how well it works. I told him I agree and gave quick review of BUP 3015. Dr agreed and said he will try to find more patients. Discussed the OxyContin indication and asked for him to just convert those patients when he's ready to either titrate or refer out. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/17/2014	Discussed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics,every 12hours,savings cards along with Butrans 7 day transdermal,initiation/titration,savings cards, formulary grids, said she will relay to physicians, asked for inservice, said she will pursue (Tues.12-1)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/17/2014	Quick hello in hospital hallway of Summa Western Reserve. Dr said his patients are doing well on OxyContin and is trying to use Butrans more. I quickly told him to evaluate more on where his existing patients are doing on Percocet and review the history to see if they are candidates for the q12 oxycodone. Dr said he does it all the time. Dr said he is using Butrans more often and isn't having issues getting it covered anymore. I told dr that's great and to please look into those patients where tramadol or Norco are inadequate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	7/17/2014	Window call. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics,Savings cards,along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those tramadol failures, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	7/17/2014	Window call, reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, said to schedule lunch w/Audrey to further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View	OH	44125	7/17/2014	Met with Aaron, researched Butrans Med D ins. rejection, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/17/2014	Reviewed with Barb RN/Eva NP OxyContin, abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are not controlled on present therapy, Said they will relay info to prescribers and request appt with clinicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/17/2014	Reviewed w/Shella OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will remind Dr. He will be taking over as Medical Dir. and moving over to Ridge Rd location 4 days a week. Sharon Allen NP will be taking over at Tremont location
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/17/2014	Dr and Liz said that they only have one OxyContin copy card left. Liz said they won't be in the office til Monday the 28 so bring them then. I asked dr about his use of them recently? Dr said she just writes it and to ask Liz. I told him I would and asked him for continued use and to use more for patients taking Percocet around the clock on a daily basis and out them on the q12 OxyContin. Dr said ok. Lisa is she gave a few cards out for patients who recently started on OxyContin. Liz said they have had a few of Geigers patients come to their practice. Reviewed dosing and patient type selection for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/17/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the analgesia, Said Ok, walked away and continue to talk with Eva NP, Requested inservice
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/18/2014	Quick call in the hallway of his office and showed him the conversions from Percocet to OxyContin. I asked him what's so difficult in converting appropriate patients to OxyContin? Dr said he told me before that either patients refuse to take a product called OxyContin or are taking Percocet on a prn basis. I told dr I understand and what's him to qualify patients that are taking Percocet on a daily around the clock basis. Dr said ok. I also showed him the conversions from tramadol to Butrans. I told him he is missing a lot of opportunities for patients taking tramadol around the clock for a solution which may be more appropriate. Dr said he knows and just needs to take the time to do it. I told him he must because it will prove itself clinically in the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	7/18/2014	Quick hallway. Caught dr coming out to waiting room to get next patient. Told him I'm leaving patient profile, for his review, an opioid naive patient, covered by Medicare D, and appropriate for starting dose of either OxyContin or Butrans. Ok replied dr and walked into patient room. Left Oxycontin conversion guide, Butrans titration guide for RN Gail. Left same, & Pam profile for Dr Casselberry.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/18/2014	Asked him to think about those over 65 year old patients and they need a change of pain medication. If they need an atc options OxyContin. Is dosed every 12 hours. There is no dose adjustment and the 10 mg is the approved opioid naive dose. Also highlighted the med plans for Butrans and caresource coverage for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/18/2014	Saw Sandra while speaking with Joyce about lunch next week. I told dr I have new information for her which we will discuss next week but for now I told her to focus on patients taking the IR opioids on a daily around the clock basis who are possibly meeting the indication for Butrans. Reminded her about UHC and aarp coverage for Butrans. Sandra said ok and thanks fe the info.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/18/2014	Quick hello in hospital hallway. I told dr I have lunch next week in the hospital and that until then I would like him to focus on patients he sees that are continuing on Percocet or IR oxycodone who may need a dose adjustment or can't tolerate it and convert to OxyContin. I asked if he can just take an extra second with those patients and reevaluate them? Dr said ok but doesn't have too many continuing. I told him that he must have them and asked if most would be for acute or prn pain and dr said maybe a few. Asked for conversions in those appropriate patients. Told him to expand his use of Butrans in the elderly Medicare population with addition of aarp and Caremark coverage. Dr said to talk to his staff about insurance. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/18/2014	Discussed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/Titration, Savings cards and formulary coverage, Said ok will continue to find appropriate patients for OxyContin and will look to identify appropriate patients for Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/18/2014	Met Brandon the pharmacist for the first time. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans indications. Asked Brandon about how often he's seeing patients on Percocet being converted to OxyContin? Brandon said he knows a few here and there but said it needs to happen much more often. Brandon said it doesn't make sense for a patient to take a pill 6 times a day when they would take OxyContin q12. I told him that's great to hear. Discussed Butrans and Brandon said they just dispensed one today for a pain clinic in akron. I asked about the dose and he said 10mcg. Reviewed the conversions and appropriate patient selection. Discussed the copy card and trial offer. Brandon said he didn't know about the trial card.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/18/2014	Quick review of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok , will consider for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/18/2014	Spoke to ma and gave her managed care grids for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/18/2014	I asked the dr to think about a patient type next week. Those on I. Educate release hydrocodone and not controlled on their current pain medication. If they need a change to atc pain medication...two options OxyContin and Butrans. I asked her if this was reasonable for her to do. She said ok but she doesn't have many pain patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/18/2014	I asked him to think about his over 65 age pain patients for a moment. If you decided they could use an atc pain medication Butrans is preferred on aarp and silver scripts unrestricted that happen to be your biggest med d plans. I said would it make sense to write Butrans in that patient population. He said yes. I said can u remember next week, he said sure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/18/2014	Spoke with dr sable about OxyContin conversions from Percocet and reevaluation of those patients continuing on it for possible conversion to OxyContin. Discussed Butrans in the elderly and aarp and Caremark coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44113	7/18/2014	Visited Pain/Ortho depts Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration along with saving cards
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/18/2014	I told dr that she really needs to begin using OxyContin and Butrans. I asked her why she isn't taking advantage of each of them? Dr said she doesn't know why and said she's just tired. I asked her what that means and she said tired of arguing with patients about their pain and then requesting Norco and Percocet. I asked her why she is an argument because she needs to just tell her patients what she will be writing and what they should be taking it. Dr said she knows but must deal with patients who pay cash and are on Medicaid. I asked her if she has patients with commercial insurance or Caresource? Dr said she has some and knows she should be doing things different. Dr told me that she is leaving the practice in September and will be moving to a Columbus suburb.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are not adequately controlled on present therapy. Formulary grids, Said ok, has a patient in mind this afternoon
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/18/2014	I told dr that I want him to use a medicine for pain that he truly believes is most appropriate for his patients and when it comes to patients being treated for daily around the clock pain, he must consider ER products like OxyContin or Butrans. I showed him the conversions for each product and asked him his thoughts? Dr said he will try and has had good luck with it recently. I asked for business for each product. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/18/2014	I told dr I would like her to find opportunities for Butrans and OxyContin. I told her that I'm guessing she has plenty of opportunity in her practice for Butrans in those who's tramadol or Norco is inadequate and OxyContin is a good solution for those who's Percocet is inadequate. Dr said she would like to more but she can't get branded medicines approved. I asked where and she said for all her patients. I asked if she has private insurance, Medicare or Caresource? Dr said some. I told her that's where her opportunities lie and to use them there. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/18/2014	Quick hallway. Waited an hour to speak with Dr. Isakov. (he had over 50 patients on his schedule today) Baby Boomer insight. Using Pam profile, told dr. for this opioid naive patient, covered on Medicare D., she would be appropriate for start dose of either OxyContin or Butrans. Asked him to review profile and told him I look forward to discussing more next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/18/2014	Quick hallway. Baby Boomer insight. Asked Sarah what % of her patient base does she believe is over age 65? She replied at least 50%. For that patient base, I want you to think about a patient like Pam here, age 71, who has failed on NSAID and aspirin, and has daily, atc, long term pain now and who is appropriate for starting dose of either Butrans at 5 mcg hr or OxyContin 10 mg (every 12 hours). After going through profile, asked Sarah if a patient like Pam walks in this afternoon or next week, before writing Tramadol for this patient, think of starting that patient on Butrans. If Butrans not appropriate, consider 10 mg of OxyContin. Does that sound reasonable?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/18/2014	Quick hallway. Baby Boomer insight, Pam profile. Why is Pam appropriate for OxyContin start? Went through patient profile, patient meets indication and start dose of 10 mg, every 12 hours. When OxyContin is not appropriate, discussed option of Butrans start dose of 5 mcg hr. Dr. Do these 2 options for patient like Pam make sense? Is this therapy something you'd be comfortable initiating for an opioid naive patient like Pam? yes, replied Dr. Kim. Closed with access to my products for those patients over age 65, Medicare D. Preferred status Cigna, UHC AARP and Caremark Silverscripts Med D. He asked me to place items I was showing him on his desk, so he reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, no further info obtained, book lunch to discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy. In addition, reviewed Formulary grids/Med D opportunities, Said ok, will assist on reminding Dr. When appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/21/2014	Spoke with chuck about Butrans specific candidates, conversions, dosing, titration and copy cards. Reviewed the Butrans indication. Chuck said they have a handful of patients from summit pain and said they should be writing much more. I asked why he thinks so and he said there are many patients that have been taking IR opioids like vicoden for years and knows they should be on an extended release opioid. I told chuck thanks fe the information. Discussed OxyContin and appropriate patients along with doing and conversions. Shuck said they don't see much because summit pain doesn't use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/21/2014	Asked the doctor if he ever considered the ten mg of OxyContin after someone is taking the Percocet or oxycodone molecule. Dr said sometimes but he said he doesn't have many chronic pain patients. I mentioned it was about one appropriate patient. Talked about the patient that turns into an appropriate patient and why dose in 4 to 6 hour increments with immediate release opioids when you have an option to dose every 12 hours for OxyContin or weekly with Butrans. He said it was a good point and could keep it in mind. Spoke to Beth about managed care and asked if anything has come up to be aware of and she said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin formulary grids, every 12hours along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary grids Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients. nothing new learned. Savings Cards
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/21/2014	Short discussion over lunch. Dr said that he does see a need in their practice as they continue to reduce total morphine equivalents down. I asked what their goal is an he said he would like to get under 120mg. I asked why so high and he said they just did such a horrible job over the years in not titrating doses of IR opioids. Dr said he said Butrans seems like a product they can move patients to and asked about morphine equivalencies. I told him I can show him approximate conversions from Morphine. Dr said ok and that looks good and said he understands. Discussed patient types, conversions, titration and new indication. I asked dr to use it more frequently because I know he's missing opportunities. Dr said I'm right and said she will write more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/21/2014	Discussion with Becky at front counter. Told her about the new Butrans indication and asked her about her decision to discuss with her patients whom are taking IR opioids around the clock about the option of Butrans and to discuss with dr Oyakawa? Becky said she hasn't done it much but did have a scenario where the patient asked for more more Norco and she took it to Oyakawa and asked about Butrans. Becky said she don't know what the doctor did in that situation. I asked Becky to continue looking for patients who's IR opioids like tramadol or Norco are inadequate. Discussed Butrans attributes, doing, titration and schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch. I said dr I just want to help you identify the right patient type for Butrans today. Dr said ok. Reviewed the atc patient in need of a change in therapy that is already in need of a chronic opioid...talked about dosing and initiation. Reviewed OxyContin every 12 hour dosing as another option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/21/2014	Discussed atc dosing and she said at least 2 or more. She said Butrans may be a fit in her appropriate patients, reviewed caresource and the scheduling and refills. Talked about OxyContin dosing and she said she does write schedule two products but will write refill after the the has first write. It. Review of the reformulation of OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	7/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, Formulary grid along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Asked why treat around the clock pain in 4-6 hours increments? Said no reason but ins. or PA obstacles, Said he will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin formulary grids, every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she has had extensive experience with both products, but key prescribers at CCF have not. Will continue to inquire for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	cleveland	OH	44135	7/21/2014	Left managed care grids and reviewed scheduling
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/21/2014	Saw dr from window. Dr said Butrans right. I said are you telling me you wrote it. Dr said not yet. I said well just find some to start....weekly dosing and excellent managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/21/2014	Short discussion over lunch about Butrans. Discussed dosing, titration, patient type selection, schedule 3, 7 day patch. I asked her how its been since she started seeing patients and what opportunities has she had for Butrans? Sabrina said that she has a couple of patients on it and are doing well. Sabrina said that she had a couple of patients on Norco that she discussed Butrans with and they accepted. Sabrina said both patients started on 10mcg and may need to titrate to 15mcg. I told her I'm glad she has started and they are doing well. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44195	7/21/2014	Visited Pain and Neuro depts (Ng,Leizman,Long,Raymond,Minzter,Mays,Dombrowski) OxyContin/Butrans formulary grids, Initiation/Titration along with appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44333	7/21/2014	Good discussion surrounding OxyContin and Butrans. Led off talking about the oxycodone insight and she told me that she tries to get patients converted as soon as possible and it makes it easy because if patients give her a hard time she falls back on the office policy of 3-4 prn medicines than to an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans. Elise said that she has been having good luck with OxyContin recently and patients like the switch from 3-4 times a day. To 2 times a day. Discussion key attributes if OxyContin and discussed titration. I asked her if she has ever titrated down on OxyContin or Butrans? She said she has not and may never have the need. Nothing
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	7/21/2014	Window call. Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans 7day transdermal, Initiation/Titration, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/21/2014	Good discussion over a stand up lunch appointment about Butrans attributes dosing, schedule 3, 7 day patch. New indication, titration and use of supplemental analgesia. I told Sandra that I'm sure she has many patients whom would be ideal candidates for Butrans. I asked her how titrating her patients down off higher doses of IR opioids is going? Sandra said there are good and bad days but its going slowly because patients refuse to either titrate down or move to an ER opioid. I discussed how she needs to set the expectation for pain management and stick to it and provide the patient with ER options like Butrans. I discussed how Butrans allows patients to use opioid and non opioid analgesics for breakthrough pain. Sandra said that's what she is trying to do to get patients slowly transition into products like Butrans. Reviewed BUP 3015 and told her to focus on patients with private insurance, Medicare, Caresource and BWC.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	7/21/2014	Spoke to dr about primary care insight. Dr said he writes OxyContin and mentioned dosing it a variety of ways. I pointed out the indication and the every 12 hour dosing schedule. Reviewed the ten mg strength as an opioid naive dose...and reminded on managed care. Highlighted Butrans and the dosing and the Pam patient profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Said she will no longer be practicing at the Cleveland Clinic, is leaving the area

PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View westlake	OH	44125	7/21/2014	Discussed w/Aaron OxyContin/Butrans formulary concerns along with upcoming display opportunity at facility
		OH	44011	7/21/2014	Discussed OxyContin dosing. Dr said he was familiar with the reformulation. His biggest concern is writing extended release products with the abuse potential. I said so does that mean you write immediate release products several times a day instead of going to a OxyContin or Butrans? He said yes. I ask so you have concerns of writing OxyContin, I asked if he has concerns writing so much immediate release. He said he is concerned doing that too. Dr said he was familiar with the reformulation and we did cover both Butrans and OxyContin have abuse potential. Reviewed Butrans and asked if he ever uses Butrans after Tramadol if they needed a change in therapy. He said no. I asked why not. Dr said he does write atc medication. But he feels the patients won't actually take it that often (Dr said 4x a day). I said I was confused. Dr said patients aren't compliant. I asked how he felt about patients wearing Butrans and being dosed weekly. Dr said patches have problems of falling off , not lasting..... I said patches or Butrans. He said both. I said both pills form and patches may have adverse reactions using them. Dr said true. Dr came back and told me he just write a Butrans Smcg script.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin dosing and the ten mg dose. Dr told me he doesn't think a lot of OxyContin because he prefers to dose with immediate release or Butrans. I asked if he was familiar with the reformulation and he said yes. Dr said he had a patient he was thinking of writing Butrans for though. He said a oxycodone patient taking 4 doses a day for several months. I said why isn't OxyContin a consideration. Dr said he is concerned because of the stigma and the area that the patient lives for giving extended release. I said is this a patient you trust to have confirmed pathology to support his pain. He said yes. Talked about dosing atc with immediate release when there is a twice a day dosed every 12 hours. He didn't have an answer. I asked him what he thought if the ten mg. Dr said most of his patients need the 40mg. I said but are you aware that the ten mg was not statistically significant separation. Compared to the 20 and 30mg. Referred to fpi section 12.2 the doctor said really. I said so does it make sense now why it's an opioid naive dose. He said maybe so. Reviewed Butrans dosing. And asked him if he ever thought if Butrans after Tramadol if they were in need of a dose or product change to an atc product. Dr said he thinks of Butrans after hydrocodone. Reviewed initiation guide. Asked dr to think about it as there first atc are failing on Norco(considers failures when they are taking every 6hrs)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/22/2014	Discussed Butrans for those Norco failures, requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary coverage along with OxyContin every 12hours/abuse deterrent characteristics, Said Ok will continue to find appropriate patients that are failing on Norco(considers failures when they are taking every 6hrs)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	7/22/2014	Talked about the ten mg of OxyContin and the 7 strengths. Dr said there was no evidence that he knows of that would prove dosing with extended release or immediate release products are any better. I said so why dose someone in those 4 to 6 hour increments when there is OxyContin dosed every 12 or Butrans dosed weekly. He said he doesn't do that but he didn't have e answer. Review of caresource and coverage with Butrans. Asked the doctor to only write for appropriate patients that we discussed that are needing a change.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/30/2014-Lisa, it sound like the physician was thinking that you were suggesting that doing a product q12h is a "better" option than q4-6 hour dosing? Am I reading this right?BARTOLI's response on 07/31/2014-Dr seems to buy into the atc message with extended release products and he also feels the oxycontin updated label information is a reason to choose one extended release over another. Dr has been having success with butrans for his caresource and buckeye patients and he feels the dosing is an advantage for his patients.CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/05/2014-Ok. Thanks for clarifying.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/22/2014	I reviewed key selling attributes with Jake and reviewed the new indication and use of multiple patches. I asked Jake where he has seen success with it recently? Jake said for some reason he's been off of it recently and he does know why. Make said he may need to review the patients appropriate for it. I reviewed Bup 3015 inclusion and exclusion criteria, conversion guid and discussion of the new MVA about patients appropriate. Jake said ok and told me he's just had some recent set backs with coverage. Jake said its just become so difficult and time consuming. I reviewed plans and told him I will speak with Glenn about where the problems may be. Told Jake to please continue to use the BEP kits and he said he minks he's used 2 of them and they are great for the patient. Discussed OxyContin key selling attributes, doing and patient types appropriate like those already on the oxycodone molecule.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	7/22/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours along with Butrans for those patient requiring around the clock analgesia, formulary coverage , said ok will consider for appropriate patients, deferred to Geneva for PA assistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/22/2014	Discussed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours along with Butrans for those Norco failures, Reviewed dosing, Formulary grids, Said he will continue to prescribe to appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Akron	OH OH	44305	7/22/2014	Dr and mrs Wiora spoke with me about a new patient whom dr attempted to prescribe Butrans to. Dr said the patient had a history if failing Percocet. Dr said that the patient has buckeye insurance and Butrans was denied. I spoke with dr about buckeye and PA criteria with Butrans. I asked dr if he would appeal the PA and he said it won't make a difference because they will not approve it. I asked how he knows and he said he's done it on multiple patients including Butrans patients and they will not approve. I asked dr if he has Caresource patients? Dr said he has more of that than buckeye. I told dr to focus on that plan along with Medicare and private insurance. I discussed the plans and specifics. I discussed how he needs to continue thinking of the appropriate patient and to not allow then to continue on the IR opioids wile tramadol for 3+ months. Dr said ok. Reminded him to use OxyContin for those who's Percocet is inadequate and reviewed dosing and conversions. I asked if that's an issue for him? Dr said its not. Nothing. Else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/22/2014	I asked dr about his use of Butrans and told him about the hydrocodone insight. I told him that he needs to focus on the indication for Butrans and use ER opioids for patients on hydrocodone who, are using it around the clock. Dr said that he has not issues in using Butrans and thinks about using it all the time but said sometimes insurance won't pay for it. I asked about plans and he said its hit and miss with both private and Medicare insurance. I told him that nothing is 100% and he can still concentrate on those patient type along with Caresource with the Pa and BWC. Told him to please continue to refill his existing OxyContin patients and try to find new ones from patients inadequately controlled on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/22/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths and formulary coverage, said Ok, is in transition to the Neurological institute, no further info learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/22/2014	Reviewed managed care with oxycontin d Butrans. Talked about the ten mg strength of the opioid naive dose and asked if he usually starts his elderly patients at the lowest opioid dose? Dr said sometimes. Showed the 7 strengths using the visual aid and mentioned that the ten did not significantly separate from placebo.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Lunch. Asked Dr about his pain treatment ladder. What does he use first, after aspirin non steroidal? Dr Kim responded Lyrica, neurontin, tramadol. Then what next? He kept repeating, it depends on the individual; all patients are different, have different needs. After about 4 IR opioids is when he thinks about an ER opioid. Asked for him to consider OxyContin sooner and let delivery system do the work. When OxyContin not appropriate, Butrans is another option. Discussed keeping Butrans in mind for BWC patients. Dr Kim stated he's had previous issues with prior authorizations & difficulty getting Butrans through. We responded that it might be due to different carve out employer plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/22/2014	Dr said she was aware of the OxyContin dosing. If someone needs a change of medication and they are appropriate for an atc product. OxyContin and Butrans are options.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Met with Denise while waiting for Dr. Laham. Left packet of info for Josephine including updated OxyContin reformulation folder, oxycontin conversion guide, butrans initiation guide. (left same for Dr. Dews, Frank Sajen PA-C and Gina Fagitlel) NEXT WEEK: check savings cards needs.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Discussed prescribing opioids in general and Dr says he feels scrutiny from legal organizations and is trying to treat his patients, while also protecting his license. He agrees that the OxyContin stigma is reduced and says more patients ask for Percocet. Dr Laham says he "reserves" Butrans for specific patients with nerve damage, fibromyalgia, osteoarthritis or nerve pain. He stated that overall 30-40% of his patients don't need opioids, so we discussed the 60-70% remaining patient base that DO need opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Hallway. Reminded dr that last visit, she stated "ATC" pain means when patients keep calling and complaining they need more of ir opioid or refill. I proposed to her to change delivery system earlier, same molecule, dosed every 12 hours. Asked if patients ever give her pushback when she attempts to write OxyContin, sometimes patients get "scared" of ER opioid, and refuse ER opioid. So that's why some patients stay on ir opioid. She did agree that it's reasonable to ask her to consider OxyContin sooner in therapy. Dr states she always starts with ir opioid, adds ER opioid, and provides a few ir opioids for any breakthrough pain. Discussed ability to titrate OxyContin in 1-2 days, based on steady state of 24-36 hours, to next strength of 15 mg, if needed. When OxyContin not appropriate, she has option of Butrans, 1x week buprenorphine patch. Asked for business this week for both
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/22/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Said they cover Fairview,Lakewood and SouthPointe (Mike Schumate)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Lunch. Found out from both Dr and Diane med asst that patients do not listen to anything they tell them. Asked them for examples? Diane responded: if they suggest a certain pharmacy, any type of change, they simply don't listen. Asked how they do with handing out savings cards? Both Diane and Dr. Isakov confirmed that while they do hand them out, they get over 15 calls daily re: savings cards not working or discount/savings being inaccurate, product more expensive than they were told, then patients get upset with HCPs and staff. 30% pain reduction insight. Discussed BUP 3024, inclusion criteria, set up study. Discussed efficacy/tolerability for Butrans in naive, and ability to be titrated if needed, up to max dose of 20 mcg hr. Dr was impressed with 4.6 pain reduction for opioid naive. when Butrans not appropriate low dose OxyContin an option. Proven efficacy since 1996, dosed every 12 hours, similar AE's for young and old subjects in clinical trials. We asked Dr and Dr Isakov what they do when patient has issue? They switch to another medication that's more affordable. Let them know majority of pharmacies have point of sale trial/savings for Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga falls	OH	44223	7/22/2014	Quick call with Kim in hallway of hospital. I reviewed the OxyContin indication,dosing and titration and use in specific populations like those patients already on the molecule. Kim said ok and clinically is works quite well. Told Kim about the Butrans indication,use of multiple patches, and patient specific identification. Kim said she will continue to use both and asked to keep them stocked with patient copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/22/2014	Spoke with bobby the pharmacist about OxyContin indication, patient type selection, doses,titrations and the pharmacies use of it. Bobby said they do fill it and most are refills which is good that patient stay on it as long as they need it. Bobby said he sees some titration of it and said that they continue to have insurance issues with it. I discussed Butrans indication,key attributes, titration and use of multiple patches. Bobby asked to explain the multiple patches and I used the MVA to illustrate it which bobby said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/22/2014	Dr asked me what's new. I told him the indication of Butrans is new. Told him the indication and asked him what he thinks. Dr said it wounds good and said he hopes his use of Butrans reflects how well it works clinically. I asked him for continued use and to focus on patients treated with IR opioids around the clock. Dr said he is doing he best to convert patients the minute they meet the indication. I told him to please also use OxyContin for those already on the molecule but in an IR delivery system. Told dr its a 1:1 conversions ratio and reviewed dosing and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/22/2014	Lunch appointment with western reserve pain management. Discussed Butrans key attributes, dosing, indication, titration,new indication,multiple patches and patient type selection. Discussed OxyContin dosing, titration, indication, all key attributes and patient type selection. Reviewed all managed care with Glenn, Rick and all physicians in attendance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	7/22/2014	Hallway. Found out that while Dr writes Tramadol primarily for pain, she also favors hydrocodone/hydrocodone combos. Discussed what "triggers" her to write an ER opioid? When patients are on 3-4 IR opioids daily, and have ATC pain, that is when she will go to OxyContin. Asked her to continue with this therapy ladder, yet, consider writing OxyContin, at lowest effective dose, even earlier in therapy. When OxyContin not appropriate, Butrans also an ER option for atc pain. Reminded her to make sure labs does urine screen for buprenorphine. Asked for business and discussed improved Medicare D access.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	7/22/2014	While speaking with Darlene dr Hegde walked up. I told her that she needs to know about the new indications for Butrans and OxyContin. I told her the indications and asked her if she would start some new patients on Butrans? Dr said she is continuing to feel better about Butrans and said that she will continue to look for good patients for it. I told her to look for those patients on tramadol or Norco who are not getting either the efficacy they need or tolerability. Dr said ok. Reminded her to use OxyContin for those patients already on oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/22/2014	I asked the doctor to think about is med d patients. Gave him the review of managed care. Reviewed the Smcg of Butrans and the dosing. Reminded of the OxyContin dosing every 12 hours.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	7/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he continues to find appropriate patients, John said he will continue to
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,formulary grid along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia who are failing on present therapy, said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, no further info learned.Asked when and where to have more time to discuss, said lunch apt are the best
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	7/23/2014	Told dr that she needs to know the indications for OxyContin and Butrans. I told her the OxyContin indication and asked her her thoughts. She said it makes sense because if someone is in around e clock pain they shouldn't be taking a short acting opioid. I told her that's exactly right and asked her to write more OxyContin and Butrans for those patients who are Inadequately being treated with IR opioids or can't tolerate them. Dr said she will
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/23/2014	Reviewed managed care coverage and dosing for OxyContin and Butrans.

	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/23/2014	Dr said he only had a minute over lunch because of a back log of charts to complete. Quickly reviewed OxyContin patient selection, conversions from Percocet and new indication. I asked him for more business. Dr said as a practice they are trying to write fewer opioids and are referring out. Reviewed Butrans new indication,schedule 3,7 day patch,patient type section, conversions, multiple patches and insurance. Dr said he likes Butrans and will continue to try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/23/2014	Spoke to the nurses and the office manager today about dosing and managed care if both products. Office manager said she will pass the information over to the dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/23/2014	Dr told me that their patient referrals in the last month with AGMC have increased 300%. I told dr there should be plenty more opportunities to find places for Butrans and OxyContin. Dr said there will be and said that he recently treated the AGMC CEO's wife for back pain and out her on Butrans and she said she loves it. Dr said he started on 10mcg and it seems like the dose she will remain on. Dr said he uses even more OxyContin because its an easy conversion and is tolerated very well. I asked for continued use of each and to continue following the practice protocol for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	7/23/2014	Quick hello at window and I showed him the OxyContin 10mg page again and told him he needs to begin converting more patients to OxyContin from Percocet when he's ready to titrate it and they meet the new indication. Dr said ok. Asked him if he would gain more clinical experience with Butrans in those CareSource and Medicare patients and reviewed those pains. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patient requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Addressed formulary coverage, Reviewed/identified Med D Caremark SilverScripts patients, Said he has a patient in mind, Said I will follow up
	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/23/2014	Led off with oxycodone insight and told him that I'm hoping he makes the decision to use OxyContin when the patient is requiring it daily and around the clock? Dr said he does have history with OxyContin but said the practice is trying to reduce treating chronic pain and is referring out more and more. I told dr I understand and asked him if he believes that there are patients that need a product like OxyContin for their specific pain? Dr said he agrees that there is and has seen it be very effective. Discussed dosing, conversions,titration and patient identification. Dr said he really likes Butrans but said recently he has had more need for prior authorizations and denials than ever. I asked him which plans and he told me he just remembers the need to fail at least 2 other opioids and tight one was OxyContin? I told dr that doesn't seem right and it may have been a buckeye patient. Dr said I might be right. I reviewed insurance plans, Medicare and CareSource PA criteria. Reviewed dosing, titration, new indication,use of multiple patches.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44685	7/23/2014	Started off conversation discussing hydrocodone and oxycodone insights. Dr said that he's primarily in sports medicine but sees many patients for acute or prn pain and not much for around the clock pain. I discussed the need for conversion to ER opioids like Butrans or OxyContin. Dr said he won't use oxycotin because of the street value. I asked him how he knows that? Dr said its just so widely abused? I asked how he knows? Dr said he has just heard all the stories..I asked him when the last time a patient asked him for it specifically? Dr said he hasn't heard it. Dr asked if something changed with it recently? I asked him if he knows it was reformulated? Dr said no. Discussed it from the main visaid. Discussed dosing, titration and patient selection. Discussed Butrans dosing, conversions, titration, oqlient types, multiple patches and indication. Dr said he likes the schedule 3 because he can call it in. Dr asked about insurance coverage and I told him about all plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, has some experience with past practice, Said to book appt to further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/23/2014	Intro. Discussed with Cecelia Rph-Mgr. OxyContin every 12hours, along with Butrans patient info booklets. Will be located on the 1stfloor in Oct.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/23/2014	Reviewed OxyContin FDA insight. Highlighted the oxycodone molecule with the dosing every 12 hours. Talked about the elderly profile. Also talked the elderly profile of Butrans. Reviewed patch placement and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/23/2014	Reviewed med d. Coverage. I asked him what he thought about converting patients to Butrans in this population if theyre current medication is not working and appropriate for atc treatment. Dr said yes. Reviewed dosing, no first pass and explain how the product is excreted thru the bowels not the urine. Mentioned OxyContin as the other option dosed every 12 hours.
	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/23/2014	Met joe the pharmacist from Orville location who is filling in chile Kim is on vacation. I asked him how go familiar he is with OxyContin and Butrans. Joe said he of course knows about OxyContin and doesn't know much about Butrans. I reviewed from the main visaid the use of OxyContin and patient type section and key selling attributes along with indication. Explained the Butrans schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch, conversions, patient type section,indication, patch application sites and rotation, use of multiple patches. Joe said it wounds like it should be used for anyone taking tramadol or vicoden for a long period of time. I told him those are good candidates.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/23/2014	Heather told me that she does not and will not write narcotics for any patient. Heather said that her experience with dr Petrus ruined her for pain management. I asked her if she believes that there are patients out the with certain conditions or pathologies that may require ER or even IR opioids?m heather said there are for sure but she will not be writing them. I continued to review both OxyContin and Butrans. Discussed key attributes for each. Heather said she write Butrans about 3 years ago under Petrus so she knows about it but will not use either of my products. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/23/2014	Saw dr said I wanted to get take on two things. First...his thoughts on the 10mg of the OxyContin. For his patients. Dr said its an option. I said true but do you write that dose. He said not usually. Dr said he writes more 40's. I went over the elderly profile, the opioid naive dose of the 10mg and highlighted the Percocet comparison page of the visual aid. Focused on why move from hydrocodone combo. To oxycodone combo for an atc pain patient. He said he would think about OxyContin. My second thing was: Asked the doctor what was his two chronic conditions he treats often. Dr answered but I only knew the spinal stenosis. I asked him of those when was the last time you treated them with 4 doses in a month. He said never. I said would you like to know an option? Dr said Butrans. I said yes. We discussed the atc patient needing long term opioid treatment. Dr said it was hard to convince patients to take a patch. I made the recommendation. They Initiation Butrans as their first atc pain medication instead if dosing in 4 to 6 hour increments with immediate release product for months. Dr said maybe. I said don't the patients you trust to take opioids chronically want pain relief? He said yes. I said why would they fight you when you are offering them an option that can be taken weekly. He made a come t about the pain patients and not TrueType knowing which are telling him the truth or which are seeking drugs. Dr said he does using and pill counts and has contracts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	7/24/2014	Spoke to rose the ma and introduced her to Butrans and OxyContin. Discussed scheduling and dosing and gave managed care grids. Left leave behinds for the dr to review.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	I just wanted to highlight the appropvate patient type for OxyContin and Butrans. First if the patient is unsatisfied with their current treatment plan and they are in need of daily atc long term therapy....then OxyContin can be dosed every 12 hours with and Butrans can started at either 5mcg or 10mcg. Dosed every 7 days. He said. And walked from the window.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	Reviewed managed care coverage for both product ts and dosing for both OxyCotin and Butrans. She was working by herself today so she was busy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/24/2014	Reviewed w/Saj RPh-floater, OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok, dosent see many RX for ER narcotics but will remind for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/24/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7tablet, abuse deterrent characteristics, Along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok,will continue to prescribe OxyContin for appropriate patients, appts scheduled thru main office
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	7/24/2014	Quick window review of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing present therapy, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/24/2014	Short discussion with dr and led off with the oxycodone plain insight and asked him if he has patients currently continuing on Percocet? Dr said not many. I reviewed the OxyContin indication and asked him if they are meeting it to convert them. Dr said ok and will try and asked about cost. I showed dr him the formulary grid and asked him to focus on private insurance. Showed dr the Butrans conversions and showed him how to convert from tramadol and Norco. I asked what might be preventing him from using it? Dr said he thinks its a good novel medicine and likes the patch but its just too expensive. I asked how he knows if he hasn't used it? Dr said its branded so it must be expensive. I told him his perception of coverage is wrong. Showed him the plan coverage from all aspects and copy cards. Dr said ok and will keep it in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	Office closed but Laura the office manager was there. Gave her the managed care grids and highlighted the major plans that they see. Explained the scheduling of each product and reviewed dosing. Left materials for the dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	7/24/2014	Dr DeMiccio won't be in until 1:30 today. Discussed with manager/director Paul non branded items & Purdue resources that can help their practice,, such as protect your practice brochure, OARRS reporting, Med 80 State Guidelines. Paul asked for more green protect your meds at home brochures. Discussed OxyContin & Butrans as indicated in FPI.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/24/2014	Led off conversation by telling drs out the oxycodone plain insight and told her I'm telling her this for two reasons. First, because she uses opioids and second because of the revised indications for OxyContin and Butrans. I explained the new indication for OxyContin and then showed her the conversions from oxycodone and Percocet. I asked her if she will take patients on IR opioids meeting the OxyContin indication and convert them? Dr said it makes sense and will. Reviewed Butrans key attributes,indication, dosing and patient types and asked for her business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/24/2014	Told him about the managed care med d plans and cResource for Butrans and highlighted OxyContin. I asked when was the last time he treated someone in chronic atc pain with 4 doses a month? He said not often. I said its an interesting option for Butrans huh. He said yes. I said remember that this week if you have someone unsatisfied with their current atc therapy. He said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	Spoke to Pam and Virginia the heads nurses. Highlighted managed care for each products, went over the Butrans tear sheets as a tool to save the doctor time when explaining Butrans to patients that are appropriate for the product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/24/2014	Spoke to the nurse she said no lunches but I could leave literature. I showed her the products and explained dosing and scheduling. She said she did t have anything to do with the product selects. I asked if she handles prior auths and she said not she said he checks patients into the room and pulls charts but doesn't have patient contract expect thru window of walking in the room.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/24/2014	Spoke with Holly the pharmacist about OxyContin and Butrans key selling attributes. Holly said that she is not dispensing any Butrans and the boxes are about to expire. I discussed the new indications for OxyContin and Butrans and use of multiple patches for Butrans. Discussed OxyContin conversions and use of OxyContin for patients already on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	7/24/2014	Dr said she only had a few minutes due to her schedule starting at noon. Told her about the OxyContin and Butrans indications. I told her about the oxycodone insight and told her I wanted her to take a closer look at her patients currently taking Percocet to see if they meet the indication for OxyContin and convert them. I reviewed dosing,titration, 7 doses,single entity q12 oxycodone. Reviewed Butrans key selling attributes and asked her to write a prescription for this patients needing a dose adjustment on tramadol and meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/24/2014	Quick message in hallway and told him about the OxyContin indication. I told him that he needs to identify patients currently on IR oxycodone who are meeting The oxycodone indication and convert them. Dr said ok. I showed him the Butrans initiation and titration guide and asked him to try it clinically for those on tramadol who are still in pain and taking it around the clock. Nothing lose learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	7/24/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, sending patients to Pain mgmnt, scheduling appt thru main office
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	7/24/2014	Led off discussion with the tramadol insight and told dr that I want him to focus on patients like that who he continues to refill who are meeting the indication for Butrans. Discussed the indication and dr said that the problem is that he has too many patients on Medicare and cash only who can't afford or will not use branded medicines for pain management. I told dr that I know that doe not encompass all his patients. Dr said he does have good patients that have legitimate pain like spinal stenosis and most are of Medicare age. I asked him if he also has patients under 65 that have legitimate pain where Butrans would be appropriate? Dr said yes. I told dr then to focus on those two subsets of his patients for Butrans. Dr said ok. I explained managed care coverage, copy cards, and new BEP kits. Dr said he doesn't really have time for that but will take them. Discussed the need for his patients being refilled on Percocet to be converted to OxyContin as long as they meet the indication. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	I said think about this today...if someone has pain atc and in need of a change....OxyContin dosed every 12 hours and Butrans dosed weekly. I asked if he thought these options might go over well with his patients ready to try something new for their chronic pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	Saw dr from window. Dr said he hasn't write. Butrans yet but will. I said than you and remember if the patient is unsatisfied with their pain controll and are atc...OxyContin dosed twice a day, every 12 hours. And Butrans can be started at either 5mcg or 10mcg and dosed weekly. HE said he remembered. I wished him luck this week.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/24/2014	I asked dr what he is saying to a patient about Butrans for the first time? Dr said its simple. He said he just tells them he wants them to use a weekly patch for pain because the current treatment isn't working. I told dr that's great. I asked him if he gives them the patient information guide and he said when he has them. I left him more. I showed him the Medicare coverage grid and told him I know in the last he told me that he doesn't want to mess with Medicare because if all the trouble with coverage he doesn't have time for. I discussed the new plan coverages and asked him if he's willing to try it with a patient whom qualifies for Medicare on one of the plans I outlined. Dr said he not sure but may try with silverscript because he has a few that need to change medicines for pain. I asked him to focus with those patients whom are on tramadol or Norco.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	I said take managed care out of the equation for a minute. What prompts you to write Butrans? Dr said for patients that want weekly dosing. I asked if he gives the. A choice between Butrans or say, OxyContin? Dr said no, he usually just tells them. I said for a person who talks so highly of this product how come it's not your first at choice? Dr said managed care is his hold up. Reviewed the major plans. I spoke w Julie the office manager and Jeanette they couldn't recall any problem plans. Dr did say he would keep Butrans in mind this week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/24/2014	Small talked with the nurses about their busy day. Asked them if they see a lot if chronic pain patients and they said some. I asked how often they come back...monthly or other. They said it all depends. I asked if anyone does education like Butrans patch placement or information on taking OxyContin every 12 hours not bid. They said the doctors do all that. I passed so e tear off sheets for the doctor and leave behinds
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/24/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing present therapy that he sending to Pain mgmnt, Said Ok, will consider, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, Will be moving to 2nd floor of Grace Hospital
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/25/2014	Quick hallway call. Told him again about the oxycodone insight and that he needs to take a closer look at patients already on the oxycodone molecule but taking it in a 4-6 hour delivery system and converting them to the q12 delivery system of oxycodone , OxyContin. Dr said ok and that he's trying but said if difficult to get patients to take a product with the name OxyContin. I asked him if he's educated his patients on the reality of oxycodone and OxyContin. Dr said he has and some patients just don't want it. I told him I understand and he must have patients that are motivated to change. Dr agreed. Reviewed Butrans key selling attributes and to just continue identifying appropriate patients whom are on tramadol or Norco and is proving inadequate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/25/2014	Saw dr through window and dr said hello. I asked dr if he's continuing to find candidates for Butrans where the tramadol or Norco is inadequate? Dr said he's working on it and said all his patients are doing well on it. I asked him if he had Medicare patients in around the clock pain? Dr said sure. I told him about aarp, silverscript and ESI coverage and asked him to use Butrans for those patients meeting the indication. Dr said thanks for the
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/25/2014	Something to think about next week. When you see someone unsatisfied with their current pain medication and their current pain medication and there taking more than 2 doses a day...they could be a candidate for a control release product like OxyContin or Butrans dosed weekly. I asked her if it made sense to make that change next week. She told me that she has no problem. Writing OxyContin for the right patients and she is starting to use Butrans more. I reminded her of managed care with Butrans and said I would return another time to go over specific patient types and dosing options.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/25/2014	Dr said he's only in until 10am so said he didn't have much time. I told him to please keep the OxyContin and Butrans indications in mind when he sees a patients taking a IR opioid for a condition that generates pain around the clock and on a daily basis. Dr said he's working on it. I reminded him about OxyContin conversions and that OxyContin is a single entity oxycodone product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	7/25/2014	Dr came to window and told me he didn't need any OxyContin or Butrans. I told him he knows there are no samples right? I told dr I'm glad he knows my products and to just use them instead of generic pills when those patients meet the indications because I bet some of them meet the indication of an ER opioid. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/25/2014	Spoke with dr about his use of Butrans said the patients he is placing on it. Dr said he has two concerns with Butrans. Dr preface he will continue using it going forward. Dr said the first is that he wants doses over the current max of 20 mcg patch. m dr said his patients have built up tolerance with the 20mcg patch and need more to take what 20mcg can offer. I asked dr if he has placed anyone on something for supplemental analgesia? Dr said he tries not to do that. Dr also said that is continues to be difficult to be difficult to approve. I spoke with dr about the plans in question and where we sit with the center for pain management director. Dr said he hopes is can be improved otherwise he may need to reduce his prescribing. I told him that's not an option and we will work hard to streamline the approval process. Mark the RN had to discontinue his use of Butrans due to constant dashing and itching. Discussed OxyContin use in patients already on oxycodone plain and Percocet. Dr did not wish to engage in discussion further.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/25/2014	Gave the experienced kit to the dr per our discussion last visit. Gave to Christy cause dr was busy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	7/28/2014	Spoke to dr about Butrans managed care a follow up from last time. Highlighted the appropriate patient type, initiation dose, and patch rotation. Another option is OxyContin dosed every 12 hours. Dr said he doesn't write as many schedule 2 products and that he prefers schedule 3. Dr said that's what interests him about Butrans. Left naive study and told him I would review the pain results next time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	7/28/2014	Dr came out to waiting room while I was waiting for Dr Hohn. Dr introduced himself to me and I did the same. I told him I was here to provide another option for his chronic pain patients...instead of adding another then another immediate release opioid to a patients pain program...if they are no longer acute there's two options to keep in mind. OxyContin dosed twice a day, every 12 hours. And Butrans. A pain patch. Dosed weekly started at 5 or 10 mcg depending. I asked when was the last time they treated someone chronically with 4 doses a month. He said he hardly every. Reviewed managed care and defined who might be a candidate for Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/28/2014	Reviewed scheduling.-font color=blue>b>CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/08/2014-font>Lisa, you may want to think about changing your verbiage from chronic to around-the-clock as that is now what is in the FPI. PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/28/2014	Reviewed managed care and his top plans. Dr agreed that these are big plans. Reviewed coverage with OxyContin and Butrans and savings cards. Dr said even five more dollars is too much for patients to lay sometimes.I said maybe so. We talked about his triggers for changing someone from immediate release opioid to extended release. Dr said if he has to get to an extended release he will refer out cause its too complicated to treat pain. We talked about the small percent that he may decide to treat in house. Dr said the osteoarthritis or certain lower back pain patients. Dr said he will try and educate a patient to move to extended release because of the half life of the I. Educate release products. I asked if those patients take the medication you recommend or do they tell u they request specific medications. Dr said sometimes both. Dr said he likes that OxyContin has be en re formulated he said patients don't want to be associated with it. I said it is that that your view or is that what they tell you when you go to write it. He said both. Dr asked why pain management wasn't writing this all the times and if it was a good pain option more ppl would write it. Talked about the appropriate patient using the Initiation guide. Dr agreed that a product like Butrans or OxyContin has a fit for patients needing atc ling term chronic pain treatment. Dr said he usually at that point refers out but if he didn't he would write Butrans after Tramadol or oxycodone after norco.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	7/28/2014	Discussed oxycodone plain and oxycodone/APAP insights and continued to discussed use of OxyContin for his patients already on the oxycodone molecule. Dr said he has been trying Butrans for those patients on Percocet and asked me if that's wrong? I told him its not and asked him why he wouldn't keep patients on the same molecule oxycodone as long as they are tolerating it and convert them to OxyContin? Dr said he doesn't know and that's a good suggestion and will do that. Continued to talk about appropriate patient types for Butrans, key selling attributes,titration, and clinical study review. Dr said he's been having issues with coverage on UHC community plan and buckeye. I reviewed insurance and plans with Medicare.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/28/2014	Quick hello and asked her to convert to OxyContin when her patients have either an efficacy or tolerability issue with oxycodone. Dr said ok. I told her that with a patient savings card, OxyContin can be very affordable for most patients and gave her the formulary grid. Left her the Butrans conversion guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/28/2014	Kim said the doctor is I. Religious holiday. We talked about managed care with Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	fairview park	OH	44111	7/28/2014	Reviewed dosing of OxyContin and FDA insight. Talked about Butrans dosing ,scheduling and patch placement.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/28/2014	Spoke to lisa the nurse about how to see the dr about our products. She basically said she would ask the dr and get back to me. I gave her over view of Butrans and OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	7/28/2014	Quick message at front counter and told him to convert patients to OxyContin who are on Percocet who are meeting the indication for OxyContin. I told dr to focus on oqtients who have daily, around the clock pain and convert them to OxyContin. I told dr to use Butrans for those needing a dose adjustment on tramadol. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	7/28/2014	Saw Erica the head nurse in the hall carrying a chair. I asked what she was doing and she explained he weather is so bad they are claiming the office this week. I asked if he dr was going to the hospital and maybe I could catch him there at some point. She said she didn't know that this was rather sudden and they are all heading home right now. They were there canceling patients for the week. Left product literature and materials for the doctor.-font color=blue>b>CHUDAKOB's query on 08/08/2014-font>Where did you discuss Butrans? I don't see that in the note?b>BARTOLI's response on 08/12/2014-font>When leaving the literature behind for the doctor( naive reprint for Butrans and conversion for OxyContin). I highlighted the materials being left behind. It was not an indebtb conversation because they were rushing me out of the office.-font color=blue>b>CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/14/2014-font>Ok. Please make sure there is some specific product discussion. Just leaving literature is not a product discussion. Thanks Lisa!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	7/28/2014	Dr said she will not write any schedule two products. We talked about the patient not acute that is taking immediate release opioids several times a day. She said she has these patients that she prefers to get the, n a control release if they are chronic. Dr said 3 or 4 doses regularly long term would be her trigger signal that the patient may be a candidate for Butrans. I highlighted oxycodone molecule and reviewed attributes from 12.3. Dr said she was aware. Talked about the ten mg dose and showed a visual of all the doses. Dr kept wanting to talk about Butrans. Highlighted the starting dose. Dr said she usually writes the 5mcg. Talked about no first pass, titration and using break thru medication. Reviewed dosing and patch rotation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	7/28/2014	Spoke with Gilbert who has been away for a while. Brought him up to speed OxyContin indication,titration and abuse deterrent properties. Gilbert said they are continuing to dispense it,and said the abuse deterrent properties are more important than ever especially in Ohio with the opioid task force set up by kasich. Discussed Butrans indication, multiple patch use, and new Medicare coverage. Gilbert said he is still seeing patients possibly not being started on the correct dose. I asked Gilbert to council his patients about the product and ask them to speak with their doctors and their dose. Gilbert said he does it very day.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/28/2014	Thru window. Wanted to give you so something to think about for your pain patients who are uncontrolled. If they are someone who is not acute taking more than 2 doses a day, I'd like to throw out another option or two. The ten mg of OxyContin is our lowest of 7 doses. And instead of dosing it In 4 to 6 hour increments like immediate release products you can dose it twice a day, every 12 hours. I asked if there would be any hesitation for choice oxycontin or Butrans? She said cost. She also said I need to leave her information on Butrans. I told her next time I would talk to her about how the weekly pain patch showed pain reduction it it in the studies. She said Dr made a comment of why I was here so early. Got into a conversation about trying to educate more doctors about our products. I asked the doctor why he values OxyContin for his pain patients. Dr said it has a history and the reformulation is important. I asked him to think about those words this week. Highlighted tha chronic pain patient he is going to make a change to their pain program...why not OxyContin? He said managed care would be the only road block. I asked him whattheaverage chronic pain patient looked like. He said 60's. I said if you have ever had concerns about treating Butrans or OxyContin in the elderly population here's some pearls. Butrans. Doesn't go thru first pass, it's single entity and there is no dose adjustment. Therefore you can start someone on 5mcg. I said OxyContin has many studies involving the elderly population. And except for the debilitated elderly...no dose adjustment and this opioid is also single entity. So options are good...you can dose in 12 hour increments with OxyContin or Butrans weekly. I asked the doctor if this was something he was comfortable with...he said yes. Reviewed managed care with staff and the nurse Shirley..
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/28/2014	I asked dr and Liz if they are getting new patient referrals? Dr said they continue to get new patients and is getting them from dr goswami and Bonyo. I asked what most if the patients are on when they come to him? Dr and Liz both said oxycodone. I told dr that the problem is that patients are not initiated on ER opioids soon enough. Dr said he agreed and said most don't know how to write for ER opioids so he has to do it but by the time he gets the patients they don't want to change or reduce their pill count. Dr said it's a tough battle. I asked dr what percentage of those oxycodone referral patients are converted to q12 OxyContin? Dr said about 50%. I asked why only 50% and he said the others either refuse or its a cost thing. I asked him to keep patients on the oxycodone molecule but just carnage the delivery system. Left dr with a conversion guide for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/28/2014	Gave dr the oxycodone plain insight and asked him why he thinks its ok to continue refilling oxycodone but hard for him to convert to the q12 oxycodone? Dr said its a combination of what the patients is willing to take, cost, and he comfortableness with the product. I asked dr if there something with OxyContin that makes him uncomfortable? Dr said not really but cost and patient preference are important. I told dr to find patients with private insurance who are motivated for change and convert them to a 12 hour delivery of oxycodone. Dr said ok. Reminded him to use Butrans for those who are not getting adequate analgesia with tramadol or Norco.
	Westlake	OH	44145	7/28/2014	Saw Laura the. Ruse and office manager. I asked her if she knew the products I promoted. She said pain meds. I told her OxyContin and Butrans.mi asked if she knew the difference between OxyContin and an oxycodone product. She did. I asked her for the non acute patients, those who may not be able to take NSAIDs...why would someone be dosed in 4 to 6 her increments when there is dosing every 12 hours so twice a day? She said cost. We reviewed the commercial plans. Also highlighted Butrans dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/28/2014	Dr came up to the window and asked me what's new. I told him to focus on the verbiage of the OxyContin indication especially patients who are being treated on a daily around the clock basis. I told dr that those patients should be converted to a ER opioid like q12 OxyContin. Dr said ok. I asked him if he would reevaluate patients currently on IR opioids for that purpose? Dr said ok. Handed dr the Butrans conversion guide and Medicare formulary guide and told him to convert his tramadol patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	7/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strenghts, every 12hours, Formulary grids along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D formulary opportunity, Initiation/Titration said he will consider for appropriate patients, Asked if he had a patient in mind on today's schedule, will definitely consider

PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	Reviewed the fda insight. dr said he would choose medications that had this technology over products that did not. Reviewed dosing every 12 hours. Dr knew almost every dose of oxycotin. I asked if he converts patients from hydrocodone to oxycotin or what product the patient typically gets converted from. Dr said hydrococone. we talked about the elderly patients over 65 years of age and pain medications for their chronic pain. I highlighted areas from oxycotin and areas from butrans. reviewed the experience kits and dosing for Butrans. dr said he just wrote oxycotin 15mct and it was approved on buckeye. Dr grabbed his chart and confirmed it. Dr said he liels butrans dosing. reviewed managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/30/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia,Med D coverage, Initiation/Titration along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Asked if she had a Caremark patient in mind this afternoon, said she will consider

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	dr waved and said he got my information from last time. I said on oxycotin dosing or butrans weekly dosing or was it the study I left showing the butrans pain scores? he said...yes. I said just shoot for find one appropriate patient for butrans this week. one that you already treat for pain, that the patient is coming to you for a treatment change and if they are appropriate for an atc proedct try wither the 5 or thye 10mcg. gave him guide to review. he said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/30/2014	Elise along wd ir Vucetic told me she is having some issues with approvals on OxyContin and Butrans. Elise said that for OxyContin its usually a cost issue with patients recently in the doughnut hole having to pay mega bucks for even the lower doses. I asked her if she is having trouble with any specific plans and she said she can't remember but does have them for Butrans. Elise said that she attempted to write Butrans for a UHC Community plan patient and they sent a PA form requiring all three failures first of ER Morohine, methadone and fentanyl. Elise said its ridiculous because she will not write any of those rotor to a product like Butrans. I agreed it doesn't make clinical sense and to please have either Brittany or Sherika get me denials letters or PA forms and I will try and help. I asked her for continued business and to identify appropriate patients already on the oxycodone molecule for OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/30/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients who are failing on present therapy and require around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Said he spending most time on Ortho floors
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	7/30/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for your patients that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	spoke to christy the office manager. Gave her some literature to pass the the doctors. Asked her if there was any value I could share with the nurses regarding opioids like oxycotin or butrans. She said she didn't think it was necessary. she said the doctors pull their own couons and do their own education for the patients. highlighted the mananaged care of both products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/30/2014	Dr told me that he's been having issues getting OxyContin approved. I asked him to give me more information and he said he had a patient that had anthem 8c/bs and said that asked him to use MS Contin or fentanyl prior to OxyContin. Dr said he did an appeal. Dr also said he and Elise Leone have been having pa issues with Butrans. Dr said he had a patient with anthem Medicare and they asked him to trial methadone and fentanyl prior to approving Butrans. Dr said he sent an appeal late last week. I spoke wi him about the current coverage and about employer group carve outs as well as Medicare and Medicare typical pa approvals. Dr said they will get them completed and will try to use some of the verbiage in the indications which may help in the PA.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Unlontown	OH	44685	7/30/2014	Saw dr at front desk and she said hello to me and if I had anything to leave her? I told her that is and asked her for a minute. Dr said she can't but will hear what I have to say for a second. I told her the indication of OxyContin and asked her to focus on who she is seeing who may be treated with IR opioids like Percocet who are taking it daily and around the clock. Dr Wynne said ok she will. I told her to also continue to reassess her patients on tramadol or Norco for potential Butrans candidates.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	7/30/2014	Quick call at window and told him I have one question and one comment. I asked him if it is possible for him to identify one more patient a week already on oxycodone but taking it 4-6 times a day to convert them to OxyContin? Dr said ok. I told him that he has a total of 7 doses to individually dose his patients and titrate though and that its a single entity oxycodone delivered every 12 hours. Handed dr and Tina the Butrans conversions slide guide and the Scott profile and asked for him to sue it in patients like him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/30/2014	Visited Ortho/Pain Dept (Shen,Daoud,Novak,Bilfield,Stearns,Joy) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Formulary grids along with appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	Dr told me he quite the pain center today. Dr said he would still see patients in his office every day, just no longer at the painfor center. I asked if he would continue to intiation therapy for chronic medications and pain he said yes. Reviewed Butrand elderly over 65 patients and special considerations for treating them with opioids long term. Dr said it can vary. I said lets talk about the butrans and oxycotin profile for these patients types. highlighted the number of over 65 years of age patients and those over 75 years of age from our studies (shown on the adverse reactions visual aid of core visual aid). Discussed what not going thru the first pass process could mean to an older patient. Reviewed no dose adjustment for the elderly, renal or mild/moderate hepatic patients. Talked about treating a chronic pain condition with weekly dosing and a patch that is visable on their body. I asked why he wouldn't give bugtrans for every appropriate over 65 age person like we were discussing. Dr said it is a good option and couldn't think of too many reasons. We talked about abuse potential, multi patch dosing and managed care plans. specific to aarp and silver scripts. Reviewed the ten mg of oxycotin. Talked about the no dose adjustment-except debilitated elderly and when they could titrate doses every 1 to 2 days. Talked about the updated label change for oxycotin and highlighted certain sections of the fda core visual aid pages. dr said he would continue to write.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/30/2014	Told dr the oxycodone plain insight and asked her if she has any of those patients who may be treated with it around the clock? Dr said probably some. I asked her why she wouldn't consider converting them to q12 oxycodone? Dr said its usually cost or a pain in the behind to approve. I asked her to please continue trying and to focus on orivate insured patients. I asked dr for the next month until she leaves to focus on her patients in around the clock pain on tramadol and Norco. Dr said she will do her best. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	reviewed oxycotin dosing everyb 12 hours and butrans weekly dosing. Talked about the 10mg of oxycotin and savings cards. Focused on managed care with butrans and patch placement.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/30/2014	Asked the doctor if it was important to him that his patients who need a chronic mediation have medications that have the abuse deterrant properties? Dr said it is nice if they do, but so many don't that he doesn't think about it. Dr said scheduling 3 or 2 makes no difference to him. We talked about Oxycontin 7 doses and I asked him if he every uses the lower doses like the 10mg or the 15mg? he said sometimes. We talked about the elderly patients and I asked if he usually starts them at the lowest opioid dose of what ever drug he selects or if he does conversions. Dr said he tends to go slow for the elderly and then titrat. dr said he prefers not to dose more than twice a day if he can help it. I said so you must use oxycotin quite often? He said he does use it but will a variety of opioids. We talked about every b12 hour dosing. We talked about why any prescriber wouldwant to have a patient dose themselves several times a day in 4 to 6 hours increments when there are other choices like oxycotin or butrans dosed weekly. Dr said primary care doctors don't want to write long acting because they feel they are more dangerous. I said but if they don't ever write them and continue to write hydrocodone several times a day for years...is that not dangerous? Dr said no it is dangerous but he said doctors feel its safer to dose the other way. Talked butrans dosing, managed care. The nurses michelle and kim told the Dr they should write more burans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44120	7/31/2014	Reviewed with Ebony Rph OxyContin/Butrans patient profiles, Savings cards, said Ok no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/31/2014	Spoke to Beth the pharmacist intern. I asked her how familiar she is with OxyContin and Butrans? Beth said she knows about OxyContin but doesn't know much about Butrans. I reviewed OxyContin MVA explaining the key selling attributes, dosing, conversions,abuse deterrent characteristics: tiers 1 and 3. Explained appropriate patient selection. Reviewed Butrans key selling attributes, patient type selection, conversions and copy cards and trial offer. Beth said she learned a lot and thanked me for coming in.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44120	7/31/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients, sends most chronic pain to Pain mgmnt, Asked why not send/start on Butrans while transitioning, said she ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	7/31/2014	I told dr that I wanted her to focus on a patient type for Butrans. I asked dr if she has patients currently being treated with tramadol for pain? Dr Azem said she has some yes. I showed her the Scott profile and reviewed he details of the profile. I asked her if it makes sense to write Butrans in that situation and if she will do it in her practice? Dr said she has in the past and will continue. I asked her if she also has patients on oxycodone? Dr said only a few because she doesn't like it. I told her when she does have those patients taking it daily and around the clock to use OxyContin. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/31/2014	I asked dr what tends to trigger him to use Butrans or any ER options for that matter? Dr said when he knows a patients pain is most likely not going to go away like spinal stenosis or arthritis. I told dr thanks for the info and told him the Butrans indication. I asked dr to focus on patients that have daily around the clock pain like Scott and quickly reviewed the profile. Dr said he's not sure he's started Butrans for a tramadol patient but will consider it. I told him to also consider OxyContin for those patients already on the molecule like Percocet and showed him the conversions. Dr said thanks for the information.

	Parma	OH	44129	7/31/2014	Introduced myself to pharmacist. She was happy to hear about what we r reviewing with physicians regarding around the clock pain and who the right OxyContin and butrans patients might be...she agreed. She sometimes encourages her patients to talk to their Doctor about alternate therapy when their pain becomes around the clock and they are experiencing break through on their current medication. We were unable to provide savings cards, but directed her online for the coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/31/2014	Spoke with dr Ali about his patients on OxyContin and Butrans. Dr told me that he is continuing to have issues with OxyContin and Butrans insurance approvals. I told him I'm currently working with Glenn and Rick on it. Asked for continued business.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/31/2014	I held up the OxyContin conversion and titration guide as well as the Butrans on e and told him OxyContin is a single entity 12 hour delivery of oxycodone for his patients already taking the oxycodone molecule and still in pain. I told him Butrans is a schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch for patients in pain on tramadol or Norco and are taking them around the clock. I asked him if he is ok using them? Dr said he might use Butrans but said he's not sure. I asked him what he's not sure about and he said he doesn't like treating pain and is trying to just not see those types of patients. Dr then walked away. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/31/2014	Caught dr in hallway of hospital and he told me he's been having issues getting OxyContin and Butrans covered by insurance. I asked dr for examples and said he's not positive but the last one rejected for Butrans was for the UHC community plan. I told him that I'm working with Glenn and Rick to help streamline Butrans approvals and gain more clarity on coverage. Dr said his issues with OxyContin mostly come from Medicare and private insurance. Dr said most companies want MS Contin first. I asked him how many patients remain on MS Contin? Dr said the problem is that he has to jump through hoops to get what he wants the patient to have. I told him I understand and will be in touch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/31/2014	Met Myra for the first time, said she really appreciates savings cards and patient information brochures. Myra Gold and Karen both shared a patients report when initiating Butrans. She experienced blurred vision, dizziness and shortness of breath. Patient removed patch, side effects disappeared. She said that she has noticed that coverage has improved with Butrans. We informed her of Med D United/silverscript formulary changes. Myra mentioned that "Unum" is giving her difficulty in the nursing homes. Talked briefly about Tramadol patient appropriate for Butrans, she felt that they come to her beyond that from other physicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/31/2014	Quick window OxyContin review every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, he knows, will consider, will be taking over Med Dir role at Ridge facility

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	7/31/2014	Window call, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it in mind, said to book appt to further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/31/2014	I asked dr what the downside is to wiring a q12 oxycodone instead if refilling an IR oxycodone for a patient who is still in pain? Dr said there isn't a downside to the product clinically but said that cost and the name OxyContin makes it more difficult. I told dr I understand and asked him to focus on orivate or ftrication patients. Dr said ok. I asked him if he thinks Butrans is an opportunity for patients who are in pain on tramadol or Norco and are on them around the clock. Dr said he thinks its a viable option he just needs to find patients. I told him to focus on patients like Scott and reviewed the profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/31/2014	Talked with Melody the MA because the Doctor was not in. She said that the DEA was in recently and the Doctor will no longer prescribe scheduled medicines. I shared with her Butrans might be a product he would be interested in knowing about. It is a schedule III opioid, can call in refills etc. she thought he might be interested and will give him the medication guide. She gave me a lot of time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/1/2014	Talked about the 10mg dose option- reviewed fpi section 12.3. highlighted managed care and med plans. Asked the doctor if he every starts the elderly on a lower or the lowest dose of an opioid? Dr said yes. I said do you do this for all elderly or just the one's you already know to be debilitated? Dr said all elderly because they have a higher risk of respiratory depression. Reviewed the warning section of both products. Reviewed no dose adjustment, and highlighted the dose reduction with oxycotin for the debilitated. Reviewed the dosing for butrans and also highlighted managed care coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	8/1/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will continue to look for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/1/2014	Quick OxyContin review abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that he is sending to Pain mgmnt, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, still no change in appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/1/2014	I asked dr to please continue identifying patients as he has said before who are coming to him on oxycodone and not controlled. Dr said he is doing his best. I told him great and to look at his existing patients on oxycodone maybe first prescribed for acute pain and now have around the clock pain. Dr said ok. I reminded him to use Butrans as well as that schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch for patients with daily around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/1/2014	Gina not in today, Discussed product info updates with Gina. Also showed Gina updates to Butrans patient guides and the importance of handing out to each new Butrans patient. Discussed Medicare D status, both products. Left Scott profile, new patient tear sheet, OxyContin conversion guide for all Hcp's in practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	8/1/2014	Spoke to his med asst Jen. Today not good. Dr has no breaks this am, then will be leaving for the day for appt at 1-1:30 pm & not returning to office. Stop back next week, call first, she will try to get me in front of him. Told her I'm just asking for 30-60 seconds. Updated on Medicare D status, both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/1/2014	Reviewed the 10mg dosage and asked why he wouldn't try it after someone has been on hydrocodone several times a day for long term? Invited to Butrans program, tried to lock down date for residents. need to follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/1/2014	Dr came to window. Something to think about doctor when you see your over 65 aged patients needing chrnk pain treatments that butrans not only doesn't go thru first pass and is mostly excreted thru the feces...which might be important to your renal impaired patients. But when it comes to coverage- explained the aarp and silver scripts. And coupons for those insured.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/1/2014	asked danielie if there was patient information i could provide to them for oxycotin and butrans. She said it was up to the doctor but thought they didn't need anything. left a butrans studyfor the doctor to review. Briefly highlighted the dosing with daniel of butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/1/2014	I asked dr if he would tell me who is and who is not a good candidate for OxyContin? Dr said that's easy because anyone on IR oxycodone he considers as a possible candidate and those who don't have chronic pain shouldn't be on it. I told him thanks and to focus on the indication which states patients with daily, around the clock pain. Dr said ok. I told him I'm hoping he's also focusing on Butrans as the option for patients with the same indication who are still in pain or tramadol or Norco. Dr said ok and that he's being asked of akron general to refer to pain management and is having a hard time with it. Dr said after 3 months of pain treatment he's
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/1/2014	Quick window. Presented Josie w Scott profile, b4 you refill your next Tramadol, consider Butrans. and another option for long term pain: OxyContin. Left Scott profile, new patient guide, and OxyContin conversion guide for Josie and all HCP's in office.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/1/2014	Talked to MA since NP and Doctor were on vacation. She said that the dr keeps asking for OxyContin savings cards. Told her that I will be back as soon as I can with some. She said patients seem to like fentanyl 3 day patch but think that 7 day butrans is too long.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	8/1/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Initiation/Titration, along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok will keep it in mind,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Green	OH	44232	8/1/2014	Spoke with Jenna about who is prescribing OxyContin in the area. Jenna told me that comprehensive pain management drs are using it and she has seen some from dr Petrus. I thanked Jenna for the information and reviewed the dosing and patient types appropriate who. Meet the indication. Reviewed Butrans schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch, titration, and patient types whom meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/1/2014	I told dr that I'm pretty sure that he gets new patient referrals that come in on products like Percocet, Norco and Tramadol who are taking them on a daily around the clock basis. Dr said yes all three but most on Norco or Percocet. I told dr how important it is to him to have patients like that on an ER form of an opioid? Dr said he tries his best and finds that with OxyContin and even generic analgesics they all require some type of prior authorization. I told dr I understand that may be true and asked him if its 100% of the time with OxyContin? Dr said its pretty close. I asked him if it gets approved when the pa form is completed? Dr said almost always approved. I asked him if he will continue to come the that process with OxyContin? Dr said he will. Showed him the MVA 10mg page, dosing and titration. I asked dr to please convert more oxycodone patients to OxyContin when the meet the indication for it. Dr said ok. Showed dr the Butrans MVA and reviewed patients types appropriate for it. I asked dr if he has any experience with it yet? Dr said no. I asked why and he said he has no reason. I reviewed key selling attributes, conversions and titration and asked him to just try it and allow for it to prove itself clinically in the right patient type. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/1/2014	I told dr that I wanted to help him identify patients for Butrans and wanted to take a minute to review Butrans 3015. Dr said he is way behind and doesn't have time. I told him I understand and to please identify patients already on an IR opioid or opioid naive with daily, around the clock pain. Told him I'm leaving him the trial and the conversion and titration guide for OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/1/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia who he send to Pain mgmnt. Said Ok, will consider.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	8/1/2014	Met w medical asst at front desk. Dr C not in today. Discussed both ER single entity products I have for patients with daily, etc, long term pain.(verbatim indication) Left Scott profile, Butrans patient tear sheet, OxyContin savings sell sheet and 9/10 Speaker invite.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Woodmere	OH	44122	8/1/2014	Cheryl is a traveling pharmacist who talked for about 30 seconds because they were short staffed and three very long lines. She has had a few scrips for 30mg OxyContin which she has had to order. I explained I was a new rep and that this territory has been vacant for a while. She asked about savings cards which I don't have any of yet. I will take it to her as soon as I get them. Next time she said she would like to hear about what we are saying to the physicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	8/1/2014	Follow up with dr from lunch on Monday. I asked him if he feels more comfortable after our conversation about using OxyContin for patients already on oxycodone and how OxyContin is a single entity q12 dupry system of oxycodone. Dr said he does and feels good about using OxyContin withy hesitation. I asked him if he will also look into using Butrans for his Medicare patients specifically those with AARP or Silverscript plans. Dr said he will keep his eyes prn.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	8/1/2014	Reviewed with Tech OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, not filling many narcotics.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/1/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy, Said ok will consider, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/4/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans Initiation/Titration, 7 day transdermal, Med D formulary opportunity, Said Ok will look for appropriate patients to
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/4/2014	Hallway. Primary care insight, why I'm sharing insight. Dr surprised at data. Discussed Butrans as ER, single entity opioid, no first pass liver metabolism, 4 strengths, 1x week patch. Dr says recent male patient he placed on Butrans very happy. Reinforced Medicare D Silverscripts & UHC AARP preferred status. Another single entity option, is OxyContin. Discussed 10 mg for opioid naive, can titrate in 1-2 days, simillar AEs in young & old subjects. Dr Vilinsky asked if I heard about recent death of infant on OxyContin? The baby's great grandmother is " our" patient stated Dr Vilinsky. I replied no, what happened? His med asst Keanna printed out aonline article & I then confirmed with office staff that Dr Vilinsky patient, Ida Howard, age 74, had the infant at her home when police were called (911 call). I asked Dr Vilinsky are you sure it was OxyContin? Could it have been oxycodone? Keanna brought article over which we all looked at; it states oxycodone, (which is same molecule in OxyContin, I told dr & Keanna) yet in IR delivery form. I let them know I promote OxyContin, dosed every 12 hours, for (verbatim indication) Additionally, I stated I must track this event back to corporate, & their office may be contacted by Purdue. * see adverse event reported below - I discussed low dose OxyContin, in appropriate patients for legitimate pain. Closed call with formulary status.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	8/4/2014	Dr back from vacation and only has a second. Dr said he will have more time next week and I told him until then to focus on the indication for Butrans and identify patients who are in daily around the clock pain who are currently taking an IR opioid. Dr said he's trying. I told him to also look for those same patients but taking Percocet and converting them to OxyContin. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	8/4/2014	Spoke to jasmín about dosing and reformulation with OxyContin. Gave her Initiation guide for Butrans. Highlighted the patch placement.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/4/2014	Elise asked me to explain how the copy cards work in general for OxyContin and Butrans? I explained how they work and who is eligible. Elise said she just gives them to everyone. I told her any federally funded programs like Medicare and Medicaid do Not qualify. Elise said ok and then I asked her to simply identify patients already on oxycodone and convert them to OxyContin and Butrans patients from tramadol and Norco.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/4/2014	Visited Pharmacy, (Rebecca Taylor - Rph mgr.) Left OxyContin/Butrans info.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/4/2014	I asked Sue and Jessica about unison managed Medicaid plan. Jessica said she has not seen any for OxyContin. But said they have seen them in the past. Sue said she thinks that UHC community plan is under Unison. I looked it up and she is correct that Unison runs UHC community. Discussed key attributes for oxycodone and Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/4/2014	Spoke with dr through window and told him I need a few minutes to sit down with him to discuss important information about OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said Wednesday afternoon he will have time. I told hi. Great and until then to please focus identifying patients currently taking IR oxycodone who are in daily around the clock pain and convert them to OxyContin and patients in pain on tramadol or Norco to write Butrans. Dr said he will see me Wednesday. I left him the Butrans Medicare D grid with Marsha.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/4/2014	Quick hallway, as endocrinology colleagues all exit thru Vilinsky/ Stancescu hallway. Dr Villabona asked where have I been? I responded not calling on endocrinology specialty any longer. I promote two single entity, ER opioid products now: OxyContin & Butrans. Oh, ok, she responded. & continued to walk out of building.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/4/2014	Trying to confirm which address she is at. Had to make a call to make the no call file change status.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/4/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans initiation/Titration, 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D formulary opportunity. Said Ok will consider, typically never prescribes more than 2-3 tablets a day for his pain patients, Reiterated OxyContin every 12hours
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/4/2014	Visited Pain/IM depths (Topalsky,Arrabi,Kohler,Samuel,Singh,Sadowski) OxyContin/Butrans initiation/titration, formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	8/4/2014	Spoke with Cindy the pharmacist and asked her what they are seeing in terms of plans or pa's for OxyContin or Butrans. Cindy said that they have been seeing more TID dosing for OxyContin coming through and the insurance companies will not approve it. I reviewed the appropriate dosing of OxyContin as q12 and 8a and 8p. Cindy said they are in limbo and I asked her why these drs are not titrating the dose? She said they are saying its not lasting the full 12 hours. I asked her if some of that may be from the dosing schedule? Cindy said it probably is. I discussed the dosing and titration at 1-2 days and a single entity oxycodone. Discuss Butrans key attributes and discussed Medicare D plans grid. Cindy said their biggest payor for Medicare is SummaCare D because of where they are located. She said they usually don't give much problem and said that aarp and silverscript are still Quick hallway. Primary care insight. Dr surprised at data! Shared why I'm telling him this. Discussed low dose OxyContin & opioid naive strength of 10 mg, every 12 hours, one tablet at 8 am and 1 tablet at 8 pm. Product attributes including ability to titrate every 1-2 days. I am just asking for one patient today, this week, who meets the indication. He will think about it. Another ER option is also single entity, Butrans. Discussed BUP 3024, studied in 1024 naive patients, tolerated, efficacious & patients able to be titrated to max dose of 20 mcg hr within a few weekly Dr asked in opioid naive? Yes I responded. Since CIII, can be called/ faxed & patient can be called for titration instructions. Showed & left Butrans patient guide. Asked for just 1 or 2 patients this afternoon, remainder of week who meet indication. Dr says " sounds good!"
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Hts	OH	44143	8/4/2014	Spoke with Cindy the pharmacist in the hospital. Discussed OxyContin dosing and titration and her seeing TID dosing due to providers saying patients say it doesn't last the full 12 hours. Discussed proper dosing regimen. Discussed Butrans dosing and titration, key attributes and Medicare D plans. Cindy said they see most SummaCare then the other plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/4/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia failing on present therapy, Said ok, leaves pain meds to dr but will keep it in mind. Likes the once weekly matrix delivery system, reiterated Butrans has the same abuse potential as other CIII opioids.

PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmsted	OH	44070	8/4/2014	Spoke with dr and Gail one of the RN's about OxyContin and Butrans patient types and insurance coverage. I asked dr how his patients are handling the conversion from IR oxycodone to OxyContin? Dr said most accept the switch and said its important to let them know its the same product but dosed different. I told dr that's good to know and asked for continued business. Discussed Butrans key selling attributes and told dr and Gail to focus on Medicare wins and reviewed them. Discussed pre certifications and pa denials for Butrans in the office. Gail said that she usually doesn't have any issues with Butrans coverage. I asked her which plans and she said Caresource is the easiest then UHC community plan which there aren't many patients anyway then buckeye. Gail said she had a denial just last week with buckeye. I asked about Medicare D and she said they don't have many in Ravenna and most are probably in Cuyahoga Falls. Gail said she uses cover my meds for some pa's but the Medicaid she uses that plans PA form which she said works better.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/4/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary grids. Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.

Likes the once weekly matrix delivery system, reiterated Butrans has the same abuse potential as other CIII opioids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/5/2014	Super fast. He tries not to write for OxyContin and doesn't really have experience with butrans. He will be more than happy to talk with me over lunch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Talked about the med d and caresource coverage in Butrans and OxyContin. I asked the dr if he takes a single entity product into consideration for his elderly patients or not? He said he uses norco cause less Tylenol. I said Butrans and OxyContin done have any Tylenol. I explained the dosing and asked if his patients would like the dosing option and if he will write it for appropriate patients this week. He said "sure sure".
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Quick review of Butrans formulary (Med D UHC/AARP/Caremark Silverscripts, Said Ok, will continue to prescribe to appropriate patients, Reminded of Butrans patients booklets
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D (UHC/AARP, Silverscripts) Said ok continues to find appropriate patients and will look to expand use
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Extended release insight. Reviewed the patient that may be appropriate for chronic atc pain treatment. Dr said that typically he wouldn't write OxyContin after 2 doses of a hydrocodone or oxycodone. I said why. He said he reserves OxyContin for more serious pain patients. We discussed attributes like the 10mg and opioid naive dose. The variety of 7 doses. Dr said he hasn't seen a patient yet that meets the criteria. Reviewed appropriate patient type. Dr said his hesitation is in the patch technology of other pain patches he has tried in the past. Dr said in the past patches don't work as good. We talked about the naive study and the pain results, the percentage of adverse reactions from the study. Reviewed supplemental and titration. At the end I asked what he would tell his patient as he initiated therapy of Butrans for the first time. Dr said what's the dose again. So reviewed the Initiation guide where he said most of his patients would be started at 5mcg. He remembered it was 7 day dosing. I said is this patient on an opioid? Dr said yes...I said then you'll want to remember to give them something until steady state is reached by day 3. Dr asked about patch placement, showed visual aid and reviewed managed care. Dr said he will try it in appropriate patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said he continues to prescribe Butrans for appropriate patients, likes it for the elderly and reiterated no change on CII policy
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Dr said she doesn't initiate schedule 2 products. Talked about the extended release insight. Dr said she will write three doses in a day before she would even consider changing from that medication to another one. Talked about the ten mg of OxyContin, reviewed the opioid naive dose via the fpi. Reviewed the elderly profile and the 7 doses. Nap said she hasn't tried Butrans because it's too new for her. She said she isn't comfortable and doesn't have her arms warped around it yet. Reviewed Initiation guide, dosing and patch placement. Managed care covered last. CHUDAKOB's query on 08/15/2014What exactly is she uncomfortable with?BARTOLI's response on 08/18/2014Using extended release opioids.CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/18/2014I know, but why? There has to be a reason why? Once you get to that reason, you can begin to build from there.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Maple Heights	OH	44137	8/5/2014	Quick introduction. Would like to have savings cards. Thinks butrans is a great product but doesn't see too much coming through. Sees a lot of Percocet, not too much OxyContin lately.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Asked Christy the office manager if I could bring the m coffee and get a word in with the new doctor. She said maybe next week but they were in a meeting and today was not good. Highlighted the products and managed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/5/2014	I asked dr if he can recall any of his Medicare D patients are on IR IR ER opioids for around the clock pain? Dr said he's sure there are some. I asked him to please put some focus on that patient population along with his private insured as candidates for Butrans. Dr said he will keep it in mind. I asked dr to please also look into his patient population that is on Percocet who may have already been taking it for 3+ months because they may be meeting the indication for OxyContin. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Something to think about this week- talked about med d plans d highlighted the elderly profile for both products. Dr said ok thanks.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/5/2014	Caught dr going into a room and told him to please focus on patients for Butrans that suffer from daily around the clock pain and are taking an IR opioid like tramadol. I told him to also focus on th Sam criteria for OxyContin except for patients currently taking Percocet. Dr said ok and things have been going well. Spoke with Shar about copy cards, managed care plans with Medicare D and indications for Butrans and OxyContin. Shar said she can't remember the last pa or denial she's had go Butrans. I asked her out of 10 prescriptions written that have required a PA how many get approved? Shar said about 5. I asked her if she's happy with that and she said yes because the criteria is so wrong and inappropriate. I told her I agree and which plans give the most difficulty? She said Medicaid and Medicare. She also said employer BWC plans are tough as well. I reviewed care Caresource PA, Medicare and private insurance coverage. Shar said she typically calls the plans directly for coverage and sometimes she gets things approved on the phone or they will fax the necessary forms to complete.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Review dosing of both products. Reviewed patch placement and titration. Talked about the FDA draft guidance for OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Brief Intro to Butrans 7day transdermal, CIII, Initiation/Titration along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, every 12hours, Said Ok will set up inservice with Med Dr.Ty Dahodwala
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/5/2014	Quick call, introduction. He said that the state of Ohio is making it more difficult to write OxyContin. I asked if he feels that some patients really benefit from OxyContin? He agreed but said that some patients like it too much. We discussed the abuse deterrent properties of OxyContin which he agrees are important. He has a little bit of butrans experience with good results but doesn't usually think of it. Next time he'd like to hear more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	8/5/2014	Dr did not come back to lunch but sarah the nurse made him a plate. Spoke to nurse and office manager sarah for a while regarding the products. She asked about reformulation, which I explained and used core visual. Asked about dosing every 12 hours as an option instead of dosing someone every 4 to 6 hours with an immediate release product. Talked about the oxycodone comparison to OxyContin I the 12.3 section of the fpi. Talked about Butrans dosing. Reviewed 4 patches a month, weekly dosing. Reviewed patch location and managed care. She said they have a lot of buckeye, not caresource. She also said they have a lot I'd medical mural. We talked coupons. She said she will pass the information over to the dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/5/2014	Introduction, Doctor was working with a med student and proceeded to tell him about my products. He said he has no problem eventually prescribing OxyContin but is in no hurry. He has some experience with butrans and told the student it is a seven day patch. After he finished instructing the student I reviewed the abuse deterrent characteristics of OxyContin, doses available, q12 dosing and what the appropriate Percocet patient might be.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Reviewed quickly butrans doses and application sites and pulled thru med d formulary win. Doctor will try to think of butrans more often.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/5/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said ok, will relay info to clinicians, asked to continue to request appt with Dr Gillespie
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/6/2014	Discussed Butrans/OxyContin with Barb-RN-Mgr. 7 day transdermal. Med D coverage along with OxyContin every 12hours with abuse deterrent characteristics. Said Ok will relay info, Something to keep in mind: appropriate patients with chronic pain need a change of dose or medication why dose in 4 to 6 hour increments atc when you have oxycodone dosed every 12 hour as an option or butrans weekly dosing. Spoke to ma regardig managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/6/2014	opened with the fda insight- talked about the updated lable information showed visual aid. Reviewed dosing and asked why dose in 4 to 6 hour increments when there is another option to dose every 12 hours with oxycodone or weekly with Butrans. Dr said price usually. Highlighted a few managed care plans. And asked dr to think about oxycodone for an uncontrolled appropriate pain patient requesting a change in there therapy. Dr said ok. Spoke to jamie the nurse about managed care.

		Akron	OH	44313	8/6/2014	Spoke with Tom Lamb the lead pharmacist about OxyContin and Butrans and discussed with him the OxyContin indication. Tom asked if I think it will change prescribing habits? I asked him if many drs write based on indications? Tom said no. I told him I agree but hope that I can get my customers who are writing IR opioids and keeping them on them who have daily around the clock pain to convert them to an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans because of what type of patient an ER opioid is written for. Tom agreed and said that makes sense. I discussed OxyContin patient types and key selling attributes. I also discussed an appropriate patient for Butrans with Scott profile. Tom said they have been seeing more dispensing of Butrans recently and haven't seen many insurance issues with it.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Akron	OH	44320	8/6/2014	I asked dr how he decides to treat around the clock pain? Dr said a lot of his patients don't have a lot of money so he needs to do what's going to be affordable. I told him that OxyContin is not only a single entity opioid but can be very affordable. Dr said ok and that he thinks Butrans is a better choice for his patients. I told dr I understand and that is a good option for patients in around the clock pain who have the will to try a week long patch.
PPPLPMDL00200000001						Dr said ok and he will keep looking for patients. I reminded him about Caresource Pa, BWC and Medicare coverage.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Valley View	OH	44125	8/6/2014	Discussed with Aaron RPH mgr, Butrans PA issues along with OxyContin RX's, and trends, invited to upcoming program
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Stow	OH	44224	8/6/2014	Dr saw me up front and came out and told me he's out of oxycontin copy cards and only one Butrans left. I told dr I will take care of it and I'm looking forward to getting some more time with him to update him on what's new with OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said ok and said he's continuing to have good success with OxyContin. Told dr that's great and asked for continued use.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Lakewood	OH	44107	8/6/2014	Was at the window talking to the nurses about the dosing and managed care of butrans. I was highlighting the multiple patch information when the dr came to the window and asked if that was new. I confirmed that it was new, showed him and told him the information, highlighted caresource and commercial plans.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/6/2014	Waved to dr as he was discharging a patient. Dr came to counter and asked me what's new. I told him about the OxyContin and Butrans indications. I asked him to focus on patients currently on Percocet who have daily around the clock pain and to convert them to OxyContin. Dr said ok and that makes sense. I told him that Butrans is also a possible solution for those patients on tramadol or Norco daily and around the clock pain. I asked dr his thoughts. Dr said he's being punched like all other family physicians to only treat with opioids for 90 days then must refer to pain management. I told him I understand but asked him why that would prevent him from writing OxyContin or Butrans within that time period? Dr said it's a tough call but thinks Butrans is a product he can find a place for. Nothing else learned.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Lakewood	OH	44107	8/6/2014	Only got a wave and mentioned oxycotin and butrans dosing options today.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44115	8/6/2014	Talked with George Rph, Inquired about Butrans and OxyContin scripts, had 1 Butrans ordered but returned for no show. Takes 1 day to stock
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Lakewood	OH	44107	8/6/2014	Gave the extended release insight thru the window. dr said he was unsure if my percentage was accurate. I asked what andbe a more realistic percentage to him. he was uncertain. I told him the point was that primary care doctors are recognizing that extended release products have a place in their practice and early on as their first atc option. I want to know if he follows suit with that same belief. Dr said no. Dr said he feels he will try a few short acting products and extended release products last. I said fair enough. I asked him to think about the patient with atc chronic pain- that has already been on generic opioids and is asking for a new course of medication or adjustment. Reviewed oxycotin dosing and butrans dosing.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Twinsburg	OH	44087	8/6/2014	Introduction. Talked about abuse deterrent properties, q12h dosing of OxyContin, she thought that is good relevant information. Reviewed butrans titration option with two patches. She appreciated information and requested savings cards.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44115	8/6/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Initiation/Titration, Formulary status, Said ok will consider, keep reminding him and Martha
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Akron	OH	44308	8/6/2014	Spoke with the nurse manager Krisadié and told her I was following up on our last conversation about having an OxyContin inservice with the follows and refinements. I told her there is new information about abuse deterrent characteristics and indication that the staff needs to know. Krisadié said she will do her best to make it happen but she needs to see about the interest level first. I told her they may just hear the name OxyContin and think they know everything about it. I told her the reality is that a lot of the information is very new and it would be of interest to them. She said she will look further into it and get back to me. I told her I would like to follow up in a few weeks.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Akron	OH	44313	8/6/2014	I told dr I have something important to tell him and he came over to the window. I told him about the OxyContin indication and told him I'd like him to focus on patients that have daily, around the clock pain and are currently on some type of IR opioid like Norco. Dr said ok. I had given Tina the Butrans formulary grid and dr saw it on the counter and said he can't get it covered. I asked where he's having trouble and Tina said with buckeye. I told him that is going to be difficult and asked him if he also has Caresource patients? Dr said he has just as many as buckeye. I told him the Caresource PA and asked him if he would focus there as well as Medicare and private insurance? Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Westlake	OH	44145	8/6/2014	was at window leaving product information- dr came up to me and started small chatting and then asked me how pain doctors were using butrans. I invited him to a program and said come find out. I asked what was his reason for asking. Dr was wondering if the patch had problems like patients having rash. I have him the percentage of adverse reactions for our studies. Dr said he didn't have any patients complain but it's a concern. I said is this a concern with all patch technology and he said yes. We talked about the risk benefit of picking any product, including opioids. Dr said he likes butrans and uses it as his only extended release product of choice. I said why? He said he likes the dosage and he likes it's for 7 days. I covered managed care- told him to review some of the pain studies like the opioid naivs one. Dr said he would not read it. I told him I would come tell him about it next time. Dr said he is more interested in simple reminders like dosing or fda approvals. I said ok. Briefly talked about oxycotin dosing during the conversation.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44115	8/6/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Munroe Falls	OH	44262	8/6/2014	I asked dr what's limiting her ability to convert more patients from Percocet to OxyContin? Dr said that she talks about it with a lot of her patients and said that some patients say its just too expensive and other just don't want to take OxyContin. I told her I understand and asked her if she will keep trying for patients with private insurance? Dr said she will. Reviewed Butrans key selling attributes, and Scott profile. I asked for more business.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44115	8/6/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44195	8/7/2014	Quick review of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths, formulary coverage along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44195	8/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths, formulary status, along with Butrans Initiation/Titration and formulary grids, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/7/2014	Good discussion with dr and other physicians in attendance about OxyContin and Butrans. Led off conversation with oxycodone insight and then discussed OxyContin key selling attributes, dosing, Titration, q12 hour dosing, abuse deterrent characteristics tiers 1 and 3, single entity oxycodone delivery. I asked dr about his experience and he told me that he refers now more than ever. I asked him when he refers and he didn't give me a direct answer. I explained the appropriate patient type for OxyContin already taking oxycodone plain or Percocet and converting them to OxyContin. Same molecule 1:1 conversion. Dr said it makes sense and will consider writing and converting more. Full Butrans discussion for first time. Key attributes schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch, dosing, conversions, single entity opioid. Showed placebo patch and explained make up of patch. Discussed appropriate patient type Scott and gave hydrocodone insight. Dr asked about AE's. Discussed them from MVA Bup 3015 trial. Dr said he likes the low incidence of constipation. I asked dr if Butrans is a product he has a place for? Dr said he thinks he does and will try to use. Dr asked about insurance. Office does not take managed Medicaid but does take BWC and many private plans as well as Medicare. Discussed copay cards.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		akron	OH	44333	8/7/2014	Met dr for first time and had a great discussion about OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said she has no knowledge of Butrans and is very interested. Led off with oxycodone insight and gave key selling attributes for OxyContin. Schedule 2, q12 delivery of oxycodone HCL. 7 dosing strengths, start principles, conversions and abuse deterrent characteristics. I asked wher about her experience with it and she said she doesn't have much but isn't afraid to use it in the right patient. I discussed the appropriate patient for OxyContin and showed conversions from Percocet 1:1 conversion. I asked her if it makes sense to treat daily around the clock pain with 4-6 hour product? Dr said it does not. I asked for prescribing where appropriate. Butrans introduction with key selling attributes, schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch. Application sites and disposal. Discussed appropriate patient types, conversions, AE's, contraindications, managed care and copay cards. Dr said she thinks its a great product and will for sure find a place for it.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44130	8/7/2014	He had a former employee doing illegal activity with OxyContin so he refers out and tries to avoid writing it. If he has an elderly patient in pain he still may use it but tries not to. I agreed that oxyContin isn't for everyone but there are appropriate patients in his practice that could benefit from q12 dosing and ER delivery system. He is aware of the reformulation. Butrans he agrees is a good option for the Tramadol patient who is now in around the clock pain.
PPPLPMDL00200000001		Cleveland	OH	44103	8/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, but no time for Butrans at this point

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	8/7/2014	Dr Laham changed schedule (Beachwood CC pain clinic closed now) only day off is Thursday. Met with prior auth coordinator, Denise, I asked to see another HCP. Denise says only Dr. Dews & Leizman in, they won't see reps. Left OxyContin reformulation brochure, Butrans titration guides for all 6 hcp's in office. Updated Denise on improved Med D status. Asked if I could present info to HCP's at staff meeting, do they have one? She says 1x a month, but its for ancillary staff, like OM, med assts, secretaries and HCPs don't attend at this point.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/7/2014	Spoke w Dr Azar as he was sitting down in his office. Asked for business outside of nursing home. He stated he uses Roxynol (ir morphine) in hospice/nursing home, as OxyContin & Butrans not covered. He also perceives them to be expensive. Discussed improved formulary/Med D status for both products. Told Dr I'd stop in next week to discuss further as chaotic day.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/7/2014	Met dr in office as she was coming in and she told me she has been having lots of difficulty in getting Butrans approved. I asked her to give me one example. Dr told me about a patient of hers who has JRA which is juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis. Dr said the patient has been on and failed two NSAIDs, at least one opioid and can't tolerate any of them and is in severe pain and she can't get Butrans approved and has been denied twice. Dr said the insurance company wanted fentanyl. Dr said who write fentanyl and the patient trailed it for 2 months and was still denied and was told to write methadone which she said she will never write. I told dr it sounds like a buckeye patient and told her it must be one of he only plan she gets denials from. Dr told me to speak with Darlene to get specifics. I told her to not get discouraged and to please continue writing and to please also remember OxyContin is also an option for those patients. Dr said she knows but she also dormant like writing schedule 2 medicines if she doesn't have to. I told dr that sometimes she has to and it is available. Darlene gave me the necessary pa and denial forms and said dr even did a peer to peer and it was still denied. I told Darlene to please call me when situations like this arise. Will forward information to Kendra.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	8/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that she is sending to Pain mgmnt, Said ok, asked to schedule appt with main office,, nothing new learned,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/7/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/7/2014	Quick hallway. Dr Anna stated she placed patient on OxyContin, yet nursing home made her change to morphine sulfate. Discussed that if morphine works, great, but if it fails for patient, document failure and try to get OxyContin approved. Discussed considering low dose OxyContin after NSAIDs, prior to going to Percocet. Dr says she will keep in mind. Discussed broad formulary coverage for OxyContin, yet there will be instances like this. More often, OxyContin access should not be a problem. Dr agreed, and stated only recently, has she had trouble with access.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/7/2014	Short discussion with dr after speaking with dr Azem. I told her to please continue identifying patients appropriate for Butrans like those being treated with IR opioids who have daily around the clock pain. Dr said she has written one or two recently and everything is good. Discussed OxyContin as another option for her patients in daily around the clock pain and to convert those Percocet patients. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	8/7/2014	the doctor came back to grab a cup of coffee. I asked her if she was willing to hear about oxycontin or butrans and how these dosing options every 12 hours or weekly may or may not fit into her style of treating pain medications. She said she didn't have time to get into a discussion and was heading to the hospital.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/7/2014	Dr came to lunch in the middle of lunch. I discussed with him the key attributes with OxyContin, conversions,q12 single entity opioid, and appropriate candidates. Discussed Butrans key selling attributes, conversions, dosing, Scott profile. Dr said Butrans sounds like a great product and will look for opportunities.
	Highland Heights	OH	44143	8/7/2014	Lunch. Dr Salama asked about incidence of urinary issues with Butrans, as he had male patient recently on Butrans, who could not urinate. Butrans was discontinued & patient was placed back on Vicodin. Reported as AE. Looked up incidence in Butrans FPI (6.1 clinical studies) and discussed with medical ast who will discuss w dr Salama further. Total office call, met with newest med ast Carrie. Asked her what type of pain complaints she sees that are common: she replied, back, neck, feet, etc. she also stated most of their patients on Percocet, & many complain it doesn't work. I responded OxyContin would be appropriate as it's same molecule, yet different delivery: every 12hour release & indicated for long term pain. Discussed importance of handing out Butrans patient guides.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/7/2014	Talked to Beth and pharmacist. They are a small pharmacy and don't stock Butrans because no one is really prescribing it. They can get it in one day so that usually isn't a problem. Most of the OxyContin seems to come from The pain clinic across the street. Reviewed the indication of both products and discussed appropriate dosing. She would like savings cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/7/2014	Look to speak with Glenn about Butrans insurance issues in which was told he didn't have time. I spoke with dr Narouze about OxyContin and asked him if he is getting patients referred to him on Percocet? Dr said he is. I asked him how he feels about converting those patients who are in daily around the clock pain to OxyContin? Dr said the first thing he does is to assess if they need the short acting or a surgical candidate. Dr said if they are not a surgical candidate then he would look more towards a long acting opioid. I told dr I'm hoping that's either OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said he uses both. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Discussed the appropriate patient type- focused on the patient taking 2 or more doses a day and are currently not satisfied with their current treatment. Reviewed indication and the options of either OxyContin or Butrans. Reviewed a few attributes of each product. focused on the 10mg of OxyContin for the opioid naive patient or for a patient you want the lowest opioid dose for. highlighted butrans dosing and the no first pass and no dose adjustment for the elderly or renal patients. covered a few managed care plans big to the office, mentioned med d.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Gave dr butrans invite and talked about the attributes of both oxycontin, talked about the patient taking more than 2 doses and the ATC profile of a pateint with pain. discussed managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/8/2014	Quick hello at window and told him to focus on the wording of the Butrans indication to help him select appropriate patients in daily around the clock pain. Dr said ok. Gave him the Scott profile. Reminded him OxyContin is also a solution for an ER opioid in those already on IR oxycodone who need a dose adjustment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Reviewed Butrans patient info booklets,per request, Asked for that 1 appropriate patient this afternoon, said she will consider,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/8/2014	Spoke with Melissa about OxyContin key selling attributes, conversions and appropriate patient types. Discussed Butrans key selling attributes, conversions, dosing, and titration. Melissa said they have a few patients on it and said the indication makes sense to her and likes the way it's worded.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/8/2014	Discussed OxyContin indication,dosing, conversions, titration up and down,start principles and appropriate patients. Becky said that she thinks its a great product and is going to try and convert a few of her patients from Percocet. Discussed Butrans indication, schedule3,7 day transdermal patch, conversions, and Scott profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Spoke to Laura the nurse about the dosing and scheduling of our products. highlighted Butrans and invited the doctor to the program. laura said the doctor is best on tuesday for programs. We discussed a few attributes of the product including med d coverage for the older patients needing pain therapy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	8/8/2014	re introduced myself to the nurse who seemed to be in a big hurry to shut down for lunch. I got my products and dosing out, handed a program invite to her to pass to the doctor she said he won't go.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/8/2014	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans with him during breakfast and told him about specific patient type selection. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and looking for patients not to their analgesic goal on Percocet. Dr said he probably won't write OxyContin and will leave that up to the specialists. Discussed Butrans key attributes, dosing, conversions and the criteria he needs to look for especially from the indication and to focus on the words in the indication to steer him towards the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/8/2014	Dr said she didn't have much time because she's behind. I told her I want her to focus on the OxyContin and Butrans indications to identify patients who are in pain on a daily around the clock basis. Dr said the indication sounds good. I asked what may be the reason why she would maintain a patient on a IR opioid when they have pain around the clock? Dr said she tries not to but patients either can't afford anything else or don't want them. I told her to focus on tramadol or Norco for Butrans and OxyContin for her Percocet patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Spoke to the office manager and she said it was a bad time, I highlighted the products and dosing, gave the butrans invite to the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	invited to the butrans dinner program. asked the doctor how many residents rotate thru his office a year, and was asking the type of information he proficed to them regarding butrans and oxycontin. Asked the doctor if he considers butrans to be appropriate as somones first atc medication choice like after ultram. Dr said yes. I asked if he does this...he said sometimes and mentioned managed care. I highlighted caresource and med plans to his office. I asked when was the last time a butrans didn't get thru on caresource? He couldn't remember. Asked him if he does on testing it out....asked him to find a patient who needs a change in thereapy and if you notice they are on caresource and appropriat for butrans to try it again and see what happens. he said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Spoke to pam about butrans and program coming up in september. highlighted butrns dosing and scheduling. also talked managed care. reviewed oxycontin profile with elderly per the fpi
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Doctor was not available to see me, spoke to the nurse about the butrans program and about dosing wth each product. She said she would pass the information over to the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/8/2014	Dr came to window and told me a joke. I handed him my card, and a butrans invite. We talked about the upcoming dinner program while I highlighted attributes of butrans. Also reminded him of the elderly profile for oxycontin. Asked him to think about oxycontin for the next appropriate patiet that may require a change of therapy to a single entity.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/8/2014	Dr told me that she has had some issues getting OxyContin approved recently. Dr said that she had to have a pa filled out for an OxyContin 15mg which was approved. Dr said she needed to titrate down to 10mg and required another pa for the titration down! Dr said it was approved but couldn't understand why she had to do a pa for a titration? I told her I don't know and asked about the plan which she didn't know of course. I explained if the pa is being approved its a good things. Dr said if she needs to continue with pa's she will just take the patient back to Percocet. I asked dr if she completes the pa? Dr said no buts its just a pain and takes time. I asked her to please continue finding patients appropriate who need a dose adjustment on their IR oxycodone. Butrans key selling attributes, schedule 3,7 day patch. Reviewed dr patients types. I asked dr if she has used it yet and she said no. I told her she must trial it clinically in the right patient. Reviewed Scott profile and managed care plans for paths of least resistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Visited Ortho/Pain depts,(Shen,Novak,Bhimani,Bohl,Berkowitz, Bilfield) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, program invites along with formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/8/2014	Short call in hallway. Told dr that OxyContin is a single entity oxycodone at a 12 hour delivery system. I told him that he needs to continue to look for candidates that are taking IR oxycodone daily and around the clock. Dr said ok. Reminded him to trial Butrans clinically in a patient who is taking tramadol around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia! said OK will consider, sends most chronic patients to pain Mgmnt but will keep it in mind, discuss more during lunch appt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock,Said Ok Essa will help reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmsted	OH	44070	8/8/2014	pharmacist said they were busy- i said understood, pointed out the dosing and fda updated label information of oxycontin, and highlighted the mcg of butrans and patch location of Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	8/8/2014	Talked about a few major plans including the med d plans they have at the office and we are covered on. I asked if he has special considerations for older who need chronic pain medications, I asked hi. To consider the single entity of OxyContin and Butrans and the dosing every 12 hours or weekly with Butrans. He said ok thank u.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, invited to upcoming program
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/8/2014	Discussed insight with oxycodone and showed him the OxyContin 10mg page in the MVA. Discussed OxyContin attributes and asked him how he is feeling about identifying patients on Percocet 20mg and converting them to OxyContin 10mg q12h? Dr said he has no issues with it and writes plenty of 10mg. Reviewed the start principles, abuse deterrent characteristics and asked for more business. Discussed Butrans indication, Scott profile and managed care. I asked dr if he has had any recent starts with Butrans? Dr said he has had a couple recently. I asked him what these patients had been on prior to Butrans? Dr did not answer me and said he likes to use it when patients need more than tramadol or Norco. I reviewed the Scott profile gain and told him I would like to get specific information next time about his success with Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/8/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy and requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	East Cleveland	OH	44112	8/8/2014	Reviewed with Latoya Rph OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy, that require around the clock analgesia, Said OK, not alot of narcotics dispensed but will help when applicable

PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/11/2014	Window call, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients and schedule appt with Audrey. Nothing new learned
	Parma	OH	44129	8/11/2014	Doctor says that she avoids OxyContin but will prescribe it when she sees the appropriate patient. She could think of two patients that are on it right now. She would not feel comfortable starting OxyContin, but it comfortable starting with Percocet. She thinks that an appropriate time to consider OxyContin is when a patient is taking 4 Percocet a day.....she may consider that person appropriate for q12h OxyContin. Anyone she suspects may be an abuser she refers to pain management. She has no experience with butrans but was interested in hearing about it because she doesn't know who that patient might be. I described a Tramadol patient and utilized "Pam", and reviewed indication, and pulled thru med d formulary. Doctor said that between now and next time I see her she will try to find one butrans appropriate patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	8/11/2014	Reviewed with Ryan OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12 hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients failing on present therapy, Said Ok, 90% RX filled our Medicaid,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/11/2014	Talked with office and MA since Doctor was on vacation. They try not to write any narcotics (their words) in the office. The doctors might want to hear about butrans, but typically refer to pain management. They have patients that would benefit from a different dosing schedule and believe the patients might be taking more medicine than they need when not on ER medicine for around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, Book appt at Office location
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/11/2014	Reviewed with Rhonda Tech OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok has 1 patient on Butrans,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/11/2014	Doctor said that he prescribed more OxyContin when working with long term care. He will prescribe for appropriate patient and appreciates the abuse deterrent properties with the reformulation. He is aware of butrans but doesn't know much about it. He was in a hurry, waiting room full, I quickly reviewed dosing, indication and patch locations, Med D formulary changes, left titration guide and told him I would come back soon once he has reviewed it, he may have questions/ thoughts to share with me. He said ok.
	Parma	OH	44129	8/11/2014	Talking to MA and Debbie thru the window about Butrans and OxyContin. She says that they don't write narcotics, they refer to pain management. She is not sure if they want to schedule a lunch with me because the previous rep "worked very hard to get him to write it and he never really did." She said the doctor felt bad about it too. I shared with her that we are not interested in converting the whole practice to opioids, but want to help him find those few appropriate patients that could really benefit from the extended release delivery system. Shared with her the improved formulary status for both medications and there is probably new information I could share with them that could benefit a few patients. She told me that she will talk to the doctor and next time I go by there to stop in and see if I can schedule an in service.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	8/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy, Said he knows will consider for appropriate patients, Book lunch thru Bonnie
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	8/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Med D formulary opportunities, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Seeing more Pain patients since (Dr. Hilton's retirement) Asked for 1 appropriate patient this afternoon, Said she will try
	akron	OH	44333	8/11/2014	I told dr that in the past he had some success with Butrans but he hasn't written any in the last few months. I asked dr if anything has changed? Dr said he has told me in a few occasions that he really isn't treating ongoing pain and is really doing acute pain. I asked him what he's doing for patients that see him on 3 or 4 tramadol or Norco a day? Dr said he's trying to refer to pain management more but he understands that there are patients he treats for ongoing pain and that his 70-80 yr olds. Dr said anyone younger than that he tries not to continue to refill or write products for pain. Discussed when to use a product like Butrans for patients before they even get to Norco. Dr agreed and said he will try to find a place. Discussed OxyContin as an option as well for patients when they are already on oxycodone IR.
PPLPMDL0020000001				8/11/2014	Quick introduction. He will talk to me at lunch because patients are waiting for him. He hasn't seen a rep in a while and would like to hear more About butrans. There are patients that are in around the clock pain that can benefit from OxyContin but he doesn't write it too often.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/11/2014	Quick intro as new rep in territory after vacant for close to a year. They don't really see butrans being written, but they do keep OxyContin stocked. Didn't have time for anything else.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/11/2014	Spoke with Jamie the pharmacist about her patients she is seeing for Butrans an OxyContin. Jamie said she is seeing most 15 and 20mcg doses. She attempted to see specifically who is writing and the system wasn't loading.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/11/2014	I discussed the revised indications for the products and multiple patch use for Butrans. Reviewed the Butrans Scott profile and discussed initiation and titration. Discussed OxyContin use and conversions from Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans initiation/Titration guides, P's, Patti said due to patient volume she cant schedule in-service appt. Will contact me if further info needed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/11/2014	Told dr to think about what it means for patients to be in daily, around the clock pain and to use Butrans or OxyContin for them. Discussed the increased number of patient referrals he is getting and to use Butrans for those patients taking tramadol or Norco around the clock and OxyContin for those patients already on the oxycodone molecule. Dr said he will keep looking for patients and said he will continue to initiate with 10mcg and titrate accordingly. Reminded him of BWC, Caresource and Medicare D plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/11/2014	Spoke with Corey the pharmacist and a new pharmacist Lori. Discussed OxyContin indication and dosing along with conversions. Asked Lori if she's familiar with Butrans. Discussed key selling attributes,dosing, conversions and appropriate print types. The technician said they see both OxyContin and Butrans and fill Butrans more regularly now than ever before and have all doses in stock. Discussed copy card and trial offer with Corey.
	Akron	OH	44333	8/11/2014	I told Elise to think of OxyContin as that single entity oxycodone delivered over 12 hours. I showed her the conversions and asked dr if she will continue to take patients on IR oxycodone and convert them? Elise said she will. Elise said she continues to have some issues getting it approved. I asked where and she said she couldn't remember but most do go through. I told her that's good to know and keep writing. I told her to also identify candidates for Butrans that meet the 3-4 prn medicines a day and are still in pain. Elise said she will.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/11/2014	Short conversation about Butrans indication and treating patients in daily around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Sandra said that she thinks e indication is good and she tries to continue to convert patients but cost is important. I told her to focus on patients that have commercial insurance as well as Caresource and Medicare D.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/11/2014	Discussed Butrans indication and told him to focus on patients who have pain severe enough to require daily around the clock opioid analgesic. I told dr that he is missing opportunities for Butrans in those patients who are taking 3 or more IR opioids and are in pain around the clock. Dr said he will write ER Morphine second line after IR opioid failure because of cost and its cheaper. I asked him if all his patients have a cost issue? Dr said not all. I told him to focus on patients where cost is not an issue lie,those with commercial, Caresource or Medicare D insurance. Dr said ok. I discussed using Butrans after failure of an IR opioid like tramadol or Norco. Asked dr about using OxyContin for patients failing on Percocet or oxycodone plain. Dr said he thinks its a great product and knows it works but the office policy is to not use it due to past history. Discussed abuse deterrent characteristics and tiers 1 and 3 for the product. Dr leaving for comprehensive pain management in September.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/12/2014	Doctor said that he likes butrans for many patient types including opioid naive patients, ones taking too many pills where he wants to change the delivery system. He has many patients that feel so much better because of butrans. He did tell me that he does it beyond our recommendations with good success but gets push back from pharmacies. I clarified with him our maximum dosing recommendations but he respectfully pointed out that he is comfortable with butrans and how patients tolerate the medicine. He is pleased with the side effect profile and prefers to start patients on butrans even for what may be considered OxyContin appropriate patients. He feels that OxyContin in much more difficult to prescribe because of all of the generics. Pulled thru formulary for both products, including med d for butrans. He is in need of savings cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/12/2014	Spoke with Dennis the pharmacy technician about Butrans and OxyContin. Reviewed Butrans schedule 3,7 day transdermal system. Reviewed indication,conversions and titration. Discussed appropriate patient types and initiation for tramadol and hydrocodone. Discussed OxyContin conversions, q12 oxycodone and schedule 2.
PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	8/12/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours abuse deterrent characatrstics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia failing on present therapy, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	8/12/2014	Spoke with Jeff the pharmacist and asked him if his prescriptions are mostly from employees? Jeff said ER are but also fill them from Petrus patients, wound care and some other areas. I asked if he is filling OxyContin? Jeff said he does for sure and sees mostly 20 and 40mg doses. I told him about the OxyContin indication and asked him if he also has dispensed Butrans? Jeff said he has and has about 3 patients on it. Nothing else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	8/12/2014	Left packet of info on Suite 160 floor, with another med asst, as Dr. Reznick Med Asst hasn't been assigned yet. (maybe Jeannette who joined organization and left Azar/Park) Dr Reznick will start practicing SEPT 1 FULL TIME.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Shaker Heights	OH	44122	8/12/2014	Left OxyContin reformulation folder, conversion guide, Butrans initiation guide, patient guide, fpi, OARRS flashcard, med 80 guidelines, protect your practice.
				8/12/2014	Talked with Emily the pharmacist. They stock all doses of OxyContin, only the 20 of butrans for one patient. They do not use the electronic 222 forms but hope to by the end of the year. They still do it by hand. When they see that a patient is taking more and more of the IR, they call the doctors office advising use of ER, just as we do, but that doesn't seem to matter to the physicians. Pain management seems to handle that much better than primary care according to Emily.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	8/12/2014	Inquired to Opey Rph mgr on OxyContin and Butrans, not seeing RX's, said typically can get next day if ordered, No new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44121	8/12/2014	Met w Daria med asst at front window( she left Azar/Park) practice & is w Dr Wolovitz full time now. She is aware of my products, and I discussed items I'm leaving for Dr Wolovitz. First time call to his new location.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/12/2014	Ld off discussion with baby boomer insight and asked him if his practice is going in that direction? Dr said he has the proportion of patients that are there and are getting there. I told hi. The reason I'm telling him that is because of the excellent Medicare D coverage Butrans has and then reviewed the plans. I asked him to use Butrans for that patient population. I also told him to focus on those Norco patients who have daily around the clock pain and convert them appropriately. I asked if he's initiating mostly on the 5 or 10mg patch and he said 10mg patch because most patients come in on 40mg morphine equivalent. I asked him to titrate as necessary and use Butrans more frequently due to 62% of patients in Bup 3015 were on hydrocodone prior to entering the trial. I asked hi if he still has patients on OxyContin? Dr said he has his patients that he refills for patients and has had a patient from summit pain who was on it and he continued.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Discussed with Adrienne, her ability to order new products Does corporate allow? They leave up to her she says, & she will commit to pre order if she feels patients will benefit. Let her know I will have further details in the coming months & further info on any new product(s) after I'm trained. I also let her know target date is October for launch of 7.5 new strength Butrans. Will keep her informed. Discussed OxyContin, lowest effective dose conversations I have w my customers. Left OxyContin savings sell sheet, $30 out if pocket for any of our 7 strengths. Discussed Butrans patient guide & updates on titration& maintenance page 7, figure B, Butrans max dose of 20 mcg hr discussed. Discussed possible increase in QTc interval: when two 20 patches totaling 40 mcg/hr studied. Avoid Butrans in patients with history of long QT syndrome or immediate family history. (Section 5.7 FPI) left FPIs both products, protect your pharmacy brochure.

	South Euclid	OH	44121	8/12/2014	Quick hallway. Used Pam profile: Dr Flagg, I want you to consider either of my ER products, OxyContin or Butrans, for an opioid naive patient like Pam. Pam is covered on Medicare D. Both of my products have improved Medicare D access, which means the best available co pay for your patients. Sound good? Yes, replied Dr. Flagg. Met with his med asst Jen at nurses station. Discussed patient profile, produ& walked back to patient room. Met with med asst Jen. We discussed product attributes for both products, and specifically, no first pass metabolism with Butrans and benefit of 1x week patch. For OxyContin, 7 strengths, can titrate in 1-2 days, steady state. Lowest effective dose, both products discussed. Medicare D pull through. Left Dr. Flagg OxyContin savings sell sheet, conversion guide, Pam profile, Butrans initiation guide, patient tear sheet. Asked her if Dr Flagg has referred to any other pain specialists other than Dr. Macintyre. She says no, they refer to him exclusively. Let Jen know I cannot follow up with Dr. Macintyre as he's not in my territory.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Focused on Pam profile, elderly population, lowest effective dose, Butrans product attributes including no dose adjustment for renal, mild, moderate hepatic impaired. No first pass metabolism. Med D pull through. OxyContin, another ER option, CII, 10 mg is opioid naive dose. Can titrate in 1-2 days, steady state 24-36 hrs. Asked for just 1 patient this week for a trial. Ok replied Dr Isakov.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Lunch. Dr Laham stated that Purdue contacted him via email regarding training for new product. I replied I'm not sure what product that is, I know we have a few in pipeline, I haven't been trained on anything yet. I will keep him informed if/when I'm trained. Summarized our last conversation where he states he "reserves" Butrans for specific patients. I asked him not to "reserve" Butrans for just certain patients, and to broaden that scope to all patients who meet indication, need an ER opioid. I then focused on Pam profile, patients 65+ covered on Med D. Med D pull through discussed. What about Anthem Senior Advantage, asked Dr Laham? You will need to complete a prior auth for that plan. Discussed OxyContin as a CII, oral option, similar AE profile for young (18+) and older patients in clinical trials. Can titrate in 1-2 days. Left Butrans initiation guide, OxyContin conversion guide. Asked if Frank Sajen is today. Dr says he's off as he's getting married this week/weekend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	8/12/2014	Visited Ortho,Onc.,IM, FPJ OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, Appt requests
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/12/2014	Spoke with Matt the pharmacist and discussed Butrans indication, conversions, use of multiple patches and my discussions with doctors treating daily around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Matt agreed its wrong and sees it all the time. Matt said sometimes he will call the offices to confirm the prescription. Discussed managed care and then OxyContin conversions and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	8/12/2014	Quick Butrans review for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok, asked for those patients she is sending to Pain mgmnt, Said she will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Maple Heights	OH	44137	8/12/2014	Briefly talked with Kim the pharmacist. They only stock OxyContin 10, they do not use the electronic222 system as a company, all scripts for CII's are hand written. She believes that patients who are starting to take too much of IR meds, should be switched to ER but doctors are probably not doing that because of the cost. They try to mention savings options to patients when filling a script. They rarely get a request for butrans but can get it in a couple of days.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	8/12/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy that are requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, Med D coverage reviewed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Hallway. Pam profile: asked Dr Kim to focus on 65+ patient/covered on Med D - like Pam this week, lowest effective dose OxyContin. 10mg is opioid naive dose. Another option for patients like Pam is Butrans. Based on safety, efficacy we've discussed previously, for both products, and access for elderly (Med D pull through) I'm asking for 1 or 2 patients this week. Quick BWC reminder Butrans. Ok, very good, replied Dr. Kim.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	8/12/2014	I asked dr if he has patients that are in pain around the clock? Dr said yes some of them. I showed him the OxyContin conversion guide and told him to convert patients to q12 OxyContin when they need a dose adjustment or complain of being in pain every day. Dr said that's good to see and tries to do it but said he would be doing it more. I told him to ensure to write OxyContin as q12 and instruct the patients to take it at 8am and 8 pm. Dr said that's a great idea and will.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	8/12/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12 hours along with. Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, Email appt request,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Met with med asst Amy first. She really appreciated laminated pain scales, asked me to leave some @ urgent care as well. Discussed with Amy, my goals for their practice. For Dr Prada to be open minded, to ER opioids, for 1 or 2 trusted patients, that's all I'm asking for. Left Pam profile, fpi, Oxycontin savings sell sheet, conversion guide, Butrans initiation guide, protect your practice & a few protect your meds at home brochures. I then asked Dr. Prada, to be open minded to ER opioids for trusted patients who meet the indication. Asked her to review materials I'm leaving her and to keep an open mind. Ok Dr Prada replied.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/12/2014	I told dr that I have been speaking with him about Butrans and how a patient on tramadol who needs dose adjustment is appropriate for Butrans. I asked him if he is sold on that concept? Dr said he is and knows that alternatives are good. I asked him if he has had success with it clinically? Dr said yes. I showed him the Scott profile and told him that when a patient on tramadol continues to be in pain to use Butrans as that ER opioid option. I asked dr what other limitation would limit his ability to us Butrans? Dr said nothing other than cost. I showed dr the commercial and Medicare D formulary grids and reviewed the plans she has. I closed him by saying that Caresource, commercial and Medicare there should be no issues with coverage and no reason for him to write. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/12/2014	Met with tech & float pharmacist. Discussed OxyContin patient access, savings for Cash/Commercial pay patients-$30 out of pocket monthly. Left OxyContin savings sell sheet. Discussed Butrans, CII, 1x week patch. Discussed/ left 1 patient guide. Tech says no pain specialty customers. She assumes that they all use Hillcrest hospital pharmacy. In addition, still no Butrans dispensed or on shelf. Left protect your pharmacy brochure. She will give all info left to pharmacy mgr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/12/2014	Spoke to dr about using OxyContin for his patients and he asked about copy cards. Dr asked if cash patients can use them and I told him they can and they could save up to $70 a month. Dr said he may have to think about that for a few patients. I asked dr what percentage of his practice is Medicare? Dr said about 80%. I told dr that sounds high. Spoke with Liz and she said it is not even close to 80% and is less than 50%. Nothing else
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Saw dr. invited to the Butrans program but he said no. We talked about the naive study and pain results and dosing. Dr said managed care has gotten better but he just doesn't like writing new products. I reminded him that the product has been out 4 years. And recapped a few of the major plans covered. Asked if it was a reasonable request...after someone has already tried a generic option to then try a branded option like Butrans or OxyContin. Dr said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Talked about the scheduling of Butrans. Invited to program, talked about caresource managed care and the dosing of Butrans. Asked him to think about the uncontrolled hydrocodone patient needing a change to think Butrans where appropriate. Dr said ok. I asked if there was a hesitation that I was missing? He said no, just finding the right patient type. I asked if the patient described made sense and if that was so ethng he would feel comfortable switching to Butrans or is there another patient he was thinking of? Dr said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/13/2014	Highlighted managed care, gave invite to Christy for the dr to attend the Butrans program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Discussed the ten mg and dosing for the patient that becomes a chronic atc pain patient. Talked about workers comp coverage. Also talked Butrans caresource and 4 patches. Dr asked how quickly they build tolerance to Butrans. I told him it was subjective and I couldn't answer that. Instead, I talked about titration and the doses available with Butrans and their coverage. Also talked about what they could use per the naive study if the patient had break thru. Dr said he won't be going to dinner program for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/13/2014	Reviewed OxyContin with Sarah RPhabuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, Med D formulary opportunities, Butrans patient info booklets, Said ok sees Butrans from
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/13/2014	Moufawad,Sadowski, Nickels3500 RX's week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/13/2014	Reviewed with Emily Rph OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans Med D formulary opportunities.Said Ok has 1patient on Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/13/2014	He has many patients on OxyContin, butrans he never thinks of. He appreciates abuse deterrent properties of OxyContin and dose options. We discussed communication with pain patients and how they need to be assessed frequently to ensure they are getting the optimal dose. We discussed ER dosing as preferable once a patient is taking more than 4 combination opioid pills per day. We discussed the tramadol patient who now has around the clock pain as appropriate for butrans. He could identify some appropriate candidates. We reviewed butrans dosing and titration. He hung the conversion guide of butrans on his bulletins board for reference. He will promised to start trying butrans for a few appropriate patients. Started to talk about the opioid naive patient and he said we can talk about that next time. He joked that he would like me to stop in 2 times per week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/13/2014	Discussed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, refers to pain mgmnt for chronic pain, IR products post op 4-6weeks, but will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	8/13/2014	Talked with Lauren who is a new pharmacist. She said that they place their orders before 10 am and typically get everything next business day. They do not use electronic 222, everything hand written. She asked if you can break up a pack of butrans and I told her they are present in packs of 4 and can not be opened and separated. Told her what we are trying to tell the doctors in the area about the long term use of IR opioids when and ER opioid is more appropriate. She agreed.CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/24/2014Kathy, as an FYI, Butrans can be broken for the purpose of dispensing. This is totally up to the discretion of the pharmacy. Purdue has not restrictions on doing this.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Spoke to chuck the pharmacist about FDA insight. Talked about OxyContin dosing and doses. Highlighted Butrans, scheduling, patch placement and the use of break thru pain medications as noted in The visual aid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/13/2014	OxyContin dosing and doses. FDA insight. Butrans patch location how to discard after use and doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/13/2014	Introduced myself to pharmacist. They don't use electronic 222, they order as they need with a couple day turn around time. She had to go.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/13/2014	Wave, invite to Butrans reminder and caresource and med d coverage for propaype pTient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Saw dr. Asked if he has ever considered the ten mg of OxyContin for a person that is new to opioid therapy and appropriate for chronic opioid treatment. Dr said sometimes. Reminded of 7 doses and managed care. Handed Butrans invite to him,nhe aid he can't go.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/13/2014	Visited Ortho/Spine depts OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/13/2014	Opened with extended release insight. Asked the doctor to think about this patient type today. Uncontrolled and needing a medication. Change from hydrocodone. Reviewed the 10mg of OxyContin and the option to titrate every 1 to 2 days to the other 6 doses if the 10 isn't the right dose. Reviewed caresource coverage and talked about Butrans and schedule 3. Invited to program. He will ck date.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/13/2014	Doctor said that he does not write OxyContin, abuse deterrence is nice but thinks patients take too much. He gets patients from other doctors that are taking too much and require more because of tolerance. I agreed with his thinking, and said that's why extended release is a good option for SOME of those patients...the 12 hour dosing schedule with a single entity opioid is an option for some patients in around the clock pain, not all. He said he is really trying to avoid writing it. Asked him to consider OxyContin instead of titrating the Percocet patients. He agreed to think about it. He tries to wean people off too many pills and uses butrans for those patients who. Prefers spinal cord stimulation and methods like that to pharmacological. He writes butrans for patients already on an opioid, not naive patients. Started to review opioid naive study, but he wasn't interested. Pulled the butrans med d formulary win. Gave him the butrans titration guide. Left the opioid naive study in case he wanted to review it. He said he May glance at it but probably won't change his mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	8/13/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with PI, said she will be retiring and referred appt requests to K.Austin (P.Campbell Admin)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/13/2014	Focused in the 10 mg every 12 hour dosing option, 7 dosing options. Invited to Butrans s program.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/13/2014	Met two pharmacists, Mary Jo and Keith. They stock only 10 and 20 OxyContin and no butrans. They order in the morning, so depending when the script comes in determines if it is a 1 or 2 day wait if they are out of stock on something. They will direct them to a different pharmacy if they can't wait to fill the prescription. There has been talk of switching to electronic 222, but they haven't heard anything lately. They were very busy and had to
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/13/2014	Reviewed with Dr. referred to Colleen OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said She will relay info and keep reminding , no further info learned

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma Heights	OH	44129	8/14/2014	Talked with tech because pharmacist was on the phone, several people waiting. Introduction, told him that we are talking to doctors about appropriate time for ER opioid. pulled through managed care updates for both
PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View	OH	44125	8/14/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans-PA went thru, Invited to upcoming program and will be scheduling Rph staff inservice
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	8/14/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans with George Rph, typically 2 days for CII's, fax forms, typically needs RX before ordering
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	8/14/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans 7day transdermal, Initiation/Titration, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D formulary. Said ok will be graduating in Dec.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/14/2014	She informed me that they do not write OxyContin in that office. She said that unfortunately there are patients in the practice taking more IR than they should and sees a benefit for ER in some patients. The office policy probably will not change however. She wanted to be clear on the recommendations for titrating butrans. I showed her the titration guide and pointed out that if the patients are on the higher doses of meds, they need to be tapered down while initiating/taking butrans. They can take supplemental meds for breakthrough pain, as they titrate to optimal dose (as early as every 3 days). Described the two patch titration option. She likes the option of butrans and is thinking of it for more patients than she had in the past.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/14/2014	Doctor was in surgery and NP Roberta was on vacation. Talked to the MA about dosing options with OxyContin, patch dosing and titration options for butrans along with med d formulary update.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/14/2014	Left packet of info for Dr Corn at front desk with med asst. She stated Dr Corn NOT BACK UNTIL MONDAY. Discussed my two, single entity, ER opioids for patients with long term pain (verbatim indication) OxyContin tablet every 12 hours. Butrans 1x week patch. (WHILE THERE LEFT BUTRANS SAVINGS CARDS/PATIENT GUIDES FOR DR MOUFAWAD - left Kathy Laraway know)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/14/2014	Discussed Treating pain in 4-6hr increments, reviewed OxyContin every 12hours with abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, feels most patients are adequately controlled but will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/14/2014	Myra says that patients seem to take more pills/IR than she would like. That is one of the reasons she like Butrans. Patients respond well to it and she has had a lot of success with it. Formulary coverage and cost is a limiting factor for some patients. She described some of the patients that do well on it and described some patients that she wants to try it on. She tries to wean them off of the pills, but many are a bit resistant. We talked about the opioid naive patient being a great candidate because they have not developed some of the same "habits". I tried to get to know her this visit. They do not write any CII's in the practice. We discussed the patients from earlier in the conversation that might benefit from ER, she agreed, but it is an office policy that will not change soon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	8/14/2014	Was barely even able to talk to the tech let alone the pharmacist because they were short staffed and busy. Quick intro of self, products, formulary coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/15/2014	Talked to Denise the floating pharmacist, the regular man was on vacation. She said that each store orders differently, some do order electronically, this one does not. Electronic orders typically take one day, handwritten may take two. She generally only sees drug reps if there is something new. She had to excuse herself for a phone call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	8/15/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he continues to prescribe for appropriate patients, Reminded of Med D opportunities.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	8/15/2014	Spike with pharmacy technician Robert about OxyContin key attributes, dosing and appropriate patients with conversions from Percocet. Robert said he sees a fair amount of it and the dosing dispenses vary from day to day. Discussed opportunities for conversions to q12h OxyContin. Introduced Butrans because he didn't know much about it. Discussed Kay selling attributes, how to initiate dosing, titration, and patient types. Reviewed MVA on conversions and patient types from that conversion table.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Invited to program, Said ok will continue to RX for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	8/15/2014	Reviewed w/Hakim/Butrans savings cards along with CII order protocols
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44143	8/15/2014	Left information at front window with med asst. Discussed my products as being ER opioids indicated for (verbatim indication) Left Butrans initiation guide, OxyContin conversion guide for Dr. Moyal.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/15/2014	Baby boomer insight presented to Dr Park. The reason I'm sharing this data is that many of your patients are over age 65, and may need access to an ER opioid such as OxyContin or Butrans. Plans preferred/no prior auth necessary: cigna, UHC aarp, and Silverscripts Med D. I will be sure to continue to update Irina and med assts with formulary status of both Oxycontin and Butrans. Sound good? yes replied dr. Park. Left OxyContin conversion guide/Butrans initiation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/15/2014	Quick call as dr was coming in for the day. I asked him if he's ok converting a patient on Percocet to OxyContin when they need more and have daily around the clock pain? Dr said he is and said he likes to be very selective. I told her he should be and to use OxyContin there. Reviewed the Scott profile and asked him to focus on those continuing on tramadol as candidates for Butrans. CHUDAKOB added notes on 08/25/2014A question you might consider is why he is not that selective when he prescribes Percocet, but he is when he prescribes low dose OxyContin. Just a thought.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/15/2014	Talked with Nate the pharmacist who say that only he does the ordering. They do not use electronic 222, they typically have one day turn around if there is a stock issue. He stocks all strengths of everything. He thinks that patients taking around the clock IR meds should be on ER like OxyContin. Reviewed titration option for butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/15/2014	Hello at window and said he had a minute to listen. I told dr that he should be looking at opportunities for patients who have daily around the clock pain to out them on OxyContin. I showed him the conversion and titration guide and asked him to keep it available to reference when. A patients needs a dose adjustment on Percocet. Dr said ok. I asked him if he has any reservations in converting to OxyContin? Dr said no. Reviewed Butrans dosing, schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch and tramadol patients needing an adjustment to write Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	8/15/2014	Visited Ctr. Discussed with Katie (admin Coordinator Dr. Campbell - Ctr Dir.) Butrans Initiation/Titration along with Formulary grid, Will try and coordinate opportunity to present Butrans at next mtg.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	8/15/2014	Lunch. Primary care ER opioid insight. Dr says even based on data presented, he would NOT be comfortable starting an opioid naive patient on OxyContin or Butrans. Using Pam profile, after presenting profile details, covered medicare D - asked for patient like Pam who's failed on ir therapy and meets indication for ER opioid long term. Dr asked where is it covered? Went through formulary status, Medicare D pullthrough. (verbatim indication both products, next) first OxyContin: product attributes, single entity, proven efficacy since 1996, steady state and ability to titrate in 1-2 days. Lowest effective dose of 10, 15, 20 & 30 mg doses focal point. Butran, no drug interaction warnings with butrans and hypertensive/cholesterol meds; no dose adjustment needed for renal/mild/moderate hepatic impaired. Worn 1 x week/7 days. Dr kept getting confused with Fentanyl patch (worn 3 days) which he does write. Asked dr for one or two trusted patients today and into next week when they meet indication. Is that fair? Yes replied Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he has put a few new patients, so far so good, Will follow for feedback, reminded of Titration doses
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/15/2014	Introduction and Talking to MA and several office staff at once. Doctor was in a procedure. Reviewed abuse deterrent properties of OxyContin with staff along with fair balance that it can still be abused. Reviewed titration options with butrans and med d formulary. They have seen many patients who get the pain relief they need from butrans and they really like that option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/15/2014	Quick hallway. Discussed the goal of my call is to get him comfortable using ER opioids outside of nursing home/hospital setting. Delivered primary care insight, the reason I'm sharing data (ie Youre not alone should you decide to write an ER opioid such as OxyContin, dosed every 12 hours OR Butrans patch worn every 7 days. Please keep an open mind next week when your next patient presents with long term pain ok? Ok, replied Dr Azar. Left specifically for Irina: protect your practice brochure, OxyContin conversion guide/Butrans initiation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	8/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/15/2014	Dr came up to window to speak with the receptionist and asked if I needed a signature. I told him no and that I would like to discuss with him about his pain patients. DR said he didn't really have time and asked me which products I have. I told him OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said he has my information and will call if he has questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	8/15/2014	Quick hello at window and told him to please focus on patients who are already on the oxycodone molecule and complain of being in pain or need a dose adjustment and convert them to q23 OxyContin. Dr said he knows he needs to look into that more and said he will. I told him to also gain more experience with Butrans for those who needs an adjustment on tramadol or Norco. CHUDAKOB's query on 08/25/2014Cliff, I didn't know that OxyContin was dosed q23 hours?REICHEL's response on 09/03/2014Me neither. Q12CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/16/2014Ok. thanks for the correction.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/15/2014	I asked dr if he thinks its more difficult to write OxyContin for a patient on Percocet who needs a dose adjustment than giving more? Dr said its not that's its more difficult but said he doesn't want to give certain patients OxyContin. I asked him if all his patients on oxycodone are suspect? Dr said no and that he does have patients that really need it for pain. I told hi. To please focus on those patients that he knows and trusts and consider OxyContin when appropriate and they meet the indication. I also told hi. The same goes with those on tramadol who need more. I asked him to use Butrans for those when they have daily around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	8/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, asked why treat around the clock pain in 4-6 hr increments said he will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/15/2014	Quick front window. Dr Petroff, I am your OxyContin Butrans rep from Purdue. I want to let you know we have improved Medicare D access for your patients who meet indication. Left with Adriana, med asst, Butrans initiation guide, OxyContin conversion guide. Protect your practice brochure. (left same for Dr. Papirova)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/15/2014	Dr spoke about how well most patients are doing on Butrans and discussed how he just took a patient in pain on Percocet and started Butrans. The dr said that the patient was in pain on Percocet and had trouble tolerating it. The staff said the patient has UHC community plan so is hopeful it will be approved. I discussed candidates for Butrans and candidates for OxyContin. I asked him if the patient didn't have tolerability issues with oxycodone would he have started q12 OxyContin? Dr said it depends but said he really doesn't like to write for long term opioid therapy and that Butrans is the exception. I asked why and he said because of Butrans dosing is low and its a patch. Dr also asked about exposure to the sun. I asked why and he said he has a patient that had the patch of her left upper arm while driving and was having issues with overexposure he suspects. Dr said patient got dizzy and euphoric. Dr said the patient felt better after out of the sun. I read from the MVA about exposure to external heat sources. Dr said he understands and wants information on how much buprenorphine is left in a patch after 7 days. Submitted an inquiry.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	8/15/2014	Revised with Hakeem Oxycontin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy who need around the clock analgesia. Said he has 1 Butrans patient and few OxyContin RX's.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	8/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans appropriate Patients, with Tech and Mike Rph, Savings cards, Formulary grids

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/18/2014	Doctor Ortega was happy to see a rep because he hasn't seen a rep in a while. He first started talking about OxyContin and who that patient might be. He sees patients taking around 6 or more Percocet a day. I reviewed our indication and pointed out that patient would be appropriate for ER OxyContin. He has recently inherited several patients that are on higher doses of OxyContin than he prefers so he wanted to know how best to titrate up or down. I reviewed that it can be titrated every 1-2 days. Discussed the reformulation and abuse deterrent properties, but that it can still be abused. He has seen good results with butrans. He asked who this appropriate patient might be, I told him the patient who might be taking Tramadol more often and is probably now in around the clock pain and could benefit for an extended release opioid. Reviewed Pam as a possible patient also. Discussed titrating Butrans as early as 3 days if adequate analgesia isn't attained. Reviewed the 2 patch titration option as well. Doctor saw a patient and came back and said that the patient likes Percocet but not OxyContin. I reviewed that it is the same molecule, just different delivery system. He thought it was strange that the patient said that. He thought maybe the patient should be on butrans then....he appreciates the education portion of the discussion.CHUDAKOB's query on 08/29/2014Looks like a very good call Kathy. When he said the patient does not like OxyContin, this may have been a time to delve deeper to determine if there was an AE. Was the patient on OxyContin? Was he removed? Why? If so, this is considered an AE and should be reported. I understand this is a learning experience for you, but want to get you thinking about digging a little deeper.LARAWKA's response on 09/03/2014I got the impression that it was just patient preference, next time I will ask the right questions to make sure it wasn't an AE.CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/16/2014The patient has a preference for a reason. That reason is almost always based on an AE such as, didn't work as well. That is why digging deeper helps clarify
	Akron	OH	44313	8/18/2014	I told dr that he's told me previously that he writes IR opioids and they are not always for acute pain. Dr said yes. I asked him why to ok to write and refill IR opioids like Percocet and its not ok to write an ER opioid like OxyContin. Dr said that he's told me before that there is a lot of heat out on drs for writing opioids and he can't justify writing more of a product with the name OxyContin. I told him then its an issue with the name not the molecule? Dr said its difficult to explain and that he des have patients on OxyContin. I asked him if he doesn't feel the same pressure to write IR opioids like Percocet. I told him IR and ER are BOTH opioids. Dr said he knows and may try to convert few patients. I asked him to do so as long as its a patients appropriate for it. I reviewed Butrans dosing and asked him to convert tramadol patients in daily around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Akron	OH	44113	8/18/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on Tramadol that is requiring around the clock analgesia that he is sending to Pain Mgmt (Nickels) said ok, will consider.
		OH	44312	8/18/2014	Discussed his opportunity with OxyContin and Butrans in patients who have daily around the clock pain. Discussed OxyContin appropriate patients and conversions from Percocet. I asked dr if there is a reason he's not writing more OxyContin for patients on Percocet who have daily around the clock pain? Dr said its complicated and many patients don't want it who he has offered to. Dr also said he tries but either its too expensive or hard to get approved. I discussed with dr to focus on commercial patients and those on Medicare plans. Dr said ok and will try. Told him that he needs to be writing Butrans and is missing opportunities who have been on tramadol for an extended period of time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/18/2014	Spoke with dr about identifying appropriate patients and used Bup 3015. Discussed inclusion and exclusion criteria. Dr said that he attempts Butrans multiple times a week and some patients are able to get it and come aren't. Dr said that he is finding the 10 and 20 mcg doses are best in his practice and so times titrates down after a spinal cord stimulator placement. Dr said some patients do well and some do not and needs to maintain the dose. Discussed forced titration with Bup 3015. Asked dr to please continue finding patients who appropriate to convert from Percocet to OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/18/2014	Discussed treating pain in 4-6hr increments with IR products, feels patients are adequately controlled on present therapy, reviewed OxyContin every 12hours said his experience is that they will need IR products also, Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy. Overall will consider for appropriate patients but is seeing less patients on a daily basis
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/18/2014	Talked with Mariana? The pharmacist. She said they stock all but the 80 of OxyContin and no butrans. Butrans takes about one day to order. They do written ordering with no plans to go electronic anytime soon. Reviewed the message we are giving doctors about patients with around the clock pain who should be on ER med not IR. She said there is only one patient on butrans, so she didn't really want to hear more about that at this time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/18/2014	Spoke with Kim the pharmacist about the revised OxyContin and Butrans indications and asked her if she has seen an increase of any specific opioid or product recently? Kim said not really but said they fill a large amount each week and her location has the highest amount of opioid dispensing. I asked why and she said because of the large amount of pain specialists and orthopedic surgeons in the area. Discussed OxyContin placement for patients in daily around the clock pain and Butrans for the same but told her I'm focusing on patients currently on tramadol who may need a dose adjustment or in daily around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/18/2014	I asked Elise what dose of OxyContin she is writing most? Elise said just about everyone she starts on 10mg q12. I asked if she ever sees patients in the 30-40mg of IR oxycodone and what she does? Elise said she still starts at 10mg and writes the IR as breakthrough up to 4x a day. I asked her why she wouldn't just write the appropriate converted dose of OxyContin and reduce IR? Elise said she would rather have a lower dose of ER because its so hard to get them off of it. I asked her then if she feels its easier to get a patient off of IR opioids? Elise said that's what she's seen clinically.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/18/2014	Spoke with Linda Tech (Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration) Savings Cards. CII protocol

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	8/18/2014	Dr Adams said that her last day at Bonyo's office is Friday, September 12th. I told her to please try in her time left to focus on patients who are in daily around the clock pain who are on an IR opioid. I told her to convert patients on Percocet with albums the clock pain to OxyContin and those on tramadol or vicoden to Butrans. I told her she's missing opportunities for OxyContin and Butrans because she has patients with her right prescription plans, and both have proven efficacy and safety results. Dr said ok she will try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/18/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it mind now that Med D coverage is better. Reiterated his support of OxyContin as an effective analgesic
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	8/18/2014	Quick hello in hallway and asked her if she's able to find more patients who might be appropriate for Butrans and who she thinks is a good candidate? Dr said no one will want to pay for it. I asked her her no one is? Dr said patients. I told her I find that hard to believe because she has Caresource and commercial insurance right? Dr said she does but its the ones who can't get it that need it the most. I told her I understand her frustration but told her she needs to focus on patients with plans I mentioned who have daily around the clock pain. Dr said ok. Told her to also focus on OxyContin as well and she needs to identify the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts.	OH	44125	8/18/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Said ok will help in remindind docs, Invited to upcoming program.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/19/2014	Invited to program, he told me to sign him up and remind him of the Butrans program when it gets closer. I talked about how many times I've been in his office this year and I said he should have a very clear understanding of who the right patient is and how to dose Butrans by now. The. I said do you agree? He said not really, he tried to tell me the mcg doses but could only remember the 10 and 20. We talked about how he wrote it a few time. He said he doesn't have a very good idea who the right patient is and his biggest concern is cost to patient and writing the product and then the patient complaining its too expensive. We reviewed the patient that is already seeking a change to therapy and is atc. Covered dosing. Steady state. The. Focused on caresource coverage. I asked what if every caresource atc appropriate pain patient were to get Butrans. Dr asked if it needs to be primary authorization. I reviewed and then had Angie who does the pr auths tell her experience the last two Butrans caresource times she did it. Angie the ma said it was fast. I said if cost is an issue why wouldn't every appropriate caresource patient get Butrans. Dr said that was a good point. Talked coupons and commercial insured. Covered lowest doses of Butrans and OxyContin. Covered reformulation of OxyContin and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	8/19/2014	Quick OxyContin review, every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on Tramadol, Formulary Med D opportunities, Said He will continue to RX for appropriate patients

PPLPMDL0020000001		OH	44310	8/19/2014	Dr said that as I was talking to him he was writing a prescription for Butrans. Asked dr if its a new start and he said it is. Dr said that the patient was taking 20mg of Norco and needed a long acting medicine due to the spinal stenosis. Dr said he is starting on Butrans 10ug and has good insurance. I told dr that's great news and to replicate that for other patients who are on an IR opioid and have pain around the clock. Asked dr to please continue to identify others existing patients who continue to Percocet for oxycontin. Dr said he only has a handful of patients on Percocet and will review their records.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/19/2014	Highlighted reformulation and doses and dosing. Covered Butrans patch locations and dosing and how long the patch is worn.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/19/2014	I asked dr if our discussion last week about Butrans made sense to him about identifying patients on tramadol around the clock? Dr said it did and said he knows he needs to do a better job of finding the right patients. I told dr if he thinks tramadol is a reasonable place to start? Dr said it is and will try. I asked him if its also reasonable to use OxyContin for those already on the molecule but in short acting form. Dr said it makes sense. Nothing
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/19/2014	Spoke to ma elain at the ccf location. They share coupons and they took my literature but they didn't let me see the dr. I highlighted the dosing and scheduling of both products.

Amanda said she didn't know about discussing 8am and 8pm dosing for Butrans to help ensure q12 dosing. Told her that's good she learned something and if she had questions? She asked me about the copy cards which I discussed on both products. I asked her about Butrans dispensing and she said they have lots of patients on it and all doses in stock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/19/2014	Saw dr in hallway. I asked him what he thought of the 10mg strength dosed every 12 hours for OxyContin. He said its good. I said do you use OxyContin's lowest dose for patients that are older? He said sometimes. I said think about this the next time your older patient needs a medication change...appropriate. OxyContin is single entity and the 10mg is the lowest dose, told him the data for. The fpi of the 12.2 section. And highlighted no dose reduction for normal elderly. I said but if they can't take pills...another option is Butrans lowest dose is 5mgc single entity and worn a week at a time.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	8/20/2014	Quick hello with dr though window and asked him if he has had good clinical success with OxyContin? Dr said sure. I asked him to take a closer look at those s iting patients on IR oxycodone and evaluate them for a change in delivery to q12 with OxyContin. Dr said ok and said that some patients can't even pay for Oxycontin and he has to give them the short acting oxycodone. Told him I understand and to focus on patients that can get it without much headache from insurance. Told him to also use more Butrans in those who are being continued on IR opioids like Norco.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/20/2014	Good discussion with dr about his clinical experience. Dr said that he's finding good success with Butrans for those failing tramadol. Dr said he doesn't even ant to write hydrocodone anymore and said if the patient needs that more than a couple of weeks they should be on a ER opioid anyway. I told dr I'm glad he feels that way. Dr said that his patients on It find good efficacy and its very tolerable. Dr said the incidence of constipation is low which he likes and its a week long. I reminded dr of using it for his Medicare population. Dr was helping dr McLaughlin understand where and why he uses it and helped to discuss cost and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/20/2014	Lunch. Presented Primary Care insight. Dr Krishnan says the number of ER opioids written monthly by primary care seems. The reason I'm sharing this insight is if you do decide to write an ER opioid for your patients with ATC pain, you are not alone. Discussed OxyContin 10 mg opioid naive dose, steady state, ability to titrate in 1-2 days. Discussed OxyContin half life 4.5 hours, oxycodone half life 3.2 hours. Asked if he had opioid naive patient, would he ever write a 10 mg OxyContin? Dr says I have no issue with that. Butrans, discussed 1x week, patch, matrix technology , not a reservoir. No dose adjustment needed for renal, mild/moderate hepatic impaired. No first pass metabolism. Asked for use of either product today, this week, when patients meet indication for ER opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	8/20/2014	Reviewed w/Mary Pharm D, treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hr increments clinically is in effective, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, Initiation/titration, Patient info booklets. Said she will assist along with Donna in discussing with Clinicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	8/20/2014	Lunch. Primary Care insight. Dr agrees that's a high number. Discussed 2 options for his patient's with ATC pain. Asked for him to consider an ER opioid for a few trusted patients. OxyContin after Percocet or oxycodone; product attributes including ability to titrate in 1-2 days, dosing flexibility. Butrans after Tramadol, product attributes including flexible dosing, no first pass metabolism. No dose adjustment needed for renal, mild/moderate hepatic impaired. Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/20/2014	Spoke with Donna Nurse reviewed OxyContin and Butrans Initiation/Titration, formulary grid/Med D opportunities said Ok, Dr. is seeing patients at the Middleburg Hts location 7800 Pearl Rd 44130
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/20/2014	Dr came into discussion with other hcp's about identifying the right patient or patients for Butrans. Discussed Scott and Pam profiles and dr said he is finding good success when patients are taking more than 4-5 tramadol a day. Dr said he is finding that he needs to always remember not to discontinue the tramadol until Butrans reaches steady state at 3 days. I asked dr to also try and reevaluate his existing patient ps on tramadol or Norco and to not titrate those until they get to escalating doses. I asked dr at the first sign of the patient being in pain around the clock to write Butrans. Discussed managed care and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/20/2014	Started off discussion with dr Sassano on the tramadol insight and revised Butrans indication. I asked dr if he currently has patients who are being treated for daily around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments? Dr said he's sure he does and asked about Butrans abuseability. I told dr that Butrans is a schedule 3,7 day transdermal opioid and any opioid can be misused or abused. I asked dr if he has a concern? Dr said no but would like a product he can use which may suit certain patients in his practice better. I reminded dr that Butrans is a transdermal patch and the buorenorphine is mixed in with the adhesive. Dr said he may try more Butrans in his patients who he just can't get control with oral agents. I told dr a different administration may be suitable for patients who can't wither tolerate or gain efficacy from oral agents. Discussed Butrans patient type selection, managed care, conversions and titration plus talk of steady state and use of breakthrough pain medicines.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	8/20/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok no time to talk/Mtg referred to Donna P. Consults on Hospice/Palliative med
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	8/20/2014	Spoke with Rod about revised indications for OxyContin and Butrans. Discussed how patients in around the clock pain continue to be kept on IR opioids . Rod said he sees it all the time and knows that the DEA and FDA are scaring PCPs, and interests into writing anything other than IR opioids and to even reduce their opioid prescribing. Rod spoke about how even one of his wholesalers of suboxone told him they wouldn't supply him anymore because he ordered too much. Discussed use of OxyContin for patients being kept on Percocet and Butrans for those in around the clock pain on tramadol and Scott profile.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/20/2014	Speaking with the office manager Linda in Fairlawn and dr Jones came up. I quickly told him to continue to focus on oariwnts who are currently being treated with Percocet but are takin it for around the clock pain and to convert them to OxyContin. Dr said he's doing his best. I told him Butrans is also a solution for those patients on tramadol or Norco around the clock. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/20/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Agreed treating pain in 4-6 hr increments is not clinically sound, Reviewed Formulary coverage, said she will consider, referred to Donna/Dan

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/20/2014	Dr asked me to register him but remind him about the Butrans program next week. Talked about caesource coverage, I asked him why after someone needs a change after been on hydrocodone why don't you write Butrans exclusively on caesource. We talked about the prior auth needed and the approval process in general. The dr said that there is no reason he can think of that it would be a good choice. I asked if a patient has chronic pain...why wouldn't you give them a prduct that is schedule three and dosed weekly. He said cost. I said by time they get to Butrans haven't they been on a generic product or even two generic products. He said usually ultram or norco. I said so by the third choice isn't a branded product an option if they can get it at a reasonable price point. He said yes. We talked managed care, coupons. Talked about where to place the patch and what doses to start a patient. Highlighted OxyContin. I said what new things do you know about OxyContin? He mentioned a few of the doses and reformulation. I asked what the reformulation means to him. He said less chance to abuse it. I highlighted sections from the detail aid but also gave fair balance on abuse potential. I asked if he would consider moving from hydrocodone to OxyContin if the patient was appropriate. He said yes. I said do you do this? He said sometimes. He mentioned insurance companies wanting him to use methadone first. I said that's not every plan, that's just a few. Highlighted the savings cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/21/2014	I wanted him to think about the elderly patient with med d coverage and not satisfied with their current chronic pain medication. Talked OxyContin and the 10 mg every 12 hour dosing, Invite for Butrans, dr said he wouldn't attend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/21/2014	Spoke with Jake and Dr Sable in Hospital. I asked Jake to please continue to find candidates for Butrans like those needing more tramadol or Norco and taking them on a daily around the clock basis. I told him that the last time we spoke he said he hadn't had many parings for Butrans recently. I asked him to make that change and use Butrans as his go to ER opioid. Dr said ok. I also told him that OxyContin is also a good option for those needing a q12 ER opioid. Jake said he will work on it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/21/2014	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans with Holly the pharmacist. Holly said that she is seeing OxyContin a little more than normal recently. I asked where the increase is coming from pain management physicians like a Comprehensive Pain Management. I asked which doses and she said they dispense just about all of them. Reviewed dosing and titration and discussed appropriate patient types for Butrans and key selling attributes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	8/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Said Ok will continue to find appropriate patients, Remind Martha

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/21/2014	Spoke to dr about OxyContin comfort these days. Dr said he still writes it for appropriate patients. Discussed the 7 doses and the 10 mg dosed every 12 hours. Asked him his concerns for trying Butrans. Dr said he doesn't like pain patches. He had to leave I said we will continue the conversation. Next time.CHUDAKOB's query on 08/27/2014-Lisa, what does your next call objective mean?BARTOLI's response on 08/28/2014-Next visit ask to see the nurse first, find out thru her if she knows the doctors potential hesitations for not writing Butrans or if she can provide any historical reasons for why he chooses immediate release products for chronic pain patients w atc pain.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 08/29/2014
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/21/2014	Spoke to dr about the 10mg of OxyContin and dosing. Also highlights the Butrans dosing, initiation guide. Invited to program, he may attend. So I said I would follow up next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/21/2014	Caught dr on the way in to the office and told her I reviewed the information about her most recent Butrans denial. I told her it was a patient who had Medicaid and specifically buckeye. I told dr that she must NOT write Butrans for the buckeye patient. I told dr if she is going to write it for Medicaid to focus on patients with Caresource. I told her about the Caresource PA. Dr said she just figured she couldn't write it for Medicaid as a whole and said she is excited to hear about it. I told her I have told her and Darlene about it multiple times. Reminded her that oxycontin is also a possible solution for those already on the oxycodone molecule but are taking it around the clock. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	8/21/2014	Reviewed with Dave Butrans and OxyContin, said he dispenses very few narcotics, Once weekly if any, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brecksville	OH	44141	8/21/2014	Talked with Terese the tech, and two pharmacists, Angie and Joe. They typically order in the evening. When they don't have the med, it typicLy takes 1-2 d days to order or they send to another pharmacy that stocks it. They stock OxyContin, but no requests for butrans. I told her a bit about it And let her know That I was a new rep in the area. She did request coupons so I gave her oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/21/2014	Talked about the FDA insight and the dosing of OxyContin, Butrans dosing and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/21/2014	She asked if I needed a signature, I said I wanted her to keep something in mind for her older patients with chronic pain. If they need a change of medication. OxyContin. Is single entity with a lowest dose of ten mg strength.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/21/2014	Asked her if she wanted to come to the Butrans program to learn more. She said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/21/2014	Dr told me she needed the 30 second version. I told her I'm guessing she has patients she is currently treating with OxyContin who are employed and have prescription insurance through their employer. Dr said a few yes. I showed her the OxyContin copay card and asked if they are using it? Dr said she doesn't know. I told her to ask because they can save up to $70. I asked her if she has patients on tramadol on a daily around the clock basis? Dr said she probably does. I told her that those patients are meeting the indication for Butrans and she should write Butrans for those patients as long as they meet the indication. Dr said ok that she will try it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/21/2014	Dr asked me if OxyContin was generic. I said no why would you think at? He said he heard something. I said I had no formation to share in that. I did tell him that about the commercial coverage and coupons. And the doses. I asked if he was attending the Butrans program he said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/21/2014	Told dr at front counter that he needs to take a closer look at patients who may need more than what hydrocodone can offer. I told him he has two viable options. OxyContin before moving a patient from hydrocodone to oxycodone and Butrans before hydrocodone from tramadol. Dr said he sees where they should be used and said cost is all he hears about. I told him its all I hear about as well and said he just needs to decide who can afford as little as $15-20 a month! Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	8/21/2014	Reviewed with Amy Rph OxyContin/Butrans Messages,obtained CII protocol,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/21/2014	Spoke with Jake Sisko and dr sable in hospital about OxyContin and Butrans and specific patient type election.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/21/2014	Spoke with dr through the window and told him I needed him to look over the Scott profile because I'm sure he had patients continuing on tramadol who are meeting the Butrans indication. Dr looked at the profile and asked me what dose of Butrans would he start on for a patient over 300mg/day? I reviewed the conversions guide and told him the patient would initiate on the 10mcg dose and told him to ensure he titrates or uses products for breakthrough pain if the patient says its not working well enough. Dr said he thoughts I so because he may have a patient for it. I told him to also please continue looking for candidates for OxyContin. Dr said he refers problem Percocet patients to pain management.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/21/2014	I asked dr if he has patients currently on IR opioids like Norco or Percocet? Dr said not many because he doesn't like treating pain. I asked him if any of those patients take it on a daily basis? Dr said maybe two or three. I told hi. When his patients are taking IR opioids daily and around the clock they are meeting an ER opioid indication like OxyContin or Butrans. I explained where to use OxyContin and its selling attributes. I did the same for Butrans and asked him if it makes sense to move to an ER opioid once a patient use using an IR opioid around he clock?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/21/2014	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans with Andy the pharmacist. I reviewed the revised indications and Andy asked me how he can find out if a patient is going to pain management? I asked why he needs to know and Andy said that he has a patient takin OxyContin 80mg q12 and a 40mg q12 every day and just thinks the patient should have a specialist. I asked who the pcpi is and didn't know who it is. I told Andy to just ask the patient. Discussed OxyContin conversions and dosing. Discussed Butrans Scott profile and additional patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/21/2014	Something to think about: that chronic pain patient needing a change...OxyContin dosed every 12 hours and Butrans weekly. I invited to the Butrans program and he said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/21/2014	Pharmacist told me that hydrocodone combo products are going schedule too in a few months. I asked why. She didn't know. We talked about the reformulation of OxyContin and dosing. We also talked about Butrans scheduling and patch dosing and placement.CHUDAKOB's query on 08/27/2014-Lisa, what did you discuss in relation to the reformulation of OxyContin?BARTOLI's response on 08/28/2014-Highlighted sections from The core visual aid pages 14 and 15. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/22/2014	Talked about the FDA insight and reformulation of OxyContin, mreviewed dosing and strengths. Highlighted scheduling of Butrans, patch placement and breakthrough medications.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/22/2014	Spoke with Danielle the pharmacist. Discussed with her the insight about oxycodone and Danielle started to laugh. I asked her what's so funny and she said that opioids are way over prescribed. I told her that may be true but asked her if she agrees that many patients on opioids wither short term or long term don't take accountability for their pain and do what's necessary beyond pharmaceuticals Danielle agreed and said the indication will continue to make physicians over prescribe. Discussed Butrans schedule 3,7 day controlled release patch, multiple patches and patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/22/2014	Reviewed the Butrans Scott profile and asked him how his experience have been with Butrans since I saw him last? Dr said he continues to try and find places for it and just hasn't seen many outiwns recently with pain. I told dr to review his existing patients with pain on products like tramadol. Dr said ok. Reviewed Medicare coverage. Discussed OxyContin attributes and patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	8/22/2014	Dr spoke with me about a patient he recently switched from oxycodone plain to OxyContin. Dr said that the patient is suffering from chronic low back pain and hip dislasia and has been taking oxycodone for man yep years and up to 6-7 pills a day. Dr said he had no choice to make sure he was taking it twice a day. Dr said insurance was not an issue. Discussed OxyContin opportunities he will have in his practice, dr said he is very choosy as to who he puts on narcotics. I told dr I would expect nothing less and he should choose his patients very selectively. Reviewed Butrans initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/22/2014	Visited Ortho/Pain dept (Shen,Novak,Daoud,Bohl,Bilfield,Nouradini) OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/22/2014	Spoke with Steve the pharmacist and reviewed key selling attributes for OxyContin and Butrans. Steve said he didn't have time to talk so I left him with OxyContin conversion and titration guide and Butrans Scott profile.

	Parma	OH	44129	8/22/2014	Doctor just came back from vacation, didn't have time today. Quick intro about new position. He said good luck with that. Left the dosing and titration guides and told him we can discuss his patients in around the clock pain and why butrans or OxyContin might be appropriate for many of them. He agreed that there is a place for OxyContin.CHUDAKOB's query on 08/29/2014Kathy, looking at your next call objective, you used the word optimal. While it is a next call objective, be careful of this word. It is a comparative word that suggests ER dosing may be better than IR. There is not data to support this. Do you see how this could be misinterpreted?LARAWKA's response on 09/03/2014Then I should have said why ER might be an appropriate option.CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/16/2014Or just an option. They are all appropriate options.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/22/2014	Doctor says she tries to Avoid treating pain. Sometime she has no choice. She has put a few patients on OxyContin but has not initiated Butrans. she has inherited a couple of Butrans patients. She'll always start with Percocet or Vicodin and then eventually maybe to OxyContin. I asked the doctor to think about a couple of patients in her practice that have around-the-clock pain. When thinking about initiating therapy could she think about OxyContin 10 twice a day as appropriate for those patients rather than treating in 4 to 6 hour increments? She agreed that it seems reasonable and will think about it. And then discussed the appropriate Butrans patient as being a patient who is starting to take more tramadol, or An opioid n/rve patient. I reviewed titration options, dosing and that Butrans is appropriate for patients with mild renal or hepatic impairment. She asked where fentanyl fits in and I explained that patient is beyond the Butrans patient. Left the butrans titration guide to discuss further next time.CHUDAKOB's query on 08/29/2014Kathy, Butrans is appropriate for any renal impairment, not just mild renal impairment.LARAWKA's response on 09/03/2014Yes. Thanks.CHUDAKOB closed the query on

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	8/22/2014	Visited Pharm. Dept. Requested appt with Jodi Clinical Rph, OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides
	Hudson	OH	44236	8/22/2014	Spoke with dr through window and told him that OxyContin can be the solution his patients are looking for when they are already on the molecule but taking 4-6 times a day. Dr said he knows but Percocet is so much cheaper. I asked him how he knows? Dr said his patients tell him all the time and he has to believe them. I told him he doesn't have to and to just offer a different delivery system. Reminded him to please try Butrans and reviewed initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	8/22/2014	Dr said he hasn't seen a Purdue rep in many years and forgot OxyContin is a Purdue product. I reviewed OxyContin dosing and discussed flexibility of dosing, q12 hour dosing and discussed oxycodone insight. I asked dr if he has any patients that are taking an IR opioid daily and around the clock and still have pain? Dr said yes. I asked him if it would make sense to convert those patients to OxyContin q12 the single entity ER oxycodone? Dr said yes. Discussed the abuse deterrent characteristics for OxyContin and if he knew if was reformulated in 2010? Dr said yes. Introduced Butrans for the first time discussed all key selling attributes, dosing, conversions and patient types with Scott. I asked him if he would see Butrans as a viable option for him when a patient on tramadol wants more and is already taking 3+ pills a day? Dr said it would be like a good product. Told dr I will follow
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/22/2014	Told dr about the oxycodone insight and ask him if he has patients already continuing on Percocet who may be appropriate for q12 oxycodone? Dr said he wants to do everything he can to reduce the amount of opioids he prescribes. Dr said he can't remember the last time he had a new patient on an opioid. I told him I think he's used Butrans? Dr said he has done that. I asked him why Butrans? Dr said he likes the idea of a week long patch and the dosing is low. I told him I'm glad he feels that way and asked him to use more when his patients on tramadol or Norco are taking them on a daily around the clock basis. Dr said he will.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/22/2014	Talked about OxyContin scheduling and FDA insight and reformulation and dosing. Talked about the Butrans program, he will like to attend but works late.talked about dosing and dosages of Butrans, talked managed care and refills. Talked about why dose in 4 to 6 hour increments when there are chronic opioid option like oxycotin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmstead	OH	44070	8/22/2014	Talked about opioids being doses in 4 to 6 hour increments when there are options for control release like OxyContin or Butrans for chronic pain patients. Reviewed FDA insight and talked about reformulation. And the ten mg dose of OxyContin. Dr asked about Butrans dosing and managed care. Dr asked me to sign him up for the Butrans program. Dr works with then residents.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	8/22/2014	I asked dr if there is a way that the staff can flag charts someone for patients either already on oxycodone but taking it q4, q6 or even those that are currently taking multiple pills per day for 3+ months? Dr said maybe and he will take to th office manager when he has time. I told him that's great to hear because it may bring to light patients who may be appropriate for OxyContin or Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/22/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, 7day transdermal, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/25/2014	Spoke with Gilbert about OxyContin prescribers in the territory. Gilbert said that he is seeing more from comprehensive pain management recently specifically dr Wynne. I asked him if she is titrating or refilling? Gilbert said some of each. I discussed commercial coverage and asked him to continue handing out the copay cards. Gilbert said he's been doing it. Reviewed Butrans appropriate patient types and indications.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/25/2014	Dr asked me how OxyContin should be dosed? I told dr q12h and asked why? Dr said he got a new patient recently who was taking it q8. I asked if it was prescribed by a pain specialist and he said no. I asked him if he was going to leave the patient on OxyContin and just change the dosing frequency? Dr said he's not sure yet. I told him he can titrate every 1-2 days and supplement with IR opioids as necessary. Told dr to please continue identifying appropriate patients for Butrans and to look over his existing patients on tramadol around the clock. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/25/2014	Dr told me that he is splitting off from his practice and joining the Spine and Pain Institute with drs Mehta, Vucetic and Goldner. Dr said he will be starting sometime in early September. Led off with the oxycodone insight and then the hydrococone one. I reviewed the OxyContin conversion and titration guide, appropriate patients and start principle. Dr said that he understands that patients should be on some type of ER opioid if they need something for pain every day. Reviewed the Butrans initiation and titration guide and Scott profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/25/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those Med D patients that are requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	8/25/2014	Spoke with josh pharmacist about OxyContin attributes and conversions. Discussed with him proper dosing and titration. Josh told me that they have been seeing more q8 dosing recently. I asked him what the protocol is when they see anything. Other than q12? Josh said that he calls the office to understand why it's been dosed a certain way. Josh said he usually fills it. I asked if they are pain drs and he said most are but some are not.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/25/2014	Reviewed copy cards for both products and new indications for each along with Butrans attributes and multiple patches.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/25/2014	Spoke with Adam the technician. Discussed OxyContin dosing flexibility and q12. Reviewed indication and conversions from Percocet. Discussed Butrans indication,schedule 3,7 day transdermal system, multiple patch use and conversions. Adam said she will pass along the conversion and titration guides to the pharmacist.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/25/2014	Briefly talked with Danielle the pharmacist about her thoughts about what she is hearing from her pain patients and wondering about the patients that are taking more and more IR, and when they really should be on an extended release opioids. She feels that many want to refill their prescriptions early and take the doses more frequently than recommended by their physicians. She does contact physicians when she feels they are starting to take too much. She doesn't see much butrans but is comfortable with dosing/placement/titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	8/25/2014	I asked Cassandra up front to see dr and she said he's too busy on a Monday morning then he walked up to the front desk. I told dr to focus on patients who need more tramadol and are in pain around the clock and to forus on commercial insurance. Dr said that's about all his can write it for because branded medicines for Medicare and Medicaid are so difficult. I asked him to find more opportunities and to please remember OxyContin of those who he is considering putting on Percocet from Norco. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/26/2014	Reviewed patient profile Scott, Doctor Chagin said he sees patients like that but would refer to pain management if they need more than 4 pills per day. He avoids extended release opioids because of too much scrutiny. He said he is more comfortable with extend release for older patients. Admitted that there might be a few patients in his practice he can imagine prescribing butrans. He promises to get experience with it. Briefly mentioned the Norco patient that needs titrating, rather than going to Percocet, consider q12 OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/26/2014	Discussed butrans 7 day dosing and titration options. Pulled thru med d formulary and left oxycontin abuse deterrent study.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	Talked to vicki about oxycontin and if she was going to be initiating it with out dr approval this year? She was uncertain but thought not, she said she usually just does the refills. Talked about the dosing and reviewed the managed care. Talked about butrans dosing and patch location. Talked about appropriate patient types and coverage on med d plans and caresource to name a few.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	highlighted the dosing and the patch location. reviewed being able to use break thru medications and med d coverage. Touched on attributes of butrans: no dose adju for elderly,doesn't go thru first pass to name a few. And then invited to the program, which he said no cause of time. Highlighted I had oxycontin, dr said he won't write it that he tends to stay away from most chronic pain medications but likes butrans because no one knows the name and its dosed weekly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	Talked about Butrans- my visit talking with the hospital director about getting butrans on formulary. Rrahana patel told me to have the dr call her directly to set up a meeting to discuss getting it on formulary. Talked about the residents coming to the butrans program and asked if he could come. he said maybe. I asked him what information do you teach them about butrans? Dr highlighted a few attributrs. I said you sound pretty passionate about butrans are you like that with all the opioids you talk about or is butrans special? Dr said he thinks butrans ia a great product. I said where do you place it. Dr said after hydrocodone. I said thats great. what about after tramadol? he said maybe but usually he will turn to norco first I asked why and he said he just does. I said ok...thinkk about this tomorrow. before you add the 3rd or 4th dose to their opioid schedule ask your self are dosing them atc. if the answer is yes...then why not give them an option like butrans that can be dosed less frequently. weekly. Dr started to talk cost and managed care and i stoppep him and said do you have caresource. he said yes. I said-then you give all these types of patientsw to butrans that have caresource...and explained the pa and coverage. dr said he will think about it. highlighted oxycontin reformulation and dosing.<font color=

PPLPMDL0020000001					I asked dr how she decides to use which narcotics? I asked dr for what conditions would she use dialuadiol or methadone? Dr said she would use dialuadiol for a type of internal pain and OxyContin for bone pain like osteoporosis. I asked dr how long she's been practicing and she said 27 years. I told her about the Medicare i insight and asked her if these patients are just used to taking products as well like vicoden or Percocet. Dr said it for sure is a psychological issue for many outwits and she needs to do a better job identifying patients for OxyContin and Butrans. I reviewed patient types for each and told her to expand her use of OxyContin also for patients who can't tolerate IR opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmstead	OH	44070	8/27/2014	Talked to this dr along with the residents today. talked oxycontin dosing and when dosed. reviewed indication of both oxycontin and butrans. reviewed the date of the Butrans program. And highlighted some points from the naive study. pain results and types of patients involved in the study. Reviewed dosing. Dr said it was interesting and he would like to attend the program for butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	8/27/2014	Quick introductory meeting. He wanted to make sure he had savings coupons for both products at all of his locations. He told me that I know he likes my products, has been getting more pushback lately though. He couldn't give me specifics right now because he was in a hurry but I scheduled a lunch with him for more time. I did pull though the med d formulary win for butrans and UHC prior auth for OxyContin which I also discussed with
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	Talked about oxycontin and butrans scheduling. dr said he doesn't have much experience with opioids other than a rotation recently. He knew of oxycontin, I asked how many doses it had and if he knew when its dosed? Dr said he had no idea about the dosages but every 8 or 12 hours. I said actually its just every 12 hours, its control released. We talked about supplemental use and titration. We talked about the butrans program and the scheduling and patch locations and how to start a patient. he might attend the butrans program to follow up on that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	Talked about scheduling of oxycontin and butrans. highlighted the fda insight and the reformulation using the core visual aid as reference. Talked about abuse potential and limitations of use. Reviewed dosing. Asked why drs would choose to dose in 4 to 6 hour increments for a chronic pain disorder when they could choose a control rlease option every 12 hrs lurs like oxycontin or weekly like butrans. he said habit or cost. I asked at what point is it worth it to break a habit? Dr didn't answer just smiled. Reviewed the 10mg of oxycontin and the study section of the oxycontin fpi. Dr was not aware of the doses available for oxycontin. reviewed titration and half life vs. oxycodone as referenced in 12.3 of fpi. Talked about options. Reviewed butrans. dosing and who might want an option like this? Dr said maybe those who don't want to swallow pills. Talked about where to apply the patch and how to start butrans, including steady state and covering supplement use. invited to program which he is trying to attend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/27/2014	I told dr about the baby boomers insight and oxycodone insights. Dr asked me if I am the rep who has OxyContin and Butrans? I told him I am. Dr said he wanted to speak with me in his office. Dr said that he needs a refresher on OxyContin doses and when he can titrate. Dr said he also wants a refresher on Butrans because he wanted to talk to a patient about it the other day and couldn't remember much about it. I reviewed the OxyContin Dosing, conversion from Percocet and titration. I asked dr if he would use it after Norco? Dr said sometimes but he might want to use Butrans. Dr asked about when to use it, conversions and steady state. I gave dr the initiation and titration guide and asked him to use it as reference then reviewed the Scott profile. Dr said his parts keep wanting more by vicoden or Percocet and Butrans would be good because its a schedule 3 and lasts for 7 days. I told dr to reserve OxyContin for his patients already on the molecule. Dr said he agrees. Dr asked if I could go to speak to some of his nursing staff and educate them on pain management and my products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/27/2014	Caught dr in hallway of stow office. Dr asked what's new. I told him about the oxycodone insight and asked him if he's got patients in a similar situation? Dr said he probably does. I asked him to pleas reevaluate them as possible candidates for a delivery system change to q12 with oxycodone. Dr said ok. I told him to please continue identifying patients for Butrans and reviewed initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/27/2014	Spoke with dale the pharmacist. Discussed Butrans Scott profile and the need for an ER opioid when the patient is needing something for pain daily and around the clock. Dale agreed and said he sees way too many short acting being refilled often. I asked if he has ever asked a patient to speak with their dr about a long acting option? Dale said he has but they usually don't end up getting it. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, conversions and copy
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	8/27/2014	Told dr about the IR oxycodone insight and asked him if he has any patients that may meet that similar profile? Dr said ok. I asked him if he has patients that continue to be refilled on with their oxycodone? Dr said yes and said but those patients have trouble with cost and must be on a generic medicine. I asked him if he has patients with private insurance that are working? Dr said some. I told dr to focus on those for OxyContin. Dr said ok. I told him to please continue looking for patients for Butrans and to focus on Caresource, private and Medicare insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/27/2014	Quick Review of OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider but is sending patients to pain mgmnt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Copley	OH	44321	8/27/2014	Discussed key selling attributes for OxyContin and Butrans with the technician Steve. Steve said that he has seen a couple of Butrans prescriptions and does dispense OxyContin. Discussed copay cards and insurance coverage for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Met newest pharmacist, Natalia (there almost 6ms) Discussed OxyContin scheduling, strengths, dosing every 12 hours, 8 am, 8 pm. Natalia sees scripts coming from Hillcrest Pain Specialty, Laham group. She could not think of anyone else "off top of her head." Discussed Butrans, which Natalia confirms, they dispense. Discussed scheduling, dosing, 1x week patch. Left 1 Butrans patient guide, went through each page, asked her to place on shelf with product which she agreed. Asked if she had any questions/comments for me? Anything I can do for her? Not at this time she replied. Told her about 9/14 PAP month, left 1 brochure. Left 1 RX Patrol flashcard.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Dr Leizman's regular med asst took me back to Gina's private office. Met briefly with Gina. She states she feels guilty when I have asked to see her or PA-C Frank in the past, and they just don't have even a few mts to stop and talk. She said a 1x month or 2x month visit at best is ok with them; she says 1x week is too much! Discussed Butrans as single entity, 1x week matrix technology patch (not a reservoir), dosing flexibility. Gina says now that Vicodin is schedule II, that I should expect her and Frank and practice overall, to write much more Butrans, because it can be called/faxed in. Because they are so busy, having a product they can call in is very convenient for them she says. When Butrans not appropriate; you have OxyContin as an option as well. Med D pull through. Let Gina know I left 5 more Butrans patient guides up front with Denise.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/27/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep in mind as he transitions to new role, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Met w dr Goldner med asst Amy at front window. Dr Goldner had meeting. left at 1 pm. She says best days are Mon and Tues at this location (clinicals) Wed = procedures all day/super busy. Note: Every other FRI at this location as well.(2x month) Discussed OxyContin, Butrans and both single entity, ER opioids for patients that need indication. Asked her to check savings card supply, both products, she came out into patient area, and stated they have good supply right now. Left PAP 9/14 brochures, told Amy I'd like to get Dr. Goldner permission to place at patient check out.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/27/2014	I asked him if he ever thinks about the 10mgs of oxycontin for patients? He said sometimes. I pointed out opioid naive and dosing schedule of oxycontin. we talked about the upcoming butrans program. dr said he is working so late. I informed him that he might get dinner if he shows up late. Dr said he wanted to go if the residents were going.CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/03/2014Lisa, I believe we discussed this, but physicians that show up more than about 10 minutes late will not be admitted to the program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/27/2014	Reviewed with Rebecca OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/27/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12 hours along with. Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, said he will consider, follow up on Friday , Savings Cards
	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/27/2014	I told dr about the IR oxycodone insight and then asked him how long he believes a patient should be on a IR opioid for pain? Dr laughed and said he knows they are kept on them too long and said he's guilty of it as well. I told him I understand and that he can change that by being writing an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans at the first sign of a patient being in around the clock pain. Dr said he knows and is now pretty much required to refer to pain management. I asked him at what time is that in the treatment plan? Dr said it depends on the patient but tries to do it earlier and earlier. I asked him to refer a patient to pain specialty on an ER vs an IR opioid and please the specialist! Dr said he will try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Dr Reed running behind. Met with med asst @ front window. Let her know my goal is to get Dr. Reed to consider an ER opioid when patient meets indication and fails on migraine med/botoz treatment. Two options: OxyContin, CII, oral tablets dosed every 12 hours, 8 am and 8 pm. Butrans, 1x week, patch, CIII, can be called/faxed in. Left PAP 9/14 brochures, I would like to get Dr. Reed permission to place brochures @ patient check out. Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Left info for Frank with Gina. She will discuss with Frank. Discussed page 7, Figure B, Butrans patient guide. Med D pull through, BWC, Medicaid with prior auth. Gina states they are so busy, it's best to stop in just 1x month or 2x month at best. They feel guilty when I ask to speak w them, and they cannot take a few seconds to see me. told her my visits are also concentrated on Total Office Call: meeting with OM, prior auth coordinator, leaving patient education etc.

PPMPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/27/2014	Dr just moved into new office yesterday. Dr said he has procedures scheduled tomorrow and is very busy getting the office ready. I told him to please think about using OxyContin instead of refilling IR oxycodone multiple times. Dr said ok. I told him to please think about how Butrans can be a viable option for those patients who are still in pain taking a product like tramadol or Norco around the clock. I told him that BWC is still paying for Butrans. Marsha said that she has told him that 100 times and he continues to forget and writes short acting because they will pay for it.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/27/2014	Quick call to say hi again, and find out what she believes is the best time to start a patient on ER OxyContin. She says there is a stigma, but from her perspective, patients that are in chronic pain and need it should be on it without worrying about the stigma. She does see a place for it after IR like Norco instead of Percocet....but that's not what people are doing....She feels that butrans is ideal for older patients, but doesn't see much use of it right nowCHUDAKOB added notes on 09/03/2014-Kathy, you really have to stop entering calls at 1 in the morning. Much better to do after the call both for recall of what happened and for Quick front window. Able to secure lunches with OM. Note: school in session/lunches Mon or Wed NOW. Caught Karen in front area, Karen, for patients who have failed on migraine meds or botox therapy, please consider Butrans OR OxyContin. Left information with OM, including PAP 9/14 brochures.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	8/27/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablet strengths along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok nothing new learned
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	8/27/2014	Reviewed with Floater RPH OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D formulary
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	8/28/2014	Just had enough time for an introduction and mention of ER OxyContin and butrans. Have some great information to share with you about finding the right patient who is presently managing their around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments where it may be worth considering an ER formulation instead. Scheduled a lunch.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Spoke to doctor about Oxycontin scheduling and butrans. Talked about how he treats the patient who has chronic not acute pain with opioids? Dr said he tried not to write any opioid but he said he will write norco three times a day. He said rarely he uses Extended release products. We talked about the appropriate patient and if butran if patient were appropriate would he consider it. Dr said he would, dr said he has written it a few times and has had good luck. I asked what about it did you like. he said the dosing and that it was weekly.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Confirmed her registration for the dinner program for Butrans. She told me that she usually has the doctor write the opioids these days but she makes the recommendations. She said the hospital made the changes to how she can write opioids. I asked what experience does she have with schedule 2 products and she said none really just schedule 3 products. We talked about butrans and patch placement. Along with appropriate patient type. Gave her the opioid experience study and mentioned a few areas of the study. Talked about the oxycontin lowest dose for opioid naive and when its dosed.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	8/28/2014	Quick OxyContin 7tablet strengths,Savings Cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Spoke with Linda Armstrong since she just am back to the pain practice. Discussed OxyContin patient types along with Butrans ones and appropriate patient types.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Linda back into The Center for Pain Management in Cuyahoga falls after leaving for CCF last year. Linda said she will be at the pain conference next week and start seeing patients on 9/8. I discussed OxyContin use in the practice and her role. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans key selling attributes, titration, appropriate patient types and copay cards.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Broadview Hts	OH	44147	8/28/2014	Introduced myself quickly through the window with new position. Told her that I am now speaking the benefits of butrans 7 day transdermal patch and OxyContin. She has virtually no experience with it but doesn't have time right now. Left titration guide and told her an appropriate patient might be the patient needing Tramadol around the clock and rather than increasing pills, a once weekly patch and supplemental analgesia might be appropriate for some of those patients.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Broadview Hts	OH	44147	8/28/2014	Introduced myself quickly through the window with new position. Told her that I am now speaking the benefits of butrans 7 day transdermal patch and OxyContin. She has virtually no experience with it but doesn't have time right now. Left titration guide and told her an appropriate patient might be the patient needing Tramadol around the clock and rather than increasing pills, a once weekly patch and supplemental analgesia might be appropriate for some of those patients.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/28/2014	Doctor said he tried butrans once for an older lady and it didn't work. Asked him if he remembers why he chose butrans for that patient? He said because he wanted to cut back on pills the patient was taking. This got us into a discussion about who an appropriate patient might be, by using Scott, and how to make sure patient got to the effective dose. Reviewed indication, strengths, initiation/titration guide, patch placement. He said he could think of a few patients in his practice he might be willing to try butrans. Reviewed oxycontin doses and reviewed reformulated OxyContin quickly, while letting him know that it can still be abused. Pointed out the indications and mentioned the Norco patient that he is considering Percocet, q12 OxyContin May be appropriate.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	8/28/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock pain.Med D formulary opportunities,asked for those SilverScripts patients Said she will consider for appropriate patients
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	8/28/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans and Med D formulary opportunities. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Said to book lunch appt with Chi
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	8/28/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablet strengths along with Butrans Cll for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok continue to consider for appropriate patients, Asked to schedule lunch appt. with
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Talked about the Dosing of oxycontin and the lowest dose of 10mg for the product, highlighted a few areas of the fpl like 12.3 where it compares the oxycodone to oxycontin mgs. Invited to Butrans programs and he can't go he will be on vacation. Talked about how his patient is doing he started on butrans and he said he was fine but couldn't remember the details with out checking the file.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/28/2014	Reiterated to dr and Darlene that when she writes Butrans for a Medicaid patient, Caresource is the plan that will be the path of least resistance and explained the prior authorization again. I asked dr if she will just ask the patient which Medicaid plan they have then make the decision for Butrans or not. Dr said ok and said that's for helping her out. I told her to please also think OxyContin for those already on the molecule and want more IR.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	8/28/2014	Reviewed with Margie Rph-mgr OxyContin Savings cards along with Butrans Med D formulary opportunities, program invite. Said Ok , Cll protocol
PPMPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/28/2014	Spoke with Carla and Zoe the pharmacists present today. Hosted lunch with the pharmacy and spoke with pharmacists and Andy the student pharmacist about OxyContin and Butrans key attributes, conversions, dosing and appropriate patient types. Zoe said she appreciates the information I provide and they do dispense a lot of Butrans and OxyContin. She told me that they are starting to tell their patients that continue to have the IR opioids refilled to discuss ER options with their physicians.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Talked about dosing with opioids for chronic pain patients with a control release delivery system. Talked about oxycontin and butrans...dosing and touched on med d coverage. Dr said he would attend the program.
PPMPMDL0020000001	BEACHWOOD	OH	44122	8/28/2014	Stock almost everything, usually need one day to order anything not in stock. I asked what she thought might resonate with physicians when talking to them about why they choose an IR for around the clock pain. She feels that physicians write too much IR. Maybe ask the physicians what they think when a pharmacist calls them....she had to leave.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Reminded nurses about scheduling of the products and what it means in terms of refills. Also talked about the butrans upcoming diner program. Daniel the rn said she would pass the information to the doctor
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Dr saw me at window and told me he currently has a patient that he's putting. Butrans and needs a copay card. I gave him the copy cards and asked him why he thought of Butrans? Dr said when we spoke last week he agreed to use it more and this patient wanted more vicoden and has good insurance so he wants to give Butrans. Dr said he started on the 5mcg patch for 15mg of vicoden. I told him that's his decision on the 5 or 10mcg. Nothing else learned.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Spoke to Michale and Rhanana the pharmacy director about scheduling of butrans and oxycontin and talked about dosing. We talked about getting butrans on formulary.Rhahana said they do need dr. kabarra to call themand to tell them why they want Butrans on formulary. Discussed attributes of butrans and dosing and elderly profile. invited to dinner program for butrans.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	While speaking with Linda Armstrong in the hospital as Ali walked up. I discussed with him patients appropriate for q12 oxycodone outside of the hospital and in his practice. Dr said he knows and likes OxyContin because it works and doesn't think treating chronic pain with Percocet. I asked dr to please continue finding a place for butrans which can be done in the space of tramadol or Norco refills.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/28/2014	Elise told me she just saw a patient who she is moving to OxyContin from Percocet. Elise said the patient wanted more and it just made sense to make it q12. I told her I agree and to please continue as I reviewed appropriate oatwints and conversions. Elise said she will be needing to use Percocet for breakthrough. Brittany who does pa's said that she has a prior auth for Butrans for Karen for a patient who has UHC community plan. The patient had failed Norco and Percocet plus NSAIDs. UHC wants patient to use oxymorphone ER, fentanyl and ER morphine. I discussed Butrans with Elise and Caresource pa. I asked her to please continue using and identifying patients on 3-4 prns to trial Butrans.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/28/2014	I asked dr if she thinks treating around the clock pain on a daily basis with IR opioids is he most effective way to treat? Dr said sometimes yes but said its really not. I told her the IR oxycodone insight and asked her if she would identify patients appropriate for ER oxycodone? Dr said ok. Gave her the Butrans initiation and titration guide and asked her to ease give it a try after told her about the attributes.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Quick message in hallway and told him I am still Hopi he will see how OxyContin can play a role in his office. I gave him the conversion and titration guide and to please review it. Handed him the Butrans initiation and titration guide and asked for him to just try it clinically.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/28/2014	He was in a hurry....as usual....asked dr, when he sees patients with around the clock pain, does he feel those patients should be treated with IR medication or ER? He asked what I promote, told him, it's a tricky subject, he likes them but there is not time to get into it right now. I quickly said that when he has time I would like to talk about a few patient types that might benefit from ER formulations like OxyContin or butrans. Left titration Visited Pain mgmt/Onc. depts OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration along with formulary grids
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	8/28/2014	Spoke to pharmacist about scheduling of my products. Talked about dosing of oxycontin every 12 hours. Highlighted butrans dosing and where to put the patch and how to discard the patch.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Talked to Alicia who is filling in for the regular pharmacists, Lily and Justin. Their butrans patients know to call them a couple days ahead of time for their prescription. They stock all but 80 of OxyContin. She feels that physicians need to go back to continuing education for pain management because she feels there is a wide misunderstanding of opiates. They write IR when shouldn't and ER when shouldn't.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	8/28/2014	Talked to the dr about upcmoing Butrans program which he said he can't attend he was too busy with the kids sports. We talked about dosing and studies that butrans had that could be reviewed next time in more detail. highlighted the oxycontin 10mg dose- the section 12.2 where it recaps a study involving the 10mg. We talked about managed care and getting butrans on formulary at the hospital. I provided the doctor and the np the name and what information the clinical director at the hospital told me for him to review with them.
PPMPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans to Cindy and the technician about OxyContin indication, dosing, conversions and oxycodone insight. Cindy said most of the time when they see Percocet or Norco the script says take one before of after physician therapy and she's ok with that. Cindy said when patients take it every day multiple times, she tries to encourage them to speak with their dr about talking an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/28/2014	Reviewed Butrans indication, conversions and she said they needed more copay cards. Liz told me that dr wanted to ask me about OxyContin. Dr asked about a patient he has on fentanyl and wants to convert him to OxyContin and wanted to know the conversions. I showed him him the MVA that the conversion is 10mg q12 OxyContin for every 25mcg of fentanyl. Dr said he will convert accordingly. Asked him to continue using OxyContin for more patients and to please consider Butrans for those on Norco.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/28/2014	Gave him a reminder of the burans program- highlighted who is an appropriate patient type and why butrans might be an option for a chronic atc pain patient. Reminded him that oxycontin was also an option dosed every 12 hours.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Heights	OH	44118	8/28/2014	Quick window call reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients that are requiring around the clock analgesia that she is sending to pain mgnt. Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPMPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	8/29/2014	Talked about dosing and a d appropriate patient type. Talked about Butrans and the pain results from the naive study. I asked the doctor if that was enough to write a scripts for an appropriate patient, he said sure.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	8/29/2014	Talked to Tracey the office manager about the Butrans scheduling and OxyContin page 15 reformulation.
PPMPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	8/29/2014	Wave thru window. I asked if I could ask her. Something past her about her u satisfied pain patients. She asked what I had.i said a every 12 hour opioid OxyContin and a weekly pain patch Butrans. She said she didn't write much opioids for chronic pain. And that was about it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	8/29/2014	Short discussion along with dr Wells about OxyContin and how he can find appropriate patients whom are working with private insurance who may be appropriate for a conversion from IR oxycodone to ER Oxycodone. Dr said that may be true and he just needs to weed through all the bad ones which there are a lot of. I told him I understand and asked him to try and to just find one. Reviewed Scott profile for Butrans.
	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/29/2014	Spoke with Todd the pharmacist and reviewed the indications for Butrans and OxyContin. Discussed attributes for each and reviewed dosing, conversions and appropriate patient types. Todd said he dispenses some OxyContin and has not done a Butrans in a while. I asked him if he dispenses Percocet and vicoden? Todd said yes and way too much. I told him about the hydrocodone insight and Todd said its sad that patients are given something meant for acute pain for too long.
	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	8/29/2014	Discussed treating pain in 4-6hr increments, reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. Reviewed Savings cards, Med D and Initiation/Titration with him/Deena. Said Ok will keep on trying to find appropriate patients,
	Cleveland	OH	44127	8/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to look for appropriate patients, Requested Geneva for assistance
	Cleveland	OH	44124	8/29/2014	Met with med asst Bridget. Left Dr C 9/14 PAP brochures/protect your practice brochure. Dr. gone until next Tues. Checked with his nurse, he did not need any OxyContin savings cards. Office staff communicated even more of a holistic approach for Dr. C, which was confirmed by a flyer where due to morphine equivalency guidelines, he suggested several natural tablets for pain, anxiety, etc.
	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/29/2014	Talked about dosing with OxyContin. And managed care coverage. Covered Butrans dosing and caresource coverage w Beth and the dr
	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it mind, invited to upcoming program ,no new info learned
	Westlake	OH	44145	8/29/2014	Waved thru windo to grab attention. Np sme up said he was running behind and trying to leave early. I highlighted the dosing reminder for OxyContin. And Butrans dosing and med d coverage.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	8/29/2014	I asked dr as he came out of an exam room if I can get a quick second to discuss some things. Dr asked high products I has and I told him. Dr said to schedule a lunch to discuss and said he writes some OxyContin and doesn't know about Butrans. I told him to use OxyContin for patients in daily around the clock pain who should be using an ER opioid. Dr said ok.
	Brooklyn	OH	44144	8/29/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Savings cards, no new prescribers, nothing new learned
	Westlake	OH	44145	8/29/2014	Talked to Christ and the ma about OxyContin savings cards and managed care, did the same w butran.
	Akron	OH	44312	8/29/2014	I discussed OxyContin with dr wells and Montieth and discussed the IR oxycodone insight and asked them what is so difficult to treat patients with a q12h form of oxycodone? Dr Wells said he doesn't want to write any of them because its just causes too much headache he doesn't have time for. I told dr I understand but he's still writing or refilling IR opioids. Dr said its a tough call and that he is trying to reduce even the amount he is refilling.
					I asked for him to at least consider more of th Schudle 3,7 day patch in Butrans for patients like Scott and then reviewed the profile.
	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/29/2014	Dr Vilinsky left early. Back next week. Met with med asst. Reminded her of my 2 products: OxyContin CII, oral tablets, dosed every 12 hours. Butrans, CIII, 1x week transdermal patch. both single entity opioids.
	Akron	OH	44319	8/29/2014	Spoke with Danielle the pharmacist and updated her on the OxyContin and Butrans indication, key selling attributes, dosing, titration and conversions for each product. Danielle said they have only filled 2 Butrans in the last 6 months and dispense OxyContin but for only 20 and 40 mg mostly. Discussed. Okay cards for each product.
	Cleveland	OH	44114	8/29/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, reviewed Butrans Initiation/Titration, Formulary coverage along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.
	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/29/2014	Hallway. Repeat of primary care insight. I'm just asking for 1 or 2 patients in your practice, who might benefit from an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butran. OxyContin CII, single entity, dosed every 12 hours, steady state 24-36 hrs, can titrate 1-2 days. Butrans, CIII, single entity, 1x week patch, buprenorphine, Med D pull through, both products.
	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	8/29/2014	Hallway. Summarized last call. Let Dr Roxana know it's my hope that she will be comfortable, for just a few trusted patients, in managing their long term pain, in the office. (outside of hospital, nursing home) with an ER opioid such as low dose OxyContin, dosed every 12 hours, single entity, proven efficacy since 1996, steady state 24-36 hours/can titrate in 1-2 days. Lowest effective dose discussed. The other option I have for you is: Butrans, buprenorphine 1x week pain patch. She asked, is Butrans like Fentanyl? I responded: no head to head data, however, I can tell you Butrans is worn 7 days, Fentanyl is worn for 3 days. Discussed product attributes for Butrans: single entity, partial agonist, steady state 72 hours, 4 strengths. What schedule asked Dr. Roxana? Schedule III, it can be called/faxed in with refills. Showed Butrans initiation guide, Dr. Replied that will be helpful with morphine equivalency. Left Med 80 Guidelines.
	Cleveland	OH	44127	8/29/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok, feels patients are adequately controlled on present therapy but will consider
	Olmsted Township	OH	44138	8/29/2014	Reviewed the FDA insight and talked about OxyContin and Butrans scheduling. Reviewed Butrans patch placement and supplemental use with Butrans for break thru pain meds. Reviewed steady state.
	Cleveland	OH	44125	8/29/2014	Quick review with Sarah on OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans Med D coverage, Said Ok, nothing new learned
	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	8/29/2014	Review FDA insight and dosing options of OxyContin and Butrans. Review of Butrans patch placement and reviewed how to discard patch and limitations.
	Akron	OH	44312	8/29/2014	Spoke with Carla and dr around the subject of the tramadol insight. Dr said that he dos have a good number of those types of patients and said he just needs to determine who is right for Butrans because many of them are being treated for acute pains. I told hi, if they have been treated for 90+ days they are not acute anymore! Dr agreed and said he's guilty of refilling them. I asked him to write Butrans for patients like Scott and review did the profile. Told him to also think of OxyContin as an option for this continuing on Percocet.
	Akron	OH	44312	8/29/2014	Discussed he IR oxycodone insight with dr and asked him if he has some Opportunities for conversions? Dr said that he might but it has been very difficult for internists and family practice to write narcotics in general. Dr talked about hydrocodone going to a schedule 2 in October and how expensive a UDS is on patients and he wants to wash his hands of pain management because its become to difficult. I asked why he can't just convert patients already on oxycodone to OxyContin q12? Dr said it may not even be approved. Dr spoke about how everything he goes to write either gets denied or needs a prior auth for any disease state. I showed him he Butrans Scott profile and reviewed.
	Akron	OH	44319	8/29/2014	I asked dr where he is finding OxyContin to be best utilized? Dr said he didn't know what I mean. I told dr I'm guessing he's writing it or has parts on it. Dr said a couple of patients maybe but isn't writing anything new.
	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	9/2/2014	Asked him to take those patients he continuing on Percocet and consider them for a q12 oxycodone. Dr said alright. I asked whim why he's not found a place for Butrans and he said its too expensive. I told him again he can't know that because he hasn't written it. Dr said its branded and that means expensive. I told dr he's wrong about that and to gain clinical experience.
					Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients, will further discuss later in the week
	Cleveland	OH	44114	9/2/2014	Reviewed with Horace Rph OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok not seeing many narcotics at this location
	Brooklyn	OH	44144	9/2/2014	Window call, Quick review of OxyContin 7 tablet strengths, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D formulary opportunity, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Asked Audery to help reminding
	Cleveland	OH	44104	9/2/2014	Quick Review of Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Med D formulary opportunities, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
	Akron	OH	44311	9/2/2014	Spoke with Matt the pharmacist about OxyContin and Butrans indications, key selling attributes, dosing and appropriate patient types for each product. Matt asked about Butrans conversions from vicoden. Reviewed initiation and titration guide. Discussed conversions from it oxycodone to OxyContin.
	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/2/2014	Led with IR oxycodone and oxycodone plain insights. I asked dr what her thoughts are on those? Dr said she agrees there at too many patients being continued on it opioids and that there are many moving parts as to why and said she didn't want to get into a long discussion about it. I reviewed the OxyContin indication, dosing, conversions, start principles and appropriate patients. I asked dr if she currently has patients she believes would be appropriate? Dr said she thinks so and will look into it and she's glad its a good option. Discussed abuse deterrent characteristics from MVA. Introduced Butrans for thirst time. Discussed dosing, conversions, Scott profile, key attributes and patch description. I asked dr if she thinks Butrans is an option she will take advantage of? Dr said sure. Non committal.
	Akron	OH	44333	9/2/2014	Led with IR oxycodone insight and asked dr what her beliefs are in treating daily around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments? Dr said she thinks its a touchy subject because of the issues the patients have in taking opioids for an extended period of time. I told her about the OxyContin indication and told her that patients continuing on products like Percocet for 3+ months may be meeting the indication of OxyContin and not Percocet. Dr said she agrees and its good to know about the option of q12 OxyContin. I told her about OxyContin attributes, dosing, conversions and appropriate patients. Discussed abuse deterrent properties from MVA. Discussed Butrans key selling attributes, dosing, conversions, Scott profile, patch application uses and disposal and copy cards. I asked dr if she believes Butrans will be used in her office for patients like Scott? Dr said its good to know she has another ER option. Nothing else learned.
	Cleveland	OH	44103	9/2/2014	Reviewed OxyContin Tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/2/2014	Short conversation with bobby the pharmacist and told him about the OxyContin patient types who, are appropriate and asked him how often he sees patients moving through multiple IR opioids? Bobby said there are way too many patients who should be on ER opioids or have surgery because patients take IR opioids all day long for years and bobby said its just wrong. I agreed with him and asked him if he would tell his patients about OxyContin and Butrans. Bobby said they already do but patients claim they are too expensive. Explained Butrans dosing and conversions and Scott profile. They are good on copy cards and do hand them out.
	Norton	OH	44203	9/2/2014	Talked about dosing with OxyContin and Butrans. Reviewed abuse potential and scheduling of both products.
	Cleveland	OH	44103	9/2/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia Said Ok, nothing new learned
	Akron	OH	44310	9/2/2014	Dr and Shar told me they read that hydrocodone will be a schedule 2 in October. I asked dr if that will change things for him? Dr said it will not because he always wrote out the prescriptions for hydrocodone and never added refills so he said it will not impact them at all. Shar said that she sees pharmacists being hit the most because of possibly robberies. I told her I hope that doesn't happen but I can understand it. I asked dr if he would continue to identify patients in daily around the clock pain for Butrans and those on oxycodone to OxyContin.
	Cleveland	OH	44109	9/2/2014	Reviewed with tech, Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, OxyContin every 12hours, Said she seems some OxyContin, very little Butrans Nickels, Tryon
	Barberton	OH	44203	9/2/2014	Dr waved and said he hasn't tried it yet. I said tried what? He said Butrans. I said but u would if the right patient presented itself right. HE said sure. I said focus on the options of OxyContin or Butrans for today. Why dose in 4 to 6 hour increments several times a day when you can dose OxyContin every 12 hours or Butrans weekly. I asked him to think about this next time someone is ready for a change to their current therapy.
	Norton	OH	44203	9/2/2014	Talked about OxyContin doses and how dosed every 12 hours. Reviewed pages 15 from core visual aid and gave fair balance on abuse potential. Talked about why doctors would offer a pain medication for chronic care and give them an option in 4 to 6 hour increments several items a day when they have extended release options like OxyContin. Or Butrans? Dr said price. I said well since u are aware of coverage with caresource and commercial patient can use the coupons. are u comfortable selected these products for your patients, he said yes. Talked with staff about caresource managed care and our coupons.
	Westlake	OH	44145	9/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans dosing, encouraged these options opposed to dosing in short increments several times a day for chronic pain patients. Dr said ok. Thru window. Talked with office manager about scheduling a breakfast to review more information.

	Westlake	OH	44145	9/3/2014	Talked to like carol the ma about Butrans and OxyContin dosing and scheduling status. She got me back to see the doctor. I spoke to him and a resident about OxyContin FDA insight and reformulation as shown on oage 16 of core visual aid. Covered abuse potential. Dr told me about hydrocodone being moved to schedule two like OxyContin. I said how does that effect the way you treat chronic pain? Dr said he prefers to use schedule three product because it gives patients more refills and it is also viewed less abusable. aide sure to cover abuse potential with oxycontin an d Butrans. But did confirm Butrans was schedule three and we talked about the number of potential refills and that currently it could be faxed or carried to the pharmacy. Dr said he can see himself using more Butrans. Dr said he likes Butrans weekly dosing. We covered titration, patch placement and using break thru medications if needed. Covered managed care. Dr will be on vacation for Butrans program, therefore he can't go.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	9/3/2014	Quick message about Butrans and told her that her opportunity for Butrans lies in tramadol and Norco for outiwnits that have Caresource, Medicare and and private insurance. I showed her the Scott profile and reviewed it. Left her with the OxyContin conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	9/3/2014	Reviewed Butrans Med D coverage, Initiation/Titration, along with OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics, Said Ok, continues to find appropriate patients, Asked John for help in reminding Dr

PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	9/3/2014	Short call due to dr being an hour behind. I asked him to please try and identify a patient who is motivated to get their pain under control and are currently treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hr increments. Reviewed Scott. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and titration guide.-CHUDAKOB's query on 09/19/2014-Cliff, here is an instance where a word such as motivated can be misinterpreted. My guess is that many patients are motivated to get their pain under control, even when they are taking opioids in 4-6 hour increments, wouldn't you agree?-REICHCL's response on 09/24/2014-Sure-CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/28/2014-OK. PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/3/2014	Reviewed scheduling of both products. talked about FDA insight and page 16 of core aid. Talked about titration of both OxyContin and Butrans. m
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/3/2014	Dr told me that he has had a problem getting Butrans approved for a 90 yr old patient who has UHC community plan. Dr said that Optum Rx wanted him to start the patient on fentanyl, then methadone then Butrans. Dr said yes furious and write a letter to the plan and is waiting for the result. I told him that plan and buckeye are the most difficult. I asked for his continued identification for Butrans patients and those post op who need something around the clock for pain. Discussed identification of OxyContin patients and titration and initiation. Dr said he really only uses the 20 and 50 mg because the offer the best efficacy and lowest dose.-CHUDAKOB's query on 09/19/2014-Cliff, please read this sentence. "I asked for his continued identification for Butrans patients and those post op who need something around the clock for pain." I am wondering what you were referring to here?-REICHCL's response on 09/24/2014-Dr has said, in your presence, that he does have patients following intervention that need an opioid for around the clock pain. This is what is was referring to. I will clarify more specifically next time-CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/28/2014-OK. I do not believe that is considered post-op. That is considered post-intervention or post procedure. They are different. I agree that more clarity is needed. Thanks!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	9/3/2014	Told dr about her opportunity for identifying patients for OxyContin and Butrans. Told dr to focus on hose that are on Percocet for 3+ months and have around the clock pain to convert them to q12 OxyContin. Told her to write Butrans for her Norco patients who also have around the clock pain and are motivated to reduce their pain. Discussed conversions and insurance options.-CHUDAKOB's query on 09/19/2014-Cliff, please read the sentence you wrote. What is the inference here?"Told her to write Butrans for her Norco patients who also have around the clock pain and are motivated to reduce their pain."-REICHCL's response on 09/24/2014-I get it Barry. I wasn't inferring anything. Its how I wrote it which confused you. I simply asked her to identify patients who are in around the clock pain on Norco who are motivated to control their pain. Butrans is simply a possible solution.-CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/28/2014-OK. Thanks Cliff. Just making sure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	9/3/2014	I told dr that I'm guessing he has patients who are currently taking Percocet or even Norco and have been on it for 3+ months. Dr said he does. I asked him why he's treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments with Norco or Percocet? Dr said cost is the reason. I asked him if it is for ALL those patients? Dr said not all but most. I told him to please identify the ones where cost is not a factor and convert them to a long acting opioid like OxyContin or Butrans for those refilling Norco month after month. Dr asked me where Butrans is covered. I told him that Tina has all the managed care grids and reminded him that Caresource will be the best plan for Butrans and Medicaid. Reminded him of Medicare and commercial plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	9/3/2014	Talk to dr about the FDA insight and talked about what he knew about the reformulation if OxyContin. Dr said he knew. Wry little. Shared with him the pages of core visa, aid pages 15 and 16. T, asked about abuse potential and reviewed why a patient would need a control release option for chronic pain. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans options. Talked dosing, focused in lowest doses of each product. Covered scheduling and coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	9/3/2014	I asked Lisa if she would be willing to discuss the q12 oxycodone option with patients who continue to refill their IR oxycodone? Lisa said that they try to leave that up to the physician. I told her I understand and told her I'm asking her to ask the physician about it. Lisa said they can do that. Reviewed dosing and conversions and key selling attributes. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and Scott profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/3/2014	Quick OxyContin review every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, along with Butrans 7 day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok , transitioning into new role, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/3/2014	Discussed the dinner program and his interactions with residents in the upcoming weeks. DR said he doesn't have residents planned this month. I asked them what he tells them about Butrans. Dr told me he tells them it's a good product for chronic Pain if the patient can get it thru managed care. I asked if u tell them its hard to get? He said no. I asked when was the next resident visit and maybe I could stop by and we could review the pain study or nthe elderly profile of Butrans. Dr said maybe and to check with Julie the office manager. I told him about the patch dosing and reviewed Initiation doses. Covered med d plans and caresource. Tlked about OxyContin reformulation as page 16 of core visual aid covers and talked about abuse potential for all opioids including Butrans and OxyContin. Reviewed scheduling of the two products and what that means in terms of refills. Dr said he can't attend the. turns program. Asked him if he followed up with hospital pharma it and he said no. Due to lack, of time but said he would.-CHUDAKOB's query on 09/19/2014-Lisa, you might consider asking him what amount of formulary coverage (percent) he would have to see before he is comfortable prescribing a product and knowing it is covered. he brings this smokescreen up every time, doesn't he?-BARTOLI's response on 09/24/2014-I'll try that. Yes. Dr does bring up managed care on almost every call. I've tried many approaches to overcome this perception.-CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/28/2014-OK. Good luck!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/3/2014	I asked Elise if she's having luck getting patients converted to OxyContin? Elise said she is but its hard to get approved on plans. I ended up speaking with Brittany about pending OxyContin or Butrans scripts and she said she currently has none. I told Elise to continue using each product and discussed patient type selection. Discussed inclusion and exclusion criteria for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	9/3/2014	I told dr that the last time we spoke he told me that he has patients currently on Percocet for pain and I asked him if any of them have daily around the clock pain and you said some. Dr said some. I asked him if he has spoken with those patients about converting them to q12 OxyContin? Dr said not yet and said he will talk with some of them about the option. I reviewed the conversions again and asked him for more business and to please think of Butrans as that viable option for his tramadol and Norco patients who take them around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/3/2014	Sue told me she needed to speak with me and couldn't find my phone number. Sue said a patient was in to get an OxyContin prescription and didn't not have prescription coverage. Sue said she couldn't find the OxyContin savings cards to help her with the cost. Sue said the patient has been diagnosed with cancer but couldn't afford OxyContin. I asked Sue if she would call the patient and help her with $70 off? Sue said she will call the patient today. I asked about Butrans and if she has heard anything from patients good or bad? Sue said they continue to dispense it and have not had any negative news from patients and have all doses in stock.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/4/2014	Quick discussion with Corey the pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin indication, conversions and appropriate patients. I asked Corey if he is having patients using the Butrans copy cards. Corey said some of them and said many outiwns have Medicare or Medicaid so they can't use them. I told him how cash paying patients can use the copy cards but not the trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/4/2014	Discussed treating pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to support for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	9/4/2014	We talked about the Butrans dosing. dosages. I asked what the last patient was on before switching to Butrans. Dr said it was a med d patient on norco. I said why Butrans? Dr said he feels that it works very well for most chronic pain patients. Dr said he has experience in almost every dosage. Dr said he feels that his only problem would be if the patient is in the donut of their med d coverage. I highlighted the aarp and silver scripts... dr said it was hard to know what the patient in the age group can afford and usually find out after the script isn't filled that it was too expensive. I refocused him back to the big picture of he selects the product cause he feels it's the right choice for appropriate patients. Highlighted commercial and supported the med d coverage we have. Invited to Butrans dinner program and he said maybe. Dr said looks like Butrans will be used more this year with all other hydrocodone being teir 2. I said maybe. I reminded him how long the product has been out. The pain results of naive study and dosages and covered the attributes like schedule 3. No first pass. And his thoughts on Butrans for the elderly. Dr said he feels Butrans if patients can afford it is a good option. I asked him how he feels about OxyContin's reformulation. Dr said it can't hurt to have it. Talked about abuse potential. Talked about dosing and the ten mg dose for the elderly along with coupons for commercial insured. Dr said he was very comfortable using OxyContin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/4/2014	Talked to two pharmacists quickly (Rena and Deanna). They stock a few of the lower doses of OxyContin but definitely see more IR than ER. Explained what I am telling physicians in the area about where ER is appropriate for patients in around the clock pain. They agreed. Only could think of one patient they are stocking butrans for. They had to rush off.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/4/2014	Told Sandra that I'm hoping she finds more opportunity for Butrans because I'm sure she had patients on tramadol or Norco for 90 days or longer then gave her the tramadol insight. Sandra said she does and said not everyone is going to be a candidate for Butrans. I told her I agree and said she needs to decide who is motivated for controlling their pain, meets the indication for daily around the clock pain, and those who are working with insurance, Medicare or Caresource. Sandra said ok. Told her that OxyContin is that q13 option for patients already on the molecule and need a dose adjustment.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/4/2014	Pointed out managed care med d with products. Highlighted dosing options like OxyContin. And Butrans for chronic pain patients. Talked with nurses about managed care.m

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/4/2014	Discussed treating pain in 4-6hr increments, Said he feels patients are adequately controlled on present therapy but will consider OxyContin every 12hours. Reviewed formulary coverage and dosing. Butrans Initiation/Titration Led off discussion about IR oxycodone insight and then explained the indication for OxyContin. Discussed OxyContin dosing, titration, conversions and abuse deterrent studies. I asked dr what his experience has been and how he feels now going forward. Dr said ok and did not comment further. Discussed Butrans indication, dosing, conversions and Scott profile along with key selling attributes. Dr offered no comment or insight.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/4/2014	Led off discussion with dr on the IR oxycodone insight and asked him his thoughts? Dr said he believes it to be true. Discussed OxyContin indication, dosing, conversions, titrations and key selling attributes. I asked dr if he believes OxyContin can play more of a role in his office? Dr said he has to be very careful when prescribing opioids. I told him I agree and asked if he's hesitant tin prescribing it? Dr said not really but said he may have a couple of patients he can convert. Discussed tramadol insight and Scott profile. Discussed dosing, conversions, titrations and key attributes. I asked if he thinks it has a place in his practice? Dr said maybe and again said he has to be careful in prescribing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	9/4/2014	Visited Pain Mgmt Dept (Nickels) Reviewed Butrans/OxyContin Savings cards and Initiation/Titration guides
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/4/2014	Doctor just opened a private pain management practice. For years he was with the Cleveland clinic. He has 3 kids, 11, 8, 1 and likes to play squash. He just wrote OxyContin for a patient yesterday. This person was on Percocet 60 or so, and he decided to write oxycodone 20 every 8 hours. I told him we recommend q 12 dosing for patients in around the clock pain. It can be titrated every 1-2 days to attain optimal dosing. He said most of the time he would try to stick with the q12 dosing. He has some experience with butrans. Primarily the patient who wants to take fewer pills. I reviewed dosing and titration. He said he would keep an eye out for that Tramadol patient. He asked about coverage, I reviewed formulary and med d win.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/4/2014	Spoke to dr about OxyContin FDA and talked about abuse potential. Talked about lowest dose of OxyContin and Butrans. Talked scheduling and invited to dinner program for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	9/4/2014	Told dr about the IR oxycodone insight and asked him if he currently has patients that meet that type of statistic? Dr said he probably does. I told him that if he is refilling Percocet more than three times and the patient is taking it daily and around the clock they are a candidate for the q12 oxycodone. Dr said ok. I showed him he conversions and asked him if he will take a closer look at those patients and convert them when they meet the indication. Dr said ok. I told him to also consider Butrans as that schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch for those wanting more tramadol. Dr said alright. Nothing Else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	9/4/2014	Discussed treating pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider, will help Dr.'s remember

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	9/4/2014	Lunch. Discussed product attributes for OxyContin. Asked Dr. Winer to use an ER opioid earlier in therapy, when patient (s) meets ER indication, consider OxyContin, q 12 h. Dr had a lot of questions re: drug to drug interactions for OxyContin. Addressed those in FPI, and Dr. was satisfied with response. Discussed lowest effective dose, and plasma concentration differences in females, elderly. Dose 1/2 to 1/3 starting dose elderly, debilitated and hepatic impaired. Focused on single entity opioid, dosing flexibility, OxyContin Essentials kit. Discussed Butrans as single entity opioid, 1x week or 7 days release buprenorphine. No dose adjustment needed: renal, mild/moderate hepatic impaired. Dosing flexibility. Asked for business today, and next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/4/2014	Talked to nurse and receptionist at the window trying to see the practitioners who were too busy. Talked about ER option as appropriate for patients in around the clock pain. They have been asking for more savings cards so I left them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	9/5/2014	Talked about FDA insight and reviews the highlights from the OxyContin core visuals aid. Talked fair balance in abuse potential for all opioids including the ones I was promoting. Talked about act pain and OxyContin and Butrans as options instead of immediate release. Dr said he think OxyContin is a good choice for patient who are chronic and been on opioids a while. Talked Butrans approx patient type. I highlighted after tramadol failure or perhaps after norco... for appropriate patients. Talked about dosing and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/5/2014	Reviewed OxyContin 7 Tablet strengths and Savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, 7 day transdermal. Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/5/2014	Pharmacist was aware if all the changes happening to schedule two products ts. Talked about OxyContin FDA insight and reformulation and OxyContin dosing for the appropriate patient per the fpi. Also talked about scheduling for Butrans and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/5/2014	Talked about doing chronic act pain patients with control release products instead of immediate release opioids several times a days dr said price is the factor for him. We talked about the couONS AND. He said he has never used Butrans and rarely OxyCotin. I asked which population he treats the most with pain medications he would like to focus on for today. Dr said med d patients. I took out fpi... And talked about OxyContin lowest strengths, how it did in clinical studies as noted in section12.2 and reviewed the elderly patient lack of dose adjustment for normal elderly functioning. I asked how often he takes the stretch into consideration for the elderly and he said every time. I also talked Butrans elderly profile. No first pass, med d coverage and dosing. Dr said he would try it again if he saw an appropriate patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	9/5/2014	Dr said looks like Butrans will start to be written more. I said aren't saying you started to write the product. He said no, just that with the scheduling changes it leaves Butrans in schedule 3. I said both OxyContin and Butrans are still options for appropriate patient a with chronic act pain. I said why write I. Short increments several to s a day when the patient has an optic. Of a 7 day patch or every 12 hour dosing. Dr said the refills and not having to see a patient every month is a feature for Butrans than the Immediate release opioids. I told the doctor...if a doctor wants to treat atc chronic pain with an opioid only from a schedule 3, the Butrans may be an appropriate choice for the right patient. Dr said what about cost of Butrans. I said with insurance...if they use a coupon it could be a significant savings for a branded product, touched in med d coverage. Reviewed reformulation of OxyContin. Per the core aid.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	9/5/2014	I asked sherry up front to see the doctors today and she sent me back. Spoke with dr Everly about opportunities for OxyContin and Butrans. Discussed when he should be thinking of OxyContin and discussed patients already in IR oxycodone. Discussed patients who are taking tramadol or Norco daily and around the clock to convert them to Butrans. I asked him if he has reservations in using OxyContin? Dr said no but said that AGMC is pushing them to refer to pain management after 90 days of treatment. I told him I understand and asked him if he would have patients he knows need an ER opioid before 90 days and initiate? Dr said its rare but will try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/5/2014	Told dr at window that OxyContin needs to be his go to ER opioid when he has a patient already on oxycodone but taking it around the clock and to convert them. Dr said he knows and is trying to do it sooner. I told him great and to also use Butrans for those needing a dose adjustment on tramadol or Norco and meet the Butrans indication. Dr said ok and asked me about Medicare coverage. I gave him the Medicare grid and explained the plan coverage and average cost.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	9/5/2014	Sat with dr Orgel and Everly while discussing opportunities for OxyContin and Butrans. I told her that I was hoping she would have tried Butrans by now in an appropruTe chronic pain patient and reminded her it was schedule 3. She didn't remember any if the dosing nor the indication. Reviewed the information with her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/5/2014	I told dr its time for him to identify patients who are appropriate for OxyContin and Butrans. I told him to focus on one patient type for each product. OxyContin use in patients who are already on the molecule but in the short acting form like Percocet. Told him to focus on Butrans for patients who are taking tramadol around the clock and on a daily basis.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	9/5/2014	Spoke with Kim and asked her if she is seeing more OxyContin than a month ago? Kim said its been pretty steady and she is still seeing too many refills of Percocet. I told her that's unfortunate but a reality. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans indication, dosing and conversions. Kim said they have about 5 or 6 patients on Butrans and they seem to like it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/5/2014	Talked about atc dosing for the chronic pain patient that's medication isn't controlling their pain. I asked how many doses in a day equates to atc. Dr said anything over 2 doses in a day. I said so let's concentrate on that. I said let's talk about a patient on two doses a day and not controlled [with their opioid. I said if they are on Tramadol...would you be comfortable writing Butrans. Dr said he isn't comfortable with the product yet. We talked about OxyContin and Butrans dosing. Dr said he feels OxyCotin. Should be saved for the pain. Docs. I said why? He said because patients don't want to be on OxyContin. After review of Butrans dr said he was comfortable starting Butrans. Dr said he is still not going to write OxyContin. Dr said he likes that Butrans is schedule three. Review managed care.

Discussed OxyContin dosing and asked her who orders scheduled medicines. She said she can order it but usually its Gilbert or Jessica. Discussed Butrans dosing and patient type selection.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	9/8/2014	Yell across front window, consider OxyCotin or Butrans today, this week for your patients who meet ER opioid indication. Ok? Ok, dr should head yes. met w med asst at front window. discussed PAP 9/14 brochures, and that we want pain mgt to be recognized at health care priority. I'd like to have dr place these at patient check out or maybe a few in each patient room. Mary will discuss w him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	9/8/2014	I told dr that when he refills or writes a new prescription for any IR opioid and they are on it for 30 days or longer he may be committing them to long term opioid therapy. I told him that he needs to determine what the pathology of pain is and if it is a condition like spinal stenosis, low back pain, or osteoporosis he should be strongly considering an ER opioid. Dr said he understands and agrees but doesn't want to write them. I told him Then he needs to refer those patients before they get into escalating doses of IR opioids. Dr said ok. I told him to write OxyContin or Butrans as his go to ER opioids. Left him conversion a and titration guide for OxyContin and
PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	9/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider, Asked for Maria help in reminding Dr. Said she will
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	9/8/2014	Lunch. Primary care insight. Then used Pam profile, as being a patient that would be appropriate for either start dose (10 mg) OxyContin OR start dose of Butrans (5 mcg hr) . OxyContin product attributes presented including efficacy since 1996, half life, steady state, 7 strengths, then formulary status. Whom can I provide formulary updates to in future? Dr replied Laura. Is she the main prior auth coordinator? Yes, dr replied. Then Butrans BUP 3024, discussed tolerability, ability to titrate, efficacy in opioid naive. Discussed A.E.s and application site pruritis. Formulary update, Butrans trial, savings. Asked if he sees patients like Pam today, this week, and they meet ER opioid indication, My hope is that he will keep both Oxy Contin& Butrans top of mind. What about the scrutiny from the state, what should I do about that asked Dr Balaji. I discussed Ohio Med 80 guidelines with him,what's expected of state board such as regular documentation,Using OARRS, etc. that is dr main concern with writing ER opioids. Responded that it's been my goal to make him more comfortable with my ER opioid products for trusted patients. Left 9/14 PAP brochures, Dr placed one in his jacket.CHUDAKOB's query on 09/18/2014Jenny, half-life is not something we should be discussing as a stand alone. We cannot say that OxyContin has a 4.5 hour half life without explaining that it reaches steady-state in 24-26 hours and can be titrated ever 1-2 days. We should probably remove discussion of half-life. This is one of the reasons for not just rattling off product attributes without providing reasons.BALLIE's response on 09/24/2014Again - my short hand above. When I present half- life; I do explain WHY I'm sharing that data - and that is followed by steady state/ ability to titrate if needed in 1-2 days. As I try to shorten length of call call notes; I leave certain things out which I touch on in every call. The purpose of call notes is to move the call forward & remember key talking points - since these call notes are for me to look at the next time I do pre call planning - I didn't feel need to write every single wordCHUDAKOB added notes on 09/28/2014You are correct. You don't have to write every word. Just the important ones. When we discuss a key product attribute, we must put it in context for what you are saying, ie. provide the reasons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	9/8/2014	Told dr to please use Butrans for a patient who he is ready to move a patient from tramadol to hydrocodone. I showed him the Scott profile and asked him if its reasonable to do so? Dr said it is very possible and knows he needs to do it and just needs to be choosy. I told him he does have to be very selective that's why I told him specifically where and when to use it.. Dr said ok. I told him OxyContin is no different and to be selective on when to use it. Gave him the conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	9/8/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin dosing and titration.W-said that she wrote two scripts of Butrans today

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/8/2014	Dr said its my lucky day with hydrocodone going schedule 2. I said I hope Butrans being schedule three will be a good option for your patients. And talked about OxyContin. Dosed every 12 hours and reformulation briefly. Dr said he wrote Butrans. And walked away!

	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/9/2014	Met dr for first time and asked about her experience with family practice. Dr said she is just starting so it remains to be seen but has been in the practice for a week. I led off with the tramadol insight for Butrans and discussed the product in depth discussing all key selling attributes, Scott profile, Bup 3015, conversions. I led her that the problem arises when providers treat daily, around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Dr said she agrees and likes the sound of Butrans. Explained the placebo patch and application sites and rotation. I asked her to try it clinically in a motivated patient to gain control of their pain and have it daily and around her clock. Explained OxyContin attributes, appropriate patients, conversions, and start principles. Explained both product insurance plans and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	9/9/2014	Spoke with Bob the pharmacy manager about OxyContin and Butrans. Discussed attributes, conversions and appropriate patients. Talked to him about their district manager for district #2 and acquired contact information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/9/2014	Reviewed Butrans Med D coverage and Savings cards, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.
	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/9/2014	Led with IR oxycodone insight and discussed patients he currently has on the product. Dr said he likes OxyContin but has even become cost prohibitive because no insurance wants to pay for it anymore and he finds himself writing MS CONTIN or ER Morphine so he doesn't have to spend all day getting OxyContin approved. I told him I understand and discussed appropriate patients and insurance plans with best access. Discussed Butrans and told him he's missing the boat by not writing it. Told him about attributes, placebo patch, schedule 3, 7 day patch, conversions and Scott profile. Dr said its intriguing and asked about efficacy and safety. Reviewed Bup 3015 and asked him if he'd be happy with a 30% reduction in pain score? Dr said of course. Discussed copy cards and insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/9/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Asked for Aurora help in reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/9/2014	Led with IR oxycodone insight and discussed appropriate patients for OxyContin, attributes, conversions and start principles. Dr said he's more interested in Butrans. Discussed need for OxyContin in patients already on IR oxycodone who have daily around the clock pain. Butrans key selling attributes, conversions, Scott profile and insurance. Reviewed Bup 3015 upon request and discussed cost. Dr said Butrans is cost prohibitive. I asked him how he knows if he hasn't prescribed it yet? Dr laughed and said I had a point but said its branded and assumes its expensive. I asked him what's expensive to him? Dr said more than generics. I told him there is no generic form of Butrans and he can't compare an IR to an ER opioid. Dr said ok. Reviewed insurance plans and paths of least resistance. I told dr he's missing the boat by not prescribing it and needs to use it in the right patient so it proves itself clinically. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/9/2014	Reviewed scheduling of OxyContin and Butrans and refills with scheduled opioids. Invited to Butrans program but he is going out of town till next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	9/9/2014	Julie was very helpful in providing the district managers name, who covers 19 stores in the Cleveland area. (Kelly Cordiak, 330.205.1337). Cvs corporate does the ordering and what they don't get from the cvs warehouse they order from cardinal. They don't stock butrans because they don't see much of it but they do stock some of the lower oxycotin. She wasn't interested in savings cards,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Lunch. Primary care insight. Then Pam profile. Butrans product attributes discussed including no dose adjustment renal, mild & moderate hepatic impaired. For patients like Pam, (went through patient profile) keep Butrans in mind. For your patients taking percocet or oxycodone, why not low dose OxyContin instead? Offer same molecule, I am just asking you to offer controlled release delivery system, indicated for daily, atc, long term pain. Today, this week, when your next patient asks for opioid refill: please pause, re assess and write Butrans or OxyContin! sound good? Yes, replied Dr. Isakov. Discussed 9/14 PAP brochures, he liked resource. Met w his med asst Helen as well, discussed all the above.
PPLPMDL0020000001
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44107	9/9/2014	Spoke to nurse- Found out the doctor got married and I updated her name into the computer and confirmed her location at the hospital in family medicine. Left materials of both products at desk.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	9/9/2014	They stock the lower doses of oxycotin. They don't stock butrans because they don't really have anyone on it. They see many patients on Tramadol who should probably be on an ER med. Reviewed messaging we are telling Doctors.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Met w med asst at front window. Left packet of info for Dr. Roda including Branded Butrans FPI, butrans patient tear sheet; OxyContin fpi, 1 copy 9/14 PAP brochures. Discussed formulary status, Med D pull through and let her know updated formulary grids will be delivered in a few weeks. Med D pull through.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/9/2014	Spoke with dr at counter and showed him the Butrans placebo patch. I showed him the initiation and titration guide and told him he's missing opportunities to get patients in pain on IR opioids month after month a viable option. Dr said he forgot about it and will consider it. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Lunch. Met w Sarah and student Vince. Primary care insight. Pam profile discussed, why not Butrans first? Or if not comfortable with that, why not Butrans when patient's pain still not controlled on 3-4 Tramadol daily. Sarah says, you know cost is always my objection. Med D pull through. (she doesn't have BWC patients) Also for patient like Pam, you could start on 10 OxyContin q 12 h. both products dosing flexibility, conversion, titration guides to assist you during initiation, titration and maintenance. Discussed, left 1 9/14 PAP brochures and our goal as company to place pain mgt as a Health Care Priority. Sarah, today, this week, if you have patient asking for IR opioid refill, I ask you consider writing Butrans or OxyContin - ok? Yes, I will keep in mind replied Sarah.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Lunch. Primary care insight. For patients who meet ER indication, I have 2 great options for your patients. OxyContin, CII tablets, dosed q 12 h. proven efficacy since 1996, discussed half like and steady state -ability to titrate in 1-2 days if needed. 7 doses, dosing flexibility. Butrans, CII, every 7 days buprenorphine release in matrix delivery/transdermal patch, 4 strengths, dosing flexibility. Scott profile, when you see a patient like Scott keep Butrans top of mind OR low dose OxyContin. BWC reminder, Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Lunch. Primary care insight. Dr surprised at data. My goal is to increase your comfort level, for just 1 or 2 trusted patients, to write an ER opioid such as OxyContin when patient meets ER indication. Low dose OxyContin discussed, steady state, half life and ability to titrate in 1-2 days, CII tablet dosed q 12 h. . Butrans, CIII, 1x week or every 7 day release of buprenorphine in transdermal patch. 4 strengths, no dose adjustment for renal, mild, moderate hepatic impaired. Using Pam profile, today, this week, when you see patient like Pam who needs daily, atc, opioid, please keep low dose OxyContin and Butrans in mind. Sound reasonable? yes replied dr Prada. Also met w her med asst Amy.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/9/2014	Quick mention OxyContin, Butrans when patients meet ER opioid indication and after migraine meds, botox therapy has failed. Left packet of info for Dr. Reed, including 9/14 PAP brochures, and asked OM to get Dr. Reed permission to place at check out. 5 patients in wait room, several back. Unable to speak directly with other HCP. (left packet of info for CNP's Karen and Particia)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	9/9/2014	Discussed with Mana,OxyContin every 12hours/abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans patient info booklets, Said Ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	9/9/2014	Accidental fast meeting. He doesn't really see reps. While I was talking to Debbie, he came to the front, heard what we were talking about and said he doesn't write narcotics. I said that I understand that he doesn't want to but there are some patients that are treating their around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments, for those patients an ER opioid might be appropriate. He stopped for a second but didn't respond. He had to leave, but I continued to review Butrans with Debbie and she thought that he might be very interested in hearing more because she said that hydrocodone is going CII.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/9/2014	Told dr that both OxyContin and Butrans are viable option for his patients who are being inadequately controlled on IR opioids like tramadol, Norco or Percocet. I told him to focus on patients who are in pain on Norco or Percocet for q12 dingle entity OxyContin and those in pain on tramadol before he goes to Norco to use the schedule 3, 7 day Butrans. Dr said ok and thinks Butrans is a good product. Dr said the Unity policy is to refer out after 90 days of treatment. I told him I understand and asked him why he waits 90 days to use an ER opioid? Dr said that's a good point and will consider it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/9/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans schedule status. Reviewed the reformulation using taking points from the core visual aids pages 15. Dr h8d a good amount of med d coverage, silver scripts was her number one plan and she had more med d an commercial. I asked her if the nuke of her chronic pain patients were over 65. She said yes. I asked if that's where she uses OxyContin or if it was someplace else? She said he tends to use OxyContin in frequently but likes OxyContin for certain chronic pain patients. We talked about the special considerations when selecting opioids. Dosing was her biggest concern. I covered the elderly products, single entity and dosing. Dr said she doesn't know anything about Butrans. We reviewed pain scores from naive study, dosing, supplement and patch placement. I focused Butrans after the chronic atc pain patient on Tramadol fails. Dr said she has a few patients that Butrans might work for that are commercial insured. Discussed managed care and coupons. She can't go to the program be cause its her bday Wednesday.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/9/2014	Spike to the dr regarding how she treats chronic pain and she said she rarely uses opioids. Dr said she may refer out and the. Continue he refills but doesn't like to initiate opioids. I if she knew about OxyContin reformulation, she said yes. I asked what about it do you remember and the dr couldn't say. I reviewed limitations and opioid abuse potential and highlighted oage 16 of the core visual aid. Talked about dosing every 12 hours and the single entity. Talked about scheduling and Butrans and OxyContin and what that meant I. Terms of Refills. Dr said she thinks a patch is a great idea. I said if you don't like opioids why would you write Butrans? Dr said she likes the weekly dosing. Reviewed initiation guide and dosing. Dr said she would attend Butrans program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/9/2014	Quick OxyContin reminder, abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, nothing new learned,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and the atc chronic pain patient. I asked the doctor who he felt would be the type of appropriate patient he would start OxyContin on. Dr said he didn't have one type of patient. I reviewed the dosing options and highlighted more specifically the lowest dose, the 10mg. Dr said atc would be either three or four doses of any opioid a day chronically, I asked him what would stop him from selecting a control release product like OxyContin or Butrans for the right patient. Dr said managed care, or if the patient won't change their medication because they think the immediate release is working just fine. I said can you see any rationalization for me suggesting the option of moving to OxyContin or Butrans for these atc pain patient instead of dosing in 4 to 6 hour increments they have the option of every 12 hr dosing for OxyContin or weekly dosing with Butrans. Dr said he links those are good options. We review Butrans dosing and appropriate patient types. Reviewed opioid naive study, the pain insight was used. Dr asked about managed care, couONS and conversion information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/10/2014	Highlighted OxyContin Lowest dose 10 mg and dosing and Butrans 5mgc for patients with atc chronic pain followed by the aarp med d coverage. She can't attend the Butrans program. Dr didn't hve much time to engage so it was pretty much one sided conversation today. Talked the the nurses about managed care coverage and coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/10/2014	Talked about atc dosing with pain patients with chronic long term pain. Discussed why dose in 4 to 6 hr increments vs weekly dosing with Butrans s and every 12 he dosing with OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View	OH	44125	9/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans for those appropriate patients, Initiation/Titration,

	Cleveland	OH	44130	9/10/2014	Doctor said she doesn't like to write narcotics. She can not see herself choosing OxyContin for any patient. We reviewed the abuse deterrent characteristics, but that it can still be abused. She wasn't interested in hearing more. She won't consider that right now but is willing to hear more about Butrans. She told me that hydrocodone is going schedule 2 and people are trying to figure out what they will do. She is inclined to send pain patients elsewhere. We discussed that there might be some patients that stay with her and we should talk about who the appropriate patient might be for Butrans. Used insight #12. She said that is a good point and will think about trying butrans for a few patients. We reviewed dosing and titration and she will think about it

	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/10/2014	Followed up with dr and Liz about the prior authorization for a patient going from Opana ER to OxyContin. Dr said the patient has workers compensation state plan and it was approved for OxyContin through 2015. I told dr and Liz that's great news. Dr said he won't write Opana ER because its not abuse deterrent. Dr said OxyContin works great and his patients have access to it. I told dr to continue converting appropriate patients and to identify IR oxycodone patients who have pain around the clock.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	9/10/2014	I told dr that I would like her to identify just one patient in the next week who is continuing on an IR opioid and assess them. I asked her to find out if the patient has pain daily and around the clock. If the answer is yes, write the appropriate opioid either OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said that sounds like something she can do. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	9/10/2014	Told dr I really want him focusing on existing tramadol patients he's refilling each month as potential Butrans candidates. Reviewed the Scott profile and insurance coverage. Dr said ok he will try. I told him it just takes an extra minute to assess if the patient is in pain around the clock. If they are, write Butrans! Reviewed oh it in indication and patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/10/2014	Discussed. Bynronic pain and medicatio options like OxyContin and Butrans. Follow up with Butrans dinner program, dr said he has plans with his kids and can't attend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/10/2014	Met w med asst at front window. Left OxyContin fpi, Butrans branded fpi, Scott profile, 1 Butrans medication guide. Discussed scheduling, dosing and titration, both products. Med D pull through. Left 1 9/14 PAP brochure. (left same for Dr. Krishnan)

	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/10/2014	Primary care insight. Then Pam profile, went through profile and then stated this patient would be appropriate for either 10 mg OxyContin, which you can titrate in 1-2 days if necessary. Proven efficacy since 1996, and similar AE's in young (18+) and elderly patients. Showing flexibility w 7 strengths. A patient like Pam also appropriate for 5 mcg hr start of Butrans 1x week patch. No dose adjustment needed for patients with renal impairment and mild/moderate hepatic impairment. Showed how to write and left 1 Butrans patient guide. Went through patient guide. Left both with Dr. Park. Left OxyContin reformulation folder too. today, this week, when a trusted patient comes in, they are uncontrolled on 2-4 IR opioids daily, I propose you write low dose OxyContin or Butrans. Sound reasonable? Yes, replied Dr. Park.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	9/10/2014	lled with the tramadol insight and told him I'm sure he has patients who he is continuing on tramadol and probably even hydrocodone. Dr said he does. Dr said that he has many taking tramadol but not taking more than 4 times a day. I asked dr if he believes that would classify a patient for being in pain around the clock? Dr said probably so. Outlined the Scott profile. Dr asked about conversions from tramadol and titration. Reviewed it from the profile. I asked dr if he would identify a few patients continuing on tramadol who may be appropriate for Butrans? Dr said he will. Asked him to also use OxyContin for those continuing on IR oxycodone and need a dose I asked dr how familiar he is w the OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics he is? Dr said he knows its abuse deterrent. I showed him from the MVA the 4 tiers of the abuse deterrent properties and reviewed me with him. I told him I would like him to read over the studies on it and left it with him. I asked him to please continue using OxyContin as his go to ER opioid and to just convert one patient a week from IR oxycodone to ER oxycodone. Dr said ok and wanted to know insurance coverage. I handed him the commercial and Medicare grids and told him to focus on commercial insurance which I know he has many of. Dr said yes but the ones who need it have Medicaid or Medicare plans. I told him I understand and to review the grids and I hope he will complete a PA when its necessary. Dr said ok. Left him th Butrans slide guide conversion.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/10/2014	Met w med asst Jess and OM Irina. Left Dr Azar Pam profile, OxyContin conversion guide, Butrans patient guide. Discussed importance of handing out patient education and activating savings cards, trial cards Before patient visits pharmacy. I didn't see OxyContin savings cards (I left Mon 9/8/14) in regular locked cabinet, Irina says dont' worry - they're here - I put in different cabinet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	9/10/2014	I was able to get the drs attention for a few moments and told him he's missing opportunities to place patients who are in around the clock pain but taking a 4-6 hour medicine like Norco on ER opioids like OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said he's knows but its tough because his patients have little money and the branded products can be expensive. I told him I understand and told him to focus on commercial patients for OxyContin and Caresource and Medicare d as well as commercial for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/10/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, confirmed program attendance
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	9/10/2014	Quick message at counter. Told him that he can use OxyContin as his go to ER opioid when a patient has daily, around the clock pain and may already be taking the oxycodone molecule but just in 4-6 hour increments. Showed him the indication for Butrans and asked for him to convert that tramadol patient who asks for more and is in around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	9/10/2014	Good discussion with Kyle the pharmacist. Discussed new Butrans and OxyContin indications, Butrans multiple patches and what I'm speaking to physicians about. Kyle told me that opioids are a strange topic right now because of the changes in scheduling of drugs, and physicians continuing to refill IR opioids for long periods of time. I told Kyle he's right and that's right and I'm talking to physicians about that to. Explained OxyContin dosing and conversions and converting patients from IR oxycodone to q12 oxycodone. Kyle told me that the typical quantity of Percocet is 120 and its not as cheap as it was before April this year. Kyle said the 5mg is still around $30-40 but the 7.5 and 10mg have gone up over $100 for that quantity.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/11/2014	Talked about the butrans program. Reviewe appropriate patient type for butrand and OxyContin, reviewed dosing
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/11/2014	Dr came back quickly to say hello. Reviewed atc chronic pain patient and discussed dosing options of OxyContin. And Butrans. Dr said what's Butrans. Talked about dosing. Of the patch and initiation guide. Highlighted managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	9/11/2014	Dr was not familiar with the reformulation of the OxyContin, reviewed pages 16 of core visual aids talked about the dosing of OxyContin and pointed out the range of dose options. Reviewed the indication and bridged to Butrans. Dr never heard of Butrans. Dr said he does write Tramadol and norco for chronic pain patients. We talked about the molecule and dosing. Reviewed what is atc to him. Dr said if someone has pain several times a day and if two pills a day won't cover the patients pain. We talked about those patients who are appropriate and giving them option of Butrans. Explained dosing, abuse potential and schedule three. Talked about refills with schedule three. Talked about adverse reactions and used the Butrans core aid to show the profile. I asked him if he had patients that would like the dosing option? He said yes. Talked about med d coverage Nd the elderly profile of both products. Reviewed dose adjustment information about Butrans and OxyContin. Highlighted no first pass process with butrans. I asked the doctor how the information sounded to him so far and he said good. I asked if he could it this afternoon if he saw a patient like we discussed he said maybe. After he left, I spoke to the nurses about managed care and coupons. The nurses said they never go into the sample closet or pull Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed Butrans Initiation/Titration, Along with OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths. Said He will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	9/11/2014	I asked dr how he feels about patients being treated in 4-6 hour increments who have pain on a daily, around the clock basis? Dr said he doesn't even want to treat pain. I told him I'd bet he still prescribes analgesics for pain though. Dr said he does. I told him he's got two possible solutions for patients in daily around the clock pain in OxyContin and Butrans. Told dr about appropriate patient goes for each. Dr said he's thought about Butrans few times. I asked him what kept him from using it? Dr said he actually wasn't sure how to use it. I told dr I appreciate his truthfulness and reviewed the initiation and titration guide along with the Scott profile. I asked dr if she will just try it in his next tramadol or Norco patient meeting the indication? Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Savings cards along with Butrans, Initiation/Titration and Savings cards, Said ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	9/11/2014	Discussed OxyContin/Butrans Savings cards with Troy Rph, said most patients are covered and team follow thru with savings. Said also since Dr. Goforth has moved to Neuro dept. hasn't seen as much Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/11/2014	Discussed dosing and the scheduling of each product. Taked patch placement with Butrans and reviewed side affect profile of Butrans via core visual aid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/11/2014	Reviewed dosing and scheduling of each product. Reviewed FDA insight and showed oxycotin visual aid pages 16. Reviewed where to place the Butrans patch.
	Stow	OH	44224	9/11/2014	I asked dr if she will commit to reviewing her patients continuing on IR opioids who have been on them for 3 months or longer as candidates for OxyContin or Butrans? Dr said she doesn't have too many continuing on them but can do that. I told her that's great and her patients may like to have the option. Dr agreed. Nothing. Else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/11/2014	Quick meeting/introduction with the doctor, staff out of the office. She would love to schedule meeting with me, but please call the office tomorrow. Told her what. Promote and that I would like to talk about her patients in around the clock pain and when an ER medication is appropriate from her perspective. She said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	9/11/2014	Quick hi! He appreciated the resources but doesn't have time to talk. He said that butrans is working well and that he can always use more of the patient resources. Pulled thru med d win and that I hope to talk more when I see him in Beachwood next week and that I was hoping to hear who/ when a patient is appropriate for ER meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/11/2014	Led with the hydrocodone insight and then took him to the Bus 3015 trial in the MVA. Discussed the study objective, inclusion and exclusion criteria and results. I asked dr if he'd be happy with at least a 30% reduction in pain score? Dr said of course. I asked him if he sees pain conditions outlined in the inclusion criteria? Dr said he sees them all and he is treating pain more than he'd even like. I told him if that's true he may be looking for options or solutions. I read him the indication and asked him to identify existing patients who are currently on IR opioids and have daily, around the clock pain. Dr said alright. Reminded him that a second solution could be OxyContin for those on IR oxycodone and in pain around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/11/2014	Met with Glenn in the hospital about Jake Sisko requiring additional information on the warnings with Butrans and seizures. Discussed the need for additional information which I have already sent to Purdue. I asked Glenn how things are going with Butrans and he said better but is doing PAs for every product including even a pain compounding cream. Discussed the rescheduling of hydrocodone to a CII and Glenn said it should mean much more business for the schedule 3 Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/11/2014	Spoke with Donna who is a floater pharmacist for the day. Introduced Butrans and attributes, conversions and patient types. Showed her the placebo patch and then discussed OxyContin as a q12 solution of oxycodone. Showed her to conversions and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/11/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok was running behind will discuss at Grace Hospital next
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/11/2014	Visited Dept (Falman,Dobbie,Lagman,Davis, Etc) OxyContin/Butrans initiation/Titration, Savings card

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/12/2014	Discussed over lunch his ability to consider Butrans more frequently but continuing to follow the protocol he set for for the practice of 3-4 pm medicines then trailing Butrans. Dr said with his limited office time he does pretty well. I told him I agree but there is always the ability to continuing to reassess his existing patients on IR opioids. Dr said he will. Discussed pain awareness month and left patient information. Discussed Butrans inclusion and exclusion criteria and Patch rotation and not going back to the original site for 21 days. Dr said he forgot about that. Discussed OxyContin dosing and when he's using it. Dr said he's actually been using it more frequently because most of the referrals they are getting are on oxycodone and its making sense if he can justify opioid treatment to convert them to oxycodone. I asked for continued conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Dr said he never writes OxyContin. Nor will he ever. I asked if it was the molecule or the dosing every 12 hours that makes you hesitant. The dr said it was the name. I said so if the name was Butrans you would write it for appropriate patients? Dr said what is Butrans. Reviewed basics. Dr said it seemed like a interesting option. I asked if he saw someone ext hour if he felt comfortable enough to start a patient. Dr said no. Dr said he needs to read more about it. I gave him an Initiation guided a Butrans study to review.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Led off with tramadol insight and then discussed Butrans attributes, conversions, schedule 3,7 day transdermal system. Scott profile and then dr asked about how it works. Reviewed mechanism of action from MVA and asked him if he will try it in a patient who has daily, around the clock pain? Dr said ok and he will consider it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	9/15/2014	Talked with John the pharmacist. Told him about the messages we are giving doctors for patients in around the clock pain, and where ER opioid might be appropriate. He thought that sounds good. Doctor. Hernandez seems to write the most in the area so he thought I should see him too.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	9/15/2014	Got to know doctor more personally today. He has 4 kids, he is Mexican, wife Chinese, he speaks all three languages and he is originally from Minnesota. He thinks Butrans works very well for his patients in chronic pain and feels that the maximum dose should be higher than 20 mcg. He tells all of his patients to go off of ibuprofen because he feels that it is very bad drug, told me to google it. He has no problem with the "good old standby" OxyContin, but for his patient population, butrans is what he prefers for patients in around the clock pain. He thinks doctors over use the Vicodin and Percocet's, but does think that OxyContin is appropriate for some
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Quick discussion with Sarah the pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin. She said she is familiar with OxyContin and has all doses in stock and knows a little about Butrans. Sarah said she thinks they have one patient on it. Discussed attributes, schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch. Dosing, conversions and appropriate patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/15/2014	Doctor said that the DEAs all over them and doesn't want them writing opioids. He said that he will not write narcotics. We discussed the abuse deterrent properties of OxyContin, but he said he will not write it. Sounds like he was not aware of the requirements of pain management and is under scrutiny. We talked that maybe schedule 3 butrans might be an option for some of his patients who are in around the clock pain. Reviewed the dosing and titration, who an appropriate patient might be and that it is an option for him. He wouldn't commit to trying it because he just seemed really frustrated by the limitations he feels are out on physicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/15/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin 7 tablet strengths every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he will discuss with attendings, will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Discussed atc dosing and the options like OxyContin and Butrans. Follow up win the Butrans dinner program, am. Dr said he enjoyed the speaker and he found it helpful. I asked him if it made sense to switch to a control release product for the appropriate patient type after Tramadol to Butrans. Dr said it depends but maybe. Highlighted a few commercial plans Nd reminded of the coupons for oxycotinand butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	9/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, along with Butrans for those Tramadol failures requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Speaking with office manager Linda and dr walked up to say hello. Dr asked me what's new and I told him about the OxyContin and Butrans indication. I told him I'm hoping he is converting patients to OxyContin or Butrans in appropriate patients who have daily, around the clock pain. Dr said he likes the way the indication is worded and asked me about Medicaid coverage. I asked why he's interested to know? Dr said that they are going to possibly trial having one day a week in each office as their Medicaid patient day. Dr said it may not work but they are hoping to keep their heads on just Medicaid patients in one day which may make it easier. I told him that's not a bad idea and reviewed coverage. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	9/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Formulary grids along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said He will consider for appropriate patients, Nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Talked about giving patients who have atc chronic pain an option like OxyContin and Butrans, highlighted the lowest of each dose and dosing. Reminded of scheduling and what that means in terms of refills and faxing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Reviewed dosing and scheduling of each product. Talked Butrans patch placement

Left protect your pharmacy brochure/RX patrol sticker/discussed and left 2 9/14 PAP pain awareness brochures. Kelly asked if Butrans can still be called/faxed in? Yes, I replied.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Talked about managed. Care, refills with their appropriate scheduling status and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Coffee with drs today. Discussed atc dosing for chronic pain patient and what was the downside to offering a patient a control release OxyContin or Butrans option if they were appropriate. Dr said cost. Dr said he has been trying to think of OxyContin earlier before his patients get to 4 or more doses of OxyCodone. Reviewed Extended release insight and also reviewed Butrans dosing and pal. Results of opioid naieve study.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Met w med assts at front desk. DR just walked into room - running behind. Discussed Butrans patient guides, then left 3. Left laminated pain scales and OxyContin fpi. Discussed BWC/Medicare D pull through, for both
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Dr stopped in on his way to nursing home. Highlighted products, dosing, indication and managed care of both products. I tried to schedule another visit with the dr cause our time was short today. It they said I could get other lunch and hope for better luck next time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Saw dr thru window, reviewed managed care for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44143	9/15/2014	Met w med asst at front window. Left packet of info for Dr. Papirova. Discussed both products as ER opioids, for their patients with daily, atc, long term pain. Left OxyContin fpi, one laminated pain scale, 1 9/14 Pain awareness brochure, 1 Butrans initiation guide and 1 patient guide (left same for Drs. Papirova/Petroff)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/15/2014	Hallway. Primary care insight. Pam profile presented, OxyContin geriatric trial data, using FPI. Today, when you see patient like Pam, who needs an ER opioid, Please keep low dose OxyContin in mind (start 10 mg) OR Butrans (starting dose) Ok replied Dr. Park.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Spoke to the nurses about the Butrans program. highlighted scheduling and managed care with them on both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Hts	OH	44143	9/15/2014	Hallway. Findings: DR VILINSKY ON VACATION/2 WKS/BACK SEPT 29. Dr Stancus,said I don't have time to listen. Can I sign? No, I responded: the next time you go to refill an ir opioid, I propose you re assess that rx; and consider an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans; when patients need daily, atc, opioid for long term. Left OxyContin fpi. Left BUP 3024 study, asked him to read. Left Butrans iniation guide, 1 patient guide. Left pack of protect your meds at home for all HCP's.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Lunch. Tramadol insight. Then discussed Butrans matrix technology and used CNP page in core vis aid. Other Butrans prodct attributes discussed include: no first pass metabolism, no dose adjustment needed for renal, mild/moderate hepatic impaired. Asked Karen today, this week, when she goes to refill an ir OPIOID, consider if patient might need rather, an ER opioid like Butrans or OxyContin if pain is daily, atc, long term. Medicare D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Discussed his role working with the residents. We reviewed what he thought they knew about OxyContin. And Butrans. The dr said...what is Butrans. I said point in case. Reviewed the chronic pain patient who needs atc therapy. Gave the extended release insight, dr said he doesn't treat many chronic pain patients. We talked about the hypothetical patient he may see next. Focused on after Tramadol for Butrans and after norco for OxyCotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Reviewed scheduling in terms of refills for each products. Reviewed dosing and Initiation guide for Butrans.

Dr said he has had great luck with Butrans....I asked him why he likes it. Dr said its easy. We got into a discussion on why he thinks Butrans s is an easy product for patients. Dr said dosing and refills. We talked about OxyContin dosing...and managed care
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Told dr that he can be using Butrans for his patients before he goes to a generic ER morphine and it will be cost effective for commercial patients, Medicare and caresource with a PA. Dr said he knows but has to do what works for his patients. I told him I understand and asked him to just try it in the right patient and allow it to prove itself. Dr said ok. Left him copy cards and asked him to use his BEP kits. I asked him when his last day is and he said October 3.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/15/2014	Reviewed the atc patient type that may be appropriate for chronic pain medication. Dr said she sees spinal stenosis and osteoarthritis the most. I asked how comfortable was she treating chronic pain such as the patients she described for me. Dr said is he will usually try two pain medications but if they need further adjustments she will refer the. To pain management. Reviewed the norco patient to OxyContin and positioned a failed Tramadol patient to Butrans. Dr was unfamiliar with the details of Butrans so we reviewed Initiation, patch placement and use of break thru medications. Dr said she will think about Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/15/2014	Doctor said he is happy to see me but is hoping I come back soon next week because he is behind. I asked him if he has started anyone on butrans or OxyContin lately? He said he has started a few patients. He wanted to know how often he can titrate with OxyContin. I told him he can titrate with every 1-2 days. Asked him when he typically follows up with his patients and he said usually one month unless they call him. He asked if I could stop in again next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	9/15/2014	Reviewed with Tech, OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/15/2014	Pharmacist was busy, said they really don't do a lot of narcotics. She liked that I was talking to physicans about where ER opioids might be appropriate for some patients in around the clock pain. She feels comfortable with butrans dosing, told her it can be titrated at 3 days. She did not need savings cards right now.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	9/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans with Tech Barb, Initiation/Titration, Savings cards, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Lunch. Discussed product attributes for OxyContin including single entity opioid, indicated for patients with daily, atc, long term pain. Dr. Reed says OxyContin is so difficult to titrate and to get covered. About 5 yrs ago, she stated she had no issues. Over past few years and especially over past few months, very difficult. For which plans I asked: for all, commercial, medicaid, medicare - it's creeping into commercial patients most recently. All the step edits make it difficult to sue your products. She states its much easier to get Nucynta and Opana ER. She states: ideally she would like to write q8: 1 tablet in am and 2 tablets in pm. She stated a "titration pack" is needed - she states they do that with anti-seizure & other branded meds. She says its inconvenient and costly for her to write OxyContin, because patient has more office visits, more co pays and has to depend on someone driving them to their appts; since you are not supposed to drive when starting an ER opioid until you know how it effects you. For Butrans, she states she recently had great success with female patient who found she had allerby/intolerance to Tylenol. Patient says it's working great. She also thinks a 14-day starter pack/would be great for OxyContin. She feels plans making it difficult for patients with legitimate pain to get relief/prooper pain control. Let Dr. Reed know about 14-day savings card opportunity with OxyContin with 14-day rx for OxyContin. She replied, that's a start.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Lunch. Focused on product attributes and verbatim indication (s). For patients who've followed your therapy ladder, pain still not controlled on non opioid or ir opioid - consider OxyContin or Butrans to match patients pain schedule. OxyContin: steady state 24-36 hrs, so ability to titrate to another strength in just 1-2 days, single entity, similar AE's in clinical studies in young/old subjects. Dosing flexibility/7 strengths. Proven efficacy since 1996, FDA approved tiered labeling. Butrans: single entity opioid, no first pass metabolism, dosing flexibility, matrix technology/not reservoir, can be called/faxed in. reminder $30 savings OxyContin; trial/savings Butrans. Medicare D pull through.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Quick hello at counter as she brought a patient up for checkout. Told Stephanie about the new indications for Butrans and OxyContin and told her to identify patients who have daily, around the clock pain. She said ok and is still really only seeing more acute pain. I told her sometimes acute pain manifests into around the clock pain and there would be the opportunity. Stephanie said that makes sense and she does see that. She asked for the Butrans conversions. Gave her a initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Caught dr in hallway and told him he should be writing Butrans this week. I told him to identify motivated patients who are continuing on tramadol and he is either considering refilling it or moving to Norco. I told him if the patient is in pain on a daily around the clock basis that is his Butrans patient. Showed him the conversions and asked for him to write this week again. Dr said alright and he has been looking. Showed him the OxyContin conversions from the MVA and told him to also identify patients who are already on oxycodone and are in pain to write oxycodone q12.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/15/2014	Met w pharmacy mgr David Braginsky. Discussed, left non branded Purdue resources such as 9/14 PAP pain awareness brochure and protect your pharmacy brochure. Left OxyContin reformulation folder, Butrans fpi and 1 Butrans patient guide. Communication gap; difficult to engage. Discussed Oxycontin as a CII, single entity, ER opioid for daily, atc, long term pain. Discussed Butrans as CIII, 1x week patch (every 7 days reinforced). Asked him to call me if he has any questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Asked Dee up front to speak with dr Dy to follow up from lunch appointment. Ended up speaking with dr and told her again about the IR oxycodone insight and told her its important so it bears repeating. I asked her if see currently has patients continuing on IR oxycodone. Dr said not many but yes. I showed her the conversions and asked for her its a 1:1 conversion and to just change the delivery to q12 when the patient has pain on a daily, around the clock basis. Dr said ok. Dr asked me about Butrans and to review the conversions. Reviewed them from the MVA and asked her to use it when a patient on tramadol needs a dose adjustment and also has pain around the clock. Dr said great. I asked if she will use it and she said when she finds the right one.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Recapped our last discussion and started off with tramadol insight. Dr told me that she doesn't want to treat pain at all and especially ER opioids. I asked dr if she refills or writes IR opioids? Dr said she doesn't want to but does. I told her I get she has refilled them at least three times...dr agreed. I told her that she is already treating pain around the clock which is for ER opioids but she is doing it in 4-6 hour increments. Dr said I'm right and doesn't know what to do and said she ok with referring. I told her that's ok to refer but told her there are patients who are motivated to get their pain under control. I reviewed Scott profile, attributes, placebo patch, application sites and conversions. She said she will write. Reviewed copy cards. Discussed OxyContin dosing, conversions and start principles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will help in discussing with Fellows
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/15/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, 7tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock pain, Said Ok will keep it in mind
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Discussed the IR oxycodone insight and discussed using OxyContin for his patients already on IR oxycodone. Discussed start principles, attributes, q12 dosing, and patient type selection. Reviewed Butrans dosing, indication, conversions, mechanism of action, partial mu agonist, and Scott profile. Discussed treating daily, around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Dr talked about using in Hospice and they would not approve it. Talked about the insurances he uses the most and where Butrans and OxyContin are covered.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Recapped our last discussion about Butrans discussing attributes, Scott profile, dosing, conversions, and identifying appropriate candidates. Told dr that he cannot continue to treat daily, around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Discussed indication and referring he might be doing for pain patients. I told him there may be come patients he continues to refill IR opioids for who may be candidates for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	9/15/2014	Met w tech Tay. Also quick hello to pharmacist Mala. Left Tay with OxyContin reformulation folder, Butrans FPI & 2 Butrans patient guides. Left 2 9/14 PAP pain awareness brochures. Since it's Monday, Tay doesn't have time to check stocking for my products. Left business card, asked Tay/Mala to call w any questions. Confirmed Steven Liko remains as pharm mgr/ narcotics buyer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/15/2014	Talked to sue about the OxyContin savings cards and that she needs to discuss with the patient she had in last time with no insurance and couldn't afford it. I told Sue to speak with the patient about the ability of the card being used twice in the month every 14 days. Sue said she didn't know that and that the patient is due in later this week and will discuss it with her. I asked when they order and receive their scheduled medicines? Sue said they get shipments every day of the week and Gilbert and Jessica order the scheduled medicines. She said they just order them when they need them and do it through their on line ordering system.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	9/16/2014	Discussed with Floater Anne Rph, reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Savings cards, Butrans patient info booklets, said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	9/16/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans Med D opportunity, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	9/16/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans Initiation/Titration, Med D formulary opportunities along with Savings Cards. Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients. Confirmed lunch appt for next month.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/16/2014	Spoke with Amy the pharmacist and discussed the OxyContin indication and solution that OxyContin brings to patients who have pain on a daily, around the clock basis. Amy said she agrees and that they dispense a lot of short acting opioids every day. I told her that's a serious issue because these drs are treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hour increments. Reviewed dosing, conversions and appropriate patient types for both OxyContin and Butrans. Amy said that she thinks they have a handful of patients on it. Discussed copy cards and patient resources with Partners Against Pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	9/16/2014	Reviewed with Marge Rph OxyContin and Butrans patient info booklets, Med D opportunities, Said Ok will continue to advise when appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/16/2014	Spoke with Ken the pharmacist and discussed Butrans indication, dosing, schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch, conversions and application sites. Ken said he has dispensed it a couple of times and said Butrans might be utilized more when hydrocodone goes to a schedule 2 in October. I told him I hope he's right. Discussed OxyContin attributes, conversions and 1:1 ratio with Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	9/16/2014	Quick review of OxyContin Savings cards along with Butrans 7 Day transdermal for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	9/16/2014	I was handing information to the receptionist when the doctor came up. Told her that this is information for her review, that may benefit her patients in around the clock pain. Told her I promote OxyContin and butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	9/16/2014	Does she consider ER opioids for her patients in around the clock pain? She said yes she writes a small amount of OxyContin, but doesn't start with that. She hasn't really used butrans. Reviewed that is is 7 day schedule 3 transdermal pain patch. She took the titration guide and had to leave.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	9/16/2014	Quick introduction. They don't see to many scripts for ER opioids, but think that the doctors write too many IR. She had called doctors about their prescribing but they are never to receptive. Reviewed abuse deterrent properties which she is impressed with, but says it's probably not enough. Reviewed butrans dosing and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44278	9/16/2014	Visited Pain/Onc dept. OxyContin / Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with Savings cards
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/16/2014	Spoke with dr through the window and told him the indication for OxyContin and then told him the indication for OxyContin. I told him I'm hoping he can identify patients already on IR oxycodone who are now meeting the indication for q12 oxycodone. Dr said it makes sense and asked for a dosing guide. Gave him a conversion and titration guide and reminded him its. 1:1 conversion with Percocet and OxyContin is a single entity opioid. Dr said ok and he will try and look. I told him to also take a look at the dosing and patient types appropriate for Butrans. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/16/2014	Met w Dr. Azar in his personal office. Dr says OxyContin is hard to get covered recently and they don't allow use of OxyContin in Hospice Centers any longer. He perceives product to be expensive. Discussed formulary updates/commercial/cash $30 monthly cop pay for any strength. For patients taking LESS than 80 mg morphine equivalent, Butrans would be appropriate. Since Butrans is CIII, it can be called /faxed in w refills. Discussed BUP 3024/3015. Opioid naive/experienced dosing/using Butrans initiation guide. Dr. Azar, says, I probably should use Butrans more. I told him I will be back next week to remind him!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	9/16/2014	Quick Butrans reminder for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12hours Said ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44112	9/16/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	9/16/2014	Good discussion over lunch and spoke with dr about Butrans Bup 3015 and hydrocodone insight. Dr said that he agrees with the data and he finds that hydrocodone going schedule 2 might make it easier to trial Butrans. I told him I hop that holds true. Reviewed conversions and where he's using it most? Dr said that most of his referrals are on either moderate doses of hydrocodone or Percocet so he's trying Butrans as soon as he can. Dr told me that the Kent office now with Unity along with Rigby, wells, Shanafelt, Uhall have all given him patients and he's almost over busy. Dr said he may be adding a NP. Discussed ixchintin strep bytes, doses and conversions. Copy cards and partners against pain resources.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	9/16/2014	font color=blue>CHUDAKOB's query on 09/29/2014Is this a new product I am not aware of? "Discussed ixchintin strep bytes, doses and conversions.REICHCL's response on 10/14/2014Got it. OxyContin. Great to know you are ready so closely.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 10/16/2014When pain patients come in they usually have the information they need from their doctors. They want to understand how many pills they can take and when. She thinks they might take more than they need because they are " afraid " of the pain. I asked what she thought of ER instead of IR for that patient if they are in around the clock pain? She said there is an absolute benefit to ER for patients in chronic pain because their pain is managed and they don't have to be worrying about their pills as much.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View	OH	44125	9/16/2014	Presented to RPH staff and Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Presented OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hour, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D update along with Savings cards,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/16/2014	Quick hallway. Left Dr Park OxyContin conversion guide/fpi, Butrans fpi and initiation guide. Also left "protect your meds at home" brochures for both HCPs. Asked Dr park, to consider OxyContin for trusted patients who need daily, atc, opioid long term. For patients requiring less than 80 mg morphine equivalent, Butrans 1x week transdermal patch would be appropriate. Asked Dr Park to review both guides and will follow up next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	9/16/2014	I showed dr from the MVA the indication for Butrans and reviewed it with him. I told him that this week I want him to identify existing patients who are on some type of short acting product and have daily, around the clock pain. I asked dr if he would do that this week and when he's ready to refill the short acting products to ask himself if the patients condition presents them with daily, around the clock pain? Dr said he knows he needs to do that. I asked him if he would also identify just one patient on Percocet who also has pain around the clock and convert them to q12 oxycodone? Dr said alright. Reviewed insurance coverages.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	9/17/2014	Doctor doesn't really write ER except OxyContin because most of his patients come to him already on IR Percocet or Vicodin. Patients think that IR works better because that is what they are used to. When he tries other ER he just gets call backs from patients. He suggests the ER for appropriate patients, if they don't want it they can go somewhere else. He thinks oxycotin works well, he starts low and titrates up as needed. When reviewing butrans, he said that patients reject it whether it is working or not. He admitted he doesn't have much experience with it and thought it was cost prohibitive because of insurance. We spent time discussing who the appropriate patient might be. Reviewed, Pam as a possible patient he might see, opioid naive, or Tramadol patient that he doesn't want to titrate. We reviewed dosing and titration, managed care. He said he will prescribe it if he comes across the right patient type we discussed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/17/2014	quick wave and mentioned dosing options for oxycotin and when dosed. thats it. Spoke to the nurse kim and office manager lori for a while. They were able to get me a lunch on friday to talk with brian dyko and the doctor more
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	9/17/2014	Talked about the dosing and managed care for oxycotin and butrans. That's all.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	9/17/2014	I asked josh who he is seeing prescribing OxyContin most often? Josh said he sees it from Petrus, Jones and some from various other physicians. I asked him if he's noticing any switches from IR oxycodone to ER OxyContin? Josh said he's really not but said maybe other pharmacist at his location might be. Reviewed dosing and conversions and then discussed conversions for Butrans along with dosing and appropriate patient types like Scott.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/17/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans Med D opportunity, said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, asked Aurora for help reminding Dr
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/17/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Formulary along with Butrans CII, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider for appropriate patients,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/17/2014	Dr asked me how he should be dosing OxyContin? I asked him how he has been doing it? Dr asked me if its dosed every 12 hours and I told him yes. Dr said he's writing it bid and knew that wasn't right. I discussed the difference with him. Discussed when and where to use OxyContin and conversions. Reviewed Butrans dosing and appropriate patient types.

	Akron	OH	44313	9/17/2014	Able to get a minute with dr at window and showed him the OxyContin copy card and asked him if he has patients with private insurance who are on OxyContin? Dr said he has them. I reviewed the copayment card and use once in 14 days. Dr said he wasn't aware if it and told Tina his ma to locate those on OxyContin and discuss the card with them. I asked dr to please convert patients who have around the clock pain from Percocet to OxyContin. I also asked dr to please continue to find candidates for Butrans and also those that have Caresource,private insurance or select Medicare plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/17/2014	LUNCH. total office call. While waiting for all hcp's to come back to lunch; met with med assts to discuss both OxyContin and Butrans as single entity, ER opioids, for patients that (verbatim indication) Dr Ashraf: summarized last discussion from previous lunch. Medicare D pull through. Asked Dr today, this week, when he sees his next patient that is suffering from daily, atc, long term pain - I propose he write OxyContin and Butrans. Sound reasonable? Yes replied dr ashraf.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	9/17/2014	Returned- gave the pharmacist sme information on schedule 3 butrans and dosing. Talked about how to place the patch and discard the patch per the slim jim visual aid which I left behind for the pharmacist.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/17/2014	Reviewed dosing and scheduling of both products. reviewed the patch placement and how to discard.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	9/17/2014	Discussed OxyContin attributes with Rod and conversions. I asked him if he is seeing any new prescriptions and Rod said he sees it pretty frequently but almost all of them are refills. Rod said that he isn't seeing any patients being converted from Percocet to OxyContin. I reviewed the copy cards for OxyContin and one use in 14 days. Reviewed Butrans Scott profile and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/17/2014	in an effort to increase my frequency I stopped in to see the office, asked if I could do anything for them and if they needed coffee or if the doctor wanted a snack. But they said yes they can't do anything like that causey of new hospital rules. They appreciated the offer they said. I left literature of both products and highlighted a few managed care plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/17/2014	CHANGED REPS HOURS ALLOWED: only Wed am now, 10-11:30. Met w med asst asst at front. Left packet of info for Dr. Solomon including: OxyContin reformulation guide, conversion guide, Butrans fpi, Pam profile, initiation guide. (left same for Drs. Sahlani & Kendis)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/17/2014	Short conversation with Elise about the types of patients she is starting on OxyContin. Elise said it works most of the time taking a referred patient on Percocet and switch them to OxyContin. Elise said that the problem is getting it approved because lots of them have Medicaid or Medicare and they are tough to get approved. Spoke with Brittany who does the PA's and she said she gets at least one a week and the approvals are about 70% denied because they want methadone or some other ER opioid before OxyContin. Elise said she usually has to write a letter to get OxyContin approved because she thinks the plan doesn't even really look at the previous failures. Elise said that usually gets the approval. Discussed Butrans with approvals as well and she said its easier to get approved and finds that Caresource is the easiest for Medicaid. Asked Elise for continued business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/17/2014	talked about butrans and oxycontin scheduling and dosing. reviewed the lowest dose of each product and titration. highlighted a few major insurance plans and covered coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/17/2014	Lunch. Summarized last discussion/last lunch. Focused on OxyContin product attributes including proven efficacy since 1996, similar AE's in young and elderly, steady state 24-36 hrs,ability to titrate if needed in 1-2 days. Opioid naive doses: 10 mg, every 12 hr release of oxycodone; FDA draft guidance. Butrans, matrix technology, 7-day transdermal patch; steady state 72 hrs; tolerable in opioid naive/tolerant, dosing flexibility, no first pass metabolism. Asked for business today, remainder of week; when you have a patient that is suffering from pain daily, atc, long term: keep OxyContin and Butrans "top of mind." Sound reasonable? Yes, replied Dr.Med D pull lunch. Product attributes for OxyContin including: proven efficacy since 1996, single entity opioid, steady state 24-36 hrs/can titrate in 1-2 days, 7 strengths. Product attributes for Butrans discussed including: no first pass metabolism, no dose adjustment for renal, mild/moderate impairment; steady state 72 hours; dosing flexibility. Med D pull through. Discussed & let, 9/14 PAP pain awareness brochure, protect your meds at home brochure. PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/17/2014	Met new stow office manager Anna and was discussing products with her in hallway in back of office and dr Fouad came up and I asked him if he's continuing to prescribe OxyContin for his patients needing a q12 opioid? Dr said he is and said its his go to ER opioid. I told him that's great and then reviewed e copaycard to dr and Anna. I asked dr if he will continue to prescribe Butrans for those failing tramadol or Norco? Dr said he uses it but OxyContin is his go to. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	9/17/2014	Short discussion about OxyContin and Butrans and told her to focus on patients who come back for follow up appointments and taking IR opioids around the clock for pain. Dr said she is already starting to pay closer attention. I told her to let me know when she has questions. I told her to continue using Butrans because she has not only had good clinical success but there is opportunity amongst her existing patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	9/17/2014	I asked dr how often he is telling his patients continuing on IR oxycodone the option of the q12 oxycodone? Dr said not enough. Dr said he really doesn't have many patients on Percocet more than twice a day but said he has so e that take them 3-5 times a day. I told dr those are the ones that may be appropriate for OxyContin. Dr agreed. I reviewed the Butrans patch attributes with him and told him I want him to try it and he said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	9/17/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,abuse deterrent characteristics, along with Butrans Med D formulary opportunities, Said Ok will continue to consider for appropriate patients, Asked John for help reminding Dr.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44124	9/17/2014	Lunch. Penny has limited office hours, as she's responsible for the practice's hospital visits. What opioids she can select for in patients at hospital, depends on what opioids are available per hospital pharmacy. Asked her to consider both of my products for patients she sees during office hours. Primary care insight, then product attributes for both products. Focused on low dose OxyContin, 10 mg opioid naive dose, gender differences in oxycodone clearance; differences in dosing for elderly/elderly, debilitated. Dose 1/2 to 1/3 patients taking CNS depressants. (all from fpi) FDA guidance, abuse Every 12 hour release of oxycodone, patients directed to take 1 tablet 8 am, 1 tablet 8 pm. Left conversion guide/showed START principles. Butrans: using slider doser; discussed opioid naive start dose & opioid experienced start dose. Butrans (using NP/PAP page in Butrans core vis aid), matrix technology, 1 x/week transdermal patch, tolerated in opioid naive (BUP 3014) and experienced. Can be called/faxed in. Formulary, Medicaid, Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/17/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, referred to David PA
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/17/2014	Lunch. The next time you see a patient with daily, atc, long term pain; I'd like you to consider an ER opioid like OxyContin or Butrans. Delivered primary care insight. You have 2 good options: OxyContin, CII, controlled release tablet, offering release of oxycodone every 12 hrs. Butrans, CIII, transdermal patch, matrix technology, 7 days of buprenorphine release. Patients receive 4 patches per month. Butrans can be called/faxed in. Med D pull through. Showed, left 1 Butrans patient guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/17/2014	Spoke with dr and Brittany about a patient that dr had who he prescribed OxyContin for the first time and the PA was denied because ER morphine is the product of choice first before UHC Community Plan would pay for it. I asked Brittany to make me copy of the PA and the denial. While reviewing the previous medicines the patient had tried and failed I noticed that Brittany wrote morphine 15mg once a bedtime. I asked dr Vucetic if the patient had been on Morohine IR or ER? Dr looked up the information and it showed that the patient did try and fail MS Contin. Brittany said she write it wright on the PA and will call UHC today to get corrected so they can approve OxyContin. Reviewed OxyContin copy card and Butrans patient types who have has 3-4 prns and need an ER option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/18/2014	spoke to dr about oxycontin dosing and the fda insight and pages 15 of the core visual aid. dr mentioned the move hydrocodone products are making to schedule 2 and I asked her if butrans being just about the only opioid left in that category will be used more for appropriate patients now. She thought it would. I reminded her if she happens to see a patient that needs an atc pain medication that butrans and oxycontin were covered on many plans- I named a few. And asked her if she would write if she saw someone appropriate. Dr said yes.CHUDAKOB's query on 09/29/2014-Lisa, this is somewhat of a slippery slope. By saying that Butrans is about the only product left in the category AFTER she is telling you about hydrocodone going to CII, could have implications. Why would that matter to her? Does she believe CIIIs are less abuseable. Is the implication there? I hope you see where I am going. Perhaps another approach might be to just ask her how this will affect what she does in her practice? We will discuss this more at our district meeting.BARTOLI's response on 10/01/2014-Agree. It was not my intention to imply anything, rather to offer options if she is looking for a c3 product for appropriate patients.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/07/2014I know it wasn't your intention. We just have to be cognizant of this during a conversation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/18/2014	Discussion with Jake Sisko in the hospital about the emfir he requested. Jake said that he did the information via email the same day and is happy with the results and will help him with his patient who has a history of seizures. I reminded him to continue identifying patients who have pain around the clock and need conversion from IR opioids like tramadol. I asked Jake if he would continue to also find and candidates referred to him on Percocet and convert them to OxyContin? Jake said he continue to try.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/18/2014	Spoke with Christine the other pharmacist at this location. She asked me if I was aware of the scheduling change to come for hydrocodone ? I told her I do. I asked her if currently they are getting refills on the prescriptions for hydrocodone. Christine looked through the ones they currently have to fill and none of them have refills on them. She told me that as long as comprehensive pain management isn't showing refills they are good. I asked her why that is and she said that many of the prescriptions for pain come from that office. Discussed Butrans and OxyContin dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/18/2014	Reviewed dosing of both product and scheduling.CHUDAKOB added notes on 09/29/2014-This sure is a tough note to know what happened on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/18/2014	I asked dr if he's been having some issues with Butrans either not being approved or patients not wanting it? Dr said not really and asked why. I told him I just want to make sure he still feels confident with Butrans. Dr said he is and his use just ebs and flows based on the patients he's seeing. I told him ok and to please continue looking for candidates who have pain around the clock. Dr said alright.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	9/18/2014	spoke to the nurse about butrans and oxycontin coupons. discussed managed care with the products and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	9/18/2014	discussed oxycontin pages 15 of the core visual aid and dosing and scheduling. highlighted butrans dosing and scheduling with karen. doctor was not in the office today
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	9/18/2014	offered to bring in lunch but they said they were too far behind to have lunch. Dr was appreciative for the offer. I asked the doctor if he thought butrans would be written more being that it was just about the only schedule 3 opioid left these days. Dr said what's the dosing again. I said dr if your tramadol patient or norco patient is in need of a change ofmedication for an atc treatment for their cronic pain then burrans dosed weekly started at 5 or 10 mcg might be appropriate. Dr said whats the cost. I said with insuranc eand a coupon...discussed. highlighed workers comp and caresource coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	9/18/2014	the nurse said the butrans rep is here to talk to you- i said hello- said I was just curious with tramadol being scheduled and butrans being one of only refillable opioid schedule three...is it possible that if you have an appropriate patient atc cronic pain on tramadol that the next choice might be butrans? he said butrans can be refilled right. I said correct. reminded him of schedule three refills and being able to fax the script over vs. oxycontin which is a hand delivered script. he said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	9/18/2014	metro- only let me leave literature. I got some information from the nurse. I think she was a nurse or a nurse coordinator regarding some new targets qualifying them. highlighted the products promoted in dosing and

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/18/2014	I told dr I suppose he finds himself needing to titrate OxyContin to find the optimal dose? Dr said of course he does. I asked him when he decides to titrate and what triggers him? Dr said it depends on the patient but usually its due to pain level and functionality. Dr said if the patient is more functional based on a titrated dose then he and the patient are happy. I told dr I understand and reviewed doses and ability to titrate every 1-2 days. Reviewed Butrans doses and told dr to please continue finding patients who may be appropriate for a 7 day patch. Dr said he's had good success recently and really likes it because it works and its safe.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	9/18/2014	Shown dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and told her I'm hoping that she converts patients who have pain around the clock and on Percocet to OxyContin. Dr said ok. I told her Butrans should be used as the schedule 3,7 days transdermal patch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	9/18/2014	Quick intro, told her messages we are telling about patients in around the clock pain. Why treat those patients in 4-6 hour increments? She said that makes sense, and that is the patient that should be on ER medicine. She is comfortable with butrans initiation and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/18/2014	Started off with dr discussing the tramadol then hydrocodone insights. I reviewed the Butrans indication and told dr to focus on patients who have daily, around the clock pain. Reviewed starting doses, titration, and conversions. Use of Butrans along with products for breakthrough pain. Dr said that what she doesn't want is to start Butrans and then find herself in a position where the patient is on Butrans and then too much IR opioid. I told her to reduce the dose of the IR opioid after 3 days. I asked her if she has a threshold of IR opioid before she writes ER opioids or refers to pain management? Dr said she will go to 6 pills a day. I told her she is waiting too long for someone who is suffering in pain every day. Reviewed Scott profile and told her to focus on patients taking 3 or more pills a day and still in pain or wanting more pills. Dr said she agrees she needs to think of Butrans much earlier and not wait until the patient gets to 4 pills a day. Reviewed conversions and then discussed OxyContin doses and delivery.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	9/18/2014	Visited Pharm. Left Rebecca OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, along with Contact
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	9/18/2014	Lunch. Total office call. Delivered product attributes for Butrans and OxyContin to med assts. Also discussed, shared Butrans BPE kits and how they are different from regular savings cards only. (staff at first look - stated: we have those; because savings card holder/cards same color etc.) Dr Salama came in and reported AE with Butrans. (see details below, female, mid 30's - extreme red rash/discomfort, so bad he discontinued Butrans) Dr states despite that, he will continue to write Butrans. Dr asked how long does it take, after removal of Butrans for product to exit patients system? Replied from FPI, Section 12.3 Pharmacokinetics, 3rd column, above drug interactions: mean concentrations decrease approx 50% within 10-24 hrs., followed by decline with an apparent terminal half-life of approx 26 hrs. We also discussed steady state of 72 hrs or 3 days. Dr did NOT remember this point. Make sure to remind him again. Low dose OxyContin discussed, for patients who need more than 80 mg morphine equivalent; steady state 24-36 hrs, can titrate if needed, in 1-2 days. Today, tomorrow - when you have patient who suffering from daily, atc, long term pain, I propose you write either Butrans or OxyContin. Sound good? Yes, sounds good.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/18/2014	Reviewed Butrans indication and told dr to focus on patients with pain severe enough to justify a daily around the clock long term opioid. Dr said she's doing that now. I asked her if she currently has patients taking more than three pills a day and she has refilled it for 3+ months? Dr said she does. I asked her why she's waiting to convert them to Butrans? Dr said she doesn't know but she should be evaluating them better. Dr asked about multiple patches. Discussed that with MVA and asked her for more business. Told dr to keep her focus on CareSource for Medicaid and not Buckeye. Dr said she sent a buckeye patient to pain management and they wrote a prescription for Butrans as she got the note. Dr said she doesn't know if the patient actually got it and they paid for it. Told dr that OxyContin can be another good ER opioid for those requiring a q12 dose of oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/18/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients that he sending to Pain mgmt, Said Ok, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	9/18/2014	We discussed what it meant that oxycotin has abuse deterrent properties. used core oxycotin visual aid pages 14-15 to help. Talked dosing every 12 hours and the lowest dose of 10mg every 12 hour. bridged to their lowed dose of butrans 5mcg. reviewed initiation guide. Talked about hypothetical patients that he may potentially see that was being treated acutely but has turned into a chronic pain patient and is appropriate for a different delivery system. Dr said he doesn't see many patients like that but a few. covered caresource and refills with butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	9/18/2014	Met w tech & float pharmacist. Pharm Mgr Kelly Rhodes out sick. PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	9/18/2014	Dr was far away--I only got out butrans covered on caresource its still schedule 3 with refills. He said ok...and waved.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/18/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12 hours, Tablet strengths along with butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it mind
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/18/2014	Dr asked me what's new and I told him the use of Butrans for his Medicare patients who are having their IR opioids like Norco refilled month after month. Dr said yea I have some of those. I asked him if he feels treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hours is the most appropriate thing to do? Dr said its not but many of those patients are on a fixed income and typically can't afford branded medicines. I showed him the formulary grid and told him average costs associated with aarp and silverscript. Dr said that's pretty good. I told him about the conversions and asked him to write. Dr said he'll look into it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/19/2014	While I was talking with his nurse practitioner Eileen, he came in during our discussion, quick intro, listened for a few minutes, but didn't really participate. As she and I discussed butrans appropriate patients, steady state and titration he nodded his head in agreement. We reviewed formulary coverage and the success she has seen with OxyContin patients. He was called out of the room.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/19/2014	spoke to tracey the office manager. gave her the information about butrans scheduling and dosing and highlighted oxycotin schedule and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	BEACHWOOD	OH	44122	9/19/2014	Talked with Allison the pharmacist. Asked what happens if someone comes in with a script of butrans. She said they do keep a bit in stock, but if they don't have it they can order it and get it within a day or two. I told her there was word on the street that the script is "blocked". She said she filled one not too long ago. She told me that Butrans is considered a specialty drug, the script is filled at the store but the BILLING goes through a different internal route. She wasn't aware of any attempt to block the script. Left her my card and asked her to call me if she hears anything different. She did say she stock lower does of OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	9/19/2014	Quick hello with dr in hallway by sample closet and reviewed the Butrans conversion guide and asked him to focus on the Scott patient who is in pain on tramadol 200mg/day. Dr said he needs me reminding him because he tends to forget. I told him that's why I'm there and to also keep an eye on patients who are on Percocet and would be appropriate for a q12 OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/19/2014	Reviewed Butrans Savings Cards and Med D formulary opportunities along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours. Said Ok, Will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/19/2014	Talked to her about the success she has with OxyContin for her patients with around the clock pain and she is so happy that I was here today because she really wanted savings cards and information. She saw the butrans brochure and wanted to find out more about that. We reviewed appropriate patient types (opioid naive and Tramadol patient) dosing, titration, coverage. She reported that most of her patients seem to develop a rash/itching and want to discontinue. She wanted some help with how to handle that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	9/19/2014	Started with insight #8. He said that he will prescribe no more than 50 pills for month. If his patients come to him requesting more he will refer them to pain management. If his patients become chronic, he refers them. He used to write a great deal of Butrans, he was part of that study. He believes that the appropriate patient for it are older patients, but that insurance never covered it in the past. We discussed the elderly patients as appropriate but also the Tramadol patient who needs something different or titration. I pulled through our managed care coverage. He agreed to give butrans another try since I tell him that the coverage is better.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Chagrin Falls	OH	44022	9/19/2014	Regarding OxyContin, he avoids c2 products with his patients although he knows there are appropriate patients for that medicine. Let pain management decide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	9/19/2014	Talked to doctors MA Shelly who said that doctor writes for oxycotin and really needs savings cards. Talked about butrans, appropriate patient type, improved coverage, c2, initiation and titration. Would love to share this and other information with the doctor. She said she would pass the info to the doctor.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	9/19/2014	Quick hello at window and told dr that I'm hoping he continues to identify patients who have daily around the clock pain and prescribe OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said he's trying and just finds that referring to pain management which they have contracted to do through AGMC. I told him I understand and asked him to refer to pain management on an ER opioid instead of an IR opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	9/19/2014	talked about scheduling of each product. talked about dosing forbutrans and managed care.review of coupons for commercial patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	9/19/2014	talked about aarp and silverscript coverage for our products and dosing and highlighted scheduling via refills with butrans today.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/19/2014	I told dr about the IR oxycodone insight and asked him to please identify just one patient a week who meets the indication and has daily around the clock pain. Dr said he's is thinking about it more. Reviewed the Butrans Scott profile and asked him to also identify a patient ready for a dose adjustment on tramadol.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/19/2014	Talked about oxycotin and its schedule. I asked if he was more incline to write oxycotin for patients with atc pain? Dr said he likes to write methadone cause its cheap and he feels its covered easily. Talked about oxycotin dosing options and the every 12 hour dosed. np said he likes to write norco for elderly cause it has little apap. I said why not give them a single entity like butrans or oxycotin if you are concerned with the apap or tylenol. Dr said he could it was an option. We taked dosing of butrans and no first pass. Dr said he was aware it doesn't go thru first pass. I said don't you have certain patietns that may have renal clearance issues ? he said yes. I reviewed the no dose adjustment for those patients...and pointed it out that a atc chronic pain patient can be dosed 4 x a month with butrans. We talked about titration and refills, per his questions. dr sees patietns back in 2 weeks to a month. Reviewed managed care and coupons the experience program with butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/19/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans 7day transdermal CII, Initiation/Titration. Said Ok refers patients to pain mgnt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	9/19/2014	Dr told me that he rounded the hospital this morning and is fed up with patients always wanting their hydrocodone and oxycodone refilled and even titrated. Dr said he doesn't have time for it. I told him its a perfect opportunity to identify me as possible candidates for OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said possibly but said the couple of times he's written Butrans he gets burned by insurance and it becomes more difficult. I told him where and when to use OxyContin and used MVA to discuss conversions and start principles. Reviewed Scott profile and discussed insurance coverages. Dr said he will consider it. I told him to look for patients who have daily, around
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/19/2014	Talked about the fda insight and the reformulation, gave fair balance on abuse potential. Talked dosing, and scheduling. asked the doctor if oxycotin will be thought of more now that more options in schedule 2 and knowing oxycotin and the abuse properties in the labeling. Dr said...it was something to think about. We talked about the scheduling in terms of hand delivered scripts and monthly vs refills for schedule 3 products. Talked about giving butrans more opportunity after tramadol patients fail and request an atc medication for their chronic pain. Dr said maybe more butrans will be written because there aren't many choices. Discussed dosing but also the no first pass and what that really means for his patients. reviewed no dose adjustment for renal impaired...I asked if this is ever a concern when selecting opioids and he said sometimes. I reminded of no dose adjustment for elderly or renal impaired patients. we talkeda bout the refills of schedule 3 for butrans. dr said he likes butrans and will write it because it works and its covered by most insurances.

	Green	OH	44232	9/19/2014	Spoke with Jenna the pharmacist about Butrans attributes, conversions and Scott profile. Jenna said they have all doses in stock and have about 10 patients on it. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, and conversions and asked her if they have copy cards for each. Jenna said she's not sure she has ever seen a OxyContin copy card. Reviewed the cards for private insurance and cash patients. Jenna said that she knows a couple of patients that pay cash and would like to take advantage of up to $70 off in a 14 day period.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	9/19/2014	Reviewed with Emily Rph OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans savings cards. said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	NORTHFIELD	OH	44067	9/22/2014	Natalia said that they stock oxycontin, and see a fair amount of it through their pharmacy, but she has never dispensed butrans. She would never call a doctor and suggest he choose something else if they came in with a script for butrans. She would order it and it would come in a day or two later. She is not aware of any blocked products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/22/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin copy cards and checked stock. Told Gilbert about Butrans Scott profile and conversions along with which doses he's seeing most. Gilbert said he is seeing more 10mcg than 5mcg now and said he should be seeing more because pain specialists are having it filled most often. Reviewed OxyContin dosing and conversions along with appropriate patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/22/2014	Revised OxyContin Formulary grids along with Butrans indication, 7 day transdermal, CII, for those patient failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, said she will consider for appropriate patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/22/2014	Quick discussion about when he might be able to use Butrans clinically. Dr said he's still not seeing points for office visits so he said he doesn't have an opportunity. I asked him if he prescribes analgesics for patients after an intervention? Dr said he dos at times but his short acting and writes as few as possible. Mentioned OxyContin as a historical product with summit pain and why they can't use it going forward since Percocet is used so frequently in their office? Dr said we can discuss that when he has more time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/22/2014	Quick discussion in hallway and showed him the conversion guides for OxyContin and Butrans. I asked him if he's comfortable prescribing OxyContin for those patients who are in pain around the clock on Percocet? Dr said he is but isn't writing it much. I asked why and he said he's not sure and probably should take a look at his current patients. Asked him to keep Butrans on his radar for patients in pain around the clock on tramadol. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/22/2014	Spoke with the tech Sam about Butrans and OxyContin dosing, attributes and conversions. Sam asked about the patch and what it looks like. I showed him the placebo patch and explained its make up. I asked if they have filled any and he said one in the last 6 months. Discussed OxyContin outwint types and how to convert from IR oxycodone.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/22/2014	Started with the hydrocodone insight and then went into a quick review of Bup 3015. I asked Sandra what IR opioid her patients are on most frequently when she first sees them? Sandra said either Norco or Percocet. Sandra said she has to choose her patients wisely for Butrans because cost is an issue and its tough to get the patient off the short acting. I asked if she's currently attempting to reduce the total opioid daily dose and Sandra said yes and when that's been accomplished she looks at ER opioids like Butrans. I asked her when the last time she offered it to a patient and Sandra said she can't remember. I asked her to at least offer it to patients who have daily, around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/22/2014	Led off with hydrocodone insight and then asked her if she sees that in the practice? Sabrina said that most of the patients she sees come in on Percocet and have been on it for a long time. I asked her how long and she said some have been on Percocet for years and want nothing other than that because it works. I asked if those same patients come in wanting more because they are in pain? Sabrina said some do yes and said that she offers Butrans to almost everyone but said its really difficult to get them to understand what Butrans offers. I asked her to keep trying and reviewed the Bup 3015 trial. I asked her if a 30% reduction in pain score is what she and her patient would like and if the safety profile is acceptable? She said she is on board with Butrans and just needs to work on explaining it to her patients. I told her to review the initiation and titration guide and maybe she will find some wording that may be more impactful.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	9/22/2014	I gave dr the slide guide initiation and titration piece and told him I want him to keep it on his desk or in his labcoat. I told dr I want to see it with him when I come in next. Reviewed the conversions guide and told him he needs to stop titrating and moving to other IR opioids when the patient has a condition that creates pain on a daily around the clock basis. Dr said ok and he will find a few patients. Told him to keep OxyContin on his radar when patients come in on Percocet and need a dose adjustment.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	9/22/2014	Lou says he sees a lot of OxyContin but it has been a really long time since he has dispensed butrans. Giant eagle policy is to suggest authorized generic first, a specialty drug like butrans doesn't have one. He suspects that you have to jump thru a few hoops but that he would order it and wouldn't get any push back. He is not aware of any block.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44120	9/22/2014	Quick Butrans review, 7 day transdermal, CII, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours said Ok, will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/22/2014	Short conversation about choosing the right patient for Butrans and used the hydrocodone insight. Dr said he has found that when Butrans is offered to the patient they at first don't want it but dr said as he continues to discuss it with them as a good option they buy into a patch. Discussed Bup 3015 efficacy and safety and asked for continued prescribing.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	9/23/2014	Dr said that he was going to call me today because they had three new Butrans starts today. Dr said two of them were on workmans compensation and has plateaued on their IR opioids and thinks they were all on Norco. Dr said he didn't want them to be taking pills anymore especially when they wanted more. I told dr I needed to lean on him to help me with my FP's and internists and to help them understand when to initiate a ER opioid. Dr said it takes time and the ability to run the appropriate tests and most of those types of drs don't have those resources or knowledge to do them. Talked to dr about how often per month he is offering the Butrans option? Dr said three to four times a month. Dr said he finds that it can take up to 5 months until the decision is made to start a ER opioid. I asked for continued business and to replicate days like today more often!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	9/23/2014	Talked about scheduling and dosing of our products. Reviewed patch placement of Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44313	9/23/2014	Dr told me he didn't have time to talk and that he knows I'm here to talk about Butrans and I told him I'm here to talk about OxyContin and Butrans and when he should be writing ER opioids. Dr talked about how difficult it is being to use ER opioids and the pressure the state is putting on doctors like him who prescribe narcotics. Talked with him about identifying patients who are most appropriate for Butrans or OxyContin. Dr said he is referring all his chronic pain patients to specialists. I told him that's ok and to maybe write Butrans or OxyContin upon the referral.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/23/2014	Discussed drs prescribing frequencies with OxyContin. Dr spoke about his use of OxyContin and how he converts patients coming from Opana because he will not refill it for a patient coming to him on it. Discussed copy cards and use of conversion table.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	9/23/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin patient types and conversions and discussed Butrans patch and conversions along with patient type Scott. I said for the atc chronic patient currently requesting a change in the therapy, highlighted dosing and coverage. Told him I would return at lunch to go over pain score with Butrans. Dr did ask some caesoreuse questions regarding coverage which I addressed.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/07/2014This is a much better call note!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	9/23/2014	Spoke with dr about identifying the patient early on like tramadol and reviewed the Scott profile. I asked if there is anything that prevents him from using Butrans? Dr said not really and thinks about ER opioids when patients reach 3 to 4 pills a day. I told him we have discussed many times about Butrans efficacy and safety and that he needs to focus on the right patient at the right time and one who have pain on a daily, around the clock basis. Reviewed the efficacy and safety in Bup 3015 and asked him if he would be happy with at least a 30% reduction in pain score? Dr said yes. I asked him to use Butrans more frequently and told him not to forget OxyContin as the other option of an ER opioid dosed q12.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Formulary grids, still researching in-service with Nurses
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Discussed drs use of OxyContin and Butrans and dr said that his patients do very well on both and have had no issues with either product recently. Dr said he had a patient he started on OxyContin recently from Percocet and started on the 20mg dose. Dr said the patient was so happy to only be taking it twice a day. Discussed Butrans attributes, Bup 3015, conversions and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Discussed OxyContin doses and titration along with abuse deterrent properties. Dr said he uses OxyContin a lot in the hospital and is basically converting patients from Percocet. Dr spoke about using IV buprenorphine in the hospital after surgery and then upon release he transitions them to Butrans. Dr said patients do great on IV buprenorphine and with little to no side effects. Dr said its a very smooth transition to Butrans. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans managed care coverage and copay cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Spoke with Linda about her visit to the Purdue booth at the national pain conference and Linda said she really liked it and learned a lot not only about Butrans and OxyContin but other products as well. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions, Scott profile, Bup 3015, OxyContin dosing and titration along with conversions. Linda said she has already prescribed Butrans twice and the patients are doing well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	9/25/2014	Hallway. Told Dr Azar my goal is for him to become comfortable writing ER opioids for trusted patients. I have 2 great options for him. OxyContin, single entity, every 12 hr. release of oxycodone, ability to titrate in 1-2 days. Dr. says a male patient who has spinal stenosis/he wants to place on OxyContin but he wasn't sure if his patient could get at his pharmacy (Willoughby Hills Cleveland Clinic Satellite) I replied. I visit that pharmacy monthly and they carry OxyContin savings cards. Discussed commercial/see pay statistics. I look forward to following up with you next week on that patient. Another option, is Butrans. 1x week or every 7 days buprenorphine release; no first pass metabolism. Butrans can be called/faxed with refills. This helps your patients avoid another office visit and co pay. Asked for 1 or 2 patients today or tomorrow, that meet indication for ER opioid - Please write for OxyContin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	9/25/2014	Visited Dept. OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with Formulary grids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Discussed Bup 3015 with dr and topic of titration. Reviewed forced titration with Butrans through the trial and asked him about titrating past 10mcg. Dr said he understands the clinical trial and said his patients do well on the 10mcg dose. I asked if all his patients are getting the efficacy they need on 10mcg? Dr said not all and he has moved past the 10mcg in some patients. Discussed OxyContin dosing and titration along with start principles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/25/2014	Quick call at counter and told him I want him to identify just one patient for OxyContin and one for Butrans and asked him if that is acceptable to ask? Dr said he can only try. Left him conversions and titration guides for each. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001

	Independence	OH	44131	9/25/2014	Had lunch with the doctor and call was not saved. Asked Doctor to think about his patients in around the clock pain and how he approaches their treatment. He said that IR is the recommendation. We discussed butrans as being appropriate for opiod naive and for the Tramadol patient. He doesn't have experience with it but thinks it might be a good option for some of his patients. Reviewed initiation, titration, and formulary, left titration guide also. I found out that he thinks that OxyContin is a great molecule but he and everyone really don't want to write it. He says he will refer to pain management. I asked him to think of the patients that won't go to other physician. Reviewed abuse deterrent characteristics.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/25/2014	Quick hello at counter and told him to please review his charts of his existing patients currently being refilled on Percocet and determine if the q12 delivery system may be more appropriate. I also told him to not forget about the schedule 3, 7 day patch Butrans and left the conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Luncheon meeting with center for pain management with all providers. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans attributes, conversions, patient types, titration and insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	9/25/2014	Quick message through window and reminded her to use Butrans for her Caresource patients who meet the indication. Dr said ok and she will remember that and said no to Buckeye right? I told her its going to be very difficult to get Butrans approved unless there have been multiple ER failures. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	9/25/2014	Quick review of OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients she is sending to pain mgmt. Said Ok, not prescribing, sending to pain mgmt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	9/25/2014	Insight 18 opened. Talked about OxyContin scheduling and. Turbans. Dr said she was aware and doesn't do many refill type products. We talked about the Tramadol patient who has been on it chronically and requests a change cause they still have u resolved pain. I asked if she was more likely to think about Butrans that its schedule three. or Butrans cause they are atc chronic medicatios dosed either every 12 hours for oxycontin in or Butrans weekly. She said she wasn't sure but it was an option. We talked about why she writes OxyCotin and the dr said it has been studied a ling time, she said it can be used in the elderly and she even said she had to be careful in the elderly. We talked about what she meant by be careful. The dr said she has many patients who have renal issues or she worts about gastric bleeding. I asked if a single entity is a big factor for those patient, she said definitely. I mentioned about Butrans s the no dose adjustment for elderly or renal l pared patients. We talked about attributes such as no first pass and how the product is excreted theu the Bowles mostly. Dr asked if there was more constipation, I told her I had no head to head study. Showed her the ore visual aid AE profile and she looked at it and said ok. Dr said she never realized Butrans was covered in med d plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Jakes last day at the practice today and is going to neuroscience at akron children's hospital. Jake spoke about getting information from Purdue about Butrans and patients who have a history of seizures. Jake said the information sent was very thorough and found that after reviewing the material emailed to him he decided to start Butrans and the patient is doing great. Jake said that he started the patient on 5mcg dose. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, attributes, conversions and abuse deterrent properties.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/25/2014	Dr asking for higher doses of Butrans because some of his patients have built up tolerance to the 20mcg. Dr said he wants a 30mcg dose. Told dr he will be the first to know if it comes and when however don't know anything about a 30mcg dose at this point. Discussed Butrans patient types, and dr said that its just really hard to get approved and its expensive for his Medicare patients. Reviewed Medicare plans and focused dr on ESI, aarp, and silverscript. Discussed his use of OxyContin and dosing he is finding appropriate. Dr said he doesn't write new doses because he uses Butrans instead. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Dr didn't have time today but waved. Highlighted my products dosing and scheduling w ma Lori.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/26/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, CIII, Med D Silverscripts, initiation/Titration, Said Ok, will consider for appropriate patients. Asked Judy Rn for assistance in help reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/26/2014	Doctor said he will refer patients to pain management rather than provide oxycontin. He will not give oxycontin to younger patients, maybe only older patients. Tried to find out at what point he thinks his patients are in around the clock pain and he said when they are taking 3 or 4 Vicodin per day. He did just write butrans for an older patient with arthritis and will look for other appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	9/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans savings card, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	9/26/2014	I told Donna that I needed to see the doctors because of new information. Spoke with dr and reviewed revised Butrans and OxyContin indications. I told dr one way for him to get back to using Butrans is to review the charts of his existing patients who continue to be refilled on their IR opioids like tramadol or considering moving from tramadol to the soon to be schedule 2 hydrocodone. Dr said he can do that. Nothing Else learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Talked about OxyContin and Butrans scheduling with ma
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/26/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans Savings cards and formulary opportunities, Said ok will relay info to clinicians.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Didn't get to see dr. Talked about scheduling of my products and managed care w nurses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	9/26/2014	Spoke with Mana Rph reviewed OxyContin/Butrans. Said ok. No new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Pharmacist had little time. Introduced myself to the floating pharmacist and explained the products pr its. Highlighted dosing and scheduling of both. Reviewed patch rotation and how to discard the patch
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/26/2014	Shay is new to that target, said they don't stock any OxyContin or butrans because they don't have any patients on either. Butrans would just take a day to get in, OxyContin may take two.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/26/2014	I asked dr why he isn't writing Butrans as frequently? Dr said he is and I asked if they are new prescriptions or refills? Dr said most are refills. Dr said he will pick up the use and said its tough to get it approved. I asked where and he said he had many Caresource patients recently. I told him Butrans is covered with a pa on Caresource and explained it and dr said he had forgotten. I told him to use it for those patients. Dr said he write 5 OxyContin scripts last week. Dr said he will continue to use OxyContin because it works very well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Small talk w office manager. Managed care highlights for our products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/26/2014	Dr called, so I made a trip to the office for a follow up. Dr wanted easy patient information on Butrans. I gave him the tear off and patient leave behinds. He thought the tear off pads were better. Dr said he likes Butrans and has been writing it for his atc oa chronic pain patient s and it's been working. Reviewed rotation of patch and dosing. Initiation guide. Reminded him of OxyCotin dosed every 12 hours.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/26/2014	Presented dr with the OxyContin MVA conversions from Percocet and asked him if he currently would have a few patients on Percocet who have pain around the clock? Dr said yes. I asked him to change the delivery system and make it q12. Dr said ok. I showed dr the placebo Butrans patch and the titration and conversion guide and told him I wanted him to try it on a patient on tramadol who meets the indication. Reminded him its a schedule 3, 7 day transdermal patch. Reviewed conversions and titrations. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/26/2014	Visited Pain mgmt dept (Shen.Daoud,Dale) OxyCotin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Savings Cards
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/26/2014	Spoke with Daniel the pharmacist about Butrans dosing, titration and patient types. Daniel said he has about 3-5 patients on it and just had a patient titrate to Butrans 20mcg dose. Daniel its a patient of dr SouzdaInitski and she was maxed out on Percocet 7.5 mg before going to Butrans. Discussed OxyContin dosing, titration and Daniel asked if there is an indication other than q12? I told Daniel no and asked why. Daniel said a couple of weeks ago he got a prescription for OxyContin dosed q6. Daniel said h did not fill it and can't remembers the prescriber but it wasn't pain management. Reviewed dosing Q12 8a and 8p.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/26/2014	Window call and showed dr the OxyContin conversion page from MVA. I asked him to please start by taking patients on the OxyContin 10mg and asked him if he has some people who would start there? Dr said he does he just forgets. I told him to not forget anymore and help his patients by providing the q12 oxycodone option. Reminded him to gain more clinical experience with Butrans and left him the conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	9/26/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, referred to Dr. Shen.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	9/26/2014	I told dr about the reviewed indications of ER opioids and told him about the OxyContin and Butrans ones. I asked dr if its possible that he takes a closer look at his existing patients on Percocet who may still be in pain and he's considering a dose adjustment. Told dr to simply convert them in a 1:1 conversion to q12 OxyContin. Dr said alright and will look into it. Reminded him that Butrans is that schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch for those in pain on tramadol.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/07/2014I like your verbiage of asking the doctor to take another look at his existing patients. Good thinking Cliff.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairwan	OH	44333	9/26/2014	Gave quick message about the IR oxycodone insight and asked him how frequently is he converting Percocet patients to OxyContin? Dr said as often as he can. Dr said he really doesn't want the short acting products to be taken for longer than 45-60 days. I told dr that's good to hear and to please continue using OxyContin and told him that I think he has more opportunity for Butrans when a patient even on tramadol is in pain around the clock and is still in pain. I told dr Butrans might be a more appropriate option than going to another IR opioid. Dr said he agrees. Nothing else learned.CHUDAKOB's query on 10/07/2014What did you talk to the MA about?LARAWKA's response on 10/14/2014Nothing too interesting. Discussed coverage for OxyContin and butrans, offered savings cards and a bit of non product discussion. I left samples and had to log a call.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/16/2014What you wrote me provided a lot more information than"talked to MA". Thank you!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44144	9/26/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will keep it in mind
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/26/2014	Briefly talked about patients in around the clock pain and when ER might be appropriate option. He asked if I could leave savings cards.CHUDAKOB's query on 10/07/2014Who did you speak with?LARAWKA's response on 10/14/2014Talked with Steve and Doctor's husband Paul.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/16/2014When you speak with a nurse, MA, or office manager (these are the only three staff members that meet the criteria for a non-office call), please write the name and title of who who spoke with, for example, "spoke with Steve, the office manager."
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/29/2014	Thanks Kathy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/29/2014	Doctor said that he prefers to not write more than 10 mg of oxycontin, but does have a few patients on more than that. He inherited some patients taking it every 8 hours and has made sure they are taking it q12 now. He believes the molecule works very well. He has started a few patients on butrans who responded very well to it. He will continue to find appropriate around the clock pain patients that might respond to butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Talked to Doug who says that he sees a lot of patients on morphine, cancer patients on OxyContin, not too many long-term IR meds. Reviewed appropriate patient for OxyContin. He has never dispensed butrans at the pharmacy, but has at other locations. Reviewed appropriate patient type for butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Quick window call reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Managed Care opportunities along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider for appropriate patients, Asked Maria for help in reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/29/2014	Reviewed And discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Savngs cards, Med D coverage along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will continue prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	9/29/2014	Caught dr in hallway by sample collect and told him I want to make sure he's converting appropriate patients in pain on Percocet to q12 OxyContin and to also ensure that he sees how well Butrans is coverages. Showed him both the Medicare D and commercial formulary grids. Dr said alright he will give it a shot again. Checked copy cards. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	9/29/2014	Told dr again about the tramadol insight and told him I know he currently has patients in his practice who continue to be refilled on tramadol and probably meet the Butrans indication? I asked dr if I am right? Dr said he does have some patients he should be starting on Butrans. I asked him if he will at least offer it and explain it to his patients? Dr said he will. I reviewed OxyContin attributes, indication and doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	9/29/2014	Visited Pain mgmt (Dalbir, Samuel, Abraham) OxyContin/Butrans Formulary grids, Patient info booklets
					WEaved to the doctor. taked to laura the office manager about dosing and scheduling of butrans and oxycontin.

	Twinsburg	OH	44087	9/29/2014	Shared hydrocodone insight #9 with doctor. He said the statistic wasn't logical for all patients on hydrocodone. he feels that their diagnosis is more relevant than length of therapy. He used to prescribe oxycontin more freely in the past, but is much more selective in who gets the ER meds. He does think that it is worth reminding him about butrans because he sees that it is a good option for some patients. Reviewed scott as a patient type he can keep an eye out for and consider butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/29/2014	Caught Dr. Reed up front at check out. Quick mention of: to avoid step edits we discussed at lunch, you can use either of my products for your commercially covered patients, their should NOT be any step any; and patients can use savings cards and will get best available co pay for both OxyContin and Butrans. Ok she replied, walked back into hallway/rooms.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/29/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin attributes, reviewed indications again and checked stocking of Butrans and OxyContin. Currently they have all doses of Butrans except 15mcg. Was told they just don't see enough to stock it. I asked for stocking of all doses of OxyContin which they have and multiple ones. Sue said that they have plenty of copay cards. Reviewed the Butrans trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Reviewed with OpeI (OxyContin)/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, no new info learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	9/29/2014	Met w med assts Abby, Anisha & Keanna. Keanna made a spot for my OxyContin savings cards outside sample closet in clear holder. She says drs will NOT look in sample closet for savings cards; they will look at wall. The smaller closets are for OTC products only. Dr Roxana will be back in tomorrow. She & Dr Gabriel leaving for vacation Wed Oct 1& returning Mon 10/13. Med D pull through, Butrans trial, savings discussed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/29/2014	Tried to meet the doctor or set an appointment or lunch appointment. They said they would talk to him and get back to me. Talked to the nurse about patients in around the clock pain and where oxycontin and butrans might be appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	9/29/2014	Quick hello while speaking with Linda about Butrans and OxyContin copay cards. I asked dr if he's finding the clinical success with OxyContin he is hoping for? Dr said for the most part yes and said that there are those patients for some reason that don't take it and say that Percocet works better. Dr said those are the tough patients because it takes a lot of convincing that they need a long acting product. I told dr I agree and told him I'm glad he feels so strongly about using a Q12 oxycodone. Reminded dr to use Butrans for those patients who may need a titration on tramadol or vicoden and the schedule 3, 7 day patch may be appropriate. Gave Linda the MediCare formulary grid and discussed the Caresource Pa.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	9/29/2014	Spoke to a pharmacist intern about Butrans and OxyContin attributes, conversions, titration and patient type selection. He told me that he has seen some Butrans come through and said he sees OxyContin pretty often. Left conversion and titration guides.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	9/29/2014	Note: Drs Stanescu leaving for vacation THIS WED, AND RETURNING MON OCT 13. Met with Med Asst Keanna, and she made place outside sample closet for OxyContin savings cards. The small cabinets (locked) are only for OTC products. It's best to keep savings cards in clear holders OUTSIDE sample closet. Discussed both of my products, verbatim indication, for trusted patients. With Dr Stanescu: primary care insight. If you decide to treat a trusted patient with daily, atc, long term pain, I have two good options for you. You can start w low dose OxyContin, single entity, dosed q 12 h. Controlled release oxycodone. Another option is Butrans, 1x week buprenorphine transdermal. I'd like you to look over the Butrans initiation and titration guide & follow up next visit. Sound good? yes, he replied.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/29/2014	Discussed patient who might benefit from q12 dosing of OxyContin. He said he does write it but not a lot of it. Presented Scott patient profile, he said he has patients like that in his practice, has tried butrans in the past but that butrans is very expensive. I explained that coverage has gotten much better, presented formulary grids and reviewed dosing and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	9/29/2014	I asked to speak with Dawn the nurse and dr came up to window and asked me if I needed a signature? I told her I didn't and asked her for a minute. Dr said she will take my information for review and I told her that OxyContin and Butrans are ER opioid options for patients who have pain around the clock. Dr said ok and she will look over the info. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Quick Butrans call in hallway, reviewed 7 day transdermal CII for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok will keep it in mind, nothing new learned
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Reviewed with Tech OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal every 12hours. Said Ok will relay to Rph
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	9/29/2014	Note: can see Dr D starting at 9AM NOW ON MONDAYS. Impromptu breakfast. Summarized last call. why not low dose OxyContin before Vicodin/Norco? Dr says he will keep in mind. He has tried to get several patients to try Butrans, but they refuse and want "pills." He's had to discharge many patients from practice & send over to pain specialty, because they are testing positive for other illicit narcotics during urine screens. Discussed Butrans, as option for those that are willing to try transdermal, before Tramadol or hydrocodone combos. Lori checked savings cards; they have ample supply. Med D, BWC, formulary pull through. Asked for business today, remainder of
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	9/29/2014	Met w OM Julie and med asst front window. Dr. in w new patient/consult, not available. Left & discussed Butrans BPE kits. When Julie saw box, she stated: we already have those. I replied, are you sure? Showed her all that's in kit, explained how designed to work. She went in sample room/confirmed they only had regular savings cards, and did take some. If patient needs 80- mg or more morphine equivalent, another option is OxyContin, CII, single entity, dosed every 12 hours. Savings also available for OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/29/2014	I told dr that he needs to ensure whoever is asking for more Percocet and complains of being in pain he needs to consider the q12 oxycodone. Dr said ok. I also told him that he has told me on more than one occasion that he forgets about Butrans and the Caresource PA. I reviewed it with him and left him formulary grids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	9/29/2014	Met first w dr Vilinsky med asst Anisha. Discussed my products scheduling, verbatim indication, strengths. Left Butrans, OxyContin fpi's and (1) Butrans patient guide for Anisha. Let her know savings cards for both products outside sample closet. Asked her to call me with any issues regarding access for their patients to my products. Med D pull through, both products. Dr Vilinsky, for patients that meet ER opioid indication; I'd like to reinforce Butrans as an option - 1x week patch, 4 strengths, 8 possible application sites, can be called/faxed in with refills. Med D pull through. Dr says patients currently on Butrans, so far, so good. Asked him to consider today, remainder of week; Butrans and OxyContin if patient needs 80 mg or more of morphine equivalent daily, atc, long term. Ok he replied.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44118	9/29/2014	Reviewed And discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Savings cards, Med D coverage along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will help with helping reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	10/1/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans and OTC profile with George, Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/1/2014	We discussed appropriate patient for butrans being a patient needing more Tramadol. Rather than titrating their Tramadol, consider butrans. He said he will try to find appropriate patient in his practice. He will refer to pain management rather than initiate OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/1/2014	Elise told me that a patient who was on Butrans 20mcg for more than a year within the last two weeks started a new Butrans 20mcg prescription. Elise said that once he applied Butrans like he always had the patient experienced severe blistering and skin irritation. Elise said the patient needed to go to the ER. Elise said that the patient called Purdue to report the incident. Spoke with Elise about her using Butrans for her Caresource patients and then explained the pa criteria. Elise said she is getting more and more new patient referrals and a lot are Caresource. Elise told me that they are no longer accepting buckeye because they won't pay for UDS screenings. I told her that's a good thing because its tough to get Butrans approved. Elise told me that she is continuing to write and when patients ask for more Norco or tramadol she moves them to Butrans. Discussed OxyContin attributes, dosing, conversions, titration and appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	10/1/2014	Visited pain Mgmtn/IM depts Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans for appropriate patients, Initiation/Titration guides
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	10/1/2014	Reviewed with Jodie (Clinical Pharm D dir.) OxyContin and Butrans Initiation/Titration, Formulary Cov./ Said she will recommend for appropriate patients and diag.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	10/1/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Why treat around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok , has appropriate patient to consider,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/1/2014	Spoke with Jim the pharmacy manager and said he only had a few seconds. I told him that Butrans is a schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch and reviewed indication. Described dosing and other attributes. OxyContin indication, dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	10/1/2014	Quick wave hello. Talked about hydrocodone insight he said he was aware. Told him next time we were going to talking reassessing patients if they may be appropriate for a product like OxyContin or Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	10/1/2014	Spoke to Tracey the office managed about hydrocodone insight. Reviewed scheduling of my products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/1/2014	Quick hello in stow office and asked her when she is primarily using OxyContin and in what type of patient? Dr said she is using it and is mostly refilling it but had started it plenty of times in patients who ask for more Norco or Percocet. Dr said she is finding that she can't continue to refill the short acting narcotics because its doing no good. Dr said at least OxyContin gives her patient a longer delivery of oxycodone. I told her that's great to hear and to continue identifying more patients. I asked to please keep Butrans on her radar as well for patients maybe on tramadol and ask for more. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/1/2014	I told dr that I wanted him to focus on initiating patients with Caresource on Butrans who meet the indication. Reviewed the pa criteria. I reminded him about Medicare D plans and commercial coverage and asked him to prescribe it more frequently and to not continue patients on IR opioids who have daily, around the clock pain. I discussed OxyContin use in patients whom are already on the molecule and reviewed dosing and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	10/1/2014	I led with the hydrocodone insight and asked dr what he typically does when a patient fails tramadol then fails hydrocodone due to efficacy or tolerability? Dr said he would probably go to Percocet. I asked dr why he move from one IR opioid to another three times when the patient seems to have daily, around the clock pain at that point? Dr said he doesn't really know. I told him I want to discuss why OxyContin is a possible solution for those patients. Dr said ok. Next time. I reminded him about Butrans Scott profile and asked for more clinical experience..
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/1/2014	He thinks that OxyContin is appropriate for his patients in around the clock pain. He likes the q12 dosing rather than 4-6 hr increments.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	10/1/2014	Quick hallway call and I asked him if he happens to have do e patients who may be on tramadol around the clock and still complaining about pain? Dr said he knows of a few. I reviewed the Scott profile and asked for business in those types of patients. Reminded him. To continue of thinking about q12 oxycodone when oriens on oxycodone but in 4-6 hr increments are in pain..
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	10/1/2014	Got to know him a little better today, 3 daughters, 6th, sophomore and senior ( wants her to stay close to home). He stopped writing oxycontin until they came out with abuse deterrent formulation. Now he believes it should be written when patients start taking their IR 3-4 times per day. He thinks butrans is a great option for many patient types. Elderly, multiple pain states, and for those drug seekers who want a pill, he won't give them what they request. If they don't want the patch, they can go somewhere else.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	10/1/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hr, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will help in reminding Dr. R

PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	10/1/2014	Discussed hydrocodone insight. Dr said he was aware and thought it will be interesting to see how many patients complain about the change. We talked about OxyCotin he told me about managed care not covering it. Sarah the priar auth ma did some investigation and found it to be a patient w a high deductible plan w commercial insurance. We talked about Butrans and the dosing and caresource.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/2/2014	Met with med asst. Dr Irina only had 1 patient; already left. Discussed with med asst my 2 ER options for patients meeting indication (verbatim indication) OxyContin can be titrated in 1-2 days based on steady state of 24-36 hrs. Left (3) OxyContin slim Jim's for all HCPs. Reminder OxyCotin. savings cards, Caresource & Med D pull through. Discussed Butrans as CII 1x week, or every 7 day patch. Steady state 72 hrs, and then Butrans can be titrated. Butrans studied in back pain, osteoarthritis. Left (4) Butrans patient guides for HCPs. Her mom, age 62, who lives in New York State has bad back pain/ spinal stenosis. Has been on Tramadol but it bothers her stomach. She states she doesn't do well on many pills. Let her know starting dose of Butrans for opioid naive is 5 mcg hr. Left her Butrans FPI, Pam profile. Left a few green protect your meds brochures.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/2/2014	Quick wave to the doctor and he thanked me for brining patient materilas for butrans. Spoke to carol and linda a while about hydrocodone insight. Reviewed the patient leave behinds (tear off sheets)and made sure they were set on coupons. Reviewed who can use the coupons and who can't. Talked about scheduling of butrans and refills.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	10/2/2014	Told him up from that I want to point out two patient types to keep an eye out for and then I can be out of his way. Discussed patient in around the clock pain that should have an ER OxyContin. Reviewed Pam as possible patient type for butrans. He agreed that it is an option worth considering especially now since schedule change.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/2/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans CII for those patients failing on present therapy that require around the clock analgesia. Med D coverage, Said Ok, Asked for a patient this afternoon, Said he will consider for appropriate patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/2/2014	Spoke with the technician Amy about Butrans and OxyContin and reviewed attributes for each. Discussed copy cards for Butrans and OxyContin and asked about stocking.m Amy said they have the 5 and 10mcg of Butrans and all the OxyContin doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/2/2014	Spoke to Candy the office manager about hydrocodone insight- reviewed what it means to be a schedule product in terms of refills. Scheduled lunch with the doctor. Highlighted the scheduling of my products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/2/2014	Spoke Jeanette the ma about hydrocodone insight. She said she wasn't looking forward to the calls next week but she was aware about it. We talked about what it means in terms of refills and how patients get their scripts for schedule 2 and 3 products. Reminded her which schedule oxycontin adn butrans fell in. Tried to see the doctor but not today...I told her I was going to try again next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/2/2014	Followed up on recent lunch appointment and asked dr once he has a patient on OxyContin how he got about titrating and if his first dose is accurate to the analgesia necessary? Dr said he's had enough experience with OxyContin that he doses it pretty accurately and will titrate anytime he feels the patients functionality and movability increases or at least gets the pain under control. I reviewed the dosing and titration information and then asked him to continue prescribing Butrans for patients on tramadol or hydrocodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/2/2014	Spoke to Linda about the tramadol insight and then reviewed th Scott profile. I told Linda how important this time is for her taking the spot of basically three PA's and to ensure Butrans and OxyContin prescriptions maintain and grow. Linda told me to not worry because she just titrated a patient to 15mcg of Butrans and has many others to maintain and start. Discussed OxyContin attributes, dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/2/2014	Visited Ortho/Rheum depts, OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration guides along with Formulary grids
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	10/2/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin dosing.W-is having success with Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	10/2/2014	Hallway call. Told dr that it he needed to prescribe OxyContin at the first thought that the patient is in pain around the clock. I told her that Butrans is also a product that she would be writing for her patients who are in pain on tramadol and she is considering titrating the dose.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	10/2/2014	Reviewed Pam as a possible butrans patient and discussed Tramadol patient. He said he has been very disappointed in effectiveness of Tramadol, so he does believe that he may have a few patients he can get some experience with butrans based on the patient profile. Reviewed dosing, titration and formulary coverage also. He is still going to avoid oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	10/2/2014	I-Butrans dosing and titration. OxyContin managed-care.W-will look over the information. No experience with Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44129	10/2/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider CII Butrans. Will be retiring by years end
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	10/2/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will consider CII Butrans. Will be along with wife retiring by
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/2/2014	Delivered hydrocodone insight. Dr had emergency earlier with male patient being transported by ambulance. Not completely engaged. His main concern was cost for Butrans for Medicare Med d pull through. Let him know next visit I want to discuss Helen patient profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/2/2014	Reviewed with Cecelia, OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans new dosing strength and patient info booklets, said ok will keep an eye out for new prescribers
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/2/2014	Pharmacist didn't have time to talk much today. I asked if they needed any patient information pieces on butrans? they said no. I talked about schedule 3 of butrans and 2 of oxycontin. Talked about dosed every 7 days with butrans and every 12 hours for oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	10/2/2014	Gary said that they don't stock butrans but do have a bit of OxyContin. He agrees that patients in around the clock pain should be on ER release meds, but that everyone is afraid to prescribe those. He does think that may help butrans in the future. If he starts to get requests, he will stock it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	10/2/2014	Saw Dr. at hospital. Reviewed OxyContin every 12hour, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans CII for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, Will stop by office next week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	10/2/2014	Dr told me that she wrote a prescription for Butrans recently and said there is a pa for it. Dr said the patient has Molina asked me if I knew what the criteria is? I asked dr if she had the pa and she said its buried in her desk. I told her I will look into it. Asked her to prescribe more Butrans for those failing IR opioids like Butrans. Reminded her that OxyContin is another ER solution that is dosed q12 and is a single entity oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/2/2014	Met. with pharmacy owner (RETAIL INDEPENDENT) Warren. Discussed utilization of OxyContin; he dispenses on regular basis. He has yet to dispense Butrans. He does fill scripts for Hillcrest Pain Mgt, but NOT Butrans. Other findings: surgery centers in habit of writing Norco or hydrocodone products. Regarding hydrocodone. Schedule change to CII MON 10/6; he WILL honor all refills through April 2015. Left Butrans 7.5 NDC retail independent brochure. Discussed Butrans product attributes including no first pass metabolism, Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/2/2014	Spoke to sylvia the ma for a while about the hydrocodone insight and what it means to be schedule 2 and three in terms of refills and how they get their scripts. Reviewed butrans, appropriate pateitns, how dosed, managed care. Saw the doctor and reviewed what butrans is, its scheduling and no first pass or dose adjustment for renal, hepatic mild to moderate/or elderly patients. DR asked how it compared to fentanyl. I explained no head to head studies. Also reviewed 7 day transdermal patch system and the initiation guide of how to start a patient. Reminded on oxycontin, another single entity control release product for atc chronic pain patients dosed every 12
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	10/2/2014	Quick intro through the window. Told her that I was hoping to talk with her about a few of her patients in around the clock Pain who may be appropriate for ER meds instead of treating their pain in 4-6 hour increments. Then I told her what I promote. She said that she doesn't write narcotics really, but will talk with me about that another time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/2/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hrs, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Savings cards, Said he is sending patients post follow up to pain mgmnt, but will keep in mind
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44109	10/2/2014	Reviewed OxyContin with Tam TCh, Every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans CII, 7 day transdermal said Ok will relay info to RPH
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	10/2/2014	She was too busy to talk, said that stock some OxyContin but don't see much butrans. She thinks that the hydrocodone scheduling is going to spark the doctors to reevaluate their prescribing for pain patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/3/2014	He said he only chooses oxycontin for a very few patients and really tries not to write it. He likes butrans for the younger patients that he doesn't want to get pills. I pointed out the appropriate Tramadol patient before Norco as appropriate patient for butrans. Reviewed formulary coverage with him and staff and they said that usually they don't have difficulty getting prescription through..
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	10/3/2014	Reviewed with Emily OxyContin /Butrans 7.5mcg/hr said Ok will order when new RX is prescribed,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	10/3/2014	Reviewed Butrans attributes, conversions, appropriate patient types with Scott and Helen. I asked dr if he would consider offering Butrans to patients on Norco who are in oain around the clock? Dr said he doesn't want to write hydrocodone and has issues with cost for Butrans. I asked cost for which plans or patients? Dr said he couldn't remember but vicoden is cheap. I told him it may not be as cheap as he thinks. Dr said it depends on the way of pills. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and appropriate patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Discussed hydrocodone insight and asked him how his business might change with hydrocodone moving to a schedule 2? Dr said he knows he needs to make come changes because he doesn't have time for the visits and monthly prescriptions. I told him his option to explore more frequently is Butrans. Reviewed schedule 3,7 day transdermal system, attributes, conversions and Helen profile. Dr said he thinks Butrans prescriptions will increase.m I told him I hope they come from him as well and reviewed the indication again. Dr said his changes may very well include more Butrans. Reviewed OxyContin appropriate patients, conversions and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Started off with tramadol insight, discussed Butrans and OxyContin attributes, conversions, titration and appropriate patients for each. Dr didn't say much during presentation. Continued to gain commitment for Butrans and he would not provide it. Discussed Butrans Helen and Scott profile along with copy card information. Reviewed appropriate patient identification for OxyContin along with conversions and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Started off by discussing tramadol and hydrocodone insight. Dr said he's concerned about hydrocodone becoming a schedule 2 medicine because they will be upset they can't have it called in and refilled. I discussed appropriate solution with Butrans for patients in pain around the clock on hydrocodone, Helen and Scott profiles, Bup 3015 review and identifying appropriate candidates. Reviewed application sites, conversions and titration. Dr said he wants to write it more and just needs to convince his patients. I told him I believe he can do that especially if the IR isn't working. Discussed OxyContin appropriate patient types, conversions and start principles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/3/2014	Window call Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said Ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Doing all surgeries over at St. V's
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/3/2014	Quick chat because it was a horrible day for them because of new EMR system. Talked to Lynne the MA for a while about butrans. Doctor came up for a few moments and said that I should stop back in three weeks or so. He thinks butrans is a great option for his patients. He has noticed that coverage is better. I told him that often patients are in around the clock pain and are being treated in 4-6 hour increments and it's my job to help dr find appropriate patients for ER meds. He said that he doesn't want any OxyContin savings cards since he has barely written it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/3/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	10/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans 7.5mcg/hr with Josh. Said Ok will order when RX, Will keep aware of utilization.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin attributes, dosing and conversions with Steve. Reviewed the Helen profile with Steve and discussed hydrocodone moving to a schedule 2. Steve said they have some patients on Butrans and of course some on OxyContin. I daid used copy cards for both products and asked about stocking of products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	10/3/2014	I told dr that he had two excellent solutions for patients who have daily around the clock pain and are currently on IR opioids. I showed him the OxyContin conversion guide and then the Butrans Helen profile. Dr said thanks for the reminder. I asked him if he would identify a patient on tramadol who is in pain around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	10/3/2014	Talked about the hydrocodone insight. Dr said he doesn't write for more than a month at a time anyway so he doesn't feel it will impact his practice. Talked about reassessing those monthly patients...and if there was someone with atc chronic pain would you increase there immediate release or would you consider Oxycontin? Dr said he will use what ever is cheaper first. Highlighted a few commercial plans with coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Discussed the IR oxycodone insight and asked him to please reassess his patients on Percocet who have pain around the clock. Discussed hydrocodone moving to schedule 2 and dr said in the Pioneer physician meeting recently they discussed it and spoke about how they are inadequately treating their patients pain. Dr said he knows he's not doing a good enough job and said that he will try and or write more schedule 3 Butrans. Reviewed Helen and Scott profiles and reviewed proper initiation and patient identification.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	10/3/2014	Spoke to Karen about Scheduling and what that meant in terms of refills for butrans and oxycontin

	Akron	OH	44312	10/3/2014	Started off with tramadol insight and also spoke about the hydrocodone insight. Dr said they are not looking forward to Oct 6th when hydrocodone becomes a schedule 2 medicine. I asked dr how that is going to impact his business? Dr said patients are going to be upset and its going to take a lot more time and effort on the entire staff. I told him that he has two excellent options for patients on IR opioids when have pain around the clock and discussed indications for Butrans and OxyContin. Dr said he is going to have to start changing the way he prescribes for pain and said that Butrans seems like a great option. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions, titration, initiation, and the Helen and Scott profiles. Dr said he wants to make sure his patients can get it. I asked him what concerns him and he said Medicare and Medicaid. I discussed Medicare D plans and Caresource PA. Reviewed copy cards for both products and asked him to use OxyContin for patients in pain on Percocet.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	10/3/2014	Discussed atc chronic pain patients and asked why prescribers wait to turn to a control release if they were appropriate for one? Pharmacist said they didn't know. Reviewed dosing and scheduling of both products. I asked what questions butrans patients ask them? He said they don't. Highlighted patch rotation and how to discard the patch or unused oxycontin.

PLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	10/6/2014	Dr said that he write two Butrans recently. One for a patient on Norco and said the patient is doing well and like Butrans. Dr said but the second one was taking Percocet 5/325 every eight hours so he started on 5mcg and asked if that was the right starting dose and I told him it was accurate based solely on the approximate conversion. Dr said the patient wasn't getting enough relief and then he titrated to 10mcg. Dr said the patient after a week or so said it was working but not as good as Percocet and he placed the patient back on Percocet. I told dr he still had two doses to titrate to and next time to continue titrating until adequate analgesia is attained. Told dr to continue prescribing and to not forget OxyContin as a q12 oxycodone option.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/6/2014	Handed dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and reminded him its a q12 single entity opioid and to use it for his patients already on the molecule but taking it 4-6 hours at a time and are still in pain. Told him about the Butrans 7.5 mcg dose and how he now has 5 doses so he can individualize the dose. Told him to focus on patients who are suffering from pain on tramadol or Norco and ask for more. Reviewed the indication and Dana said that she is going to be leaving the practice at the end of the month. She said she is going to IMS at Akron City Hospital and it is their hospitalist program. She said she is going to be running a unit associated with the ER. Dana said that she has a couple of more patients on Butrans and has titrated a few recently. I told her about the Butrans 7.5 mcg dose and asked for continued business until she leaves. Reminded her that OxyContin is available for those in pain on IR opioids who meet the indication.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	10/6/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans Intro 7 day transdermal, CII for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok, will keep it mind, will not be practicing much longer.

PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/6/2014	Discussed OxyContin as his go to ER opioid and dr spoke about patients he's continuing to get from dr Bressi's practice who are on all sorts of opioid mixes and Opana ER. Dr said he can't believe why anyone would write Opana ER over Oxycontin. I told him that's good to hear. I asked dr for continued support and to convert more patients from Percocet who meet the indication. Discussed how Butrans is an option for his patients get to
PLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	10/6/2014	Quick OxyContin review of abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, along with Butrans for those Med D patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will keep it mind.
PLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	10/6/2014	Dr told me that he is continuing to look for patients for Butrans and told me he will start writing it because he is convinced it works and its a schedule 3. Dr said he doesn't want to even refill hydrocodone now that its a schedule 2. Discussed Helen patient types, and conversions along with 7.5 mcg dose. Discussed OxyContin as his go to schedule 2 opioid for those needing a Q12 ER dingle entity oxycodone.

PLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	10/7/2014	Talked when he converts to extended release dr said t depends but couldn't specify. Talked about moving from hydrocodone to OxyContin or Butrans or Tramadol to Butrans per the indication. Covered managed care and Told dr I would like him to tell me who he would write OxyContin for? Dr said he doesn't really want to write any pain medicines. I told him I'm guessing he dos though? Dr said he does. I told him to use OxyContin for patients in pain on it opioids like Percocet who have daily, around the clock pain. Dr said alright. I showed him the Helen profile and to just try it in a patient similar to her.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/7/2014	Discussed with dr the IR oxycodone insight and inquired about his use of OxyContin and where and when he uses it. Dr spoke about using it primarily when patients are already on oxycodone and where Butrans may not provide enough relief. Discussed OxyContin attributes and patient types. Reviewed Butrans 7.5 mcg and discussed about how he now has another dose to titrate to and not having to double on the 5mcg dose. Dr said he's happy about that and will be using it because he usually starts on 5mcg and wants another titratable dose. Reviewed the Helen profile and dr said he really likes the safety of Butrans and is a big reason why he uses it. Both Gail and Teri are leaving the practice at the end of October.

PLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/7/2014	Hallway. After presenting Hydrocodone insight & introducing Helen profile. Told dr Kim, I have quiz for you: can you call or fax Butrans in with refills? Med asst leaned over and said No you can't! I stated, yes you can - Butrans remains a CII ER opioid, that CAN be faxed, called in with up to 5 refills. Diane says, we would never provide 5 refills. I replied I'm not suggesting you do- I'm just presenting the data on a CII opioid & how pharmacy will handle. When Patient who has daily, ATC, long term pain, and needs 80 mg or more of morphine equivalent, OxyContin available, providing every 12 hours of oxycodone release for a patient. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/7/2014	Hallway. Hydrocodone insight. When patients come in every 30 days to pick up their Vicodin or Percocet, I propose you re assess those patients, and if they need a change in therapy or dose, consider OxyContin. OxyContin provides Delivery of oxycodone every 12 hours, ability to titrate in 1-2 days. For patients with daily, ATC, long term pain - this is good option. If OxyContin not appropriate, Butrans is option. Showed Helen profile as naive patient covered on Medicare d. She was confused and thought Butrans was rescheduled along with hydrocodone. My response: Butrans remains a CII, once a week transdermal (worn every 7 days) & can be called/ faxed in with up to 5 refills. Med assts say rescheduling doesn't have huge impact on them, because HCPs have patients come in every 30 days anyway. Asked for business, both products. Savings card for self pay, commercial patients Spoke to Joan the pharmacy technician and asked to discuss Butrans and OxyContin and to inquire about stocking of new Butrans 7.5 mcg . Joan said they are too busy today to look for stocking and to come back later in the week. Left Butrans doing information and OxyContin conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/7/2014	Hallway. Delivered Hydrocodone insight. Proposed that when Vicodin or Percocet patients come in every 30 days for refill - that she re assess and if patient meets ER opioid indication, consider OxyContin, which provides every 12 hrs release of oxycodone (1 tablet 8a, 1 tablet 8p) and ability to titrate in 1-2 days. If patient says strength not working, consider it might be dose failure & not product failure. Dr has female patient, very large woman (age 52/56) on 60 mg OxyContin q12 h. Patient also on Valium. She has arthritic pain in knees, trouble walking. She tried to offer Butrans, patient unwilling. Dr is upset & states she goes to bed worrying at night, about this patient & doesn't like her on dose that high. She states pain mgt should be managing her patients pain meds. (since she is not pain specialty) but they don't want to, & send patients right back to her. If OxyContin not appropriate - Butrans (showed Butrans dosing chart in core vis aid) 1x week transdermal, for patients taking 30-80 mg morphine equivalent. An option to start opioid naive patient like Helen (profile) on start dose of 5 mcg/hr. We discussed OARS med 80 guidelines & she's doing everything that's required of her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	10/7/2014	Lunch. Dr Laham wanted to know when we will have him speak again. I confirmed our speaker bureau funds have all been utilized for this calendar year, and speaker programs will start up again Jan 2015. Discussed hydrocodone insight. When meeting with patients every 30 days, and if they need change in therapy or dose adjustment, I propose he consider Butrans based on clinics Data we've discussed & tolerability in naive & tolerant patients. Discussed Helen profile. Dr Laham agreed a patient like Helen would be appropriate for opioid naive start on Butrans 5 mcg strength. If patient needs 80 mg or above morphine equivalent, I propose you let OxyContin delivery system help patients with daily, ATC, long term pain. 1 tablet 8 am, 1 tablet 8 pm and ability to titrate in 1-2 days. Asked for business.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/7/2014	Hallway Delivered Hydrocodone insight to Dr Isakov. Then presented Helen profile. Would he agree for an opioid naive patient like Helen, that Butrans starting dose would be appropriate? Yes he stated. If patient needs 80 mg or more of morphine equivalent, OxyContin, a CII, dosed q 12 h is an option. Dr says has coverage improved for Butrans? I replied with Med D pull through. How is commercial coverage? Commercial coverage is great! I should have updated formulary grids in a few weeks. As I was packing up to leave , dr Isakov waived the profile at their PA-C student & stated to Laura: we need to discuss this product. I replied, I hope you have patient in mind right now for Butrans!
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmstead	OH	44070	10/7/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Talked about scheduling and what that means n terms of faxing and refills for OxyContin and Butrans. Talked about atc chronic pain patients which the dr said he had very few. Talked about OxyContin scheduling and dosing. Dr said he doesn't write it. We talked about Butrans. We talked about attributes such as no dose adjustment for mild to moderate renal imarments or for the elderly. We talked about no first ass. Reviewed patch position. Rotation and managed care. Reviewed Helen. Dr said the information was helpful and he would think about using it.CHUDAKOB's query on 12/08/2014Lisa, there is a real need to please re-read all your call notes before submitting them. This call notes has two questionable comments.1) You wrote "no dose adjustment for mild to moderate renal imarments" What are imarments?. What does the Butrans FPI say regarding renal impairment??2) This statement which you wrote: "We talked about no first ass." As you can see not re-reading call notes can lead to sometime inappropriate comments in call notes.Please respond with what you meant?BARTOLI's response on 12/17/20141. Per the FPI 12.3 no studies with renal impairments have been performed w Butrans. No notable relationship was observed between creatinine clearance rates and steady state buprenorphine concentrations among patients with Butrans therapy. 2. I was talking about a Butrans attribute, no first pass.CHUDAKOB added notes on 12/20/2014Lisa, section 12.3 discusses the Renal Impairment. It should also be noted in the same section it discusses 70% of buprenorphine following IM administration was eliminated in the feces. She also shared that she was shocked to learn Dr Prada wrote a Vicodin script recently for a patient. Hydrocodone insight to Dr Prada. Then Helen profile. Dr Prada was impressed with number of patients studied overall for Butrans & data on geriatric subjects studied. If patient has daily, ATC pain, long term; they meet indication for Butrans. Butrans remains a CII once a week Transdermal product, that can be called/ faxed in with refills. If patient needs 80 mg or more morphine equivalent or greater, low dose OxyContin is an option. Asked for just 1 or 2 trusted patients whom she can help in her practice. Ok I will think about Dr Prada replied. Left Butrans FPI, sliding doser.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/7/2014	In w dr gotis. Reviewed indications and limitations of use. Reviewed scheduling and dosing. Opened w hydrocodone insight.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/7/2014	Talked with nurse Debbie?kathy? About patients in around the clock pain who need around the clock pain relief. Now with the schedule change of hydrocodone, might be time to reassess pain patients and if any are appropriate for q12 dosing with OxyContin. If scheduling matters to them, butrans is an option since it is C3 , reviewed Pam and she said she would mention it to the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	10/8/2014	Doctor said that he has a few patients on OxyContin, once they are decided to be in around the clock pain he feels they should be on ER med. He doesn't think patients should be taken many pills. He is not happy about the rescheduling of hydrocodone, he doesn't feel that it is as addictive as Oxycodone. He was interested in hearing more about butrans but he has written it in the past and it was too expensive. We reviewed appropriate opioid naive and Tramadol patients as appropriate for butrans. He like the idea of trying butrans earlier instead of getting them started on pills. Reviewed initiation and titration guide, formulary coverage. He took patient information tear off sheet and said he will look for appropriate patient to try butrans again.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	10/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, 7.5mcg/hr said she will relay info to RPH
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	10/8/2014	quick hallway call and told her to identify just one patient who has pain around the clock and is still in pain who might be appropriate for Butrans. dr said ok and asked about conversions. reviewed conversions and titration and asked for business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	10/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans Intro, 7 day transdermal, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients and will consider Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	10/8/2014	Spoke with Rod and told him about Butrans 7.5 mcg. Discussed stocking and fill rates with other doses. Reviewed attributes for Butrans and OxyContin and discussed the indications for each. Rod spoke about hydrocodone moving to a schedule 2 and said most prescriptions for it didn't have refills anyway.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Northfield	OH	44067	10/8/2014	Doctor tries not to talk to reps, ran into her as she came into the office for the afternoon and I was leaving, handed her oxycontin leave behind open to conversion from IR, and Helen patient profile. Asked her to consider ER medications when they are taking IR around the clock and to keep an eye out for patients like Helen who might be appropriate for c3 butrans. She said thank you.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	10/8/2014	Spoke with Jason the pharmacist about Butrans 7.5mcg and explained dosing and conversions and asked him to check on his wholesaler Amerisource for stocking. Jason said the have it and won't order until he sees a prescription. Jason said most prescriptions he fills are for the 5mcg dose. Discussed OxyContin attributes and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/8/2014	Led off with tramadol insight and dr began talking about the rescheduling of it and hydrocodone. I asked dr how its impacting his business and he said not much because he hasn't ever written much and may be writing it for 90 days. I told dr to consider initiating Butrans for patients before they even get to hydrococone as long as they meet the Butrans indication. I reviewed both Scott and Helen and asked him where he's used it before? Dr said when he knows the patient is in chronic pain. I reviewed the indication and asked for continued business.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	10/8/2014	Discussed hydrocodone insight, dr said it won't effect him because he sees them monthly anyway. Talked about what he said last time and clarified. Dr sid he has about 70 percent of his patients who are hydrocodone that are under 40mg total daily dose. Talked about potential reassessment patients and who is appropriate for Butrans and how to initiate. Reviewed Helen.dr said he might not always convert Someone like Helen . He said he might try alternative approaches and perhaps later to an extended release product. Dr felt extended release products are valuable u. The right patients that are appropriTe. Talked about managed care, cousins.
PLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/8/2014	Nicki discussed the additional requirements on their staff with hydrocodone schedule change, how they don't have enough time to see all the patients monthly. I reviewed that when patients come in, is the perfect time to reassess their pain and see if they are appropriate for ER opioids. She agreed. Discussed schedule 3 butrans as appropriate for some patients in around the clock Pain, and now with additional dose of 7.5. She said she would let Roberta and Doctor know.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	10/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans Intro 7 day transdermal, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok, would like to further discuss at appt.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/8/2014	Discussed the Butrans attributes, conversions, titration and Scott and Helen profiles. Dr did not offer any information to the conversation at lunch with other prescribers. Discussed copy cards, 7.5 mcg dose.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/8/2014	Led with tramadol insight discussed new 7.5mcg dose, stocking, titration and Butrans attributes and copy cards. Discussed his use of Butrans and in patients like Helen and Scott. Focused on Helen and reviewed it in detail. Dr said he offers it to most patients and some ant it and come don't. I asked him to offer it to his medicare patients and those with private insurance.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	10/8/2014	quick discussion about butrans attributes, conversion, titration and patient types. Told her about insurance information and asked her to gain some experience
PLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	10/8/2014	Used insight 18, he said with the additional scrutiny he is trying not to write opioids, he will be referring to pain management. Mentioned c3 butrans as a possible alternTive for those patients that want to remain in his practice. Reviewed initiation and titration quickly. He said he will consider that option.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	10/8/2014	Visited Onc/Hem dept OxyContin /Butrans Initiation/Titration guides, Savings cards
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/8/2014	Quick discussion about Butrans 7.5mcg and how he can use it as a titratable dose. Dr said he's not getting much efficacy out of the 5mcg and figures he can get it from the 7.5mcg. I told him its still a titratable dose and he can better individualize the dose. Dr said he is liking the Caresource pa criteria and is pretty easy. Discussed OxyContin dosing, conversions and to prescribe more frequently for those in pain on IR oxycodone and meet the OxyContin indication.
PLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	10/8/2014	She said she doesn't treat pain patients. She blames oxycontin for the heroin problem. Abuse deterrent characteristics didn't matter much to her. She listened to conversation about butrans that I had with other doctor in practice and she quietly left lunch
PLPMDL0020000001	Shaker Heights	OH	44122	10/8/2014	Danielle moved from ridge road location, and is now pharmacy manger here. This is her first day on the job. Has not heard or noticed anything different since schedule change of hydrocodone. Wil only stock butrans 7.5 if patient is on it or if Doctor calls and asks them to have it on hand.
PLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	10/8/2014	Used insight 18, he said that he is avoiding writing opioids, at the very least cutting back. I mentioned that he has to assess his pain patients monthly, and if he finds there are some in around the clock pain, that he consider treating them with ER opiod like OxyContin q12 instead of treating that pain in 4-6 hour increments. There is also a c3 butrans transdermal pain patch that might be appropriate for some patients. He just looked, didn't respond and went into room.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/8/2014	Discussed Insight 18, reviewed Butrans for those Norco patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Asked for a patient this afternoon, said she would, also reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours. 7 tablet strengths.
PLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Met w med asst at front check in. Left Helen profile, OxyContin slim jim, Butrans dosing slider. Provided Med D pull through.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Hallway, Hydrocodone insight. As your re assessing your hydrocodone patients every 30 days, I'd like you to consider OxyContin, also a CII, dosed every 12 hours, and ability to titrate in 1-2 days. No additional AE's for elderly compared to young (18+) subject in clinical trials. Another option is Butrans, which remains a CIII. Butrans is worn every 7 days, and is indicated for (verbatim indication). A good place for opiod naive patient like Helen OR after 3-4 ir Tramadol daily, and pain still not controlled. Left OxyContin slim jim, Helen profile, sliding doser. Asked him to review info I left. (non tier/spoke w because Dr Solomon day off) Med D pull through.
PLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	10/9/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr doesn't have many atc chronic pain patients. We talked about when OxyContin is used? Dr said hardly needs it. I asked why. He said its too expensive compared to generic so he would prefer to cheaper product. Dr said he isn't concerned about patients coming to the office mostly he said he won't see them anyway and that he will have the script waiting for them. I asked dr how he felt about Butrans after presentation and he said maybe one patient and only because they were only and may like a weekly patch. I asked why not a different person that also meets critia. Dr said he thinks his patients like pills. Talked about how does he know if he doesn't offer the option to an appropriate patient, discussed aarp, dosing and patch rotation .

PLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Hallway. Delivered hydrocodone insight. Asked Dr. as he's re assessing his hydrocodone patients every 30 days, if their pain is daily, etc, long term; I propose you consider OxyContin, also a CII, which offers every 12 hour release of oxycodone for your patients. Can titrate in 1-2 days, dosing flexibility. Dr says, you guys still make that? Yes, I replied. For patients who need under 80 mg morphine equivalent, Butrans is an option. Butrans is a CIII, 1 x week patch. How many days worn, asked dr. Sahiani? Every 7 days, I replied. Used Helen profile and dosing slider to show appropriate patient and dosing for naive/experienced. Showed how to write. Med D pull through.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/9/2014	Asked Dr to review info I left. He stated he would. Showed him where savings cards, for both products, are located in sample closet.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/9/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin attributes, conversions, titrations, new 7.5mcg dose and appropriate patients with Helen and Scott. Janet agreed she needs to be thinking more ER opioids instead of IR continuation.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/9/2014	Discussed OxyContin dosing, conversions, attributes, and abuse deterrent discussion from MVA.

PLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Spoke with. tech Raquel & male pharmacist. Discussed OxyContin scheduling, dosing, verbatim indication. Then - access for their customers- for self pay, discussed reimbursement, for commercially covered, discussed monthly co-pay, savings. For Butrans, discussed scheduling, dosing & left NDC code brochure, introduced 7.5 Butrans. Currently, they have only 1 customer on Butrans. Medicare D pull through for Butrans. She says if Butrans not filled. The reason is always, prior auth didn't go through/ plan denied Butrans without step edit. Findings: they don't order narcotics electronically yet. Currently they use & FAX 222 form to Cardinal. They then submit copy of form to Cardinal DRIVER as well. They don't order narcotics on any set day; they order AS NEEDED. If patient doesn't pick up narcotic after 7 days, they place on "hold" status. Narcotics are treated like all other product categories/ schedules in this area.

PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/9/2014	Met Lauren a new pharmacist and discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and dosing. Discussed the 7.5 mcg dose and their wholesaler has it in stock. I asked her if they will order it based on the volume they do on dispensing and she said they will order it when they see a script. Lauren said that they see a lot of OxyContin as well and reviewed dosing and conversions with patient types.
PLPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	10/9/2014	Discussed the Butrans 7.5 mcg dose and asked them which Butrans dose they dispense most? Julie said they typically see most 5 and 10mcg doses. I told them they will most likely see the 7.5mcg as well. Asked about stocking and they said there is a delay with Cardinal but should be available tomorrow. Discussed OxyContin doses and copy cards. Told they need more cards.
PLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Lunch, total office call. Dr has all patients come back every 30 days to pick up opioid rx. Hydrocodone rescheduling does not effect him as a result. Dr asks: So what's new? every time I see him. I have new data for you. Percocet insight: dr says patient may need to be on ir opiod due to cost; or medicare d patients, who cannot afford $20-40 monthly for branded script. Discussed Helen profile. As I was reading through profile, Dr stopped me, said I don't have time to listen to all that. Finished with Med D pull through. Reinforced self pay and commercially covered patients pay $30 out of pocket for OxyContin. Commercial Butrans patients get trial, then pay approx $15 dollars monthly. Dr asked if boxes of Butrans can be opened at pharmacy or if patient has to pay for whole month/all 4 patches. I replied, typically, pharmacies do NOT break open Butrans and are NOT instructed to do so.
PLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	10/9/2014	Reviewed scheduling of Butrans and OxyContin. Went over indication and Helen profile. No said she prefers patches for most chronic things so she would read up on turbans, I gave her naive study to review on Butrans. The ng is a floater between offices prn.

	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/9/2014	Dr Azar office. Started to deliver hydrocodone insight, and Dr. interrupted and said; I have to ask you something. I have patient in room 2 who has cancer. Can I put him on OxyContin. He's on oxycodone 40 mg day. Asked for details of patient. He wanted me to go in room and talk to patient. I replied, I'm not permitted to do that; so I asked med asst to go in and speak with patient. Findings: patient is 54 yrs old, cancer pain, currently on oxycodone, on Caresource. Currently pays nothing for his oxycodone. I left Dr. Azar and med asst. know that Caresource requires a prior auth for OxyContin. When approved should be a few dollars a month, since it's a branded, ER medication, depending on patient's situation. Discussed average dose of OxyContin for cancer pain per fpi. Dr says he may offer patient at next appt. His concerns are: 1. prior auth 2. patient may NOT get for free
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	10/9/2014	Reviewed with Helene RPH mgr-who is leaving next week, OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Has not seen any but will relay info to new Pharm Mgr Steve M.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	10/9/2014	Overview of Butrans after giving the tramadol insight. Dr said he agrees that too many patients are being kept on their IR opioids and not being converted. Reviewed Butrans attributes, Bup 3015, 7.5 mcg dose, copy cards and insurance. Dr said he's having good success with it and just refilled a Butrans 10mcg for a patient who says its the best thing ever. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, conversions, abuse set errant characteristics from MVA and copy cards and insurance. Discussed the BEP kits with dr and asked him to give them out to new patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/10/2014	Open. Hydrocodone insight. Dr said he doesn't treat much with that product and it's mostly acute anyway so he didn't think it would affect his practice. Talked about reassessing the pain patients on Tramadol and when he will turn to Butrans if appropriate. Reviewed Helen profile. Dr agreed Butrans was a good choice for the appropriate patients in his group. Dr asked about coverage. Covered aarp, which the dr said will no longer be covered for his patients. And covered the large commercial plans like medical mutual and anthem, reviewed the Butrans coupons. Highlighted the over 40mg/hydrocodone atc chronic pain patient for OxyCotin at 10mg q12. The dr said he will continue to write Butrans as ling as the coverage continues. Reviewed limitations of use and abuse potential with both products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	10/10/2014	Talked to Jim very briefly. He stocks all oxycontin and two strengths of butrans. He will not stock 7.5 until it is requested. Their supplier is Cardinal and it shows that "there are 12 in stock, but that there is a shipping delay from manufacturer", so he assumes they are in stock but wasn't sure. He had to run
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/10/2014	Reviewed 7.5 do send how to order it. Talked about Butrans initiation guide and patch placement, highlighted OxyContin dosing.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/10/2014	Spoke to Amin the pharma it about stocking the 7.5 which he said he would do. Talked about Butrans starting doses and the use of the titration dose. Covered fair balance of respiratory depression and limitations of Butrans not for acute use. Spoke about OxyCotin dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	10/10/2014	Talked with Laura the pharmacist. They have all strengths of OxyContin but not butrans. She thought butrans was schedule 2, reviewed butrans dosing and titration and scheduling. she thinks there might be possible uptake in prescribing of this product. They will not stock it until they gets prescriptions from patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	N Royalton	OH	44133	10/10/2014	Quick meeting introducing myself. He said he tries very hard not to write oxycontin so he doesn't see a need to talk, I told him that I understand his feelings but there are probably a few patients in his practice who are in pain around the clock that may benefit from ER release medications. OxyContin's q12 dosing might be appropriate for a few patients, or schedule 3 butrans transdermal patch may be appropriate for some patients. Handed him the titration guide for butrans, began reviewing it. He said I can schedule a lunch to discuss this further.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	10/10/2014	Dr said he put a patient on Butrans the other day who was in pain on Norco. Dr asked if Butrans will remain a schedule 3 and I told him as far as I know yes. Dr said that's big for him because he doesn't want to write hydrocodone anyway. I asked for continued business and discussed the 7.5 mcg dose and how he can also go to OxyContin as a q12 oxycodone. Checked copy cards for both products and told him to use them for private
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/10/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr did not think it would affect his practice. We talked about treating atc chronic pain patients after Tramadol. Dr agreed that if he patient was dosed more than 2 times a day, and refills longer than 3 months they might be appropriate for an extended release option like Butrans. Dr said his patients are older and in the med d coverage. We reviewed the dosing, no first pass, no dose adjustment for elderly. Talked about the lowest starting dose and reviewed imitation guide. Dr studied it. Talked about steady state, abuse potential of Butrans and OxyCotin and we covered aarp coverage for his med d patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/10/2014	Hydrocodone insight. I asked how this is going to change initiating new Hydrocodone patients? Dr said he will write less he thinks. I said is this because you have to see them in a monthly basis or because you don't want to write norco? Dr said he writes it because its cheap and he wonders if managed care will cover it now. I said that's a good question. I asked if it makes sense to convert someone who is not controlled on norco 40mg.... And is the atc not acute patient type if he will write OxyContin 10mg dosed every 12 hours for them? He said price is the problem usually. I asked him what is the price that is reasonable for your patients?? He said under 20 bucks and less if they are older. I said then you have to hand out the coupons which he said he does. And you need to know we are covered unrestricted on your biggest med d plans like aarp and silvers scripts. I reminded him about under 40mg of Hydrocodone and Butrans option for an uncontrolled norco patient. Talked to the staff about the experience kit and the value it brings to the patient s and e information it offers to the doctors.
PPLPMDL0020000001	N Royalton	OH	44133	10/10/2014	Quick intro as new rep wanting to discuss his patients in around the clock pain that might be treating that pain in 4-6 hour increments. Q12 OxyContin or c3 butrans might be an appropriate option for some of those patients. He agreed and can discuss at lunch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Middleburg Hts	OH	44130	10/10/2014	Talked to Maria the MA about the patients in around the clock pain that would benefit fromER opioids such as OxyContin with q12 dosing. Shared butrans information now with 5 dosing options available. Asked her to share with Doctor Ryan so he is aware of that option for his patients, she said she would.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/10/2014	Discussed Butrans attributes, 7.5mcg dose, Helen profile and AE profile. Dr discussed cost with Butrans and was concerned with cash price of Butrans 5mcg dose and said that his patients are asked to pay upwards of $3-400. Dr said his cash patients make up maybe 5% of his business. Dr said he wants me to check cash prices and I told him its just going to be too expensive for the vast majority. Discussed OxyContin use and dr said he would rather use Butrans because he knows it works and likes the safety profile. Reviewed copy cards for each product and BEP kits.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	10/13/2014	Quick hallway. Finishing up for day. Hydrocodone insight. Paul says its difficult to get OxyContin and Butrans covered for Medicare patients. Medicare D pull through. Left Butrans 7.5 brochure, OxyContin slim jim.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/13/2014	Asked for OM Peggy, she's on vacation, will be back this FRI. Asked med asst Adriana if she feels they will have lunches in 2105; she states no, Drs just too busy. Caught Dr. Petroff at front, quick OxyContin, Butrans mention for patients with daily, atc, pain. Left Dr. Petroff Butrans 7.5 brochure/OxyContin slim jim. (left same for Drs. Moyal, Papirova)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	10/13/2014	Informed doctor about new strength of butrans. He was happy to hear about another option. He is in agreement that OxyContin is an appropriate choice for patients in around the clock pain. He is still curious if the company is looking into changing the adhesive of butrans due to some patients reactions, submitted an emirf.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Valley View	OH	44125	10/13/2014	Reviewed with Aaron OxyContin/Butrans. 7.5mcg/hr. Said ok will continue to recommend to appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	10/13/2014	Spoke with the pharmacy technician Bob about Butrans and OxyContin attributes, conversions and appropriate patients. I asked about stocking of each product. Bob said they don't gve I'll many Butrans and have the 5 mcg in stock. Discussed the 7.5 mcg and stocking of more doses. Discussed copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	10/13/2014	Discussed reaccessing patients, along with treating patients in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D opportunities. Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/13/2014	Short conversation with Jim and discussed hydrocodone schedule 2 and Butrans 7.5 mcg dose. Jim said they don't fill very often for Butrans and will order he 7.5mcg when they see a script. Discussed OxyContin dosing and conversions and asked about fill rates. Him said the fill pretty often and mostly the 10,20, and 40mg doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	10/13/2014	Reviewed with Troy- Rph mgr. OxyContin/Butrans, stocking and utilization review

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/13/2014	Caught doctor at the window, but he didn't want to get caught. Introduced my self and products and said that I was hoping for a minute of his time to discuss his patients in around the clock pain and why ER meds might be appropriate for some of them. He said he writes a tiny bit of OxyContin but he doesn't have time right now and he walked away. I continued to talk to his nurse Sue about some patient types that might be appropriate using Helen. She does think that butrans may be worth considering. She asked for information and savings cards, but then had to leave.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	10/13/2014	Met with tech Dee first, then pharmacy manager Kristi Lucas. Hydrocodone insight. Has the rescheduling changed the volume of hydrocodone you are dispensing, not really, Kristi replied. A few months back, she noticed an overall increase in IR Tramadol being written, and that has continued. Discussed Butrans as another option for patients with daily, ATC pain. Showed/left. Butrans 7.5 brochure- asked Kristi to check availability of Butrans 7.5. Findings on Cardinal Health site: 7.5 in YELLOW, states N/A and "Manufacturer experiencing delay in Shipping." Left Butrans pharmacist guide, OxyContin reformulation folder.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	10/13/2014	Met. With pharmacist Kelly Rhodes. Had her check availability of Butrans 7.5 on Cardinal Health site. It states 7.5 is in "yellow" status, which means, lower quantity, with 12 cartons available. The 5, 10, 15 and 20 strengths are in green, which means good supply, guaranteed when ordering. Yellow status means you can order, but shipment not guaranteed due to low quantity. Left NDC code brochure, discussed, left Butrans pharmacist guide. OxyContin discussed after hydrocodone insight. Since 10/6 rescheduling of hydrocodone combos, Butrans, OxyContin are options for patients with daily, ATC, long term pain.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/13/2014	Jeanette was able to pull the dr from the hallway and bring him to the window to see me today. Jeanette the ma and pra ur auth coordinator. I explained to the dr the hydrocodone insight and asked him how he was planning on seeing the number of increased patients. Dr said he already sees them every month. I said every patient every month? I said how do you have time for new patients? Dr said it takes a few weeks to get in but his existing patients take priority said. I reminded him that Butrans was schedule 3 and asked him if he was aware that he would fax in scripts or do refills. Dr said yes. I asked the dr if he was a norco patient uncontrolled and a candidate for Butrans would he convert the. To a weekly patch? Dr said it depends on their insurance. I said ok...what if it was a caresource or aarp med d patient for example. He said sure. He said he likes Butrans. I. Asked him to write if he found someone needing to be moved to an atc chronic pain option like Butrans and who are under 40mcg total dose of norco. Dr said as long as coverage is there for his patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	10/13/2014	Spoke to egor the pharmacist and opened w insight 18 and asked how they felt their business would change. He said they are stocking limited amounts. We talked about Butrans new dosing 7.5 and he verified it was available to order. He said he would not order it with out a prescription. He did confirm there were patients on Butrans at their store but still wouldn't order even a case. Talked about starting doses of 5 or 10mcg. Pointed out the 7.5 dose was a titration dose. Covered 7 day patch, patch rotation and how to discard. Gave abuse potential statement and reviewed Indication. Highlighted dosing of Butrans s and OxyCotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	10/13/2014	Started off with insight 18 and discussed his thoughts. Dr said it won't do much to his business because he has never written refills for narcotics anyway and hasn't heard much from his patients on hydrococone about the situation. I discussed reassessing his existing IR opioid patients and what that looks like and if he has a process in place for it? Dr said that he dos and reassess all the time and runs into patients either resistant to change or like the euphoric feeling that IR opioids can bring. Reviewed how OxyContin and Butrans can be possible solution for those patients. Discussed attributes for both products, dosing and titration of OxyContin and using more 10mg dose and using flexibility of doses. Helen profile for Butrans and new 7.5mcg dose. Dr spoke about how he doesn't accept Caresource and that most of his chronic pain patients have other Medicaid plans and they want him to write higher doses of other ER opioids before Butrans which he said he won't do. Told him to focus on Medicare patients like Helen and private insurance. Reviewed copy card in info and dr said he needed Lunch. Follow up on Med 80 guidelines. Reminded him those need updated, as Tramadol moved to CIV and Hydrocodone moved to CII since that was printed. Hydrocodone insight delivered. Dr wanted to know if any other primary care office s are using pain contracts and what I think of them. I told him yes, many are, I think they're great idea. He wanted to know if 30 day follow up is mandated by any organization? I replied no, but if you're writing any CII's for pain, patient will need to come back anyway every 30 days to pick up script. This is where Butrans may fit it. Butrans remains CIII, 1x week patch, can be called/faxed in with refills. Discussed, showed Butrans patient guide. Asked when he sees his patients each month, consider an ER opioid like OxyContin or butrans, if he determines patient has daily, atc, pain - an ER opioid is designed to treat those types of patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/13/2014	Spoke to Kathy upfront and new nurses regarding hydrocodone insight and the affect they feel it will have on their job. Nurses said they thought there would be many unhappy patients. Dr came to window and the nurses asked the dr if he would be seeing all their norco patients monthly now? Dr said he didn't have a choice that if they want their pills they will have to come in. I asked him to think about that visit and what if they were uncontrolled on their norco, perhaps Butrans 5mcg or 10mcg would be an option for them if they had atc chronic pain. Dr said he should write more Butrans. I said why do you think that? Dr said he needs to try new ways to treat chronic pain. Reviewed the refills with Butrans and the experience kit for his patients. Highlighted OxyCotin dosed every 12 hours. I did highlight abuse potential w both products and covered the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/13/2014	Spoke to dr highlighted the reassessment time frame of his no co patients that may be appropriate for OxyContin dosed every 12 hours or Butrans if they are under 40mg norco total daily dose. I asked the dr if he had concerns starting a patient from norco onto OxyContin? Dr said no, as long as they are appropriate. Talked about indication and abuse potential for both products. Asked him to think what atc means, he said they need to be taking pain meds more than twice a day every day. Dr said he would try Butrans. And I reminded him of initiation guide and coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/13/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, said patients prefer but will consider OxyContin every 12hours, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans For those patients requiring around the clock analgesia,Said Ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/13/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, working with Dr. Daoud more on the outpatient side, will help in reminding clinicians
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/13/2014	Started with insight 18, doctor wasn't aware of schedule change or repercussions, reviewed what the changes mean to his practice. He sees patients monthly anyway but thinks that he should do more research on what is expected of him as a practitioner. Started discussing patients that are in around the clock pain. Talked about a few patient types that are candidates for butrans, he is have good success with the patients that are on butrans right now and thinks it is a good option for many patient types. He has a couple patients on q12 OxyContin and Percocet, he asked my opinion on how they should be dosed. I told him that he best knows how to manage pain but that once pain is around the clock, the patient wants around the clock pain relief. How is it appropriate to do that? Q 12 dosing with OxyContin aat the right dose is appropriate, providing supplemental for breakthrough is appropriate, only he can decide what is appropriate for his patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	10/13/2014	Short discussion with this cnp about Butrans and OxyContin. Brittany said that she primarily deals with the diabetic patients and children. Brittany said that she does not treat pain other than acute pain with IR opioids for about 1-2 weeks. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/13/2014	Dr a in her new location in rocky river. Iliada the ma and val the ma are there, spoke about the hydrocodone insight and they thought the next few months will be challenging. Not only because of the norco being moved to schedule 2, but the dr is transitioning to paperless and is learning the computer system. Saw dr, she said he has been working many hours getting settled into her new place. We talked about hydrocodone insight. Dr said she hates writing norco and will write Butrans if appropriate. Asked her to think about the norco patient uncontrolled and requesting a change...reviewed atc chronic pain patient. Highlighted over 40mg total daily dose of norco, to start 10mg every 12 hours on OxyCotin and under 40mg total daily dose either 5 or 10mcg weekly patch. Dr asked about it being schedule 3. I did confirm via faxing and refills, yet stated the abuse potential of Butrans and Hydrocodone insight. I asked during the extra visits and reassessment if a few of them were taking more than 2 doses of norco every month? Dr said some. I position his caresource and aarp patients for Butrans. Talked about dosing and reviewed initiation guide. I reminded him that he doesn't not have to hand out a coupon and the coverage on these plans. I asked him if he would have trouble offering a 7 day patch to an appropriate patient? I asked if this could be an option in his practice and he said as long as his patients can afford it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/14/2014	Asked doctor to think about his patients in around the clock pain. Once that is determined, does he think those patients should be treated in 4-6 hour increments, or is it time to consider ER meds? He stared at me then he went to his computer and searched how many of his patients are documented as having chronic pain. He found 50 but said there are probably more. I asked him to tell me what some of them were taking. It was a mixture of Tramadol, Percocet and Vicodin roughly 4 per day. I asked him what he thought about some of those patients taking 2 pills per day at the right dose to manage their pain? He said it makes sense to do it that way to potentially avoid the ups and downs of their pain. I then asked about the patient he started on butrans last time I was in there. He said he hasn't heard. I then said that she must be doing well if he hasn't heard anything. He thinks butrans makes sense, I reviewed Helen to give him one specific patient to look for before I stop in next time, reviewed dosing and he said he will write more butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/14/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D coverage, Butrans experience kits, Said Ok, will continue to look for appropriate patients, Said she finds herself prescribing for new patients, Talked with Ben, the floating pharmacist. Asked about stocking of hydrocodone, he said they have plenty in stock and it was still old labeling. Asked what he thinks about the scheduling change and he feels that it should have always been that way. He agrees that some patients take more of those that should be on ER. Informed him of new butrans dose. He got called to the phone.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	10/14/2014	Hydrocodone insight with sarah the priur auth office manager and the dr. The dr said he would write more Butrans for his controlled atc chronic pain patients that he doesn't have time to see every month. The dr asked about managed care. I covered aarp and caresource w Butrans and reminded him of the experience kits to hand out for those new patients, sarah asked me if she could enroll the patients before they left the office, I told her I didn't know the answer d told her how the program works. Reminded on OxyCotin coverage for med d and dosing.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	10/14/2014	Regina didn't have time to talk because she was there alone and way behind. She told me to come back after flu season. They have had no stocking issues with hydrocodone. She never tells anyone on the phone that they stock any opioids because you are asking for trouble...Quickly told her about new dose of butrans that is available.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/14/2014	Myra said that she loves how butrans works for many of her patients. She thinks it is a great option but is limited by formulary and the itching and rash side effects. I submitted an emirf regarding the itching and rash. I reviewed improved formulary coverage and reinforced the patients that don't see those side effects. Used insight 18, although initially they were bombarded with hydrocodone patient problems, they seemed to have worked through those. Even though schedule 2 products have been avoided in this practice, the decision has been made to continue to prescribe that despite the new scheduling. Myra doesn't think this will change anything in regards to OxyContin. The patients requiring ER OxyContin will be referred elsewhere.
	Parma	OH	44129	10/14/2014	Laura says that Butrans is appropriate for a few patients but that in general patches aren't for everyone. If they are laborers, use hot tub etc, patches just aren't an option. Used Helen patient profile to get her thinking about one patient type to keep an eye out for. She finds that once they come to them they are so used to taking pills that converting to a patch is very difficult. She does see the need for OxyContin for patient in around the clock pain. In her previous job she did have patients on that q12. This practice does not choose to prescribe OxyContin and those patients are referred elsewhere.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/14/2014	Had a chance to quickly meet Doctor, she said that she has tried to write butrans in the past, seemed to work for a while then some patients developed rash and unpleasant side effects. I told her that some people do respond with those side effects but not everyone. I asked her if the patients in around the clock pain could use the once daily patch without side effects, does she believe it is worth trying. She said yes. Thinking again of patients in around the clock pain, I asked her to consider oxycontin for some of her patients that are asking for more IR. She said she does write oxycontin when necessary but prefers not to.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/15/2014	Window. Julie went to see if Dr. Goldner could come up front to see me; he replied no; as he was on conference call. Showed, left medical assistant: Butrans initiation/titration guide and all 5 strengths. Reminder: can be called/faxed in with refills. Showed, left OxyContin slim jim.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/15/2014	Discussed Butrans Helen profile, 7.5 mcg dose and dosing flexibility it brings. Dr said he thinks it will be a good dose for him because he likes Butrans in his older population who he needs to titrate slowly with. Reviewed OxyContin conversions and appropriate patient types and insurance coverage for each product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	10/15/2014	Led off with insight 18 and followed up with appropriate leading questions. Discussed the options of Butrans and OxyContin as the go to ER opioids for appropriate patients. Reviewed Helen profile, dosing and insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	10/15/2014	Reviewed OxyContin conversions and dosing. Dr said she thinks she has a patient that would be appropriate for Butrans on hydrocodone and wants more.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	10/15/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours. Along with Butrans intro . 7 day transdermal, CIII for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. Said ok, will consider for appropriate patients, will be practicing only here for 3 months. Returning to Africa Sir Leon
PPLPMDL0020000001					Led off with insight 18 and followed up with appropriate leading questions. Dr said that it is a total pain to see the hydrocodone patients and said he's trying to change how things are done and said that Unity is meeting next week and the Hydrocodone dilemma is on the agenda. Dr said he lives Butrans and has had good success. Reviewed Helen profile and new 7.5 mcg dosing. Reviewed OxyContin dosing flexibility, conversions and appropriate patient type selection.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	10/15/2014	Reviewed pages 9 and 11 of OxyContin MVA and Butrans doses and patient selection with Helen profile. Reminded about Caresource pa and Medicare coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/15/2014	Lunch. Asked Dr Ashraf, since they took over Suite 108 as well, more rooms and 3 separate check in windows- why a 3 hr wait to see him (12 n-3:15 pm)?? He replied all patient rooms are not completed yet, so they are sharing 4 patient rooms and they get "bottlenecked"- they may finish with patient in 15 mts, but then something else comes up - they need blood work, vaccine etc. He says once patient rooms are completed; the office will run more efficiently as they do have patients in 15 mt time slots. Delivered hydrocodone insight. Asked dr as he's following up with patients every 30 days; he consider the benefits of ER delivery system; for OxyContin, then Butrans. Single entity, dosing flexibility discussed, both products. Butrans newest strength is 7.5; product can be called/faxed in with refills when he's out of office. Saves patients (especially over 65) an extra office visit/possible co pay. Dr says all good points. Showed him where OxyContin Butrans savings cards are in new sample closet. Formulary, Med D pull through.-CHUDAKOB's query on 10/27/2014-Jenny, this is a lot to write "Lunch. Asked Dr Ashraf, since they took over Suite 108 as well, more rooms and 3 separate check in windows- why a 3 hr wait to see him (12 n-3:15 pm)??... I could even fit it all in this query. Was is all pertinent to the sales call? If not, it probably should not be included in the note. Would have saved you some time.BALLIE's response on 10/28/2014-It was to help me remember, what the new layout of office is, after recent renovations.CHUDAKOB added notes on 11/03/2014>I know, but how does that help with the sales call itself? That is what the call note is for. You would remember that the next time you went in the office.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	10/15/2014	Opened w hydrocodone insight and asked the doctor how he felt about the length of time? He said it seemed normal. I said is it possible that if someone uncontrolled on norco 40mg might be a candidate for Butrans? Dr said he doesn't write that much usually. I asked what he wrote and he said no more than two maybe three doses a day. I asked him if he considered that third dose to be someone with pain several times during the day...he said yes. I asked if that was what atc means to him? He said yes. I said so you could have offered Butrans to them if they were atc and chronic. Dro said yes. I said if you see someone this week like that will you write Butrans instead of adding to their norco. Dr said he will think about it.

PPLPMDL0020000001					Reminded christy the office manager of the caresource coverage for butrans and the scheduling of butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/15/2014	Lunch. First HCP to come back. Presented hydrocodone insight. The scheduling does not impact him as he doesn't write a lot of Vicodin he states. What I'm suggesting, when you see your patients every 30 days & they present with pain, and meet ER opioid indication: I propose you consider Butrans. Remains a CIII, appropriate for patient like Helen (profile) single entity opioid, patient wears 1patch per week, gets 4 patches each month. Reviewed dosing slider. Dr liked the fact that Butrans can be called, faxed in with refills. I asked him to consider in 1 or 2 trusted patients. If patients need more than 80 mg morphine equivalent daily, OxyContin, a single entity CII controlled release tablet is also option. Discussed patient access, savings, titration & strengths.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	10/15/2014	I asked dr if the patient he said he was staring on Butrans this week came in to get the prescription? Dr said the patient was a no show. I asked dr what the current dose of oxycodone is? Dr said he thinks 20mg/day. I reviewed initial dosing and conversions along with titration. Told dr to continue looking and reminded him Butrans is a schedule 3.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	10/15/2014	Head resident at WSPriamry. Tried to speak with Dr. Gotts (target) he was unavailable, but spoke to Dr. instead. Insight 18- dr thought it would make patients having to come into the office to get their script. We talked about abuse potential for all opioids including Butrans and Oxycontin. We talked about the chronic pain patient that returns every month and why give them the option to prn in 4 to 6 hour increments when they have the option of Butrans with is dosed weekly and Oxycontin dosed every 12 hours. Dr said it was a good point. We talked about the chronic pain patient. I asked how many have other conditions and need to take other meds besides pain medications. He said almost all of them. I highlighted a few attributes of Butrans like no first pass and no dose adjustments for the elderly or moderate renal impaired patients. Also covered it was single entity. We talked about the potential for rash, and I showed him the A/e from the core visual chart. We reviewed dosing and titration. highlighted managed care and coupons. Gave him the Helen Profile to review and a nice butrans study. Told him that I would like to sponsor a journal club where we can review this FDA approved study for Butrans. Dr said he would coordinate something. He also said he will be working full time in north ridgeville come february with uh. I congratulated him, he is taking his boards soon and staying inthe area.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/15/2014	Elise asked where the Butrans 7.5 mcg dose is in stock because she prescribed it right before I came in. I told her the rite a lid in Fairlawn should have it on the shelf. Elise said she titrated from the 5mcg and is happy the lower titratable dose is available. Elise said initially the patient was on hydrocodone and it wasn't working. I asked for continued prescribing. Reviewed OxyContin dosing and conversions and asked for her continue
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44308	10/15/2014	Spoke with Mary one of the staff nurses. Told her how I have been trying to get some time with the residents to discuss updates and facts around proper prescribing for OxyContin. Mary said they used to do them much more frequently and that they did make a difference but for some reason don't do them much anymore. Mary said she would speak with the nurse manager and try to get it scheduled.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/15/2014	Invited Candy RN and Dr Gerace to Butrand program next week but they said they were way to busy to attend. Reminded of butrans dosing and scheduling today.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/15/2014	hydrocodone insight. Asked if it was in stock and they told me limited amounts. I talked about butrans and oxycontin indication and abuse potential. reviewed dosing and scheduling. Also covered new butrans dose. They said they would not stock until a script arrived. I asked what if a doctor in the area requests it be ordered? He said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	10/15/2014	Lunch. Waited from 12 n-3:15. Dr not engaged, hectic/busy. 	Westlake	OH	44145	10/15/2014	Hyrddodone insight too virginia the ma and office coordinator. We talked about the volumn increase in patients that she thought they would have and she wasn't too concerned because the doctor sees them every month usually anyway. I said always? She said usually. The doctor came to the window and I said it is true doctor that you typically see your pain patients every month? He said yes. I said even if they are controlled chronic pain patient? He said he will write out scripts for those patients but they can't fill them. I said did you release that Butrans is a sheudle 3 which means refills and faxing scripts to the pharmacy? He said yes. I said during your month assessments it is possible to identify one patyient that isn't controlled taking 2 or more doses in a day? He said maybe. I said because if they have atc pain and have pain that keeps them coming back every month they might like the option of Butrans weekly dosing schedule or the free month for commercial insured patients. Dr said free? I said if you hand out these coupons. I asked another area is your managed mediaid like caresource...we talked about those plans. I said you have many patients on those plans right? He said too many. I said why not Butrans if it meets the indication? Dr said he will try it. I start either start 5mcg or 10mcg of Led off with insight 18 and followed up with appropriate leading questions. I asked dr if he thinks OxyContin is an appropriate piton for some of his patients who hydrocodone isn't providing the efficacy desired or can't tolerate it? Dr said it is but would rather write Butrans. I asked why and he said he would feel more comfortable and that unity is discouraging writing opioids anyway. Reviewed OxyContin attributes and dosing. Discussed Butrans Helen profile and asked him if he has written Butrans yet? Dr said not yet but likes that its a schedule 3, 7 day patch and agrees that Helen is a good patient type. Reviewed copay cards and insurance coverage. Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments. Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, CIII, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will consider, sends most to Pain mgmnt but will keep in mind,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	10/16/2014	Introduction, then told him that I wanted to discuss his patients that are in around the clock pain. He said that he believes those patients need to be on an ER medication as soon as it has been determined that it is around the clock. He thinks oxycontin works well for his patients and he likes the q12 dosing. He tries not to write more than 2 hydrocodone, switches to ER if they are still on pain. He doesn't know much about butrans, but wanted to know how it binds to the receptors. I showed him pg 25 in detail aid to discuss how it is partial agonist/antagonist. I wanted to review studies to ensure that he was comfortable with efficacy. He said that wasn't necessary. Reviewed appropriate patient like Helen, initiation and titration. He was thinking of his patients and informed me that he identified a few that might be appropriate for butrans. He asked for savings cards. Spoke to Dr and Dr T and highlighted the butrans dinner program next week. Asked if he had any residents that would like to attend. I asked about doing a journal club, we are working on dates w dr. T. Covered the hydrocodone insight. I asked if it was possible that he might see an appropriate pateint for Butrans or oxycontin and he said yes. Opened the Butrans iniation guide and reviewed dosing under 40mg of norco and over 40 suggested Oxycontin 10mg dosed every 12 hours. I said when it comes to treating chronic pain...would patients appreciate these options? He said maybe so. Highlighted the savings program.-cb>CHUDAKOB's query on 10/27/2014Good questions on the next call objective Lisa! Which one are you thinking of for your next call?-cb>BARTOLI's response on 10/28/2014I'll start w the first one and move down the list. I believe the dr likes the concept of Butrans. I also believe that he is choosing Butrans after they have been on several immediate release products. My goal is to get him to admit it can be an option in the appropriate patient as their first atc per (indication) option instead of a last resort. Extended release insight would be good here.-cb>CHUDAKOB added Hydrocodone insight and talked about the number of patients over 65 that this will affect in his practice. I asked how the patients felt about coming into the office to pick up their scripts and asked if they have to do an evaluation every month? Dr said no. That most will have scripts at the window with out a visit. I asked if some of those patietns might be a candidate for an atc non acute product like Butrans? He said maybe. We talked about a few attributes like no first pass, no dose adjustment for elderly or mild/moderate renal impaired patients and also talked about the 7 day dose. Gave fair balance, talked about percentage of rash according to the core visual aid. Talked about abuse potential for both Butrans and OxyContin. Dr was headed to the hospital- I asked the doctor if he could try one patient this week who may present to be a candidate like discussed per the indication. He said maybe.-cb>CHUDAKOB's query on 10/27/2014Lisa, when you get asked about a side effect, the best way to handle it is to hand the HCP the visual and let him/her look at all the adverse events. Make sense?-cb>BARTOLI's response on 10/28/2014Yes makes sense. I will do that.-cb>CHUDAKOB added notes on 11/03/2014Thank you.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	10/16/2014	Discussed insight 18 and follow up questions by Purdue. Dr said that the rescheduling won't make much of a difference in his practice but said he does see maybe more opportunity for OxyContin and the schedule 3 Butrans. Discussed OxyContin MVA pages 9-14 and then Butrans attributes and asked him if he's used? Dr said he did prescribe it to a patient on hydrocodone who was kicked out of the pain management office. Patient said they wanted wicoden and dr said the only thing he will prescribe is Butrans. I told dr that's good to hear and discussed the Helen profile. Dr agreed that it makes sense to use Butrans for a tramadol patient still in pain. Discussed OxyContin MVA conversions page and appropriate patient page. I asked dr if he thinks it would fit more often in his treatment protocol? Dr said not really because he won't write scheduled medicines. I asked him if he has patients on Percocet or tramadol? Dr said tramadol and then discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and Helen profile. Dr said its a viable option because its a schedule 3. Showed him application sites, conversions and asked for clinical experience. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	10/16/2014	Dr and I talked about the hydrocodone insight. I asked him what did the residents know about scheduled opioids. Dr T said they had a rotation with pain most did, but it was elective. I explained what schedule Butrans was and What was OxyContin. We reviewed the indication and pointed out it was the same. I told him it was important to know who is the appropriate patient for each and how to dose them. Dr agreed. Dr asked me to support a medical convention in January. I declined because its our national meeting. I did tell him about wanting to support a journal club at either the hosital or one of the medical locations. Dr said they usually do it at a restaurant. I said we couldn't do that and that it had to be done in office. Reviewed initiation guide for Butrans. Gave butrans invite for program next week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/16/2014	Asked doctor how his pain patients are feeling now that the appropriate ones are taking OxyContin and butrans? He said some are on OxyContin but none are on butrans yet. He asked what was new and I told him about the now 5 dose choices for butrans. He asked why? I told him that as soon as he gets experience with it he will see why there are now five doses. Reviewed appropriate patient, dosing and titration. He had information on his desk from last time, he said he will look for appropriate patient for butrans and OxyContin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	10/16/2014	Tried insight 18, he said there had been no impact on his practice really. He wasn't really mentally engaged though because I caught him while he was dictating. I told him that this might be a good time to reassess his patients to determine if ER meds are appropriate for some of those patients. He nodded. Knew I was about out of 1 time so I Let him know that as soon as he chooses schedule 3 butrans for some appropriate patients he now had 5 doses to choose from. He smiled.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/16/2014	Discussed insight 18 with dr and followed line of questioning as outlined in insight 18. Dr said that she doesn't write many hydrocodone anyway and has rarely ever called them in and written refills. I asked her if there might be a patient or two that either isn't tolerating hydrocodone or isn't getting the desired analgesia? Dr said possibly. I asked her to consider using OxyContin or Butrans for those patients as potential candidates. Dr said ok. Left dosing and conversions guides.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	10/16/2014	Talked to Vicki who said they stock butrans and OxyContin, they will order new dose of butrans once they get requests. They have not had any issues stocking hydrocodone. She just started a couple weeks ago so she is just getting used to everything there.

Reviewed Butrans BUP 3015. Discussed OxyContin attributes, pages from MVA 14-16 and conversions. Dr said she will try to find a patient for Butrans but is still not seeing many pain patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	10/16/2014	I asked dr to provide me with some informations on out his use if OxyContin and the type of patient he is finding success in? Dr said he's just using it in his chronic pain patients. I asked him at what point in therapy is he using it? Dr said it's very difficult to convert patients from IR to OxyContin especially Percocet because the patient doesn't feel the same way on OxyContin vs Percocet. I asked him if he's had success though converting those patients and dr said yes. Dr said when he's converting from 20mg of Percocet and they ask for more he starts on the OxyContin 15mg q13 instead of 10mg because he finds it to be more effective that way. Discussed MVA pages 9-13 and Butrans attributes, conversions and Helen profile. Dr said he used it and patient is doing well. I asked him to duplicate the patient type.-cb>CHUDAKOB's query on 10/27/2014-cb>REICHEL's response on 11/11/2014Q12 8am and 8pm per the MVA for OxyContin.-cb>CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/27/2014
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	10/16/2014	Discussed with Joshua Rph mgr, OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics along with butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said he agrees and will keep recommending when appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/16/2014	Reviewed hydrocodone with pharmacist said its been a bit of a problem with supply. I asked her if the 7.5 mcg of Butrans was in her system and gave her the core aid and ordering sheet to take a look. she came back and said the 5mcg was OUT. She said there inventory said that they had everything but the 5mcg. I thought that was interesting. We reviewed the starting doses of Butrans and she said so the 7.5 isn't a starting dose. I said no, it wasn't studied therefore we can't make the recommendation. She said we will need to get the 5mcg back, I said we sure do. We talked about abuse potential and the other doses available. She said she wouldn't order the 7.5 until someone has a script and told me it would take a day to get it and didn't feel the need to order until then.

	Westlake	OH	44145	10/16/2014	Talked about the hydrocodone and asked him how he felt this would impact primary care and how he in general felt about the changes. Dr said he didn't think it would that big of a deal. I asked if he was taking new patients and if he thought he would be getting more now? He said he is taking new patients but there is a wait. We talked about the atc chronic painetion on norco and i asked him if he was opposed to starting someone who is under 40mg total daily dose of Norco onto Butrans if they were appropriate. He said no. I informed him of the commercial savings program experience kit. I told him that of the two he gave away...both patient completed the surveys and received a visa gift card. I asked if he was aware of this. He said no. I showed him what one looked like...and encouraged him to use it for the next appropriate butrans patient. He said ok. I invited to butrans program he said no. I told him next time it remind him about Oxycontin and the elderly profile in more detail. He said fine.CHUDAKOB added notes on 10/27/2014Nice work on presenting the experience kit. this time you told him what is in it for the patient. PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	10/20/2014	Discussed insight 18 and followed line of questions per the insight. Dr said its a pain for him to deal with it although most of his patients who are in chronic pain on hydrocodone are in the nursing homes. Dr said Butrans is a good option for those patients first and then for his patients in his office. Dr said he started a patient on Butrans recently who was in a car accident and has severe pain in his leg. Dr said he referred the patient to dr shah for a nerve block or something because the patient is still in pain. Dr said that dr shah is not writing many opioids anymore and is sending his patients back to the pcg for those. I told dr that doesn't make sense and that's his job. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, conversions and appropriate patient types.

Newest strength 7.5 dose. If patient needs 80 mg or more, morphine equivalent, controlled release CII OxyContin is option. Dr. Prada: hydrocodone insight. If you have 1 or 2 patients this week that need a change in therapy, and have daily,atc, pain, long term, Butrans CIII 1x week patch is option. Newest strength 7.5 mcg hr every 7 days. Can titrate in 72 hrs. Can call/fax in with refills. If you have trusted patient that needs more than 80 mg morphine equivalent, controlled release OxyContin is option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/20/2014	In speaking w the nurse about the hydrocodone insight, she said that they have gotten many phone calls. I was telling her about Butrans, it's scheduling, dosing and asked to review some new things w dr and she went to ask. Dr came to window, addressed that I had new information to give to hero her Butrans patients. Dr said she has been using it w good luck. I gave her I formation on new dosage 7.5 and handed one of the 5 experience kits and opened it with explanation. We talked about the norco patient coming in for reassessments and that one patient that may present with an opportunity for an atc chronic pain option like Butrans. Reviewed the kits with her and her nurse. We talked about Initiation of Butrans and referred to the guide in the core vis aid? I asked her when she will see her Butrans patients back, she said a month. We reviewed the titration options and use of break thru medications. Also patch rotation. Hilighted OxyCotin and Butrans abuse potential and review of scheduling for both products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/20/2014	Hydrocodone insight. I asked Lori the office manager and the dr the affect it has caused in the number of patients calling or seeing. Lori said it has been a nightmare. Dr shook his head. I asked what exactly. She said they did not expect the volum of calls or complaints and she said she was supposed to stay till 4 but had to stay late twice last week because of the number of calls in the office. I said so I guess you are seeing more patient, dr said yes. I said during your visits with these norco patients, find out how satisfied they are with their current treatment plan. If they need a change perhaps they maybe be eligible for Butrans. Dr said maybe. I gave hi. A few attributes of Butrans, like dosing, experience program and c3 w refills. And did cover the potential for abuse. We covered the indication...I asked him what is the downside for selecting Butrans if the patient is appropriate that concerns you. Dr said he wasn't hesitant for writing Butrans. I spoke to Lori about the experience kind we reviewed managed care. Brian said he doesn't pay attention to managed care, but he does hand out e coupons. I reminded Lori the experience details and why if they are commercial patients why they need to leave with a kit in hand. Lori said she will try to remind Brian.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/21/2014	Heath said that they don't dispense much oxycontin. He could think of a few cancer patients, and elderly patients. He was able to think of one or 2 patients on butrans. Can get stock of new butrans within a day or 2 from McKesson. He thinks there has been a drop in hydrocodone since the schedule change and an uptake of Tramadol and Tylenol w codeine.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	10/21/2014	Dr told me that he had two patients in today who both reported feeling dizzy on Butrans 5mcg. Dr did not specify patients situations however said each patient was not on other products that could have produced dizziness. I told dr Butrans is not 100% effective for all patients and dr said it happens and won't deter him from future prescribing. Let dr and Shar know which pharmacies that have Butrans 7.5 mcg on the shelf. Handed dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide and asked for appropriate starts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/21/2014	Doctor G said that he believes in OxyContin and understands how and who to prescribe it for. He keeps thinking about butrans but hasn't written it yet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/21/2014	Doctor believes in the Oxycodone molecule and likes to keep patients on a single opioid molecule. She goes to immediate release for 24 hours and if needed, will use ER and supplement with IR to manage their pain. Always write for Senekot's simultaneously.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	10/22/2014	Spoke to Christy the office manager in westlake. We talked about the hydrocodone insight and she said it hasn't been that bad. Dr came out if the room and around the corner and waved to me. I called out will I see you at 630 tomorrow for dinner? He came close and said what? I said aren't you coming to the Butrans at chez dinner tomorrow. He said no he could t cause he had something else going on. I asked him his thought on the primary care using more Butrans being schedule 3 w refills for appropriate patients. Dr said maybe, he said or tramdol used more. I said the primary care docs often ask me if the pain docs are using Butrans. Is the type of pain patient you start Butrans on different en what the primary care would do? Dr said probably not. I left him to Helen profile w brief description and said we can talk about this next time. Asked him to keep an eye open for appropriate Butrans patients this week falling norco.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	10/22/2014	Showed dr new piece for Butrans discussing how Butrans is the only schedule 3 ER opioid available. Dr said she didn't know that. I told her that she needs to start identifying patients who are in daily around the clock pain and to consider Butrans for those patients as a viable option. Dr asked what dose is starting for opioid naive patients? Explained the 5 mcg dose for those patients and asked her if she has them? Dr said a few and asked me to leave the piece for her to review. Dr asked about Medicaid coverage and I reviewed it with her along with Medicare and commercial insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	10/22/2014	Led with insight 18 and asked what is in place if anything to handle patients coming back into the office for their hydrocodone refills? Dr asked how I can help him get Butrans covered better. I asked him why and to be more specific. Dr said that one case of an older patient has been on everything for pain he can think of and her Medicare plan which is SummaCare is denying Butrans. Spoke with Samantha the patient coordinator to discuss the plan and she said the patient has been on Butrans a year ago and discontinued it. Samantha said she will do the pa and let me know. Discussed OxyContin with dr and how he can properly identify patients and reviewed indication. check on Butrans patient with SummaCare and follow up with dr.

Dr said he continues to do that and have seen a large surge of patient referrals this week so may have some new patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/22/2014	Breakfast. Hydrocodone insight delivered. Presented Oxycontin as option for patients who need a change in therapy and meet ER opioid indication. Can titrate in 1-2 days, single entity, dosing flexibility discussed. Another option, for patients like Helen (profile) is Butrans, the only CII ER opioid on the market and now with 5 strengths. 7.5 strength mentioned. Can call/fax script with rells. Med D pull through, Caresource prior auth and OxyContin formulary grid discussed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/22/2014	Breakfast. Hydrocodone insight delivered. Asked when patients need change in therapy or ask for titration, she keep controlled release OxyContin in mind. Dr E stated she recently added OxyContin on for elderly female patient who was on 1-2 Percocet prn. With the addition of OxyContin, the patient is doing really well so far. She also tried to get OxyContin Butrans covered in nursing home/but they want patients to typically try "short acting" opioid first. Butrans discussed as only ER CII opioid currently on market, with newest strength of 7.5 (titration dose) - more choices when titrating patients. Discussed, left OxyContin formulary grid and savings sell sheet. Met with med asst and updated as well. med d pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/22/2014	Started with Tramadol insight #12. Doctor said he has Tramadol in his practice but he thinks he assesses earlier than that. Asked where he goes if Tramadol isn't enough. he said IR combo. I asked him to consider butrans before going to the combination. He said he uses butrans primarily for patients that he is weaning off of Percocet or Vicodin. So, he sees butrans adjacent to Percocet and Vicodin as he weans, how about considering it before he titrates to that? He said that it makes sense. Pulled through new dose of butrans as additional option and improved formulary coverage. He said he does not write oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	10/22/2014	Coffee appt. Hydrocodone insight. Butrans for patients who need change in therapy discussed. Only ER opioid that's CII on market with 5 strengths now, offering dosing flexibility. Dr states Butrans is more difficult to get covered. He's writing more OxyContin, as easier to get covered, not complicated titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	10/22/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6 hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans CII, 7 day transdermal, Initiation/titration, PI review, Said she has a few patients in mind.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	10/22/2014	Led with insight 18 and asked what is in place if anything to handle patients coming back into the office for their hydrocodone refills? dr said he doesn't have anything in place and is going to take it one patient at a time. Dr said he doesn't even want to write opioids for long term use but patients are being fired from pain management for the smallest things and then they come back to see him to manage their pain. Discussed the opportunity he has to reassess his hydrocodone patients when they come back for their refills and explained the OxyContin and Butrans options. Reviewed OxyContin dosing and conversions along with start principles and titration.

Dr told me that he is going to moving to 100% sports medicine soon and will not have the need for any ER opioids. Dr said he still needs to know all about them though. Reviewed Butrans attributes, doses, conversions and Helen profile. Reviewed OxyContin dosing, conversions, titration and indication. Hydrocodone insight. Talked about the. Umber of patients that he may see extra in a month, dr agreed. If someone on norco isn't controlled and they are appropriate for an atc chronic oai. Medication , what reasons do you have not not choosing Butrans as an option. Dr said he likes Butrans and it could be an option. Reviewed the Initiation guide and schedule three attributes and dosing. I asked hi. WHAT was his biggest concern with dosing someone with Butrans 4 times a month that you dint have with other options? Dr said rash and coverage. Showed him the Adverse reaction of the core visual aid and reminded him about the patch rotation. Med d, caresource or commercial insured outpatients. I asked which are you more interested in knowing about? Dr said med d. So I reviewed two plans aarp and silvers script coverage and have him a broad overview. I invited to dinner program for Butrans. I asked for a commitment from him to write Butrans for appropriate norco patients this week.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	10/24/2014	Reviewed extended release insight and asked dr when she knows someone is ready for a product like OxyContin?dr said she tends to feel comfortable wiring oxycotin for her older patient with ling term pain. I asked what is long term? She said the kind that doesn't get better with time. Showed core visual aid of huge different types of pain OxyCotin can be used for and reviewed indication. I asked the dr if she every thinks of OxyCotin when someone is atc pain taking 2 or more doses chronicle? She said sometimes but usually not. Talked about the doses and titration of OxyCotin. Talked about patients under 40mg total dose of norco and appropriate for Butrans. Dr said she has used Butrans. We discussed the patient type and reviewed Helen profile. Reviewed abuse potential and managed care. Talked steady state and doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Macedonia	OH	44056	10/24/2014	Anna was very busy. We talked briefly about message I am saying to physicians about when it is determined that patient is in around the clock Pain, we are asking them to consider ER meds like OxyContin and butrans. She didn't know what butrans was. I reviewed indication, initiation, titration, scheduling and the opioid naive or Tramadol patient as appropriate for butrans. She liked the option and hasn't seen a change in prescribing since hydrocodone schedule change.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/24/2014	Hydrocodone insight 18. Doctor said it's been very challenging and a lot of extra work. I asked him to visualize some of those patients coming in to see him. Can he think of some of those that are in around the clock pain and taking something every 4 hours or so. He said, unfortunately many of them. He then said that the goal is to get them off of pills if possible. I told him those patients may be appropriate for ER medication to treat that around the clock pain...like butrans. Used Helen to discuss Tramadol patient. Asked him to consider a patient like her before starting them on a different IR for pain that had been determined to be around the clock. Reviewed, scheduling, initiation and titration of butrans. He on his own said it makes sense to go from c4 Tramadol, to C3 butrans before going to C2 IR combo. I told him that the butrans patient can take those for breakthrough...he likes the option of butrans and has thought of a couple patients as we stood there talking. I told him that he mentioned earlier that taking fewer pills is the goal. I asked him if he can think of any of his patients are taking an IR combination meds, and might be appropriate for q12 dosing, single molecule. He said yes. Quickly reviewed abuse deterrence, (let him know it can still be abused) OxyContin dosing. He appreciated the information and asked me to follow up to help him remember.bCHUDAKOB added notes on 11/10/2014/WOW! PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	10/24/2014	Opened w hydrocodone insight. Dr said he is seeing far more then he anticipated and he told me he added more patients recently. We talked about the atc chronic pain patient he might be seeing this month on norco. I asked him when does Butrans fit into your selection process. Dr said he doesn't write much because he likes to write generic products first. I asked if the two products for pain before Butrans are generic products. He said usually. I said well then looms like Butrans isn't first anyway. Went thru the Helen case. Dr agreed that the might be a patient or two appropriate for Butrans. Talked about the over 40mg total daily dose norco patient and OxyContin. We reviewed dosing of OxyCotin. Lastly...tied in the over 65 med d coverage. Highlighted aarp and silverscripts. Closed forest weeks norco failures and appropriate Butrans potential starts.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	10/27/2014	Hallway. For patients that have daily, atc, long term pain; i have 2 good options for you: Butrans, single entity, 1x week, CIII transdermal. Dr states Butrans is expensive, he recently wrote a Butrans for a patient and it was reported back to him, that cost was around $300. I replied that must be a self-pay patient, and if paying cash, yes - that would be correct price. Let's focus on your commercial or Medicare D patients. There's a savings for commercially covered. He states most of his patients over age 65. Replied with Medicre D pull through and average monthly cost of $17-45 monthly. OxyContin is also available with savings for self pay and commercially covered patients - if cost is an issue. He was not reassured and says, that's not what i'm hearing. Asked him to read literature i'm leaving. He then walked into patient room.(OxyContin slim jim, Butrans 7.5 brochure)

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/27/2014	Lunch. Hydrocodone insight delivered. How does this effect your treatment goals for patients? Karen replied, it doesn't as she's trying to avoid writing ER opioids whenever possible. With all the requirements, step edita, it has become hassle and she's using other therapies for migraine pain. She states a new formulation of imitrex is rumored to come out soon. If she has a patient who needs change in therapy, for trusted patients, OxyContin, single entity, dosing flexibility, can titrate 1-2 days, savings can be redeemed by self pay and commercially covered. Butrans, CIII< single entity, now 5 strengths, no first pass metabolism, no dosing adjust needed renal, mild/moderate hepatic impaired, trial savings for commercially covered, Med D pull through. Asked her to keep in mind this week for patients needing change in therapy. Ok, she state she will keep in mind.

	Fairlawn	OH	44333	10/27/2014	Short call at front counter as dr came up as I asked to speak with her. Dr Almendras and dr Meli came to the front desk. I showed them both the OxyContin conversion guid from the MVA and reminded them its a schedule 2 single entity oxycodone dosed q12. I showed dr the new Butrans piece and reviewed how its the only schedule 3 ER opioid available and if she has had any more experience? Dr said maybe once she spoke last. I asked for continued prescribing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	10/27/2014	Reviewed with Roxan, OxyContin abuse deterrent charactrctics every 12hours along with Butrans 7 day transdermal CIII, said no new info. Fills mostly acute care RX's
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/27/2014	Quick call at counter in Fairlawn and showed him page 10 of MVA and asked him how often he's reassessing his patients who may have around the clock pain and on Percocet? Dr said failed often. I told him the opportunity as a q12 oxycodone may be appropriate for some of those patients. Dr said ok. Reviewed Butrans 7.5 mcg piece and told him its the only schedule 3 ER opioid available. Dr said he really likes it and will continue to use.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/27/2014	Lunch. Hydrocodone insight delivered. How has that effected your practice? Not at all. What's effecting practice lately is all the reports from patients on butrans of adhesion rashes. Let her know we track these, and I will submit her comments. She states butrans, compared to any other patches on market including Fentanyl/Duragesic, Flector Patch, Lidoderm) Butrans has most complaints from patients. I empathized with her and asked her not to give up on Butrans completely. As for OxyContin, she states shes very angry at OxyContin write now as it's not covered. Problems recently with male patient in his /40s, was on OxyContin 20 mg, doing well, changed insurance, now on Caresource, and plan is requiring he fail on morphine sulfate for 30 days, then Kadian for 30 days, then can get OxyContin 20 mg, q12 h. She's very frustrated as what she wants patient to take, and what was working for patient, plans won't allow. As a result, to avoid the hassle, she's not writing much Oxycontin moving forward, unless coverage improves. She also mentions disappointment in Butrans coverage as well. Followed up with commercial trial, savings, Caresource prior auth details and Med D pull through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	10/27/2014	Lunch. Hydrocodone insight delivered. When patients come in every 30 days, need a change in therapy, you have options: OxyContin, a CII, single entity ER opioid, dosed every 12 hours. If OxyContin is not appropriate, Butrans, is another transdermal option: it's a CIII, 1x week transdermal, now with 5 strengths. Lets focus on patient like Helen, and here's Med D preferred status. Dr Roda states she will keep both products in mind, as long as they're covered and cost effective for patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/28/2014	Spoke with the pharmacist amber about Butrans and OxyContin attributes, dosing and conversions. I reviewed the 7.5 mcg dose with her and asked her how frequently they are dispensing Butrans? She said they have maybe 4 patients on it. I asked if they would order a box of 7.5 mcg? She said they will wait until the see a script. Left her with copy card information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/28/2014	Hello to Sabrina while speaking with Rick up front. Discussed the dosing flexibility if Butrans and new 7.5 mcg dose. I told her I hope it will lend itself to appropriate titration of the product. Sabrina said she has been having good success with it. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Chagrin Falls	OH	44022	10/28/2014	Talked with Laurie who said the patients are very frustrated with the hydrocodone schedule change. She is seeing more Tylenol w codeine. Discussed around the clock pain and ER meds and she is hoping the docs will choose more ER than IR. She just orders butrans as she gets scripts, has no patients on it right now. Reviewed dosing, titration, scheduling. She thinks it's a good option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44105	10/28/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, CIII, along with OxyContin every 12hours, Said no new info learned, said if appropriate he will recommend
PPLPMDL0020000001	Chagrin Falls	OH	44023	10/28/2014	Jeff the pahrmacist was too busy but stopped long enough for an introduction. He stocks oxycontin, but no butrans, thinks it's a great product that hopefully docs will write more off
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	10/28/2014	Spoke to at front while speaking with the director Rick. Told Sandra about the Butrans dosing flexibility and new 7.5 mcg dose. I asked her to please continue identifying patients who have daily, around the clock pain. Sandra said ok and took the new piece.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	10/28/2014	Can I ask you a question? What's your thoughts on the new patients you get in norco and them being dosed more than 4 doses a day for months? Dr said it doesn't bother him. I asked if he wished they turned to an extended release sooner like OxyContin or Butrans. Dr said he will usually change their medication if the patient isn't being controlled. how you write Butrans different from when primary care writes Butrans?? Dr said its about the same. I thank him for the time. Wrapped up with if you see one more uncontrolled norco patient uncontrolled...OxyContin every 12 hours might be an option for appro patient. He said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/28/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths along with Butrans CIII, 7 day transdermal, for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will continue to remind Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	10/29/2014	Met with RN Carla Van Pelt. She allowed me back to talk with Dr Saeed (procedures today) and Paul. Discussed OxyContin slim jim, START principles available to hcps. Discussed Butrans 7.5 strength, for total of 5 strengths now. Discussed, left "how to protect your meds at home" green brochures. (left literature for Drs. Saeed, Nageeb and PA-C Paul Gawry)

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/29/2014	He has some of his older patients on OxyContin. Told me I have to keep reminding him of butrans. Reviewed that he now has 5 doses to choose from and that if patient is in around the clock pain, they may be appropriate for an ER opioid. Mentioned the patient that might need more Tramadol as possible butrans patient. He took a patient back so didn't have much time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	10/29/2014	Dr said she loves Butrans but is just concerned with lack of insurance coverage and if it was better she would be using it more often. I asked dr where she's having issues And she said mostly with Medicaid and Medicare. I reviewed the Caresource pa and told her its her best option for medicaid. Reviewed other plans and told her to stay away from buckeye due to pa criteria. I told dr not to lump all Medicaid plans together and if one plan doesn't cover it that doesn't mean that they all don't. I told her to lean on Darlene for insurance coverages as she goes to prescribe because she has all the formulary grids and will contact me with further questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	10/29/2014	Reviewed dosing flexibility, titration and dose failure vs product failure and the need to titrate. Discussed efficacy and safety and then OxyContin as the option for patients needing a q12 oxycodone. Hydrocodone insight. Asked the doctor and Erica the ma how's has affected his office? Erica said she gets a few phone calls a week, I asked how soon she gets them into the office for an evaluation and new script. She said usually with in the week. I asked the doctor if that was soon enough? Dr said it is what it is. I said understood. I said let's imagine seeing one norco patient, the one that has been refilling for months and is clearly not an acute patient. What if the bid style of taking norco was not controlling their pain. Explain your next step. Dr said he would either increase the dose or change meds. I said ok...why wouldn't a patch like Butrans then be appropriate, dr said it could be and it depends on the dose of norco they were on. I said if they pain several times a day...how does increasing the strength help this patient? Dr said it depends on the patient and what their pain is dr from. I said here's something to think about...I reviewed who we talked about and Butrans dosing, tied it in with the over 65 aarp and Silverscript coverage. I asked if this sounded reasonable and he said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	10/29/2014	Linda said that she would like to see Butrans being used more often with opioid naive patients. Right now she uses it mostly as an add on to Percocet or Vicodin as she is trying to get them to take fewer pills. Reviewed Helen profile as appropriate patient after Tramadol. She agreed. Told her I am hoping she sees a few of those patients this afternoon! She is surprised Doctor nickels hasn't reevaluated the use of,hydrocodone in his practice with the schedule change but he hasn't. Still doesn't want them writing oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	10/29/2014	Quick review of OxyContin savings cards/Formulary grids along with Butrans Initiation/Titration, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients and will consider Butrans

					Discussed insight 18 and line of questioning from the insight. Dr said she doesn't write many IR opioids but said it does make things more difficult. I asked her to reassess her patients on hydrocodone and that some may be appropriate for the schedule 3 Butrans. Discussed dosing flexibility, need for titration and proper identification if patients in pain around the clock. Dr said she will continue to use and has had good success with it so far.
PPLPMDL0020000001					Reviewed OxyContin dosing, titration and q12 dosing of oxycodone.

	Akron	OH	44320	10/29/2014	I reviewed the indication for Butrans and told her she needs to first identify who is appropriate for the schedule 3, 7 day transdermal system. I asked her to keep an eye on who is in pain around the clock and ask for an increased dose of an IR opioid and are in pain. She said that's makes sense. Reviewed Helen profile and conversions. I asked her if that makes sense Monique said that it does and likes that its a week long patch and schedule 3. Reviewed copy cards and insurance.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	10/29/2014	Masked him how the hydrocodone scheduling change affect his office? Dr said they started requiring patients to come in to pick up their scrips since March. I told him that's great and asked him about refills. Dr said he was writing some refills but now everyone comes back. I asked him if he would reassess those patients and how some of them might be appropriate for q12 OxyContin? Dr said he knows but said he hasn't been writing many new ones and is starting to refer. Dr said he had to go and I told him Butrans remains a schedule 3 and if he would call in any ER opioid its the only one.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	10/29/2014	Quick discussion about who is appropriate for Butrans and discussed the Helen profile. Dr said he did write one the other day for a Medicaid patients and it was covered. I told him that's great and reminded him about the Caresource PA and Medicare coverage. Asked him to keep OxyContin in his option list for those needing q12 oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	10/29/2014	Lunch. Top office call. Repeat of hydrocodone insight. Oxycontin as option. Dr states he will write OxyContin, but step edits usually for morphine sulfate first. And prior auth for BWC. They are trying to get away from Medicaid patients, as they feel they are the "seekers" for illicit uses of opioids. They will continue commercial, workers comp, Medicare. Butrans discussion for BWC and easy Caresource Prior Auth. 5 strengths reinforced with 7.5 most recent. Asked for business today, this week. Dr reminds me that since he's not pain specialty, he tries to minimize the ER opioids he writes each week/month.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/30/2014	Talking to MA, Julie and receptionist about hydrocodone change and we were talking about how irritated the patients are and how inconvenient for them in the office. The doctor walked up as I was telling them about reassessing their patients in around the clock pain to see if current meds are adequate and some might be appropriate for ER meds like OxyContin or butrans. He said that he does not like transdermals and walked off. The girls told me that he doesn't see reps, that what just happened doesn't happen much. I left dosing and titration guides for both products. They did not want savings cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	10/30/2014	After discussing OxyContin dosing and appropriate patients I asked him if he's likely to use it and dr said very unlikely because he said that's for the specialists. I asked if the schedule 3 Butrans would be more likely and he said yes especially since hydrocodone is now a schedule 2. Reviewed dosing and how to identify appropriate patients like Helen.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	10/30/2014	Reviewed Butrans Med D coverage, OxyContin savings cards, Said she will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	10/30/2014	Discussed hydrocodone insight 18 and how it will impact his prescribing. Joe said its not easy but he has been referring more frequently. Discussed how he can identify appropriate patients for Butrans and used the Helen profile. Discussed how he can use the tramadol patient who is in pain around the clock and is asking for more or can't tolerate it. Joe agreed the tramadol patient is a good patient for it and said he just forgets about it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/30/2014	Reviewed dosing and attributes for Butrans. Dr said that since the schedule change, they have discussed trying to limit the IR meds to no more than 4 pills per day. If the patient needs more, that is when they will convert to ER meds if appropriate. He said that when he is trying to taper patient down from opioid, that is when he thinks of Butrans. We discussed butrans after Tramadol and he said that by the time they come to him they are usually already on multiple meds. He does think that he can find a place for butrans in his practice. He thinks that he is probably writing less oxycotin for insurance reasons. There are so many restrictions. He does believe that treating around the clock pain with an IR is often not ideal and patients get used to taking pills throughout the day. That is why for those reasons he prefers ER meds like oxycotin for appropriate patients.

	Mogadore	OH	44260	10/30/2014	Opened with insight 18 and dr said that's is a serious pain to deal with those patients every month. I told him that I'm guessing that some of those hydrocodone patients might be appropriate for Butrans. Dr agreed. I told him that he's not using Butrans like he has in the past and he said he's referring more to pain management now. I told him the majority of patients referred to pain management are on higher doses of hydrocodone and Percocet. I reviewed the Helen profile and asked him to use for his tramadol patients in pain around the clock. Dr said that actually a pretty good idea and he's up for using Butrans there. Reviewed doses and 7.5mcg and dr said that he thinks that's a good addition so he can keep the dose low and the side effects low as well. Discussed copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	10/30/2014	Reviewed with Dave RPH OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics, 7 tablet strengths, Along with Butrans CIII, 7 day transdermal, said ok, but dispenses virtually no narcotics at this location
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	10/30/2014	Led with insight 18 and asked dr how he's dealing with seeing his hydrocodone patients each month? Dr said he takes it one patient at a time and write the 90 pills and then they come back for the next prescription. I asked him for those he reassesses who are either not tolerating hydrocodone or isn't efficacious to consider Butrans as a option for some of those patients. Dr asked about insurance coverage and I asked which plans are important? Dr said medical mutual and UHC. I told him about insurance and asked him when he evaluates his hydrocodone patients to ask himself if they have daily around the clock pain? Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Maple Heights	OH	44137	10/30/2014	Kim was very busy since she was the only one there, so it was just a quick into. They stock oxycotin but no butrans. Told her about messages we are talking to physicians about when pain is around the clock, some might be appropriate for ER meds. She agreed. Told her about butrans and introduced new dose. She thinks that is a great option
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	10/30/2014	Told dr that we have discussed the management of around the clock pain and the option of Butrans for some of those patients a lot over he last year. I told him that he has agreed that Butrans is a good option and he has found clinical success with it. Dr said that he had a patient in the hospital the other day with one on and tried to order it and its not on the hospital pharmacy. Dr said he just write a prescription for it. I asked dr what is preventing him from using Butrans as his go to ER opioid when his patients are failing tramadol? Dr said probably cost. Told him that he knows its covered really well and to continue using Butrans more frequently for his

	Beachwood	OH	44122	10/30/2014	Roberta said that since the schedule change, they have discussed trying to limit the IR meds to no more than 4 pills per day. If the patient needs more, that is when they will convert to ER meds if appropriate. She said that when she is trying to taper patient down from opiod, that is when she thinks of Butrans. I told her that is certainly an option, but how about before she switches them to an IR combo? Reviewed Helen as a possible patient type. She said that it makes sense. We spent time talking about patients and how they feel about around the clock pain and treating in 4-6 hour increments. We reviewed the START principles and q-2 dosing of oxycotin. She thinks that it might be appropriate for several patients IR meds.CHUDAKOB's query on 11/12/2014Kathy, looks like you had a good discussion. One thing I would like to point out is your use of the word "switch". While this is not compliance wrong by any means, you might gain more traction by discussing "when a patient needs a dose adjustment or a change in their medication." This is more in line with the way HCPs think. They usually don't "switch" to another med, but they do make dose adjustments or medication changes. Does this make sense?LARAWKA's response on 11/14/2014Yes. Good point.CHUDAKOB added notes on 11/16/2014OK. Thanks!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	10/31/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans attributes, dosing, titration and appropriate patient type selection. Loren said she does not want to get involved in pain management because she wants to focus on other medical issues. Loren said she will all the doctors to write opioids. I told her I understand however she will be confronted with it wether she wants to or not with someone who has legitimate,radiographic evidenced around the clock pain that requires her treatment. Loren said she understands and will deal with it then.

Dr said its been very hard on him and his staff because of the time and resources it takes to see them every month. I asked him if he sees them every month or they just come in to fill their scripts? Dr said he has to see them. I told him I'm hoping he determines if the patient is in around the clock pain and if the patient is complaining of tolerance or efficacy issues that he will consider using OxyContin or Butrans? Dr said he must make a change and that Butrans might be his solution because he can call it in and refill it which will save him a lot of time. I told him that's great to hear and dr said he wanted Butrans information to help him when he begins to switch. Discussed he Helen profile and told him not to wait until the patient goes on hydrocodone to make the switch to an ER opiod when they meet the indication for Butrans. Reviewed insurance plans, Caresource PA and BWC.

We talked about his feelings about writing scheduled 3 and 2 opioids for treating chronic pain. Dr stated that he will still treat those appropriate regardless of the scheduling. Reviewed the Norco patient appropriate for OxyContin. Reviewed the indication and the over 40mg Norco patient uncontrolled. Dr said he hasn't seen any uncontrolled recently. I asked if it was reasonable for patient to be given OxyContin if they were and met our indication. Dr said sure. I said just curious...what is the trigger signal that suggests a patient may be appropriate for an extended release product? Dr said it depends. Dr said he will wait till a patient is taking more than 3 doses a day chronicle before moving to a product like OxyContin. I said why wait so long. Dr said habit. Reviewed the dosing of OxyContin and highlighted managed care. Talked about under 40mg Norco for Butrans patients, per our indication, highlighted scheduling, refills, and coupons.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	10/31/2014	Discussed treating around the clock pain in 4-6hr increments, Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths said he is very comfortable prescribing along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, CII, Initiation/Titration for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Med D coverage Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients, Asked for 1-2 patients, said he will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	10/31/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said he treats so few it wouldn't matter or him to see a few extrapatie ts a. I to. Dr said price is the biggest reason for picking opioids for his patients with pain and especially chronic pain. We talked about how many generics do they have to fail before a product like OxyCotin or Butrans come his mind, dr said rarely.CHUDAKOB's query on 11/13/2014Lisa, can you please explain what this call note says?BARTOLI's response on 11/17/2014Dr said he treats very few pain patients so the schedule change won't affect him or his office.CHUDAKOB added notes on 11/19/2014OK. Thanks for the clarification.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	11/3/2014	Brief discussion. Doctor will only be practicing at this location from now on. Reviewed butrans dosing, titration, new dose and quick look at Scott profile. Asked him to look for a patient like this for Butrans. As he left I mentioned that oxycotin is still a schedule 2 q12 ER medication, and might be appropriate for some of his patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	11/3/2014	Brief discussion. Doctor will only be practicing at this location from now on. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	11/3/2014	Saw Dr. in hallway, Quick review of OxyContin every 12hour, abuse deterrent characteristics along with Butrans CII, 7 day transdermal, said he is referring mostly to pain mgmnt, but will keep in mind,nor further info learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	11/3/2014	She likes oxycotin and thinks it works very well. She likes the q12 dosing for her patients in around the clock pain. She typically chooses it for older patients. We reviewed the fda guidance and abuse deterrent characteristics which she was impressed with. Regarding butrans, she is not a fan of patches. She asked about the patients who swim for therapy and how it would stay on them. I told her it is different for everyone but that prolonged periods in the water have the potential to affect adhesion but that they could use medical tape around the edges to help. He viewed PAm as an appropriate butrans patient. Mmshe said she may keep it in mind.CHUDAKOB's query on 11/14/2014Kathy, Where is the fair balance in this call call note regarding abuse-deterrent technology?LARAWKA's response on 11/14/2014Sorry. It seems redundant to put it in notes when I always say it, assume that it is understood but I now know from other call note queries that I still have to type it out. Hope that I have now fixed this omission for any other call notes. Please do know that I always do provide the fair balance when discussing the abuse deterrent properties.CHUDAKOB added notes on 11/16/2014I believe this, but others who read the notes may not. Each call is an individual call and therefore it needs to be included in every call note. Thanks!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	11/3/2014	Talked with Josh, RPH, Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans CII, 7 day transdermal, Said no changes seen, but will consider on recommending to appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	11/3/2014	Reviewed OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours along with Butrans CII, 7 day transdermal, Said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, Asked John for assistance in reminding Dr.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	11/3/2014	Stopped in as a joke to ask him how often I have to come in to remind him to think of butrans for appropriate patients (since I was just in end of last week). He smiled and said this is too often. He said he promises to think of butrans. I reminded him while not forgetting about oxycotin....he got a kick out of it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	11/3/2014	Opened w hydrocodone insight. Dr said new wsp policy they can't be called in anymore and all hand picked up but can have refills. She said he has lost some patients that don't want to drive far for monthly visits. We talked about an opportunity to evaluate patients and how well their medication is doing for them. Talked about the uncontrolled pain patient per our indication. Dr agreed that extended release options should be thought about earlier then what they are she said. Asked what was her trigger signal for when they are ready for an atc choice. Dr said at least three doses a day chronically and if they need more medication after three she will turn to a extended release product. We talked about what was the up side to dosing in 4 to 6 increments every month. Dr said only if cost was an issue. I said what...how much is the breaking decision on what is too much? She said Nader ten for med d and Nader 20 for commercial patients. Talked about abuse potential for both products reviewed managed care, dr said she didn't realize we had Medicare part d or caresource coverage like we did. Talked about Butrans no first pass and no dose adjustment for elderly. Talked about what the downsides are using a week patch threat Chronic pain. Dr said cost and possible rash. Showed the side effect profile of core aid and highlighted where patch goes and rotation of patch not going back to same sight for 21 days. Dr Agreed to find one Norco appropriate patient for Butrans this wk.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/3/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said she really uses opioids as an allergist. I said when would she for chronic pain and the dr explained. Reviewed indication of oxycontin and dosing. Reviewed Butrans and dosing. Gave fair balance because of the potential for respiratory depression and those with severe pulmonary disease.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	11/3/2014	Asked doctor if he has found a butrans patient yet? He said not yet. Reviewed Helen as a possible patient type he should be looking for. He is not happy with tramadol and mentioned a patient who just this morning wanted more tramadol and is already taking 4 per day. I told him that patient might be appropriate. He sat and looked at the chart and said that he may. He was concerned about coverage. Reviewed formulary and dosing options and titration. Mentioned that oxycontin is still q12, CII ER option for a few patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	11/3/2014	Talked to Samantha about messages we are talking to physicians about when ER meds might be appropriate. She agreed. She stocks both products. Reviewed butrans dosing and titration and new dose.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	11/3/2014	Spoke to Zack the pharmacist, we talked about the hydrocodone insight and he said it hasn't been a problem that they are stocking it. Reviewed dosing, nasked him how are most scripts written for pain? He said 1 pill every 4 to 6 hours as needed. He said it can't have an or as needed cause that would be a separate order. Zack said he would call the dr back if he saw it written that way. We talked about dosing OxyCotin and review Butrans dosing and strengths. He said he won't be ordering Butrans because there is just one patient using it currently. Review abuse potential of opioids and warned about respiratory depression.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/3/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said he is right out of residency so he has no experience w chronic pain or treating w opioids yet. Reviewed indication of OxyContin and asked hi. What he felt atc was in terms of treating pain. Dr said several times a day...even 6 doses a day. Dr said he would start with one dose every 4 to 6 hours. I asked if they are instructed to set an alarm for the early hours. Dr said no. I said how can they follow those orders then? Dr said well if they are asleep they aren't in pain. I said so they don't wake up on their own from pain? He said maybe. Dr said if it was a problem wouldn't the patients ask for something else. I said maybe they do or maybe they don't know what other options are there for them. Talked about indications. Patient over 40mg total norco...chronically for OxyCotin and under 40mg total for Butrans. Reviewed Butrans dosing. Steady state and reviewed abuse potential and potential for respiratory depression. Showed the side effect profile using core aid. Dr said he did a rotation w dr, kabbarra.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	11/4/2014	Told dr that I wanted her to focus on her hydrocodone patients coming back in for refills and to ask herself if they are tolerating it or are asking for more and have pain around the clock. Dr said that makes sense and will try. Nothing else learned

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	11/4/2014	Dr said he had a patient yesterday that he wanted to switch to Butrans and express scripts was fighting him on approving it. Shar also said that she discussed the patients recent failures which have been tramadol, hydrocodone and fentanyl. Shar said the patient was approved. Dr said that he wishes it wasn't so difficult. I told him its not Butrans but insurance companies mostly want to make it difficult to approve ANY branded medicines. I asked for continued business and to remember the 7 flexible doses of OxyContin and titration every 1-2 days.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	11/4/2014	Spoke with Kyle and discussed the dosing flexibility with Butrans and discussed he new 7.5 mcg dose and asked him if he would stock it? Kyle said that he doesn't fill enough to justify ordering it. Kyle said he gets scripts but has patients that complain of a $20 copay so it doesn't get filled. I told him I understand and reviewed patient types and insurance coverage. Reviewed OxyContin dosing and titration along with abuse deterrent characteristics from pgs 14-15 in the MVA.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	11/4/2014	Spoke with Beth the pharmacist and reviewed dosing and titration for Butrans and OxyContin. I asked her about how much dispensing of Butrans she is dispensing and she said very little. Discussed 7.5 mcg and OxyContin OxyContin 7 doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	11/4/2014	Showed dr the Helen profile and told him to reassess his patients on it that either can't tolerate it or in pain around the clock and he's thinking of titrating or moving to another IR opioid. Dr said he sure likes that's its still a schedule 3 and he can call it in and refill. Told dr to also keep OxyContin in mind for those patients in pain around the clock on Percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	11/4/2014	Reviewed with Brandon RPH OxyContin every 12hours, along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, Reaccessing patients and CIII. Said Ok will relay info to staff

I asked him how his most recent patient on Butrans is doing?. Dr said that they are doing well and like it. I told him that I want him to reassess his hydrocodone patients and if its intolerable for them or complain of being in Pain around the clock to use Butrans for those patients. Dr said he's glad I reminded him of that and will write more Butrans. Told him again about the Caresource PA.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	11/5/2014	Met with med asst Lori. Checked in to see if they need patient education, savings cards. Discussed Oxycontin, Butrans as options for patients that meet ER opioid indication. Lori states no matter what the schedule of drug is, they have patients come in every 30 days to pick up in person. Discussed, left (3) Butrans patient guides. Reinforced 5 strengths, dosing flexibility.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/5/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Discussed the two patients dr had on Butrans and he said they were over 65 and previously dosed 4 or 5 times a day from norco. We talked about the Initiation guide for Butrans. Asked him his hesitation for Butrans in patients under 65 years of age and the dr said patients like taking their pills. We reviewed indication. Also covered oxycontin dosing.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	11/5/2014	Short call and asked him if he would consider OxyContin for those he would treat who are in pain around the clock on Percocet? Dr said he would rather refer out than write OxyContin. Told him to at least write Butrans for those patients in pain around the clock and showed him the new dosing card.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/5/2014	Dr told me that he received information from Purdue about an adverse report he had from Butrans and hallucinations, dr said he's going to fill out information and send it back. Dr said it took the patient almost 15days for buprenorphine to clear her system. Dr asked about another patient he has on fentanyl and wants to put him on Butrans but the patient is low in one and asked me about the patient assistance program. I gave dr the information from the Purdue website and he gave to the patient to see if he qualifies. Asked dr to continue OxyContin where appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	11/5/2014	Nancy was surprised that butrans didn't take off when it launched. She thinks it is a great option for patients in around the clock pain as an alternative to taking many pills. She thinks that doctors should be using ER for patients in around the clock pain. She got a phone call, then lined formed so she had to cut out conversation short.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	11/5/2014	Told dr about insight 18 and then asked him what he's doing to manage those patients each month? Dr said he's taking it one at a time. I asked him if any of those patients might meet the indication for Butrans and have pain around the clock? Dr said maybe but he really wants to try and not write any more narcotics. I told him if he's refilling he's writing them! Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	11/5/2014	Started with hydrocodone insight 18. He said a lot is chNging because the government, FDA, DEA, no one want the doctors writing opioids, particularly CII narcotics because of the abuse potential, addiction and heroin problem. He is limiting his use and trying to find other alternative, but there isn't much to choose from. He thinks with continued reminders butrans is a very logical choice because of scheduling and the fact that it is not a pill. I reminded him that it can still be abused, reviewed dosing, titration, possible patient types like scott and that patients can supplement with opiod or non opiod meds. He thinks he will begin to write it. He is however staying away from oxycontin even though he believes it is appropriate for many patients in around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	11/5/2014	Said he doesn't talk to reps anymore but came in to get his food while I talked to Doctor Jack. He heard us talking about how they are trying to stay away from CII's like oxycontin and IR meds but believes that an ER med like butrans is an appropriate c3 option for patients in around the clock pain. He did take a titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	11/5/2014	Quick review of Butrans 7 day transdermal, CII along with OxyContin abuse deterrent characteristics every 12hours, Said Ok will consider, email appt request.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/6/2014	Quick window. Told him I am leaving him information about schedule 3 butrans. An appropriate option for his patient in around the clock pain. He may want to consider this after tramadol and before schedule 2 Vicodin or Percocet. He just said ok. Oxycontin is certainly an option for some also....

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	11/6/2014	Started off with insight 18 and asked him what he has in place to deal with it? Dr said he's tried to write OxyContin a number of times because he likes that its abuse deterrent and it works but said that insurance doesn't want to pay for it because they want ER Morohine or MS Contin. I told him I understand and that if there is failure on any of those it would then be an opportunity for OxyContin. Dr agreed. Discussed Butrans attributes, dosing, indication, initiation, conversions and Helen profile. Dr said he will try it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	11/6/2014	Spike with Holly and discussed appropriate patients for OxyContin and Butrans. Holly said she understands and that a vast majority of patients getting hydrocodone and oxycodone are taking them around the clock and should be on an ER opioid. I asked if she would at least tell the paints to ask their doctors a Butrans or OxyContin? She said its tricky but she'll try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	11/6/2014	Led with insight 18 and asked her her thoughts on using opioids for patients in daily, around the clock pain. Dr said honestly she doesn't feel comfortable prescribing anything for pain because it just causes so many problems. Discussed the Helen profile for Butrans and asked her if it would be like a patient she might have? Dr said maybe but said most are not motivated to get their pain under control and aren't working. Most have Medicaid and just what pills. Dr said she likes to refer but sees where Butrans would fit and likes that its a schedule 3. Reviewed OxyContin doses and appropriate patient selection.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	11/7/2014	Insight 18. She said it's been a bit of extra work but they are ok now. We discussed reassessing patients. She Said the hydrocodone schedule change has helped them to rethink some of their prescribing. Patients should be on ER meds for around the clock pain ideally. She said it doesn't always work that way though. Reiterated the dose options for oxycontin and informed her of new dose of butrans. She likes the results she sees from oxycontin and butrans and wants savings cards for both.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	11/7/2014	Met with tech. Left OxyContin savings sell sheet. Butrans pharmacists' guide. Quick call, very busy, no new findings since last visit.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	11/10/2014	I told dr that when he told me last time that he doesn't want to write narcotics how things are going with his patients on hydrocodone seeing them every month? Dr said I have a good point because its frustrating. I told dr I'm guessing that he has some that may be appropriate for either OxyContin if they are over 40mg a day or the schedule 3 Butrans under 50mg a day. Dr said he may consider converting so e to Butrans. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	11/10/2014	Dr told me that he started a patient on Butrans this morning who was taking 10mg of hydrocodone q6. Dr said that the patient is coming from Cleveland and he is just bridging the gap between the patient going to see Lababidi. I told dr that's great and at least he made the decision to initiate the ER opioid. Reminded dr of conversions and he said he started on the 10mg Butrans and knows that the patient may need titration.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/10/2014	Short discussion with dr and Wendy up front. I told dr about insight 18 and then asked him if its impacting his business. Dr said he's just taking it one patient at a time and then Wendy said its certainly impacting them up front because they are trying to schedule them in which is tough. I asked dr to just consider The schedule 3 Butrans or OxyContin for those patients who meet the indication and read him the OxyContin indication. Dr said ok. Wendy and Marsha both said they will ensure to remind him about Butrans being a schedule 3 that he can call in and refill.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	11/10/2014	Saw dr Jones and Lababidi at the same time. Told both of them about the reviewed indication for OxyContin and Butrans and asked both of them to focus on patients who have pain around the clock. Dr said h tris to convert to ER opioids as soon as he can he just wishes he could get it covered better. I told dr it is covered well its just that at times the patient needs to show failure on MS Contin or another ER opioid first. Dr said that's what he's
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/10/2014	Saw dr Jones and Lababidi at the same time. Told both of them about the reviewed indication for OxyContin and Butrans and asked both of them to focus on patients who have pain around the clock. Dr said ok and likes OxyContin. I reminded him to prescribe it q12 and to convert those Percocet patients in pain around the clock. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	11/10/2014	Hallway. Dr Vilinsky brought up same objection as last call: price, regarding Butrans. Says a few patients were quoted over $300 monthly for butrans. I stated, those must be self pay patients then; Dr replied - no, they were Medicare D. I told him perhaps they were plans where Butrans does not have preferred status. Made sure to meet with medical assistants and let them know preferred Med D status. They will make sure to remind Dr. vilinsky of plans where butrans is preferred. Another option for patients who meet ER opioid indication is OxyContin, controlled release tablet, dosed every 12 hrs.

He said that he hasn't noticed much change yet since the hydrocodone schedule so hangs other than physicians seem to be writing smaller quantities. He thinks they are reassessing the management of their pain. He does think that ER opioids are appropriate for patient in around the clock pain instead of IR meds. They do stock both products but see many cash paying patients who would not be able to use the meds I promote. Pulled though butrans initiation, titration and new dosing option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/11/2014	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin indications, changing of hydrocodone insight and how her role may be increasing because of all of that. 	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	11/12/2014	Gave dr insight 18 and asked her how hydrocodone moving scheduling is affecting her office? Dr said its becoming tough because patients are upset they have to come in to get it refilled. I showed her the OxyContin dosing guide and told her she has an opportunity when she's reassessing those patients who are over 40mg of hydrocodone a day that OxyContin may be appropriate. Dr said she agrees. I showed her the new dosing guide with the 7.5 mg dose and told her its the only schedule 3 ER opioid available. Dr said that's pretty convincing and she forgot about it. I asked her for business for some of those hydrocodone patients for either OxyContin or Butrans.

	Parma	OH	44129	11/13/2014	He will not write oxycontin. He said that he has an 80+ patient that he might try butrans because she is on a lot of pain. I reviewed dosing titration and how to write it. Reviewed med d formulary since that is what patient has. He said that he thinks he might give it a try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/13/2014	Brief meeting where she told me she is the director of hospice and uses oxycontin with those patients. Asked her to think of ER meds when it has been determined that patient is in around the clock pain. Two reasonable choices are q12 oxycontin and schedule3 butrans. Left her information to review next time I stop in.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	11/13/2014	Abby told me that she forced a patient to start Butrans this morning. She said e patient called in and said he can't get it because its not approved. Abby said she called the pharmacy and they said it requires a PA. Abby said the patient can't take oral medicine and he has UHC community plan and she's trying to get it covered. Told her to ensure she does a complete look back on failures and to note everything.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	11/13/2014	Short discussion w/ pharmacy tech as they were very busy. Discussed OxyContin and Butrans dosing and conversions as well as copy cards. Tech said she would give pharmacist Butrans dosing card and OxyContin conversion guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/13/2014	Dr said that he thinks oxycontin q12 is appropriate solution for some patients in around the clock pain. He has not had experience with butrans in a while but seemed very interested when I reviewed the scott profile and discussed its use after tramadol. He had a med student in with him when I reviewed reformulated oxycontin and butrans n detail with her.
	Parma	OH	44129	11/13/2014	Myra said that there are patients that need ER. Some could benefit from q12 dosing of oxycontin but At their practice they do not write for more than the 80mg morphine equivalent and they don't choose Oxcodone, if they need more or something different they can find someone else to manage their pain. She has had success with butrans but sometimes even with the coupon is cost prohibitive. She thinks butrans is a great option and believes if they find the right dose shouldn't need to supplement with anything even though she knows you can.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/13/2014	Reviewed hydrocodone insight and pa said she doesn't start patients on schedule 2 products usually the dr will and she will do the refills. I asked her when was the last time she wrote oxycontin. She said never. I said there must be some hesitation for not writing it and asked her what they were. She said because it was schedule 2. I said will you reconsider writing OxyCotin if I make a good case for you today and she said may be. I asked her what she felt the big difference was between treating someone for atc pain w an extended release product than immediate release. Pa said ex are more dangerous. I asked how so. She said stronger. Gave fair balance for abuse potential and also highlighted that OxyCotin half life and delivery system. Focused on dosing someone every 12 hours w OxyCotin vs every 4 to 6 hours w immediate release options. Showed her fpi 12.3 and the comparison of oxycodone to OxyContin, her reply was ummm. Talked about converting from norco since she said she write little Percocet because of its scheduling. Pa said she knew about Butrans and she gave me information on Butrans. I asked her to tell me at what pint treating w norco or Tramadol would she convert to Butrans and the pa hesitated. Reviewed Initiation. Guide. She asked about rashes..") gave her the core visual aid
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	11/13/2014	Quick hello at window after asking to speak with him. I told him I'm guessing he's continuing to see an influx of patients on hydrocodone each month for their refills as he stated last time we spoke? Dr said they are coming in and its making things more hectic. I told him he has an opportunity during the reassessment to look at Butrans and OxyContin as viable options. I explained the place for each and reminded him that Butrans is the only schedule 3 ER opioid on the market and he can call the. In and refill them. Dr said that's impactful and is trying to find opportunities.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/13/2014	Laura said that she is happy that their practice limits the amount of meds they can prescribe. If patients are wanting more than they give they can go somewhere else. Although they see a benefit to oxycontin and ER meds for many patients, the patients they see are more appropriate for butrans. They will not write for more the the 80 mg morphine equivalent.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	11/13/2014	Told dr that I'm guessing he's continuing to see hydrocodone patients for refills? Dr said some yes. I told him he has an opportunity during the reassessment to determine if a patient is asking for more and is in pain around the clock and under 40 mg to use Butrans and over 40mg for OxyContin. I showed him the new piece for Butrans dosing and asked if he would do that? Dr said he's comfortable with Butrans and OxyContin efficacy and safety but its cost for Butrans. Dr said if its covered at a cost the patient is willing to pay is the issue. I told dr that what's expensive for one patient may be cheap for another and he just needs to tell them thats the only option he giving them! Dr said he needs to do a better job at that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/13/2014	Talked about hydrocodone insight. Dr said it won't effect him but has been busier then ever. Dr told me his umber of patients yesterday in westlake was the highest it's been in a long time. We discussed the under 40mg norco patient and if they we're controlled taking 2 or more doses a day if Butrans is a consideration. Dr said yes. Asked why he doesn't write more Butrans if this is the case? Dr said he just had a patient on burans but she felt itchy after two doses (I wrote an AE report). The dr was not sure if it was Butrans or side effect of the previous or current opioid. I gave hi. The adverse reaction grid of the core visual aid. The dr said rash and itching was low. I asked him if he ever stops a medication on other drugs because of a side effect. He said all the time. We talked about starting a patient from norco onto Butrans, nursing Initiation grids. I asked the dr for two additional Butrans patient s and what would hold him backed the indication was met. Dr said nothing. I said you mean price, insurance plays no part in ur decisions? Dr said it did. Reviewed caresource. Dr said he was not aware of its coverage for Butrans. We talked about OxyContin, abuse potential for both products. We talked about the Percocet patient and I asked at what point would he convert a Percocet et patient to OxyCotin if met indication. Dr said it all depends. I asked about the uncontrolled atc Percocet et pain patient...dr didn't provide answer and switched subject.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	11/17/2014	Lunch. Discussed benefit of ER opioid delivery system. First OxyContin, q 12h, 1 tablet 8 am, 1 tablet 8 pm. Butrans, dosed 1x per week, patients only have to worry about changing system every 7 days. Is it reasonable an ER schedule would benefit patients with daily, atc, long term pain; and for whom you've exhausted other options including migraine meds/botox therapy? Yes, however, says Karen, some patients do fine on prn, especially for headaches/migraines. Asked for business today, remainder of week, for patients who meet ER opioid indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	11/17/2014	Showed dr the OxyContin conversion and titration guide at front desk and told her OxyContin and Butrans should be viable options for her to go to when her hydrocodone patients come back for refill and reassessment. Told her to think OxyContin is for patients over 40mg of hydrocodone and Butrans under 40 mg. Told her if the hydrocodone patients ask for more or are in pain around the clock, OxyContin or Butrans my be solutions. Dr said
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	11/17/2014	Lunch. Discussed benefits of set schedule with ER delivery system. First OxyContin, dosed q 12 h, 1 tablet at 8 am, 1 tablet at 8 pm. Ability to titrate in 1-2 days. Butrans, 1x week dosing. Patients have to worry about changing system only 1x per week!! Lowest effective dose, both products discussed. Asked for business today, this week, after migraine meds/botox therapy has failed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	11/17/2014	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia. Said ok not seeing or treating many patients for pain since the move to UHHS, but will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	11/17/2014	Impromptu coffee appt. total office call. Discussed with med assts benefits of ER opioids and delivery system. Controlled release OxyContin dosed q 12 h. And 1x week delivery of buprenorphine/Butrans patch. Discussed also with Dr DeMicco, benefit of ER opioid and set schedule of q12 h, every 12 hrs release oxycodone. Parents have firm instructions to take 1 tablet 8 am and 1 tablet 8 pm; and stick to that schedule. The same for Butrans, patients only have to worry about applying 1x per week. Dr. D says he started a patient on Butrans 10 last week, AFTER Tramadol failure. He will let me know how patient is doing on next follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/17/2014	Elise asked me she was going to prescribe OxyContin 20mg TID and if the patients insurance would cover it? I asked Elise why she was prescribing OxyContin that way? Elise said she wants to prescribe 30mg q12 but the patient can't find it in any pharmacy. I called Rite Aid in Fairlawn and Elise spoke with Gilbert to verify their stock of 30mg. Gilbert told Elise they had 197 on the shelf. Elise wrote 30mg q12 OxyContin and patient was going to pick it up today. I reviewed the dosing of OxyContin and when Butrans would be appropriate from MVA.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44104	11/17/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Formulary grid along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, CIII for those patients with pain severe enough to require around the clock analgesia. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	11/17/2014	Lunch. Dr Reed states she has been writing more Butrans, over OxyContin, because OxyContin has become very expensive. Discussed availability of savings card for cash/commercial patients. It's the Medicare D patients she'd like to get access for OxyContin. Recently, she initiated Butrans 10 for female patient who has anxiety about taking oral pills. She will let me know how this patient does on therapy. Discussed benefits of ER delivery system and dosing schedule of q12 h for OxyContin and 1x week therapy with Butrans. She will write if affordable for the patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/17/2014	Discussed insight 18 and how patients on hydrocodone are handled in his office. I discussed Butrans and OxyContin options for patients and Butrans a viable option for some of his patients taking under 40mg a day. Discussed OxyContin option for patients taking more than 40mg of hydrocodone. I asked him his thoughts and said that he agrees with that philosophy and that if he has a patient taking 10mg of hydrocodone three times a day he would go to Butrans for sure. Dr said he's also going to fill out the AE information Purdue sent him on his AE with his patient on Butrans who experienced hallucinations. I asked for continued support.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	11/18/2014	No new information learned on this call.

	Twinsburg	OH	44087	11/18/2014	Doctor wrote oxycontin for a patient who had difficulty getting the butrans patch to stick to her skin. He would prefer not to write pills for patients in pain so he is looking for other options and will keep trying butrans for appropriate patients. Showed Scott as patient to keep an eye out for. He said he seems to see more female pain patients. We discussed how he follows up with patients during office visits....asked him if he gives them a range of when they can take medicine....he said they always take on a regular interval and not PRN. That really frustrates him so he works to lesson the number of pills depending on the reports of their pain levels. If he takes them down on their dosing schedule many leave his practice to so somewhere else.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	11/18/2014	Doctor had a few patients waiting so didn't have too much time to talk. He has started several patients on oxycontin with success but is still trying to find appropriate patient for butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	11/18/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients that are failing on Norco along with OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, said he will continue to consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	11/18/2014	Started off with hydrocodone insight and then follow it up with 242 days until patients are converted to ER opioids. Dr said there is some debate about keeping patients on IR opioids or converting to ER opioids and if he has patient who says they are going to have surgery in 6 months he may not be willing to start an ER opioid. I told dr that there is no doubt that if the patient is taking at least 90 pills a month, he should strongly consider converting to an ER opioid. Discussed daily, around the clock pain and doing and attributes for Butrans. Discussed EHR AND EMR and if they have 7.5mcg dose in their system. Dr said it is not and that Shar can add it which she is going to do. Dr said he has used it and just writes to the prescription. Discussed appropriate patients for OxyContin and doing as well as conversions for patients over 40mg of hydrocodone. Dr agreed to continue to write Butrans.b>CHUDAKOB's query on 12/05/2014Cliff, if the patient is taking 90 pills a month, why should he consider an ER opioid?b>REICHL's response on 12/08/2014It's failing and meets the indication for ER opioid.b>CHUDAKOB added notes on 12/10/2014Got it. PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	11/18/2014	Sarah said that the doctors seem to be writing more tramadol since the hydrocodone schedule change. Told her the messaging about ER I am giving to doctors and she thinks it would be great if they stopped writing the IR for patients in around the clock pain because many of them take it every 3 hours. Reviewed all 5 dosing options for butrans and appropriate patient for butrans.b>CHUDAKOB's query on 12/05/2014Kathy, you stated you presented OxyContin first and then Butrans, but I do not see an OxyContin presentation? PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	11/18/2014	Lunch. Total office call. Asked if when writing an opioid, like hydrocodone q 8h prn - for example, if Dr. DeMicco feels the patient will take every 8 hrs or 3x day or as instructed? Dr DeMicco response was - maybe, probably? Not sure? that's what I'd like you to think about then when I propose rather, a controlled release product like Oxycontin, Discussed benefits of ER or controlled release delivery system, and product attributes, set schedule of every 12 hrs with instructions to take one tablet 8 am one tablet 8 pm; ability to titrate in 1-2 days, single entity. Butrans - patients or their caregiver, have to apply just 1x week or every 7 days. Single entity, can titrate in 72 hrs, 8 possible application sites. Dr says he's had success with both products, but again, has to be careful of how many ER opioids he writes, and they've been referring patients to Dr. Ko for Painseville location; for Euclid location, they refer patients to Dr. Sami Moufawad.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	11/18/2014	If norco was failing a patient would Butrans or OxyContin be your first choice for atc chronic pain per indication. How often do you move from Tramadol to norco? Or from norco to what? Why. Dr said he will write OxyCotin if their managed care will cover it and he said he doesn't like patients to be on more than 3 or 4 doses of any immediate release product a day for ling times. Talked about indication and dosing of both products. Asked dr to think of OxyCotin for patients over 4 pills a day chronically and especially if they are on the same molecule as OxyCotin, oxycodeone. He said sure.

Focused on controlled release delivery system for Oxycontin, savings cards, Caresource prior auth discussion. Focused on ER delivery system for Butrans. she recently started elderly female patient on OxyContin; who was on ir Tramadol, Percocet. she also started elderly patient on Butrans - need to follow up on that patients' therapy. Caresource discussion also with med asst Tina. Tina says they have large majority of Caresource/low income patients. They also have a group that have Medicare/Medicaid (dual eligible) Discussed ease of Caresource prior auth for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	11/19/2014	Met with pharmacist Tom. He states Dr Price is writing OxyContin again? Found out that he's practicing a few days a week with Dr Chaitoff. No longer with University Hospitals. Discussed how rescheduling of Hydrocodone has effected what he's dispensing. Tom says HCPS want to be able to provide refills; so they are writing Tylenol 3 and have been running out of Tylenol 3. Discussed OxyContin controlled release delivery system. Then discussed Butrans as option which HCP's can offer with refills. It can be called/ faxed in. Reinforced 5 BUTRANS strengths.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	11/19/2014	Regina said that they stock oxycontin but not butrans at the moment. She said that the hydrocodone schedule change hasn't seemed to change the way doctors treat their pain patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	11/19/2014	Marcus said that they stock oxycontin and there are two patients on butrans. He hasn't noticed that prescribers are writing opioids differently sine the hydrocodone schedule change which he is a bit surprised about. Quickly reviewed ER opioid strategy and pulled through new dose of butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	11/19/2014	Spoke with dr about the last call and knowing when to differentiate between a hydrocodone patient that may be appropriate for OxyContin and Butrans. Recapped that discussion talking about 40mg hydrocodone cut off and then dr said she remembered what I said a converted 2 hydrocodone patients this week to OxyContin. I asked her with ultram what her typical ceiling dose is? Dr said 6 pills a day at 300mg. I asked her to think about taking a patient at half of that dose who says they are still in pain and convert them to Butrans. Dr said it makes sense and she can do that. Reminded her of the Helen profile and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	11/19/2014	Lunch. Discussion on re assessment of patients on hydrocodone combos continued. If he's referring to pain specialty, and patients are having to wait for 8-10 weeks or more to get into pain specialty; why not initiate low dose Butrans or OxyContin and help patients while they're waiting to get in for pain specialty referral? Does this make sense? Is this something you are willing to do? Dr Krishnan says this does make sense. Followed up on Helen profile, OxyContin another controlled release oral option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	11/19/2014	Lunch. Discussion on possibility of writing ER opioid PRIOR to referring patients to pain specialty. Continues referring to Dr. Yap in Beachwood, and Hillcrest Pain Mgt (Dr. Dews). Still has no interest in managing any ER opioids at all.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	11/19/2014	Short discussion about where and when OxyContin and Butrans are appropriate. Reviewed patients from MVA who may be appropriate for OxyContin and then gave quick review of Butrans attributes. Dr said he didn't know Butrans is a schedule 3. I asked if that would change his outlook on prescribing? Dr said possibly. Nothing else learned.

	Akron	OH	44333	11/19/2014	Discussed Butrans patient types, initiating in patients on tramadol and have pain around the clock. Discussed her patients that are being referred to her who are up 400% and what those patients are on when they come to see her? Elise said that they are typically on more than one analgesic and too high of doses from wither their primary dr or even a Orthopedic surgeon. Elise said that that she tries to get her patients on ER opioids as soon as she can and that she finds success with Butrans. Discussed dosing and 7.5 mcg dose and flexibility it brings. Reviewed OxyContin and if she feels comfortable writing and titrating up and down. Elise said she has no issues with it but its not easy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	11/19/2014	I showed dr the OxyContin conversion guide from the MVA and asked if I could speak with him for a second? Dr asked me where it's covered? I asked him which plans he's not able to get OxyContin for? Dr didn't give me a specific plan and I told him I have left multiple copies of the formulary grids and he has them. I asked dr if he would consider when reassessing hydrocodone an oxycodone patients to cindpsider taking a patient in pain around the clock on 20mg of IR oxycodone to 10mg OxyContin q12? Dr looked at the conversions and pointed to the 30mg of oxycodone. I pointed out OxyContin conversion is half the dose of IR oxycodone and its single entity ER oxycodone. Dr said ok. Reminded dr to use the copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	11/19/2014	Lunch. Continued with re assessment discussion, hydrocodone rescheduling. Dr Ashraf says he does notice an increase in patients coming in for refills. Suggested that's a good opportunity to convert patients to ER or controlled release delivery system. Asked Dr. to consider patients not controlled on percocet, vicodin, consider controlled release OxyContin. OR opioid naive on lowest effective dose, starting with 10 mg every 12 hrs. Butrans is another option which could be solution for refills and minimizing patients having to come in every 30 days for rx. Reinforced can be called/faxed in with refills.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	11/19/2014	Spoke with Jamie the pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin prescribing and what they are dispensing. Jamie said they have been dispensing the 7.5 mcg and continue to dispense the OxyContin doses. Jamie talked about residents not knowing how to correctly write or dose OxyContin. Jamie said she corrects them all the time and thanked me for making sure providers write OxyContin q12.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/19/2014	Reviewed impact of hydrocodone to the office, Lori the office manager said she has been very busy w scheduin patients. I asked the dr if just ine of those were appropriate for atc chronic medication Butrans was schedule three w refills. Dr said he would keep that in mind....
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	11/19/2014	Doctor believes in the use of OxyContin for his patients in around the clock pain. Once they are taking 4 pills of Percocet or Vicodin he thinks the patient should be on a medicine like ER oxycontin. He thinks Butrzn is a great option and he is finding that many more plans than in the past are covering butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	11/19/2014	Spoke to Jessica and Sue about Elise Leones patient looking for OxyContin 30mg. Jessica said she still had a few days left of the other dose than will fill it. Reviewed Helen profile and OxyContin doses and asked her to council patients when necessary about speaking with their dr about other ER options.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/19/2014	Dr Vucetic said that he has a patient that came to him from dr Sable that reported to dr sable that the Butrans 5mcg itched her arms so badly that she wanted to take a knife and cut them off. Dr said that he took her off of opioids completely and just treating depression. Discussed Butrans and dr said that he really likes it because its low dose, transdermal delivery system and easy to discuss with patients who are in pain on IR opioids. Dr said that he really likes it on his older patients because he does not like to treat younger patients on chronic opioid therapy. Discussed OxyContin use in his patients already on IR oxycodone and to keep the molecule the same.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	11/20/2014	Doctor said he believes in treating around the clock pain with ER but patients are very often resistant to that dosing. He believes oxycontin works well for patients but the stigma may prevent him from writing it for certain patient types. Aske him how he reassesses if they takes meds the way they are prescribed. He does regular urine screens to detect and would know if they aren't following his instructions and run out early. He said he won't write IR for more than 90 pills. Showed him Helen to discusses a particular patient type for butrans. Reviewed dosing, titration and managed care. He said he will keep an eye out for patient like Helen for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/20/2014	Reviewed the over 65 patient with med f coverage. Aarp for Butrans after Norco. Talked about the starting doses and the 7.5 mcg dose as a titration dose. Reviewed coupons for commercial insured.
PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	11/20/2014	Reviewed OxyContin and Butrans Formulary grids along with Savings cards. Said Ok will continue to find appropriate patients. Asked for 2 patients this afternoon. Said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	11/20/2014	Discussed appropriate patients for OxyContin and why he needs to use it for patients over 40mg of hydrocodone. Discussed from ground 0 with Butrans and discussed appropriate patients. Dr said he just write Butrans who was a referral from pain management who was coming off suboxone and the patients discussed wanting Butrans based on discussions from pain doctor. Discussed him evaluating his existing patients and asked him when he wrote a new IR opioid? Dr said its been a long time. Told dr that's why I need him to reassess those ultram and hydrocodone patients. Reviewed conversions and copy cards. Told dr to gain clinical experience with Butrans and he won't know how it works unless he tries it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	11/20/2014	Reviewed OxyContin with Liz and dr and asked about OxyContin copy cards and using them every 14 days if necessary. Discussed managed care and prior authorizations for OxyContin. Liz said she never has any issues getting it approved and when it is a PA she gets it approved with much trouble. Discussed appropriate patients and titrating. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	11/20/2014	Introduction call. Reviewed hydrocodone insight, and what they means to patients who can't get out in the cold to pick up their scripts. Dr said it will cause a problem this winter. Talked about OxyContin...reviewed indication and dosing. Dr was familiar with OxyCotin. Talked about couONS and who is the appropriate patient. Focused on hydrocodone patient uncontrolled and asked him any reason if they were over 40mg of norco and atc per our indication, what would be a hesitation to move to OxyCotin. Dr said none. I asked him if he usually goes from norco to OxyCotin or if he goes for Percocet to OxyContin. Dr said usually from Percocet. I highlighted the molecule and delivery system of OxyCotin. I asked him if Percocet is them their first pain opioid they use or were they on something else before. Dr said they usually have tried so ethng else. I asked why he is waiting so long. Dr said he was in the habit of doing it. I asked w hydrocodone and oerocet Nd OxyCotin being a schedule 2 if it was a reasonable to move for norco OxyCotin if the patient was appropriTe. He said yes we talked Butrans. Drs questions were side effects and I showed him the core aid to review. Dr asked about when steady state hits, which we reviewed. And talked about the Helen profile. Dr asked about managed care. Closed, dr said he would find someone

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma Heights	OH	44129	11/20/2014	Larissa likes to hear new information from reps and what we are talking to physicians about. She hasn't seen a big change in prescribing since hydrocodone change except for maybe a little more Tylenol with codeine. Pulled through new butrans dosing and the messages we are saying to physicians about around the clock pain and when ER med might be appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/20/2014	Myra said she loves butrans for her patients. She thinks that if she can get them to the right dose, that it works very well for her patients. Sometimes it is cost prohibitive. When pulling through managed care, she said that even $20 is too much for some patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	11/20/2014	Asked the dr what hesitations he has starting someone on Butrans? Dr said none. I asked the dr if he sees one patient appropriate for Butrans will he write it this week and he said yes.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	11/20/2014	Dr told me that his patients are doing well on Butrans and OxyContin and he doesn't remember a recent start. Dr talked about patients with spinal stenosis patients who he knows will have pain for an extended period of time. I told dr he's correct and that those patients along with chronic low back pain and OA were some of the patients in the clinical trials with Butrans. I asked dr where he has been initiating Butrans for his patients and dr said when they want more Norco. I asked him if he's ever used Butrans for patients wanting more ultraam? Dr said maybe once. I discussed use of Butrans in that patient and talked about Helen profile. Dr agreed it would make sense. I asked him when reassessing those patients to consider Butrans or even OxyContin if the patients are over 40mg of hydrocodone a day.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	11/20/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Savings Cards, Said Ok will continue to prescribe, Reviewed Butrans Initiation/Titration
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/20/2014	Reviewed hydrocodone, insight and impact it's having on office. Office manager Laura said they have been affected. Reviewed the over 40mg of norco patient meeting indication for OxyCotin. Reviewed dosing options and titration ever 1 to 2 days. Asked how his patient on Butrans was doing. It was a med d patient and they are supposed to come in office after in the week for a reassessment. We talked about the dosing and when to titrate, reviewed that it was ok to use break thru medications per our fpl. Gave fairbalance to abuse potential. Closed for another norco med d patient who meets criteria. Dr said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	11/20/2014	Introduction. Reviewed OxyCotin and how he used it in his practice. Dr said he uses it; but not often. I asked Why? Dr said he doesn't write that much extended release product. We talked about the atc chronic pain patient. I asked him when they are in 90 pills a month, so 3 a day...and they aren't controlled. How do you know they tok the medication as prescribed? Dr shook his head. I asked if he started to doubt things during the reassessment. The doctor shook his head with a big yes. I said this is your Butrans patient. Reviewed indication and dosing. I asked him how would he feel managing atc chronic pain with 4 patches a month. Dr shrugged his shoulders. I said whe you write prn or as needed...don't you give a lot of narcotic control to the patient? He said yes. I said Butrans might be an option for you. Dr said maybe so. I closed him in trying Butrans, after a norco failure in a caresupport patient. Dr said his big plans are caresupport, med d plans. So that is where I forced mostly. Got a follow up visit in February approved.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	11/20/2014	Met the pa. Hydrocodone insight. Although they said it wasn't affecting them....we talked about the. Umber of patient sbeing seen in a month on a hydrocodone product. We discussed what protocols are I. Place to accurately understand how much and when they took their atc pain meds. They said nothing. We talked about dosing of OxyCotin and Butrans. Reviewed the over 40mg of norco for OxyCotin, per our indication. And under for Butrans. She didn't know anything about Butrans. We reviewed. I asked her it sounded and she said she can think of a few patient it MIT be a good choice for, reviewed managed care. Also gave fair balance...abuse potential.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	11/20/2014	Talked about the uncontrolled norco patient, appropriate for Butrans that he would prefer a schedule 3 w refills. Dr asked managed care questions s, which I addressed. Nothing new learned on OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	11/20/2014	Quick hallway. Asked Dr for BWC patients. He stated many BWC are younger patients; they are on high doses, and feel OxyContin is more appropriate. Thats a huge part of your business. Is it fair to ask for Butrans for BWC?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	11/20/2014	Yes, in some patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	11/20/2014	Started discussion with Kathy patient profile. Dr said that an ER med was appropriate med for the patient. He said oxycontin might be an option but maybe best to try Butrans first. Discussed Q12 option of OxyContin and reviewed 5 doses of butrans. He thinks that Butrans is a reasonable option that he will consider.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	11/20/2014	Short discussion about Butrans and OxyContin and told dr that he has found a place for Butrans on a few occasions even though he doesn't like prescribing opioids. Dr agreed and said that the patients he had on each product are doing well and that he will never be a large prescriber for me. I told him to only prescribe where he truly believes is appropriate. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	11/20/2014	I recapped the last discussion with dr about what is holding him up from making butrans his go to ER opioid. Discussed how he's seen good efficacy and safety with Butrans and that if Butrans was free he would write it all day long. I told dr that I want to help him streamline his ability to reduce the amount of prior authorizations and step edits to enable him to have success with Butrans. Dr agreed and I told him his wife and office staff to know this as well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	11/21/2014	Lunch. Hydrocodone insight delivered. Dr says the rescheduling has been a hassle. Overall, ER opioids prior authorizations are a hassle. Asked dr who performs his prior auths? He does. Discussed conditions causing pain he treats with opioids such as neuropathic pain. Dr supports ER opioids. He says he had to complete prior auth recently for Butrans. We empathized but asked, in your specialty (neurology) don't you have to complete prior auth s for other branded meds? He also asked what to do if Butrans loosens or falls off? Replied with first aid tape, if still issue, Tegeder or Bioclusive. He says he trusts 90% of his patients, and so they don't have to come in every month, he MAITS them 3 scripts to get them by for 90 days. He replied yes. Focused on ability to fax/ call in Butrans with refills as benefit to patients unable to visit every 30 days, such as elderly population.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	11/21/2014	Caught dr at window and told him that I would like him to use oxycontin for those patients who are back in to have their hydrococone refilled and ask for that next dose. I told him that also those oatwntns over 40 mg of Hydrocodone may be appropriate as long as they meet the indication. Reminded him that butrans should be reserved for those patients coming in for refills of their IR opioid is and are taking 90 pills or more a day. Dr said that ounds fine and that he may be using more due to the headache the rescheduling of hydrocodone has caused.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	11/21/2014	Doctor said that she doesn't have any patients in around the clock pain, they are all acute. Showed her Kathy profile and asked her if this sounds like it could be one of her patients, she admitted that it is. When discussing appropriate therapy options like butrans or oxycontin, she says that she finally sees why ButrNs might be appropriate for a patient like Kathy or someone else before they start on Norco. Pointed out that after Tramadol is a good place to consider butrans as well. Reviewed dosing, titration formulary and doctor promised she will think of butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	11/21/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, formulary grid along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, CIII. Said Ok will consider

PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	11/24/2014	Discussed the hydrocodone insight with dr and then asked him if he would reassess his patients and look to initiate with Butrans or oxycontin and then reviewed where each is placed. Dr said he is doing it in the nursing homes and its hit or miss based on coverage. Discussed CareSource and Medicare D. I reviewed the Helen profile and asked him to start it on appropriate Ultram patients who meet the indication. Reviewed oxycontin MVA pages 5 and 9 and asked for business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	11/24/2014	Disussed hydrocodone insight with dr and asked him if it's an issue for him? Dr said not really but has had some upset patients. Continued to discuss the process of those patients in reassessing snd he options with Butrans and Oxycontin. Dr agreed that he likes that Butrans is a schedule 3 and it can help his patient get off taking pills. I discussed the dosing, application sites, conversions and attributes. I discussed the Helen profile and asked for more business. Discussed OxyContin and conversions as well as attributes and when he should be using it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	11/24/2014	Discussed insight 18 and then follow up with the time it takes to have patients converted to an ER opioid. Dr said the rescheduling of hydrocodone has not really affected her and her patients. Dr said that its a really hard sell to get patients to switch to an ER opioid like Butrans or oxycontin. Dr said that using ER opioids can be really bad. I asked if patients taking Multiple pills a day is any better? Dr said no but her patients are mostly medicaid and its hard to get them approved anyway. Discussed caresource, medicare and commercial coverage. Discussed attributes, conversions and Helen profile and told her she's missing to if she's not discussing with at least 2 patients a day that meet the indication. Dr said she will try harder. Reviewed when patients are appropriate for Oxycontin and discussed attributes with conversions.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	11/24/2014	Asked him to think of a few of his patients like Kathy. He was, so then I asked him what he would do next with a patient like this. He said that people stay away from oxycontin, but ideally ER med. I asked him why oxycontin q12 would not be appropriate for this patient in around the clock pain. He didn't have an answer. Reviewed doses, reformulated, but still abusable oxycontin. He does choose it for his elderly patients and will keep this information in mind. I asked him to imagine Kathy profile but Tramadol instead of hydrocodone. Where would he go with that patient? Reviewed Butrans, initiation, titration, approved application site, managed care. He said that he can think of a few patients that would be perfect for this product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	11/24/2014	Reviewed OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration along with Utilization
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	11/24/2014	Dr told me that he started a patient on oxycontin this morning who came in on 40mg of Norco and said the patent was not a candidate for intervention at this point. Dr said he started on 30mg q12 of oxycontin. Reviewed dosing and steady state with titration up or down. Discussed Butrans and when he should be initiating based on daily dose of ultram or hydrocodone.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	11/24/2014	Discussed Butrans and oxycontin with Rod and Rod said that he hasn't seen any new prescriptions recently but they ones he has continue to come in for refills. Checked copy card stock and reviewed them. Rod said that he will continue to ask patients to speak with their doctor about other options when he sees multiple refills of IR opioids.
	Middleburg Heights	OH	44130	11/24/2014	He was heading to the hospital and just stopped to talk for a bit. He says that he tries not to write for oxycontin. Quickly reviewed reformulated product, also saying that it can still be abused. Asked him to think about his patients that are in around the clock pain and his treatment approach. He said there isn't time to discuss that. I said that ER meds like butrans and oxycontin are meant for patients in around the clock pain. I asked him for two patient types. The Norco patient needing more than 4 pills per day for oxycontin and the tramadol patient who needs more pain relief, try butrans before going to Norco. He said that it makes sense.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	11/24/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, 7 tablet strengths, Formulary along with Butrans CIII, 7 day transdermal, Said ok will keep it in mind, Asked for 1 patient today

	Akron	OH	44312	11/25/2014	Dr told me that he had a patient come in yesterday for a follow up appointment who was on Butrans. Dr said that the patient couldn't be more happy with Butrans and is doing very well. I asked dr what the patient was taking prior to Butrans and he said hydrocodone and was not controlled. Dr said the patient was titrated to 10mcg and is doing great. I asked dr to look for candidates who are in pain around the clock on tramadol and left him the Helen profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	11/25/2014	After the insight 18 we talked about trigger signals to identify atc chronic Pain? Dr said its usually a length of time, dr said he also will try a few immediate release product. I asked why would he waste the time moving from one short to another short acting time if it was act? Dr said placebo is a big factor sometimes. Were talked about the pan patient appropriate for oxycont after norco and the Butrans patient after norco. We reviewed dosing and abuse potential. Went over a few managed care plans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	11/25/2014	Reviewed the Helen profile with Kim the pharmacist and asked her if she has patients who are maxed out on it and then moved to hydrocodone? Kim said it happens all the time. I asked Kim if she would tell the patients in this situation to speak with their dr about the ER options available? Kim said she has and will continue to make recommendations for patients to speak with their doctors. Reviewed OxyContin opportunities for hydrocodone doses over 40mg a day.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	12/1/2014	Met with medical asst Kaitlyn. Presented my products for patients with daily, atc, long term pain. Left Helen patient profile and OxyContin slim jim.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/1/2014	Talked about the hydrocodone being rescheduled and options during the patients reassessment visits. PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	12/1/2014	Good conversation about Oxycontin and Butrans. Recapped last call and discussed the opportunities that exist in his office when it comes to patients on hydrocodone. Told dr that Oxycontin is a viable option for some patients who are taking over 40mg of hydrocodone a day or on percocet and are still in pain around the clock. I showed dr the 10mg page from the oxycontin MVA and asked him to use it at the first sign of percocet not meeting expectations. Dr said that's a good point and said that he will try to do that and said it may be easier for the patient to consider another option the earlier he tries. I told dr that's a great approach. I asked dr on average what dose of ultram does he take his patients to before deciding on another option? Dr said usually 200mg a day. Reviewed the Helen profile and asked for him to use Butrans in that exact location before he moves to another IR opioid. Dr said he agrees and will continue to look. Discussed managed care and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	12/1/2014	Quick hello at front counter and told him to please review the oxycontin and Butrans options available to him and when to use them. Dr said ok and said he knows he should be using each instead of always referring. I told dr that's good to hear. Nothing else learned.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	12/1/2014	I asked dr if he has patients currently that come to see him on IR opioids? Dr said he does. I asked if he ever converts them to an ER opioid? Dr said no because it's not his job. I asked what he does en and he said he allows the pain dr to handle that. Left information on oxycontin and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	12/1/2014	No new information learned on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/1/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said it won't affect him because he gives no more than three pills of any pain killer. Drs aid he never heard about Butrans before and said he had no interest In hearing about OxyContin. We talked about Butrans. Reviewed indication and dosing. Dr said he would never write any extended release product.

	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	12/1/2014	Lunch. Presented Helen profile after hydrocodone insight. Dr has no issue with Butrans. Discussed proven efficacy, safety, clinical trials; studied in osteoarthritis and chronic low back pain. If butrans not appropriate, Oxycontin an option, dosed every 12 hrs. Dr. replied, you know I don't use Oxycontin, there's a problem with all the combinations area hcps are writing - they are writing too many long actings, combined with short actings - example: patient recently referred to him was on OxyContin and Percocet, Adderall, etc. He felt, this female patient, around age 50, on too many products that can cause respiratory depression. Empathized with is view; reinforced that patients with legitimate, daily, etc, long term pain, trusted by you, should be treated with something and if he's only comfortable with Butrans, then continue with Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	12/1/2014	Lunch. Continuation of last call. For trusted patients, who have failed on 3-4 Tramadol daily, or opioid naive like Helen, Butrans 1x week is option. Proven efficacy, safety in clinical trials and studied in chronic back pain and osteoarthritis, this week, consider for these patient types. If not appropriate, OxyContin, dosed every 12 hrs, also proven efficacy, safety in clinical trials for patients who have daily, etc, long term pain and used as prescribed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	12/1/2014	Lunch. Continued with hydorodone insight, and more patients coming in every 30 days, and his opportunity to to re assess and if patient meets ER opioid indication. If they do, consider Butrans as option. Here's why: showed patient profile Helen. this week, I'd like you to think about patient like Helen for Butrans. Either opioid naive, or after patient has failed on 3-4 Tramadol daily. butrans showed proven efficacy, safety in clinical trials, was studied in chronic low back and osteoarthritis. When not appropriate, controlled release OxyContin, dosed every 12 hours, is another option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	12/1/2014	Quick hello at counter in Fairlawn and handed him the titration and conversion guide for oxycontin and asked him if he's having clinical success and if so where? Dr said he's too busy to talk and said he knows I'm coming in for lunch soon and will discuss then. I told him that sounds good and hope he continues to prescribe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Westlake	OH	44125	12/1/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, savings cards along with Butrans CIII, 7 day transdermal. Said ok, she sends to pain mgmnt ,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Westlake	OH	44145	12/1/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Talked about patient volumm that has increased and how they had to work longer hours. The lead doctor Wolff has instructed them not to write schedule two products and inky refills not initiation if opioids of any kind. We talked about schedule two OxyCotin and schedule three Butrans. Highlighted refills w Butrans and covered abuse potential. Reviewed indication and asked if some of their assesment patient might be appropriate for Butrans if they need a change.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	12/1/2014	I told dr that he has two viable options for his patients that have around the clock pain,maybe are not surgical candidates, and are motivated to get their pain under control and current therapy is inadequate. Told dr oxycontin can be used for those taking over 40mg of hydrocodone and Butrans under 40mg. Dr said he's trying to not write anything. I asked if he going to refer all those patients then? He said possibly because he doesn't want to deal with pain management.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	12/1/2014	I asked dr if he's going to come back to lunch to hear new information about oxycontin and Butrans? Dr said he won't make it and asked for one point on each. I told him that when he has patients over 40mg of hydrococone or on percocet and are uncontrolled and have pain around the clock, oxycontin may be appropriate. Dr said he agrees with that. I told him to use all 7 doses. Told him Butrans is an option that he shouldn't be missing out on because it's a schedule 3, 7 day patch for those failing ultram and are in pain around the clock. Gave him the Helen profile. Dr said he will review.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	12/1/2014	Spoke with Gilbert and discussed his dispensing of the Butrans and OxyContin. Gilbert said they continue to fill oxycontin and have been giving out copy cards that patients seem to forget. He said that Butrans for some reason patients tend to remember their cards and really like the trial card. Reviewed dosing for each product and checked stocking.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	12/1/2014	Quick Butrans, OxyContin mention to Dr. Vilinsky for trusted patients with daily, etc, long term pain. met with both med assts Keanna and Tanisia. Discussed patient proper application, 8 application sites, rotate between sites every 21 days, and other information in patient guide including diary. Left Helen profile. PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44011	12/1/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr and the np said they have been over whelmed by the number of hydrocodone patients wanted scripts and the dr said he has decided not to write schedule two products. We talked about hat small amount he might treat and he said it will be very small and most will be refers to a specialist. Dr said he doesn't want to write opioids that need daily use. We reviewed the indication and dosing. Dr said Butrans will be the product he selects when the indication was met. We talked about limitations of use per the fpi and gave fair balance on abuse potential. Dr agreed to see me once a month with out an opt. Dr said he will not accept food or beverage any more per their office of uh. Closed for the appropriate business after norco and when a patient is requiring a change of therapy.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/2/2014	Reviewed hydrocodone insight. Asked if she has every written 90 to 120 pills per month for chronic pain patients. She said yes. I asked how she feels whe. The patients on those atc doses aren't controlled and are asking for a change. The dr gave me several concerns. I asked if the Butrans dosing might be an option for some of these patie ts and she said yes. Dr asked several questions which were addressed via the core visual aid. We reviewed abuse potential. Dr stated that she was happy to know there was a schedule three option that was not a patch and the dr stated she would talk to a few other doctors that didn't come back to lunch today. We did discuss OxyCotin, but her interest was with learning about Butrans because she knew nothing of it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	12/2/2014	Reviewed OxyCotin 7 tablet strengths, savings cards along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients

Discussed details, ease of Caresource Prior Auth for Butrans. Research UHC AARP and Secure Horizons for their practice, as they state the plan has dropped plan from practice. The plan caters to only a few Cuyahoga Cty neurologists.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	12/2/2014	Dr started off by telling me he had a new patient yesterday that was taking 20mg of Oxycontin q12 and he refilled it because the patient was mobile and controlled on OxyContin. I told dr that's great to hear and that if he didn't thanked it worked or the AE's outweighed everything else he wouldn't have refilled it. Dr agreed and said not to expect it all the time. Reviewed doing and conversions and then 10mg page in the MVA. Discussed insight 18 and discussed initiating Butrans for his tramadol patients who meet the indication instead of moving to hydrococone. Dr said he already does that as much as he can. Reviewed both Helen and Kathy profiles and asked dr what type of condition he treats most often? Dr said chronic low back pain must be the most. Discussed inclusion and exclusion criteria from bup 3015.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	12/2/2014	Spoke with Matt the pharmacist about Butrans and OxyContin. Discussed what he's seeing in the way of hydrocodone recently and Matt said he's not seeing much change but patients are still upset about having to pick it up each month. Reviewed dosing, conversions and the Helen profile as a good candidate. Matt said he's still seeing thusual suspects for oxycontin and filled a few for Petrus recently and a couple from Matthew Jones.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	12/2/2014	Met with med assts and Kris (front desk) and asked to see Dr. Goldner. She states he's too busy, not good day. Discussed Butrans (CIII 1x week pain patch), discussed and left (4) Butrans patient guides. Quick OxyContin Introduction to myself. Opened w hydrocodone insight. No a said he doesn't handle treating pain. I asked why not? She told me per the office policy. I asked if she filled refills? She said w dr approval first. Highlighted the appropriate person per our indication for oxycton and Butrans, listed abuse potential and the scheduling of both products. Highlighted the over 40mg of norco patient meeting indication- OxyContin and the under 40mg total dose per indication for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	12/3/2014	Led wi insight 18 and then expanded it on the original hydrocodone insight. I told dr she has some reassessment to do for those patients and if they are taking 90 pills or more a month of hydrocodone, Butrans may be appropriate. I told dr to use Butrans for patients like Kathy and then Helen. Told her to use Butrans when appropriate for ultram patients before she would move from ultram to hydrocodone. Dr agreed and asked if she can still call in and refill Butrans? I told her she can and she said that is a big advantage for Butrans. I told dr I'm glad she sees it that way. Asked for comminuted use in patients like Helen and Kathy and then to not forget words from patients that may be an opportunity for Butrans. Told dr if she is considering increasing the dose or moving from one IR opioid to another to consider if the patient is in around the clock pain and may be for an extended period of time. Reviewed no Kathy and Helen profiles. Dr agreed and said she really likes Butrans and said she will focus on that. Reminded her that oxycotin is also appropriate for hose percocet patients needing

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/4/2014	Good discussion with dr about his use of OxyContin. Dr said that he just prescribed it to a new patient this morning. Dr said that the patient was taking way too many IR opioids in losing norco and percocet. Dr said he started on OxyContin 30mg. I told dr that's great to hear and to also use Butrans for those under 40mg of hydrocodone. Dr said he loves Butrans and really likes the coverage with pa for Caresource. I reminded him to also use it for patients with medicare D and discussed coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	12/4/2014	Hallway. Reminded Dr. of our last conversation; consider butrans in the office setting, as I realize the coverage at nursing homes may not be to his satisfaction. He says I really like and would prefer a 1x week medication for my patients; there's just not enough coverage on Medicare D. Med D pull through. Quick Oxycontin mention, start 10 mg, use lowest effective dose.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	12/4/2014	Led with insight 18 and then discussed length of therapy on average for hydrocodone combo products. I told dr that the total daily dose will dictate when there a patient is appropriate for OxyContin or Butrans. Discussed OxyContin dosing and conversions from oxycodone and asked if he has existing patients that may meet this criteria? Dr said a small handful. I told him to evaluate those patients for either Oxycotin or Butrans. Dr asked ab average cost for Butrans? I told hit depends on the plan and tier status. Dr asked about commercial. Told him about average Croats for tier 2 with copy card and trial offer. Dr said ok and he might try it because he likes that he can call in Butrans and refill it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	12/4/2014	He said the primary reason he hasn't been choosing butrans for his patients is cost. He is short staffed and just writes what is going to work for his patients and cost them the least. They do not have time for prior authorization. Reviewed formulary grid and his # 1 commercial plan of med mutual and preferred status of butrans, with the coupon how little they would play for an extended release medication for their around the clock pain, asked him to think about how many of his patients might be like Scott patient profile and taking IR meds around the clock. He said that is a good point to think about.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/4/2014	Told dr that I want him to focus on existing patients he has on hydrocodone and are coming in each month for their refill. I told him that if they need that next dose or can't tolerate it, Oxycotin or Butrans may be appropriate. To,d him to focus on patients 40mg a day of hydrocodone or more would be appropriate for oxycotin and under 40mg would be Butrans. Dr said it makes sense and will try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	12/4/2014	Spoke with holly and reviewed all attributes for both products. Holly said they are still not disowning any Butrans and some oxycotin but said there haven't been any new starts.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	12/4/2014	I discussed insight 18 and asked him if he has had any opportunity starting Butrans when those patients are reassessed and are in pain around the clock? Dr said he offers it all the time but said about 50-60% of the time it's either too expensive or the oaters say it doesn't work. Dr said he knows it's not for everyone but the ones who use it really like it. Reviewed Helen and asked him to also use Butrans for his patients on ultram before they get to hydrocodone and meet the Butrans indication. Dr said that's a good idea and has done it with success.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/4/2014	He didn't want to be talking. Asked him to think about a few of his patients in around the clock pain taking IR meds in 4-6 hour increments. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	12/5/2014	Led off with insight 18 and time it takes on average to get a patient on an ER opioid. I asked dr where and when he's using oxycotin and Butrans? Dr said the rescheduling of hydrocodone has not affected them because they never called it in anyway. Dr said he really likes both products and is using OxyContin mostly when he must go to an ER from percocet or fentanyl. Dr said he likes all the doses and has no issues with titrating. Reviewed attributes, when are where to use and asked for him to initiate as soon as he knows the patient has around the clock pain. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions, titration, appropriate patient types with Helen and Kathy. Dr said that he has been using it mostly for the patients he doesn't trust with oral medicines and told me he hadn't thought about using Butrans after ultram. I asked dr why he would go from ultram to hydrocodone, one IR to another IR opioid if he already knows the patient has around the clock pain. Dr said that's good information and will try it. Discussed copy cards and insurance coverages.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	12/5/2014	Abby told me that she recently had a product she started on Butrans who was coming off hydrocodone. Abby said the patient didn't want to take it but she forced him to because the Norco wasn't working and he has chronic low back pain. I asked her if she has ever started a patient who was failing ultram? Abby said she hasn't and usually tries it after Norco. I asked why and she said she didn't know she could. Reviewed Helen profile and reviewed conversions from ultram. Abby said she will usually go up to 300mg a day then Norco. I told her they may be appropriate much sooner when on tramadol as long as they meet the indication. Abby said that's a good thought. Discussed OxyContin use, dosing, conversions and titration. Abby said she sometimes uses it after hydrocodone but not usually told they reach 40mg. I asked for earlier use when percocet patients have pain around

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	12/8/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr shared w me that he will write for two months and see patient back for follow up. Dr said he doesn't have time to see them every month and said he is not accepting new pain patients. Dr told me he tried to give Butrans a few times but the patient secured to take he scrip. I asked him to recall how many doses they were on of the hydrocodone Nd for how long. His nurse helped him w the answers. The patient was over 120mg a month, 4x a day every 6 hours. I asked if the patient was controlled on the current medication and he said yes. We talked about the conversion guide and indicTion. We talked about the uncontrolled patient requesting a change if that would have been a different response by the patient. Dr said maybe so. We talked about patch location, abuse potential and managed care. Dr said he hasn't been writing OxyCotin except in his older patients. I asked why? Dr started to tell me it was more controlled and then he said I guess so is everything now a days. I asked him what he thought about the oxycodone molecule for treating pain, he said he uses oxycodone. I said if they are needing atc therapy and uncontrolled why not change to OxyContin dosed every 12 hours. He said he could. We talked about the coupons and a few plans big to the office. I closed I'm to convert from oxycodone to OxyContin per the appropriate patient currently uncontrolled. And closed for hydrocodone uncontrolled atc per indication patients. Dr said he would give it a try.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	12/8/2014	Talked about the hydrocodone insight and how it's affecting their ohararmacy. And they said it wasn't too bad. We talked about OxyContin dosing also talked about Butrans dosing. Hilighted patch placement and abuse
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/8/2014	Talked about hydrocodone insight and covered Butrans and OxyCotin dosing and abuse potential.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/8/2014	Saw doctor. Had a long conversation regarding hydrocodone insight. Dr said he has been writing them out and it hasn't been an issue, we alked about who he considered to be a Butrans patient. Dr focused on the hydrocodone patient, we reviewed indication and i asked at what dose of a failed hydrocodone would he think Butrans. Dr said it varies and he said he usually starts patients on the 10mg of Butrans. Covered managed care. Talked about getting i to see him about the new product in february and he gave me the ok to out it on the books w his secretary.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	12/8/2014	Quick Intro. Told him when he sees a couple of his patients who are in the around the clock pain, does he think of ER medicines? He said truthfully probably not. When I have more time I told him I would like to discuss a few patient types that might be appropriate for q12 oxycontin or c3 butrans. Left him information and formulary for both.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	12/8/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Savings cards, Formulary coverage along with Butrans failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said she will look to expand utilization of Butrans within the clinic,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	12/8/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said she doesn't treat chronic pain. We talked about indication and abuse potential for Butrans and OxyCotin. Dr said she uses norco seldomly. I said what happens when the norco patient who has been refilling every month for the last several months becomes uncontrolled? Dr said sometimes she will send them out and sometimes she will treat. Using the conversion guide of t Butrans core aid we talked about who is appropriate per indication to start Butrans and the over 40mg of hydrocodone patient might go w OxyCotin as potential option. Dr said she doesn't have anyone over 40mg of hydrocodone or oxycodone. Dr said she will keep Butrans in mind. Covered coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/9/2014	He won't write for oxycontin, but quickly showed him scott profile as an appropriate candidate for c3 butrans. He doesn't have to refer them all to pain management. There are options.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/9/2014	Saw dr and talked about Butrans being schedule three option for norco patients needing a change to there therapy for atc per indication. Dr said he has bee seeing too many pain patients and he isn't going to write more. I reminded him That butran is dosed every 7 days, which is 4 doses a month for the chronic pain person. I asked if that was too much? He said no. I said if they are appropriate and requesting a change, what's the problem? Dr said he doesn't I know. I reminded him of our lunch on Thursday to review more. He ok.
	Lakewood	OH	44107	12/9/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr and nurses said they have been so busy and trying to refer out patients. I talked about the reassessment visits and the potential appropriate transition to Butrans per our indication. Dr said he heard that the pharmacist won't allow any opioid to be refilled. I corrected him and showed him the visual aid where it states its a schedule three and the amount of potential refills. We talked about how to initiate from norco to butrans. Also reminded him of OxyCotin schedule two and dosing but the dr wanted to stay focused in the schedule three option. We talked about caresource coverage. Dr said he would keep it in mind. Working w staff to get up in February to talk about new product.CHUDAKOB added notes on 12/19/2014Lisa, it looks like you are using insights much more to open your calls, and based on the call notes, the conversations look more robust. PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/9/2014	Doctor said he doesn't really write oxycotin. He might consider for older patient or cancer patient. Asked him if he has a system in place to see if his patients are taking the IR meds as he prescribed. He said not specifically, but if they are taking too many they would run out of meds before the end of the month. Asked him if there is a number of daily pills a patients takes where he would consider ER meds like oxycotin. He said maybe 5. I told him that I understand that oxycotin isn't for everyone, but q 12 dosing with oxycotin is appropriate for patients in around the clock pain, rather than dosing in 4-6 hour increments. He agreed. He said he has friend butrans with great results so far. One female patient has tried many meds including morphine and now butrans is finally working to improve her pain, and it was covered by her insurance. He said these positive experiences will help him remember to choose butrans for appropriate patients in around the clock pain.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/9/2014	Shay said that she has seen some oxycotin scrips come through. She hasn't noticed much difference in doctors prescribing since the schedule change. She thinks they write more IR meds than they need. She was by herself today and didn't really have time to talk. Left butrans information along with new dose information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	12/9/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Dr said he has seen many patients w chronic pain and he explain they are patients he doesn't want to see monthly. Dr explained that patients refuse to take Butrans. I asked why he thought that is, he explained they like their pills. I asked if that was a good or bad thing. Dr said he switch a patient from Butrans recently cause they wanted a pill. We talked about discontinuation rate insight and if he felt he gave Butrans enough of a titration try before giving up on it. Dr said probably not. We spend time talking about initiation guide and using the two patches using the core visual aid as a reference. Dr asked why they had to be side by side,ni explained that's the way it was studied. Dr was unaware that he could use break thru medications with Butrans. We covered managed care. Dr said he liked it was schedule three and that the dosing was weekly. Spend the w Beth going over managed care and schedule three.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	12/9/2014	Quick OxyContin review(Savings cards, Formulary coverage) along with Butrans 7 day transdermal, CII, Initiation/Titration, Said ok will review
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	12/9/2014	Spoke w ma about hydrocodone insight and she said it has been very busy. I reminded her that Butrans was schedule three, refills and gave fair balance on abuse potential for both products. Dr came to window and said he wrote a Butrans...I asked if it was the 5 or 10dose. Dr said 5. We talked about titration to 7.5 or 10 if the patient still doesn't feel controlled.covered caresource coverage. We talked about the discontinuation rate insights dr said patients never forget to take their pills. I said how exactly do you know that for certain? Dr said cause they refill every Month. Wanted to talk about reassessment but we didn't have time and he went into a room.CHUDAKOB's query on 12/19/2014Lisa, you have to be more more specific about fair balance. Just saying you gave fair balance doesn't really address what you said in relation to the conversation. This is very important and should be more specific on what you said and the context you said it in.BARTOLI's response on 12/19/2014Understood,thank you for the reminder.. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/10/2014	We talked about treating options for patients w atc chronic pain, I asked what his impression of treating pain is now since the schedule change of hydrocodone. The dr said it has been an eye opener for most doctors he said. Dr said he doesn't treat as many pain patients as others but he will write Butrans if he sees the appropriate patient. I asked if he could identify an appropriate patient to start on the 5mg dose. Dr said he thought so. We talked about the indiction and reviewed quickly the Initiation guide. Gave a quick review of OxyContin and dosing. Dr asked about managed care, which was addressed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/10/2014	Dr said he is writing virtually no opioids at all any more. I asked if this was a new change and why? Dr said the pain patients are too complicated and are better served by a pain guy. I asked where he refered and he said a few names and he also said he didn't care how long it akes to get in but he doesn't want to treat them. We talked about Butrans being a patch, schedule three and his perception of that fitting with in his parameters. Dr said He writes little Butrans but likes it cause its a patch and given weekly. I highlighted the Tramadol failure patient and what to do when they're pain isn't controlled. Dr said he would be open in the appropriate patient to writing Butrans in those patients but overall he said he was not writing much scheduled products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/10/2014	Spoke with dr dimitri in hospital and discussed Butrans and OxyContin appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/10/2014	Dr says he needs to be reminded of butrans. He tried one patient on butrans, never heard back from her so assumes she is doing well. Tried to get back to basics and discusses patient in around the clock pain and how best to treat their pain. He agreed that 4-6 hour increments isn't ideal for those patients. He does refer his pain patients out to pain management but some prefer to stay with him, he is ok choosing oxycotin for older patients but really just stays away from it. Butrans is a great option for patients like SCott. Reviewed dosing, initiation and titration along with managed care. He will do a better job keeping it in the front of his brain as he sees the appropriate patient type.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	12/10/2014	Dr said that he believes patients need to be on ER meds once they are taking 3 IR meds a day. He refers most of them out (especially the ones who need oxycotin) but does see a place for butrans. Reviewed scott and PAM as appropriate patients, reviewed initiation, titration, and managed care. He promises to find at least one appropriate patient within the next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/10/2014	He is very comfortable prescribing oxycotin for appropriate patients and doesn't have trouble with insurance. He has no concerns about how my products work, but insurance and his patients push back on price of butrans. Assured him that coverage has never been better, reviewed formulary grids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	12/10/2014	Told dr at window that I would like him to reassess his patients on Norco who may be over 40mg a day and are still in pain around the clock to see if they might be appropriate for OxyContin. Told dr that Butrans also might be appropriate for those under 40mg a day and showed him the approximate conversions. Dr said alright and asked about insurance information. Gave dr the grids.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/10/2014	Hydrocodone insight. Asked her how script writing rules have changed for her. Vicki said she still doesn't initiate with out approval from the lead doctor on call or dr kabbarra. We talked about her views on OxyContin now that it is in the same schedule as many other opioids. Vicki said she doesn't have much experience w extended release products. I asked if she saw chronic pain patients in the office for follow up and she said not as much as she used to that she is. Only at the hospital doing follow up post surgeries. We talked about Butrans, it's scheduling and dosing.

	Akron	OH	44333	12/10/2014	God discussion about a patient she started on Butrans the other day. Elise said that the patient was a referred patient who came in on Tramadol and Norco. She said that she was first thinking oxycontin but then realized that maybe butrans would be a better solution because of it being a patch and wanted the patient off pills. She said she initiated on 10mcg and figures she will need to titrate. Brittany said that she got a couple of Butrans PA's through and approved. I told Elise to maybe use a 40mg of hydrocodone a day as being the cut off for Butrans and oxycontin. Elise said she tries to make that decision sooner.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	12/10/2014	Quick review of OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration, Said Ok, will be closing location and seeing patients at the Broadway office

	Stow	OH	44224	12/10/2014	Spoke to Jamie the Pharmacist and asked her if she has had prescriptions for multiple patches? She said she has not. I asked her if she has seen any new prescribers and she said not really but is seeing a lot of it including the 7.5 mcg dose. Discussed Oxycontin dosing and conversions and reminded her of q12 dosing as the single entity oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/10/2014	Talked about the opportunity to convert uncontrolled patients that are already on the same molecule of oxycodone over to every 12 hour dosing if appropriate, to OxyContin. We talked about those patients who may be appropriate for atc dosing and needing a change of therapy the option to try a pain patch instead of a pill for their atc chronic pain treatment. Dr said his patients like pills. We talked about abuse potential for any opioid including oxyctn. And Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/10/2014	Spoke w Kelly e office manager and the doctor today about why he wants Butrans on formulary at the hospital. Dr explained he likes Butrans and that he likes the dosing of every week. Dr explained to me the importance of a 7 day dose optio. For patients in the hospital and give Butrans and then the time frame he sees them back for follow up they either have the original patch on or on the second patch. The doctor said that patients after surgery don't always make it to get their pain pills on time and can be left in pain. We reviewed the indication of Butrans, and the dr told me he was going to call the clinical manager of the hospital to see if he can get it on formulary. Dr said he is going on vacation next week and that he has been so busy seeing patient. I asked if he had seen any appropriate for Butrans s this month. Dr said yes some. I asked why wouldn't every uncontrolled atc oer indication be giving Butrans? I asked what hold him back. Dr said coverage usually. We taled some managed care, dryad concerned with patients donut hole and deducts for med d patients. I was able to schedule an apt day one of new product. Dr said he wanted to be the first to know about it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/10/2014	Saw dr in hospital in order to get his email for speaker bureau. I told dr to please continue identifying patients appropriate for Butrans. Dr said he continues to have great success with it but just wishes it was covered better. I told him medicaid and Medicare are going to be more difficult to get approved compared to commercial insurance and then discussed CareSource and Medicare coverage. Told him to please use oxycontin when his patients may already be on Oxycodone and have pain around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	12/11/2014	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients.
	Westlake	OH	44145	12/11/2014	Reviewed Hydrocodone insight and asked if he was open to treating a few of those that might be appropriate with Butrans (tried a dose firsts use he was heading to hospital). Dr asked about managed care. I gave him a summary, but ask him if there was a specific plan he wanted to focus o. Or was this a generic question. Dr said he was curious. Talked about the Hydrocodone patient appropriate for Butrans using the intation guide and we reviewed indication. I asked how does he know when to move a patient from an immediate release to extended release product. The dr said it depends. Highlighted a few Helen Items and asked if she was someone he would think of or not. Dr said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/11/2014	Talked about the Hydrocodone insight. Covered the scheduling of OxyCotin and Butrans. I asked the dr when he decided to move to an extended release product. Dr said he didn't know. DR said he will write generics first. We talked about dosng. scheduling and burans initiation guide. Dr asked about anaged plan plans. I focused on med d.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	12/11/2014	Review of our last conversation. Highlighted scheduling and dosng of Butrans and OxyCotin. Covered managed care. Talked about getting back in February to cover new product with the ccf pain group. They said yes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44685	12/11/2014	Reviewed oxycontin and Butrans attributes, patient types for OxyContin and reviewed pages 8-10 in MVA. Discussed Butrans Helen profile and asked him what he typically moves to after tramadol? Dr said he guessed he never thought of using Butrans after tramadol and said it makes sense because he usually doesn't go beyond tramadol and refers out. Dr said he's going to give it a shot.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	12/11/2014	Saw him quickly at the window and gave him the Scott profile. Told him to keep an eye out for a patient in around the clock pain like him for butrans. He doesn't really see patients in around the clock pain. He has to try to remember butrans. Told him it is now available in 5 doses with very favorable formulary coverage.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	12/11/2014	Showed dr the Helen profile and to,d him he needs to continue to identify patients like her that are in pain around the clock. Told him that I'm going to be providing him with unrestricted coverages for Butrans on all aspects of his practice. Showed him the medicare D grid and discussed AARP and Caremark silverscript. I told him for the next week to think of those plans wipch are his two largest for medicare.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	12/11/2014	Quickly told me that she doesn't see pain patients, refers them out when I told her what I promote. I told her that understand but this information might be helpful if she does run across someone in around the clock pain and she needs to be aware of some options. Quickly reviewed what it was and scheduling. Handed her butrans information and formulary grid. told her I would check in again in the new year.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	12/11/2014	Quickly told me that she doesn't see pain patients, refers them out when I told her what I promote. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	12/11/2014	Spoke to dr about how she is treating atc pain patients now that Hydrocodone has moved to schedule two. Dr said she doesn't want to treat chronic pain but she does occasionally. Dr said she doesn't write much OxyCotin. I asked if she writes any expended release product she said very little. We talked about Butrans dosing and scheduling.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	12/11/2014	Met dr for first time and provided detailed overview of oxycontin and Butrans. Discussed attributes for both products, patient profiles, conversions, titration and clinical studies for Butrans. I asked dr what her philosophy is in treating pain? Dr said she doesn't like using opioids because what it brings to her and the practice but can see where for the right patient at the right time where Butrans might be a good option. Discussed using Butrans for a patient like Helen and dr said it makes sense because she usually maxes out to 300mg a day. Reviewed application sites, proper skin preparation and insurance for Bo products. Dr said she is more likely to use Butrans and asked for information on initiation and titration.
PPLPMDL0020000001	N Royalton	OH	44133	12/11/2014	She is probably got going to prescribe oxycontin, they are encouraged to send to pain management. Quickly reviewed the reformulation information around oxycontin. She was very interested in hearing more about butrans because of the hydrocodone schedule change. Reviewed appropriate opiod naive and tramadol patient types using Scott, initiation, titration and formulary. She doesn't think she would write much of this but thinks there might be one or two people she could think of that might be appropriate and that it is good information to know.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	12/11/2014	Reviewed Butrans for those patients that are failing on present therapy, along with OxyContin every 12hours,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Green	OH	44232	12/11/2014	Spoke with a pharmacy technician about oxycontin and Butrans attributes, conversions and what they are seeing and dispensing in the pharmacy. The tech didn't have much idea because he was new and said the pharmacist was just too busy. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	12/11/2014	Good discussion about the impact of hydrocodone rescheduling, where oxycontin and Butrans fit in his practice, and patient specific identification for OxyContin and Butrans. Dr said hydrocodone is affecting their office and said yes sees a place for both products however he's trying to refer out because of the pressure to treat chronic pain. Dr could not specifically where the pressure is coming from and admitted he'd just rather refer. Dr said he uses oxycontin for patients who he feels he can treat needing more than oxycodone and Butrans for hydrocodone. Discussed importance of determining at what point a patient is in pain around the clock and could use a therapy change. Discussed Helen and Kathy and dr said he just forgets about Butrans and agreed he should be using it for a patient who he typically would take a patient to 300mg a day of tramadol. Dr said he will try to use it before he would max the dose and knows they will need continual therapy. Discussed insurance coverage and copay cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001

	Independence	OH	44131	12/11/2014	He thinks patients are in around the clock pain when they are taking 3-4 pills. The problem is that they don't want to give up their pills. Asked him what he thought about extended release meds earlier in regiment once they realize the pain in around the clock. Two options: q12 low dose oxycotin, or once weekly butrans after tramadol or before tramadol? What do you think? If only it were that easy! They are both good options but he never thinks of butrans. He had to go. Reviewed improved formulary coverage which is very important to him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/12/2014	Quickly handed him the Maria profile as an appropriate butrans patient to keep an eye out for. Inside was latest formulary grid. He said he is using butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44011	12/12/2014	Talked about the appropriate patient type and the scheduling, recapped last times conversation- and tried to move it forward. We talked about the appropriate patient requiring atc therapy and that butrans was schedule three and what that meant in terms of refills and visits to the office. Also talked about dosing and titration and use of supplemental medications for breakthrough. Dr said although he doesn't want to treat patients monthly he may consider butrans for those appropriate. We talked about caressource coverage and with coupons.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/12/2014	Summary: Writes plenty of oxycotin for Hospice.( he is hospice director) and thinks butrans is a great option rather then pills. Patients put it on and can forget about their pain unless they have breakthrough. He asked about generic ER Oxycodone vs oxycotin. Which should he write. Told him that there isn't a generic available generally for oxycotin. Sometimes they appear on the market for a short time at some pharmacies. We don't know how much they are or where and when. Let him know that whatever the patient gets will be the reformulated version only. We discussed patients in around the clock pain and how he won't write for more than 4 IR per day. He doesn't believe they should be dosing themselves throughout the day. He appreciated patient information for butrans and has had multiple success stories with patient on butrans. So it will be uppermost on his mind for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	12/12/2014	Quick discussion with Corey the pharmacist about oxycotin and Butrans. Reviewed oxycotin doses and conversions along with patients who, might be appropriate who are taking 40Mg of hydrocodone or more and are complaining of pain or can't tolerate it. Reviewed Butrans Helen profile and ensured they had copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/12/2014	Discussed with dr patients whom are appropriate for OxyContin and Butrans. Told him to please help an eye on those who are over 40mg of hydrocodone a day as they might be appropriate for OxyContin and those under 40mg a day could be candidates for Butrans as long as they meet the indications. Dr said he was looking for Butrans copy cards the other day and said he doesn't think they have any. Restocked.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	12/12/2014	Quick hello at front counter. I asked dr if he has any reservations with writing new oxycotin prescriptions when patients on IR oxycodone whom have pain around the clock and meet the indication? Dr said no. I asked him to please reassess not only his oxycodone patients but his hydrocodone ones as well who are over 40mg of hydrocodone and meet the oxycotin indication. Reviewed Butrans dosing, conversions and use for Ultram patients who meet the indication for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	12/12/2014	Told dr at window that I want him to us he lower doses of oxycotin for those he's reassessing already on IR oxycodone and showed him page 8 in the MVA. Told him Butrans may also be a solution for those under 40mg of hydrocodone who meet the Butrans indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	12/12/2014	Good discussion around who is an is not a potential candidate for OxyContin and Butrans. Reviewed patient scenarios for each through MVA and patient profiles. Dr said he really was to purge all his patients needing chronic pain management. Discussed who may be appropriate in his practice based on re-evaluating his existing patients on IR opioids. Told dr that he must take a very close look at the patients he is refilling on IR opioids each month to decide what percentage of them he is ok treating with an ER opioid like oxycotin or Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	12/12/2014	He has a few of his patients on oxycotin, writes it for the patients that require more than 4 pills of IR. Good product, hates to write it. Reviewed that it's just the few of his patients in around the clock pain that I want him to think about how might be appropriate way to manage their pain. Had scott profile on table so we could discuss specific patients he has to keep an eye out for butrans. Reviewed doses and inclusion criteria in studies. He just has to remind himself about it. He promises to remember butrans.

	Highland Heights	OH	44143	12/16/2014	Spoke with Marianne from Dr Salama office over phone. She inquired about 40 yr old female patient who had a few different AE s with Butrans 20 dose. The first day, she had headache & felt nauseous/upset stomach. When patient went to take a shower there was a "bubble " in patch & patient afraid not all medication in system. She called Butrans 800 line & received so help regarding her questions/ concerns. She then called Dr Salama - he instructed her to remove old patch and apply a NEW 20 mcg patch. I let Marianne know I will stop in THURS to follow up and have dr sign medical information form to answer the question: if Butrans has air bubble, does any medication "leak out"? This patient was converted from Percocet to Butrans. She remains on Xenadrine muscle relaxant. Marianne is UNSURE if patient on any non opioid or opioid rescue medication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	12/16/2014	Dr and Liz said that they have had two prior authorizations for oxycotin this week. Liz said that ones of them was for medicaid and she got it through. She and dr said the other was for a patient on percocet that he write oxycotin for who has UHC Medicare. Liz said the insurance is asking for ER morphine and then Opana ER then they will approve oxycotin. Liz said the patient is on ER morphine now and will write Opana next week. Dr said the patient will most likely fail. Discussed conversions from percocet and insurance discussion.

PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	12/22/2014	Doctor told stories about some of the patients he has inherited on high doses of oxycontin and he is weaning them to lower doses with great success. He confirmed with me the dosing schedule because he was inheriting patients from other doctors with q8 dosing. I let him know that oxycontin is intended to be dosed q12, reviewed steady state info and we discussed dose adjustments up and down. He has stated a few patients on 5mcg butrans. He said one patient just called today and was not getting pain relief on the 5 mcg. Doctor told him that he can use two patches. I reviewed with him the recommended titration of butrans and how to best use two patches. The doctor is pleased with results he is getting w butrans.CHUDAKOB's query on 01/04/2015Kathy, what did you discuss relating to the downward dose adjustment relating to Oxycontin?LARAWKA's response on 01/06/2015Told him that product reaches steady state by 1 day so that dosage adjustments can be made every 1-2 days.CHUDAKOB's query on 01/07/2015Steady state is 24-36 hours. If you said "by day one" this implies before 24 hours. Please make sure you are telling your HCPs what is in the FPI. The dosage adjustments refer to upward titration. Does this make sense?LARAWKA's response on 01/07/2015Yes it makes sense.CHUDAKOB closed the query on 01/12/2015
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	12/22/2014	I told dr that I want him to think of just one patient that he believes is a candidate for OxyContin that is in pain around the clock on q5 or q6 percocet. I asked dr if that's appropriate? Dr said maybe because he doesn't want to write for pain. I told dr I know he refills the IR opioids though so he's doing it already. Dr said IR and ER opioids are very different. I told him I understand and that maybe a schedule 3 Butrans patch may also be appropriate. Dr said maybe. Nothing else learned.

	Westlake	OH	44145	1/5/2015	Talked about the New Years and the hydrocodone insight.talked about my products and their scheduling. Asked what hesitation he had converting from hydrocodone to Butrans? Dr didn't answer the question but replied with its schedule three right. We talked about the patient taking more than two doses of a pain opioid and I asked if he felt that would be appropriate for a different delivery system at that point and he said maybe. So I went into starting doses of 5 or 10mcg of Butrans and covered managed care- caressure. Dr said he would try and remember. I told him about our upcoming lunch and the discussion of a new product. Dr said he would be all ears.

	Parma	OH	44134	1/5/2015	Doctor has been having good success with butrans. He believes that it should become the number one pain medication. He writes the higher doses and often for patients that he is trying to get off of too many pills. He doesn't write much oxycontin, he will only write it for short periods of time. He thinks primary care physicians write far too many of the IR meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/6/2015	Dr said he uses tramadol and after tramadol he would consider Butrans for an appropriate patient. We talked about attributes of Butrans like the scheduling, dosing and managed care. Dr said his hesitation is cost for the patient. We reviewed coverage. We talked about where to select Butrans and the dr said he would prefer to use an extended release opioid for chronic than immediate release products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Woodmere	OH	44122	1/9/2015	Jennifer appreciated the info,mess too busy to talk. Mmshe won't stock hysingle until prescriptions start coming in. Once that happens, she commits to stocking it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	1/9/2015	Doug thinks that he just recently received a call from headquarters about Hysingla telling him not to order Hysingla until they get consistent orders. They said that it was too expensive. I told him that I am not sure of pricing but will come back with more information soon. He thinks it's good that they are re formulating meds with the abuse deterrent characteristics.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	1/9/2015	Doctor said that he has tried to write butrans a couple of times since my last visit and insurance didn't approve it. He is waiting to hear back about a prior authorization from Caresource. Pulled through managed care for butrans. Informed doc that a patient had to be on a less expensive medicine like tramadol for 30 days and fail, then they should approve Butrans On Caresource.. He said he will let me know how it turns out. When he writes for oxycontin he writes Oxycodone ER and hopes he is getting oxycontin. Assured him that patients would get the reformulated oxycontin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	1/12/2015	Discussed Butrans and OxyContin attributes, dosing snd appropriate patient types. I reviewed the Helen and Kathy profiles for Butrans and asked him when it comes to IR opioids if he has a threshold to dictate when an ER opioid is prescribed? Dr said not really but usually 3-4 day for 3-4 months is chronic and that's when he typically refers to pain management. I asked dr why he wouldn't consider a schedule 3,7 day transdermal system? Dr said he feels that's for the specialists to decide. I asked him to refer a patient on Butrans then instead of the IR opioids. Dr said he would consider that. Dr asked about incidence of constipation and reviewed the AE's from Bup 3015. Dr said he didn't know it was that low and said he will consider it for patients having too many side effects from constipation.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	He says that it is getting too difficult to write opioids and may have to stop writing them. He thinks oxycontin works and has not had experience with butrans. He thinks it is a good option for some patients but they seem to prefer a pill.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Handed him the scott profile through the window and said this is one of the many patient types that may be appropriate for ER meds like butrans or oxycontin, does he have a few seconds to hear why.....he said he will review the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Allen said they don't move a lot of narcotics out of Marc's but promises he will if it takes off.
PPLPMDL0020000001	C. Falls	OH	44223	1/12/2015	Spoke with Cindy and Catherine about hysingla pharmacy piece discussing dosing, stocking, and rebates available. Cindy asked if I'm going to introduce hysingla to Falls Family practice? I told her I will when I am able and she said they write a lot of Norco and percoct. Cindy said that they would be a good office to start with and doesn't see how they don't write oxycontin because they write a lot of percoct. Cindy said they will look to stock one dose and wonders why they are in bottles of 60.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	1/12/2015	Spoke with pharmacist Gilbert and introduced hysingla pharmacy guide. Reviewed dosing, rebates and asked him to stock. Gilbert checked McKesson stocking from the distribution center and volumes were very low and Gilbert said if we expect to move the product the volume must go way up. Gilbert printed out stocking and sent to manager. Gilbert said he would stock 2 or three doses and will complete it this week. 20,30 and 40mg

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Shay said that Target has a strict policy about not ordering until there is consistent requests for a product. New products take a while to uptake, they don't want the inventory.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Heath said they are not in a hurry to schedule C2's. He will wait to see if it takes off and then decide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Doctor is new to the practice as rheumatology and IM. She doesn't want to be known as pain management but for some patients will choose an opioid. Asked her to think about ER meds for those patients in around the clock pain who are taking 90-120 pills per month and pain isn't controlled. That might be appropriate oxycontin patient. She agreed. Reviewed dosing and titration. She was not aware of butrans and thought that might be an appropriate topin for some patients. Reviewed Helen profile, initiation, titration. She appreciates the information but hopes to not write too much in the area of pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	1/12/2015	Reviewed both Butrans and OxyContin attributes, dosing and patient profiles for Butrans. I asked dr if he will continue to identify the right patients and if it makes sense to take a closer look at tramadol patients taking it and the clock and still complaining of pain or asking for a refill or titration? Dr said it does and he will take more of a closer eye on those types of patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	1/12/2015	Spoke with Amy gives the pharmacist about hysingla pharmacy piece raiding dosing, NDC numbers and rebates available. I asked Amy if she will stock and she said she can't order until she sees a prescription. I told her that I will try again to get her to out just one dose on the shelf. I inquired about the pharmacy being robbed for OxyContin many said the same man robbed the state road store and the man asked for oxycodone so she gave him the IR oxycodone not oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/12/2015	Talked to Dave or Doug, he was very busy and short staffed. Briefly reviewed Hysingla and he said he commits to stock it once there are requests.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/12/2015	Dr said he doesn't think of Butrans because he doesn't like patches and that he is concerned that it might not work a full 7 days and then he fears he won't have pain coverage for the patient. Dr said he doesn't want to write an extended release with immediate release. I said how do you know how it's going to work if you don't find out for yourself in appropruTe patients. We talked about the uncontrolled Tramadol patient meeting the Butran indication. Dr said he doesn't write much opioids and those he does have on OxyCotin are very old. Dr he won't change his mind about a patch for his patient. We talked about managed care coverage. Dr said his older patients on chronic pain meds are on a fixed income and he won't write branded for them.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	1/13/2015	I asked the dr if he feels hydrocodone has slowed down since it was rescheduled. And the dr said surprising no. Dr told me about a recent survey he took and Butrans wasn't an option. So the dr put it down In the other category. After discussing options, he came to the conclusion it was a schedule two question. We talked about Tramadol and if it made sense to move from that to Butrans given they met the criteria. Dr said sure. I said what is your criteria for making that move? Dr said it depends. I asked for a general example of how far he will dose Tramadol before moving to another product if the patient isn't controlled. We reviewed the Butrans inaction guide and dosing. Talked about abuse potential with all I opioids including Butrans and OxyCotin. I asked withthenschedukingn indication how do you know when to move to Butrans or OxyCotin? Dr said they go in Butrans if they are younger because he likes the dosing weekly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	1/14/2015	Lunch. Discussed Butrans access for his BWC patients; then easy Caresource prior auth. Also; ability to call/fax in Butrans with refills. OxyContin is another option for patients with daily, around the clock, long term pain. Asked his permission to speak with OM regarding addition of Hysingla ER to their EHR system/favorites tab - he says fine. Ellen is on vacation, but back this FRID Jan. 16.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/14/2015	No new information learned on this call. Dr was not in office, working trying to schedule apt to talk about new product. Talked manged care w nurses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	1/14/2015	Talked about the Butrans experience kit. Asked the dr what extended release opiod he would use for the elderly if managed care were off the table. Dr said it depends but he said OxyContin. We talked about a few attributes like single entity and dosing. I asked if he would ever consider Butrans after a non opioid failed and the patient met the criteria for Butrans. Dr said no. I said interesting answer. Then I asked if he would use any opioid he said yesut not atc. Which got us I to a conversation of the indication of our products. The dr positions Butrans after norco and maybe after Tramadol currently.

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	1/14/2015	Told dr that I would like him to identify a few of his existing patients on percocet 20-30mg a day who have pain around the clock and he's considering titrating their percocet and convert the, to q12 oxycontin. Dr said ok and he'll try. I also told him to keep Butrans available for those NSAID and tramadol patients who also have pain around the clock and then showed him the conversions guide.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	1/14/2015	Reviewed OxyContin Initiation/Titration, savings cards
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44307	1/14/2015	Dr showed me the Butrans mailer he got which outlines the Kathy profile. Dr said its good I come visit as well because he said he thinks he has a candidate for Butrans with pain just about every day. I reviewed the dosing, how to initiate and convert as long as steady state and titration. Dr said he's going to give it a shot again. Discussed OxyContin for patients who are on percocet. Dr said he converted a patient recently and the patient said the percocet wired better. I explained IR and ER oxycodone and asked dr to be persistent with the patient and make sure to titrate if adequate analgesia isn't reached.
PLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	1/14/2015	Lunch. Dr DeMicco says he's has trouble with a few plans getting OxyContin covered; even after patient has completed the required 30 days of morphine sulfate. Asked how those patients have done while on morphine/ Dr. replied: morphine does not work for them. Recently, for a patient at Painesville office: Dr. D stated he just wrote Butrans 10 mg for male patient; so far so good; no call back to office. total office call on Hysingla ER and addition to our portfolio; gave EHR sell sheet/let Dr. D know I will be certified soon on product; and have info for him after 1/29/15. Dr. says he'd write a 1x day hydrocodone, but will BWC pay for it? told him we are working on that and I can follow up when I know more.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44127	1/14/2015	Reviewed Butrans for these patients failing on present therapy that are requiring around the clock analgesia along with OxyContin every 12hours, said ok will consider, but sending most patients to pain mgmt
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44303	1/14/2015	Spoke with Rod about Hysingla ER outlining the pharmacy piece. Rod asked which doses I think will move most and I told him I'm not sure but I would suspect 20-40mg. Rod said he is willing to order one bottle of the 20mg and should have it in by the end of the week. Rod said that he fills a lot of oxycontin and ordered one bottle of generic 80mg and was surprised that its $8 more than the original. Rod said the generic and branded look exactly the same with the same markings.
PLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	1/14/2015	Dr is starting to think of it for more patient types than in the past. Butrans is working well for many of his patients. He believes the trend is going more toward ER med story patients in around the clock pain.
PLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	1/14/2015	No new information learned on this call. QUICK HALLWAY. Mention Oxycontin Essentials kits, Butrans trial/savings. PLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/15/2015	Working on coordinating a return visit to talk about hysingla to appropriate c2 ordering person. The pharmacist didn't have time to review in detail the information.
PLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/15/2015	Spoke to the haram it and she said maybe on ordering hysingla but she had to ask her manager that was not in. I will follow up on Friday.
PLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	1/15/2015	Mark the pharmacist would not order the new product until someone gets a script he said no exception.
PLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	1/15/2015	Spoke with Adam the pharmacist about hysingla reviewing the pharmacy sell sheet. He asked if its like Zohydro because he wouldn't stock it. I asked him to read through the FPI and it will answer his question. Adam looked it over and said he will order it when he sees a prescription. I asked if he could preorder just the 20 mg and he said he will look it over and consider it. I told hi, I will follow up next week.
PLPMDL0020000001	LAKEWOOD	OH	44107	1/15/2015	Spoke to the pharmacist about hysingla and he told me to contact mark on Friday because he is the manager that orders. They told me they wouldn't order unless a script comes in but he said he would pass information over to the manager and I said I would contact him.
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	1/15/2015	Connie has heard about Hysingla, thinks it is a great option and will be well received from the physicians. She will wait until there are scripts before she stocks it because it is a C2.
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/15/2015	Keith the pharmacist didn't really have much time to talk. He said that he appreciates the information, but will not stock Hysingla until he starts to see some prescriptions.
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/15/2015	Myra is a big advocate for butrans, wish the patients wouldn't push back on it, other than cost, it makes sense for many patients. She had to rush, but told me that she is rushing to doctors appointment because she is getting her right knee replaced in a few weeks. She said two patient this morning got the benefit of butrans. Reminded her that low dose oxycontin might be an option for some patients in around the clock pain.
PLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	1/15/2015	Quick discussion about patient types for Butrans and OxyContin when it comes to hydrocodone. Reviewed Kathy and then received Maggie for oxycontin. I asked dr to just try Butrans clinically and to think more about oxycontin for patients taking over 40mg of hydrocodone a day and are still in pain.
PLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	1/15/2015	Lunch. Discussed with Dr. Krishnan Butrans as option for his patients with daily, around the clock, long term pain. Asked if he's initiated lately? He replied no. He states he just hasn't seen the right patient type. I told him, look at those patients taking 3-4 Tramadol daily, and pain not controlled - those are patients I want you to keep top of mind for Butrans. Can be called/faxed in with refills. No dose adjust renal impaired and mild/moderate renal impaired. Oxycontin, CII, also available if Butrans not appropriate, controlled release, dose every 21 hrs.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	1/16/2015	Doctor is starting think of pain patients a little differently than in the past. I have convinced her to consider ER options for pains in around the clock pain. She has actually written reluctantly for oxycontin said that she is thinking of butrans as she promised. She said that butrans wasn't approved on Caresource. I told her that they have to fail on lower cost product like tramadol for 30 days w prior auth it will go through then.CHUDAKOB added notes on 01/25/2015-Kathy, Nice job with Dr. Popa. You obviously said something to get her thinking differently! If you know what that was, keep it in the forefront when you visit her. Nice work!

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/19/2015	Doctor writes for oxycontin for hospice, not so much in his practice. He thinks that butrans has filled a good niche. He thinks of it more often for many patient types including opioid naive and patients who can't tolerate pills. He thinks butrans is a great option for his older patients as well. He seems to get it approved and has had no managed care issues. He understands need for oarrs report, thinks it offers many challenges though.
PPLPMDL0020000001	LAKEWOOD	OH	44107	1/19/2015	Would not stock, pharmAcist wants to see how manr request they get first.
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Royalton	OH	44133	1/19/2015	Laura the pharmacist said that giNt eagle is really coming down on them for excess inventory and stocking items that aren't moving. For that reason she will not stock Hysingla until there are patients requesting it. Once that happens, she commits to stocking it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	1/19/2015	The right person. Was not available today. Come back.

Jessica said Gilbert has it on his work station and said she will remind him to order it this week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/19/2015	Quick because he was running to hospital. Discussed his patients in around the clock pain. He told me that he is just starting up his practice and doesn't see that much. Reviewed Both products indication and when ER meds might be appropriate using HElen profile. He said he will keep in mind but probably not a big need right now.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	1/19/2015	Quick window call. Asked him if he has considered either ER oxycontin or butrans for his patients in around the clock pain instead of IR meds? He said that he does think that butrans might make sense but he doesn't like oxycontin. He just never thinks of butrans. It comes down to cost for most of his patients....walked away

PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	1/19/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER with Julie RPH, discussed stocking along with OxyContin/Butrans Initiation/Titration will relay info to Brittany who does all the CII ordering
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	1/19/2015	Discussed OxyContin and Butrans in depth. Reviewed indications and pathologies typically associated with each product from their mva's. Dr said he continues to use oxycontin and has patients he knows he should be converting from IR oxycodeone. Reviewed initiation and titration and dosing flexibility. Discussed insurance coverage with new specific formulary grids. Discussed Helen profile for Butrans and asked for him to just identify one patient who meets the indication like Helen. Dr said he should be using it and will try. Discussed the office EHR with Janet the office manager. Janet said they currently don't have an EHR system but will be some time this year. Left her with the EHR hysingla piece.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	1/19/2015	Spoke with Jeff that pharmacist about hysingla and reviewed the selling materials. Jeff said he wouldn't stock Zohydro because it isn't abuse deterrent. I asked Jeff if he would commit to stocking at least one dose? Jeff said he does see patients from he pain practices but is going to wait until he sees a script. I told Jeff if a patient comes to get it filled and he doesn't have it on the shelf the patient is going to go somewhere else. Jeff said he understands that and will tell the patient he'll get in next day. I asked him what if the patient comes in on a Friday? Jeff said he'll take the chance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	1/19/2015	Discussed the doctors need to prescribe ER opioids for his patients that meet the indications for Butrans and OxyContin. Reviewed the Helen profile and Maggie. Discussed EHR situation for hysingla with Sheri the office manager. Sheri said they use Medent and said it is in their system with all doses. Sheri said doctor is having a problem with about 90% of his patients continuing on Norco and said this product looks like it's perfect for him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Brooklyn	OH	44144	1/19/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,savings cards and formulary along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, will continue to consider and book lunch with Audrey so we can further discuss
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/19/2015	Spoke to Michelle about stocking. She was hesitant stocking any schedule 2 products, She said they don't stock any hydrocodone extended release. I said you stock OxyCotin right, she said yes. I said what ex are you talking about and she said zohydro. We talked about Purdue, the current branded products and our abuse det. Properties. Gave abuse potential for any opioid including ours. We talked about her thoughts on a nice a day. She said its a great idea but doubts it will take off. I said why. She said ppl want pills and they won't believe its working unless they are taking pills. I said what if more time was spent w the patient educating theme she said they would help but she didn't see the doctors doing it. I said do you think doctors like prescribing several pills daily for chronic pain? She said no. I said so maybe theirs hope for change in one or two patients a month. She said yes. I told her hysingla was supplied in a 60 day supply, 2 patients. I asked her to order the 20,30,40 a total of aprox 6 patients. I asked if that was reasonable for her store. She said they have already met the hydrocodone order limit for the month. I asked if she will order next month and she said maybe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/19/2015	Dr informed me that he is now doing more urine screens and checking Ors which is making him more comfortable writing opioids and scheduled 2 products specifically. Dr shared w me he write for Butrans in a med d patient and that patient is doing fine. Dr said his concern is usually managed care but so far he said he hasn't had a problem so he will continue to write. We talked about his thoughts about writing Butrans after NSAIIDs or Tramadol. Dr said he is more inclined to write Butrans now that tramdol is c4 and he can go to Butrans c3 next if the patient needed it. We talked about Initiation guide and patch rotation, dr said he knew all this information. We talked about abuse potential for any opioid including the products I was presenting, we talked about start principal of tailor and reassessing, gave in discontinuation insight and the dr agreed that finding the right dose is important. Reviewed managed care. Highlighted return visit to talk about new product and offered to attend dinner program . Appears that dr thinks very highly of our speaker dr. Latham and he told me to gather all the dates he is speaking and that he will try and attend a program this quarter.-b>CHUDAKOB added notes on 02/02/2015-Lisa, looks like you had a good conversation Nice work.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	1/19/2015	Met a new pharmacist Jeremy and discussed hysingla ER pharmacy sell sheets. I asked if he would stock at least one bottle and he asked Bobby and he said it was too expensive. I told him he will move it and Bobby still said he will wait until he sees a script. I told him patients will go somewhere else and that I will speak to Barry about stocking.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/19/2015	I opened w our previous conversation. Last time you said you would write burans after Tramadol if they were appropriate for it. So what's makes someone appropriate for Butrans??? Dr said if they need atc pain medication. I thanked him and said so you would go from tramdol atc to an immediate release opioid...are you saying if they needed atc you would go to Butrans? Dr said well not always. I said let's talked more next week dr about why choosing Butrans might be an option for some of your uncontrolled Tramadol patients. He said k. Talked to nurses about managed care, no problems .
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	1/19/2015	Doctor wanted clarification on PA for Caresource. Told him that patient needs to fail on less expensive medicine like tramadol for 30 days and then butrans will go through. Pulled through formulary grids for both products and patient in around the clock pain that would be appropriate for ER meds. He agrees and doesn't want them taking more than 90 pills a month of IR?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/19/2015	Gave the oxycodeone insight- and I asked her what her trigger was for when a patient is ready to be moved from immediate release to extended released her answer , they are all different and she couldn't say. We talked about the Percocet patient and converting them to oxyctin if they met the indication. I asked if it was typical to stay on the same molecule or if she prefers a different approach. Dr. Said she didn't know. Reviewed OxyContin dosing. She said she was aware. Talked about Butrans and the naive study,highlighted the pain results. I asked if weekly dosing was something she liked or how she feels about treating pain with patches. Dr said it all depends. I covered initiation guide and reminded about scheduling and abuse potential with all opioids including Butrans and OxyCotin. Asked for a short meeting to review new product when I get back and she said only at Asked her if she would every write Butrans after Tramadol failure? She said yes. Dr said she is watching how many opioids she writes per month. Cost was a question for her, we covered managed care. Talked about the patient already on Percocet failing....does she change the delivery system, or what does she do with them. She said if they fail Percocet she may refer them out. I talked about OxyContin in the event they are appropriTe and she doesn't wnt to send out.

	Akron	OH	44310	1/20/2015	Short message with dr about Butrans and provided him a formulary announcement for Medco and medical mutual. Dr said that's great but a large amount of his prescriptions come from medicaid and BWC. I told him I understand but he needs to know all plans in he event he needs to prescribe for a private patient. Discussed the hysingla EHR system with Shar and she said they have ECW- E Clinical works and all she needs to do is send an email to the IT people and they add it. Shar said she will do it this week and still needs to add the 7.5 mcg Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	1/20/2015	Heather said that she appreciates the information and would stock it if the doctors start writing it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Green	OH	44232	1/20/2015	Introduced Hysingla to Jenna the pharmacist. Jenna asked if she has to go through the same process to get hysingla approved and cleared as she did with Zohydro? I told her I'm not sure what process she had to go through but to not confuse the two and there should not be anything different to fill hysingla as any other product like Butrans IR oxycontin. I asked her if she would stock it and she said she might because it might clear some space in the drug closet suck as Norco. Jenna asked me to follow up with her next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44304	1/20/2015	Spoke with pharmacist about hysingla and reviewed pharmacy guide. Pharmacist asked if it's covered in medicaid or medicare? I told him I'm not sure as to the access specifics yet. He said that about 70-75% of his patients that get narcotics have one of those plans or BWC. I told him I would update him as I know.

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	1/23/2015	Spoke with office manager and dr about their EHR and they don't have one. Told dr to please continue using Butrans for those patients with private insurance who are in pain around the clock on their IR opioids like tramadol. Dr said its still too expensive and I told him expensive is an ambiguous term. Nothing else learned.
PLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	1/23/2015	Quick hello in his office and asked him how his butrans outient is doing and if he has had the need to titrate? Dr said he did move the patient from 5 to 10mcg and is doing well. I asked dr if he could identify just one patient a week and if that's reasonable? Dr said he can only try and I asked him to use it for those in pain on Tramadol around the clock. Spoke with the office manager as well about their EHR system and they have E-Clinical Works and she can manually add it and said she thinks the doctors will like it because they have lots of patients currently on IR Hydrocodone.

PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	1/29/2015	He was interested in the option of ER Hydrocodone because there is nothing like that. He has seen many cases of toxicity with APAP and patients self medicating. He believes that he will try a lower dose of Hysingla. He has difficulty changing from patients from IR to ER because they feel like the IR is working and do not feel that way with ER. There are patients he insists use ER. Quickly reviewed appropriate patients for oxycontin and butrans using purdue branded portfolio piece.

PLPMDL0020000001					Doctor said that Hysingla is a great option for many patients since there is nothing like it. He said that patients taking more than 4 pills per day and still needing more may be appropriate for Hysingla. He is concerned about APAP toxicity and the self medicating they do on top of their ER meds. He said that he has seen patients take the majority of their IR meds in the first few weeks, self medicate the final week on high doses of Tylenol. He thinks a tablet like this would prevent some of that and some of the excessive use of IR. He thinks he will prescribe primarily 40 and 60 initially. Also reviewed portfolio and appropriate patient types quickly for butrans and

	Parma	OH	44129	1/29/2015	He wanted to know what difference was between this and zohydro. He said he still had to absorb the new information about Hysingla because he thinks it will cost too much and patients will resist.. Pulled through formulary. He said just as with oxycotin there is place for ER meds, he will find similar IR hydrocodone patient s for Hysingla, he just might not be too fast. but he is thinking of butrans and has had a couple of patients do very once after initiating with butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	1/29/2015	Short conversation in hospital about hysingla ER. Provided him the invitation and titration guide and asked him for his IR hydrocodone business. Dr said he will review it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	1/29/2015	Met with Head Med Asst Marianne. Presented Hysingla ER as addition to current portfolio of Butrans & OxyContin. Discussed, left Hysingla ER FPI and titration guide. Marianne was concerned with coverage, reviewed details & communicated 6ms time frame - she should see improvement on various plans. Asked her to focus on commercially covered patients and offer trial, savings cards. Asked Marianne if she uses Cover my Meds? She replied sometimes. Left Cover my Meds sheet and communicated prior auth help for my products w commercial plans. Quick portfolio mention to Dr Salama. He needs to read literature before he will commit to thinking about
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	1/29/2015	Called to speak with Jamie about stocking hysingla. Carla another pharmacist said she's not sure if she completed it but did see it sitting on her workstation. Carla said to check back tomorrow when Jamie is working.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	1/29/2015	He said most of his patients are not at a total daily dose of 20 or greater, so he doesn't see a big need for this in his practice. I told him that I am sure that he has one or two patients that are in pain all day and night that might be appropriate for ER meds. He smiled and agreed. Cost is prohibitive for butrans and this new branded product, he does not believe that he will get his patients to pay the 25$
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/29/2015	I coordinated a meeting w the pharmacy director to meet w me and dr. Reviewed Butrans, attributes. Dosing. She agreed to stock Butrans 1. Limited quantities 5 and 10 on formulary at the hospital. Restrictions to pain management. AND They decided to take nuxenta off since that product was not moving. I introduced hysingla. Attributes. Cost was a concern as they are cutting down the amount if opioids being used. However. She said she the p and t committee is meeting in February NANO they would review the product. They inquired on upcoming programs. Worked w sue the nurse and we signed up for cover my meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44103	1/29/2015	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with intro to Hysingla ER, said ok appt request thru main office. No new information learned on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/29/2015	Spoke to rahanah Patel. Pharm director. She agreed to place formulary Butrans in limited doses for use of the pain doctors. She will discuss how much is ordered w Michael Corbin Another director. Reviewed hysingla. She didn't think they would use it cause they prefer to use cheaper methods in the hospital like Tylenol lv. They are having p and t. Eating. Ext month. Dr kabbarra on that committee.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	1/29/2015	Spoke to dr about three options for patients in continuous atc pain. OxyCotin for your uncontrolled Percocet patients dosed every 12 hours. Hysingla. Dosed daily. Highlighted attributes. Dr asked about managed care. I gave her grid and said co. recital insured patients get e coupons. I didn't have time to review anything further but she agreed to schedule me another apt to learn more in march.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	1/29/2015	Reviewed hysingla ER and discussed Butrans as well. Discussed hysingla attributes discussed q24,abuse deterrent and no APAP. Reviewed peak plasma graph to prove q24 dosing. Dr said he's concerned about this product because he is using Butrans for his hydrocodone failures. Discussed how not all his patients on hydrocodone are appropriate for Butrans which dr agreed. Dr said he wants higher doses of Butrans but said for now he's going to switch his Zohydro business to hysingla ER which is three patients. Discussed pharmacy stocking and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	1/29/2015	She feels this will play an important role in their practice because some patients are needing too many immediate release but do well in hydrocodone. She wonders if this may help a bit with diversion because they will have so few pills and she appreciated the abuse deterrent characteristics, understanding full well they can still abuse. He thinks Norco does well but could think of a few patients that she would prefer be on Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	1/29/2015	Talked about giving patients options who are in chronic pain. Talked about the Percocet patient uncontrolled to OxyCotin, if appropriate. And talked about hysingla as an option for his hydrocodone patients. Reviewed attributes and conversion. Asked if he could see himself using it. Dr said yes. Gave fairbalance of abuse potential of all opioids including our products being promoted. Asked the doctor for 5 patients in the next week to get clinical experience with...he said yes.ninvited to Wooster dinner program. He said maybe. Reviewed managed care w everyone...sarah particularly. They do have cover my meds and use it all the time. Gave her managed care grids custom to their office. Will return Tuesday morning for follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/30/2015	Covered the appropriate patient w Vicki the np for both products and reviewed managed care. Vicky doesn't do any of the pa anymore, that's all sue the rn.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/30/2015	Got a wave. An OxyContin mention and I got something n ew hysingla can't wait to tell you about, it's a once a day abuse det proper single entity hydrocodne. And he said oh ok. And went away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/30/2015	Three products abuse deterrent options for your patients w continual atc pain. Butrans for the uncontrolled Tramadol patient on caresource. OxyCotin. For your current Percocet patients and now hysingla for your current hydrocodone atc patients ready for a change. I told about attributes and covered commercial insurance. Told he we would talk about where to use in detail next visit.CHUDAKOB's query on 02/09/2015Lisa, this looks like you promoted Butrans as having abuse-deterrent properties, as your first sentence starts off "Three products abuse deterrent options". Can you please clarify this call for me. Thanks!BARTOL's response on 02/11/2015Butrans does not have abuse deter properties in their labeling, just hysingla and OxyContin. It should have stated two products.CHUDAKOB added notes on 02/18/2015Thanks for the clarification.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	1/30/2015	Now three opts to offer your patients w continual atc pain. Reviewed by name and dosing. Pointed out abuse deterrent properties but gave balance of abuse potential as w all opioids. Highlighted hysingla
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/30/2015	Review of hysingla appropriate patient and asked if he was open to writing it for patients today if the opportunity came up. He said maybe. Dr talked about managed care...specifically med d and caresource. I reminded him Butrans coverage and asked if he was using it in these patients who are not doing well on trMadol. Dr said he uses Butrans in opioid experienced. I said that's great but what do you use after Tramadol for patients if they need a continuous atc opioid? Dr said its all different. I tried to clarify...and say would you say one patient might be appropriate for an atc opioid after Tramadol? He said maybe. I reminded him of caresource and med d coverage. Talked hysingla for uncontrolled hydrocodone patients. Talked to sue about cover my meds. She said her charts blank out patient information like so ill security numbers and the online needs all information filled out before it will send. She said she was frustrated.i asked if u could come back next time one of our products needs a pa and we can figure it out. As long as it meets hipaa guidelines and I don't see patient information. She said sure...I told her to expect my call Tuesday. She said Tuesday is a horrible day but I can try. Tuesday the dr does procedures.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	1/30/2015	Discussed the Helen profile for Butrans with dr and asked him to maintain focus on patients in for follow up on cox 2 inhibitors and tramadol. Dr said he started. Patient recently and didn't figure the patient would stay on it but to his surprise the patient really likes it and is getting great analgesia. I told dr to maintain prescriptions. Introduced Hysingla ER reviewing attributes, dosing, q24 plasma level from MVA, trial and copy cards and insurance coverage. I asked dr to identify just one patient with commercial insurance that comes in for follow up on Norco. Dr asked about conversions and reviewed them from the invitation and titration guide. Dr said he thinks he will have a place for it and will use it. Dr wanted to keep the product information to help remind him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44312	1/30/2015	Short discussion about the Butrans Helen profile and asked for his commitment for his cox 2 and Tramadol patients. Introduced Hysingla ER, attributes, dosing and initiation and titration guide with explanation of trial and copy cards. Left him with an FPI as well. spoke with Carla about the copy cards and product information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	1/30/2015	Met with med asst at front window. Introduced Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue's current ER opioid pain portfolio. Left Gina Hysingla ER fpi, titration guide. Left for OM - Cover my Meds sheet and Purdue trifold portfolio brochure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	1/30/2015	Hallway. Asked Dr. Laham to sign pharmacy stocking sheet/though he says it probably won't help much because pharmacists always say they must see script first prior to ordering. Left Hysingla ER titration guide, fpi and set breakfast for Tues Feb. 3 at 8 am. Dr says he has printed out Hysingla ER savings for other patients and has not had any issues. Left titration guide/fpi for ALL hcps in practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	1/30/2015	Discussed with Melissa Hysingla ER Initiation/Titration, savings cards/trial offer, formulary access along with Butrans for those patients failing on present on therapy. Said Ok will relay info to Dr.

Left for all 3 hcps in office including Dr. Reed: Hysingla ER titration guide/fpi. also left Cover my Meds sheet. Let med assts know I'd be in next week to follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	1/30/2015	Introduced Hysingla ER with attributes, indication, initiation and conversion, mean steady state plasma levels, efficacy, cost and copy cards. I reviewed the patient profiles and asked her if she thought she had one patient who would be a good candidate? Dr said she's not sure. I told her Hysingla is another option for patients in pain around the clock on IR hydrocodone. Dr said that makes sense and will think about it. Reviewed oxycotin profile and asked for continued business from IR oxycodone or percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	1/30/2015	Opened with Hysingla ER introduction discussing attributes, indication, patient types, conversions, peak plasma levels with q24 dosing, abuse deterrent properties. Joe said that it's intriguing but said he doesn't want to treat pain. I asked him if he does though and he said he does. I told him he must treat some who are on an IR hydrocodone around the clock? Joe said he does and will give it a shot. Discussed Helen profile for Butrans and discussed tramadol candidates who may need that next dose. Discussed trial cards and copy cards with insurance grid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	1/30/2015	Spoke to the dr regarding abuse Detr properties and what he knew and thought of these in opioids he prescribes. Dr said very important. Reviewed Butrans and Hysingla. Positioned specifically Butrans after Tramadol and confirmed w dr our managed care status. Talked about Hysingla. Attributes and finding a few patients to try it on. Dr said he was pretty excited about a once a day. Dr said he doesn't write much more than 3x a day for any hydrocodone product. I said let's use that as a reference and identify those patients on 3 or more uncontrolled and then try Hysingla if they Re commercial. I will return in Wednesday to work with the nurses about patient a coming in for An adjustment. If any are appropriate for Hysingla dr will fill out formuIR request which they will fax over and I will try and get the local pharmacy to stock. We talked about coups and copays. Dr said he will find me a few to get clinical experience. Dr also said he was interested in attending a program w his ma.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Ashland	OH	44126	1/30/2015	Discussed w Angie Hysingla. Talked about the request for via dr. Karett. Discussed a patient needing it on Tuesday and how long to get in stock. They said a few days. She had trouble locating Ndc and we had to go thru several layers to find it. They agreed to order two of the doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	2/2/2015	Doctor was too behind to talk today, asked me to come back Friday. Briefly mentioned new Hysingla who is different patient type than the butrans patient we have talked about in the past. Left him materials to read so we can discuss on Friday.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	2/2/2015	He said that once in a while he will choose oxycotin for patients in chronic pain, he prefers to refer patients out but that doesn't always work. Typically they use IR meds for a few days after a procedure. Every patient is different and they like hearing about the options. S he said he needs time to register Hysingla information, initially he thinks that butrans might be a better option for some of his patients. He said he will keep the initiation and titration guide for a reminder and he will give it a try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Lunch with practice. Introduced Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue current portfolio of Butrans, Oxycotin. Discussed appropriate patients for both Butrans and Oxycotin. For patients on ir hydrocodone and who need around the clock control, long term, Hysingla ER. Discussed verbatim indication, strengths, dosing q 24 h at same time every day, no acetaminophen, straightforward conversion using titration guide. Showed pivotal trial data, AE's, boxed warning, CII scheduling. Asked for just 1 or 2 patients this week. Dr Kim says he will use Hysingla ER - it does have a place in his practice, and he will find appropriate patients per my request. Left formulary grids, trial/savings cards; showed how to write. Left fpi, titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	2/2/2015	Reviewed Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy that are requiring around the clock analgesia, Intro to Hysingla ER along with Oxycotin every 12hours, said ok will consider for appropriate patients, Likes the Once daily dosing, no change in CCF appt policy

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Met with med asst at front desk. Introduced Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue's current portfolio of ER opioids. Delivered verbatim indication: Left for Dr. Casselberry and his RN Gail: Hysingla ER FPI, titration guide, trial/savings. Stop back Fri Feb 6 for follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Lunch. First, doctor says Butrans works wonderfully, yet recently, he had 3 elderly patients discontinue Butrans due to hallucinations on product. Let him know I track AE's and he may be contacted for further patient specifics. Let him know for those patients, especially if on Percocet or oxycodone, Oxycotin, dosed q12 h is an option. Introduced Hysingla ER. Went through core vis aid, titration guide. Since it's CII, Dr. says he's not likely to write. Left Hysingla ER fpi, titration guide, asked him to give product a chance in just 1 patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Lunch with practice. Due to snow storm, Sarah couldn't make it in today. Met with OM Ellen and medical assistants to introduce Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue portfolio of Butrans, Oxycotin. Stated I don't want Hysingla ER written at expense of Oxycotin, Butrans. Discussed patient type for each product. Left Sarah, Hysingla ER fpi, titration guide, savings cards for practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	2/2/2015	Met with Dr. Krishnan med asst at front window. Introduced Hysingla ER as new product, verbatim indication, q24 h dosing, 7 strengths. Left fpi and titration guide for Dr Krishnan. Communicated importance of trial, savings for commercially insured patients. Butrans, for opioid naive and patients taking 3-4 Tramadol daily, not controlled, need opioid around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Lunch w practice. Introduced Hysingla ER as new addition to Purdue's existing portfolio of Oxycotin, Butrans. used core vis aid and titration guide to discuss ir hydrocodone patients and conversion to Hysingla ER dosed q24h. Discussed verbatim indication, FDA abuse deterrent tier labeling, 7 strengths, no acetaminophen. Left Hysingla ER fpi and titration guide. Dr. Prada is not keen on any CII products, and rarely writes CII's either.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	2/2/2015	Follow up. Reminded Adrienne she committed to order at least 1 bottle of Hysingla ER 20 mg. She forgot, but she did open safe and check. I used Dr. Laham (signed pharmacy stocking sheet) and stated that she's already writing, specifically the 20, 30 and 40 mg will need to be ordered; so his patients don't have to wait. Reminded her of rebate, which she also forgot about. She re - committed to pre order Hysingla ER - must check back soon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Middleburg Heights	OH	44130	2/2/2015	Doctor really believes in the efficacy of Oxycodone molecule. He discussed that different procedures warrant different type of pain relief. After some procedures you want pTient to feel the pain so they don't overdo it. Other times the procedure is so painful, you don't want the patient to feel it for a few days, he believes that a low dose ER oxycotin is appropriate for some patients to have long term hour pain relief and supplement if needed. He thought Hysingla was a great option. He really liked the once daily dosing. He thinks that many patients like patch technology and feels that there might be a place in his practice for butrans also.-CHUDAKOB's query on 02/13/2015I know we spoke about it, but it is important to make sure they are prescribing within our indication and not for post-op pain as we do not have that indication. This information has to be told to them on every call. Make sense?-ARAWKA's response on 02/16/2015Yes! I actually read him the indication verbatim so that he was aware of that being the indication for all three products.-CHUDAKOB added notes on 02/18/2015Great. Thank you!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/3/2015	Reviewed purdues products w abuse det properties. Introduces Hysingla. Reviewed attributes. Checked in w dr several times to get his thoughts. Dr seemed very interested and asked several questions, which were addressed. Managed care. Conversion. And reviewed several times the appropriate patient type. Dr agreed to sign the request form. He also agreed for me to work w his nurse on patients upcoming on hydrocodone appropriate for Hysingla. I secured repeat visits during the next few months , dr agreed and he told me who to work with the get access when I come. I spend much time coordinating potential targets with this nurse. Follow up next week on the 11th when the next patient is coming.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	2/3/2015	Reviewed purdues commitment to ER in meds no 3 individual patient types for the meds. He agreed that it's impressive. He said that Hysingla is actually a product that makes sense because it is once a day and doesn't have Tylenol in it. He will have to think about it for a while before deciding what he will do about it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	2/3/2015	Coffee appt. Discussed Purdue portfolio, first BUTRANS. Opioid naive, patients on 3-4 Tramadol daily not controlled. Dr likes Butrans as option vs oral tablets. Dr Laham states he does prefer ER opioids, yet coverage is sometimes an issue. Hysingla ER: reinforced straightforward conversion from IR hydrocodone - he states he's written 2-3 Hysingla ER, no call backs; and is willing to print out savings cards for patients as it's an easy process. Oxycotin - he states he's been using more -yet sometimes pushback from plans not wanting to cover first line. Asked him to continue looking for appropriate patients this week.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/3/2015	Introduced doctor to Hysingla. Reviewed purdue's product portfolio and appropriate patient types. He said that he thinks a once daily ER pill for pain is a good idea and that more and more patients are coming to him on hydrocodone. Hewill keep it in mind for patients appropriate for ER meds. He typically starts patients on the Oxycodone molecule however.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	2/3/2015	She wasn't interested in talking so I quickly introduced her to Hysingla and appropriate patient type. Also reminded her quickly about purdue's portfolio for managing around the clock pain. Left her titration guides for all three products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/3/2015	Introduced hysingla, reviewed attributes and who the appropriate patient is. Talked fair balance of abuse potential with all opioids including purdues products. Talked about managed care, how to convert from hydrocodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/3/2015	Dr asked about it lasting and I showed him plasma concentrations over the 3 days. Dr said he would try it. Also highlighted Butrans managed care, scheduling.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/3/2015	No new information. Said hello to dr, he didn't have time to talk because he was running late. But I mentioned hysingla and what it was. Left information for him to review
PPLPMDL0020000001	BEACHWOOD	OH	44122	2/3/2015	Dr pluskota has a patient coming in on march 6th that will be switched to hysingla 20. Pharmacist wouldn't it stock, they said it was company policy. Melina did not want to talk further regarding products. Left literature
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	2/3/2015	Showed him Doctors request for stocking and he said he promises he will keep it stocked if anyone come in with a prescription.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	2/3/2015	No new information learned on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001				2/3/2015	Checked to see if Hysingla ER came in with pharmacy mgr Dave. They use McKesson New Castle, PA distribution center & Dave says when he went to order, McKesson showed zero stock. He says he's in again this Fri Feb 6-I can check back with them then. Note: Dave says most of his IR Hydrocodone comes from ER physician scripts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Shaker Heights	OH	44122	2/3/2015	Danielle said that she PROMISES to stock once she sees a script. She doesn't have enough room in her C2 cabinet to stock proactively. Reviewed Hysingla coverage with her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	2/3/2015	Quick hello and told him a needed a couple of minutes to discuss a new product. Dr said he didn't have time today but will tomorrow at 11:30 for 5 minutes. Told dr to please continue writing Butrans for his cox 2 and tramadol patients that meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/3/2015	He said he couldn't see me today. I asked him if I could leave him materials to review about a new ER once daily hydrocodone (no Tylenol) with ADP that is brand new to the market. He stopped to think about what I said.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/3/2015	He said he would and was hoping I could come back on Friday and he might have more time. also reminded him of possible butrans patient with maria profile.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	2/3/2015	No new information learned on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001				2/3/2015	Breakfast appt. Dr Chteingardt doesn't like name: Hysingla ER difficult to pronounce & remember. Replied I will continue to remind her of new product. Detailed from core vis aid; all core messaging, dosing, 7 strengths, showed how to write. AE's and pivotal trial data. & discussed IR hydrocodone patients, dosed q4/6/8 who need pain control around the clock. Using titration guide, showed conversion details, how to write. She was concerned about breakthrough medication& is that allowed with Hysingla ER. Yes, I replied. Asked for a few patients today, this week to convert to Hysingla ER. Reinforced Oxycotin available for IR Oxycodone/ Percocet patients; q12 h dosing. Left savings cards; formulary guide; EHR sheet for med asst Candy. Dr Irina mentioned she has had problems getting Butrans covered on MEDICAID- replied with Caresource PA details.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	2/3/2015	Met with nursing mgr RN Carla Vanpelt. New dept director leaving; new policy allows lunches. Mon will be Dr Nageb/Paul and WED Dr Saeed & Paul- those are best days for lunches states Carla. Able to schedule first lunch WED FEB 18. Introduced Paul to Hysingla ER. Provided indication, dosing, and core messaging. Asked him to review FPI and titration guide I left for him. Left EHR sheet, formulary grid, FPI for nurse supervisor Yvonne. Left (1) pack Hysingla ER trial, savings. Communicated current formulary status. Paul feels about 10% or less of patient base is commercially covered - the majority are MEDICAID - which was confirmed by Carla. Note: RN Vince left I-Butrans dosing and managed-care. Oxycotin start principles. Hysingla dosing, indication, managed-care, boxed warning and adverse events.W-has patients that they believe are appropriate for Hysingla
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	2/3/2015	Breakfast appt. Introduced Hysingla ER to Dr. Anna. She said she just saw product info on Medscape online. She says she has female patient on IR hydrocodone taking 3-4 x a day, not controlled. This same patient could not tolerate Oxycotin/ oxycodone: she reports patient "didn't feel well." On Oxycotin. Dr Anna says she is happy there's now an ER version of hydrocodone. Showed initiation guide & how to write. Reminded her that both Oxycotin & Hysingla ER have abuse deterrent properties. Left EHR sheet and formulary grid for Hysingla ER.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	2/3/2015	She said that she thinks butrans is such a great option for her patients and she sees a lot of success with it. She wishes so many people wouldn't have the rash and that purdue would fix that already. Introduced her to Hysingla. She thinks a once daily hydrocodone is a great option for many patients, especially the ones taking more than 4-5 pills per day. Although, many of their patients are on 50 mg of hydrocodone and there isn't a 50 Hysingla. She hates the way they medicate themselves throughout the day. She thinks it would be ideal if they could take a pill that lasts and just need to supplement periodically. She has to review with doctor nickels to see what his thoughts are on this new product before she starts to prescribe it.

I asked dr if the q24 and no APAP meant a lot to him and if he sees the need for an ER hydrocodone with abuse deterrent properties? Dr said he likes the sound of once a day and no APAP. I asked him if his goal is to get patients who are in pain around the clock on an ER opioid if they meet the indication? Dr said he tris every day and knows he has a long way to go. I told dr now he has an ER option for his noco patients who meet the indication. Dr said to give him an update on pharmacies stocking it. Left copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	2/4/2015	Lunch. total office call. Delivered acetaminophen insight. Dr. says he agrees with that, and he does have concern, especially with elderly patients, regarding them taking too much acetaminophen on their own. Introduced Hysingla ER - using core vis aid: discussed verbatim indication, no acetaminophen, 7 strengths, ability to titrate in 3-5 days, used steady state data, provided pivotal trial data/pain scores; AE's and box warning. Dr asked how MUCH and what is cost comparison to ir hydrocodone. I replied, a branded med will always be more than generic. Dr. says he does like that Hysingla ER does NOT contain acetaminophen. I asked if Hysingla ER DOES have a place in his practice? He replied yes. Discussed formulary status, Medicaid status and trial, savings cards. Discussed same with med asst Stacey. Asked for at least 1 patient this week for conversion from ir hydrocodone to Hysingla ER and let him know I will follow up soon. Asked him to keep in mind Oxycotin for ir oxycodone patients not controlled; and opioid naive/patients on 3-4 Tramadol daily and pain not controlled is Butrans patient

	Akron	OH	44312	2/9/2015	Discussed with Drs manning and McRoberts products at front counter. Showed dr the Helen profile for Butrans and asked him if it makes sense for Butrans to be used there? Dr said it makes sense and has done it before. I asked dr if he write note and has any patients on it daily and around the clock? Dr said he does. I told him I may have a solution for some of those patients and introduced hysingla. Discussed attributes, dosing and conversions and then discussed copy cards with him and the office manager. Dr said its interesting and likes that there is no APAP. I asked for him to write it for commercial insurance and reviewed plans. Provided dr with the oxycontin conversion and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	2/9/2015	Spent time w Beth the office manager about new prod it and covering managed care about Hysingla and other Purdue products. Spoke to the dr about his needs using extended release products. Dr writes most scripts in hospital, like OxyContin. Dr asked if we could get the new product on formulary. We talked about writing a script...dr said he doesn't use his script pad in hospital just in the office. Dr said he thought Hysingla was a great option for patients not having to take their medication so many times a day. We covered attributes of hysingla and managed care, gave fair balance on abuse potential for all opioids including the products I was promoting. We talked about Butrans and OxyContin. Dr said he likes Butrans becuise it's dosed weekly and he doesn't like OxyContin because of the name.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	2/9/2015	Told dr about the new product hysingla and gave quick review of some attributes including q24, no APAP, ER hydrocodone with abuse deterrent properties. Dr said it sounds like a good option and will look to write it. Gave dr and the office manager linda the copy cards and trial offer and explained them. Asked dr to continue using oxycontin and Butrans which should be for his patients on daily, around the clock tramadol.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	2/9/2015	Introduction of hysingla. Only got dosing and abuse deter out if the attributes.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	2/9/2015	No new information learned on this call. Invited to a hysingla program and covered a few attributes Talked about abuse d properties w hysingla and OxyContin.
	Akron	OH	44310	2/10/2015	Dr spoke about his recent success with Butrans and said that he has had patients who have just raved about it and how it's made them pain free. Dr said that he is still using it mostly for his patients presenting on hydrocodone or oxycodone. I discussed how he should consider Butrans for his cox2 and Tramadol patients as well. Dr agreed but doesn't have very many on those products. Asked dr to also please use oxycontin for those patients already on IR Oxycodone or percocet. Introduced hysingla discussing all attributes, q24 dosing, no APAP, conversions and copy cards. I reminded him that he has told me in the past that Butrans works and is appropriate for about 50-60% of his patients. Dr agreed. I told him when it's not appropriate for those already on hydrocodone or can't tolerate Butrans, that's where he should be using hysingla. Dr agreed and it sounds like a good place for it. Dr said he knows of patients he can out on it. Told dr I will follow up and will continue to remind him of where and when to use.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/10/2015	Doctor appreciated reminder of ER meds for her patients in around the clock pain. Discussed appropriate oxycontin patient and introduced her to Hysingla. She thinks that Hysingla is a better option for her because she has more patients on Norco. She can think of a few patients for Hysingla because they are taking 6 Norco a day and she is not happy with that dosing regimen. She thinks it is a great option also because she tends to gravitate more towards hydrocodone than Oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	2/10/2015	Quickly reviewed pain portfolio I am responsible for promoting, meh asked if I could come back next week because this isn't a good week for him.

	Akron	OH	44305	2/10/2015	Discussed the Helen profile for Butrans and asked dr to prescribe it for his patients on cox2 inhibitors and Tramadol who meet the indication for Butrans. I asked him if he has oatiens also on products like Norco or lortab every 4 or 6 hrs where maybe Butrans was not appropriate? Dr said he does. I introduced hysingla ER discussing all attributes, dosing, conversions, appropriate patient types, insurance and copy cards. I asked him if he thinks he can find a place for it and dr said for sure and thinks it's a great addition of his available choices. Told dr I will follow up in a week to further identify a patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/10/2015	Spoke with Corey the Pharmacist about Hysingla ER again reviewing the attributes, dosing and co versions. I asked him if he will stock and he said they really only see prescriptions for pain from summit pain and will wait until they see a script. I told him I hope they take too it based on the Hydrocodone prescribed from that practice. Reviewed copy cards and trial offer. Discussed Butrans patient types and if they are dispensing? Corey said they do a few a month from summit pain.

	Euclid	OH	44117	2/10/2015	Lunch. Discussed patient types for OxyContin, q 12 h dosing, schedule, can titrate in 1-2 days, Tier 1, 3 abuse deterrent labeling: single entity. Delivered insight #19, acetaminophen, Lead to another single entity opioid, for a different type of patient: your patient on immediate release hydrocodone, not controlled and needs opioid daily, around the clock, long term. using core vis aid, went through each page, present core messaging, pivotal trial data, AE's, box warning, straightforward dosing. Using titration guide to show 1/1 ration conversion from ir hydrocodone to Hysingla Er. Asked if Hysingla ER fits into their practice. Yes, replied dr. demico, but what is cost and where covered? Dr says they have many Caresource patients at Painesville location where he can use. He can't use in Euclid yet, because Hysingla ER not covered on BWC OH. I responded I would research specifics on Caresource with him - is their prior auth/ and what is monthly cost? Reviewed trial, savings card for commercially insured patients.Akse him to write Hysingla ER and find patkents on ir hydrocodone that need a change or who are not controlled; and can benefit from product dosed q24h/no acetaminophen/7 strengths.

	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/10/2015	Doctor likes the option of Hysingla because it is a single entity. He has typically gravitated towards Oxycodone molecule primarily because it came in single entity formulations. He believes that when a patient is in pain around the clock extended release meds are the ideal way to manage their pain. He understand the patient types for each of our products in our portfolio. He still,hasn't found butrans patient.CHUDAKOB added notes on 02/20/2015What is he missing when it comes to Butrans. Discover this and you will sell him.

	Westlake	OH	44145	2/11/2015	Dr said hysingla was a product he can use more than Butrans. I asked why and he said because its a pill. We talked about the appropriate patient type of using Butrans after Tramadol or NSAID and hysingla after hydrocodone and the dr said it made sense. We reviewed indication. Also covered managed care. Dr said the patient will bark about price cause hydrocodone is so cheap. Covered coupons. Of used on that one patient that is currently taking so many pills a day and what it will be like for that patient to take a medication on e a day. Dr agreed he saw value in the product but was concern on price. I reminded him we are talked about those patients employed with insurance right now. And if they are asking for you to do something more for them, why not try it. Dr agreed. I gave him a few invites to dinner programs and he said he will think about attending. Carol the. Rise does the pa and she said they take so long and I mentioned covered my meds and gave her a flyer but she was not willing to try it.

	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	2/11/2015	Reviewed the Maggie profile for oxycontin and asked her if that makes enough sense to look more closely at reevaluating patients for OxyContin? Dr said it does and tries to failed often but admitted its hard to get people to change. Introduced hysingla discussing attributes, q24 dosing, dosing, conversions, steady state and appropriate patient types. I asked if she thinks she can find a patient to two who would be appropriate for it and if she feels comfortable enough with the concept of a once a day hydrocodone without APAP? Dr said she does and will give it a shot.

	Cleveland	OH	44130	2/11/2015	Spent some time discussing pain portfolio and appropriate patient type for ER meds. Knowing that these aren't the majority of patient he sees, I asked him to keep in mind 1-2 of his patients that are in pain around the clock. He likes that butrans is c2 and so does keep forgetting about it, he appreciated the reminder. He believes that he needs to be more proactive in switching some of his IR med patients to ER meds sooner. He believes there is a place for Hysingla in his practice, so as long as insurance doesn't give them a hard time, like requiring nycinta, he will find a couple of patient appropriate for Hysingla.

	Akron	OH	44333	2/11/2015	Dr and elise leone started off explaining to me that no one wants to pay for oxycontin and they are being asked by the patients insurance to go with ER Morohine, methadone or fentanyl. Dr said even when patients have been on oxycontin for long periods of time they can't get it in 2015 without step edits and PAS. I told dr that in the new year that just happens and not only to oxycontin but most medicines in the new year. Dr agreed. Discussed appropriate patients for Butrans and told him to find those meeting the indication on cox2 inhibitors and tramadol. Told him to convert IR oxycodone and percocet to q12 oxycontin when they meet the indication. Dr said he's been having good success with Butrans. Discussed hysingla and explained appropriate patients on hydrocodone combinations and reviewed dosing along with plasma hydrocodone concentrations. Dr said he really wants to use it but just hasn't found the right patient yet.

	Cleveland	OH	44130	2/11/2015	Doctor appreciates the ADT in the meds that purdue is coming to market with. She was interested to hear who the appropriate patient is for each med. She liked hearing that butrans is a c3 med, that is preferred to a c2 if possible. She was able to think of a Hysingla patient as we spoke. She will try writing it for her and see what happens. She said she really doesn't see many pain patients but will keep this information in mind.

PPLPMDL0020000001
	Akron	OH	44333	2/11/2015	Then introduced Hysingla. He believes there is a place for it and thinks it's a good idea. He will review the information and we can talk about it next time when he is less busy. He is just coming back from a little time off. Elise along with dr Vucetic discussed how she can't get patients approved for their refill on oxycontin since the new year and that she's being asked for write MS Contin and fentanyl first. Discussed how she will be able to get oxycontin approved once the patient trials one of those products. Discussed Butrans patient types and efficacy and safety. Peonies said she really likes Butrans and is having luck recently in those people who are older and don't like pills. Reviewed hysingla patient types and asked her when she has a Norco patient in for a follow up to see if they are in pain on a daily and around the clock basis. Elise said she thinks she will write it.

	Tallmadge	OH	44278	2/12/2015	Discussed all three products outlining appropriate patients for each. Reviewed hysingla attributes, dosing, q24 and no APAP. Got buy in from him that he currently has patients taking Norco around the clock that me be appropriate. Discussed Butrans Helen profile and discussed specific patient type identification. Reviewed oxycontin patients and his positive experiences with the product. Copay cards and insurance for all products.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Tallmadge	OH	44278	2/12/2015	Discussed all three products appropriate patient identification and reviewed all profiles with dosing of hysingla, dosing, conversions, and copay cards. Dr said that she doesn't like to treat pain but knows it's going to happen. Dr said it woulds like each product has a distinct place and feels comfortable with each. I asked if she could find a Norco patient who meets the hysingla indication and she said she'll try.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Parma	OH	44129	2/12/2015	Reviewed purdue pain portfolio and discussed appropriate ER patients. She tried butrans when it first came out with not the best results. Patients said it didn't work and they didn't like it. We talked about getting to the right dose and appropriate patient type. Reviewed formulary coverage and scheduling. She said it makes sense for that patient and maybe she will give it another try. She can think of a few patients that would be appropriate for Hysingla. She is interested to see if patients are receptive to it. We discussed her role in presenting it to the patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Tallmadge	OH	44278	2/12/2015	Discussed all three products from oxycontin, hysingla and Butrans outlining appropriate patients for each. I asked dr if he is continuing to find patients who are appropriate for oxycontin and are they typically coming from IR oxycodone? Dr said primarily yes and really likes it because it works and is covered for the most part. Introduced hysingla attributes, q24, no APAP and discussed abuse deterrent tiers. Discussed conversions and gained commitment that he has plenty of Norco or lortab patients who may be appropriate. Reviewed insurance and copay cards. Discussed Helen profile for Butrans and asked for him to just use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	2/12/2015	Discussed OxyContin coverage along with Hysingla ER and Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy that require around the clock analgesia, Trial cards, formulary coverage said ok will consider for appropriate patients that have coverage.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/12/2015	Dr said she was looking for Butrans copy cards this morning and couldn't find them. I told her that maybe when they moved recently they weren't brought over and left some. Dr said that she started a patient who was on Norco and she said she didn't want to refill it. I told her that's good news and told her quickly about the option of hysingla for that patient type as well. Dr said it makes sense and took the initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44224	2/12/2015	Nothing else learned.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/12/2015	Introduced hysingla ER with dr in the hallway of his office with the other physicians. I asked dr if he can think of just one patient who is currently on a product like Norco who is in pain on a daily, around the clock basis? Dr said he can asked me to tell him more. Discussed attributes, q24, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed initiation and titration guide with conversions and then discussed insurance and copy cards. Left dr with a program invite and asked him if he would use hysingla? Dr said it sounds like a good product especially since it's abuse deterrent. Reminded him to please continue looking for Butrans candidates who are on cox2 inhibitors or tramadol and meet the Butrans indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	2/12/2015	Discussed over lunch all products attributes and patient type identification. Led off with hysingla ER introduction with attributes, q24, no APAP, and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed dosing, conversions and titration. I asked dr if he currently has existing patients on products like Norco or lortab and are taking it on a daily, around the clock basis? Dr said he has too many. I told him he now has an ER option of hydrocodone that needs to be doses on a q24 basis with no APAP. Dr said one binges are big for him and said he's intrigued. I discussed copy cards for all products and then reviewed parint types for Butrans and oxycontin. I told him each product had a place in his practice and it's going to be up to him to appropriately identify patients for each.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Hts	OH	44125	2/12/2015	Quick window call, Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia that are failing on present therapy. Said ok will consider, invited to program
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	2/12/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, that are failing on present therapy. Said she will continue to prescribe for patients that are appropriate and can have access to products. Doctor has 4 patients in mind that he hasn't yet seen this month that he thinks will be appropriate for Hysingla. So far he asked 2 patients who were not willing to switch to once daily dosing. He believes in the product and will soon h/ve some experience with it. He thinks both oxycontin and Hysingla have a place in his practice for patients that are in chronic pain. He prefers single entity products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	2/12/2015	Quick Intro. New to practice, Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok, invited to upcoming program, will further discuss at lunch appt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44125	2/12/2015	I asked dr if he has any patients on hydrocodone combos like Norco or lortab? Dr said too many yes. I told him about hysingla ER attributes, dosing, conversions, abuse deterrent properties, copy cards and invites to the program on 2/25. Dr asked if it's covered and I discussed commercial insurance coverage for now. Dr said that he thinks he can think of a few patients. I asked him when he has those Norco patients in for follow up appointments and have daily, around the clock pain to initiate hysingla. Dr said ok. Reminded dr to continue identifying Patients on cox 2 inhibitors or tramadol who are in pain around the clock as Butrans new starts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/12/2015	Short hello in hallway of hospital. I asked her if she's had time to think about hysingla or Butrans and if she's seen cases like them in the practice? Denise said since she can't prescribe yet but sees Butrans patients all he time and said it seems like a great product. Denise said that hysingla seems pretty straight forward since its a once a day hydrocodone and likes that there is no APAP. I asked her if she is seeking patients and she said she is but only with the physicians at this point and should be credentialled soon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	2/12/2015	Good discussion about identifying patient types for Butrans. Discussed Helen profile and asked him if he also has any patients on cox 2 inhibitors that may be on them around the clock and present in pain? Dr said he will keep an eye out for them. Introduced hysingla outlining attributes, q24 dosing, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed MVA pages discussing conversions and dosing. Dr asked about managed care and I discussed SummaCare, Medco and other commercial plans. I asked dr if he would be able to identify any patients currently on Norco or lortab who would meet the indication? Dr said he's not a pain management dr so he doesn't have to many but said he isn't against using hysingla.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/13/2015	Introduced Hysingla And doctor said that she has often thought that she wished there was a hydrocodone ER like the Oxycodone ER (oxycontin). She can think of several patients that she thinks are appropriate and she feels that the ABT is very important for pain patients in today's day and age. Reviewed pain portfolio and appropriate patient for each.
PPLPMDL0020000001	East Cleveland	OH	44112	2/13/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said no new RX's will recommend for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	2/13/2015	Reviewed OxyContin Formulary coverage along with Hysingla ER and Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. Said he will consider for appropriate patients that have ins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	2/13/2015	Discussed ER pain portfolio and appropriate patient types. He said that he believes patients are appropriate for ER meds once they are taking 30 mg of IR. He went to a pain presentation and heard that it is a good idea to alternate meds every few months since they work on different receptors so he is trying that on a few patients right now. He is just alternating hydrocodone and Oxycodone molecules since that is what he is most familiar with. He likes the idea of a single entity hydrocodone without the Tylenol. He doesn't think of butrans often enough, but will keep an eye out for on opiod naive or tramadol patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	2/13/2015	Reviewed OxyContin formulary along with Hysingla ER and Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia failing on present therapy. Said Ok will consider for appropriate patients that have coverage.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	2/13/2015	Good discussion over breakfast about all products and where and when they should be used. Reviewed Butrans Helen profile, Maggie for oxycontin and told him that foe the patients he feels treating for pain they are viable ER options when the IR medicine becomes daily and around the clock. Dr agreed. Introduced hysingla ER discussing attributes, conversions, doses, q24, no APAP and abuse deterrence properties. Dr said he may try it out and make sure it's in their EHR system. Spoke to Barb to get it added.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	2/13/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER and Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, that are failing on present therapy. Formulary coverage and Trial offer cards, said ok
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	2/13/2015	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy who are requiring around the clock analgesia. said ok, mainly seeing patients at Avon CCF location

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	2/13/2015	Positioned all three products with patient profiles and asked dr to use the, accordingly because when she has a patient who wants their IR opioid refilled and they are taking it on a daily around the clock basis, she needs to initiate he ER opioid like Butrans, oxycotin or hysingla ER. Introduced hysingla attributes, q24, no APAP, abuse deterrence properties. Reviewed patient profiles for hysingla and asked her if she would use it? Dr asked about medicaid and Medicare coverage and I told her we don't know because it's too early and then reviewed commercial insurance.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/13/2015	Met with Barry Klein to review with Kendra Kormos the FDA draft guidance, abuse deterrence studies for oxycotin and hysingla and positioning for Butrans. Kendra spoke with Barry about hysingla ER and BWC and when it will go for review.
PLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	2/13/2015	Quickly handed him information through the window and the options he has for abuse deterrent meds for his patients in around the clock pain. When he has a moment please read the information for Hysingla, once daily hydrocodone with ADT.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	2/17/2015	Reviewed pain portfolio and appropriate patient types using PHIL. He thinks the abuse deterrent properties are fascinating. He has experience with oxycotin and believes it works well. He sees those patients every month, they are doing well and don't ask for more. Reviewed that it is q12 dosing, he has written it q8. He likes the option of Hysingla but doesn't see writing it soon. He was interested in hearing more about butrans and mechanism of action. Reviewed the agonist/anatomist page in detail aid. He likes the c3 scheduling and thinks that he might have appropriate patients for it.
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	2/17/2015	Reviewed pain portfolio quickly. Concentrated on butrans and Hysingla appropriate patient types. He likes the option of Hysingla since there is nothing like that on the market, he likes once daily dosing and thinks that abuse deterrent medications are important especially for pain meds.

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	2/17/2015	Led off with the introduction to hysingla discussing q24, no APAP, abuse deterrent hydrocodone. Reviewed dosing, conversions and appropriate patient profiles. I asked dr if he thinks that he has a patient or two currently on Norco or lortab that might be appropriate for hysingla? Dr said he thinks it's going to do well and can already think of a patient or two. Reviewed insurance and copay cards. Discussed Butrans Helen profile and made a case for his cox 2 inhibitor patients he said he has some of. Discussed oxycotin placement for our currently on IR oxycodone or percocet who meet the indication with daily, around the clock pain.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	2/17/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours, formulary along with Butrans and Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. said ok, will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients. will be attending program
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	2/17/2015	Led off conversation discussing appropriate patients for appropriate products. Reviewed the Helen profile for Butrans and discussed how patients that are on cox 2 inhibitors around the clock and in pain who meet the indication may also be appropriate for Butrans. Introduced hysingla reviewing the attributes, q24, no APAP, conversions and patient profiles. Dr said he will give it a shot and knows the risks associated with APAP. Reviewed carol profile quickly and told dr to just find one patient per product. Reviewed insurance coverage for commercial insurance and discussed patient savings cards. Dr Taylor said that he will also see if he thinks a patient may also be appropriate for the Norco pills that he might write it for those patients as well. I told dr that hysingla is abuse deterrent, not abuse proof. Dr said he understands and will give it a shot.

PLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/18/2015	Introduced hysingla. Dr said he heard of it but hasn't tried it yet. Reviewed attributes and asked the doctor how he felt so far by checking in. Dr said he could see himself using it. We talked about how he would address the patient hesitant to take it that was taking several immediate release product to a once a day. Dr said his goal is to convert to extended release sooner. When asked when that was he said 3 or 4 times a day. Dr. Said if patient is tolerate to the molecule he will try hysingla per our indication. Highlighted Butrans during conversation and OxyCotin
PLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/18/2015	She said they are still thinking about who the right patients are for Hysingla. She said it should be soon that they get used to having this option. Reminded her that butrans has 5 strengths.

PLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	2/18/2015	He has written two prescriptions for Hysingla. One went through, the other went to a Walgreens where they told him that it would be a week long wait. I told him that right now Walgreens is the best bet and last week they were still getting their stock in. The patient is on something else and will go back there they think tomorrow to get their Hysingla. He would like to know where else is stocking so he can direct patients there. He believes that initially he will be writing mostly the 40-60. Quick reminder to still keep an eye out for oxycotin and butrans appropriate patients as he gets used to having Hysingla in his arsenal.CHUDAKOB's query on 02/28/2015-Kathy, you can show him the stores that stock Hysingla around him by using the iPad. A memo came out on this. Do you recall? This may help.LARAWKA's response on 03/01/2015-YesCHUDAKOB closed the query on 03/03/2015
PLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/18/2015	He still doesn't have Hysingla uppermost on his mind but he believes he will find appropriate patient. It is a good option for his patients but almost wishes that it was q12 dosing because patients are really used to dosing pain differently. He likes the idea, but is still figuring out its place in his practice. Reminded him that, butrans has place in his practice before or after tramadol.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	2/18/2015	Lunch with entire pain floor: nurses, nursing supervisor, Office mgr. Introduced Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue's extended release opioid portfolio. Discussion included single entity opioids, first - OxyContin. Reinforced patients on immediate release oxycodone, pain not controlled, tier 1, 3 abuse deterrent labeling, q 12h dosing schedule. Next, Hysingla ER. Using core vis aid, hit a few key points on each page. Presented pivotal trial data, adverse events, how to titrate, how to write. Discussed current formulary status, trial, savings. Paul says he will work on finding commercially covered patients to convert to Hysingla ER. He likes the q24 h dosing and the straightforward 1:1 conversion from immediate release hydrocodone products. Reinforced Butrans for opioid naivpatients or patients taking 3-4 Tramadol daily, pain not controlled. Paul asked about rescue medication - "in the beginning" so patients don't freak out about 1 tablet daily; discussed use of immediate release oxycodone as rescue medication in Hysingla ER pivotal trial details. Paul signed a pharmacy stocking request form. Paul says he will look for patients on commercial insurance, or medicaid with prior auth (possible denial discussed)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44132	2/18/2015	Liz not in until after 1 pm today. met with medical assistant Karen. PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	2/18/2015	Lunch with pain management floor: nursing supervisor, nurses, Office Mgr. Introduced Hysingla ER as addition to Purdue's Extended Release products. Discussion including tier 1, 3, abuse deterrent labeling for both OxyContin and Hysingla ER. Summarized Butrans scheduling, dosing and patient types. Left Cover my Meds flashcard. The nurses were excited about this resource. Dr. Saeed: Butrans patient types addressed first and product: single entity, CII, 1 x week. Dr. asked how many refills permitted? I responded, up to 5 refills, can be called/faxed in. Reminder of access for BWC patients and excellent formulary status. Discussed Hysingla ER pivotal trial, adverse events, fair balance. how to titrate, how to write. trial, savings and why they should focus on commercially covered patient for Hysingla ER. Commendate Medicaid will need prior authorization and may get denied. OxyContin, for patients uncontrolled on immediate release oxycodone. Asked dr if he can find patients on immediate release hydrocodone, not controlled, who can benefit from q 24h dosing schedule? he said he will look for patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	2/18/2015	Had him sign pharmacy stocking request sheet. Doctor said that he has been getting more experience with butrans. He typically uses it after tramadol. He would not use it for opioid naive patient. If patient needs more than 40 mg per day of IR he typically refers to pain management. He prefers hydrocodone to Oxycodone so there is a chance he could find the right patient for Hysingla but probably not oxycontin. He was interested to hear more about the abuse deterrent properties. He understands abuse is still possible, but for the right patient ER does make sense.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	2/18/2015	Pharmacist said if she gets a request for a patient coming in on a specific day w a specific dose she may consider stocking with out a script. Reviewed dosing and attributes. Reviewed abuse potential of all opioids including my products. She gave the recommendation of having the doctors write out every 24 hours and not q24.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	2/18/2015	Doctor initially felt that ER medications should not be on the market. He feels that is too much medicine in one tablet. After long discussion about people that abuse he was able to see why for the right patient type, ER meds like oxycontin and Hysingla might be appropriate, although still abusable. He is more likely to try butrans for his patients in around the clock pain. M

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/19/2015	Short discussion about how he should be choosing candidates for Butrans and hysingla. Dr admitted that not everyone is a candidate for Butrans who's on hydrocodone and that's where he sees hysingla being useful. I agreed that he's looking at it the right way and to look as far as Butrans to also look at patients on cox 2 inhibitors and tramadol.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/19/2015	Reviewed attributes, dosing and conversions for all products. Led with Butrans attributes, dosing and conversions and reviewed Helen profile. I asked dr to continue to please lee ok for tramadol or even cox2 inhibitor patients as candidates who meet the indication. Introduced hysingla ER discussing attributes, dosing, q24, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed appropriate patients through profiles and asked if she would write? Dr said it sounds like a really great product and likes the once a day with no APAP. Dr said she will look for patients on Norco who have pain around the clock. Discussed who is appropriate for Oxycontin and she said she has a couple of patients on percocet who she knows she needs to convert to oxycontin and said she will do it when they come in next.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44224	2/19/2015	Discussed all products being specific with appropriate patient types for each product. Discussed in detail Butrans attributes, dosing and specific patient type candidates with Helen. Introduced hysingla ER reviewing indication, q24, abuse deterrent and no APAP. Reviewed 24 hour peak plasma levels from MVA, AE's from MVA and patient profiles. Dr said that she is going to refer out almost all of her her oain patients to pain management because of all the restrictions like having to do ORRs reports every 3 months and having patients come in every month for their prescription. I told dr I'll take whatever % of her patients she doesn't send to pain management that I'll gladly take for business for one of my products. Dr agreed that's fair. I asked dr if she would write hysingla for a Norco or lortab oqtlent who is appropriate and she said she would.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	2/20/2015	Doctor said that a product like Hysingla should have been developed years ago. People developed the bad habits on treating around the clock pain. We reviewed appropriate patient type for Hysingla using Phil. Reviewed appropriate patient types or butrans using PAm. He said that he needs to think of butrans, and despite my reminders hasn't done it yet. He does see a place in his practice for butrans and Hysingla. Oxycontin is a great product that works well, however he probably will not write for that.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/20/2015	Introduced hysingla discussing attributes and patient profiles withy conversions. Dr Geiger said he thinks it's a great product and sees it being used in conjunction with a PRN IR hydrocodone. I told dr that if patients need IR hydrocodone for breakthrough pain they can use it with hysingla. I discussed with dr patients appropriate though who are taking Norco who have had it written prn but end up taking it 3-6 times a day and still in pain. Those are appropriate patients. Dr said they don't have many of them. I told dr that they might have more than they know and dr said maybe I'm right. Dr said it's going to take time to get coverage on medicaid and BWC. Discussed copy cards and trial offer.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44312	2/20/2015	Good discussion in his office about how he's going to identify patients for Butrans and the new hysingla. Discussed Helen profile for Butrans and also looking for patients on cox 2 inhibitors who also have daily, around the clock pain. Dr agreed and said he will continue to write. Introduced hysingla attributes, q24,no APAP, abuse deterrent, and conversions along with insurance coverage and copy cards. Dr said he thinks it will be a useful product and plans to look at writing. I asked dr to attend the program next week but already has committed to another.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/20/2015	Jon is a new NP in the office. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions, patient types like Helen. Jon said he has written it a few times and really like the schedule 3,7 day transdermal patch. He wanted to know about insurance coverage and discussed all coverage. Jon said he didn't know about caresource PA and will continue to use. Discussed hysingla attributes, q24, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Discussed patient profiles, and asked him if he can find a place? Jon said that he will do his best and will have to hunt for the right commercially insured patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/20/2015	Discussed the oriens dr is placing on Butrans and how there might be a space for hysingla. Dr said he will not be writing hysingla and that it's doing more harm than good. I asked dr how it's doing more harm than good for a patient taking 30-40mg of Norco a day on a q4 or q6 dosing regimen and is still in pain and converting them to a q24 ER hydrocodone? Dr said his product for those patients is Butrans and said the outcome data for ER hydrocodone shows a higher mortality rate. Told dr I don't know anything about that and asked him to focus on Butrans or oxycontin then. Dr said ok and said he will not make it to the program next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	2/23/2015	Elise told me that she wrote a Butrans prescription today. I asked her what the patient was taking prior and she said Norco and she started him on 10mcg. Elise said that patient has commercial UHC and figures he can get it. I asked if she gave a copy card and she said she did. I told her that could have also been an appropriate patient for hysingla and reviewed the doses and conversions. Elise told me that she forgot about it but still wants him to be on Butrans because he doesn't like taking pills. Discussed appropriate patients for oxycontin as well and conversions from IR Oxycodone or percocet to oxycontin q12.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	2/23/2015	Review portfolio of products as Intro to Hysingla. Reviewed Hysingla and appropriate patient type. He said that he has to think about this a bit. Meh does believe in ER for patients in around the clock pain. He has convinced a few of his patients to switch to ER but it isn't always easy. He wondered about switching from Oxycodone. Reviewed conversion chart.

PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	2/25/2015	Met with both nurses at front window. Discussed Purdue's current extended release portfolio. Left Hysingla ER literature for Dr. Tomm, including Purdue portfolio tri fold.. Left Cover my Meds flashcard for nurses; they stated they are already using cover my meds. Left formulary grids/all 3 products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	2/25/2015	Dr said that he wrote a Butrans script and converted a Zohydro patient to hysingla. Dr said that his Butrans patient was taking low dose Norco and the patient didn't want a patch. Dr said he started on 10mcg. Dr said his converted patient was started on hysingla 40mg and he Ritzmans in Uniontown had it on the shelf. Reviewed again the appropriate patents for each product and discussed managed care and copy cards.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	2/25/2015	Introduction to office and dr-coffees-OxyContin-concerned in rxing-went over appropriate pts already in practice on norco/Percoct and need LA AtTC control-low back pain pts-dr agreed better choice and will look for in practice; Butrans-dr said he likes the concept of a patch and has tried but little luck-redirected again those pts in practice already who are on 200-300 mg tramadol and not getting adequate relief or can't tolerate Cox 2 or not getting relief-dr said great pts to concentrate on and will continue rxing
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/25/2015	Hallway. Discussed patient types for Butrans, OxyContin; then used sonia profile for Hysingla ER. Discussed patients under 65 who are on private/commercial insurance plans. using titration guide, showed conversion from immediate release hydrocodone; which dr says is good/straightforward; then showed conversion from other opioids such as Tramadol. Dr liked and asked if he could keep; I replied yes; he placed in his coat pocket.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	2/25/2015	Outlined all attributes for Butrans, hysingla and oxycontin. Discussed patient types and how to initiate dosing for all products, titrate and convert. Reviewed new hysingla q24, no APAP and patient profiles.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	2/25/2015	Front window w med asst. Discussed abuse deterrent properties for both OxyContin, Hysingla ER, CII, dosing schedules. For Butrans, CII, 1x week buprenorphine.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	2/25/2015	Hallway. Discussed Butrans patient type; opioid naive or patient on 3-4 Tramadol daily, pain not controlled; Hysingla ER for patients on immediate release hydrocodone and not controlled; discussed Tier 1, 3 abuse deterrent labeling; conversion; Sarah says the Hysingla ER titration guide very helpful and helpful overall with conversion from other immediate release opioids. Discussed OxyContin Tier 1.3 abuse deterrent properties/dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	2/25/2015	Discussed oxycontin patient types and identified patients he feels should be converted from IR oxycodone. Reviewed all attributes for hysingla, dosing and conversions along with patient type identification. Dr said he's maybe concerned about the abuse potential. I asked him why and he told me that he was concerned about it when oxycontin was first out. I told him it wasn't abuse deterrent until 2010 and hysingla is right now. Discussed Butrans dosing, conversions and patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	2/25/2015	Spoke to dr regarding appropriate patients he has for our products. Talked about abuse deterrent properties and gave fair balance on abuse potential for all opioids including the products being promoted. Invited to hysingla program and the dr. Agreed to attend a program in future but he couldn't attend the dates currently available. Talked about his thoughts on extended release products/opioids and the dr said he rotates opioids at least once a year he will rotate. Dr said he will include Butrans and hysingla into the rotation. Dr agreed to help me remind him and work with his staff on reminding the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	2/25/2015	Reviewed hysingla and attributes. Dr addressed limited amount of patients that might be a candidate. Her concern was managed care, which was addresses. Discussed Butrans, how used and doses.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	2/25/2015	Laura thinks that Hysingla will be a good medication that was a needed option. They don't like to give more than 5 pills per day, but in the past multiple pills were the only option. She likes butrans for opiod naive and tramadol patient, although many people don't like the patch. She sees Hysingla for the chronic patients but ideally before they get in the habit of treating their long term pain with IR meds. She has to talk to Doctor nickels about a specific patient that she would like to try it on. More viewed formulary coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	2/26/2015	Dr wanted to know how it compared to zohydro. I addressed we had head to head. Talked about attributes and managed care. Dr said he would try it and he would attend a program next week. We talked about Butrans patients for Butrans, and appropriate patient for OxyContin. Went thru the hysingla profile. Dr said he had plenty of patients that met the criteria.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/26/2015	Quickly reminded her about formulary coverage for Hysingla and where she should try and write it for most seamless approval. Reminded her of seven strengths for this and oxycontin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/26/2015	Follow up from the program last night and dr said that he thought it was great. Dr said that he still will go to Butrans first because of the schedule 3 and its a patch although he said that he will certainly use Hysingla and already has written it once. I asked about the patient and he said he was on Norco and started 20mg q24. Dr said it was a commercial patient and hoes it's covered. I reminded dr about plans that fit his practice and he said it's covered well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	2/26/2015	Reviewed Butrans and Hysingla ER for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, Formulary opportunity. said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/26/2015	Doctor helps out Doctor Yokiel at this office a few times per month. He stopped back at lunch for a few minutes while we were discussing Hysingla. Reviewed appropriate patient, dosing and formulary coverage. He said that he thinks it's a good drug and he has tried to write it a few times. He wasn't sure if the script went through. He finds an occasional patient for butrans but it isn't his first choice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	2/26/2015	Discussed how she can identify patients for Butrans by looking for hose whom are already on cox 2 inhibitors or tramadol. Reviewed dosing and titration with initiation of 5 or 10mcg. Introduced hysingla and discussed primary attributes. Discussed conversions and how to identify appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/26/2015	Short discussion about how to identify appropriate patients for Butrans and reviewed Helen profile. Dr said he feels comfortable with Butrans and will continue to use. Reviewed initiation and titration conversions from guide. Introduced hysingla ER attributes, q24, no APAP, abuse deterrent characteristics and discussed appropriate patients through the one to one conversion from Norco or lortab products. Dr said he really likes the idea and it's been missing. dr asked about cost and then reviewed commercially insured based on his patient population.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/26/2015	Reviewed all product attributes starting with Butrans. Reviewed starting doses and titration with appropriate patient type selection of those on cox 2 inhibitors or tramadol on a daily, around the clock basis. Reviewed oxycontin appropriate patient types and dosing at q12. Introduced hysingla ER reviewing q24, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed plasma concentrations from MVA, AEs from MVA and conversions and dosing from invitation and titration guide. Dr asked about cost and reviewed commercial insurance. Dr said it sounds like a great product and really likes the once a day dosing. Dr said he's now a medical director for a hospice facility and said having a product that can be only dosed once a day is big on time for the nurses who have to dose the patients and said nursing homes will become big as well. Dr said he is seeing lots of patients on multiple products and being doses which are way too much for the patient. Dr said he will look to use and wants to know once it's on medicare.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	2/26/2015	Good discussion surrounding all three products. Led off with oxycontin patients who may be good candidates for the q12 oxycodone. Discussed Maggie and dr agreed it's the best option for those types of patients. Discussed hysingla ER attributes, q24 dosing, doses and conversions. Explained appropriate patients and dr said hysingla is something she's been waiting for and wants to use it. Dr said since it's new she's concerned about coverage for patients she already has on IR Hydrocodone which is her little old ladies or men taking Norco or lortab 3-4 times a day every day. I discussed how for now to focus on commercial coverage and outlined the plans from the grids. Dr said ok but told me to update her once it's covered on medicare and Medicaid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	2/26/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia, said Ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	2/26/2015	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia. said ok will consider for appropriate patients that are covered on ins., discuss next lunch appt-cb>CHUDAKOB added notes on 03/06/2015-Mark, this was a Butrans/Hysingla presentation based on the PDE, yet you went with OxyContin/Butrans. The more you can present within these PDEs, the better opportunity you have to meet the goals.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	2/26/2015	Good conversation about how he can continue to identify patients that fit for the schedule 3, 7 day patch. Reviewed Helen profile and asked for his patients also on cox 2 inhibitors around the clock. Discussed hysingla ER attributes, q24, no APAP, conversions,dosing, appropriate patients. Discussed the mean steady state hydrocodone plasma concentrations from MVA. Discussed AE's from MVA. Reviewed cost and commercial patient identification on Norco around the clock. Dr said it sounds like a product he will want to use and it's a matter of convincing a patient to take the same molecule once daily.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/26/2015	She can think of many patients who are taking more Norco than she would ideally like to manage around the clock pain with ER meds. She thinks that Hysingla will do well once they get in the habit of writing it and convince the patients who are used to IR to switch. As long as Doctor. Yokiel supports it, she will look for appropriate patients. Reminded her of appropriate Butrans patient type and 5 patches to choose from.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/27/2015	Quick hello and inquired again about her thoughts on the hysingla program and product in general. Denise said the program was great and dr Ali did a wonderful job. Denise said that she is eagerly waiting for her prescribing privileges to go through and thinks hysingla will be a great product because she said she knows it's needed. Provided her with a initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/27/2015	Followed up from program on Wednesday and dr asked how he did. Dr said he wanted to make sure he was 100% compliant and I to,d him he was. Dr said he's continuing to write Butrans for his Tramadol patients and some of those hydrocodone who would rather have a ER patch. Dr said he wrote 2 Rx's for hysingla this morning and said because many need PAs that he's also giving them a limited supply of their IR product until the PA gets completed. I told dr that's a great idea.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	2/27/2015	Followed up with Greg from the program on Wednesday. Greg said he thought it was great and believes in hysingla. Greg said he is also felling much more comfortable with Butrans and has given the patients to Ali that he believes should be converted to Butrans. I reminded him the schedule 3, 7 day patch and reviewed conversions and patient types.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	2/27/2015	Quickly said hi, and that she will try Hysingla for a few patients soon. Reiterated which commercial patients will likely go the smoothest. Reminded her using Phil that oxycotin is still appropriate choice for patient on IR Oxycodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44685	2/27/2015	Quick review of hysingla at window. Provided attributes, q2q,no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed conversions and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/2/2015	Discussed with him the importance of checking with oars, discussed difference between IR and ER Oxycodone/hydrocodone. Went back to basics on appropriate patient types for IR and when it may be appropriate for ER. He believes that patient in around the clock pain should be on ER meds.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	3/4/2015	Talked about the Percocet patient and if he converts to an extended release is it OxyContin or another molecule or method. Dr talked about injections and OxyContin. I asked the doctors thoughts on how he handles break thru medications for patients on an extended release product for chronic pain. Dr said that was a good question and he is not sure how it fits. I asked if he writes opioids along side an opioid extended release? He said he has but is not sure how effective that is. Dr said placebo is high in pain patients. We talked about options for break thru such as Tylenol or cox 2 products. Dr said he hasn't written Hysingla yet. I asked what was his concern. He said he just hasn't done it yet. I covered the plans we have coverage. Dr said that's the problem w a new product. I told him he has got to see the value I. The product for the patient and then just go for it. I gave him an updated managed care grid, reviewed the coupons (dr put in his office). I invited him to a program he couldn't attend. I asked if he wanted to go to any program he said yes if one was in the area near stow. I told him I would get back to him to see what was available. Reviewed Butrans scheduling and managed care.

PPLPMDL0020000001	University Hts	OH	44118	3/5/2015	Quick Review OxyContin every 12hours along with Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Formulary coverage along with program invite. Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	3/5/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans/Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Savings cards and Formulary coverage along with program invite. Said ok he will continue to consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/5/2015	Short discussion about Butrans and OxyContin. Dr spoke about how he recently had a patient that said they are experiencing a lack of analgesia prior to day 7. I told dr that we have discussed that before and I did report the issue. I told dr and was confirmed with dr Sable to titrate the dose of Butrans. Dr discussed how their patients do experience a wide variety of rashes with Butrans and I have reported those issues in the last as well. Dr said he will continue to write and would like higher doses. Discussed cost and how he can find patients for oxycontin as well. Dr was not directly involved in discussion about hysingla ER I had with other physicians but listened about appropriate patients and dosing with conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44118	3/5/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours along with Butrans/Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Initiation/Titration, Formulary coverage along with program invite. Said ok will consider for appropriate patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	3/5/2015	Reviewed portfolio piece and product positioning. Discussed appropriate oxycontin patient, abuse deterrent characteristics for both Hysingla and oxycontin. Doc liked the option of extended release hydrocodone as an option since OxyContin has been only molecule available. She could think of one patient right off the top of her head that would be ideal candidate to try Hysingla, but insurance will probably limit her prescribing. Quickly reviewed butrans as only c3 ER opioid and appropriate patient type.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	3/5/2015	Spoke to Dee the pharmacist and introduced hysingla ER and discussed all attributes, dosing and no APAP. I asked see what the cvs protocol is when they get a denial or PA for a product. Dee said that the pharmacist calls the office and has a protocol to call three times in a week after receiving the Rx. She said if they can't reach the prescriber after that times they call the patient to let them know. She said they do not ask patients generally why a particular medicine has been prescribed.

Reviewed Maggie for oxycontin, Helen for Butrans and hysingla profiles. Discussed managed care, copy cards and where the practice is using my medicines. Dr talked about how he has only about 20% of his practice who requires ER opioids and that those who have incidental pain he uses IR opioids for. Dr said that the practice classifies their patients into high abuse potential patients, moderate risk and low risk. Dr said that for their high risk patients they use Butrans and maybe Exalgo and then for the other patients they can get oxycontin or hysingla. Discussed abuse deterrent properties and asked dr to continue prescribing. Spoke about titrating the dose of Butrans if a patient loses analgesia prior to day 7.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/5/2015	Discussed all products with dr and reviewed attributes for Butrans, hysingla and oxycontin. Reviewed Maggie for oxycontin, Helen for Butrans and hysingla profiles. Discussed managed care, copy cards and where the practice is using my medicines. Dr said that he likes to do opioid rotation and likes to use Butrans for his high risk abuse patients and really likes hysingla for his patients on chronic hydrocodone patients that meet the indication. Dr said he uses a lot of oxycontin for inpatient care in the hospitals and it works great because it's dosed only twice a day and patients love it. Reviewed managed care and where he can see hysingla taking off for his Norco patients whom meet the indication and using me as a resource to help patients get the medicine by calling on local pharmacies.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	3/6/2015	Reviewed portfolio piece and appropriate patients for each Product very quickly. Asked her if she remembers information presented about Hysingla. She asked me to refresh her memory. Started to re-introduce Hysingla and then she remembered. She wished she would, have thought of it earlier today because she did see a patient appropriate for Hysingla. Discussed formulary and where she has best chance of getting insurance to approve it. She asked me to follow up again next week. She can't make it to the dinner program unfortunately.

	Akron	OH	44305	3/6/2015	Good discussion around ER opioids oxycontin and Hysingla ER. Reviewed patient types appropriate for the q12 oxycontin and asked dr if his patients get acceptable analgesia with it and if it's tolerable. Dr said it works great and uses it often. Introduced Hysingla discussing all attributes, q24 dosing, no APAP and abuse deterrent properties. Discussed conversions and appropriate patient types. I asked dr if he had any questions about the product? Dr said that he thinks it's a good idea to have this product because he has many patients already on Norco. I asked dr if he will use Hysingla and dr agreed to write. Discussed commercial insurance coverage and copay cards.

I asked if any of the attributes meant anything different to him and he said once a day was interesting. We talked about where he might use it and he said he wasn't sure. We talked about managed care...I suggests in trying it in someone that has exhausted many options previously for pain. Dr agreed that could be a spot for it. Dr said he wasn't writing much opioids any more...I asked if he was referring out and he said some but he just isn't writing opioids as much. He said not even Tramadol. We talked about Butrans and how it can be a fit after Tramadol. Covered managed care. Dr said he has written it more. Dr agreed to attend a program, Wednesdays are his bett days for programs.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	3/6/2015	Lunch-reintroduction to dr: OxyContin-dr said he likes OxyContin a lot because it works and it controls the pts pain. Dr said he likes the flexibility of 7 doses to titrate up and down and it has good managed healthcare coverage. Dr said he will convert his patients from Percocet and Norco when reach 3-4 tablets. I thanked him for his support and informed him both Kathy and I will be here for him! Butrans-dr said he has a few pts on it. He said the problem is when he gets pts referred they're already on higher amounts of IR opioids and his patients haven't done well. I redirected and asked him about the elderly, renal patient with osteoarthritis or low back pain already in practice that he trusts and not getting adequate relief with a Cox 2 NSAID or tramadol, would he consider xing it there? Dr said that would be a great place to use and I asked for pts coming in today or next week and he said he would look for those specific pts. Dr asked about Hysingla and I told him Kathy will be in soon to discuss it with him

PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	3/6/2015	Quick discussion about how he can identify patients for both Butrans and Hysingla. Told him to look for patients on tramadol in a daily basis And in pain every day. Reviewed Hysingla initiation and titration guide and asked him to use it clinically.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	3/6/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions with Andy the pharmacist. I asked him what discount drug marts policy or procedure is when a patients prescription needs prior authorized? Andy said that they use cover my meds and he knows that they initiate the process and the cover my meds data base for the physician will tell them where and how to provide them with the necessary patient information to get it completed. Andy said that the information in the cover my meds system he believes is tied to the prescribers NPI number and if the prescribers information isn't in the system then they call the office to inform them of the situation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	3/6/2015	Reviewed attributes of the products. Talked about Hydrocodone insight. Talked fair balance on abuse potential of opioids including he products I was promoting. Dr said he would write Butrans and he would be interested in attending a program on Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/9/2015	Dr said that my program for May 5 came though and he's going to send in his confirmation today. I asked him how Hysingla has been going recently and if patients are getting it through their insurance? Dr said its hit or miss but they all have needed a PA. I told him I realize that is an issue and it's just going to take time and to keep writing. Dr said he has had some very positive clinical results already with good pain relief. I asked him to continue writing and to also keep up with Butrans for those tramadol patients or anyone you feel is appropriate.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	3/9/2015	Introduction to dr and staff-lunch-OxyContin-I asked dr when does he transition his pts on Percocet/Norco over to LA opioid-dr said it depends on pts pain level and situation-showed him the conversion page in CVA and he agreed at 4 tabs he does transition pts over to OxyContin-dr said he has prescribed it 3 times in past week in pts with cervical disk problems waiting on surgery who were on Percocet-I thanked him for those appropriate pts and if will continue to look for pts in his practice he can convert over at 3-4 tabs of oxycodone and he agreed; Butrans-discussed the pts on NSAIDs and tramadol with inadequate relief or can't tolerate and dr said he does have OA and low back pts in his practice he will consider switching to Butrans-dr said he was thinking of higher pain pts and was confused where to use it-asked for pts with OA flare ups on NSAIDs and low back pain pts on tramadol-went over conversion table and dr said it was very helpful to recognize Butrans pts
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/9/2015	Introduction to office-dr said he prescribes Butrans in OA pts after NSAIDs and after low dose Percocet-he said his elderly pts like the 7 day efficacy-also reminded him about tramadol pts and went over titration scale-dr agreed good place to rx and will look for pts in practice to transition; OxyContin-dr admitted he doesn't rx as much as he should-went over the 4 tab conversion page and he will rx more in his Percocet pts when their pain isn't being controlled
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	3/9/2015	I told dr that I wanted to provide him with an initiation and titration guide for oxycontin since he requested it on my last visit. I reminded him about hysingla and asked him to identify just one patient already on hydrocodone who meets the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	3/9/2015	Spoke with Gilbert about hysingla ER and discussed the product in depth. I asked him what the average pharmacist would do when a patient comes in with a prescription for a new branded scheduled medicine with hysingla? Gilbert said that a test claim would be run to see what the patients insurance would cover and what the copay would be. If there is a prior authorization, the pa should be started and the office should be called. I told Gilbert I wished that would happen ALL the time but it doesn't. I told him about a couple of situations when patients are turned away and don't start anything for the patient. Gilbert said I need to be selling hysingla to pharmacist and techs to make them feel more comfortable with it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/9/2015	After review of the patient in her practice, she felt that Butrans and hysingla have the best fits. We talked about abuse potential for all opioids including my products. Reviewed attributes and managed care. Dr uses NSAIDs and Tramadol for pain control currently and she agreed to use Butrans if she saw an opportunity for the right atc pain patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	3/10/2015	Quickly handed information on Hysingla across counter asked doctor if he would like to attend a speaker program tonight to learn more about the exciting new product Hysingla. Quickly described what it was and appropriate patient type using portfolio piece mentioning oxycontin patient as well. He said he will review it but is sorry that he can't attend
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	3/10/2015	Discussed managed care for hysingla and talked with deana about new patients coming in. She said no scripts had been written yet. Dr said he didn't switch them that they were doing fine on their current meds. We talked dosing and attributes of products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/10/2015	Doctor attended a speaker presentation for Hysingla. After the dinner we continued to discuss ER opioids and when appropriate to prescribe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	3/10/2015	Doctor presented at Hysingla program and we spent time before presentation discussing oxycontin and reminding him that all ER oxycontin has the abuse deterrent characteristics similar to Hysingla's. He believes that all pain medication prescribed ideally should have these characteristics. He has written Hysingla several times but insurance is the hurdle. Reminded him the patients to look for until the managed care situation improves.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	3/10/2015	Doctor attended a speaker presentation for Hysingla. After the dinner we continued to discuss ER opioids and when appropriate to prescribe.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	3/10/2015	Met with prior auth coordinator, who asked for assistance with access to Hysingla ER. Dr Laham wrote 4 scripts last Friday, and none of the 4 went through. One patient was covered on Medicare, one patient covered on Medical Mutual which required a prior auth; and they didn't have time to look the others up. In addition it was communicated that a male patient, prescribed Hysingla ER, states he went to 8-9 pharmacies and not one of them would order Hysingla ER. The male patient was upset as he was leaving on vacation soon; and Dr Laham switched him to another opioid. I communicated to Dr. Laham that he should only prescribe Hysingla ER for private/commercially covered patients - No Medicare, as we don't have preferred status yet. Despite recent coverage difficulties, Dr. Laham will still attempt to write Hysingla ER for patients we discussed. Butrans and Oxycontin also discussed and appropriate patients for each product.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	3/10/2015	Talked about why prn dosing atc is. Ore acceptable than using an extended release opioids for the same type of patient. Dr said he tried not to give immediate release for chronic patients. We talked about his decision process of changing the molecule or keeping them on the same molecule. Dr said he will usually stick with the same molecule. Which led us to talk about the oxycodone patient for OxyCotin, the norco patient for hysingla. Reviewed managed care and dr. Agreed that he would write our products given the right patient per the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	3/10/2015	Lunch-introduction to dr and Cheniese(NP)-OxyContin-dr immediately said "big guns"-I asked him what he meant by that-dr said its his last resort after pts on Percocet and Vicodin-I asked dr why he is waiting so long to leave OxyContin at the end and not after Percocet-dr said OxyContin has a bad rap for being strong-I asked dr if he was concerned about it being abused and redirected him to pts in his practice already on Percocet that is not controlling their pain-asked dr how many tabs are pts on before he considers LA opioid-he said 4-5- I showed him the chart in the CVA on transitioning from Percocet and asked him if he would start pts on OxyContin there because if he likes and trusts the molecule-which the dr said he did-then doesn't it make sense to keep them on it only going to a q12hr dosing and keeping the Percocet for breakthrough pain-dr agreed it makes more sense and will look in his practice for pts to transition over to; discussed abuse deterrent properties and went over study-dr liked it and said its good that Purdue is doing this-he was unaware of the re formulation; Butrans-asked specifically for his cox 2 pts with OA or low back pain not controlled and being his next step-dr agreed its better than going to Tylenol with codeine then up the ladder before reserving it for last resort-also discussed tramadol pts with inadequate pain relief and asked for those pts as well-dr agreed good place to start looking for pts-font color=blue>cb>CHUDAKOB added notes on 03/29/2015Nice job of pressing forward. PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	3/10/2015	Lunch. Discussed patients appropriate for Butrans initiation or conversion. Reinforced that Butrans is CIII, can be called/faxed in with refills. BWC Ohio reminder. Discussed patients on short acting oxycodone plain for conversion to Oxycotin, with q12 h dosing schedule. Reinforced Hysingla ER core messaging, and formulary status. Asked Dr. Kim to keep these types of patients in mind today and later this week. He agreed that he would.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	3/10/2015	Reminded doctor that it is appropriate to initiate ER meds like oxycotin and Hysingla in patients that are taking 3-4 IR meds, they are in a round the clock pain and you feel that dosing q12 or q24 is a good option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	3/10/2015	Discussed the indication and dosing attributes of hysingla. Dr said she doesn't treat chronic pain anymore. Reviewed managed care. And reminded of OxyCotin, it's molecule and attributes like several dosing and abuse det properties.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	3/11/2015	Reviewed the Sonja profile today, reviewed indication of hysingla and all my extended release products.nwe talked about the rescheduling of hydrocodone, used the insight to deliver the message. Dr said the group has changed their policy so that they have to check ores and they don't write 1 to 2 pills...that they stick to one...and they don't write for more than a 90 day supply. Yet the dr said she does have a few patients l20 day supply of opioids. We talked about how she instructs patients to write opioids. And she said she doesn't state the time, just every 6 hours as needed for pain. We talked about the options my products might offer to the appropriate patient I. Need of therapy change. Dr thought that the abuse det properties was the best attribute because she said there hasn't been a hydrocodone with it before. We alke about attributes of the products and managed care. The biggest a commercial koans we don't have coverage with...I have her a managed care grid for the plans we have that don't require a propr authorization. She said she would try it. Dr talked about Butrans and coverage Nd we talked abutncaresource patients. She had forgotten we had coverage with silvers scripts and caresource. Dr said most if her Tramadol patients are acute. But she will think about who might be a candidate for Butrans,mr said she likes it is a patch and schedule three.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	3/11/2015	Lunch. Dr Winer has yet to convert any immediate release hydrocodone patients to Hysingla ER. Delivered immediate release hydrocodone insight. Dr says - what if a patient is on ir hydrocodone product and is doing fine at day 28? I replied, that's fine, that 's not the patient I'm requesting you convert. It's the patient who keeps asking for refills or a higher dose, month after month, needs further analgesia and could benefit from a 24 h dosing. Ok, I get that. I again asked Dr. winner for 1 or 2 patients today, this week - who meet Hysingla ER indication. We then discussed appropriate patients for OxyContin and Butrans. Dr. says some patients complain Butrans doesn't stay on for all 7 days - we discussed first aid tape around the edges OR Tegaderm/Bloclosure over the patch. He says he will try that.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	3/11/2015	Lunch-Elaïne said she likes Butrans in pts after they've had opioids because she doesn't know how an opioid naive patient will react to the effects of opioids-usually after a short course of Vicodin or Percocet and then transitions over to Butrans-went over conversion slide and she really liked it and put it in her coat pocket-she said its an excellent tool to look for patients to transition over; OxyContin-Nickels will not let group prescribe right

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	3/11/2015	Dr told me that last week he had two(2) patients come in for follow up appointments and have been on Butrans either 10or 20mcg for 8+ months and had recently received a refill prior to the follow up appointment. Dr said that both patients has severe rashes from Butrans at the application site with blistering. Dr said he discontinued the product and thinks it could possibly be the LOT# and will try writing it again in a few months. I told dr I will to report it. Dr said he did write a Hysingla yesterday for a patient on Zohydro and write the 20mg tablet. Dr said the patient did pick it up at a Walgreens in Ravenna. I reminded dr about dosing and conversions along with appropriate candidates. Told dr to also continue converting patients to oxycotin as they are appropriate.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	3/11/2015	Discussed abuse det properties of hysingla and OxyContin. Reviewed dosing and managed care,Md. said he would consider hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	3/11/2015	Elise said she also had two patients have adverse reactions from the Butrans patch the same week as Dr Vucetic. Elise said each patient had previously been on it for 8+ months and cam in for follow up appointments with severe rash with blistering at he application site. Elise said she discontinued the product. I told elise I would report the adverse event information. I told her to keep the q12 OxyCotin in mind for those already on oxycodone and have pain around the clock. I asked her if she thinks she sees the need to write hysingla? Elise said that she does have a patient who is taking 10mg or Norco 4 times a day and will consider it for that patient. Reviewed dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	3/11/2015	Introduction to office-Butrans-dr said he likes it in opioid naive pts and tramadol failure pts-I agreed with dr that these are excellent patients-dr told me that the 7.5mcg patch for some reason isn't getting covered by workers comp-all the others are-I told him I will look into the issue; OxyContin-discussed in oxycodone pts and keeping the same molecule to transition to-dr agreed that's where he tries to rx it
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	3/11/2015	Dr said the speaker program went well last night and he will continue to look for more pts for OxyContin and Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	3/11/2015	Showed Monique the dosing and conversion information for Butrans and Hysingla. Explained where each product should be used and asked her if she has patients on either tramadol or Norco around the clock? Monique said she had many of them and asked about managed medicaid coverage and medicare coverage. I asked her if she believes in the product clinical information first? She said she did. I have her the insurance information and asked her to write.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/11/2015	Reviewed hysingla, attributes and conversion. Dr asked about managed care,which I addressed. Spoke about trying hysingla for A patient that has tried and failed many opioids and is ready for a new option, per our indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	3/12/2015	Dr agreed. Dr said his biggest hesitation is managed care. Gave him the rGrid and reviewed coupon. Talked about Butrans and caresource coverage and med. and touched on OxyCotin during the presentation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/12/2015	Spoke with dr as I was talking to dr Cremer. I reviewed the indication for ER opioids and attributes of Butrans and hysingla ER. Dr said the hysingla sounds like it would have a distinct place and can see how Norco patients might really like it. I asked dr if he might have a patient that is taking Norco on a daily, around the clock basis? Dr said probably not because that's pain managements type of patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	3/12/2015	Reviewed hysingla and dosing. A few attributes. Dr said he was interested about managed care. Spoke the plans and then turned it to Butrans s and Oxycontin for coverage

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	3/13/2015	RN Carla Van Pelt called me- Paul Gawry just wrote his first Hysingla ER script for a female patient who is covered on both Medicare, Medicaid. She's on 5 mg Norco q4= 20 mg. Paul wrote a 20 mg Hysingla ER for this patient (she's on disability) Carla wants to know if Hysingla ER will need a prior Auth in this situation. I responded - most likely - and it may not get approved, as we don't have preferred formulary status with either of those plans yet. I let Carla know I'd follow up early next week to determine if prior auth went through. Since its Friday - almost 3 pm - the prior auth will not get approved until Mon- Wed of next week. Let Carla know to call me any time if I can be of further assistance & that I will call- stop by mid next week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/13/2015	Quickly handed her portfolio piece and initiation guide for Hysingla through the window. Let her know ther is an ER hydrocodone available with abuse deterrent characteristics. She said she typically writes for Oxycodone, but this is good to know.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	3/13/2015	Told dr that I would like him to continue to identify appropriate candidates for Oxycontin and reviewed q12, abuse deterrent properties. I asked him if he's seen the Hysingla information I've left and dr said he read up on it already and said he might use it. I asked what reservations he has and he said cost because it's a new medicine that's a narcotic. I told him we will discuss that at lunch next week and the coverage is actually ok.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	3/13/2015	Saw dr Wynne at check out and asked her if she feels comfortable identifying patients for oxycontin who are already taking the oxycodone molecule but in IR form? Dr said that is the easiest way to start a patient if they are already taking ixcodone. I asked her if she also might have a patient or two who is on Norco on a daily, around the clock basis? She said she does. I asked her if a q24, ER hydrocodone that is abuse deterrent and no APAP might be something she's interested in? She said she has read over the materials I've left and thinks she mite have use for it. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/16/2015	Doc said that they are getting away from prescribing pain meds in their practice. They feel the state of Ohio discourages their prescribing of that class of meds. We discussed how backed up the pain docs are and their patients can't get in fast enough to treat their pain. He was very interested to hear about C3 butrans as an option. Reviewed appropriate patient type, dosing, initiation, formulary coverage. He thinks that he will start many pain patients on butrans and then refer them to pain management. Reviewed portfolio piece and reviewed appropriate patient type for Hysingla and oxycontin for his background information although he wasn't as interested
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/16/2015	Using portfolio piece, discussed the positioning and appropriate patient type for each product. He believes the ER meds work and prefers ER dosing to IR frequency and there is a patient now and then that he will prescribe them for. Reviewed butrans initiation and titration, application sites and doses.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/16/2015	Doctor said that writing opioids is something that he doesn't want to do because it puts his license at risk. He has been researching this and is very troubled by what he is hearing about doctors getting in trouble when they prescribe opioids. We discussed responsibly selecting appropriate patients and proper documentation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/16/2015	Hydrocodone insight. Discussed main attributes of hysingla- dr said there are so many new pain meds on the market. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/16/2015	Discussed hydrocodone insight. No and dr said they don't write much hydrocodone e and haven't in years. Talked about the phile profile...asked if this represented one of his pain patients. He said yes. He asked about converting Percocet to hysingla. I addressed but asked for that patient on the oxycodone molecule, why wouldn't you change to OxyContin at that point. Dr said he usually does. We talked about the OxyContin and Butrans managed care coverage. Np said he likes Butrans but doesn't have many pain patients. I asked how many does he change to Butrans a month if he had to guess. He said one or two. We talked about having the discussions to keep the information fresh because he doesn't write it very often and knowing when to write it and for the right patient was important to me. He said he could see that. We talked about the dosing of Butrans Brian said many of his patient were starting at 5. I asked how he handles break thru with his patients on Butrans. Dr said Tylenol or NSAID. Dr said he won't write two scripts for two different opioids. I asked how he felt about the dosing of the patch Butrans and the hysingla daily dosing. He said it was fine. We covered scheduling and why his patients might like an option like this. Dr said they will want their pills. I said why? Dr couldn't explain. Reviewed fair balance of abuse potential as with all opioids including mine.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	3/16/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/OxyContin and Butrans for those requiring around the clock analgesia, formulary coverage, Savings cards. Said ok, refers patients out to pain mgmnt for chronic pain but will consider for appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/16/2015	Used portfolio piece to discuss appropriate patient types O, H, B. Doctor believes patients should be on ER meds once they are taking more than 3 or more pills per day. He has made up his mind to limit his prescribing of Tylenol combination products. He believes that it is too hard on the liver and not required for most of the patients in long term pain. For that reason also, He is a believer in Hysingla but has not yet prescribed it for any of

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	3/17/2015	I showed dr the patient profiles for Butrans with Helen and hysingla with Jane. I told him I want to ensure hysingla stays on his radar and to identify Norco patients who meet the indication. I showed him the Butrans dosing and conversions and dr said that he just wrote 2 already his week for patients on tramadol. I told dr that's great and he said they were both covered in insurance. I asked for continued prescribing.
	Uniontown	OH	44685	3/17/2015	Able to discuss over lunch a full discussion on oxycontin, hysingla and Butrans. Discussed with dr his beliefs on using oxycontin clinically and if he still believes there is a place for it? Dr said he does have a pa,de for it because he knows it works but it's safe, tolerable and potent. Reviewed Maggie profile and dosing with titration and abuse deterrent FDA tier discussion. Discussed hysingla ER attributes, dosing, conversions, plasma hydrocodone concentrations from the MVA, how to write it, insurance and copay cards. I asked dr what his thoughts are on hysingla and if he thinks he can find a place for it in his practice? Dr said he thinks it has a lot of great qualities but is concerned finding a place because a vast majority of patients in chronic pain are on mediad or medicare IR both. I told him to be very specific with his patient type identification and am sure he has some commercial patients that meet the indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	3/17/2015	Highlighted OxyCotin and hysingla and their abuse deter property attributes. Asked if she was comfortable with this language, she said sort of. I gave her the pharmacy leave behind materials. Reviewed the OxyContin tir status of core visual aid. Talked about Purdue Nd the current three branded products asked how she felt about treating chronic continuous pain with extended release release options.she said good. I asked if she calls drs and gives recommendations about changing meds and she said never. She said only if the dr asks about alternative options. She refused to stock hysingla until an established patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/17/2015	Spoke with Patrick about hysingla for the first time. He showed me the 20-40mg doses they have in stock. Reviewed attributes, dosing and conversions. Discussed half life and steady state. I reviewed insurance and copay cards and asked him what he does with patients that need a PA. He said they use cover my meds and a form is triggered to notify the prescriber usually via electronic notification. He said sometimes he will call the dr if the patient needs it right away to expedite the approval. Patrick said that they get done pretty quickly band cause the system works so well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44685	3/17/2015	Reviewed hysingla in depth discussing attributes, dosing, conversions, plasma hydrocodone concentration graph from MVA, AEs and insurance and copay cards. Dr said that he can see how it's a good option and will look to use it. Reviewed Butrans and OxyContin dosing and conversions with patient type identification.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	3/18/2015	Met with med asst at front desk. Discussed all 3 portfolio products; schedule, dosing and appropriate patients. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	3/18/2015	Reminded dr that he said he wants to see me each week to keep him updated on Butrans. I showed him the initiation and titration guide and told him I know he has many patients on tramadol, Norco, and percocet that are in daily, around the clock pain. I told him where each product can be used and how to initiate and titrate. Dr asked about coverage with Butrans b cause he sees that being used mist because it's a patch. Provided CareSource pa information, medicare D coverage and commercial. Dr said ok and that he's going to use more Butrans. I told him I will work with Val to ensure coverage is there. Eco,ained copay cards for all products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Northfield	OH	44067	3/18/2015	Didn't have much time. Qucly discussed ER options now available for the patients who are now in around the clock pain where IR is not the preferred dosing schedule. The Oxycodone patients have oxycontin with ADT and 7 doses and introduced Hysingla for the hydrocodone patient with ADT and once daily dosing. She believes it is a much needed option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/18/2015	Brought more coupons and asked the dr to out in the patient rooms. The. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/18/2015	Discussed w her and her nurses hysingla and covered abuse det properties of OxyCotin and hysingla. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including the ones I promote. Dr said she isn't treating pain anymore, just acute. I asked how she treats osteoarthritis and she paused and said she might treat some pain. We talked about the dosing of hysingla and how to convert. Reviewed managed care for our products. I asked her if she was hesitant treating pain with an extended release product, she said no. I asked how could she address an on oa patient w atc pain w an opioid. Dr didn't want to explain but asked me about managed care again.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	3/18/2015	Doctor said that every once in while she will write a few IR meds, but will consult with the other docs in the practice if ER is more appropriate. She does not treat pain really. Discussed butrans as the only ER c3 opioid on the market and that might be a good option for her patients in around the clock pain after a few tramadol don't seem to be enough analgesia. Introduced Hysingla and discussed oxycontin and Hysingla's abuse deterrent properties. She believes that it makes sense to have those characteristics in pain meds and appreciated the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44126	3/18/2015	Discussed his lthoughts on abuse deter properties. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/19/2015	Good conversation with dr about how he's deciding to write Butrans or hysingla for a hydrocodone patient taking it around the clock? Dr said honestly it's insurance coverage. Dr said that Butrans is just so much easier to get covered. He said he really likes hysingla but is finding great success with Butrans because patients love the patch and only have to put one on each week. I told dr that possibly if a patient can't tolerate Butrans then hysingla is an option? Dr said for sure and would do that. I told dr to continue to use the Butrans if it works and patients like it so much.

He asked me to stop in and I told him the pharmacist are always too busy to talk.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	3/19/2015	Met with tech Racquel & pharmacist PJ. He states that 1 patient, a female new to Dr Laham was placed on Hysingla ER. They still have yet to dispense Butrans. Discussed & left OxyContin Pharmacists guide, as he had questions on dosing. He states that one HCP has a patient on 80 mg OxyContin q 8 h. I asked if he called that physician & questioned them due to FPI stating that OxyContin is to be dosed q12 h. PJ stated he did, and the physician said I know that, but this is the dosing schedule that's working for the patient. I let PJ know if this happens in the future, he can decide whether he is comfortable filling or not. Also left him Pharmacy times article. He says literature I left today is helpful [PJ says it's been past 30 days & Laham patient hasn't com back in - perhaps she switched pharmacies?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	3/19/2015	Lunch-Butrans-dr and NP/PAs have reed with some managed healthcare kickbacks-asked dr and staff that when that happens to get denial letter for me to look into and they agreed-discussed after tramadol and Cox 2 pts where pain control isn't adequate or not tolerated-dr said he likes the fact it is schedule 3 and easier for pts and staff for refills; Sandra-she said she likes it in small population in her practice with addiction pts coming off suboxone because of same molecule and they do very well-only about 5% of practice-she agreed tramadol pts are good choice; OxyContin-not allowed to rx in practice per dr
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/19/2015	Spoke with Bobby the pharmacist who floats amongst the giant Eagles. Reviewed the hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions. I asked him if he can ask the techs IR another pharmacist if they are familiar? He said they do know about it because he told them. I asked if he has seen any prescriptions and he said no and they will order once they see it. Discussed half life and steady state and he said that's good info to know.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/19/2015	Two points for patients in around the clock pain. ER dosing like q12 oxycontin or q24 Hysingla is appropriate for that patient type instead of dosing IR in 3-4 hour increments. Thoughts?CHUDAKOB's query on 07/18/2015Kathy, this call note implies that q12n or q24 dosing may be more appropriate than dosing an IR in 3-4 hour increments? Is this what you meant in this note. Thank you!LARAWEKA's response on 07/19/2015-I always say an appropriate option. I make sure never to imply that it is more appropriate, but for a patient in around the clock pain, that dosing might be appropriate for some patients.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/20/2015-By using the word "instead" you are implying a more appropriate use. You can say for patient taking hydrocodone 3-4 times/day, Hysingla ER offer another option for patients that meet our indication. When we say one instead of another, there is an implication of superiority. Does this make sense?LARAWEKA's response on 07/20/2015-YesCHUDAKOB added notes on 07/21/2015-Thank you.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	3/19/2015	Forgot to enter call-she said she likes Butrans when she can get it covered-I asked for specific plans and she couldn't remember off the top of her head-I asked her to let me know when that happens and to call me and get me letters so we can look into denials-she said she would and appreciated our concern-otherwise she said her pts do well on it and discussed after tramadol and caresource-she said she does Rx it there and will look for caresource pts to put on
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	3/19/2015	Follow up on our last conversation around mail away plans. Highlighted OxyCotin and Butrans coverage and asked her for the patients that have failed everything a shot for Hysingla given our managed care status in her office.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	3/19/2015	Invited her to program next week, she can't go. Dr said that he has a patient in the waiting room as we were talking that he recently started on hysingla 30mg and got it from the pharmacy. Dr said he gave him a copy card and is waiting to see him. I asked what the patient was on and he said Norco 5/325 q4 and it was an essay sell to the patient because he wanted fewer pills. I told dr that's great news and to continue looking for additional patients. Reminded dr to continue using Butrans for one on tramadol around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	3/20/2015	She is crazy busy today but said she needs more reminders about Hysingla. She has to talk to docs about it. Reviewed formulary situation for Hysingla quickly but let her know that coverage is excellent for oxycontin appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	3/20/2015	Told dr that I would like her to think of oxycontin and hysingla as the ER options when she sees patients that are in daily, around the clock pain. I explained the appropriate patients for oxycontin and reviewed dosing and the same attributes and dosing with conversions for Hysingla. I asked her if she has patients on Norco around the clock? Dr said she does and thinks it's a great option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	3/20/2015	Introduced hysingla ER and discussed attributes, dosing, conversions and appropriate patient types. I discussed insurance and copy cards. Erin said that at this point she isn't comfortable enough to be treating that type of pain and would refer. I told her I understand and just wanted to make her aware that she has options. I asked if it makes sense to convert when a patient meets the indication and she said for sure. Discussed the option of oxycontin and reviewed the attributes and conversions and why a q12 oxycodone is appropriate for the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44124	3/20/2015	met with med asst Summer. Discussed Purdue portfolio tri-fold and 3 options for DR C patients with daily, around the clock, long term pain. discussed current formulary status, patient access.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	3/20/2015	Dr told me that he has a patient on Butrans 5mcg and told him that she feels like the medication wears off around day 5 or 6. Dr asked me what to do and I told him to titrate as long as the patient isn't having any adverse reaction. Dr said he was going to titrate anyway. I gave the dr a FPI and asked him to review but titration is probably the best action. Reviewed hysingla ER dosing and attributes and asked him if he can think of a current Norco patient that is taking it on a daily, around the clock basis and still in pain? Dr said he might have a few.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/20/2015	He was much too far away to get into a deep discussion, but he told me he couldn't attend the dinner program next week. He also said he will try hysingla. Left grids on Butrans and hysingla. Alked to the staff on cover my
PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmsted	OH	44070	3/20/2015	Highlighted attributes of hysingla and reviewed indication. Asked if she was familiar with current laws about writing pain medications. She paused. We talked about abuse deter properties on hysingla and OxyCotin. She would not stock out scripts but she felt managed care needs to be better.gave fair balance on abuse potential for all opioids including my products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	3/20/2015	Met Erin new NP-saw dr in hallway and discussed Butrans in tramadol pts-both agreed that's a great place since not on Percocet or Vicodin yet-will look for pts in practice not being controlled on tramadol; OxyContin-keep it simple message-when approaching 3-4 tabs Switch to same molecule with q12hr dosing-both agreed good place to switch
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/20/2015	Introduction to dr-Butrans-dr said he loves Butrans because it works well for his pts-asked if there are any plans in works for higher patch doses-told him I would check into it for him; OxyContin-dr said as a group they don't rx it for most part-find out next time why/ask Cliff reason

I asked the dr they have pain continuously atc why would they not want a once a day options? Talked about managed care. Covered conversion. Highlighted Butrans and the failed Tramadol, more indication. Talked a outnabuse potential for all opioids including mine. They talked about referring out pain patients. I talked about the few he feels comfortable treating w an atc opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/23/2015	Doctor thinks that government and insurance companies don't want you writing ER pain meds. He writes very little oxycontin and reserves it for older patients, really sick patients like cancer patients. Reviewed portfolio and appropriate patient type for ER meds. Introduced Hysingla. He didn't see much of a need for it much like oxycontin. Too hard to write, too big of a dose. Reviewed importance of abuse deterrent formulations, but letting him know of abuse potential. He will keep it i mind but doesn't write much for pain. He tried butrans in a patient, she said it didn't work. Reviewed where to try it and to make sure to give it 3 days and to get to the right dose. He was interrupted and our time cut short.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	3/23/2015	OxyContin-transition from oxycodone at 4tabs-said makes sense; Butrans-went over conversion slim Jim and focused on tramadol pts

PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	3/23/2015	Reviewed the hydrocodone patient existing in his office being treated for pain and returning every month. An option if they were uncontrolled and to be switch...introduced hysingla. Used Phil to show a picture of a person. Touched on a few sections...dr said he has some like that.mi asked what would be the downside to treating pain once a day? Dr said his patients don't want to take a once a day. I talked about what clinically. He said nothing ...he talked about wondering if it worked and lasted to give pain control.mi said do you feel it is working out letting patients prn their own pain? He said no. Then I said you should try it forte right patient. I repeated the uncontrolled pain patient on a hydrocodone product and went over attributes and dosing. We talked about the patient...and I asked if his goals were the same as the patients for getting the opioid? I asked if having a patient take their pain medication once a day making it too hard for the patient. He said no. I asked what's the problem then. Dr said placebo and cost. We addressed managed care...for Butrans and OxyCotin too. I asked if a patient we switched to hysingla or Butrans...how many times could you increase the dose before referring out. Dr said once maybe twice. I asked if you feel the same about titrating immediate release. Dr said not really. But couldn't say why. Managed care was highlighted.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	3/23/2015	Reviewed the indication and asked questions like what do you think of extended release opioids to treat this indication. And asked what she though chronic to be. Answers were vague. But she thought extended release should be used by specialists. We talked about conversion from hydrocodone to hysingla and Tramadol to Butrans. Talked about cover my meds and relay health a little. Will not stock hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	3/23/2015	Highlighted the portfolio using the trifold piece. Highlighted the indication and asked what they he thought about using extended release opioids to treat this type of pain. The pharmacist said it should be used to treat chronic pain.mimaskedmiif he sees a lot of my products at his store and he said not much. I asked about immediate release opioids and it was the opposite answer. I asked if he thought those were all acute patients. He said probably not. I asked what is the hesitation and he said insurance. We talked about managed care. Talked about dosing and highlighted Butrans and hysingla. Gave fair balance of abuse potential as with all opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	3/24/2015	Dr did not write hysingla yet. I asked how many patients did he get rejections on...he said a few but couldn't state which plans. Worked with dea a, she said it was medical mutual and she only though he tried it once not twice.

Reviewed oxycotin abuse deterrence studies from MVA,dosing and conversions. Discussed hysingla ER and oxycotin FDA tiers for abuse deterrence. Discussed insurance coverage and copy cards for all products. Dr said that he has been doing a lot of referring to pain management recently. Dr said that when he has to treat a patient longer than 4-6 weeks he finds that it gets too much for him and usually the patient is chronic at that point anyway. I told dr that Butrans may be better suited for him because it a patient needs more than tramadol he can move to the schedule 3 Butrans at that point. Dr said that makes sense and likes the lower dosing and that its a patch. Discussed insurance coverage and copy cards.

	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/24/2015	Using portfolio piece...Doctor isn't going to write oxycontin really, bad experience, name recognition. Appreciates the abuse deterrent properties but might consider Hysingla for the patients wanting IR. It will be Hysingla or go find a different doctor. He likes that Hysingla doesn't have Tylenol and the ADT. Reviewed initiation and formulary coverage. Showed scott as possible butrans patient, only ER C3 med available. He doesn't necessarily like patches but will keep it in mind. He really doesn't like pain patients because he really wonders why they need these meds.CHUDAKOB's query on 04/02/2015Kathy, I assume ADT means abuse-deterrent technology. PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	3/24/2015	Met with pharmacy mgr Warren. He says he uses Cardinal Health & had no problem getting Hysingla in. All Dr Laham patients so far - for Hysingla. Also, while I was there - a patient who had a gap in insurance (severe back injury) - on OxyContin from pain mgt, heard me talking with Warren & asked if I had an OxyContin savings card as the dose he's on was going to cost him $1800 this month. I left a savings card for him with Warren. Left Warren Hysingla NDC brochure, pharmacists s guide. Warren has Relay Health & says the Hysingla trial, savings cards are going through automatically. Left 4/9 Moufawad speaker invite.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	3/24/2015	Quick call with Dr. Laham. Then Met with Denise (prior auths) and she says she forgot to write down pharmacies not willing to order Hysingla er moving forward. She repeated "It's hard to get area pharmacies to order." she did speak with Warren at pharmacy inside Hillcrest hospital. ) communicated I was on my way over to see Warren next call. and I'll make sure to bring up Hysingla ER and see what he is planning on ordering. Dr. Laham says he'll probably write majority of scripts for 30 mg strength. Trying to coordinate a coffee or lunch week of April 6 with Dr. Laham. Dropped off invites for all hcp's in office for 4/9 Moufawad speaker program.
